Chapter 131 Yes, my lady

Cherry peeked at it for a while, her heart was pounding, and she couldn't control it at all.

Susie's dad is so charming that she can't help herself.

Her cheeks were hot, this feeling of being in love made her intoxicated!

Cherry didn't notice that a male teacher hurriedly came not far away.

This is the physical education teacher in the school. Generally, preschool teachers rarely have male teachers, except in private schools like Wisdom Nursery School.

Almost every class here has a male teacher, and this male teacher is Stone and Cherry's object. one.

Stone is a physical education teacher. He is warm and cheerful, and a very kind person.

He patted Cherry lightly, and Cherry was startled, patted his chest coquettishly: "It's you! You scared me to death."

Stone said, "Come here, follow me."

Cherry asked quickly, "Where are you going?"

Stone took her all the way to a remote place, and then looked up and down nervously at her.

"Are you okay? I heard that two children in your class had a fight, and their parents went to school. You were the one who watched those two children."

Cherry bit her lip and blamed herself: "It's all my fault, I was in a trance at the time. One didn't pay attention."

Stone patted her comfortingly: "It's okay, you don't want to, right. You can't be in a daze when you work in the future."

His tone was helpless, knowing that she was in a daze.

Cherry sniffed and said aggrievedly, "I was thinking about something with you."

Stone asked softly: "Then have you considered it clearly? Choose me or him?"

Cherry suddenly looked pained: “Don’t force me anymore, I’m really in pain!”

“I love you so much, but Mark is really nice and likes me so much. I will collapse without him. Although I don’t like him. I’m really afraid of hurting him.”

“I can’t, really can’t.”

Stone sighed: “Okay, I won’t force you.”

Cherry said again: “Give me some time, and I will slowly let him accept it.”

Stone nodded.

Cherry said again: “By the way, do you know who Susie’s parents are? Especially her father, I just watched it, he looks so amazing, I’m a little scared.”

Stone said: “Susie is Lulu’s younger sister, and her natal family is the Murray family. As for her father, I’m not very clear about that.”

Cherry was secretly startled.

Murray family. It’s that very low-key big family, Murray family?

She thought of the man in a suit who hadn’t spoken much all this time. It turned out that this was the big president in the novel.

Cherry’s heart pounded again.

After the fight, Susie didn’t go home with her father, but insisted on finishing class and didn’t go back until after school.

Lulu saw the wound on Susie’s face and knew that she had fought with someone, so he immediately grinned.

“He dared to bully you!” Lulu said angrily, “Why don’t you call me, I have to beat him too!”

Susie: “Uh, it’s too late if I call you!”

Lulu was distressed: “That’s right. Don’t let me see that child next time, hit him once!”

She was so angry that she told her family that she would take good care of Susie. It was only the first day, and she had painted her face.

Lulu and Susie got on the school bus.

The school buses left one after another, and the parents who picked up their children also came to pick up their children, and the lively kindergarten was quiet again.

Not long after, a boy stood at the entrance of the kindergarten, holding a box of bento in his hand.

Cherry ran out in small steps, rubbed her hands and said coquettishly, "Mark, why are you here? Didn't you say don't come to the kindergarten to find me!"

Mark gave her the bento, pursed his lips and said, "I'm afraid you forgot to eat again, and your stomach hurts."

Cherry took it and said gratefully, "Thank you, you are so kind to me."

Mark said, "Just a thank you?"

Cherry: "Then what else do you want?"

Mark points to his cheek.

Cherry blushed immediately, looked around, and quickly kissed Mark on the cheek.

Then he stomped his feet and said, "It's disgusting!"

After speaking, he ran away quickly holding the bento, like a frightened bird.

Mark couldn't help smiling, and whispered, "It's so cute.

What no one knew was that the philanderer on Cherry's head curled up even tighter with an intoxicated expression on his face.

Alana waited and hoped at the door, and finally when Susie came back, she quickly stretched out her hand to pull her over, with a distressed expression on her face.

"Susie, come here, grandma, take a look, does the injury on your face still hurt?"

Susie shook her head: "It doesn't hurt anymore!"

It's just that the iodine on the wound is red, which is shocking.

