Chapter 541: Recruitment

“My cousin?” Yu Qing yelled. “Just because you said so?”

She did not believe that Zhao Yanzi’s boyfriend had not heard of Huang Xujie’s name since he was studying at East Ocean University.

“He actually dares to call my cousin over?” she thought.

“If your cousin doesn’t dare to come, then don’t make a fuss here,” Hao Ren said.

Ling, Gu Yu, and Liu Qiqi looked at each other in surprise. Hao Ren spoke very calmly, and it seemed that he was not afraid of Yu Qing’s cousin. But according to Yu Qing, her cousin was one of the most influential students at East Ocean University; even the instructors must leave him alone.

“He doesn’t dare to come?” Yu Qing stood up, took out her mobile phone from her pocket, and dialed out, staring at Hao Ren.

“When my cousin comes, don’t regret it!” she said.

She initially only wanted to ridicule Zhao Yanzi so that the latter would be scared off at the sight of her in the future, but she did not expect Zhao Yanzi’s boyfriend to dare to defend Zhao Yanzi and provoke her!

Yu Qing’s phone was connected.

“Cousin! Someone is bullying me at Hongji Square!” Yu Qing said.

“What is going on?” Huang Xujie asked on the phone.

“It is my classmate’s boyfriend. He insulted me!” Yu Qing said.

She wanted to add fuel to the situation and say that she was beaten, but she was also afraid that her cousin would come over and scold her after seeing that the situation was different. Therefore, she did not dare to exaggerate.

When Huang Xujie heard that it was a conflict between middle school students, he lost interest and said, “It is stupid. You can deal with that on your own.”

Yu Qing stood stiffly in place with her mobile phone in hand.

“When is your cousin coming?” Hao Ren asked her.

He used to hate seeing Huang Xujie; this was the first time Hao Ren actually wanted to see Huang Xujie.

“My cousin said that he is very busy today, but you should be careful later on!” Yu Qing put away her mobile phone and said to Hao Ren.

Hao Ren sneered and glanced at Yu Qing with disdain. Then, he picked up a meat skewer and placed it in front of Zhao Yanzi.

Yu Qing clenched her phone and got very angry. She thought, “This Zhao Yanzi’s boyfriend is simply looking down on me! Just because he is a university student?”

She was determined to make sure that her cousin would teach him a lesson! She was planning to ask for Zhao Yanzi’s boyfriend name after going back to school!

Hao Ren wasn’t interested in dealing with this arrogant middle school girl. After ordering a few more delicious skewers, he treated Zhao Yanzi and her three classmates to a good meal.

In the afternoon, it was the opening ceremony of LingZhao Middle School. Zhao Yanzi had a class meeting, so she had to change into her school uniform and go back early.

Hao Ren paid the bill and walked the four girls back to school.

Because Hao Ren treated them to a meal, and his speech was more mature than the middle school boys, Zhao Yanzi’s dormmates felt like he was just like a big brother. They had a good impression of him and supported Zhao Yanzi and Hao Ren’s relationship.

Since the students had already arrived at LingZhao Middle School, visitors could not easily enter the school. Hao Ren walked Zhao Yanzi to the school gate, handed the bicycle to her, and stayed at the entrance to see her off.

“Uncle, thank you for the skewers today!” Ling took the lead and thanked him.

She had the best relationship with Zhao Yanzi and was the first among the three girls to meet Hao Ren. Although she was not very familiar with the development between Zhao Yanzi and Hao Ren, she barely witnessed Zhao Yanzi’s ‘love journey.’ At first, Zhao Yanzi hated this ‘uncle,’ but she was now madly in love.

From Ling’s perspective, Hao Ren cared about Zhao Yanzi, but Zhao Yanzi was just being a little sweetheart and had not fully accepted Hao Ren.

Hao Ren smiled lightly and then set his gaze back on Zhao Yanzi.

Zhao Yanzi was the only one among them who did not wear the school uniform, so she seemed more beautiful this way.

“Well, Uncle, you can head back!” Zhao Yanzi looked up at Hao Ren and said.

“Okay. Be good in school. If you need anything, call me,” Hao Ren said and turned to the main entrance of East Ocean University.

“Don’t be too close to Xie Yujia!” Zhao Yanzi suddenly added.

Hao Ren waved his hand and crossed the road to enter East Ocean University. He still wanted to talk to Zhao Yanzi about not being too hostile toward Xie Yujia, but he had no chance to tell her since the other three girls were with them. He had to do it at a later time.

In fact, Xie Yujia still cared about Zhao Yanzi, but Zhao Yanzi didn’t buy it.

Back in school, Hao Ren called Xie Yujia and asked her about how the club registration was going.

“All kinds of procedures are almost done. Now, I’m just waiting for one of the vice principals to stamp it. But since you seem to be anxious about this, I may just go directly to Vice Principal Lu for the stamp. Once it is approved, it is basically done,” Xie Yujia said.

Her voice sounded a little anxious. Running around between various offices on such a hot day, she must be exhausted.

“It is alright. Just do it tomorrow,” Hao Ren said.

“We are waiting for the last stamp anyways. I will finish it for you!” Xie Yujia said. When she used to be the Class President, she was resolute. She would take care of everything that surfaced and never procrastinated.

She did not ask about Hao Ren and Zhao Yanzi’s meal. She did not want to appear overly jealous over such a thing.

“Oh, can you also help me ask for Lu Qi’s phone number? Lu Qi of the Go Club,” Hao Ren suddenly said.

“Him. I can find it in the list of club presidents. I will send you his number in a minute!” Xie Yujia replied quickly, “There is one more thing. All the clubs in the school must have a supervisor who is a faculty. Is there anyone you have in your mind?”

“I will take care of this. If I can’t, I’ll report back to you,” Hao Ren said.

“Good!” Xie Yujia hung up. Apparently, she had to run to other offices.

Hao Ren stood in the campus, thought about it, and called Su Han.

He and Su Han could communicate through the inspector’s tokens, but the tokens were connected with spiritual senses. If Su Han were cultivating right now, it would affect her cultivation and might harm her. Therefore, whenever Hao Ren was looking for Su Han, it was safer to call or visit her office personally. If this affected Su Han’s cultivation, her wrath was not something that Hao Ren could bear.

The phone rang for a few seconds, and Su Han picked up.

Her voice was cold. “What?”

“This is the situation. I’m setting up a club and want you to be the supervise in charge because...”

“Sure,” Su Han threw out one word and rendered Hao Ren’s speech useless.

“Is there anything else?” Su Han asked on the phone.

“No...”

“Okay.” Su Han hung up and immersed herself in cultivation once again.

Hao Ren held the phone, stunned. “This woman is too clear-cut,” he thought.

Buzz... Hao Ren received a message; Xie Yujia had sent Lu Qi’s phone number over; her efficiency was absolutely high.

Hao Ren dialed the number, and Lu Qi picked up.

“Who’s this?” Lu Qi’s voice was very calm. He often received unfamiliar calls, and many of those calls were media reporters looking to interview him.

“I am Hao Ren.”

“Oh...” Lu Qi’s sounded a little surprised, “Brother Hao.”

“It’s like this. I’m setting up a club, and I want you to be the Vice President. You can help me spread this news. Specifically, say this...”

Hao Ren explained his plans to Lu Qi.

Lu Qi listened very carefully. With Hao Ren’s request, he would not dare to be sloppy. Hao Ren’s power and status had won his respect.

In the circle of dragon cultivators, age was nothing. Therefore, when Inspector Hao Ren took the initiative to ask for his help, this was his chance! He was afraid that he couldn’t befriend Hao Ren!

An hour later, Huang Xujie, who was enjoying the air-conditioner and snoring in the small office of the Rock-Climbing Club, was woken up by one of his henchmen “What’s wrong?” Huang Xujie was a bit annoyed.

Just when he was sleeping, he was awakened by his cousin’s phone call because of some trivial matters. Now, he was woken up once again.

“Brother Huang, Lu Qi, the President of the Go Club, made a post on the school forum.” The student who woken up Huang Xujie pointed to the computer.

“Lu Qi? Post?” Huang Xujie was somewhat confused.

The school forum required registration with one’s student number, which was equivalent to real-name authentication. The post author would have the name and student number displayed, and that was why few people would post on the school forum.

However, the school forum had a club management page. All the club activities, recruitment, and registration could be updated on this page.

Recently, the Rock-Climbing Club was about to recruit new members, so it was necessary to update information on this page and also pay attention to the updates of other clubs.

“Lu Qi posted that Hao Ren is founding a Calligraphy Club. Lu Qi himself will be a vice president, and the supervisor will be Su Han. There are two other vice president vacancies, and he hopes that students who are interested will join...” This member of the Rock-Climbing Club pointed to the post.

“Lu Qi is joining another club?” Huang Xujie was in disbelief.

The Go Club was the most unique club in East Ocean University, and it also had the highest status. Lu Qi had always looked down on other clubs in the school, let alone joining other clubs.

However, the author of this post was indeed Lu Qi. His name and student number, as well as the title of President of the Go Club, were displayed.

“A club founded by Hao Ren...” Huang Xujie saw this and became even more confused.

“Everyone knows that the supervisor is only an empty title and will never make an appearance! The only attraction he has is Lu Linlin and Lu Lili. Otherwise, who will participate in the Calligraphy Club this day and age? Pfft, relying on girls to attract members? Very low!” Huang Xujie thought about it and said.

However, he was jealous in his mind over the fact that Su Han would actually agree to be the supervisor of Hao Ren’s club. It seemed that her relationship with Hao Ren was not simple!

“No, Brother Huang, there is another sentence below.” The henchman pointed to the last sentence in the post. “Specially stated, Lu Linlin, Lu Lili, and Xie Yujia will not join the club.”

Seeing these seemingly unrelated words, Huang Xujie sighed. “Without Lu Linlin and Lu Lili, who will participate in this unpopular club? Is there anyone who will go to him? He is overestimating his charm!”

Huang Xujie waved his hand. “Don’t worry, this kind of club will not have many members!”

Chapter 542: The Club!

“The Eighth Generation of Broadcast Exercises. First exercise, march on the spot. Go!

“One, two, three, four...”

Hao Ren was sleeping on his bed when he heard the music from outside in the morning.

“Ren! Ren! Their school year has started!” Zhou Liren, who was on the upper berth of the other bed, pushed at Hao Ren’s bed in excitement.

Half asleep, Hao Ren realized that it was Zhao Yanzi’s first day.

“Haha, that’s the morning exercises!” Zhou Liren hopped off the bed and ran onto the balcony in his slippers.

Students from all the dorm buildings came out to watch LingZhao Middle School’s broadcast exercises ¹.

Hao Ren got to the balcony as well and saw students lined up in classes, doing morning exercises.

Dorm Building No.7 was only one wall away from LingZhao Middle School. Hao Ren’s Room 302 was higher than the fence so that they could see the sports field clearly.

“There are so many cute girls!” Zhou Liren stared at the girls on the sports field and sighed.

Hao Ren scanned the area, looking for Zhao Yanzi; students in Grade Nine should be doing the exercises as well. The teachers would only take up this period during the second half of the term when the high school entrance exam was near.

Middle school students were developing, so the heights of the students were largely different.

Hao Ren spotted Zhao Yanzi immediately; she was in the fourth column and the second row.

Students were lined up according to their heights with girls in the front and boys in the back. The shorter students were standing in front of the taller ones.

Zhao Yanzi wasn't tall in her class, so she was in the second row, right in front of Ling.

"Third exercise, leg kicks!

As the music and the broadcast changed, Zhao Yanzi had to change her movements according to the instructions. She looked a little absent-minded in her uniform, but she didn't act too lost since a teacher was supervising her class.

Hao Ren couldn't help but laugh at her silly movements. Zhao Yanzi hopped lazily in her uniform, yet she still looked pretty cute.

"Is little cousin there?" Zhou Liren asked when he noticed Hao Ren's smile.

"Not telling you." Hao Ren rolled his eyes at Zhou Liren coldly on purpose.

"Come on, Brother Ren!" Zhou Liren stuck his neck out with his hands holding onto the railing. He started the search himself.

However, all the students of LingZhao Middle School were in light blue uniforms. He got lost in search of Zhao Yanzi. Besides, how could his eyesight be compared with Hao Ren?

Zhao Yanzi looked up at the university dorm buildings as she followed the instructions.

This was their first day of the school and their first broadcast exercise on this campus. Many university students were watching them, and Zhao Yanzi wondered if Hao Ren was one of them.

However, there were so many balconies, and she remembered that Hao Ren's dorm building was the 'furthest' from her school. She couldn't spot Hao Ren after searching for a while, and she made a few mistakes, causing her to stand out in the group.

"Eighth exercise, cooling down!

It was the last portion of the broadcast exercise, so the movements slowed down.

"Is Uncle amongst them, Zi?" Ling made large steps on purpose in order to get closer to Zhao Yanzi, and she asked quietly when she got the chance.

