

Chapter 39

Maxine

It's been a week since I woke up in this place, Drake comes everyday to change my bandage, Hank usually brings my meals, I haven't step foot out of this room,

Hank has brought me some books to help occupied my time, This week I've gotten to know Hank a little more, He's not as bad as I thought, Even though he held a knife to Dexter father I come to understand he didn't do it willingly,

I'm currently sitting by the window,

The room had a big window on the far wall, but it had bars on the outside,

Drake made sure to tell me the window is shatter proof,

Like I really try going out the window, The room is about three story's high,

Along the window was a wooden bench it was lined with cushions and pillows, It made a good place to sit and read,

I'm sitting now reading one of the books Hank brought me, I hear the door being open, Looking up from my book I see Drake coming in,

He walks over grabbing the little box from the stand, He then comes to where I'm sitting taking a seat next to me,

I don't say much to him,

I've been trying to figure a way to get out of what he has planned,

The thought of doing anything with him makes me feel sick to my stomach,

He reaches out taking the book from my hands, He tosses it to the side,

He seems agitated,
Wonder what's going on for him to be like that,
Should I ask him,
I don't want him to think I'm starting like the idea of him,
He opens the box taking out what he needs laying it on the bench next to him,
He gets up kneeling in front of me,
He grabs my chin tilting my head to the side,
Slowly he starts to take the bandage off,
But I noticed he seems to have a off look to him,
"I have to leave for awhile, I hear him say,
I don't say anything back I just keep my head tilted so he could continue changing the bandage,
"I'll be gone for about a month,
That caught my attention,
I snapped my head to look at him,
"Your just gonna leave me here? I blurt out,
"You won't be alone Maxine, Hank will be staying along with the house staff,
He tips my chin to the side to finish pulling the tape off my neck,
He leans in closer looking at my wound,
"This is almost healed, I'll put a new bandage on it today, starting tomorrow it can stay open,
I just nod my head,

"Why are you leaving? I asked,

"There's something I need to attend to, But as soon as I'm back we are doing the claiming,

I feel my heart pick up a bit, I hated the thought of it, I just close my eyes pushing the sick feeling back down,

He finishes what he's doing, putting everything back in the little box,

He stays kneeling in front of me, He pushes my knees apart sliding his body in between my legs,

He straighten up so that he's eye level with me,

His hands are rested on the bench by my legs,

"I know you're afraid of the claiming, I can smell your fear every time I mention it, It won't be as bad as you think,

I snap my eyes open,

He lifts his hand to my face, He pushes a strand of hair behind my ear,

Taking his fingers running them down my cheek,

I feel my skin crawl every time he touches me, I shut my eyes again, Feeling my stomach start to turn,

He leans in closer to me I can feel his breath on my face, I don't open my eyes, I don't want to see his face,

"Once I place my mark on you, You won't be able to deny me,

He runs his nose along my jaw,

"When I touch you, You will enjoy it then you will crave it,

He slides his hand to cover my cheek, His other hand snakes around my back, Pulling me forward so I was pressed against him,

My breathing starts to become heavier, My heart is beating so fast,

He then leans down to my neck, I can feel his lips placing light kisses,

I swallow lightly, What was he doing!

"Please stop,,,

I managed to get out,

Feeling him smile against my neck, Picking his head up,

"Look at me Maxine, I don't I just keep my eyes shut,

"Look at me! He says a little harsher,

I quickly open them, He's so close to me, Trying to lean back some, he just tightens his hold pulling me closer, Placing my hands on his chest,

"Do I make you nervous Maxine,, I can feel you hear beat, Your breathing is heavy, Do you like my touch?

"Don't please, I whispered,

"Why Maxine, You afraid you may like it,

I shake my head I can feel the tears building,

"Won't you give me a small taste, I'm going to be gone for awhile, I think I may need something to hold me over,,

With hearing those words I couldn't help the panic starting to rise, I try to push against his chest, But it was no use he didn't budge, He just stayed there looking at me,

What was he going to do,

I see a smug smile appear on his face,

" Maxine, I do believe I've learnt a new thing about you,

My panic started to turn to anger, I don't know if it was his words or that look on his face, I need to get out of his hold before he can do anything,

I mustard up all the strength I had, With one hard shove to his chest I was able to knock him backwards,

He wasn't expecting it, He let go of me trying to catch himself, But he needed up falling on his back,

I quickly shot up, Jumping pass him I ran to the door, Grabbing the knob only to find it was locked, Dam it,,

I hear him laughing,

Turning around I see he's up on his feet already,

He staring at me like he wants to murder me,

Looking around the room for anything that would help me, But there was nothing,

He starts taking steps towards me,

"Where did you think you were going, Did you think you would be able to get away from me?

I keep scanning the room, I needed to get away from him, I lock my eyes on the bathroom, I just needed to get there I could lock myself in there till he left,

Looking back to him he's gotten a little closer, The way he was stalking towards me, It was like a predator stalking it's prey,

Taking a deep breath, I get ready to make my move, I straightened my stance I know I can't knock him out but I can at least delay him a few minutes so I can get away from him,

"What ever your think, I advise you to rethink it, He says while still coming towards me.

This is why I wanted to be trained, Jon had taught me alot in the last six months, I was not going to feel helpless again.

I lift my hands taking my fight stance,

He is about a foot away from me,

Stopping he just stares at me, I see a smile come to his face, His eyes have turned yellow,

I just need one good hit, I can do this,

He launched himself at me, I quickly pick my leg up delivering a hard kick to his stomach,

Letting out a groan, Falling to his knees, Now's my chance, Jumping to the side I make a dash towards the bathroom,

I feel a hand grab my ankle, Pulling it to the side causing me to trip,

I stick my hands out in front to brace myself so I don't hit my face, I'm suddenly flipped on my back, Looking to my feet I see Drake has my ankles,

He starts to pull me to him, I start to thrash around I managed to get one leg free,

I pull my leg up towards my chest, I let it fly back towards him kicking him right in his face, His head snapped backwards as he flew back crashing into the wall,

I quickly scrambled to my feet trying to get my balance, I take two steps when arms come around me pulling me backwards against a body,

My body is lifted into the air, My feet are no longer touching the floor,

I start to wiggle I'm swinging legs along with my arms,

He walks forwards throwing me on the bed, I bounced rolling over I tried to go off the other side, But I was grabbed,

Drake flipped me on my back, He laid his body on top of me, His weight made it so I couldn't barely move,

He grabbed my wrist pinning them about my head, I try to pick my knee up but he jammed his knees between my legs,

Laying his body between them pressing himself against me,

"Let me go! I shouted at him,

He just chuckled, "My you are a fiery one, I like that,

He rubs against me, I can feel his harden man hood through his pants,

I feel that sickening feeling start in my stomach,

"Stop It!! I yelled again by my voice cracked this time, Tears where starting to roll down my cheeks,

"I think I may just have to have you before I leave, Your little fight has stirred something in me,

He leans down starting to suck on my neck, I can feel his teeth scrapping along my skin,

I'm now full on crying, He's going to take me forcefully,

"Please don't, I cry out, hoping he would stop,

He lift his head from my neck, He looks down at me his eyes are still yellow,

Suddenly he slams his lips down on mine, It was rough and hard, He kept biting my lip,

He puts both my wrist in one hand, he bring the other down grabbing one of my breast, He Gave it a hard squeeze,

It hurt causing me to gasp a little which caused me to part my lips,

He took that as a advantage he plunged his tongue straight into my mouth,

The tears just rolled down my cheeks, This was it I'm going to loose my virginity to this monster,