Alana was heartbroken.

The last time Kellen took Susie away and kowtowed and hurt her forehead, she also applied iodophor to make it red.

It was just right, and the face was injured again.

Susie didn't care, and stretched out her hand to show: "Grandma, I got a lot of rewards!"

There is a "you are awesome" on her forehead, two "like" thumbs on the back of her left hand, and two ice princesses on the back of her right hand.

As if she had won some grand prize, she showed it to her family one by one.

Not even Alex.

"Alex, look! I have a lot of stickers, only children who behave well! Am I amazing?"

Alex flapped his wings and praised: "Amazing!"

Susie was so happy that she couldn't bear to tear off the stickers in the shower. In the end, Kellen brought her a notebook to collect stickers.

Under each sticker, Susie will explain.

"This one was the loudest when I rolled the roll, and it was rewarded by the teacher!"

Kellen took a pen and wrote a note under this sticker: "Reward for the loudest roll call. Um, okay."

Susie said again: "This one is the first one I finish eating at noon, the cleanest one, and it was rewarded by the teacher."

Kellen: "First place in cooked rice, reward."

Susie: "This is to help the teacher set up a small stool."

Kellen: "The teacher's little helper."

The father and daughter were lying on the desk, writing the memo seriously.

In the blink of an eye, when Kellen was coaxing Susie to sleep, he whispered, "Susie, do you think Dad did the right thing today?"

Susie thought for a while: "It seems wrong to hit someone."

But she also beat Sun. So you can't ask too much of your father.

Kellen touched Susie's little head, and his voice was very pleasant: "Well, Susie is right, it is wrong to hit people. However, there are different ways to deal with different people. Some people you reason with him, and he is right with you." You move your fists, but when you shake your fists with him, it's his turn to reason with you. So sometimes don't be too rigid, it's easy to suffer, you know?"

Susie nodded half understanding.

Kellen didn't expect her to understand much.

He has walked all the way from the darkness, and he understands how dark the other side of the bright world is, and understands the complexity of human nature better than anyone else.

He hopes that his Susie will not bully others, suffer losses, and not be bound by the world, just be a willful and upright person.

Watching Susie gradually fall asleep, Kellen stood up after a long time, stretched, and went out lightly.

Mitch, who had been sitting cross-legged on the side with his eyes closed, opened his eyes and said, "You said you were worried about Susie's father, now you see it?"

Clara's eyes were gloomy, floating like a ball of will-o'-the-wisp: "Yeah."

Mitch: "Don't worry? You can leave this time, right?"

Clara pitifully: "Let's discuss it again! Let me bring my memory and soul rebirth, if it doesn't work, I can start from a fertilized egg!"

Mitch was speechless.

Chapter 132 Money Dropped from the Sky

Mitch laughed angrily.

"Do you really think such a thing exists?" Mitch shook his head: "I think you really read too many novels."

Clara said: "I didn't believe in ghosts until I died. Don't you think there are all of them?"

Clara said pitifully: "I can't do anything wrong. I just want to be with her daughter!"

Mitch was speechless.

Tears flickered in her eyes, and when she blinked her eyelashes, the tears fell: “Hey.” Mitch clutched his forehead, reached out and took out a booklet out of thin air.

Turning to the page belonging to Susie, he said, “It’s not that I don’t allow you to meet, but I’m worried that letting you meet Susie and your family is a use of private power. Everything we do can’t be hidden from this booklet. If this matter is recorded in the booklet, will it affect Susie in the future?”

Mitch couldn’t be sure of that. But if it might affect his little apprentice, he must resolutely kill it in the cradle.

“So I brought you here privately, it’s my own behavior. But if I let you meet Susie, I have something to do with Susie. Do you understand?”

It doesn’t matter what affects him, not Susie!

Clara couldn’t read the words on the booklet, all she saw was a blank space, and it wasn’t until now that she realized that Mitch had taken such a big risk by bringing her up.

“I’m sorry.” She said sadly, “It’s my fault. I’m leaving now.”

Mitch breathed a sigh of relief.

The relaxed Mitch saw Clara’s dejected look, and couldn’t help but pat Clara on the head with the booklet.

