

Chapter 49

Dexter

With those words I pulled Max behind me Jon steps closer to me blocking her from his sight, she so short and small with the two of us standing in front of her no one can see her,

"You will not have her, now leave!"

I growl at him, He just smirks

"Not without her, I didn't come all this way to leave empty handed, so you can hand her over do things the easy way or I forcefully take her,"

My father steps in front of me, "Who are you to come here giving orders, this is my territory, your nothing more than a hunter looking to get his men killed,"

"I'm here on a request, my employer has made it clear to not return without her, seeing how him had my daughter taken away I was more than happy to come for his mate," He spits out at us,

I feel Max grab the back of my shirt, she has pressed herself against my back, I glance over my shoulder she has her face buried in my shirt,

"Who is your employer?" My father asked him, "Well that's information I cannot share with you," he tells us,

"Jon," I called in my head, "Get me a distraction I'll get Max back to the palace," I hear him say back,

This is why he's my right-hand person he already knew what I wanted him to do,

"I need to let dad knows, then we will make one get her there fast as you can,

"Got it" He replies back, I quickly call my father, "Dad" We need to get Max out of here, we need a distraction,"

He doesn't say anything back but I see him hand move I look down seeing him giving me a thumbs up, Good he knows,

I look at Jon he nods his head stepping behind Max,

I feel her lift her head looking at Jon,

"Max when they make a distraction, I'll grab your hand I'm gonna get you out of here," I hear him whisper to her,

She lets go of my shirt I know she getting ready to go with Jon,

"What are you planning to do? Attack us!"

"You are nothing more the human how, do you plan to take out all of us dragons!"

My father bellows out, He's becoming angrier as this goes on, I haven't said much, I'm making sure Max is covered and she will be getting back safely,

"If that what it takes! Then yes, we will attack, I've already told you I'm not leaving empty handed," He snaps back at my father,

I see his men starting to move slowly they are fanning out from how they were standing, our men notice as well they start to spread out as well,

I know the fight will break out in a few minutes, both my father and him are becoming more louder, I haven't moved I still standing in front of her,

"I'll warn you one more time, Leave now!"

I hear my father yell out, looking to Brenda father he just shakes his head no, "That's not an option," he says he looks to his right giving a nod, He waves his hand in the air his men launch themselves at our warriors,

"Jon go!" I yelled out, He grabs Max taking off away from the fight

Two guys came straight at us, One goes to hit me I dodge him, The other guy got a kick in he hit me in my side not enough to knock me down, Spinning around I get him in a head lock, He's struggling to get loose with a quick twist I hear his neck snap, Just as I drop him to the ground another guy comes at me, fighting him off I hear her, "Dexter!"

I look over seeing two guys are fighting with Jon as another is trying to pull her with him,

"Max," I call her, I start fighting my way to her, striking down anyone who got in my way, I wasn't going to let someone take her again, Just as I'm about to her I hear Jon,

"Fight Max! I didn't teach you for six months for you to give up!" He yells at her while fighting off the guys,

I see her look change from someone who is panicked to someone who was focused, She break loose from his grip She holds her hands up striking him right in the face taking a few steps back grabbing his nose, He don't even get to steady himself she comes at him again landing a kick hard to his stomach, Dropping to his knees she's comes up grabbing the back of his head smashing his face against her knee, That was it he was out cold,

She stood there looking at him lying there,

I was shocked to see her fighting, But I knew if Jon trained her, she would know how to defend herself,

I quickly make my way over grabbing her arm I must have startled her cause she spun around aiming to hit me,

"Max it's just me," She drops here hands launching herself into my arms, I need to help Jon so you guys can get out of here, letting go I go towards Jon grabbing the one guy throwing him down, While Jon knocks the other out,

"Get her out of here!" I tell him, He nods running to Max grabbing her, she looks to me with a worried look, "Go" I mouthed to her, she nods quick then let's Jon pull her away,

I watched as they go out of sight when I was hit from the side, rolling a few times I look up to see Brenda's father standing there, I jump to my feet,

We exchange hits back and forth for a human he had stamina, but he was getting tired quick,

We both circling each other trying to find one another weak spots, we are both bloody,

"Give up," I grit out to him, "Ha never, you caused my daughter to be taken away," He spits back,

He steps forward swinging I side step landing a hit to his jaw, He seemed daze taking a few steps sideways, He looks at me spitting blood out onto the ground,

Standing straight he runs at me trying to tackle me down, He rams his shoulder right into my stomach, I'm a lot larger than him, I grab him around his waist flipping him over me, I hear a thud along with a loud snap,

Turning around I seen him laying lifeless on the ground his head turn back,

I look around seeing some of his men stopping staring at their dead leader,

"It's over seized your fighting," I yell out to them,

They all stop fighting our warrior's start gathering them in a group, I look around for my father I see him standing with a few warriors, walking over to him, "Are you already?" I asked him, He had some scratches but nothing serious,

"I'm fine, how about you?" He looks at me, "I'm alright"

"Sir" We hear one of our warrior's, we both turn looking at him, "Yes Mark," My father says to him, "We are putting them all in the dungeon?"

"Yes," I speak up, "But make sure one cell remains open," " Yes Sir," Turning he goes back over to the group of men that are now tied together, He starts pulling them,

"Do you think he was working for Drake?" Dad asked as we start to walk back towards the house,

"I'm not sure but I don't want to rule anything out just yet," He nods his head,

We step out the tree line into the back yard I see Max is standing there by the back patio with Jon,

She spots me, "Dexter!" she calls out while running to me, I pick my pace up I scoop her up as she jumps in my arms wrapping her arms around my neck,

"I was worried," She mumbles in my neck,

"No need to little one I'm right here," I say kissing her shoulder,

"Are you alright my dear?" My father asked he was suddenly next to us,

"Charles," she says letting go of me to hug my dad, I hear him chuckle,

"Just like my wife always worrying," He says as she lets go of him, "Speaking of my wife let me go find her before she goes off on someone looking for me,"

He pats my shoulder then nodding to Jon he heads for the door going in, I wrap my arm around her pulling her against my side,

Looking at Jon "We need to get a plan going on finding Drake," "Yes, I agree, you think he was part of this?" He asked,

"I do, He's the only one that comes to mind, No one else knows of Max,"

"What do you want to do?" I glance down at her she is looking up at me, "Let's contact the elders someone has to have information on Red Dragons,"
