

Dragon Husband 1844 -

Chapter 1844

Everyone also looked at Young Master Miaoshou, their eyes full of approval.

The master of the hand, the reputation is like thunder.

He was from a good background. As the young sect master of Yi Nian Immortal Prison, his starting point was much higher than others.

His background is just the icing on the cake, and his own strength is extraordinary.

Or to put it mildly, he is very talented.

According to rumors, Master Miaoshou chanted medical scriptures at the age of three, identified a hundred herbs at the age of five, and tried to save people at the age of ten.

At the age of fifteen, Young Master Miaoshou was already a well-known physician among the nine sects.

Coupled with the precipitation and experience over the years, Master Master has become the king of medicine among the younger generation.

Even Jiu Zong Medical Sage and Master Xuanhu were rushing to accept Young Master Miaoshou as his apprentice.

It's a pity that Master Master has a better teacher.

Under the personal training of Grandpa Zeng, he has made extraordinary progress and overwhelmed the crowd.

Moreover, Young Master Miaoshou has a face like a crown of jade and a pair of good skins.

There are countless women who pursue him, and of course there are countless women who have been ruined by him.

If it weren't for this, Young Master Miaoshou would have been well-known as a doctor.

This time, with the support of his family, Young Master Miaoshou also made up his mind to get rid of his old lewdness and prepare to reach a new peak as a doctor.

Of course, getting rid of the lecherous problem does not mean that you can't marry a wife and have children.

This year's 30-year-old master master, some time ago, fixed his eyes on Su Emei, who was in control of the world.

First of all, Su Emei's appearance and figure are famous among the nine sects.

Secondly, Su Emei's status in the imperial family is also very special, and she is called the saint of the imperial family.

Master Master wants to get this woman who is the right match for him.

Seeing that Su Emei couldn't come on and off the stage now, he just said that.

But Su Emei was disgusted.

She had known for a long time that Young Master Master had plans for her.

But this person's reputation is mixed, how could Su Emei fall in love with him.

Even if Young Master Master wanted to help her out, Su Emei didn't want to take his favor.

"Master Master, pay attention to your words, I'm not from your family, please call me Su Emei." Although Su Emei was embarrassed at the moment, she was very clear about her own problems.

As soon as these words came out, Young Master Miaoshou's face suddenly turned ugly.

Give you face, you have no face!

Master Miaoshou originally planned to propose marriage to Yu Shizhi after he won the championship of the Fairy Doctor Seeking Truth this time.

He believed that Yu Shizhi would not dare not agree.

Because they still have the handle to control the world.

Now that he showed his favor to Su Emei, he was rejected in public, and his tone was so impolite!

Master Miaoshou couldn't help but clapped his hands lightly, with the appearance of a modest gentleman, "What a selfless Su Emei. Then I would like to ask such a selfless person, why did you choose such a person to be the judge of this grand event? Are you? Did you see all the doctors and referees we were there? Or did you just have an affair with that kid and want to build momentum for him?"

"You're farting on horseback!" Su Emei was also considered violent, and immediately yelled out, ignoring her image at all.

She knew in her heart that Young Master Miaoshou was avenging her just now for being ruthless and rude.

However, she just couldn't take this breath.

How can anyone make a fool of themselves like this!

However, the people at the scene looked at Su Emei with complicated eyes.

There seems to be some truth to what the Master Master said.

That kid had nothing to do with doctors, and was actually invited by her to be the referee.

Either the people at the scene are considered fools, or the two of them have some unspeakable secrets.

Seeing this scene, William felt somewhat uncomfortable.

He hates other people's gossip.

This time, it's not just his own right and wrong.

This Su Emei also involves the second brother Linjiang.

William raised his hand, just about to teach this kid a lesson.

However, he saw Su Emei's eyes.

Obviously, Su Emei was always paying attention to William's movements.

She knew very well what kind of person William was.

This guy is arrogant, arrogant and arrogant.

One foot can level a case!

Su Emei was afraid that Wiliamao would get up and start.

If you make a move, the scene will be completely out of control.

Su Emei obviously didn't want this.

She shook her head at Wiliam, with a pleading look in her eyes.

Wiliam took a deep breath and finally gave Su Emei a face.

The matter was caused by Su Emei, and it would be good for her to clean up herself.

"Wiliam's relationship with me can be learned from the sun and the moon. But I dare to swear to God that Wiliam's medical skills are absolutely extraordinary! If Wiliam is not good, I would like to commit suicide on the spot!" Su Emei suddenly said loudly.

You actually risked your life!

The people at the scene laughed.

"I dare to say this, it's a bit interesting! It feels like there is no silver 300 taels here."

"How old is this kid? Young Master Miaoshou has been able to study medicine since he was a child, so he has today's achievements. Even if this kid started to study medicine from his mother's womb, he would not be able to achieve the achievements of Young Master Miaoshou? Don't forget, this The kid learns martial arts, even if he understands medicine, it's just skin."

"When did the number one in the world and the transcendent become so worthless? Today's young people have too narrow vision and too small minds."

Even Young Master Miaoshou sneered, he could see that Su Emei wanted to defend this kid's reputation even if he died.

What if it wasn't for some unspeakable relationship?

In this case, it seems that this kid is still his own rival?

To deal with a rival, ho ho ho...

Young Master Miaoshou took a step forward and asked mercilessly: "Extraordinary sanctification? Well, tell me how he became extraordinary sanctification? As long as you can say it, I will allow him to be the judge!"

Su Emei's eyes froze, a sentence came to his mouth, but he swallowed it.

If talking about Wiliam's martial arts achievements, Su Emei felt that he couldn't finish talking all day and night.

But Su Emei had never seen medical skills before...

If Su Emei lied rashly, Su Emei would not be able to grasp this standard, and it would be easy to be exposed in public. At that time, Wiliamgu's crime of angling for fame would be confirmed.

Just as Su Emei hesitated, Young Master Miaoshou seemed to have expected it a long time ago. He turned his head and asked Wiliam directly, "Okay, that woman can't tell, so I'll ask the person involved."

"Isn't it Wiliam? Aren't you very good at medicine? Come on, tell me, where is your medical ability so good? I'll give you five minutes to think slowly, and give you another five minutes to let you Enough to say it slowly, is it interesting enough?"

After he finished speaking, his face was full of contentment, and he felt that he was in control.

However, Wiliam needs five minutes to think, and five minutes to speak?

Not needed at all.

He didn't even think about it, and looked at Master Master with a smile.

"Excuse me, is it your business?"