“Don’t worry, if there is a fate.”

Before I finished speaking, an accident happened! A flash of lightning suddenly struck outside the window, and thunder rumbled in the sky.

Clara was instantly smashed into bits and pieces by the booklet, flying around uncontrollably like fireflies.

Mitch was intimidated. She is going to disappear?

He hastily stretched out his hand, hurriedly trying to gather Clara who had been shattered into pieces, but it didn’t help!

Clara’s eyes were astonished, and in the end she only had time to say: “I’ll leave Susie to you.”

Before she finished speaking, her soul completely disappeared, leaving no trace behind!

Mitch was covered in cold sweat, stood up anxiously, and flew out.

After chasing him for two miles, he didn't see Clara's soul.

"It's over." Mitch's already pale face became even paler: "It's over, it's over!"

Clara gave birth to Susie out of luck and died young. However, she was actually shot to death by him!

Mitch searched all night but couldn't find Clara.

An urban village far from the Murray family.

A girl rubbed her sore neck, wondering, why did she suddenly feel heavy in her neck??

No one noticed that there was a ghost lying on her neck, it was Clara.

However. Clara's eyes were a little confused at this moment. She looked around and held her head with a headache: "Strange, who am I?"

Clara couldn't remember the past at all at this moment, she didn't even remember how she possessed this girl.

The girl is holding a large bunch of keys and wearing slippers, rubbing her neck as she walks.

Someone saw her and greeted her with a smile: "Jade, go collect the rent! Seeing how tired you are, how many days have you collected it? It's hard work!"

It turned out that the girl was a charter woman named Jade.

She is still in college, and her parents died a few years ago. She inherited 40 buildings left by her parents and became a veritable renter.

Jade dragged on her slippers, held a lollipop in her mouth, and said with a hearty smile, "That's right. There's no way, making money is hard work, otherwise you can wait for money to drop from the sky!"

At this moment, Clara, who was lying on her neck, sneezed.

A bundle of things suddenly fell from the sky and landed at Jade's feet!

Jade withdrew her feet in shock, “Who is throwing the ball?!”

Upon closer inspection, the bundle turned out to be a bundle of money!

Jade was stunned, and stared blankly at the sky, then at the bundle of money at her feet.

Can money really drop from the sky?

Jade picked up the money and waited for a long time before anyone came to claim it. She just picked up a bundle of money inexplicably.

The people around all exclaimed, “I’m going, isn’t this luck too good?”

Jade was completely dumbfounded.

It was dawning soon.

When Susie woke up, she felt energetic and full of energy.

She got up by herself, changed her clothes, brushed her teeth and washed her face, and then cleaned up Juicy.

“I need to bring a change of clothes. A sweat towel. A water cup. Well, the teacher said that I should also bring a light coat.”

Susie stepped onto the chair, took out a small coat hanging from the closet, folded it neatly and put it in her schoolbag.

Doing the whole process by yourself is really very worry-free.

Then she put on her schoolbag and went out happily.

In contrast, Lulu kept yawning and confused his sentences: “Uh, put on the small schoolbag and carry the small water glass on your back. Susie, let’s go.”

Lulu is getting up early now because she is going to kindergarten with Susie.

Craig put away the newspaper and asked, “Is everything packed?”

Susie: “Yeah!”

Lulu: “Yeah.” She yawned as she spoke, and subconsciously opened her schoolbag.

Susie looked up and found that there was a night light and a smelly shoe in her small schoolbag.

Kellen saw Susie and Lulu going out just after the morning exercise, and asked, “Go so early?”

The school bus is waiting outside. There are two school buses, one at 7:30 and the other at 8:00.

It was the eight o’clock bus yesterday, and Kellen thought it was the same today.

Susie nodded: “Yeah, I’m going to kindergarten! Dad, you have to be good at home!”

Kellen smiled lowly: “Heh.”

Alana quickly chased him out and said, “Susie, let’s go after breakfast!”

Susie waved her hand: “No, I’m going to school for breakfast!”

She just realized the novelty of school and thought it was fun, so she just wanted to eat with the children at school.

Alana was suddenly lost: Hey, doesn’t her good granddaughter need her loving breakfast?