"No. His room is far from here!" Zhao Yanzi answered.

"Were you looking for him? You made a few mistakes today," Ling said.

"What are you talking about? I was thinking about today's homework!" Zhao Yanzi tried to justify herself.

The exercises finished, and all the classes exited the sports field along with the music. Zhao Yanzi was obviously the prettiest girl in her class.

When it was Zhao Yanzi's class turn to exit the sports field, she looked back at the university dorm buildings. She had a weird feeling and felt like Hao Ren was staring at her.

"Go back to bed, go back to bed," Zhao Jiayi and Cao Ronghua lost their interest as the youthful girls exited the sports field. They went back into their room from the balcony.

Their schedule was completely opposite of Hao Ren's. Most of their classes were in the afternoon beside the mandatory classes. That was because they wanted to sleep in.

Zhou Liren stuck his neck out in search for Hao Ren's 'little cousin,' but he still couldn't find her.

Hao Ren kept her eyes on Zhao Yanzi the entire time. He even saw her messing around with Ling when she returned to her classroom.

The lively and familiar scene reminded Hao Ren of his own middle school days. It would be fun if he could turn back time and become Zhao Yanzi's classmate.

He checked the time and realized that his first class was about to start. So, he freshened up and headed to his class.

Xie Yujia was already there when he arrived at the classroom.

"Hi!" Xie Yujia waved at him.

She looked as refreshing as usual in her white t-shirt and jeans. Several guys were checking her out as they nudged each other when Hao Ren entered the room. They were probably betting on asking for Xie Yujia's phone number.

However, their cheerful faces immediately turned gloomy when she greeted Hao Ren with a bright smile.

Hao Ren glanced at the guys as he walked to Xie Yujia and sat down. These guys were probably freshmen, and they thought Xie Yujia was new as well.

"How is it going with the club?" Hao Ren asked.

"Um, everything is set up. Since Vice Principal Lu was here yesterday, he stamped our documents. I registered at the administration office after that, and the club is officially established." Xie Yujia smiled.

"Good," Hao Ren was relieved at this news.

"Should we put some advertisements up? Newly established clubs don't always get many students. But since new students just started school, we can rent a place and host some recruiting events." Xie Yujia continued.

She thought of many activities for Hao Ren last night; she tried to think of some ways to recruit students for him so that this Calligraphy Club wouldn't be too miserable with only a few members.

"It's ok. Lu Qi has already spread the word for me. Let's go to the cafeteria and put up a little table by the door," Hao Ren said.

"Don't we need some promotional activities? Should we ask Lu Linlin and Lu Lili for help?" Xie Yujia asked.

East Ocean University encouraged the students in enriching their spare times, so the students established a lot of clubs. However, newly started clubs usually found recruiting difficult since students would instead join the large clubs than small ones with few members.

In addition, the school board would cancel any clubs' qualification if they could not recruit over 50 members within a month. During all these years, only large clubs like the Swimming Club and Boardgame Club could survive.

Xie Yujia was worried about Hao Ren's club. He went through a lot of trouble to get it running, so she didn't want it to be disqualified after a month. Therefore, she suggested that he should promote the new club in early September.

"It's alright..." Hao Ren started to comfort Xie Yujia instead. Although it was his club, Xie Yujia had taken a lot of effort in running around for him.

He couldn't help but smile at her serious look. That was how her personality was; she would try her best in everything she did.

"Ok. As long as you say it's alright!" Xie Yujia finally smiled in relief. She believed in Hao Ren's abilities and realized that she overly-stressed herself.

As they chit-chatted, Lu Linlin and Lu Lili in their floral short skirts and black sandals walked into the classroom, laughing and chatting.

The guys who were staring at Xie Yujia were suddenly stupefied with their eyes lighting up. If Xie Yujia was only pretty to them, the twins were astonishing.

"Gongzi!"

Before they could stare more at the sisters, these two beauties fastened their steps and headed toward Hao Ren who was at the back of the classroom.

The guys who were looking at them gasped.

What was the definition of brutal? This was it! They saw this quiet, beautiful girl in the back row when they first entered the classroom, but they soon realized that she already had a boyfriend just before they were going to ask for her number. Then, they saw these two lively twin sisters coming in which brought them hope, but those two pretty girls ran toward that guy in the back as well!

Hao Ren felt the pressure as he realized that he had crushed those freshmen's spirit. He slightly waved and said, "Don't play around too much; the class is starting."

Lu Linlin and Lu Lili became quiet, and they sat beside Hao Ren, pouting.

The class was about to start, and the students gradually arrived.

"Oh, there is a freshman in our program named Xu Ke. Do you know him?" Hao Ren asked Xie Yujia.

"Xu Ke?" Xie Yujia thought for a bit. "I don't remember."

"He's the guy who called me to the office last time," Hao Ren added.

"Oh, him!" Xie Yujia nodded. "I didn't know his name, but when Ma Lina dragged me to watch the campus military training, he came over and asked me for the directions to the supermarket."

Xie Yujia looked at Hao Ren. "What's wrong with him?"

“Nothing much. You have more connections in the Student Council. Please see what information you can find on him,” Hao Ren said.

Hao Ren noticed the surprised look on Xie Yujia’s face when Xu Ke came to see him last time, so he knew that she must have met him before. Now that he thought about it, Xue Ke must have approached Xie Yujia on purpose last time when she went to see the campus military training with Ma Lina.

“Oh, ok!” Xie Yujia didn’t ask any more questions. Hao Ren must have his reason for looking this person up.

At this moment, Huang Xujie pushed open the door and entered the Rock-Climbing Club’s office. He asked the guy who was sitting in front of the computer, “How is Lu Qi’s post going?”

Today was an important day for club recruiting. The first day of school was usually for first-year students to adapt to the new environment, and the clubs would usually start their promotional campaigns on the second day of school in order to snatch resources.

Therefore, although Huang Xujie was already a fourth-year student, he got up early in the morning to check on the recruiting status at the Rock-Climbing Club.

The more club members he had, the higher the status he would have at school. The Rock-Climbing Club was the No.1 Club of East Ocean University. However, since Lu Linlin and Lu Lili joined the Taekwondo Club and the Swimming Club, their memberships had been increasing rapidly to a point where it was threatening the Rock-Climbing Club’s position; Huang Xujie got into some arguments with the other two club presidents because of this.

It was that time of the year again, and Huang Xujie paid extra attention to each club’s movements since he knew that Hao Ren was also a part of this.

“That post is pinned to the top by the forum administrator, but few people have responded,” that member answered as he opened the webpage.

Huang Xujie took a look. Sure enough, only three or four students responded under the post, and they were just random responses since none of them actually intended to join the club.

“Humph, Calligraphy Club? I have no idea what he was thinking. Who would join a club like that?” Huang Xujie squinted his eyes with disdain.

Usually, the larger the club was, the more money it could bring. Members had to pay a registration fee as well as for the equipment fees and activities fees. A club like the Rock-Climbing Club could make quite a lot of money every year just with the rock-climbing equipment and outdoor activities.

“Hao Ren must have started his Calligraphy Club to show off or out of his own interest,” Huang Xujie thought and was curious how many dummies would join a boring club like that.

The courses were taking place as usual, so were the classes at LingZhao Middle School on the other side of the street.

Zhao Yanzi was sitting in the classroom as she played with a ballpen in her palm. She was listening to her English teacher in boredom.

That was the first day of her Grade Nine year, yet the class atmosphere was very depressing. This so-called expert teacher didn't seem to be as good as Hao Ren in explaining English grammar.

Ring... The class dismissal bell rang, and Zhao Yanzi hopped out of her seat all of a sudden. She patted Ling who sat behind her and said, "Hey! Let's go eat at Hongji Square!"

Although LingZhao Middle School had very strict rules on students, it allowed them to go outside of the school for lunch. After being 'locked up' for an entire morning, Zhao Yanzi finally got released.

"Alright, I know. I was going to go with Liu Yuntao. I guess we can go together," Ling glimpsed at Zhao Yanzi and shrugged.

"Hehe..." Zhao Yanzi dragged Ling out of the classroom. They went next door to look for Liu Yuntao, Ling's boyfriend.

Liu Yuntao played well on the basketball team. Although he was not one of the main forces, he was tall, came from a well-off family, and was nice to Ling. Unlike Zhao Yanzi, Ling had a different taste for boyfriends. She liked taller guys who could give her a sense of security.

Ling and Liu Yuntao got along pretty well during this summer. Therefore, Zhao Yanzi got familiar with him after school started.

LingZhao High School and Middle School were now in different locations, and some of the Middle School Department's staffs hadn't arrived yet. Therefore, the school cafeteria was still closed; most of the students left from the front gate and headed toward Hongji Square for lunch.

"Hey! Are you Zhao Yanzi?"

A gangster-looking man who sat on a motorcycle walked up to her after she left the campus.

Chapter 543: Tiger's Anger

"Gongzi, you have to take us to barbeque for lunch... yeah..."

Near the end of the fourth class, Lu Linlin and Lu Lili reminded Hao Ren happily.

Last night, due to the fact that Hao Ren got the scholarship, he took all his friends, including Xie Yujia and Ma Lina, to Hongji Square for dinner.

However, Lu Linlin and Lu Lili didn't like to have dinner with Hao Ren's buddies who were loud, so they asked Hao Ren to take them out for lunch instead.

"Okay, got it!" Hao Ren's stomach was about to explode as he had had barbequed food for two days straight.

"Um, um!" Since Hao Ren did not go back on his words, Lu Linlin and Lu Lili were filled with joy.

Buzz... Buzz...

Hao Ren's phone that was on the desk started vibrating, and the screen showed Zhao Yanzi's name.

“This girl finished her classes already...” Hao Ren was ready for Zhao Yanzi to come and find him at any moment. He saw Zhao Yanzi’s name appear on his phone and knew that her lunch break had started.

The first class at LingZhao Middle School was earlier than East Ocean University. Therefore, their lunch break started before the fourth class of East Ocean University ended.

Hao Ren picked up the phone, lowered his voice, and whispered, “I’m still in class; I can’t take you to lunch.”

“Brother! Come to the front entrance of my school! Quickly!” Zhao Yanzi yelled on the phone before she hung up.

“Brother...” Hao Ren was speechless at first, but then he felt that something was wrong.

“Yujia, give me the key to your bike,” Hao Ren turned around and said to Xie Yujia.

“Oh...” Xie Yujia gave the key to Hao Ren. Since she saw Hao Ren’s worried expression, she couldn’t help but ask, “What’s wrong?”

“Nothing, I will be back shortly.” Hao Ren, who was very relaxed, suddenly became serious. He walked out the back door of the classroom directly.

They were half-way through the class. The instructor was shocked to see Hao Ren suddenly leave, but the instructor did not stop him.

On the other hand, Hao Ren walked out of the classroom and went down the stairs. Then, he unlocked Xie Yujia’s bicycle and started rushing toward the front entrance of East Ocean University.

Since Zhao Yanzi called him, brother, it proved that she wasn’t in such big trouble, but she was indeed asking for help.

With Hao Ren’s speed, it would take him around 20 seconds to reach the front entrance of the university from his academic building. Hao Ren rode across the road and arrived at the entrance of LingZhao Middle School, and he saw Zhao Yanzi, Ling, and a boy surrounded by a few hooligans.

There were also some other middle school students watching from a distance at the school entrance.

These hooligans had always been wandering around the school entrance, trying to get some of the girls’ attention. Back in the days when LingZhao’s Middle School Department was still with the High School Department, these hooligans didn’t dare to wander around the entrance of the school since there were strong high school students.

Ever since the Middle School Department had moved away from the original campus to a place that was further away from downtown, the security forces had not been fully allocated, and these hooligans took the chance to come over and cause trouble.

“Are you Zhao Yanzi? Our boss likes you a lot. Come have lunch with him.” A hooligan, who had dyed blond hair and dressed in a leather jacket, said to Zhao Yanzi as he waved around a small bat.

Normally, new campuses were built in rural areas where the land was cheaper. A good example was the new campus of East Ocean University, which had a huge area. With the newly built school campuses, the development of the nearby areas was doing quite well. However, it was quite remote compared to the city, and hooligans were still around.

Zhao Yanzi looked at the three hooligans with a straight face, but Ling stood beside Zhao Yanzi and held Liu Yuntao's arm in fear.

Liu Yuntao, who was nearly 1.8 meters tall, looked at the three fierce-looking hooligans and didn't dare to do anything. Although he was good at playing basketball, he was still a middle school student, not to mention that he grew up in a wealthy family and was the pearl of his parents. How would he dare to fight against these hooligans?

Those students who were standing around did not dare to say anything as well; even those who liked Zhao Yanzi didn't dare to go near them. Some of them weren't brave enough, and some of them were scared that they would get hurt and thus delayed their exams and practices.

Aside from Grade Nine students, those Grade Eight and Seven students were even more scared.

