

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 71

“Alanna is so troublesome. She’s been looking for her stuff while belittling us. It’s obvious that he’s guilty. Marie put on her helmet and looked confident. “Don’t worry, we’ll definitely win this round”

“Don’t underestimate the enemy!” Tilda reminded Marie without making any comments.

This time, she would not give Sharon another chance no matter what.

A faint smile appeared on Tilda’s face.

It was a sneer.

In her opinion, Sharon’s actions today were all to attract Edwin’s attention.

At the end of the day, Sharon had not given up on Edwin.

Tilda wanted to use the truth to tell Sharon that she would always be better than her.

Marie did not say anything else and nodded.

The previous failure was embarrassing enough, so she had to use 100% of her strength this time.

As Marie thought about this, she turned around to get the equipment needed for the co-driver.

When she turned around, she happened to see Alanna and Sharon opposite her. The device in her hand fell to the ground.

She tugged at Tilda and shouted, “Tilda, Tilda, look!”

Tilda followed her gaze and saw that Alanna was covering Sharon’s eyes with tape.

“What are they doing?” Marie was originally a mature co-driver, but at this moment, she revealed a panicked expression and looked terrified.

One could die at a racing match.

The racers wished they had ten pairs of eyes, but Sharon had her eyes covered, which was just stunning.

Tilda’s eyes were filled with disbelief.

The others were dumbfounded.

Only the two people involved were indifferent.

They were even chatting happily.

Sharon pulled the blindfolded strap and said, "We're here for the competition today. Why are you provoking Edwin again?"

Alanna snorted, "Scumbags are to be looked down on Edwin's so busy and it's rare for us to meet him. I'll curse him whenever I can!"

She wanted to seize every opportunity to upset Edwin.

Sharon could not help but break out in a cold sweat

Alanna was not to be trifled with. It was too terrifying.

Alanna said, "Besides, that move of ours is viewed as a guilty one. It's beneficial to lower the enemy's guard. It's a tactic

Sharon burst out laughing-

"That

e just now was beneficial in lowering the enemy's guard. What's this move?" She pointed at the cloth covering her Alanna snapped her fingers. This is to make them break down after being smug. Let's see how they still have the mood to compete!

At the end of the day, Alanna was going to use these fake moves to repeatedly torture Tilda.

Sharon knew what she meant.

Coincidentally, the amount of light entering her two eyes was different, so it was easy for her to feel dazzled. It was better to be completely blindfolded.

Sharon and Alanna had often used this move during training in the past. It was not a problem at all.

The others didn't think so.

Marie, in particular, was so angry that she pounded the car. "What's the meaning of this? Are they looking down on us?"

She thought. Isn't she covering her eyes during the competition a way of saying that even if she can't see, we won't win? This is more than contempt. It's a complete humiliation!

Tilda's fingers were also clenched tightly. She kept stomping her feet inside the car.

She should have been more ruthless back then and frozen Sharon to death in the snow.

If Sharon froze to death, he wouldn't have to stay alive and cause trouble for Tilda today.

Suppressing the anger in her heart, Tilda secretly took a few deep breaths before turning to look at Marie. "They're using psychological tactics to make us lose our footing. With you like this, they'll succeed.

When Marie heard her say this, she took a deep breath and focused. She turned on the special navigation system to check the situation on the way..

They were focused, but no one could focus and discuss.

Someone said, "It's so late at night and she's competing blindfolded. Isn't she risking her life?"

Another one said, "It's not worth it to die for revenge.

After knowing the relationship between Sharon, Tilda, and Edwin, everyone thought that Sharon had gone crazy from wanting to vent her anger.

"If she dares to be blindfolded, she naturally has her own abilities. Anyone who can race is not a fool. She knows what she's doing. Ben had already become Sharon's huge fan and spoke up for Sharon.

Another one said, "But no matter what, Sharon is doing it too obviously. She's already divorced and has the freedom to get remarried. Why is there a need to keep harping on it?"

Some said, "That's right. Look at how magnanimous Tilda is. Sharon keeps provoking her, but she keeps giving in politely"

Many people began to favor Tilda.

From tonight's situation, it did seem like Sharon was causing trouble for Tilda.

"She's been a nobody for four to five years in the Stanley family. Nothing has happened. Now that she's suddenly making trouble, she naturally has a reason to make trouble. As outsiders, we don't know what the inside story is. Don't casually discuss other people's private matters." Nelson said unhurriedly

After saying that, he casually blew at the nail shavings on his hand and jumped into the car.

Hearing his words, everyone felt that it made sense and nodded.

At this moment, not only did they not blame Sharon anymore, but they also guessed how much she had suffered.

Of course, from the time Sharon married the Stanley family to 4 or 5 years ago, very few people knew about her. Also, Edwin did not bring her along no matter what occasion it was. It was enough to know how unpopular she was.

After all, she was once officially married to the Stanley family. It was not right for Edwin to ignore her after marrying her.

The commander gave the order. "Get in position-"

The two teams took their positions.

Nelson also stepped on the accelerator.

Ben's eyes lit up. "Mr. Stanley, what are you doing?"

Nelson said, "It's so boring to watch the competition from the surveillance footage. I want to watch the live version."

"Count the in"" Ben drove away the co-driver beside Nelson and jumped in Just then, the gunshot rang out.

The engines of the two cars roared. Then, they rushed out at the speed of light.

Nelson also stepped on the accelerator and chased after the cars

The car had to drive out of the bend before it could enter the wilderness racing track.

The curves were fast and dense. Even during the day, they could make people flustered. The two cars spun in the driveway, in danger of losing their direction at any moment. Everyone exclaimed in surprise. "Ah!"

In particular, Sharon's car kept crashing into the edge of the curve.

Every time, she was just a little bit away from driving out of the lane,

Once, half of the wheel was suspended in the air, and only the other two wheels made the car barely slide past.

The car's engine roared, and the wheels made a patch of mud and sand fly around.

If it was a performance, everyone would definitely applaud.

But this was a competition. It was too dangerous.

Everyone broke out in a cold sweat.

"Look, blindfolded racing is suicidal! I can guarantee that Sharon won't be able to drive out of the curve!" someone said.

In the driveway, Tilda floored the accelerator and spun the steering wheel, doing different kinds of stunts.

Although it was dangerous, her car was obviously more stable than Sharon's.

Behind her. Nelson and Ben took turns swearing. "Damn it, damn it"

They broke out in a cold sweat for Sharon at the same time.

Ben clenched his fists and smashed the frame of the car. "Oh my god, hold on. Don't go down, don

Although Nelson was anxious, because he had never seen Sharon's ghost technique, he wasn't as excited as Ben

He simply did not want Tilda to win.

At the monitoring field, Edwin smoked two cigarettes and walked back

The person in charge of surveillance was quickly switching the pictures.

When Edwin saw Sharon's face covered by a white cloth in the car that flashed across the screen, he tightened his grip on the chair.

He wondered, How dare Sharon race with her eyes blindfolded! Is she trying to get herself killed?

He clenched his fists tightly, and the veins on his forehead bulged.

His eyes widened to an unprecedented size, and he pursed his lips tightly with a stiff look.

"Look, Mr. Stanley is concerned about Ms. Gill. Some people did not understand and thought that Edwin was worried for

Tilda

Edwin had not been like this for a long time, except for when he had been anxious during the few years when he was blind

He smashed his fist down heavily, directly breaking the chair into two.

He took out his phone and dialed Nelson's number, instructing. "End the competition NOW! Do it right away!"

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 72

Nelson's heart was racing and he had to control the steering wheel with both hands. He had no time to care about Edwin's call

It was Ben who answered the call. He had to repeat it a few times before Nelson could hear clearly.

"Tell him that the match has already begun. It's not something that I can end just because I say so!" Nelson roared, and his voice was covered by the wind

But Edwin still heard it.

He grabbed his phone tightly.

He never knew that Sharon could be so crazy.

After a long while, he slowly turned his gaze back to the screen.

With that, his gaze suddenly focused again.

He stared intently at the screen where Sharon's car, which had been skewed to the left and right, jumped up when it passed the last bend.

People were screaming, "Ah!"

Some said, "It's over!"

There were many people watching. When they saw the car flying in the dark, they shouted.

They could already imagine how strong the impact would be when the car fell.

Such strength was fatal.

They thought that Sharon and Alanna were dead meat

Some people even took out their phones and planned to call the police.

The scene captured Nelson and Ben who had caught up

The two of them cursed together, "Fuck!"

*She... She overtook!" In the video surveillance, Ben suddenly shouted and pointed forward.

The surveillance footage in front of them did not switch over so quickly. Everyone could only look at Ben and Nelson on the screen in a daze.

"Switch the screen now. Switch it!" Someone impatiently pushed the equipment technician. He wished he could transform into a racing car and kill this damn slow equipment technician.

The scene was finally switched.

Everyone only saw Tilda's car running forward alone..

Some asked, "Where are Sharon and Alanna?"

Some said, "Is their car flipped?"

Another one asked, "Can you see the wreckage?"