After Susie and Lulu, three other little boys got on the bus to primary school.

In the car, Lulu tilted his head and fell asleep on Susie’s shoulder for a second.

Susie turned her head to look left and right, only to see Mitch floating slowly over.

She was taken aback, lowered her voice and asked strangely: “Micky, what’s the matter with you?”

“Did you do something bad last night?”

Mitch was speechless.

You may not believe it, but I shot your mother to death.

Mitch twitched the corners of his mouth, trying to look calm: “It’s okay, I worked overtime last night, I was too tired.”

Susie wonders, does Micky work overtime at night?

She shook her head and didn’t care, but played with the gourd in her hand.

“Gourd, have you filled it yet?” Susie muttered. “Catch ghosts by yourself, can you fill it up yourself?”

Susie continued to mutter: “Huluhulu, did Micky do something bad? Shall we take Micky away?”

Chapter 133 Taking a Wife for Three Generations

When Susie arrived at school, she found out that the little boy Sun who fought with her yesterday was not here today.

A little girl ran over with a bowl in her arms and sat at the same table with Susie, looking at Susie with bright eyes.

It was the girl who was kicked off the stool by Sun yesterday.

“Susie, you are amazing!” the little girl said, “My name is Lumi, do you remember me?”

Susie nodded while cooking: “Remember!”

Oh, she has a good memory!

Lumi said excitedly: “My mother said, Sun was beaten to the hospital by you!”

Susie was taken aback: “What?”

Lumi immediately turned her head and lowered her voice-it has the temperament of a village gossip intelligence bureau.

“Sun’s grandma posted a message in the class group yesterday, scolding the teacher, the school, and your dad! Then your dad scolded him back!”

Susie said: Is there such a thing?

Why didn’t she know, neither uncle nor father told her.

Susie asked seriously: “How do you know that!”

Lumi said: “My mother said, Sun’s grandma also sent a photo of Sun in hospital, I saw it.”

Susie was shocked.

Hospitalized like this?

She was very puzzled, she didn’t even try hard, and Sun was hospitalized.

Lumi expressed that she was very happy. She was also nicknamed by Sun before, and he even pinched her face.

She said not to pinch her face, but the angrier she got, the more energetic Sun became.

Then she told her mother, and her mother talked to Grandma Sun.

Lumi will never forget that day, Grandma Sun and her mother had a quarrel at the door of the classroom.

His grandma said loudly: [You said our Sun pinched her, did you see it was him? I think your Lumi is lying! Is she not doing well? What are you complaining about?]

Her mother said it was not good for boys to pinch girls' faces and hoped they would tell Sun not to do it.

Unexpectedly, Grandma Sun said: [Children are clean, how can there be so many dirty thoughts! My kids just pinch it if they like to play together, but your family is hypocritical.]

At that time, many people gathered around, and Lumi felt extremely ashamed and sad, as if it was her fault.

Her mother had no choice but to tell her to stay away from Sun and not to play with him.

Now that Susie beat Sun to the hospital, Lumi felt that her parents seemed very happy, so she thought Susie was very powerful and a superhero!

Several other children heard it and started chatting.

The chat between the children is always weird, Lumi also announced loudly: Sun is a naughty little boy, Susie has fixed him now, Susie is very good.

Lumi: "Susie is super awesome!"

Several other children: "Super powerful!"

Lumi: "Woohoo, superhero!"

A few other children: "Woohoo, superhero!"

Susie was full of doubts.

Although I don't quite understand why, Susie is still very happy that she suddenly has four good friends, and they stick together and play together all day long.

On the other side, in the hospital.

Grandma Sun was furious in the doctor's office: "My grandson said it was in pain, but you didn't find out what you said! You quack doctors! You trash!"

The doctors were speechless.

X-rays were also taken, and MRIS were also done.

Even the whole body examination, CT, blood drawing, etc. have all been checked.

There was nothing wrong with the little boy, no internal bleeding, no trauma, no fluid accumulation, except that the knee was a little red.

"Calm down, your grandson just suffered a little trauma, don't worry."

Unexpectedly, Grandma Sun turned up the volume: "What are you talking about? Just a little injury?!"