Since the hooligans saw that no teachers were around to help Zhao Yanzi, they got closer to her and got even more arrogant.

The one who was leading these hooligans liked Zhao Yanzi, and he heard that Zhao Yanzi was in Class Two and had no money nor power in school.

Back then, there were a few guys, such as Xie Xiaofeng, who liked Zhao Yanzi and were ballsy and had influential family backgrounds. Therefore, he did not dare to act recklessly.

Now that the school moved, he felt like his opportunity came.

"Fking stop!" Hao Ren rode the bike to the entrance of LingZhao Middle School and saw these hooligans were about to touch Zhao Yanzi.

Thus, he yelled and drifted the bike to the side of the curb.

Bam! The bike slammed onto the curb, and Hao Ren borrowed this force and rushed toward the hooligan who was closest to Zhao Yanzi, punching him right in his face.

Pow!

Hao Ren fist made a clear smacking sound as the hooligan covered his nose. When he looked up again, his face was already covered in blood.

This blood came from this hooligan's nose and mouth.

The middle school students around gasped since they did not expect a real fight to break out this quickly. Many of these students had just graduated from elementary school and had never seen anything like this before.

Those students from Grade Seven and Eight had never seen a fierce fight like this before as well. That was because LingZhao Middle School was one of the best schools in the city, unlike those chaotic middle schools where fights were frequent.

Liu Yuntao, who was standing right next to Ling, was overwhelmed with fear. When he played basketball, he got hurt sometimes. However, he had never seen a fight with so much blood before in his life.

The other two hooligans did not expect that Hao Ren's punch would be so fierce. They hesitated for a second before they picked up their bats and threw them toward Hao Ren.

To these so-called hooligans, street fights were routine for them. Even though Hao Ren's punch was very fierce, it wouldn't scare them away. Since they had motorcycles, they could run away after the fight, and no one could catch up with them.

The police wouldn't bother to investigate small fights like this. Therefore, these hooligans would be fine after they hide for a while. In the worst case, if they got caught, they would only be locked up for a few days.

In comparison, the students had no place to hide. Once these hooligans were released, the students were doomed.

Therefore, the students started screaming again when they saw the two hooligans smash their metal bats toward Hao Ren's head and neck.

"Fk you!" Hao Ren kicked one of the hooligans in the chest and punched the other in his stomach.

The hooligan who got punched in the face by Hao Ren pulled out a pocket knife.

Hao Ren grabbed this hooligan's collar and pressed him directly onto the ground. Then, Hao Ren pressed his knee against the hooligan's arm, making him drop his knife immediately as that arm went numb.

Pow! Pow!

Hao Ren punched this leading hooligan's eyes and wished to choke him to death.

Hao Ren hated these hooligans the most. Back in high school, one of his classmates, who he didn't know much about, had to transfer to another school because of hooligans. Some other students from a different class were being bullied, humiliated, and blackmailed by these hooligans...

Only after the strengthening of the security forces near the school in the north side of the city plus a newly built police station did these hooligans disappear.

Yet, Hao Ren did not expect that after LingZhao Middle School moved to this area, these hooligans would reappear again!

"Brother! Brother!" The hooligan, who was pressed against the floor by Hao Ren, surrendered immediately.

Both of his eyes were red and swollen; his nose and his teeth were bleeding continuously; the corner of his eyes was ruptured and was green in color; his brow bone turned black and was swollen. His fierce look was as if it was covered in paint.

Hao Ren raised his fist and wanted to punch him again until his face was completely unrecognizable.

However, because there were many students around, it wasn't good for them if the scene was too cruel. Therefore, Hao Ren held back his fist and slapped the hooligan's face crazily.

"Brother, Brother, Brother..."

This hooligan did not expect to encounter a ruthless guy like Hao Ren. He waved his hands helplessly as he almost started crying. However, his eyebrows were so swollen that he couldn't shed a tear.

These hooligans bullied the weak and feared the strong. How could they know all of Hao Ren's old and new grudges against them?

Although Hao Ren seemed very kind and gentle, he wouldn't let himself to be bullied. Back when he was still in high school, he hid a knife in his backpack and was ready to fight the hooligans at any moment.

However, he was quite lucky. He had never gotten into trouble with the hooligans. Ever since the neighborhood around the school was rectified, there were no more hooligans near the school, and Hao Ren's knife became useless.

The two hooligans who were kicked and punched by Hao Ren tried to stand up. However, they were feeling very dizzy, and they felt like their organs changed locations.

"How come this short and weak looking guy is so powerful?!" they thought.

Even their leader, who was known as the fiercest man on the street, was being pressed against the floor and was beaten so bad! That was too horrifying for tears!

"Madam, Madam..." the leading hooligan begged Zhao Yanzi for mercy since Hao Ren had no intention to stop beating him.

Both of his eyes were blurry, and he could see three Zhao Yanzi. He was afraid that if Hao Ren continued beating him, he would either die or turned into an idiot.

"Brother, stop; let them go," Zhao Yanzi yelled.

The reason why she called Hao Ren, Brother, was to cover-up their relationship. However, every Grade Eight and Grade Nine student knew that Hao Ren was her boyfriend.

Hao Ren pulled the hooligan's collar and made him stand up. Then, he turned him around and yelled loudly, "Leave!"

The hooligan, who was extremely dizzy, heard Hao Ren and tottered toward his motorcycle. He didn't even care if he was able to ride the motorcycle or not. He got on it and immediately drove off.

The other two hooligans limped to their motorcycles and fled the entrance of LingZhao Middle School immediately as well.

Hao Ren patted his clothes and looked at Zhao Yanzi worryingly. "Are you okay?"

Zhao Yanzi pouted her lips and did not reply. However, the students around them were stunned by what had happened.

Chapter 544: Watch a Good Show!

Ling looked at Hao Ren in shock. She did not expect how tough this 'uncle' who Zhao Yanzi always mentioned happily was when fighting with hooligans.

Middle school girls didn't care about family background or grades. Instead, they liked boys who were manlier; that was why they tended to like boys who were good at basketball.

Now that Hao Ren fought off three people just by himself, especially when he fought so well that the three hooligans were begging on the floor, the girls were now full of curiosity.

The hooligans had cut a small wound on Hao Ren's arm with a knife, but this did not affect how attractive Hao Ren appeared to them. On the contrary, the injury made him appear even more manly.

All the girls' eyes lit up brightly like stars; they thought Hao Ren was their Prince Charming.

The boys who had a secret crush on Zhao Yanzi and wrote her love letters were all backing up and giving up now.

These boys came from wealthy families. Zhao Yanzi was cute and pretty, so they wanted to pursue her. However, from what happened today, they knew that even if they had successfully pursued Zhao Yanzi, they couldn't protect her; none of them dared to stand up for her when they saw the three fierce-looking hooligans today. However, Hao Ren appeared and defeated the three hooligans with ease.

"Let's go." Hao Ren lifted the bicycle back up, turned around, and said to Zhao Yanzi.

Zhao Yanzi bit her lips. Then, she got on the back seat of the bicycle when everyone was watching them.

By now, the teachers had heard about the news and were about to come out.

Some of the students of East Ocean University saw that there were a bunch of middle school students gathered in front of LingZhao Middle School from across the street, so they went across the road to see what was happening.

Under these circumstances, both Hao Ren and Zhao Yanzi didn't want to be surrounded by crowds.

Hao Ren sat on the bicycle, carrying Zhao Yanzi on the back. He rode on the road that separated LingZhao Middle School and East Ocean University and dashed away.

From defeating the hooligans to taking Zhao Yanzi to escape, Hao Ren didn't say much. He seemed calm and warm throughout the process.

The middle school girls watched as the bicycle disappeared around the corner of the road, and they suddenly thought that Zhao Yanzi was very blessed.

Liu Yuntao who was standing next to Ling suddenly came back to his senses. After thinking about how Hao Ren handled the situation and his own performance, he suddenly blushed.

"OK. Zi's boyfriend is really incredible. However, it is not your fault that you couldn't fend off the bad guys," Ling said as she looked up at Liu Yuntao and touched him.

At the critical moment, Ling was delighted that Liu Yuntao was able to protect her with his arms. However, she had to admit that Zhao Yanzi's boyfriend was spectacular.

"He's different from ordinary guys!" Ling suddenly remembered this confident comment from Zhao Yanzi when they chatted last night in their dorm.

Zhao Yanzi was proud and had high standards. There were many boys from the Middle School Department and High school Department pursuing her, and she would receive mountains of love letters each week, but she did not even look at them.

However, she liked this 'uncle.'

Thinking closely, this 'uncle' was far better than ordinary handsome men.

Vroom! Vroom! Vroom!

One of the three hooligans who escaped on motorcycles drove back, and the guy on it said viciously, "You brat. You've done it well this time but wait and see! I'll be back!"

Vroom... The motorcycle crossed the intersection quickly, turning into a black dot.

At that moment, Hao Ren was riding on the bicycle and heading to Hongji Square already. Because he didn't want to get East Ocean University involved in this, he did not cross the East Ocean University but had gone around it.

Zhao Yanzi sat in the back, hugging Hao Ren's waist with both hands. Although she had not calmed down, she could tell that Hao Ren was really mad when he hit them.

She wasn't actually afraid of those three hooligans, but Zhao Guang had given her orders and told her that she couldn't expose the family identity. Therefore, she couldn't call anyone from her family to solve the situation, and she also could not expose her true power and fight off the three hooligans by herself.

Her only option left was calling Hao Ren.

From this process, she felt that Hao Ren was more boyfriend like. She felt like a little girlfriend, not having powers, not being able to cultivate, but could feel a sense of security from being protected.

She held onto Hao Ren's shirt with both hands. Hao Ren's appearance this time would for sure be spread around the campus. In less than half a day, everyone from Grade Seven to Grade Nine would be talking about this. Zhao Yanzi was able to imagine what it would be like.

"Whatever. I don't care," Zhao Yanzi thought as she put one side of her face against Hao Ren's back.

Ring! Ring! Ring! Zhao Yanzi's phone rang.

"Zi. Those hooligans said they are going to come again. You guys have to be more careful!" On Zhao Yanzi's phone, she could hear Ling's anxious voice.

"OK. I know!" After hearing the news, Zhao Yanzi frowned and put her phone away.

Hooligans were like this; one second, they would be begging for mercy, and the next second, they would bring more people to seek revenge. If it were normal students, they would for sure be so scared that they wouldn't even dare to go to school and end up hiding at home.

However, Zhao Yanzi was really not afraid of these hooligans. When they arrived at Hongji Square, Zhao Yanzi dragged Hao Ren to the cinema's washroom.

There was a sink in between the men and women's washrooms. Zhao Yanzi dragged Hao Ren there, and she turned on the tap and pulled Hao Ren's hands over, using the water to wash his palm and the back of his hand.

Hao Ren only used his own physical strength to fight the hooligans and didn't use any nature essence. When he punched to the hooligans, a few punches slipped and hit the cement ground, scratching his skin.

Zhao Yanzi witnessed all that. That was why the first thing she did when they arrived at Hongji Square was dragging Hao Ren to the washroom and washing his hands clean.

The tap water was cold. Zhao Yanzi carefully washed off the little rocks and dust on Hao Ren's wounded skin. From how the little rocks got stuck in Hao Ren's hand, one could tell that Hao Ren punched really hard, which probably explained why those fierce-looking hooligans were begging for mercy.

Huahuahua... The clear water flowed.

Hao Ren looked down at Zhao Yan, who was helping him clean up his wounds carefully, and suddenly realized that Zhao Yanzi was sometimes gentle and attentive.

Zhao Yanzi was a bit touched while she held onto Hao Ren's big hands; she believed that even if Hao Ren didn't cultivate, he would still come rushing over to save her and fend off the hooligans in that situation.

"Let's go!" Zhao Yanzi washed both Hao Ren's hands clean. Then, she turned off the tap and dragged Hao Ren over to the cartoon shop outside.

"What...?" Hao Ren asked her weirdly.

"Hurry up!" Zhao Yanzi pulled Hao Ren hard.

Inside the little shop were a lot of different things. Zhao Yanzi stood on her tip-toes and looked around the shop. She finally found the thing she wanted, so she ran over to pick it up. Then, she ran over to the counter to pay.

Hao Ren stood at the entrance and observed her.

"Show your hand!" Zhao Yanzi said as she glared at Hao Ren.

Hao Ren curled his lips and put out both hands before her.

Zhao Yanzi opened the package she just bought and took out a few cartoon-patterned band-aids. Then, she flipped over Hao Ren's hand and stuck band-aids on his joints.

Hao Ren looked at her strangely; he didn't expect her to be buying something like this in the small shop, so he was a bit touched by her actions.

Zhao Yanzi had remembered that this place sold cute cartoon-patterned band-aids from last time when Hao Ren came shopping with her; that was why when Hao Ren was hurt this time, she led him here.

“OK. I’ll keep the rest for myself.” Zhao Yanzi put the rest of the band-aids in her pocket; she looked like she was so stingy that she didn’t want to use too many of the band-aids she bought with her own money on Hao Ren.