Someone said, "What a pity"

Edwin stared at the screen.

He also only saw Tilda's car,

He tightened his grip.

Even if he hated Sharon to the core, he never wanted her to die.

He never thought that he would one day lose control because of Sharon. It was completely unlike him.

"Look, they're fine! They're in front! The equipment master's voice suddenly sounded, filled with excitement.

He was just trying to switch the screen.

After cutting three screens in a row, he was completely disappointed when he did not Sharon and Alanna's car.

Unexpectedly, when he cut to the fourth part, their car suddenly appeared.

People started to exclaim, "Heavens, Sharon and Alanna aren't dead!"

Some said. Their car overtook!"

Someone added, "It overtook by so much!"

Anyway, everyone applauded together.

Some people were so happy that they wiped their tears.

Everyone's emotions were complicated.

Some were impressed by the superb skills of Alanna and Sharon.

Some were relieved that the two were not dead.

Edwin's tensed body slowly relaxed.

He didn't know why.

People started to praise, "Gosh, blindfolded racing is unprecedented in history."

Another one said, "The key is that she's so powerful."

Some said, "I can guarantee that she's Topspeed!"

When Edwin heard the surrounding praises, he clenched his fists again.

Was Sharon Topspeed?

If it was in the past, he would definitely not believe it.

After he saw her strength with his own eyes, his denial was no longer as firm

Confusion appeared in his eyes.

"Good job, Sharon! In the car, Alanna praised Sharon loudly.

Driving blindfolded was actually more suitable for field racing

Due to the complexity of the field track, it relied more on the co-driver's command.

The driver's eyes were actually no longer of much use.

In some cases, it also affects the driver's judgment.

Of course, even if they were in the bend, the two of them knew that even if it might be dangerous, it would not matter.

Sharon drove at full speed and didn't respond.

However, she showed a smile that was unique to Topspeed.

Her smile was flamboyant and confident, with the toughness of a racer and the softness of a woman.

Even if she was blindfolded, her smile was still bright and resplendent in the dark night..

Behind them. Nelson saw Sharon overtaking and kept shouting, Awesome! Just awesome!”

With Ben’s cooperation, the two of them successfully overtook Tilda’s and sped forward.

The two of them were too excited to notice the ditch in front of them.

Nelson’s car rushed into the ditch.

Sharon and Alanna waited at the finish line for a long time before Tilda arrived.

Alanna had been waiting impatiently for a long time. She lay in the car and slept.

Only Sharon was leaning against the side of the car, lowering her head and drawing circles with her feet.

Tilda parked the car, slammed the door hard, and walked over.

Behind her, Marie sat in the car and quietly looked at the time.

They were ten minutes later than Sharon.

For a racer, ten minutes was a huge gap. It was so embarrassing.

Tilda walked up to Sharon and said gloomily, “Are you finally happy after crushing me?”

Sharon looked indifferent. She only glanced at Tilda and did not answer.

Compared to Tilda’s anger, she was much calmer.

Tilda no longer wanted to hide her true emotions.

When she saw that Sharon did not respond to her, a strong sense of disregard overwhelmed her.

She pinched her fingers again and again. What she wanted to pinch even more was Sharon’s neck.

But in the next moment, she smiled again.

Tilda said arrogantly, "So what if you defeated me? Edwin is mine now. He took the initiative to date me and we will get married. No matter how outstanding you are for the rest of your life, he will never look back on you!"

Sharon dowlly straightened her body,

Her indifferent gaze turned gloomy because of Tilda's words.

Then, she looked into Filda's eyes and said, "I'm not competing with you today because of Edwin. I'm not jealous at all whether you're engaged to him or married. As for remarrying, you're overthinking it, Ms. Gill-

"Am I overthinking it, or are you just pretending?" Tilda naturally did not believe her words. "You keep saying that you're not fighting me for Edwin. Why would we have grudges against each other other than Edwin?"

"Why?" Sharon tapped lightly on the edge of the car and looked into the distance. "Ms. Gill, have you forgotten? Four years ago, you almost killed me and my baby!"

"What... What do you mean?" Tilda's chest trembled as she stared at Sharon.

However, she felt guilty.

Sharon turned around and stared at her. "Four years ago, you heard from Edric that Edwin and I were going to pay respects. You deliberately calculated the time and called Edwin to ask for help while we were on our way over. You said that you were kidnapped. Edwin abandoned me and the baby I was pregnant with to save you. Have you forgotten?"

"I was in danger!" Tilda's eyes showed a hint of uneasiness. She continued to argue, "It's just that you don't matter to him. Why are you blaming me? If I were you, I would have seen the truth and left Edwin long ago!"

"Heh!" Sharon was not in a hurry to say anything and only sneered.

Tilda suddenly froze.

She had clearly never taken Sharon seriously, but the latter's sneer made her embarrassed.

Tilda's face suddenly turned pale.

Meanwhile, Sharon's gaze turned even sharper, When it was fixed on Tilda's face, it could strip off her disguise.

Sharon said, "You pretended to be kidnapped and made Edwin work so hard for you for so many days. You don't feel sorry for him at all."

"Pretended? Tilda's mind went blank.

There was disbelief in her eyes as she looked at Sharon with a frightened look.

She wondered, 'Back then, I did this in in secret. Even Edwin did not find anything. How did she know?'

She forced herself to reprimand Sharon, "What nonsense are you talking about?"

Sharon raised her phone. "I've already found the person who planned this. His home address is..."

She named the person's address and contact number in one breath.

Then, Sharon continued, "If you want proof, I have it.

Tilda was stunned.

She shouted, "That's impossible!"

Not only did Sharon crush her with her driving skills today, but she also found out about these things.

Unprecedented panic appeared on Tilda's face. Her hands and feet were trembling.

Sharon could not be bothered to talk to her anymore. She got into the car, started the engine, and left.

Tilda felt a chill all over. She could not help but look behind her Marie was in the car. She was far away and could not hear anything. Alanna was also sleeping. Tilda supposed that no one saw her lose her composure.

It didn't matter. As long as he dealt with it slightly in the future, this matter would be resolved.

At the thought of this. Tilda regained some strength and walked toward the car.

After taking a few steps. Tilda suddenly stopped.

Not far from her, a figure stood silently.

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 73

The person stood in the shadows and his face could not be seen clearly.

However, she heard someone calling him Mr. Stanley.

Tilda was scared out of her wits. She rushed over and grabbed the man's hand, hurriedly explaining. "Edwin, those are not real.

I believe in what Sharon said. They're just liest I didn't.. I didn't do that. No matter what evidence she shows, don't believe her.

That person spoke with a hint of playfulness, "So, should I believe you??

He sounded quite unruly and a bit sarcastic.

It was obviously not Edwin's voice.

Tilda suddenly came to a realization and hurriedly looked up.

The first thing she saw was a young and handsome face.

"Nel-Nelson

The moment she saw Nelson clearly, Tilda's face turned even paler.

She wanted to clench her fists, but she couldn't.

Nelson looked at her with a faint smile. "I can't believe that as the amazing celebrity, you would do such a thing, Ms. Tilda Gill. What do you think my cousin will think if he finds out about this?"

Tilda's body trembled again..

Her face was ashen.

"What Sharon said... is just a lie!" Tilda retorted, but she was powerless.

Nelson dug his ears. "Since it's a lie, why don't I go to the place she mentioned and search it? Perhaps I can really find such a person

He quickly recited the address Sharon had mentioned. He even recited the phone number.

Tilda didn't know what to say.

She was extremely embarrassed to have her scandal exposed.

She trembled and was about to cry

Nelson found it boring. He snorted twice, raised his helmet, and walked out.

"Nelson!" Tilda grabbed the corner of his shirt. "Will you...."

"Don't worry, I won't tell Edwin" Nelson saw through her thoughts.

When he looked at her, his face was filled with sarcasm.

He pulled out the corner of his shirt with a look of disgust.

Although Tilda had been totally disgraced, Nelson's promise still slowly revived her.

Chapter 73

He rested his hands on the sides of his legs and looked at her. There was not much expression on his face, and she could not guess what he was thinking

Sharon could not think of a reason for him to go to her, so she said casually, "Ms. Gill is safe. She'll be back soon"

Edwin did not reply. Instead, he asked, "Why did you marry me in the first place?"

Sharon was stunned.

She looked at him. –

In their four years of marriage, he had never asked this question

But now, he was interested in asking her.

"What were you after?" Edwin's voice was heard again.

He lowered his head and looked at the woman who was shorter than him.

She was clearly such a powerful racer. Even if she relied on racing alone, she could earn a lot of money.

She was also good-looking.

She was not the kind of person who needed to rely on the rich and powerful to live a good life.

you

after?” Edwin’s words got to her.

A feeling of humiliation spread out from her heart, coming at her.

It was sharp and painful..

Even now, Edwin still thought that she married him for something.

After the pain passed, what overwhelmed her was a sense of humiliation that was like a wild roar.

Sharon was suddenly furious.

She was extremely angry and laughed instead. “I was blind and stupid back then and did something wrong. I’m sorry.”