"How is it possible! He kept crying, saying that his knee hurts! You have done tens of thousands of tests and said it was fine. Are you cheating money? I want to expose you!"

The doctor was speechless. In the end, I could only write a very general conclusion on the case report: suspected ligament injury.

Grandma Sun was not very satisfied. She felt that this conclusion was written too lightly, and she was reluctant:

"I've checked it on Baidu. It's very likely that my grandson's condition is a meniscus injury. You should also write it up."

The doctor's work was seriously affected by her disturbance, and the Department of Pediatrics was the most stressful department.

He had no choice but to write this down too, and to be on the safe side, he added a line at the end.

[Suspected ligament injury, suspected meniscus injury, further examination is recommended.]

Grandma Sun was not very satisfied, but she got what she wanted.

As soon as he turned his head, he posted on the Internet that his grandson was beaten to the hospital, and the doctor suspected that it was a ligament injury and a meniscus injury.

Grandma Sun cried in front of the camera: [The grandson went to kindergarten in the morning and was fine, but he was injured when he came back. I, an old woman, went to the other parent to argue and was slapped by them.]

[Our grandson didn't offend anyone! It was when he accidentally touched the child's hair while doing exercises, and he was beaten!]

【That girl is too violent. She learned from her father. She hits people when she disagrees with her. She is very arrogant without apologizing even if she has the support of an adult. 】

[We just wanted an apology from the other party, thinking that everyone from the same school would just apologize, but we never expected it.]

Old lady wiping tears to the camera.

There are videos of hospitalization, diagnostic reports, big ones wiping tears, and small ones crying in pain.

The old lady bought traffic again and pushed hard.

Immediately ignited the anger of the majority of netizens!

【unacceptable! There are really what kind of parents there are what kind of children! Among other things, if you can do anything to an old me, this kind of person is definitely not a good person. 】

[I've seen a lot of kids like this, really, it's a parent's habit to throw things and hit people when they feel unsatisfactory!]

[Hurry up and call the police! Teach her a lesson! She's still a child, don't let her go!]

There are a lot of reverse slaps on the Internet, but the vast majority of netizens will never have a long memory, and they clamored for the school to give an explanation.

The old lady was very proud, very satisfied with her wit!

Soon Sun's parents rushed to the hospital.

The couple are really too busy. Usually they don't touch the ground and rarely go home. This time they only understood what happened to Sun after hearing what the old lady said.

Sun's mother asked anxiously: "Mom, what are you doing? Do you know that the Murray family is opposite! The richest Murray family in Los Angeles!"

The old lady snorted: "Why are you afraid of him? The richest is great? Our ancestors are richer than them!"

But then it disappeared. Since she married into the family, she didn't know why she began to plummet. Otherwise, they are also a family with heritage!

"Besides, we have the support of the Morton family! We are all partners, and Hallie and I have a pretty good relationship."

In short, Sun is her baby, she can't swallow this breath.

Sun's mother had to look at Sun's father.

Sun's father was wearing a suit, and his beer belly was about to blow the buttons off.

He frowned and said unhappily: "My mother is right!"

The child's problem is the bottom line, his son is hospitalized, should they bear it?

His mother said it was the other party who hit someone first.

They are right, what are they afraid of.

With the affirmation of her son, the old lady became even more arrogant.

Started posting a second video:

[Today I went to talk to the other parent again, but the other party was very arrogant and said to give me one million, and let me hand over my grandson to him for another two beatings!]

[This parent's father is very powerful, with big flower tattoos on his arms, he even beat the old lady, and knocked out my teeth.]

The old lady exposed her dentures.

Netizens are outraged.

This is definitely a black and evil force!

What Susie's father is obviously a violent maniac, even the old lady beats her!

Seeing the explosion of traffic on this hot event, many bloggers and Internet celebrities rushed in like a tide, chasing the traffic one after another.

Mom talks about parenting v: [I think that the frequent occurrence of school bullying incidents is because there are such children since they were young, and they beat others but did not receive severe punishment.]