Hao Ren looked at the time; the fourth class in the university hadn’t end yet, so he couldn’t give Xie Yujia a call. Then, he looked at Zhao Yanzi and said, “I’ll treat you to noodles?”

“OK.” Zhao Yanzi pouted. She wasn’t really picky about lunch since the lunch break time was limited; she didn’t have the time to go eat something good even if she wanted to.

Hao Ren led Zhao Yanzi to a beef noodle restaurant that he went to frequently, and he found a table for two and ordered two bowls of beef noodles.

Zhao Yanzi was wearing her school uniform today, but there were no other LingZhao Middle School students there. When she sat with Hao Ren, she attracted lots of attention because of her beauty. Many university students kept looking at her.

When they finished the steaming beef noodles, Hao Ren looked at the time and saw that this was the time that the fourth period in university ended. He sat on the bicycle and took Zhao Yanzi back to school.

Vroom... Vroom... Hao Ren and Zhao Yanzi saw tens of silver motorcycles driving around when they arrived at the entrance of LingZhao Middle School.

The leader of the hooligans whom Hao Ren had just beaten up sat on the back of a large motorcycle. As soon as he saw Hao Ren, he pointed at the latter and said, “Boss, it’s him!”

The areas around his eyes were all swollen, so his eyes were now in the shape of a line. He had put a lot of medicine on his face, and it looked even more colorful than before.

The person on the largest motorcycle was the boss of the hooligans. He was wearing a black sports jacket and had black tattoos on his arms. He looked ruthless and powerful.

If it were ordinary students, they would be running for their lives after they saw them. However, when Hao Ren saw them, he felt the same way as Zhao Yanzi, which was a feeling of hate and annoyance.

The motorcycles quickly surrounded Hao Ren and his bike in the blink of an eye.

Vroom! Vroom! They purposefully stepped on the gas so that the motorcycles would let out a louder noise. There was black smoke everywhere.

“Boss! Boss” Outside Clear Stream Cafeteria, a henchman of Huang Xujie ran toward him and said, “That Hao Ren is surrounded by hooligans outside LingZhao Middle School!”

“Ah, there’s such a good show?” Huang Xujie suddenly became very excited. He brought tens of henchmen and rushed over toward the main entrance of East Ocean University in excitement.

Asides from Huang Xujie, other students of East Ocean University heard of the news as well, and they also rushed toward the main entrance of East Ocean University.

This was just when the fourth period ended at East Ocean University, so many students came out of the academic buildings.

These hooligans had surrounded Hao Ren and Zhao Yanzi, and they didn't rush to take action because they wanted this kind of a crowd.

The middle school students who had just finished eating lunch at the surrounding restaurants were coming back and also appeared at the main entrance of LingZhao Middle School.

Huang Xujie led tens of members of the Rock-Climbing Club over, and he saw Hao Ren being surrounded by tens of hooligans. Surprisingly, he knew the boss of the gang.

"Hahaha... Great. No matter how good you are at fighting, Hao Ren, you wouldn't be able to beat tens of hooligans," Huang Xujie thought as he stood behind the crowd happily.

"Brother Huang," the boss of the hooligans said when he saw Huang Xujie.

Huang Xujie's facial expression changed suddenly.

Chapter 545: Who Dares to Bother Brother Hao...

Tens of hooligans surrounded Hao Ren on motorcycles, and he turned around and looked at Huang Xujie when he heard that.

Huang Xujie's look turned stiff. Then, suddenly...

"Damn it! Who dares to bother Brother Hao? Charge and fight!"

Huang Xujie suddenly charged up and punched the boss of the hooligans in the face.

That man did not expect the punch and was extremely surprised. He didn't have any time to react, so he fell to the ground with his motorcycle.

Huang Xujie suddenly turned over and lifted that man by his collar. He gave him another strong punch and shouted, "I will kill whoever dares to bother Brother Hao!"

This man also wasn't able to react to the surprise attack, and Huang Xujie gave him another hard punch in the face. Huang Xujie was captain of the Rock-Climbing Club, so he exercised often. He had strong muscles, and his body structure was large. He used all his might in his punch and hit the boss of the hooligans in his head, making him dizzy.

"How dare you bother Brother Hao! How you dare to bother Brother Hao!" Huang Xujie sat on top of the boss of the hooligans and hit him one punch after another.

The whole process happened in only a few seconds, and everyone wasn't quick enough to react. Not only were the hooligans surprised, but even the members of the Rock-Climbing Club were shocked by Huang Xujie's actions.

These hooligans around East Ocean University all knew Huang Xujie, and their boss was pretty good friends with Huang Xujie. Since Huang Xujie was the son of a deputy mayor, these hooligans fawned over Huang Xujie and often called him Brother Huang.

Now that Huang Xujie had charged directly at their boss and hit him with all his might, they didn't have time to process everything.

The Rock-Climbing Club members on Huang Xujie's side knew that he and Hao Ren were enemies. Although they had felt that Huang Xujie often avoided Hao Ren intentionally, they never expected Huang Xujie to run up and help Hao Ren escape from trouble.

From how desperate Huang Xujie was fighting, it seemed like he and Hao Ren were very good buddies!

"Damn you! Huang Xujie!" Even though the boss of the hooligans was hit to the ground, he wasn't weak. He fawned over Huang Xujie because his father was a deputy mayor of the city, but he no longer cared about Huang Xujie's connections when he was attacked.

The members of the Rock-Climbing Club saw that the situation wasn't good, so they rushed up. They held onto the hooligans and started to hit them. The university students were all elites of the Rock-Climbing Club; they loved outdoor sports and had great explosive strength, and they were all above 1.8 meters tall. The scene was spectacular as if frontline soldiers charged up for a fight.

The tens of hooligans had been through and survived different fights. Although they weren't as strong and big as these students, they were not weak in fights.

Bang! Bang! Peng! Peng! Tens of motorcycles were pushed to the ground as both sides were engaged in the fight.

Huang Xujie's clothes were ripped, and he could not maintain his handsome, gentleman figure in front of all the students now. Therefore, he used one hand to squeeze the boss of the hooligans' neck and the other one to give him punches.

"Brother Hao is not someone you can bother! Good thing I came here quick!" Huang Xujie yelled as he fought.

From his angered face, it seemed like he had brought the members of the Rock-Climbing Club over to help Hao Ren.

Hua, hua, hua... The boss of the hooligans was swollen red. He caught onto Huang Xujie, and they rolled over until they reached the flower bed beside the entrance of LingZhao Middle School.

The other hooligans and members of the Rock-Climbing Club were all fighting violently. Their clothes were torn, and they had scratches all over their bodies.

The members of the Rock-Climbing Club hung out with the rich Huang Xujie. Since this was a critical moment for Huang Xujie, they were going to give him all their effort. Also, since Huang Xujie was a deputy mayor's son, fighting alongside him would create a deeper bond, so it couldn't go wrong.

Hao Ren lightly got a hold of Zhao Yanzi's shoulders and backed up a few steps. They backed up to the front of the banner of LingZhao Middle School and watched them fight.

Zhao Yanzi looked very confused and couldn't figure out what was happening. "Are these good people friends with Hao Ren in university?" they thought.

However, the name, Huang Xujie, seemed to ring a bell in Zhao Yanzi's mind. The students who had gathered after hearing the news of the fight were also very confused. All they knew was that a middle school student and Hao Ren got surrounded by a few hooligans. So, they didn't understand why Huang Xujie was helping Hao Ren out.

"F*ck. Who dares to fight Hao Ren..."

Zhao Jiayi and other buddies of Hao Ren rushed over with wooden sticks in their hands.

They had just woken up around eleven o'clock and were playing cards in their dorm. They suddenly heard the news that Hao Ren was being beaten up by hooligans at LingZhao Middle School, so they had all rushed over.

However, by the time they rushed over, they found Hao Ren standing by the side and watching while Huang Xujie and the members of the Rock-Climbing Club were fighting with the hooligans.

"What is this situation..." Even Zhao Jiayi didn't understand.

Wee, woo... wee, woo... The police cars from the nearby police station were coming with their lights all flashing, and the police arrived at the gate of LingZhao Middle School soon.

The hooligans were being beaten badly by the members of the Rock-Climbing Club, so they had no way of escaping.

Huang Xujie's face was all covered with dirt, and he was finally able to stand up straight even though there was a long wound on his lower leg that was cut by the motorcycle. The wound wasn't deep, but blood was still dripping down.

His high-end luxury shirt was all torn, and the cement ground also scratched his expensive watch on his left hand.

"Take them all in!" the police chief said strictly when he saw the hooligans.

Then, he looked around and saw Huang Xujie and the tens of university students who participated in the fight. He randomly pointed at a few and said, "You guys come as well and give your statements to help with the investigation!"

He recognized Huang Xujie and knew that he was the son of a deputy mayor. Therefore, he wouldn't pick on Huang Xujie. For these second-generation children of the rich and politicians, he didn't need other people to tell him.

That was why the police chief already knew what Huang Xujie looked like and knew that he was studying at East Ocean University.

Over the past four years, Huang Xujie didn't cause much trouble. The higher up the parents were in the government system, the more cautious their children were. This police chief didn't really understand the situation and wondered, "Why did Huang Yujie get into a fight with the local hooligans?"

The motorcycles were all driven away by the police while the hooligans were all captured and brought in by police cars. There were also a few Rock-Climbing Club members who went along to give statements.

Huang Xujie wiped the blood off the corner of his mouth and walked over to Hao Ren. He gave a big smile and said, "Brother Hao, are you ok?"

All the students of East Ocean University who came to see what was happening were shocked.

Huang Xujie had always done whatever he wanted without following rules and didn't respect anyone. However, he called Hao Ren, Brother Hao? They all had thought that Huang Xujie had some personal grudge against these hooligans.

Huang Xujie hated this situation. What had happened in Academic Building D's computer lab made he lost face. However, there were only tens of students there at the time, so it wasn't a large impact on his reputation.

However, there were at least a hundred students watching this time! Huang Xujie knew that with Hao Ren, one could only be nice and not rough, so he could only lower himself and called Hao Ren, Brother Hao!"

He didn't care what the rumors were going to like at the school since he was already in the fourth year and was about to graduate. However, if Hao Ren thought that he brought the hooligans over, then he wouldn't be able to clear his name!

If he bothered Hao Ren, his dad's future would be destroyed! If his dad's future were destroyed, his life would also be destroyed!

No one went against him because he was a deputy mayor's son!

If his dad knew that he called hooligans to beat up Hao Zhonghua's son, Huang Xujie knew that his dad would kill him for sure!

That was exactly why when the boss of the hooligans greeted him, Huang Xujie knew right away that he had to cut all relations he had with them!

Even if it meant fighting until his head bled, it was still worth it! He was willing to lower himself as long as Hao Ren didn't misunderstand him; it was all worth it!

Huang Xujie's dad had told Huang Xujie multiple times that if Hao Zhonghua said a few words to the provincial government, he might lose his position as a deputy mayor next year!

Just when everyone was shocked, a girl suddenly jumped out from the crowd and said, "Cousin, are you okay? Why did you hit San and his people!"

Everyone looked at her when she said this.

Huang Xujie realized what was going on when he saw his little cousin jumping out from the crowd; he knew that his cousin, Yu Qing, summoned San and the hooligans!

LingZhao Middle School, the school that his little cousin attended, had just moved over recently, and Huang Xujie's aunt told him to take care of his little cousin. Huang Xujie knew that his little cousin's personality would cause a lot of trouble, but he didn't have time for her. He told San, the hooligan, to look after Yu Qing, and he gave Yu Qing the phone number of the hooligans so that she could call them if she were ever in trouble.

The hooligans were all called over by Yu Qing!

That was the truth.

Yesterday, Yu Qing was very angry because of Zhao Yanzi and Hao Ren, so she wanted to get a few hooligans over to scare Zhao Yanzi. That was why she called San. When San the hooligan came to LingZhao Middle School and saw that his target was Zhao Yanzi, the girl he liked, he was delighted.

However, they didn't expect to be beaten up by Hao Ren so badly. If it were before, and they knew they couldn't win, they would have just let it go. However, because Huang Xujie's cousin called them and thus was backed up by Huang Xujie, they decided to invite their boss and come back to give Hao Ren a lesson.

Huang Xujie wasn't stupid. He noticed that there was a girl in LingZhao Middle School's uniform beside Hao Ren, so he immediately understood the situation. He suddenly got very mad.

"Are you f*cking blind! How dare you bother Brother Hao's little sister?" Huang Xujie glared and roared so loud that everyone's eardrums were about to burst.

Pia!

He immediately slapped Yu Qing on the face.

This slap was loud and hard. Yu Qing spun two or three times before she was able to find her balance again. Her face immediately swollen, and a hand mark appeared.