Edwin was the one who had forgotten his promise and betrayed her, but he still asked her what she was after.

Sharon found it simply hilarious.

If he had asked these questions during their marriage, she might have told him the truth.

But now that they were divorced, what was the point of asking that?

Edwin repeated, “Blind and stupid?”

Edwin had come to ask this question with sincerity, but what he received was these words.

Sharon used those words to completely disdain their marriage and him as well.

Anger overwhelmed Edwin.

The angrier he got, the gloomier his face became, and so were his eyes.

However, he still smiled, but it was gloomy.

Chapter 78

As long as Edwin didn't know, it didn't matter who else knew.

"Why don't you give all this evidence to Edwin?" Alanna could not help but ask Sharon on the way back

When the two of them were talking just now, she was not asleep and had heard the conversation between Sharon and Tilda.

Sharon smiled faintly. "Why would I tell him?"

She had unintentionally found out about this not long after her divorce.

Alanna said, "Let him know what kind of vicious heart Tilda has

"He knows that, but he won't leave Tilda. Moreover, whether he leaves Tilda or not is meaningless to me." Sharon's eyes remained calm.

When she talked about Edwin, there was no longer any love in her eyes. It was as if she was talking about a stranger.

"At the very least. I'd like to annoy this damn man." Alanna could not let go of the matter regarding Sharon.

Sharon pinched her face. "Instead of wasting my time on annoying my ex, why don't I think about how to earn more money and live comfortably?"

"That makes sense!" Alanna agreed,

The two of them returned to the starting line and everyone came over to congratulate them.

Sharon replied politely a few times, but she did not seem very happy.

To her, this was a competition without any suspense.

Originally, she had only come to have fun with Alanna. Now, she had even given Edwin a hard time, which was a special gain for her.

In order to watch the race between Sharon and Tilda, the other racers forgot to challenge the person they wanted to challenge.

Now that Sharon had won, everyone became busy again and went to prepare for their respective competitions.

course, after the two rounds just now, everyone knew that they were definitely not Sharon's match. No one dared to challenge her.

Sharon packed her stuff and prepared to go home. Alanna was temporarily stopped by a rich young man to discuss the electric sales project

When Sharon was done packing, she felt a shadow behind her and thought that Alanna had returned. She shook her head and said, "Get in the car."

However, that person didn't move.

Sharon found it strange and could not help but look up.

It wasn't until she saw the man's suit that she realized it wasn't Alanna.

The man standing in front of her was tall with broad shoulders and fine muscles.

His appearance was noble, his facial features were deep, and his eyes were deep.

It was Edwin

"You have no right to regret it!" he said, his tone ruthless. "Have you forgotten! You were the one who wanted to get married. I didn't force you?"

Sharon silently looked at the cruel and aloof man in front of her, She didn't know how to react.

He meant that she had asked for what she got

Edwin's heart would always be as cold as stone when he was with her.

Since he didn't care, why should she?

Sharon stood up straight with a stern expression on her face. "Edwin, you have no right to regret it!"

She roasted him with exactly what he had said.

Edwin looked at her in disbelief.

He noticed that her gaze was gloomy and harsh.

She looked distant and noble when she was aloof.

Edwin couldn't figure out that she was clearly the one who had done something wrong, so why was she so self-righteous?

Edwin felt uncomfortable and even regretted coming to her.

"You're just unreasonable!" Edwin reprimanded her in a low voice, his gaze returning to its disdainful look

Sharon walked over and hid in his shadow.

However, her eyes were getting brighter and brighter.

She pursed her lips, saying, "Didn't you ask me what I was after just now? With my contribution to you, no matter what I want from you, you shouldn't have any objections, Edwin. Even if I want half of your assets, you won't lose out!"

As soon as she finished speaking, Edwin's brows furrowed together.

His expression also changed quickly. It looked terrible.

He had expected that answer from her.

She was indeed after the Stanley family assets.

"But... Sharon suddenly changed the topic with a smile on her face.

Her smile looked pure and bright.

However, it gave Edwin a bad feeling.

Sharon continued, "I don't want anything! Like I said before, I want nothing from you despicable people!"

With that, she walked away.

When Edwin heard this, his expression turned even more darkened than before.

He could accept it when she was being unreasonable, but she actually said that his family was despicable.

Edwin grabbed her arm tightly and pulled her back. “Why don’t you tell me now what amazing contribution you’ve made to me and the Stanley family? You sound so honorable. Even if you’re asking for credit, there has to be credit, right?”

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 74

Before Sharon could finish speaking, she was suddenly interrupted by a voice. “Edwin.”

Tilda ran out of the car and held Edwin’s hand in front of Sharon.

She pursed her lips and said softly, “I suddenly feel very uncomfortable and want to go home.”

She looked at Edwin as if she was trying her best to hide her emotions, but she still revealed a pitiful look.

She had been eye-catching as a gorgeous celebrity.

The way Tilda suppressed her emotions made her look even more alluring.

Moreover, she had just lost to Sharon, and she had lost so badly.

At this moment, with her pitiful expression, everyone would feel sorry for her.

Sharon, who was standing at the side, could clearly see that Edwin’s aloof face had softened.

The gloom in his eyes was gone, and only gentleness was left.

“Okay.” He hooked his head.

Sharon found that when he said it, he sounded so sweet.

Once again, she clearly realized the difference between loving and not loving.

Fortunately, she had long recognized the reality and stopped loving him.

Otherwise, she would be tortured again today.

She suddenly found it unnecessary to say the words she had wanted to say.

Sharon smiled faintly and turned to leave.

Alanna was not back yet.

Sharon simply sat in the car and waited.

Tilda quickly ran to Sharon while Edwin went to get the car.

Pressing her hands on the car door, the gorgeous celebrity Tilda showed obvious nervousness on her face. "Sharon, you'd better not say any nonsense to Edwin!"

"What if I do it? Sharon turned her head to look at her with a faint smile.

In Tilda's eyes, her provocative tone and half-smile were all silent mockery of her.

Sharon was mocking her for not having the guts to admit her mistakes.

Tilda silently clenched her fists. She felt hurt and humiliated.

Tilda's face kept changing in front of Sharon.

She was just like a clown.

Tilda said, "You already have Bisney Entertainment's boss's support, so why are you looking for trouble with me? As the saying goes, it's better to resolve enmity than to keep it. If you give me a hard time. I can also make you feel bad with Hisney Entertainment's boss!"

Tilda bit her lip. She could no longer maintain her image as a gorgeous celebrity,

Sharon's expression did not even change as she replied indifferently. "Okay"

That was all she said.

She wondered, Will she go to Bisney Entertainment's boss? Good luck with that!

Tilda waited for a long time, but Sharon did not say anything els

Realizing that she had been tricked, Tilda flew into a rage out of humiliation. Her clenched fist almost turned into a slap to Sharon's Tace.

"Don't wony. I'm not so kind that I'll let my ex-husband know who I'm dealing with after I get a divorce," said Sharon after a

With that, she stepped on the accelerator and started the car.

She drove the car, scattering sand to Tilda's face.

Tilda didn't know what to say.

Tilda should be happy that Sharon was willing to let her go.

However, her expression became even more darkened.

She kept widening her eyes.

Sharon's actions and words just now were filled with disdain.

Tilda felt totally embarrassed and shameful. She'd rather have Sharon directly expose her.

Under her sleeves, countless nails were broken.

It was very late when Sharon and Alanna returned to their residence.

The two of them planned to go back the next day.

Just as they reached the door, they saw a car parked there.

It was too dark to see the color of the car, but the person leaning against the car was eye-catching-

That man was tall and slender, with a few traces of elegance.

His hair was tied up at the back of his head, and some stuck to his forehead.

He looked quite casual and elegant.

Alanna's eyesight was better than Sharon's. She was the first to recognize the man and could not help but say, "Hey, Mr. Gildon. It's late at night. What are you doing here?"

Ray raised his head and smiled at Alanna and Sharon.

He was the gentle type. When he smiled, he revealed two dimples. He was quite charming.

He looked like the male lead of a show.

Chapter 74

Moreover, he seemed to be a caring guy.

“I was waiting for Ms. Cress, he said. His voice was gentle as well.

Alanna knew about his relationship with Edwin She did not like the people around Edwin at all.

When she heard that Ray was there for Sharon, she could not help but stork gloomily. “Why are you here? Did Sharon screw you over? Why do you have to stay here late at the night to stop hier?”

Ray was speechless.

Sharon gently pulled Alanna and looked at Ray apologetically. “My friend is straightforward and has no bad intentions. Mr. Gildon, please don’t take it to heart.”

Ray knew Alanna. He shook his head and said, “Doesn’t matter.”

He knew that Alanna was angry because of his relationship with Edwin. He could only sigh helplessly in his heart.

“Mr. Gildon, why are you looking for me so late at night? Is there something urgent?” Sharon asked,

Ray nodded. I’m mainly looking for you to finalize the trip to Satisetion. Mr. Marcus has returned to Satisetion.”

