

Dragon Husband Chapter 612

Is it so arbitrary to appoint the owner now?

It seems that the position of the owner is not so enviable.

There is no sense of accomplishment at all.

Zhuang Ningning wanted to return, but she still asked in a wicked way, "What you just said is true? Really make me the owner?"

Even when she asked, her heart trembled slightly.

I'm afraid that William would make a joke for her and don't take it seriously.

At that time she really wanted to cut this girl with a knife.

William nodded and said seriously: "When did I lie to you?"

This serious look made Zhuang Ningning feel guilty of saving the abdomen of a gentleman with a villain.

What followed was ecstasy.

I miss her Zhuang Ningning, for three years.

In order to formally visit Lingyue Villa, I worked hard for three years!

As a result, he couldn't even become an inner disciple.

But now, this stinky boy promoted himself to the owner of the village with just one sentence.

From the outer disciple to the villager, this big stride is absolutely unprecedented.

"William, aren't you just coaxing to play, I don't have the qualifications to be the owner of the house, don't coax, you are fine, let's go home soon." Zhuang Ningning persuaded instead.

It is only natural for her to make her a disciple, but the owner, she is very self-aware.

William said seriously, "You have seen the situation yesterday. I think there is no one who has a more sense of justice than you in this village, right? No one understands the four words of Wencheng Wude better than you. Right? And after yesterday, I think you have grown a lot, so you might as well be the owner and see if you can take this completely festering Lingyue Villa back to the right path."

There was an unprecedented flush on Zhuang Ningning's face.

She expected Ai Ai: "But my three-legged cat's kung fu..."

"Don't worry about this, I will naturally send someone to assist you for a while." William said.

William had indeed thought about it just now and changed his previous decision.

Lingyue Villa should have been destroyed.

But after meeting Zhuang Ningning, he felt that martial arts are the supremacy in this world.

What's more, Lingyue Villa is one of Grandpa's hard work after all.

It is not a bad thing to let this Zhuang Ningning be the owner.

The young man is passionate, and it's not a bad idea to slash his life.

After Zhuang Ningning experienced a short period of excitement, the whole person was excited.

She finally swept away her previous resentment towards Wiliam, and became chirping.

“Seriously, I didn't think that Zhuang Ningning would also be the owner of the house. I didn't even dare to think about it before! It's so cool to have a dream come true, haha, I really told the old black man By the way, when I stay in Lingyue Villa, I will really meet the nobles and treacherously.” Zhuang Ningning pierced in and laughed without image.

But Wiliam's eyes drenched, “Old Black Flower? What do you mean?”

Zhuang Ningning said casually: “What's the matter, I was seriously ill half a year ago, and by chance I met an old man with a black flower and silver needle in his hand. His medical skills were against the sky and he pulled me out of the ghost gate alive. Before leaving. At the time, he left a sentence for me to stay in Lingyue Villa, saying that I would meet a noble person. Before, I didn't take it to heart, but now it seems that the old man is really amazing. It's so accurate.”

In Wiliam's heart, there was a wave of waves.

It's Black Flower Silver Needle again!

When Wiliam heard about this kid from the Qilin Envoy before, Wiliam thought it was just a flash in the pan.

Unexpectedly, Zhuang Ningning actually had an intersection with the owner of this black flower and silver needle.

For a moment, Wiliam suddenly felt that a giant hand in the dark was constantly pushing himself forward!

This is really terrible!

Because Wiliam has always acted in a bohemian way.

But this kind of randomness is still expected.

Who is the owner of this black flower silver needle!

"What's the matter with you Wiliam? Why is your face so ugly?" Zhuang Ningning noticed that Wiliam's expression was abnormal and asked.

"Nothing." Wiliam's face gradually returned to normal, and he said lightly, "From then on, this Lingyue Villa will be renamed Qilin Villa."

Zhuang Ning would rather not care what the name of the villa was, as long as he could be the owner of the villa.

“You have also stayed in the village for three years. You should know all the people in it. So you can vote down. If you think those people are not good in character, they will be expelled directly, and those who are good in character will be reused. People can still be saved, stay for inspection, and you are up to it.” Wiliam gave Zhuang Ningning the power of life and death.

Zhuang Ningning was immediately even more excited, and there was excitement that the kind of scholar died for the confidant.

“Wiliam, I will definitely work hard and live up to your expectations!” Zhuang Ningning said boldly, patting his heart.

Wiliam clicked the corner of his mouth and said casually, “Well, I hope so, get along with your boyfriend in the future, don’t feel inferior.”

The speaker was unintentional, and Zhuang Ningning’s excited expression froze instantly.

The carelessness just now was wiped out.

Her eyes suddenly became red.

She looked at Wiliam, her eyes were full of emotion, “You, how do you know...”

“Why are you the only one here, can’t you guess?” Wiliam said with a smile.

Zhuang Ningning suddenly looked at the person in front of him deeply, and a kind of respect came from his heart.

This kid is obviously only in his twenties, younger than himself.

However, it gives people a sense of loftiness.

Since he came by himself, he could infer that he didn't dare to call Chu Huaijin over because of his identity.

Therefore, the position of the house owner has a deeper meaning.

That was William gave him the same glamorous identity and status, enough to match Chu Huaijin, enough to make him no longer feel inferior because of his identity.

Zhuang Ningning was deeply moved by this meticulous consideration.

Suddenly she knelt down to William with one knee straight, and said in a deep voice, "I won't say anything else, I must do it like this! That's it!"

After speaking, she strode outside.

William looked at her amused, and he really didn't see her getting serious. It was pretty decent.

"Hey, wait, I haven't finished talking yet." William stopped the fierce Zhuang Ningning.

Zhuang Ningning turned around, "Is there anything else?"

William smiled and said: "I gave you the position of owner, you have to repay me what you say, and promise me a condition."

Zhuang Ningning was guilty of laughter at Wiliam's playful eyes.

She suddenly had a cold war, covering her body with her hands tightly, and said with a nervous expression: "Well, although I have a good impression of you now, you have to remember that I am a married woman. You have self-respect, don't mention it. Those nasty conditions, I promised, my boyfriend won't agree, I yuck! No! I can't live with it."

Wiliam said with a black thread, "Am I the kind of person in your heart? Don't worry, the beauty around me is like a cloud, so you can wash and sleep. I mean, you can do something for me, go to a resort, and I will be in the evening. Go to the beach with a lot of grinning little fairies."