Yu Qing's father's business was given to him by Huang Xujie's father. That was why Huang Xujie was not worried that this slap he just gave to Yu Qing was going to cause him any problems.

"Woo..." Yu Qing was always bossy at school and had never been treated badly. She immediately covered her face and sat on the ground, crying.

Chapter 546: Collect Protection Fee!

When the surrounding middle school students saw that Yu Qing was crying after being hit, they all showed different expressions.

However, most of the Grade Nine students were very happy. This Yu Qing acted as a bossy person and had said mean things about her classmates and students in other classes.

Zhao Yanzi was special and didn't like to respond to people. However, she would never bully others, so girls didn't hate her.

Since the guys liked her, the girls were a bit jealous, so they would say some small mean things about Zhao Yanzi. But those didn't cause much harm to Zhao Yanzi, so she didn't really mind.

However, Yu Qing was arrogant and bossy at school as if no one could do anything to her. If she found out anyone said something bad about her, she would for sure threaten them. That was why none of the girls dared to fight for the things that Yu Qing had her eyes on.

Now that Yu Qing was slapped, these students who didn't dare to utter a word before because they were too scared were delighted. They felt that Zhao Yanzi seemed very good even though she already had a boyfriend.

If they thought carefully, all the boys at school had pursued Zhao Yanzi by their own will while Zhao Yanzi didn't get involved with any one of them. However, she was crowned the most popular girl at school, so the girls were jealous of her.

"Cry, cry, cry! Why the hell are you crying!" Huang Xujie was getting very irritated, and he had nowhere to vent out the anger he felt. He exploded when he realized that his bratty little cousin caused all this trouble.

He almost couldn't control himself. If it weren't for so many people around, he would have given her another slap in the face.

"Hurry up and apologize to Brother Hao's little sister!" Huang Xujie lifted Yu Qing by her clothes.

He didn't really care about this little cousin of his. Otherwise, he would have done something when Yu Qing called him and told him that someone was cursing her.

Huang Xujie had never hit her before, so she was so scared right now that her whole body was trembling. She only wanted to call a few hooligans to scare Zhao Yanzi; never did she thought that it would cause so much trouble.

She looked at Zhao Yanzi while trembling and uttered, "Sor... sorry."

She was the type who looked very strong but was weak on the inside. She was arrogant at school because she took advantage of having an uncle who was a deputy mayor. Now that her big cousin slapped her, she didn't know what the situation was anymore.

"Wow..." the middle school students started chatting loudly amongst themselves all of a sudden. The bossiest student at LingZhao Middle School, Yu Qing, actually had to apologize to Zhao Yanzi. They realized how powerful Zhao Yanzi's boyfriend was. After this, no one would dare to bully Zhao Yanzi anymore!

Zhao Yanzi didn't need Yu Qing's apology. She turned around and walked into the school without even looking at her.

Hao Ren also wasn't interested, so he pushed his bicycle and walked toward the main gate of East Ocean University.

However, Hao Ren's vague attitude made Huang Xujie uncomfortable. His dad was the deputy mayor, and his dad usually wouldn't control what he does. However, if his dad were going to give him a lesson, then the lesson would definitely be one that involved hitting him so hard that his arms and legs might break.

Huang Xujie saw the shocked faces of the members of the Rock-Climbing Club, but he clenched his teeth and went straight toward East Ocean University.

“Class is about to start. Hurry up and go!”

A few middle school teachers were standing at the entrance of the middle school, and they shouted to call the students in. They were only teachers that received a small salary, so they would not rush out to stop an actual fight. However, when Huang Xujie gave Yu Qing a lesson, they also chose to watch on the side because it was better when they didn’t get involved amongst these fights between students from rich and powerful families.

Hong, hong, hong! The middle school students went back onto campus like tides of water, and they continued to gossip as they hurried in.

The metal gate closed shut.

The university students who were outside LingZhao Middle School saw that the situation had been resolved, so they scattered as well. Some went back to school, and some went back to their dorms.

However, they continued to discuss the situation.

“Brother Ren! Brother Ren!” Zhou Liren rushed over with a wooden stick in his hand. “That’s so cool! You even made Huang Xujie call you, Brother!”

Last time at the computer lab, Huang Xujie had called Hao Ren, Brother Ren. Zhou Liren was confused about the situation, and he didn’t understand why Huang Xujie fought so hard for Hao Ren and even went as far as punishing his own little cousin in public.

“We’re already at school. Why are you still holding onto the wooden stick?” Hao Ren asked him.

“Oh, oh...” Zhou Liren threw his wooden stick away and asked, “Why did Huang Xujie call you, Brother?”

“How would I know! He probably has gone nuts!” Hao Ren said.

“I know! I know!” Zhou Liren suddenly seemed to come to a realization. “It must be that Brother Ren looks so mighty when fighting, so mighty that Huang Xujie is scared by you!”

Zhou Liren patted his thighs and said, “F*ck! Huang Xujie’s little cousin dares to bully our little cousin?!”

Hao Ren recognized that Zhou Liren’s thoughts were very chaotic, but he was too lazy to explain it to him. Zhao Jiayi and the other guys threw away their wooden sticks and ran to catch up with them. Although they didn’t understand what was going on either, they only knew that Hao Ren was so amazing that Huang Xujie was scared of him.

“This time, the Rock-Climbing Club showed off their strength by fighting off the hooligans. They turned out looking brave. Maybe their bravery would even help attract new students this year,” Zhao Jiayi said.

Hao Ren didn’t think this way before. But now that Zhao Jiayi said it, it seemed to make sense. The dozens of hooligans had been disturbing middle school students and had even surrounded East Ocean University students. However, Huang Xujie bravely interfered, fought off the hooligans, and even gave his meddling little cousin a lesson, placing morale in front of relationships.

Other than why Huang Xujie respected Hao Ren this much, this reasoning seemed to make sense.

“You guys haven’t eaten anything yet, right? I’ll treat you guys to lunch, but you guys have to help my club attract new members this afternoon,” Hao Ren said.

“Help? Sure!” Zhou Liren immediately agreed but then was shocked. “What? Your club is getting new members?”

Hao Ren didn’t spread the news that he was starting a club, so they had no clue about this. Also, only the school’s club management and first-year students who were about to join clubs would go to the forums. Normal people would not go there.

“What club is it?” Zhao Jiayi was full of interest.

As the captain, Zhao Jiayi had to recruit new members into the basketball team. However, the team didn’t need many people. Instead, people would need to pass many tests, and the best would be chosen.

“Calligraphy Club,” Hao Ren said calmly.

“Calligraphy?” Zhou Liren opened his eyes wide. “Damn it! Who would join this kind of club!”

Yu Rong, who was by Zhao Jiayi and the other guys, also joined in on the conversation, agreeing with Zhou Liren. “You should at least make a CS Club or a World of Warcraft Club. Why would you make a Calligraphy Club? Who would join? You won’t be able to get even 50 people in a month!”

“Hehe...” Hao Ren smile. “What if I am able to get 50 today?”

“Fifty?” Yu Rong’s eyes opened widely. “Unless you’re giving out money, no one would come!”

“Not giving out money. Rather, there’s an expensive club fee of 500-yuan per person!” Hao Ren said.

Peng! Deng!

Zhao Jiayi was originally on Hao Ren’s side, but he almost fell when he heard Hao Ren say that.

Five hundred yuan was like robbing someone! Although East Ocean University clubs had the tradition of taking in “club entrance fees,” these were only minimal amounts of symbolic fees so students wouldn’t just randomly join clubs. These fees were usually below 50. However, for Hao Ren’s club, it would take 500 to get it! Who knows how much other fees you would need afterward too!

Yu Rong was the current Class President, so he believed that he knew what the students were currently into. He immediately shook his head and said, “It’s impossible! You won’t be able to get 50 people for sure! If you are able to get that amount of people, I’d walk up-side-down in front of the cafeteria!”

“Yes, yes, yes! If you are able to get over 50 people, I will do it too!” Zhou Liren jeered.

“Me too... There’s no way! How much food could you buy with 500-yuan?” Gu Jiadong said.

“Damn! All of you are going to walk up-side-down now. I’ll do it too!” Zhao Jiayi said.

They all believed that Hao Ren wouldn’t be able to get over 50 members, especially because it was such an unpopular club and had such a high membership fee!

“Only stupid people would join the club!” they thought.

Hao Ren imagined them walking up-side-down in front of the cafeteria and couldn't help but laugh.

“OK. You guys said it yourself!” Hao Ren looked at them.

“Yes, we said it ourselves!” Zhao Jiayi and the others patted their chests. “If you can't get enough people, you'd have to treat us for dinner! We want expensive stuff. We want to go to the Aroma Pavilion, and you have to reserve a room just for us!”

Around East Ocean University, the most premium restaurant was the Aroma Pavilion on the second floor of Hongji Square. Since Zhao Jiayi and the other guys only had 500 to 600 yuan each month for living expenses, the Aroma Pavilion was definitely an expensive restaurant to them.

“OK!” Hao Ren promised.

However, since he needed their help, he would treat them to the cafeteria first for sure.

“Hao Ren! What happened just now!” Just when they were heading toward the cafeteria, Xie Yujia rushed over.

She was in class when she suddenly received a text message from Ma Lina saying that Hao Ren was being beaten up in front of LingZhao Middle School. That was why she rushed out and ran to LingZhao Middle School's front gate. When she got there, she discovered that no one was there anymore. She went back to campus and saw Hao Ren and the others.

If it were before, she would be worried sick if Hao Ren was wounded. However, now she was worried that Hao Ren would hit them too hard that he'd disable or even kill the hooligans.

Now that she saw Hao Ren was well and chatting with Zhao Jiayi and the others guys while walking over to the cafeteria, she was relieved.

“I'm ok. There were just a few hooligans bullying Zi, so I went over.” Hao Ren smiled and returned the bicycle to Xie Yujia.

“Oh. Is Zi ok?” Xie Yujia hurried to ask.

“She's ok.”

“That's good.” Xie Yujia let out a sigh of relief. However, she had underestimated Zhao Yanzi.

After all, Zhao Yanzi was at mid-tier Foundation Establishment Realm, so she wouldn't be scared of a few hooligans.

“Where's Linlin and Lili?” Hao Ren asked her.

“They're resting in their dorms. They said that you for sure wouldn't need their help,” Xie Yujia said.

Hao Ren chuckled. He thought that these two girls were holding a small grudge against him. He then said, “Yes, if they are here, more students would come and inquire about the club. Maybe even too many.”

When Zhao Jiayi and the other guys heard Hao Ren say that, they all stared at Hao Ren with despise.

“You’re asking for too much! Your club won’t be popular, and you’re making newbies pay 500-yuan! It’d be already great if one or two students join!” they thought, “Who told you to pretend to be a big bad wolf! You’re for sure paying for a reserved room just for us at the Aroma Pavilion!”

Chapter 547: Money! (1.3 for 1 Chapter)

Hao Ren brought Zhao Jiayi and the other guys over to Green Hill Cafeteria by the library so that he could treat them to lunch; the bet was something separate. Hao Ren would need hard labor from his friends, so he would have to treat them to lunch.

Almost every student in the cafeteria was discussing what had just happened outside LingZhao Middle School. When they saw Hao Ren heading over, they started pointing fingers.

Hooligans surrounded Hao Ren’s little ‘cousin,’ so Hao Ren went over to save her. Then, Huang Xujie appeared with the members of the Rock-Climbing Club, and they engaged in a fight... Different versions of the story were wildly spread across the school.

Huang Xujie was one of the well-known people at East Ocean University. He was the head of the largest club in the school, the Rock-Climbing Club, and the son of a deputy mayor.

In the past half year, Hao Ren had also become the focus of other students.

After this incident, they seemed to be more connected with each other, so the students of East Ocean University had all kinds of theories. Some said that Huang Xujie was just putting on a show, pretending that he was helping Hao Ren; some said that Hao Ren was from a rich family while Huang Xujie had owed money to many people, so Hao Ren had cleared the debt for Huang Xujie; some said that Huang Xujie and Hao Ren had fought outside of school once, and Hao Ren had beaten Huang Xujie so badly that Huang Xujie was in awe of Hao Ren’s strength... When everyone focused their attention on them in the cafeteria, Zhou Liren suddenly felt very proud.

“Incredible! One of my roommates is the Captain of the National University Basketball Champion while the other one is the king of the school whom even a deputy mayor’s son needs to obey him!” he thought.

“Brother Hao, I’ve borrowed the tables and created the banners.”

Just when Hao Ren and the other guys were eating lunch, Lu Qi came over and said to Hao Ren.

“OK. Thanks.” Hao Ren looked at Lu Qi. “Did you eat lunch yet?”

“Yeah, I ate lunch already!” Lu Qi smiled and nodded. “My own club is getting ready to attract new members, so I won’t be able to help you out later.”

“It’s ok. You’re busy with your stuff.” Hao Ren smiled and said.