The first line of gossip v: [I picked it up for you today, the child who hit someone is the little princess of the Murray family! What kind of family is the Murray family? How spoiled is this little princess? And listen to me slowly. I

Real-time hot comments v: [Then I also heard that the Murray family has eight sons and eight grandchildren, but only one female doll. Since she was born, this girl has been pampered so that her feet never touch the ground, and she is hugged everywhere. She can't walk until she is three years old, so she didn't go to kindergarten until she was four years old. For a meal, she will make a full banquet for her to choose, and throw away the ones she doesn't like immediately. Then in this kind of child who has no bottom line to spoil, it is not surprising that she beats someone if she disagrees with her.]

Some Internet celebrity bloggers know how to say to get traffic.

As long as the audience's anger and emotions are aroused, the more comments, the more likes, and the more bonuses they can get.

So I don't care about the truth at all, just 'investigate' it hastily, and even make it up directly.

Anyway, it is difficult for them to get in touch with the circle of the Murray family. How come it is so hot, and finally add the phrase "viewpoint comes from the Internet". Generally, they are warned to delete the video, and nothing will happen..

So this thing spread more and more outrageous. So much has been said. that the false has become true.

Susie has become the most annoying kid on the Internet, and Kellen has become a bully with nothing to do and tattoos everywhere.

[The scum of society, the blood-sucking worm!]

[I hate children the most in my life, all the children are going to die!]

The old lady is even more proud when she sees that the public opinion on the Internet is favorable to her, and she feels so happy in her heart!

Isn't the Murray family amazing? Come if you have the ability!

The Murray family never imagined that one day they would be raped by the Internet.

The swearing words on the Internet are ugly, and the Murray family got angry, so they directly called the police and sent a lawyer's letter!

But those people are self-righteous, isn't it just a lawyer's letter? Are they paid less?

This kind of national entertainment matter, even if the defendant is really accused in the end, it is enough to issue an apology statement as soon as possible. It has always been like this, and the cost of pursuing it is too high, and no one will really pursue it.

The most important thing now is to make money from traffic!

Wade was very angry. Compared to the Murray family going through legal procedures, he didn't care so much as a child, so he scolded directly:

[If you don't know the truth, don't talk nonsense, okay? Beware of being struck by lightning!]

[Garbage that doesn't know anything!]

[You are disgusting, your whole family is disgusting!]

Little Wade, the battle of words. After scolding a full ten G of traffic, I realized that I forgot to turn on wifi.

Susie accidentally saw those videos.

The little guy was happily playing with the parrot, but he was stunned.

"Uncle, did I do something wrong?" Susie asked.

Martin said, "No, you're right."

Susie asked again: "Then why do they say that? Obviously they did something wrong, why did they scold us?"

Alana had no choice but to say: "Because they don't know anything, they just listen to others."

Susie didn't understand even more.

Since I don't know anything. Then why did they speak so forcefully and with burning words, as if they had seen it with their own eyes.

Why can you judge a person at will when you don't know the truth.

Kellen was silent, picked up Susie and went back to the room.

The Murray family felt distressed, so they could only bear with it and deal with the online affairs first.

In the evening, the Murray family's public relations team went online, explained the ins and outs of the incident, and declared that Susie had not hurt anyone, and could cooperate with the other party to go to a higher-level hospital for examination.

In addition, sue all Internet bloggers and hold them accountable for spreading rumors!

The Murray family also called the police. The police reported the truth and are investigating. It is illegal to spread rumors at will.

Those Internet bloggers were stunned.

Isn't it, just talking about it, so stingy to block the video all over the Internet?

For a while, those who deleted the video, and those who had resentment in their hearts began to curse people with trumpets. The Murray family is so rich, so they just make some money and don't give it back. Isn't this stingy?

[Why is the video gone? Is a certain family so powerful?]

[Even the police can buy it?]

[Brothers, I received a lawyer's letter from the Murray family! Ouch, I'm so scared! Is there still a place to tell the truth these days?]

Those watching the excitement, they are more willing to believe their own guesses.

Even if there is clarification from the police, they still feel that the world is dark.

No wonder an old man and child can be bullied to such an extent.

So they have to uphold justice!

Seeing the shocking information on the Internet, Flora couldn't bear it any longer, so she stood up with her real name.