Previously, Sharon had promised to help him persuade Andrew

However, Andrew had been traveling all over the world and his traces were uncertain, so she had left that undone.

Since Mr. Marcus has returned, let’s do it tomorrow, Sharon said straightforwardly.

“Alright.” Ray was extremely happy. I’ll book the plane tickets now.”

Sharon did not stand on ceremony with him about the plane tickets. She nodded and said. “It’s too late. I won’t keep you here, Mr. Gildon.”

Ray glanced at Alanna, who was looking at him as if he was her enemy. He thought to himself, “Even if you want me to stay, I don’t dare to do so.

“Sharon, how could you agree to Ray to persuade Mr. Marcus?” Ray had just left when Alanna revealed the dissatisfaction in her heart. “Have you forgotten Ray’s relationship with Edwin?”

Sharon patted her shoulder gently, "Yes, Ray is Edwin's friend, but he saved me

She simply told Alanna what had happened.

As soon as she finished speaking, Alanna shouted in disbelief, "What? Why didn't you mention such a big thing to me?"

Sharon had almost frozen to death in the snow. Alanna knew about it, but she did not know at all that Sharon had a difficult labor

Now that she mentioned it, Alanna was furious

*Sharon, do you still treat me as a friend? You... I'm so angry!" Alanna was so angry that she wanted to cut ties with Sharon.

Sharon tried to calm her down and said, "You were in the same situation at that time. Besides, you were so far away. Even if I told you, it would be useless."

After she finished speaking. Alanna suddenly fell silent.

The situation Sharon mentioned was her pain that she didn't want to talk about..

Chapter 71

Sharon realized that she had said the wrong thing and quickly apologized, "I'm sorry"

"Sorry for what?" Alanna quickly returned to normal, but her eyes were red. "You've done so much for Edwin, but in the end... it's really not worth it!"

Sharon said, "There's nothing worth it in this world. Have you forgotten? I've said it before. As long as I do my best and have a clear conscience, it's enough"

In the past, Alanna would have listened to these words, but she thought it was simply nonsense when it came to human lives.

"Fortunately, you and Irene were safe and sound in the end, she sighed softly.

She didn't say anything else, but she still felt guilty.

She hated herself for not being by Sharon's side.

If she had been around back then, Sharon would not have been in such a miserable state.

“I won’t stop you. Go help Ray, Alanna said. “However, after you’re done, you’ll have nothing to do with him. You can’t interact with him any longer.”

She did not want Sharon to interact with anyone related to Edwin.

Sharon promised, “Don’t worry.”

The next day, early in the morning, Sharon walked out of the neighborhood with a simple suitcase.

When she woke up. Alanna was still asleep.

Not wanting to disturb her, Sharon only left her a note.

“Ms. Cress, good morning. When the guard saw Sharon, he greeted her warmly. “Are you going on a long trip?”

Sharon smiled. That’s right.”

Although Sharon was a landlady, she had always been polite to the guards.

The guards also liked her, so they would greet her every time they met.

“The car that will pick you up is over there. It just arrived,” the guard said and pointed at the car by the entrance.

“Is it here to pick me up?” Sharon was stunned.

After Ray booked the plane tickets last night, she had already said that she would go to the airport herself. Did he still come. to pick her up?

Sharon could not help but look over.

What she saw was not the Maserati that Ray often took.

Instead, it was the Bentley that she was very familiar with.

Sharon’s expression changed slightly when she saw the Bentley.

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 75

The door of the Bentley opened, and a pair of long legs stretched out.

Under the pants were bright and dazzling high-end leather shoes

Then, a face was revealed.

His facial features were handsome, and his lips were sharp, like a work of art.

His nose was high and straight, making him look like a hero.

His eyes were dark and cold like a thousand-year-old lake.

“Edwin?” Sharon muttered this name silently and her heart skipped a beat.

Ray asked him to pick me up? So, he knows that I’m Foxy? Sharon wondered.

While she was thinking. Edwin had already arrived in front of her.

He looked down at her and put his hands in his pockets. When he spoke, his voice was clear and calm. “I was the one who abandoned you in the snow four years ago. If you want any compensation, feel free to tell me. But, of course, all I can give you is money.” He took out a check. “How much do you want? Fill it out yourself.”

Sharon looked at the cheque fluttering in her eyes. The white page was extremely dazzling.

What do you mean?” she asked.

Edwin pursed his lips slightly and did not respond.

Sharon had already guessed something. “Tilda must have told you something.”

Edwin remained silent.

I’ve already told him everything about how I lied to Edwin. Tilda got down from the other side of the Bentley and said, “I was indeed too impulsive back then, and I’ve already apologized to Edwin. He wants to compensate you out of kindness. So, Ms. Cress, accept it.”

Tilda looked sincere on the surface, but her eyes were filled with provocation.

After being exposed by Sharon yesterday, she thought for a long time and finally thought it through.

Instead of being suppressed by Sharon all the time, it was better to confess everything to Edwin.

As expected, the risk was worth it.

Although Edwin was a little unhappy, he chose to forgive her.

He even took the initiative to help her resolve

Ive this matter.

Tilda's lips curved into a victorious smile.

Sharon clenched her fists silently.

Edwin pampered Tilda to the point of indulgence.

Sharon wondered if Tilda had saved the universe in her previous life to make her so lucky now.

Sharon calmly took the check.

Then, she took out a pen.

The moment Sharon took out the pen, the smile in Tilda's eyes intensified.

The mockery and disdain in Tilda's eyes could not be concealed

However, Sharon did not write anything. Instead, she gently slapped the check back. "Why don't you compensate me with all of the Stanley family's assets?"

Tilda was so shocked that she didn't know what to say.

Her beautiful eyes suddenly constricted and widened.

Edwin also tensed up!

Although he did not say a word, it was obvious that he hated her for being so greedy and demanding!

Sharon ignored their expressions and smiled faintly.

It was as clear as a spring breeze.

When she looked at Edwin, her face tilted slightly. "Why? Mr. Stanley just told me to write as much as I want. Now that I've said how much I want, you can't bear to give me that much! Since you can't, why are you pretending to be generous?"

With that, she raised her head and strode past the two of them.

“Sharon, isn’t this too much? Behind her, Tilda pinched her fingers and said aggrievedly.

Edwin maintained his original posture, but his eyes were fixed on Sharon’s back. He did not react to Tilda’s words.

Tilda’s heart was filled with hatred.

However, she could not say anything. She could only put on an embarrassed expression. “That makes sense. She has Bisney Entertainment’s boss to protect her now. She doesn’t need money at all. Edwin, I’m sorry, I was too willful and caused trouble. I made things difficult for you.”

Edwin slowly came back to his senses.

“Just don’t do this kind of thing again in the future.” Although his expression was not good, his tone was gentle.

Tilda nodded obediently. “Okay.”

After getting into the car, Edwin sat on the chair and closed his eyes.

He suddenly recalled Big Eyes from the past,

still considered

She had always taken good care of him. No matter what she did, she would always consider his feelings first.

He could not see and was always angry at the nurses and doctors and refused to cooperate with the treatment.

No one in the hospital could do anything to him.

She was the only one who would gently rub his palm every time and persuade him softly.

Her words were always so enticing and overbearing.

Chapter 75

She would use all kinds of moves against him if he didn’t listen.

Later on, the entire ophthalmology center knew that she was his nemesis. They would come to her if he didn't cooperate.

Big Eyes was the only warmth in his dark world at that time.

She was smart and sensible. At such a young age, she knew her limits.

However, the current her seemed to be far inferior to before.

Is it because I have spoiled her too much? Edwin wondered.

"Big Eyes, he called softly.

Tilda opened her eyes at his side and looked at him, not understanding whom he was calling

Only when Edwin opened his eyes and looked at her did Tilda approach him uneasily. "Edwin, what are you trying to say?"

Before Edwin could speak, she kept apologizing. "I know, I was wrong. You can punish me however you want, but don't... don't abandon me."

Looking at her pitiful red eyes, Edwin suppressed the disappointment in his heart and said, "Don't worry, I won't abandon you. However, just this once!" As he said this, his expression had already turned cold!

Tilda looked at him and her heart skipped a beat.

Although Edwin still seemed deeply in love with her on the surface, she could feel that he was often distracted when he was with her.

Although her risky move last night had won his forgiveness, his attitude toward her had become even colder.

Now, he was not even willing to touch her fingers.

In the taxi, Sharon pursed her lips and focused. She looked into the distance, but her eyes were empty.

Perhaps because she had just met Edwin, she suddenly thought of the past.

At that time, he had to go back and treat his eyes.

Afraid that he would be unable to extricate himself from the guilt of his father's death because of him, she suggested to him, "When we meet again in the future, don't mention what happened in Pinevale again and pretend that it never happened."

She had said that back then to cheer him up.

He was so obedient and had completely forgotten about it!

He had even forgotten about her.

In the four years of marriage, there were countless times when she had wanted to reveal her true identity.

However, in the end, she still shut her mouth out of consideration for his feelings.

Tilda followed Edwin to Genesis Group.