The students in the cafeteria would look at Hao Ren occasionally. When they saw Lu Qi standing next to Hao Ren with excellent manners as if he were reporting something to Hao Ren, they were once again in shock.

Who was Lu Qi? He was a rising star in the Go community, and even the Principal would need to show him some respect!

Many international and domestic media channels had interviewed him countless times, which was quite rare.

When talking about influence and future potential, Lu Qi far exceeded Huang Xujie. Usually, he would be immersed in the Go world and would not speak to other students at the school. Underneath his humble disguise, he was a bit haughty!

However, Lu Qi was bowing down and speaking to Hao Ren!

Lu Qi walked out of the cafeteria after talking to Hao Ren for a bit.

Zhou Liren blinked his eyes a few times and finally realized that something wasn't right. Lu Qi was the President of the Go Club, and the Go Club was the most unique club amongst all clubs at East Ocean University.

Since the Go Club had high expectations and skill requirements, it had the least number of members. It wasn't a club for those who were just slightly interested in Go; it was a professional club that maintained a high level of skill!

Hao Ren was going to start the Calligraphy Club, but the President of the Go Club had personally helped Hao Ren out. This made Zhou Liren feel like he was going to lose the bet.

"Let's go!" Hao Ren rushed out after picking up his plates.

There was still one hour before their first class in the afternoon. This was the golden time of the day to attract new members.

This was the time when there was the most number of students at the cafeteria entrance.

Since the Green Hill Cafeteria was also the central cafeteria of the school as it was connected with dorms and academic buildings, this was a spot that most students have to pass by!

The clubs, regardless of their sizes, had already started to get ready to recruit some new blood into their clubs.

Hao Ren didn't want to recruit regular students; his targets were dragon cultivators. A club was only a camouflage so that he could gather all the dragons together.

The Supervisor was Su Han while the President was Hao Ren. These two were inspectors, so they could manage the club both in the light and in the dark. All the dragon cultivators in the school probably understood the meaning of this club.

Inspectors could kill any dragons who dared to disobey them!

Su Han didn't bother with those small cultivators, so many groups and powers formed at school organically. However, Hao Ren was prepared to organize everything this time!

Yue Zilong was standing by the third-floor window of the Administrative building, and he chuckled when he saw this.

Hao Ren's way of doing things was out of his expectations. Hao Ren didn't use force to conquer all the small dragon forces at school. Instead, he created a club and used Lu Qi's influence to attract the smaller forces so that they would join on their own.

"This person is capable of a lot," Yue Zilong thought; he was very impressed by Hao Ren's performance.

The Dragon God Shrine had never lacked strong cultivators, but there weren't many that were strong and smart enough to resolve complicated situations efficiently.

"What can I reward him with... But he is the Commanding General of East Ocean... I can't make him any haughtier!" Yue Zilong thought as he looked up at the sky and suddenly sensed the demonic aura within the territory of East Ocean City.

"Zhao Jiayi! Put my banner over here! Yu Rong, help me lift the table!"

Hao Ren walked out of the cafeteria and saw that Lu Qi and his people were getting their tables and banners ready. They had set everything up outside the cafeteria.

Hao Ren started to order Zhao Jiayi and the guys to help organize.

Each year, Lu Qi would personally oversee the recruiting for the club, so he had lots of experience. He got all the stuff that they needed ready.

The advertising banner was like a retractable curtain. It was only a plastic cloth with a white background, and there were only two big words on it: Calligraphy Club.

The clubs around them were very busy. Some clubs had as little as ten people while others had dozens of people; this showed the strength of the club. There were also little pamphlets, small gifts, while some even had small quizzes. There were many different things at different tables.

At Lu Qi's Go Club, over ten members were helping. Their items were much more simplistic. They had five chess boards on a long table. Five of the strongest members were there prepared to take on any student who might come to challenge them. Only those who had enough skills were allowed to join the club.

Zhao Jiayi and the other guys helped Hao Ren move the table by the road. Then, they opened the banner and pulled over a few chairs before sitting by Hao Ren. They just waited for students to come and ask.

Xie Yujia sat behind the table and made notes.

Some clubs had just put out their displays, and many students went over to inquire. However, for Hao Ren's club, no one came after they set up their displays. It was lonely.

Some young students came over because Xie Yujia was pretty. However, when they only saw the words, Calligraphy Club, they went to other clubs' booths without saying a word.

Zhao Jiayi and the other guys were sitting beside Hao Ren. They thought it didn't look good on them. Although they wanted to make Hao Ren treat them to a big meal, it looked terrible and sad when not even one person inquired about the club.

“Gu Jiadong, pretend to be a freshman and run over to ask about the club!” Zhao Jiayi said as he nudged Gu Jiadong, who was sitting next to him.

Gu Jiadong touched his goatee and said, “I... don’t look like one!”

As expected, a tall and strong male student ran over and asked Hao Ren, “How do I join?”

“The membership fee is 500-yuan, and you must know how to use an ink brush,” Hao Ren responded.

“Oh...” The male student immediately ran away.

“Brother Ren! I really don’t know what to do with you. It was hard enough that someone came, and you scared him away!” Zhou Liren turned around and looked at Hao Ren. He sounded very disappointed as if he were the President of the Calligraphy Club.

That male student ran off and went from the back to go to the Rock-Climbing Club’s booth. He said to Huang Xujie, “Brother Huang, I pretended that I was a freshman and asked them about their club. Their membership fee is 500, and members have to know how to use an ink brush.”

“What? 500?” Huang Xujie gasped. “He wants money so badly that he has gone mad!”

Even though students wouldn’t usually sign up for these kinds of unpopular clubs, there might be one or two students who were interested in calligraphy. However, even if they were interested, a 500-yuan club membership fee would scare those students away.

“He’s such a dumbass. Don’t bother with them,” Huang Xujie said. He had just come back to school and had treated the wounds on his lower legs. He had also changed into a clean set of clothes and came to the cafeteria to organize the club’s recruiting.

When this member heard what Huang Xujie said, he pouted but didn’t say anything else.

Not long ago, Huang Xujie had fought with the hooligans for Hao Ren outside LingZhao Middle School. That was why the members of the Rock-Climbing Club thought that Huang Xujie and Hao Ren had become best friends. However, from the looks of it now, it didn’t seem that way.

The weather was slightly hot, and Zhou Liren was sweating since he had sat under the sun for over ten minutes. He leaned against the chair and looked tired as if he was going to fall asleep.

Some students came to inquire but were all scared away by the club membership fee. They thought that this club was a scam as if it was going to go out of business after collecting the money. Even though the freshmen were new to the school and somewhat naïve, they still wouldn’t get tricked by this.

“Brother Ren, stop playing around. Let’s go back and sleep.” Zhou Liren urged as he rubbed his eye.

“Um... is this the Calligraphy Club?” A girl who wore glasses and looked bookish came to their booth.

Hao Ren was immediately energized when he saw her.

Kan-level, fire-elemental!

Zhou Liren leaned against the chair. He opened his eyes to get a good look at this girl. Then, he lazily shut his eyes again. He thought, "This girl is a pretty and gentle type. She probably practiced calligraphy in elementary or middle school, so she is interested in it. However, if Hao Ren tells her that the membership fee is 500-yuan, she will for sure turnaround and run away, just like the other students before."

"Yes, the club membership fee is 500," Hao Ren responded.

"OK. I'm joining. Do I need to register?" the girl asked as she took out five 100-yuan bills from her bag.

Zhou Liren's eyes were still closed, and he was ready to hear the girl apologize and leave. When he heard what the girl said, he jumped up, and his eyeballs almost popped out.

During this moment, the money had been passed down to Xie Yujia. Xie Yujia passed a booklet and ink brush to the girl and said, "Write your name, student number, cell phone number, and also where you're from."

The girl held the small ink brush and wrote her contact information down smoothly. Her calligraphy was graceful and steady; it seemed like she had some experience.

Zhao Jiayi and the other guys were all shocked. They never thought that Hao Ren could really catch some fish.

The girl who registered smiled and walked toward the academic buildings. It seemed like she registered due to interest on her way to class.

Zhou Liren looked at that girl again and savored the moment. That girl's figure and looks were not as great as Xie Yujia but were still pretty nice.

"That freshmen just spent money so carelessly; probably from a rich family," Yu Rong exclaimed. He saw Xie Yujia putting the five 100-yuan bills into a plastic bag and thought that they had successfully baited someone.

"However, there will not be another person like this..." Yu Rong thought.

Just then, another pretty girl walked over.

This beauty was taller and hotter than the girl with glasses. She was in a black shirt, and she didn't button it up all the way. Her hair was swaying in the wind, just like a model.

Gulp! Zhou Liren swallowed a mouthful of saliva subconsciously and thought, "This beauty is not as great as Su Han, but she is hot!"

"Calligraphy Club?" This beauty walked straight in front of Hao Ren and asked.

"Yeah. The membership fee is 500." Hao Ren showed his palm.

This beauty did not hesitate at all; she took out her leather wallet and handed 500-yuan to Xie Yujia.

Xie Yujia was also a bit shocked. However, she quickly pushed the registration booklet over to the beauty.

There was already an example, so the new member had reference and didn't need to ask how to do it. She immediately wrote down her personal information.

Her writing with the ink brush was strong and free.

"We'll meet again." The beauty waved at Hao Ren and walked toward the library.

Yu Rong, Cao Ronghua, Zhou Liren, Gu Jiadong... All their mouths were slightly open.

In a moment, they got 1000-yuan?

"Are there so many students at East Ocean University who have so much money that they don't have anywhere to spend it?" they thought.

Hao Ren secretly thought to himself, "Zhen-level, earth-elemental."

They had written down the places they were from, which was actually the addresses of their dragon palaces.

"Is... your hand ok?" Xie Yujia asked as she looked over at Hao Ren's hand and saw band-aids on it.

"I'm ok"! Hao Ren looked down to look at his own hand. There were five or six cartoon band-aids, and they were eye-catching.

His hand did not actually hurt, so he guessed that the wounds had already healed. However, Hao Ren didn't want to peel off the band-aids since they represented Zhao Yanzi's care.

"Boss! Boss!" One of the male students ran toward Huang Xujie. "Two girls have already signed up for the Calligraphy Club! They even paid!"

"Two?" Huang Xujie was shocked. "There really are r*tards?"

"Two people have given Hao Ren 1000-yuan already?" he thought.

He was in charge of the Rock-Climbing Club, so he knew that the club membership fees were just profit to the club. The new members would have to pay for any new equipment or event fee out of pocket.

Even Huang Xujie was a bit jealous. He had created the Rock-Climbing Club so that he could look cool in school. Also, he wanted to earn some money while he was at it.

However, Hao Ren only made a banner with the name, Calligraphy Club, on it.

Then, he made 1000-yuan. This ability to make money was like a miracle!

"Psh! He's probably just on dumb luck. There can't be any more people joining!" Huang Xujie said as he held his fist tightly out of jealousy.

"Boss! Boss! There are more people over there!" The male student pointed.

Chapter 548: A Club Full of Beauties... (1.3 for 1 Chapter)

“Why are you standing here! Go pull people over!” Huang Xujie slapped this male student on the back of the head.

That male student instantly ran out.

The three students who were approaching from the direction of the dorms were all male, and they were quite burly. They looked like sports-loving guys, which were the target group of the Rock-Climbing Club.

They were not only similar in height but also in appearance. They should be three brothers of the same family, all studying at East Ocean University.

“Friends! Friends!” The member of the Rock-Climbing Club stopped in front of them and handed out three flyers. “Friends, look at this. This is the information about our Rock-Climbing Club. In school, our club is the most...”

“We are not going to join this club,” the guy in the lead replied in a low voice.

He returned the information to the member of the Rock-Climbing Club, and the two guys around him also returned the flyers.

“Then which club are you joining? Ours is most suitable for sporty guys. We regularly organize mountain climbing activities in the wilderness...” The member responsible for pulling people over to the booth got anxious.

“We are going to join...” These guys looked at the sign beside Hao Ren. “The Calligraphy Club.”

“Huh?” The member of the Rock-Climbing Club opened his eyes wide.

These muscular guys were not joining the Rock-Climbing Club but the Calligraphy Club!

The three guys strode across and went straight to the Calligraphy Club’s booth.

Zhou Liren, who was sitting behind the desk, was looking at the member of the Rock-Climbing Club who was taking the initiative to pull people over.

While other clubs were taking the initiative, the Calligraphy Club was simply waiting for interested members. Obviously, there would not be much ‘business’...

However, even if he were to take the initiative to pull over people, what could he do? Should he go up and say that the entrance fee was 500, the highest in the school?

Just when Zhou Liren felt that the Rock-Climbing Club was going to pull three more members, the three guys came to Hao Ren’s table.

“We are going to join the Calligraphy Club,” the guy in the lead said to Hao Ren.

Zhou Liren almost choked on his own breath when he heard that.

“500 entrance fee per person,” Xie Yujia said next to him.

Each of the three guys took out 500-yuan and put them on the table.