[I am the class teacher of this incident, and I was there at the time. I can say responsibly: things are not as you imagined!]

Flora recorded a long five-minute video explaining all the details of what happened that day.

Unexpectedly, instead of calming down the netizens, it attracted a bigger wave of ridicule!

[Hey, the Murray family's PR is amazing! Even the teacher bought it!]

[I don't believe a word of what you said! Tell me, how much did you charge me? Do you deserve to be a teacher?]

[Just speechless, anyway, now that you have money, you can really do whatever you want, right?]

Flora didn't expect things to develop in a worse direction, and everyone was stupid.

Lumi's mother hesitated all night, and finally stood up under pressure:

[I am the parent of this class. I testify that Flora will never lie. The little boy in this incident often bullied other children. My daughter was also bullied by him, and his old lady was very unreasonable.]

Without exception, they were also stunned:

[Tsk tsk, you said you can testify if you testify? You also received money?

[Laughing, how many people did the Murray family buy? It is predicted that there will definitely be other parents who claim to be in this class to come out to speak for this little princess!]

[The Murray family is in a hurry! If you say you are innocent, you have the ability to release the video!]

[Don't ask about the video, just ask about 'the monitoring was damaged at the time of the incident'.]

As long as it speaks for Susie, it will be regarded as fake news.

In this world, whether it is politics or business, the most difficult thing to control is the mouths of netizens.

"Is there surveillance?" Craig asked coldly.

Martin's face was slightly cold: "The monitoring "just happened" to be broken."

Once an accident occurs, the monitoring is just bad. I didn't expect this kind of thing to happen to them!

Chapter 135 Susie's Transformation Again

Craig frowned, and said coldly, "Is the monitoring really broken?"

Martin hands Craig the findings.

"According to regulations, the public part of public kindergartens must install monitoring equipment to ensure that children are well-documented when accidents occur. But there is no requirement to install monitoring equipment inside classrooms."

"Wisdom Nursery School is a private kindergarten, which is more inclined to "de-monitoring" and the concept of fully trusting teachers, so the public part is equipped with monitoring, but the monitoring in the classroom is always in a state of 'damage'."

Craig grimaced and pressed the results of the investigation on the table.

"Check! The Murray family wants to check, but I don't believe they can't find it!" upstairs.

Susie was lying on the table, stroking Alex's feathers with her small hands.

She asked silently: "Micky, why are those people like this?"

Mitch pursed his lips: "It's like this in this world. We can't control the mouth growing on other people."

A thousand people have a thousand opinions.

They believe they 'seeing is believing', but they don't know that sometimes what they see is what other people show on purpose for them to see.

Susie felt wronged: "But I'm not wrong."

If she did it all over again, she thought she might still hit him.

This is the first time for Susie to be deeply involved in cyberbullying. She doesn't understand why the world is like this, and she doesn't understand why they say the same thing as the truth one by one when they obviously haven't done it.

Susie even wondered if she had really done these things.

Kellen stood at the door, silently looking at the unhappy Susie.

She was still hurt after all.

There is no monitoring in the kindergarten, but there will be a third eye near the kindergarten.

The third eye is different from surveillance, and the third eye is more in the hands of the government to maintain social order.

The high-definition third eye can zoom in to see even the bird's nest on the tree.

He can use his authority to check the third eye nearby, and if he is lucky, he can restore the whole incident.

Over the years, there is nothing he can't do!

After the incident fermented, the other brothers of the Murray family, who found out that Susie had been raped by the Internet, rushed home urgently.

Ryan was furious, never thought that such a well-behaved little niece of himself would be arranged like this!

Michael was so angry that he smashed the hood of the car and dented it.

Regardless of the consequences, Jonathan stood up to defend Susie on the spot, and quickly attracted a large wave of black fans.

Everyone gathered in the study, and Martin forbade them to disturb Susie now, for fear that their emotions would affect Susie.

Michael glared angrily: "Is that the way to go? I'm going to find that dead old woman and beat her to death!"

Jonathan crossed his arms and pushed the glasses frame: "Count me in."

Martin said coldly: "The public opinion on the Internet is too hot now, so we can only proceed step by step. Don't mess around."

No matter what they do now, the other party can bite back, which is not good for them.