“Go ahead with your work. I can pass the time myself, she said considerately to Edwin Edwin happened to have an important meeting to attend. He nodded and left.

Watching him leave, Tikla lowered her eyelids and left the office soon.

She went to May’s position and pulled her to a hidden place.

“What’s wrong? Why are you being so mysterious so early in the morning?” May said, “Don’t tell me you’ve prepared a surprise for Mr. Stanley,”

“No, I have something to ask you,” Tilda said.

“What is it?” May asked.

Tilda thought for a few seconds before she stroked her hair and said, “Do you know who Big Eyes is?”

Edwin suddenly called “Big Eyes” in the morning for no reason. Tilda sensitively felt that there must be a problem.

“Big Eyes?” May thought about it and shook her head. Tve never heard Mr. Stanley mention it. Isn’t that Mr. Stanley’s nickname for you?”

Tilda’s eyes were indeed big.

And they were watery and attractive.

Tilda touched her eyes and said okay softly. She did not say anything else, but she was still nervous.

Edwin had never called her that before.

But who else could it be other than her?

Tilda couldn't figure it out. She thought of something else. She had to do something as soon as possible to improve her image so that Edwin could only see how good she was and forget the previous unhappiness.

At the thought of this, she quickly asked May for guidance.

Upon hearing her question, May giggled. "You've asked the right person. There's something that Mr. Stanley will love you to death if you make it!"

Tilda's eyes lit up. She asked anxiously. "What is it?"

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 76

When Sharon arrived at the airport, it was exactly eight o'clock,

There was still half an hour before boarding time.

She lowered her head and took out her plane ticket and identification documents.

I'll carry it for you. Someone walked over and took the small box beside her.

Sharon looked up and saw Ray's elegant face..

He was looking at her with a smile, looking warm and fresh.

"Mr. Gildon, what are you doing here?" Sharon's pretty face revealed a hint of surprise.

They had previously agreed that she would meet Andrew alone.

Ray waved the small suitcase in his hand. "As the person in charge of the project, how can I be absent?"

It meant that he would go with her.

"There's no need." Sharon was not a pretentious person. "At least at this stage, there's no need. This trip is just a test. I don't have the confidence to convince Mr. Marcus. It's a waste of time for you to go."

Kay wanted to tell her he was happy to waste this time.

However, when he saw her serious expression, he swallowed his words. "Anyway, I'm not very busy. I can take a trip over there.

Hearing his words, Sharon could not say anything else. The two of them boarded the plane.

Satisation was not far away. Two hours later, the plane landed at Satisation's busiest city airport.

As the bustling crowd walked out, what entered their eyes were buildings that towered into the clouds in the distance.

From afar, one could sense the advanced level of the city.

As expected of a world-class civilized city.

It wasn't the first time Sharon came to Satisation, but she couldn't help but sigh at the city's development, cleanliness, and refreshing beauty.

She did not immediately go to look for Andrew. Instead, she went to the most famous church in the area and prayed sincerely.

Then, she asked for a lucky bracelet

She put the lucky bracelet away carefully and put it in her bag before walking out

Ray had been following her. Seeing how pious she was, he could not help but smile gently. "I didn't expect you to believe this.

He pointed his chin at the bag where she kept the lucky bracelet.

Sharon smiled. The lucky bracelet is for Mr. Marcus"

Ray was stunned.

He did not expect her to ask for such a thing for Andrew

Sharon did not explain. She asked Ray to find a hotel to stay in while she went to the Marcus Manor herself.

Ray also knew Andrew did not like businessmen from Hatherlanil, so he left as he was told.

Marcus Manor was located in the most central villa area of Satisetion.

Satisction was very small, and every inch of its land was worth gold.

It was hard to develop such a villa area in the city center.

Naturally, only the few rich people at the top of the pyramid could buy a house here.

She came to the door and expressed her intention to meet Andrew.

After politely asking her name, the guard brought the message inside.

Then, he said, "Ms. Cress, please wait a moment."

Sharon nodded and walked under the canopy. She planned to sit on the chair and wait.

After she turned around, she saw a luxurious car parked a dozen leet away.

The luxury car door opened and two people walked out from the left and right.

man and a woman.

The woman's figure was sexy, and she was all smiles. The aura of a goddess was on her face.

The man was tall and had long legs. His face was handsome and his facial features were deep and three-dimensional.

Tilda and Edwin? Sharon was amazed that she could meet the two of them here.

"What kind of ill-fated relationship is this?" Sharon sighed.

Tilda was about to run over and circle Edwin's neck. At this time, she saw Sharon. She was also stunned.

Edwin followed her line of sight and saw Sharon.

His eyes were dark and deep.

"What are you doing here, Ms. Cress? Tilda was the first to speak. She took a step forward.

When she turned her back to Edwin, the corners of her lips curled up, and a mocking look appeared in her eyes.

Although she did not say anything, she was certain Sharon had deliberately investigated her and Edwin's whereabouts and followed them here.

Tilda's self-righteous look was ridiculous.

Sharon did not explain. Instead, she looked at Tilda with a faint smile. "Why? Can't I come here? Or is this your territory, Ms. Gilp

Her tone was irreverent and direct, making Tilda embarrassed.

The goddess-like look on her face was almost torn apart.

"Sharon, aren't you going too far with your words?" Edwin, who had been silent all this while, interrupted.

Since the last race, Sharon had been targeting Tilda.

Edwin thought Sharon was angry at him and vented her anger on Tilda, so his expression darkened.

Sharon smiled. "Is that so?"

Edwin thought that she still had a lot to say to defend herself

However, after Edwin waited for a long time. Sharon said nothing

After Sharon asked this question, she turned to look to the other side.

Sharon completely treated the two of them as strangers!

Edwin was angry and speechless.

It was as if something inexplicably hung in his chest.

He couldn't explain it clearly. This thing just stuck there.

In Tilda's eyes, Sharon was like this because Sharon felt aggrieved because of Edwin's scolding. Tilda felt smug.

The smuggler she was, the more she refused to show it on her face and kept the aura like a goddess.

She walked past Sharon and went to the guardhouse. "Hello, I'm looking for Mr. Marcus. Can you help me pass the message

Sharon's brows furrowed imperceptibly when she heard that Tilda was looking for Andrew.

What does Edwin mean? Sharon wondered. 'Didn't he already ask me to be a lobbyist? Why did he bring Tilda and come over personally?

"Edwin, don't worry. Mr. Marcus has been investing heavily in the entertainment industry all these years. He's quite friendly to people in our line of work, Tilda told Edwin after letting the guard relay her intentions.

"I'm quite familiar with his wife. When I see him and his wife, I'll mention it. Mr. Marcus will give us a chance on account of his wife, Tilda raised her fist and said in a charming tone with a hint of coquettishness,

There was also a confidence that could not be hidden in her.

Sharon finally understood. 'So Tilda recommended herself?

Edwin only nodded in response.

He had come here for official business.

Tilda used the excuse of traveling to come with him. After arriving here, she said she was familiar with Andrew's wife.

Even though Ray had already found Foxy, he was willing to give Tilda a chance to show off when he saw how passionate she was.

When Sharon saw that he agreed, she could not help but clench her teeth. Familiar with Mrs. Marcus? Andrew is friendly to the people in the entertainment industry?

Tilda's self-proclaimed advantages were all taboo points.

If she went in, she wouldn't even know how she died!

Tilda had no idea what Sharon was thinking. Seeing that she kept looking at her, she thought Sharon was envious of her connections

She could not help but raise her chin and think, "So what if she knows how to race? Racing is of no help to Edwin's career! I want Sharon to see clearly that Tm the person Edwin needs the most

The racing incident left a deep trauma in Tilda's heart. She went from ignoring to liking to suppress her.

She wanted to surpass Sharon at all times!

Sharon pursed her lips and did not mind Tilda's provocation.

Although she was unwilling to interfere, this matter was related to Ray. Sharon did not want him to be implicated.

was

She had to give a friendly reminder. "Mr. Marcus doesn't like people in the entertainment industry, especially actors. And if you see him, don't mention his wife"

Sharon did not explain the reason.

The matter between Andrew and his wife was his private affair and could not be discussed.

Sharon was confident in persuading Andrew. This was a reminder to prevent them from taking a detour in the future.

However, it sounded completely different to Tilda. "What does she mean, "if I see him? Is she certain that I won't be able to see Andrew? Who does Sharon think she is?"

Tilda's heart was filled with anger and hatred. If Edwin weren't here, she would have long made lots of sarcastic comments about Sharon.

At this moment, she could only try her best to suppress her anger and maintain her image.

Tilda gently pressed the corner of her lips elegantly. "Ms. Cress, you rarely walk outside and don't know much about what's going on outside. But it doesn't matter. If there's a chance in the future, I can tell you more about Mr. Marcus. I believe you'll understand."

Her tone was gentle, but she was scolding Sharon for knowing nothing.

Sharon smiled calmly

There was not a trace of anger on her

Tilda felt annoyed and had collapsed first when she saw that Sharon was calm.

Coincidentally, someone walked out of the house. It was the Marcus family's butler.