Yu Rong and the other guys were completely stupefied, especially the Class President Yu Rong who was responsible for all the errands in the class. Even the students in the class were not this clear-cut when they had to pay 30-yuan for the class fee. "How is this possible?" they thought.

Xie Yujia pushed the registration booklet in front of them, and the three guys picked up the ink brush in turn and wrote down their names.

"Damn! When did university students learn to write such brilliant calligraphy?" Seeing the three muscular guys, who had no problem being football goalkeepers, write such beautiful characters, Yu Rong and the other guys were even more dumbfounded.

Little did they know that when these dragon cultivators came out of the dragon palaces, they had to adapt to modern life while also having their own training programs. Writing with an ink brush was the most basic way of communication between them.

After paying 1,500-yuan, the three guys then walked to Clear Stream Cafeteria in the distance.

In the blink of an eye, five students had joined, and they handed over 2,500-yuan! What a steal!

Zhao Jiayi was utterly stunned, and Cao Ronghua was almost drooling. This was faster than working in terms of making money! Students were handing over money as if it was dirt, and Hao Ren was collecting money like nothing was going on!

If one followed the math, 50 students were 25,00-yuan! For 'poor people' like Zhao Jiayi who only had 600 to 700 yuan to spend on eating and entertainment a month, this was a considerable sum!

Not far away, Huang Xujie saw that his member had failed in pulling people over, and the three guys dropping 1500-yuan at the Calligraphy Club's booth. He was dumbfounded as well.

It could be explained that the two girls were either admiring or interested in Hao Ren, so they joined the club. But how could one explain the fact that those three guys dropped the Rock-Climbing Club and directly went to the Calligraphy Club?

"No, no! This is definitely not happening!" Huang Xujie thought as he shook his head desperately.

"Brother Huang, I can't pull them over!" The member of the Rock-Climbing Club returned to the club's booth and said, aggrieved.

"Useless!" Huang Xujie shouted but immediately settled his mind. "But I don't blame you. Those people are actors. Hao Ren must have paid them to draw everyone's attention."

"Oh! That's it! Brother Huang is clever!" The member of the Rock-Climbing Club showed an admiring expression.

"Like these kinds of clubs, no one will join unless they put on a show. That is to let the passing students see that people are joining. Only a filled name list on the registration booklet will push other students to join. These small tricks cannot fool me," Huang Xujie continued.

"Right, right, right! That's it!" The members of the Rock-Climbing Club nodded in agreement.

They saw that Hao Ren had received thousands of yuan in the blink of an eye and got a little jealous. Once they heard Huang Xujie's explanation, they all relaxed. "This must be the Calligraphy Club's self-produced tricks, and we almost fell for them," they thought.

Other clubs were also desperately trying to pull over new students, and they were all paying attention to Calligraphy Club. When they heard Huang Xujie's analysis, they believed that the Calligraphy Club was playing tricks and gradually relaxed.

It was lunchtime, and the number of students had gradually increased in the open space in front of the Green Hill Cafeteria

"Sister, over there!"

Two other girls came to Hao Ren's Calligraphy Club.

"Entrance fee is 500!" Zhou Liren shouted before they approached.

The two girls glanced at Zhou Liren, went to Hao Ren, and handed over 1,000-yuan before filling in their names on the booklet.

Zhou Liren ground his teeth, and he didn't know why these girls weren't scared away by the entrance fee. "Is it really for Hao Ren's charm?" he thought.

The female dragon cultivators had great figures and skin due to training, and the majority of the dragon cultivators in East Ocean University were females since the male cultivators who were first in line for inheritance had to cultivate in the ancestor halls and their bases.

In fact, from the perspective of these young cultivators, they would want to join an organization to obtain protection and a network in the city.

On the one hand, they had to adapt to modern life. On the other, they wanted to establish connections with other dragon cultivators.

However, no cultivator in East Ocean University had enough charisma and influence to gather all the cultivators; even the few Dui-level cultivators could not do it. This new organization allowed the young cultivators to unite and become one group.

"Brother Hao, please look after us," the two female cultivators said to Hao Ren after filling in their names.

"Haha, sure," Hao Ren said with a smile.

The two female cultivators smiled and walked into the cafeteria side by side.

Zhou Liren looked at the two beautiful girls, and he was crying inside. He was already in the third year, but he still didn't have a girlfriend.

He turned and looked at Hao Ren. In just less than half an hour, four beautiful girls already joined!

He reached for the registration booklet and saw that the first girl was in first-year, the second was a fourth-year, and the two who just signed up were a first-year student and second-year student.

“A fourth-year student! Why would she join a club when she is about to graduate? What’s going on?” he thought.

“Don’t look!” Hao Ren put away the booklet in a hurry. According to Zhou Liren’s personality, he might sneakily write down the girls’ phone numbers.

However, these girls were not the kind that Zhou Liren could mess with.

“Brother Ren! Brother Ren!” Zhou Liren begged as he stuck to Hao Ren and put his fists together on his chest. “Let me join the Calligraphy Club. We are brothers, so I don’t have to pay for it, right?”

Hearing Zhou Liren’s words, Gu Jiadong and the other guys were also tempted. The Mechatronic Engineering Program didn’t have many girls, and Lu Linlin and Lu Lili obviously were not the ones who they could catch up with.

Several beautiful girls joined Hao Ren’s club in just 20 minutes; it was the perfect opportunity!

Hao Ren saw Zhou Liren’s peevis look and felt goosebumps all over his body. He immediately shook his head. “Not accepted!”

“Brother Ren...” Zhou Liren begged. “I will do your chores for free, and I will do all the errands in the club. How’s that!”

“No, no!” Hao Ren shook his head repeatedly. Seeing Zhou Liren still hanging around, he asked, “Do you know how to write with an ink brush?”

“I am very interested in calligraphy! I can practice!” Zhou Liren said with an incomparably sincere attitude.

Hao Ren rolled his eyes and ignored Zhao Liren.

At this moment, five more students came over and signed up collectively. Hao Ren recognized one of them; he was a student who wanted to pull him into the secret club before. Back then, Hao Ren was not an inspector, but now he was respected.

Twenty-five 100-yuan bills entered Xie Yujia’s bag, and there were five more members on the list.

Yu Rong and the other guys were baffled. Were they cheating them of their money?

Standing a little further, Huang Xujie looked at Hao Ren coldly and thought, “Humph! You have got quite a few extra actors! Let’s see how many more you have!”

“Boss, that is...” The member beside Huang Xujie suddenly pointed at someone in the distance.

They saw a thin and tall guy going to Hao Ren’s desk, handing over 500 yuan, and then signing on Hao Ren’s booklet.

“Xu Minglin...” Huang Xujie opened his eyes wide.

There were two clubs in school which were qualified to take students into the wild. One was Huang Xujie’s Rock-Climbing Club, and the other was Xu Minglin’s Camping Club.

This Xu Minglin was a very remarkable person; it was said that he had practiced martial arts. He looked thin, but he could cut six red bricks with an empty hand, and Huang Xujie once saw Xu Minglin punching a hole in a big tree.

Why would such a character join Hao Ren's Calligraphy Club?

At this moment, a dozen more students lined up to join Hao Ren's Calligraphy Club!

Just when other clubs had to take the initiative to pull over students to their booth, Hao Ren's simple table setup called for a long line!

An entrance fee of 500-yuan... These students did not even flinch!

Xie Yujia's bag which was for collecting money soon packed up!

"Brother Huang! Brother!" A member of the Rock-Climbing Club ran over. "Xu Minglin disbanded the Camping Club and brought all the members over to the Calligraphy Club!"

"What!" Huang Xujie was so surprised that his opened mouth could fit two eggs.

He took a closer look. Weren't those who lined up members of the Camping Club?

Further away, some students were walking over, some were approaching by bicycle, and some in small cars. Their goal was to join Hao Ren's Calligraphy Club!

First-year, second-year, third-year, fourth-year, and even graduate students were coming to join Hao Ren's Calligraphy Club!

Many students in line were well-known figures in the school, such as the Director of the School Radio Station, the Vice-Chairman of the Student's Council, a fourth-year student who ran a flower shop near the school... In the blink of an eye, the number of people who signed up broke through 50!

Zhao Jiayi and the other guys stood up in vain and hid in the cafeteria. Although they were willing to gamble and lose, walking up-side-down in front of the cafeteria was still too shameful.

"Hell!" Huang Xujie saw a line of 50 to 60 people gathered in front of Hao Ren.

However, Hao Ren did not accept every student. Some of them even offered to pay the fee, but Hao Ren still did not accept!

Some students were willing to pay 500-yuan to see what the Calligraphy Club had to offer, but Hao Ren would not accept the money when he saw that the students were not dragons. After all, the decision to accept club members was the President's to make!

Each club had its criteria for selecting members; it was not free for all! If Hao Ren did not accept, there was no way around it.

This completely stupefied Huang Xujie! "How could he not accept members!" he thought.

Hao Ren's list of members soon filled two pages!

Rumble... Dark clouds suddenly gathered in the sunny sky.

All of a sudden, the sky turned dark.

A gust of wind started, and it seemed like a rainstorm was about to hit.

“Close! Close the booth!” Huang Xujie shouted.

If the rainstorm fell, the things they put on the table would be all wet. Other clubs had also collected things and went to the cafeteria to hide from the rain.

Rumble... A loud thunder cracked, and the raindrops fell quickly.

Hiding in the cafeteria, Huang Xujie was glad that this storm hit; it interrupted the Calligraphy Club’s momentum in recruiting new members!

Unexpectedly, under the sudden heavy rain, except for a few students who ran away from the line, the other students either held up umbrellas or waited in the rain.

A student in the front of the line rushed up to Hao Ren and Xie Yujia and took the initiative to hold an umbrella for them!

This dumbfounded all the club presidents who were standing in the cafeteria...

Chapter 549: The Demon... Has Appeared?

Huang Xujie never imagined that Hao Ren would have such influence. To make such a scene, even Hao Ren’s dad, Hao Zhonghua, could not achieve this effect.

Lu Qi settled the members of the Go Club in the dining hall and saw that Hao Ren was still recruiting people, so he held up a big umbrella and went out to help.

This stunned Huang Xujie and the other presidents of clubs. Lu Qi, who was a proud Go genius, would hold the umbrella for Hao Ren?

“This Hao Ren... Who is he? He could effortlessly win the hearts of many people!” they thought.

Students... 100, 200, 300... The rainstorm continued, and the students were silently counting the number of people in the line to the Calligraphy Club through the floor-to-ceiling glass walls of the cafeteria.

The Calligraphy Club’s registration table had been moved to the shelter near the entrance of the cafeteria. There were so many students sheltering in the cafeteria that there was no place to sit. Therefore, Hao Ren did not move indoors to recruit members. Instead, he sat at the entrance of the cafeteria and sheltered Xie Yujia from the rain.

The students who were looking to register lined up along the floor-to-ceiling glass walls of the cafeteria, standing under the sloped roof.

Due to the strong wind, the raindrops still hit the students despite the roof, and they were all wet waist-down.

Despite the situation, no one had given up on registering!

Xie Yujia's bag could not hold all the membership fees, so she had to change to a larger bag. Nearly 300 new members had brought in almost 150,000-yuan.

She did not care about the money, but she was secretly surprised.

"Gongzi! Gongzi!"

Lu Linlin and Lu Lili, holding two small umbrellas, appeared next to Hao Ren.

Initially, they held back from accompanying Hao Ren. But after watching TV for a while in their room, they finally couldn't help but come over to check out Hao Ren's recruiting situation.

"How come you're here in the rain?" Hao Ren saw them and smiled.

"Staying in our room was boring," Lu Linlin said as she got close to Hao Ren's ear. "Gongzi, this rain came too sudden. We sense a powerful aura nearby, and we are a little worried."

Hao Ren released his spiritual senses but sensed nothing strange. He also felt like the rainstorm came too sudden, almost without any warning.

During their little conversation, a white umbrella appeared in the rain and fog.

"Su... Su Han..." The people standing in the cafeteria were a little surprised when they saw Su Han.

Su Han generally never left her office and rarely wandered on campus, let alone in the rainstorm.

Su Han, who was wearing a white blouse and a green dress, was approaching. Her brown sandals seemed to have no trace of water, revealing her white-jade-like feet.

When they saw Su Han coming over, the students in the line moved away slightly.

These dragons reacted to Su Han not because she was beautiful like a goddess; it was because they knew Su Han was a veteran inspector and a Qian-level master, which imposed invisible pressure on them.

Su Han was holding a white umbrella, and she came over and asked Hao Ren, "How is the situation?"

"We have received more than 300 members," Hao Ren said.

"Eh," Su Han nodded. "There should be a total of about 500. This year, there are about 200 new students."

East Ocean City was a big city adjacent to the East Ocean Dragon Palace. Every year, the dragon clans sent their young generations to study in East Ocean City. This year, the East Ocean Dragon Clan had almost wiped out the West Ocean Dragon Clan, and the morale was high. Therefore, more dragon cultivators were coming to study at East Ocean University than in previous years.

