

Chapter 85

Maxine

It's been a month since Laura was injured. Dexter along with Charles had her moved to our clinic here where Dr Martin could take over her care.

When we had her moved, she was extremely weak they gave her the blood transfusion at the hospital of course Dexter blood was a match even giving her his blood it didn't seem to help her.

After two weeks Charles decided to have her moved she needed to have someone who knew about her to treat her.

Dr Martin said her dragon became so weak that's why she's not healing as fast.

It has started to take a toll on Charles he stays by her side day and night

Dr Martin has even given her blood from Charles just the same as Dexter did for me mates blood can heal each other. Of course, we couldn't do this at the hospital there was no way to explain it to them.

Dexter has taken over all his father's duties along with the help of Jon and Hank,

I've spoken to Dr Martin about giving her my blood I'm to have this power but he keeps pushing it off so doesn't Dexter and Charles they keeping saying it's not safe with me being pregnant. So, I have contacted Elder Fran for help. She is to be coming here today I'm hoping she can help I need to do something she's laying in that bed because I couldn't face Drake Dexter along with everyone has been treating me like I'm glass can't do anything without them hovering over me.

Dexter has become super over protective he doesn't let anyone near me except for Jon Hank and Dr Martin, He even growled at his own father for hugging me the other day when we stopped to see Laura.

I know it's just his dragon,

When he's not able to be with me he has poor Hank go with me like he doesn't have enough of his own things to do.

"Max! I have to head down you almost done?"

"Yes, go ahead down I'll get dressed and come down,"

"You sure? I'll wait,"

"I'm fine go ahead I'll only be ten minutes,"

"Alright love,"

Shutting the water off opening the shower door grabbing a towel I wrap my hair up then get myself dried off. I've found a warm shower in the morning helps with the nausea when I first wake up.

Once I'm dressed, I head down stairs I dread breakfast the different smells do not help with this morning sickness. I head for Dexter's small office he still using that one he refuses to use his dad's he says his dad is still the king and until he steps down, he will not use his office.

Reaching his door giving it a knock I hear him call to come in.

Pushing the door open I see him sitting at his desk he's focused on the paperwork Jon is sitting across from him looking at his own stack of papers.

Dexter looks up at me giving me a soft smile.

Walking around he pushes his chair back opening his arm gesturing for me to sit on his lap. Sitting down he instantly places a hand on my stomach.

"How's my two favorites this morning?"

"Good," Placing a kiss to his cheek.

"You ready for breakfast love,"

Letting out a small groan, "Not really,"

"Nausea again this morning?"

"Yes, not too bad but I know once I smell the different food that's gonna set it off,"

"I'm sorry love if I could take it for you I would,"

He rubs my stomach,

"Now little one you need to take it easy on mom let her have a small break this morning,"

When he does this, I get this warm feeling spread throughout my whole body it calms and relaxes me.

Laying my head against his chest he wraps his arms around and I just melt into him.

"If you two love birds are done, can we go eat now?"

Our little moment interrupted. Dexter let's put a small growl.

"Why do I keep him around?"

Jon falls back against the chair placing his hand over his heart. "Oh, you hurt me deeply,"

Laughing at his dramatic act I stand up grabbing Dexter's hand.

"Come you two let's go,"

Jon jumps up "Yes finally food,"

"Your dumbass is always hungry,"

"I'm a grown boy I need food," Jon calls over his shoulder he walks out the door.

Dexter wraps his arm around my backside walking us out the office. Ahead we see Hank with Lily.

"Max!" Lily yells as she comes running towards.

"Lily," She runs straight to me wrapping her arms around me in a hug. Chuckling at her.

"Lily, we just seen each other yesterday,"

"I know but that was yesterday,"

"Hey come on I'm hungry," Jon calls to us.

"Girl your crazy, come on let's go before the guys starve,"

"Ha it's only Jon,"

"Hey! I heard that," He yells back to us.

Dexter smacks Jon in the head.

"Shut up you!"

Laughing we all walk together reaching the breakfast area I can smell the food but surprisingly I don't feel nauseous.

Breakfast is a buffet style it makes it easier for everyone. We all make a plate moving to the table sitting down.

Dexter Hank and Jon are engaged in a conversation about what is going on today.

Lily is sitting next to me she is telling all about her schooling I love listening to her she is such a happy person even after everything she had been through, she still has a positive outlook.

"Excuse me Prince Dexter there's someone here for Miss Maxine," One of the servants says from the door way.

Dexter turns looking at the young girl.

"Who is it?" He asked her.

"It's Elder Fran Sir,"

"Let her in," He turns to look at me.

"Why is Elder Fran here for you?"

Well crap how am I going to explain this one I know if I tell him he will be mad cause I went behind him and called her. I didn't think she be here till later today.

I didn't get to answer when she came in.

Dexter stands up walking over to greet her.

"Elder Fran what a surprise," He reaches his hand out.

She shakes his hand. "Well, I just thought I'd stop and check in on Max,"

He steps back gesturing for her to join us at the table.

"Would you like some breakfast,"

"Oh no dear thank you."

She walks towards me I stand up she reaches her hand out to me I gladly shake it.

"Max dear how are you?"

Giving her a smile. "I'm good Elder Fran thank you,"

Dexter walks over next to me.

"Love I need to get back to the office Hank will be with you for the day, Jon and myself have a few meetings then we will go see mom,"

"Alright I'll see you later,"

He places a kiss to my forehead,"

"Jon let's go,"

The two of them walk out I turn to Hank.

"You don't have to stay with me I'll be here all day."

Hank stands crossing his arms over his chest giving me a stern look.

"Oh no you don't I know you're up to something so let's go spill it already,"

Looking to Elder Fran she just shrugs her shoulders.

"May as well have his help,"

"Ugh, Fine let's go up to Charles office that way Dexter don't hear,"

Hank looks to Lily, "I'll see you after your classes,"

"Alright Uncle Hank,"

The three of us head for the office I know Hank will help but hopefully he doesn't say anything to Dexter before I can explain this, I just want to help Laura I know I can but I need Elder Fran help.

Once we reached the office going in sitting down. Hank speak up.

"Alright what's going on?"

"Laura needs help healing her dragon is too weak we all know that, Dexter won't let me help I know I can but I'm not sure how to do I called Elder Fran to come help me figure out if I can use my powers to heal her,"

"Max, you know if Dexter finds out he will be mad you know how protective he is right now his dragon is on edge when it comes to anything with you,"

"I know Hank but I can't sit back while Laura is in the position because of me she protected me now it's my turn to help her,"

Hank rubs his forehead letting out a sigh.

"Alright, What's the plan?"

We both look at Elder Fran.

She has a book in her hands which I didn't see when she first came in. She lays it down on the desk opening it up.

"Davidson wanted you because your one power was eternal life I wasn't sure how he was gonna get that power from you but I found his book in here it explains that he needed to collect a certain amount of blood from you and inject himself with it,"

"That's easy enough we can just give her a transfusion,"

"No Max the amount that is needed is a lot it's too much with you being pregnant you can't give it, it will hurt your baby,"