The butler came to the guardhouse. "Open the door and let her in!"

"Got it. The guard pulled open the door.

Tilda walked in faster.

Sharon followed.

Wait a minute, why are there two people?" The butler adjusted his glasses and looked at the two of them.

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 77

"Hello, Mr. Harrison. My name is Tilda Gill" "Tilda walked in front and introduced herself elegantly and quickly.

Her smile was so elegant that no one could find fault with it.

"As for Ms. Cress, she might have just happened to pass by Tilda pretended to speak up for Sharon Sharon pursed her lips and was not in a hurry to speak.

Not far away, Edwin looked at her.

Sharon did not move. She looked like she was indeed only passing by.

Her expression was as light as a blooming flower.

She looked naturally and indifferent.

Edwin narrowed his eyes as well. He could not figure out what Sharon was doing here.

Tilda stepped forward and waited for Kent Harrison, the butler, to bring her in.

Kent did not move.

He lowered his head and waved his hand. "That's not right. The last name of the person Mr. Marcus said is not Gill"

"Kent, it's me." Sharon walked past Tilda to Kent. "My name is Sharon Cress,"

"Sharon?" Kent immediately nodded when he heard Sharon say his name. "Yes, yes, that's the name. Ms. Cress, please follow me in."

He immediately became extremely enthusiastic and welcomed Sharon in.

Tilda, who was forgotten there, felt awkward.

She froze on the spot as if she had been petrified, her mind blank

How is that possible? Instead of looking for Edwin, Sharon was here to see Andrew?
Tilda wondered.

Edwin also frowned. He had seen many storms but was also shocked by the situation he saw

His gaze followed Sharon, and he couldn't look away.

"Edwin." Tilda walked back, looking extremely embarrassed.

She had just vowed that not only could she see Andrew, but she could also persuade him to cooperate with Genesis Group.

But now... she made a fool of herself?

She was embarrassed, but the Marcus family's butler warmly welcomed Sharon.

This was more than embarrassing. It was simply stepping on her and rubbing her on the ground!

Kent quickly invited Sharon into the reception room.

The Marcus family received guests in different grades.

Ordinary guests were only invited to the side hall.

The more important orres would be in the living room.

And the most esteemed guests would be invited to the VIP room upstairs.

Sharon was invited into the VIP room.

Along the way, there were many servants.

Seeing Sharon being invited into the VIP room, everyone could not help but look over.

They couldn't help but guess what her identity was.

One had to know that the number of guests invited here in a year was no more than five.

Sharon was not disturbed by the gazes of the servants at all, nor was she shocked by the decorations in the VIP room.

She maintained a calm and peaceful appearance as she sat on the chair like an ancient painting.

Kent couldn't help but take a few more glances at her and became even more polite. "Please wait a moment. Mr. Marcus will be here soon."

"Alright, thank you, Kent, Sharon said softly.

Immediately, someone delivered high-quality coffee beans.

These coffee beans did not belong to a brand, but their fragrance overflowed after the servant brought them in. They were top-notch and were not uncirculated on the market.

Sharon lowered her head and watched as the butler left. Only then did she take out her phone and send a message to Ray, asking him to come over and persuade Tilda and the rest to leave this place.

Tilda did not know about Andrew's situation. If she caused trouble, all their previous efforts would be wasted.

As soon as she sent the message, there was a commotion outside the door.

Sharon stood up and a handsome man walked over.

The man's expression was serious. He had a big frame, and he was tall and imposing.

He only had slight wrinkles, but his hair was gray.

Because his hair was too gray, he looked to be in his fifties or sixties.

This person was none other than Andrew.

A big shot in Satisetion's business world.

The truth was that Andrew was only in his forties.

"Mr. Marcus" Seeing Andrew, Sharon stood up and greeted him politely.

Andrew quickly greeted her. "Why didn't you inform me in advance so I can pick you up in advance?"

"You have a lot of work to do every day. How can an idle person like me waste your time?" Sharon smiled.

Sharon's eyes were full of affability although she talked to him respectfully.

When Andrew saw her, he was no longer as serious as when facing others.

Chapter 77

The lines on his face softencil.

Outside, Tilda did not give up.

"There must be a mistake!" She would never believe that, with her strong connections, Andrew would not meet her!

"I'll tell Mr. Marcus about my relationship with Mrs. Marcus now He'll pick me relationship with Mrs. Marcus now He'll pick me up!" As she spoke, she turned around to look for the guard.

"Don't go. You'll cause trouble if you go inside, someone stopped her and said.

Tilda turned around in a hurry and almost collided with the other party.

She looked up and saw Ray

Ray's elegant face was expressionless as he looked at her indifferently

"What do you mean?" She was so anxious to regain her lost pride that she forgot to maintain her image. Her expression began to crack

Ray did not want to talk to Tilda and was too lazy to explain. He only came to look at Edwin. "Edwin, Mr. Marcus's matter is a big deal. Take Ms. Gill away first."

"I'm here to help!" Ray's negligence made Tilda extremely angry. She suppressed her anger and explained, "I'm familiar with Mr. Marcus's wife. It's the safest for me to talk about this,"

When Ray heard this, he laughed. "You're close to Mrs. Marcus? Don't you know that they have nothing to do with each other long ago? Not only that, but they're also enemies now."

Ray wanted to show her some respect, but Tilda was so stubborn, so he could only tell the truth.

"How... How is that possible?" Tilda's face instantly turned pale. How did you know?"

Ray did not know, but Sharon had mentioned it on the way.

Tilda came over to help before she even understood the basic situation. This was ridiculous...

Fortunately, Ray was worried about Sharon and especially came to wait for her.

Otherwise, today's matter would be doomed.

Ray looked at Edwin. "Edwin, you've always been more mature than me. Why are you messing around this time too!"

He was talking about how Edwin had asked Tilda to come over and persuade Marcus

He had already found Sharon. So why should Edwin ask Tilda to come?

When these words landed in Tilda's ears, they burned her heart. How was Ray talking to Edwin? He was scolding me!

Tilda was indignant. "What nonsense are you talking about? Mrs. Marcus never told me their relationship as husband and wife is not good!"

Do they have to make it public and tell the world they're not on good terms with each other? Tilda's stupidity made Ray extremely speechless.

Only someone with a bad taste like Edwin will like such a woman. Ray thought helplessly.

Tilda was at a loss for what to say,

£ 17:28 Sun, Sep

Chapter 77

She bit her lip aggrievedly-

"What's going on!" Edwin asked in a deep voice.

Andrew was a person who kept a low profile. It was almost impossible to find out about his personal affairs.

Ray put his hands in his pockets and looked at the two of them. Do you know why Mr. Marcus is so passionate about the entertainment industry and bought over most entertainment companies in just a few years? Because he's taking revenge on his ex-wife, who hooked up with a director and took away all his assets. Mr. Marcus is buying these entertainment companies now to make his ex-wife lose her footing!"

Ray turned to Tilda and said, "Don't you know his ex-wife? He's such a big shot, but has his ex-wife ever played a decent part all these years!"

Tilda lowered her head in silence.

Indeed, there was none.

She didn't think much about it before, but now that she thought about it, she realized there was a problem.

"Is this... believable?" She still had a glimmer of hope that the news was wrong.

"Foxy said that. She is the person who understands Andrew the most," Ray said coldly.

At the mention of Foxy, Tilda suddenly thought of something, and her face turned pale. she stammered, "Could Sharon be..."

Tilda wondered if Sharon was Foxy.

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 78

It was as if she had been struck by lightning and could not even stand steadily.

Her legs went weak..

Her mind was in a mess.

If Sharon is Foxy, then... I'll be completely inferior to her, Tilda thought in horror.

"Let's leave first," Edwin said, interrupting her thoughts.

Even after hearing so much shocking gossip, Edwin's expression remained calm.

Tilda's legs were weak as if they were filled with lead

It took all her strength to get back to the car.

Edwin drove them to the hotel.

After arriving at the hotel, Edwin told her to go upstairs to rest first. Then, he dragged Ray elsewhere.

"Who exactly is Foxy? When they reached an empty spot, Edwin lowered his head, took out a cigarette, and put it between his lips.

Although he lowered his head and did not look at Ray, Ray's heart skipped a beat!

Edwin was so sensitive and smart that he must have suspected something when he asked.

"Why are you asking this?" Ray suppressed the guilt in his heart and deliberately asked as if nothing had happened.

Edwin lit his cigarette and took a deep breath

Amidst the smoke, his sharp eyes narrowed slightly. No one knew what he was thinking.

"I want to meet her," said Edwin..

“Meet her... You might as well ask me to die, Ray said in his heart

“When did you become so interested in a woman other than Tilda? Ray was so nervous and quickly laughed, trying to end this topic. “Forget it. She’s a low-key person. She won’t be willing to meet you.”

Edwin turned around to look at him.

He didn’t say anything and only fixed his gaze on Ray.

His gaze was as deep as a well, and his eyes were even darker.

This darkness—could pierce through one’s heart!

Ray almost couldn’t breathe.

“Why is Sharon here?” Edwin threw another bomb.