Also, because of Yuhuang Mountain, the East Ocean Dragon Clan befriended a lot of forces and signed agreements with many dragon clans. Therefore, these dragon clans had sent their younger generations to train in East Ocean City, and East Ocean University, which was under Lu Qing's management, naturally became the preferred choice.

Su Han did not care about these young cultivators on the surface, but she was actually very familiar with the cultivator scene at East Ocean University.

“How can it be...”

The presidents of the clubs in the cafeteria were very surprised to see Su Han coming in in the rain. Everyone knew that the club supervisor was just an empty title, and they never interfered with club affairs.

“Who is this Hao Ren? How can he assemble so many students, have Lu Linlin and Lu Lili hold umbrellas on both sides, and get Su Han to visit personally?” A lot of questions were raised in people’s minds.

In the distance, there were still many students who were coming over.

At this moment, the rain was pouring straight down. Most of the students were looking for shelter, so this open space in front of the cafeteria had become the special recruiting venue for Hao Ren’s Calligraphy Club.

Such a scene made other clubs’ executives extremely jealous!

“Also, there is a powerful master near East Ocean University. Be careful,” Su Han reminded Hao Ren.

Hao Ren looked at Su Han and finally understood that she came over in the rain for his protection.

With the realm of Su Han and the Lu sisters, they could detect even the minor movements near East Ocean University. Although Hao Ren had the inspector’s token from the Dragon God Shrine, he could only sense the inspectors in the area. For other situations, he had to use his spiritual senses.

The rainstorm continued, and the students came one batch after another.

Although the table had been moved to the entrance of the cafeteria, blocking most of the rain, the wind blew some of the raindrops onto Xie Yujia’s body.

Xie Yujia’s hair was a little wet, and her almost translucent skin appeared extraordinarily smooth in the rain. She did not look embarrassing but very charming instead.

“I never thought that Xie Yujia could be so beautiful,” Yu Rong lamented as he stood in the cafeteria

“Su Han is more beautiful!” Zhou Liren stared at Su Han and said. The scene of Su Han standing in the pouring rain was ridiculously beautiful.

“Lu Linlin and Lu Lili are super beautiful girls,” Gu Jiadong said. The Lu sisters were playful and cute while they stood beside Hao Ren.

Most of the students took shelter from the rain in the cafeteria which was jam-packed, and some were in a long line outside the cafeteria. Between them were the floor-to-ceiling glass walls.

The clubs’ executives standing inside the cafeteria watched the students pay and leave, and they thought, “They are like automatic money printing machines. Hao Ren is simply collecting a protection fee... How could it be like this!”

Little did they know that the threshold of 500-yuan set by Hao Ren was to stop ordinary students from joining the Calligraphy Club. Hao Ren's club simply did not want regular students!

The dragon cultivators who were living in the mortal world would not be too poor no matter where they are from! Even the smallest dragon clan had accumulated a lot of wealth, which was equivalent to an aristocratic family!

Hao Ren's club was going to be the richest club in East Ocean University!

Crack!

A lightning bolt dashed down from the sky.

Suddenly, a figure appeared on the road behind the bulletin board on the west side of the cafeteria.

An oil paper umbrella and a purple wrap-around skirt.

"Hi, may I ask how to get to LingZhao Elementary School?"

The alluring voice sounded by Hao Ren's ear along with the gradually disappearing rain.

Chapter 550: Eternal Demon King

Bewitching!

When Hao Ren raised his head, this word rushed to his mind.

Wearing a Tang-style wrap-around skirt and holding an oil paper umbrella, this woman was very elegantly but had a unique charm.

However, this bewitching was not the tacky kind, but a shocking and unbelievable glamour.

It was as if the vixen goddess in ancient stories appeared in real life suddenly.

The grey rain clouds were the background of this glamorous woman, forming a stunning image.

As she slowly put away the oil paper umbrella, the rain gradually slowed down and stopped. The dark clouds parted, and the sun shone.

All the students in the cafeteria were stunned; no one had ever seen such a gorgeous woman before.

Even though Su Han was a top-tier Qian-level cultivator, she was shocked for a few seconds. Until that woman gradually approached, Su Han hurriedly put her hands in front of her and prepared for a fight.

Lu Linlin and Lu Lili whose eyes opened wide also stood by Hao Ren's sides subconsciously.

In recent years, the trend of ancient costumes was slowly reviving, but even beautiful girls couldn't compare with this woman.

"Hi, may I ask where LingZhao Elementary School is?" A bell-like, crisp voice entered Hao Ren's ear.

Hao Ren looked at her and felt like this woman should be about 30 years old, but she maintained well, looking much younger. When she waved her hand, it seemed to move energy between heaven and earth.

The figure under the wrap-around skirt was elegantly curvy, the waist was fragilely thin, and the pink neck was like white jade. If she were in ancient times, she would be like the legendary Su Daji or Bao Si.

Zhou Liren, who was just staring at Su Han, now looked at this woman through the glass wall, and he was almost suffocating. The other students were not much better.

The heavy rain just stopped, and the small square outside the cafeteria was still empty. This fascinating woman walked over slowly as if she was standing on a stage.

“Hello?” That woman walked in front of Hao Ren and called again.

“Oh!” Hao Ren reacted. “LingZhao Elementary School, why are you going there?”

This question should not have been asked, but Hao Ren saw her and instinctively felt something was wrong, so he could not help but inquire.

Xie Yujia looked at her from a close distance and was utterly shocked. Not only because this woman was glamorous, but her aura made it impossible for people around her to move.

“I am looking for my son, Zhen Congming,” she replied as she looked at Hao Ren again.

“If you are not busy, can you lead the way?”

Zhen Congming! Hao Ren’s chin twisted.

The demon king who forced a deputy shrine master of the Dragon God Shrine to show up was actually Zhen Congming’s mom!

“Oh, ok.” Hao Ren stood up. He was surprised but also worried about Zhen Congming.

Snap! Su Han’s palm suddenly buckled Hao Ren’s shoulder.

“How about... I lead the way?” Su Han looked at her and said.

“Hahaha.” The bewitching woman covered her mouth with her right hand as she laughed, “I want him to lead the way.”

Her charm almost froze all the male students in the cafeteria.

“Sister Su, don’t make me angry.” The woman looked at Su Han and gradually squinted her eyes.

Su Han clenched her teeth. She wanted to say something but was suddenly pushed back by a couple of steps by an invisible force, and her hand let go of Hao Ren’s shoulder.

Eternal Demon King!

One of the most powerful demon kings among the big demon kings!

There was no fight at all. In just a glance, Su Han was pushed back. Su Han who had never been afraid now shivered slightly.

“When demon king appears, the world will be destroyed!” This was a saying from ancient times.

Whenever a demon king came out, the world would be turned into chaos! A little demon king could destroy half an ancient empire, and a big demon king could overturn the world and a dynasty!

Even Su Han could not imagine the concept of an Eternal Demon King!

Since ancient times, the cultivation sects had been fighting each other, but they all had a common goal, which was to kill the demon kings and get back control of the Demon Sea!

There had been several major wars between the cultivation sects and the Demon Sea, so the outskirts of the Demon Sea were ancient battlefields! The Sky-Breaking Bow which Hao Ren picked up from the Demon Sea was a lost dharma treasure of an ancient cultivator.

“I will go with you,” Hao Ren pushed the table away, stood up, and said.

“Thank you,” the woman said with a smile.

This soft voice almost made the students in the cafeteria swoon. These young dragon cultivators outside the cafeteria were impacted quite hard as well.

However, seeing Su Han’s alerted expression, they knew that this woman was not simple. They tried to stay vigilant.

“Yujia, please take over from here.” Hao Ren turned and said to Xie Yujia.

Xie Yujia looked at Hao Ren with concern but did not know what to do.

“Gongzi...” Lu Linlin and Lu Lili moved a few steps forward and wanted to follow Hao Ren, but they heard Hao Ren say to them, “Stay here and help Yujia.”

Hao Ren walked forward, and the woman smiled and followed Hao Ren to the main entrance of East Ocean University.

Her body swayed a little, and even her shadow in the sun was very graceful. As she left, the pressure on the students in and out the cafeteria was suddenly lifted.

The woman who suddenly appeared was too enchanting that they forgot to take photos with their phones.

“If there are any problems, call me through the token,” Su Han’s cold voice appeared in Hao Ren’s mind.

“Understood,” Hao Ren answered her through the token.

Su Han always acted as if Hao Ren owed her money, but she cared about Hao Ren.

“How long has Zhen Congming been living in your home?” the woman asked.

He moved slowly in the wrap-around skirt, and the water stains on the ground spread out automatically. Wherever she went, the flowers on both sides of the road that had been hit by heavy rain burst open with fragrance.

If it weren't for her bewitching style, Hao Ren would have thought that she was a goddess. It seemed that heaven and earth were moved by her.

Hao Ren thought that it was fortunately since the students had not come out yet. Otherwise, they would be surprised to see the flowers blooming in an instant.

"Probably one to two months," Hao Ren thought about it and said.

"I see." The woman nodded slightly. "I have not left the Demon Sea for more than 300 years, so it took me a few days to get used to land. However, I got the kids of the Dragon God Shrine worried."

Her voice was soft and very pleasing to the ear.

Her gazes were so powerful that the fishes scrambled in the lake when she looked at them, and the cicadas went silent one by one as she looked over.

It seemed like everything in the world was afraid of Zhen Congming's mom. The flowers bloomed at her will, and the creatures in the area didn't dare to make noise.

"This purple gold hairpin is our meeting gift." She lifted her hand and took out a golden hairpin from her hair and handed it to Hao Ren.

Hao Ren paused for a second. He didn't think much and took the purple gold hairpin.

After receiving this gift from Zhen Congming's mom, Hao Ren felt she was not malicious since she was acting like an elderly.

"Thank you, Auntie." Hao Ren put the purple gold hairpin into his necklace. So far, he did not feel the special features of this ornament.

"Hahaha..." She laughed and said. "Auntie? Okay, you can call me, auntie."

When she began cultivating, even Qin Shihuang¹ was not born yet, and the Shrine Master of the Dragon God Shrine was only a small baby in her eyes, but Hao Ren actually called her, Auntie.

"Does Zhen Congming behave on land?" she asked.

"Congming..." Hao Ren hesitated for a few seconds. "He's alright."

Since Zhen Congming's mom suddenly appeared, he was not mentally prepared, and he did not know what kind of personality she had. So, he could not answer at will.

"Auntie, what is your name?" Hao Ren took her to the main entrance of East Ocean University and asked her.

"Name?" She thought for a moment and replied, "You can call me Mrs. Hong or Lady Zhen."

"Okay, Auntie," Hao Ren said.

He did not change how he addressed her and still called her auntie; this made her feel more intimate.

She glanced at Hao Ren and thought that Hao Ren was more likable than Zhen Congming. Although Zhen Congming was her child, he was very disobedient. Otherwise, she would not have handed him over to Qiu Niu as a discipline.

They crossed the main entrance of East Ocean University and went to LingZhao Elementary School, which was next to LingZhao Middle School.

LingZhao Elementary School was preparing to start school half a day later than LingZhao Middle School. There were rows of cars parked at the entrance, and those parents were sending their children to school.

The sudden appearance of Lady Zhen attracted the attention of all the males. These dads had never seen such a beautiful woman before, and they simply wondered if they were witnessing an ancient painting that was moving.

“You... are a parent of which student?” The female teacher who was responsible for welcoming the parents was surprised by the beauty of Lady Zhen. She forced herself to stop Hao Ren and Lady Zhen and asked.

“I am the mother of Zhen Congming who is in Grade Four, Class Two,” she replied.

“Okay, the parent-teacher meeting will be in Building A!” The female teacher pointed to a white building inside the campus.

Lady Zhen faintly smiled and walked into the school. This smile almost disoriented the female teacher.

“Little guy, you are Hao Ren, right? Once I have seen Zhen Congming, I will go back soon.” Lady Zhen turned and smiled before waving at Hao Ren.

Hao Ren could still maintain his state of mind, but the male parents who were about to enter the school were all dizzy and wobbly.

Lady Zhen walked toward Building A, and the white flower petals flew up from the floor beds around her; it was extremely beautiful.

Hao Ren stood at the gate of LingZhao Elementary School. Although the heavy rain soaked his clothes, he had been wet from his sweat.

As Lady Zhen gradually entered Building A, the pressure on Hao Ren gradually reduced.

There was no such pressure even when facing Old Grandma who was a Soul Formation Realm master!

“Are you okay...” Su Han’s voice rang in Hao Ren’s mind.

“I’m fine,” Hao Ren wiped his sweat and replied.

“Hehe, your realm is too low, and you should go back to work. I will come back to test you later.”

The voice of Lady Zhen sounded in the middle of their conversation.
