

Chapter 81

Dexter

I stood frozen staring at the sky. She let him take her she didn't even try to get away from him.

My heart skipped a beat when I heard her voice in my head.

She believed me she believed I wasn't with Brenda but she still let him take her why would she I felt numb I couldn't do anything I couldn't even make my body move.

Jon and Hank rushed to my side.

"Dexter don't just stand there do something why you let him leave with her!" Jon yells at me but I couldn't say anything back this is the second time he's flew off with my mate.

Just then I hear her sweet voice in my head.

"Dexter,"

"Max!" I call her name.

"Dexter listen there's not much time, Drake don't know I can shift but you need to find us I can't fight him alone I'm not strong enough but I can wound him enough to let me go,"

I cut her off. "Max hold on I'm coming don't do anything till I tell you!"

I shift right there taking off into the sky I didn't even say anything to Jon and Hank but then knew to follow me.

"Dexter what's the plan?" Jon asked once they caught up to me.

"It's Max, she linked me we have a plan but I need to find them,"

"And the plan being what exactly?" He asked not sure what was gonna happen.

"She can shift but he's too strong for her to fight alone she's gonna wound him so he lets go then I'm going to kill him once and for all,"

"Alright man," Was all he said he's been with me long enough he knows to just follow my lead.

Few minutes later I see Drake dragon ahead of me I knew I couldn't get any closer or he would pick up on my presents.

I call her through the link. "Max I'm behind Drake,"

She didn't answer me but suddenly there was a loud roar of pain that ripped through the sky. Drake started to become unsteady.

"Max what's going on!" I yell through the link. But got nothing in return.

"Max!"

I call again.

"Dexter he won't let go!" She yells through the link.

"Hold on," I call back to her. I fly above Drake I dive straight for him coming down on his back I sink my claws in his back causing him to growl. I bite his neck he's keeps trying to shake me off. I let go dropping under him I see Max she has her claws stuck in him.

Drake roared louder then I notice something dripping I get a faint whiff it was blood his blood.

He makes a move he ducks off to the side trying to get away from me but he still doesn't let her go.

"Max stab him again!" I tell her as I try to get in front of him. Once I got ahead of him, I turn myself so I'm flying straight at him.

"Max again," I see her swinging her arms she's trying everything possible to get him to let go.

We collided both of us snapping at each other just one good bit I can rip his throat out. He stretches his head back sucking in air oh no you don't I thought to myself before he could breathe out his fire, I reached out biting his neck.

I sunk my teeth deep in his neck I could taste blood I knew I had him.

I hear Max let out a scream it caused me to loosen my hold then I felt a sharp pain on my shoulder. He had caught me with one of his claws. I let go of him he managed to push himself away from me he suddenly blew fire at making me duck off to the side.

Just as I turned to go at him again, I see Jon he was on Drake's back blowing his fire on him the smell of flesh burning filled the air Drake roared but wasn't able to get away from him.

I could hear Max screaming the amount of heat that comes from our fire I'm sure she could feel how hot it was one wrong move from Drake or Jon she could be burnt.

"Jon he still has Max!" I yell to him he stops letting go of Drake as soon as he lets go of him Drake drops Max.

My heart sank,

"Max!" I make a dive for her picking up my pace trying to reach her before she hits the ground but to my surprise, she shifted midair.

She was absolutely beautiful she was a deep red dragon with black mixed in she was a little smaller than me by the looks but she was gorgeous.

I forgot about Drake when I see her dragon but then Jon called for me through the link.

"Dexter Drake's down!"

It snapped me out of my thoughts I looked back to him seeing him circling an area turning back towards him I linked Hank.

"Hank take Max to a safe place stay with her till I get there,"

"Yes sir,"

I quickly link her

"Max find Hank go with him to a safe place I will come to you then,"

"No Dexter, I'm not leaving you we will finish this together!" She all but growled at me.

I look down seeing Drake in a field, he didn't shift back to his human form.

Jon and myself slowly make our way to the ground we stayed in our dragon form we could protect our self-better this way.

"Max please you need to be away from here,"

"No!" Was all she said then I felt the air change hearing a small gust of wind followed by a thud behind me I looked over my back I see her dragon standing there. It took everything I had not turn around and go to her. I couldn't help but love how she looked in her dragon.

"Dexter focus," She scolded me.

"Hank," was all I said he dropped down between use and Max blocking her.

I heard a growl knowing it was her. She didn't like that.

Looking back to Drake he stood up His back was burnt badly he had two bites on his neck then I noticed the blood running down his front. Dam Max got him good.

I could see he was fighting to stand he was losing a lot of blood which would cause him to shift back.

Sure, enough his body started to change going back to his human form. When he was completely shifted back, he laid there naked on the ground I could see his wounds a little better he had deep gashes across his chest as well as his stomach.

His throat was bleeding bad from my bits I couldn't see his back he was laying flat on the ground.

He would start to heal soon but not fast enough.

Sending Jon a quickly link to stay in his dragon form. I shifted to my human form I walk slowly over to Drake he let out a low growl. Kneeling down next to him looking down at him. I couldn't help the smirk that appeared on my face.

"You think you won! Mark my words there will be others that will come for her I will not be the last,"

"I will be ready, I've told you and I will tell others she is MINE, No one will have her!"

Before he could say another word, I sunk my claws in his chest. He gasped grabbing my arm his eyes wide.

"You loose,"

I watched as the last of his life left his body.