Kay’s legs and stomach trembled, but he reacted quickly. “Is she here? I didn’t know. By the way, Foxy said she wanted to pray in the church after she got off the plane. I’ll go and pick her up now.” With that, he strode out.

As he walked, he pretended to call Foxy.

Chapter 78

At the mention of marriage, the smile on Sharon’s face gradually disappeared.

At last, it became extremely faint as she said, “I’m divorced.”

Andrew was first shocked.

Then, he slapped the table. “Who’s so blind as to give up such a good girl

He was angry.

Seeing how angry he was, Sharon felt touched.

And she found it funny.

She asked. “What’s so good about me? Only you think I’m a good girl.”

“Who said that Andrew glared at her, completely different from his usual image. “However, he divorced you because he has no taste. I’ll introduce you to someone better!”

“Alright.” Sharon did not take it seriously and nodded in agreement

She did not stay long and quickly said goodbye.

Andrew personally sent her out.

At the door, Sharon took out the lucky bracelet she had prepared earlier from her bag and handed it to him with both hands. “I just got this today. I hope you’re healthy and lucky and can find the person you like.”

Andrew received it silently.

He rubbed his fingers on the luck bracelet for a long time. “Are you hoping that I’ll let her go?”

Sharon looked at his eyes under his white hair and pursed her lips slightly. I hope you can let yourself go.”

Sharon knew about Andrew and his ex–wife the best.

How cold Andrew was to his ex–wife represented how deep his hatred was.

In this world, there was only hatred when there was love.

She hoped that he would let it go completely.

“You girl.” Andrew nodded his head.

Warmth flashed across his cold eyes

He smiled. “Alright, I’ll listen to you!”

Back then, he had been cheated by his ex–wife until he was penniless and in debt. All kinds of blows came one after another.

His hair turned white overnight.

At one point, he almost committed suicide.

He’d seen her live on the night of his suicide and was infected by her optimism..

When she saw him from the many comments, she guessed that he wanted to commit suicide. She him and comfort him.

all means to contact

Chapter 78

She even came to Satisetion to help him...

At that time, she had left him 2,000 dollars.

At that time, she had just started to become famous 2,000 dollars was not a small

It was her entire income.

2,000 dollars was not much, but it became Andrew's strength to stand up again.

They had been in contact since then. Even though he had returned to the peak of his life, he had never forgotten this little girl who had pulled him back from the brink of death,

Sharon said goodbye and turned to leave.

"Sharon." Andrew stopped her again.

His eyes were unhurried as he looked up at the sky. "The weather is good tomorrow. Why don't you accompany me to play golf?"

"Sure," Sharon replied enthusiastically,

After she left, Kent walked over.

When he saw the lucky bracelet in Andrew's hand, he clicked his tongue and praised, "What a thoughtful person Ms. Cress

Andrew lowered his head and looked at the thing in his hand. "Yes, she is thoughtful."

She had chosen to give him this lucky bracelet—when she left. It was obvious that she did not want to burden him.

After Sharon left Marcus Manor, she immediately called Ray. "I'm sorry, Mr. Marcus wasn't convinced.

"It's alright, Ray quickly said. "I'm already very grateful you're willing to help me."

Sharon knew Ray said this because he didn't want her to be sad, so she said nothing about the topic. She only said a few polite words and hung up.

She also felt quite regretful that she could not help Ray.

It seemed that she could only repay the favor she owed him in other ways.

When Sharon returned to the hotel, Edwin had also returned to the guest room.

Chapter 78

Edwin looked at his departing figure and his thoughts once again landed on Sharon.

Was she here for the boss of Bisney Entertainment? Why is her relationship with Bisney Entertainment's boss so strange Edwin wondered.

Bisney Entertainment's boss divorced because of her. He spent tens of millions of dollars and set up a growth fund for Irene. Logically speaking, he should love her very much.

However, they had been silent and never talked about getting married for a long time.

They had never even interacted in any place.

Edwin even suspected that the so-called boss of Disney Entertainment was just fabricated.

However, why do I worry so much about an unimportant person? With that thought in mind, Edwin rubbed his eyebrows. and shook off the chaotic thoughts. Then, he walked back.

On this side, Sharon and Andrew finally returned to the main topic.

She told him about the Genesis Group's project.

"I know you don't like to talk business with businessmen from Hatherland, but this project is surely not bad," Sharon said. sincerely.

She was not boasting. She had read the proposal seriously and felt that it was good.

“If this project goes well, it will benefit you and Genesis Group. It will be a feat that transcends worlds,” said Sharon

Andrew would not bother to read the proposal if it were someone else.

But Sharon was different.

Andrew took the proposal and lowered his head to read it.

The only sound in the room was him flipping through the pages

Sharon lowered her head and drank her coffee. She only looked up when Andrew finished flipping the last page.

She didn't say anything and just looked at him.

“Girl, your taste is indeed not bad. When Andrew called her, his voice was filled with love.

Andrew continued, “However, this project is too avant-garde and risky.”

Sharon nodded. “Indeed, avant-garde projects bring certain risks. But it's precisely because of the risks that there's unlimited. space and opportunity.”

Andrew nodded in agreement. “You're right. I also believe in your judgment, but still can't invest in this project.”

Sharon did not ask him why. She only nodded in agreement. “It's alright. I'll leave the information here: You can take a look at it when you want.

The two of them chatted for a while.

Andrew could not help but ask about Sharon's marriage. “I heard that you were married earlier. Why didn't you bring your husband over? Let me see what kind of person is so lucky to marry a girl like you.”

Edwin had just pushed open the door when someone followed her.

“Edwin” Tilda stood behind him pitifully. Her voice was soft, weak, and powerless.

“Why aren't you resting?” Edwin frowned when he saw Tilda..

Tilda's body swayed. "Are you looking down on me? I'm sorry I wanted to help you. But I almost caused trouble."

"No." Edwin shook his head. "I'm already happy that you're willing to help me."

"Really? Tilda looked at him with wide eyes.

She still felt very uneasy.

She wanted to help with the cooperation with Andrew because she needed clear credit to attract Edwin's attention.

She had lost to Sharon last time. This had become a thorn in her flesh.

She just wanted to pull it out with all her might.

Initially, she thought that she could make it this time. Even though she knew Ray had invited Foxy, she still took the initiative to intervene.

Whether it was Ray exposing she did not know about Andrew and his wife today or Andrew was more respectful to Sharon than her, it had smeared a deep layer of dust on her face.

It made her unable to raise her head.

Tilda was extremely distressed.

"Yes. Edwin rubbed his temples. He was a little tired after a busy day.

Seeing him like this, Tilda did not say anything else. She quickly stepped back and said, "Then go in and rest. Edric will come over later. Let's get together."

Edwin nodded and closed the door.

Looking at the closed door, the softness on Tilda's face faded bit by bit.

She turned around and saw so someone staring at her.

That person was none other than Sharon

When she saw Sharon, cracks immediately appeared on Tilda's perfect face.

Instinctively, she thought of the scene of her being rejected by Andrew during the day,

The reason why Sharon looked at Tilda was purely an accident.

She was tired. When she returned to the hotel, she found that Tilda and Edwin were also there.

And they were all on the same floor.

She smiled almost imperceptibly

It was one thing for them to bump into each other in the country, but why did they have to meet often even overseas?

How did that happen! Tilda, couldn't figure it out.

Tilda was used to being praised. How could she stand Sharon's indifference? Not only was she unwilling to leave, but she also curled her lips and sneered. "You keep saying you're over it, but you're just putting on a show. Don't trip Edwin up if you're over it for mall Of course, even if you try to trip him up, Edwin Won't think you're capable, let alone think highly of you! I advise you to give up. Ms. Gress!"

Then I want to give you some advice, too, Mc Gill." Sharon rubbed the back of her neck.

Originally, she did not want to argue with this kind of person. New that Tilda wanted to court death by standing at the door, she could only fulfill her wish

A faint smile appeared on her face. "If you have the time to think about all sorts of things, why don't you practice acting more? After all, Ms. Gill, you still depend on this for a living!"

Sharon was implying that Tilda didn't have the ability!

Tilda was so

was so angry that her brain was filled with blood. She widened her eyes and wanted to eat Sharon.

Sharon shrugged her shoulders and pulled Tilda away when she saw Tilda was so powerless. Then, she entered the door.

Bang!

Sharon slammed the door in front of Tilda!

Tilda was stunned.

It was not until Sharon disappeared for a long time that she slowly regained her senses.

What have I done? Why did I find Sharon to vent my anger? I'm an elegant and noble goddess. I'm cultured, temperamental, and good-looking. However, I was nothing like that just now, I was like a shrew! Even Tilda could not accept her image just now. She almost scratched her hair in frustration.

It took her a lot of effort to hold it in.

In the evening. Edric arrived as expected.

The four of them went to the hotel restaurant.

Ray's expression was not very good. After the few of them sat down, he told everyone the information Sharon had sent back.

When Edwin heard that Foxy had failed, he frowned.

