

Chapter 45

Brenda

"Let me out of here!! I yelled for the thousand times since I've been here, Dexter had some warriors bring me to a neighboring flock,

"Do you people know who I am! You will be sorry for keeping me locked in here!

The guard outside my door just ignored my yelling, I stomp back over to the what they call a bed, Throwing myself down with a huff,

I've been here for a week now, All the yelling I've been doing I thought they get tired of hearing me, I had no way of getting word to my father or any of the other hunters,

I was able to get a message to Drake about me being locked in the dungeon, Dexter don't know I had a person inside, When the moved me here there was only two guards who knew of me leaving, Them two have been staying here,

I wonder where Drake is, My person told me he was coming, But I got moved before I heard anything else,

I remember when i went to see Drake, I wanted his help to get to Dexter, He of course knew who Maxine was, He had no problem taking her to get her out of the picture,

He also had no issue in telling me he didn't want me for his mate, Even though we are mates I don't like him, He's a power hungry jerk, My father was mad at me he had stop talking to me when he found out I wanted to be with Dexter,

I tried explaining that I love him, But he didn't want to hear it,

Dad has a agreement with Drake, Dad helps him take down different flocks to gain power for his own, Drake in returns offers my father's men protection along with training,

The night we crashed Jon's car Drake told me not to go there to the wreck, He said Dexter would be able to pick my smell up, He order Hank to take her,

I know he uses Hank for a lot of those kinda jobs, Hank can be a hard person to take down,

As I lay here lost in my thoughts, The cell door clicks sliding open, I sit up looking to the door,

In walks four older guys, "Miss Brenda, One of them say to me, I just raise my eye brows at them, "Forgive me, He says " Let me introduce myself, "I'm Chief Elder Davison, He does a small bow, "These men here, He points to the other three, "They are all council members,

I look at the other three men, then looking back to the one who was talking, "Well I guess I should explain as to why we are here, He says as he walks father in the cell, the other guys stay where they were,

"We are here because we had be informed that you were part of the plan on kidnapping the princes mate, as well as trying to force marriage to him, you and your mate Drake Holland, He stops walking turning to face me, "We also know who your father is, He has done some major crimes against us dragons,

He has put his hands behind his back as he stands there staring at me, "So what do you want with me? I'm human, I don't abide by your ruling, I spit out at him,

He just smiles, "That is true you are human, But you see you are also a hunter, It's our job to handle any and all cases where the royal family are involved, You my dear have committed a crime against the royal family, You will be leaving with us today, You will be put on trial as the council decides your fate,

Dexter

It has been a week since Max has been back, The fist two days was alittle hard, She kept having nightmares where Drake was forcing himself on her,

She only wanted to stay one night in my room then return to her room, But with these nightmares she been staying with me every night, When she gets them it's my touch that can calm her,

I feel the pain every time she has them, If I hadn't left her she wouldn't have been mad enough to leave the palace that day, They never would have taken her,

We have talked about me leaving and why I did, I can't apologize enough for that but we have been trying to work pass it,

I had contacted the council letting them know of Brenda, I also told them about Drake they said they would handle it with Brenda but we were free of choice on choosing Drake's punishment,

I personally wanted to end his life, My father thinks we should use him to draw his other men out along with the hunters,

So here we are in my office trying to hash out how to find his men, "I say screw it take the warriors go to that house and just rip through it, Jon says throwing himself in the one chair,

My father just gives him a look, " We can't do that Jon, We don't even know if they are still there, Dad says to Jon,

"He's right, Hank says "Drake men have probably fled from there, once he didn't return, Jon just looks at Hank, Jon still hasn't let his guard down with Hank he still isn't sure of him yet, "Well we don't really have another option, Jon says

"What about Cole, I say to them, "What about him? Jon asked,

"We could use him to start rumors, that will get the hunters moving, Once they start you know Drake's men will follow, I explain out,

"That could work, This time it was dad who spoke up, "We just need to figure out how and what to do to get him to bite,

"The last time he found Dexter in town," Jon says, "He looks to me. Maybe we should make an appearance that will get him to come out of hiding."

"Yes! That is a great idea, Dad's says as he stands up, I hold my hands up, "Hang on, Are you guys thinking like a appearance like Max and myself, I say looking between Jon and my father,

"Yeah! They say at the same time, I shake my head, "No! absolutely not, I'm not risking her by parading her around town,

"Dexter, We will have men following, Dad says to me, "Plus I think Hank so be with you guys that way when Cole see all three of you he will tell Drake's men, Dad explains,

"Dad, I don't know, I say looking at the papers laying all over my desk, "I'm okay with it, Hank says" But no Lily, Please she been through to much at her age,

My father nods his head, "That's fine Hank, All we need is for Cole to see you with Dexter and Maxine, He will go back telling what he saw, It will get the ball rolling,

There's a knock on the door, "Come in, I yelled, The door opens in walks Max with my mother,

"Oh good! my father says, "Just the one person we needed to see, He says smiling at Max,

She stops dead, Looking between all of us, "Dad! I yelled at him, I go over to her I reach out taking her hand, I place a soft kiss on it, She gives me a small smile,

"Are we interrupting something? She asked, "No we were just going over plans to find Drake's men and the hunters that have been working with him, I tell her,

She nods her head, "What is your father talking about? She asked while looking pass me to my father,

"Nothing, Here come sit, I take her hand leading her to my chair, I hold the back while I gesture for her to sit,

She sits down looking around,

"Is there something I can do to help? she asked, I see my father get the biggest smile,

Dam it! I thought to my self, "Well sure my dear! My father chimes right in, He begins explaining all we talked about, She listen carefully noddng so often to something he said, When he was all done she leaned back in the chair,

"Okay, She says "I'll help, I'll go around with you two,