Although he didn't say anything, it was obvious that the failure of the matter had affected him greatly.

"Didn't you say Foxy and Mr. Marcus have an extraordinary relationship? The outside world said that as long as Foxy appears, Mr. Marcus will agree to it. It's a done deal, so how did it end up like this?" Tilda pretended to be a goddess again and drank her water elegantly. She commented as if it was unintentional.

Then, she covered her mouth gently. "Could it be related to Ms. Cress?"

The next moment, she hurriedly apologized, "I'm sorry, I shouldn't have guessed randomly."

"Ms. Gress, which Ms. Cress? Sharon? She's here too? Edric shouted sensitively. His unruly face immediately twisted in disgust. "I think it must be her doing! This woman is too shameless! She was the one who insisted on getting a divorce. Now, she's here to do such a thing. Disgusting!"

Edric hated Sharon to begin with. With just a gentle reminder from Tilda, he was set on fire. He immediately said a bunch of nasty words about Sharon.

“Edric, don’t say that. There’s no evidence. Tilda pretended to persuade him, but the corner of her lips curled up in satisfaction

She wanted everyone to believe that Sharon was behind today’s Incident!

“Do you still need evidence for something like this? She has targeted you more than once or twice!” Edric was furious

He looked at Edwin. “Edwin, she’s been messing around with you so many times. How long are you going to keep quiet?”

What mattered to Edric was not Sharon was causing Edwin trouble but that she was dealing with Tilda, his goddess.

Edwin did not respond. He only remained silent. Ray, on the other hand, could not help but snort coldly.

Dumping My Billionaire Ex Chapter 80

The truth was, he hated being with these two people now.

One was pretending, and the other was stupid...

It was boring.

If not for the fact that Sharon did not allow him to tell the truth, he would have retorted to them and told them Foxy was Sharon.

“Sharon is very clear about gratitude and grudges. She also has a bottom line. She won’t hate anyone because of love, will she target anyone for no reason. If she’s targeting someone, that person should reflect on whether they’ve done anything inhumane to her. As he said this, his gaze landed on ‘Tika

His expression was calm, and his words were scattered. He did not seem to be serious.

However, that glance was like a searchlight, probing into the darkest side of Tilda’s heart.

Her heart was beating wildly, and she could barely maintain her expression.

“Ray, do you like Sharon? Why are you always speaking up for her?” Edric was furious and asked.

Ray did not deny it immediately. Instead, he smiled bitterly. "Even if I like her, I'm not worthy of her."

Crazy!" Edric knew nothing about Sharon's identity, When he heard Ray say that, he rolled his eyes at Ray

"Edwin, we can't rush the whole thing about Mr. Marcus. Why don't we go play for two days and think of a way after we have a good rest?" Tilda lowered her body to grab Edwin's hand and said softly.

"Okay" After a long while, Edwin nodded lightly.

The next day, the sun was shining brightly.

Sharon and Andrew arrived at the golf course early in the morning.

Andrew was wearing a gray ball suit. Although he was 10 years old, he was still energetic.

That head of white hair glowed in the sunlight.

Meanwhile, Sharon was wearing a white jersey.

The jersey's design was slightly conservative. It stuck to her body just right.

The half-sleeved shirt just happened to reveal her slender arms.

Her pants were wrapped around her legs, making them look even longer.

Her hair was tied into a ponytail, making her look youthful and energetic.

Andrew looked at Sharon with admiration. "Young people are indeed different. You look energetic "You're also very energetic and handsome!" Sharon made a praising gesture.

The two of them were like friends, or father and daughter. There was a tacit understanding and affinity between them.

Chapter 80

Andrew chuckled.

Although he was over 40 years old, his face was well-defined, and one could vaguely see the temperament of his youth.

It was not hard to imagine he was also extremely handsome when he was young

The two of them chatted happily as they played golf.

After a few turns, two people walked over.

Seeing the two of them, Sharon frowned slightly and the smile on her face faded.

It was none other than Edwin and Tilda.

Edwin was wearing dark blue sportswear that perfectly showed off his figure.

His face was as calm as a pool, without any ripples. His facial features were extremely handsome, so handsome that it was dazzling

Tilda was wearing a short shirt and shorts. Not only were her slender legs exposed, but her waist was also exposed.

Her hair was tied into a bun, revealing her swanlike neck and collarbone.

There was a hint of charm in her goddessly demeanor.

Sharon took a glance and quickly turned her head.

Edwin stood there without moving.

His gaze was fixed on this side.

“Mr. Marcus?” Tilda quickly recognized him and called out in surprise.

After looking at Andrew, her gaze shifted to Sharon.

Yesterday, Sharon received special permission from Andrew to meet. And today, she accompanied Andrew to play golf

What kind of person was Andrew?

Even if Bisney Entertainment's boss was so influential that Andrew was willing to meet Sharon, there was no need for Andrew to let her play golf with him.

All sorts of thoughts flashed across Tilda's mind, but she could not figure it out.

She was about to ask Edwin something when Edwin walked over. "Hello, Mr. Marcus. My name is Edwin."

Now that they met, be it from a businessman or a polite point of view, they should greet each other.

Tilda quickly followed. "Mr. Marcus, my name is Tilda." She wanted to introduce herself and the script she had acted in, but she swallowed her words when she thought of what Ray had said

Andrew's gaze landed on the two of them indifferently. "Edwin Stanley, the young man in charge of Genesis Group?"

"Yes." Edwin nodded.

He maintained the proper etiquette in front of Andrew. And he was neither servile nor overbearing.

Andrew looked back at Sharon meaningfully. "So, you two know each other?"

17:29 Sun, Sep 8

Chapter 80

"We've met before. Sharon's expression was calmn,

She summarized her relationship with Edwin with simple words

Edwin could not help but frown slightly. He suddenly felt very uncomfortable. 'We had been husband and wife for four years, but she said we've only met before?

It was unknown if Andrew had noticed anything, but he did not expose Sharon's true identity. He only said, "Since we met, fate. Mr. Stanley has come from afar and is a guest. Sharon, you have to receive them well for me."

Sharon was confused.

She looked at Andrew in confusion. 'Is he going to receive Edwin and even ask me to accompany him?"

“Mr. Stanley, I think you know how to play it. Why don’t you spar with Sharon for a few rounds?” Andrew said again.

Tilda was stunned when She heard this. He asked Sharon to spar with Edwin just like that?”

She looked at Sharon again and wondered why Andrew was so polite to her.

The two of them seemed to have an extraordinary relationship

‘Could it be that Bisney Entertainment’s boss and Andrew are close to each other? Tilda wondered.

Naturally, Tilda did not think Sharon was Foxy. She kept guessing at Bisney Entertainment’s boss.

She thought that man was very mysterious. No matter what his identity was, it was not strange.

“Alright,” Edwin replied calmly.

His voice was neither fast nor slow, neither high nor low, and was steady.

Sharon did not know what Andrew was thinking, so she said nothing else. She gestured to Edwin. “Mr. Stanley, please.”

Her tone was calm as if they only knew each other but not familiar.

Edwin frowned again. He did not say anything and followed her out

Tilda watched them leave. Although slightly annoyed, when she thought she finally had a chance to talk to Andrew, she quickly said, “Mr. Marcus, why don’t we go to a shady place to drink coffee and watch their competition?”

There were buildings built in some places with a good view. Sitting on them, one could see very far.

Andrew did not refuse. “Okay”

The two of them turned around and walked toward the coffee house.

Sharon and Edwin came to the starting point.

The caddie was already waiting there.

Sharon took the ball and placed it on the ground. She posed and raised her hand to strike the ball.

Edwin's eyes flashed with surprise as he watched the ball fly up high.

He did not expect Sharon to play golf so well.

She knew how to play golf and race cars...

Chapter 80

After the divorce, Sharon was like an opened treasure box. Every time it was opened, there would be a layer of surprise.

"Mr. Stanley, please Sharon's voice was heard.

She looked clear and bright with a smile and her tone was polite

Her smile was perfect. However, it was as if she had forcibly pulled her heart out. There was not a trace of affection in it

Edwin's heart froze again. He was not used to it.

He picked up the golf shaft but wasn't anxious to touch the ball. Instead, he looked at her. "When did you learn to play golf?"

"It's been a long time," she said flatly.

"How come I've never seen you played before?" It was the first time he'd wanted to get to know her after they divorced for so long. "And I've never seen you raced before.

His words made Sharon smile. "The Stanley family stipulates that I can't leave home. Even if I want to play, I won't have the chance.

Edwin was speechless.

This was Jasmine's idea, but he had never objected,

At that time, he didn't treat her as a family, so he couldn't be bothered to interfere.

Besides, even if I play these, Mr. Stanley, you wouldn't have time to pay attention to it, right?" she added.

These casual words were like a heavy stick that suddenly struck Edwin's back.

He suddenly raised his head in pain and looked at her.

This was supposed to be a sad topic, but she said it smiling as if she had never minded.

With that, she turned around and left, her footsteps light,

Edwin suddenly felt as if a mountain was pressing down on him. It was difficult for him even to step forward.