Could it be that they can kill people directly, disregard the law, and justify what netizens say?

Unless there is monitoring, even if the old lady can be threatened to change her words now, the netizens still don't believe it and continue to say things that hurt Susie.

Martin really didn't want Susie to get hurt any more.

The brothers of the Murray family were very annoyed.

Inside the house, Susie was still in a slump.

She has heard a lot of truths, but still can't figure out the world.

Mitch sat cross-legged in front of Susie silently, and asked, "So, does Susie still have the courage to resist?"

Susie raised her eyes and asked, "Can you?"

Mitch: "If you think you can, you can! Your courage is the arrow of light that you use to defeat all the monsters in the world."

In order to comfort Susie, Mitch brought out all the terms in the Ultraman cartoon.

"You can say no to those online violence loudly, you can stand up bravely and defend yourself. You can do a lot, even if the storm is more violent, as long as you are not afraid, then there is nothing to fear."

Susie listened to Mitch's words, and the light in Susie's heart rekindled.

No one knows, this will be Susie's most important transformation.

Susie clenched her small fist and said firmly, "I can, I have to explain myself!"

With a sound, Alex flapped his wings: "Susie is great, Susie, come on!"

Susie ran to Wade's room in soft slippers.

The hair on Wade's head was messed up by himself, and he was still arguing with the Internet.

Seeing Susie approaching, he quickly put away his phone and asked, “Susie, what’s wrong?”

Susie said, “You don’t need to hide it! I know it all.”

Wade was silent, thinking of comforting words: “Susie, don’t listen to their nonsense, those people don’t know anything at all. My dad has already settled the matter!”

Susie shook her head: “Brother, I want to say it myself.”

Wade was at a loss for a moment, “What?”

Susie said loudly: “I want to speak for myself!”

“I dare to stand up and say clearly what I haven’t done!”

“They can’t bully me!”

Wade opened his mouth, and was immediately ignited with a raging fire in his heart: “Okay! I’ll set up the equipment for you right now!”

The two children really started to set up equipment and record videos, and they did it without any hesitation.

If Susie was looking for Martin, Martin would never let her mess around.

But when children do things, they don’t think about the consequences, and they don’t look forward and backward like adults.

Go forward bravely and go on a rampage, even if you make a mistake and get injured, you still have a kind of momentum.

When Martin found out that Susie was “speaking for himself”, it was too late to stop him.

The Murray family was sullen in the study, exhausting all rational solutions, and slowly trying to solve the problem.

Unexpectedly, a new push was received suddenly.

After clicking on it, everyone in the Murray family was stunned.

Susie sat obediently in front of the camera, her little hands still stacked obediently on her knees.

She blinked her eyes wide, showing some nervousness.

Then I asked: “Are you ready? Can we start?”

Wade's voice came from beside him: "Okay."

Susie then looked directly at the camera and said, "Hello, uncles and aunts, brothers and sisters."

"I'm Susie, the bad kid you're talking about."

Susie bit her lip. When she first spoke, she didn't dare to look at the camera, but gradually, she became more and more brave.

"I did hit Sun, but I don't think I made a mistake. In the beginning, I was eating breakfast, and Sun said I was a big belly woman. I was very angry and told him to stop, but Sun still said. He ignored him and ran to roll call."

Susie's voice is soft and she is very quiet.

Alana always wanted to cry when she was this quiet.

What did her Susie do wrong? Why are there always so many disasters?

In the camera, Susie continued talking. "It was my first day in kindergarten. The teacher asked me to introduce myself. I happily said: Hello everyone, my name is Susie, and I am very happy to be friends with you. But Sun made a fuss and gave me nicknames. The teacher asked Sun Apologizing, Sun said sorry quickly, but I didn't want to forgive him at all, because I thought he was insincere. So I ignored him, but during class, Sun suddenly pulled my hairpin."

Susie touched her little head and said, "Here, he just tore away my bunny hairpin, and my hair was ripped off. It hurts so much. I said how could you do this, but he didn't listen, he also pulled my braid and said to untie my hair. I was angry, so I also grabbed his hair, he hit me, and I hit him. too!"

A trace of stubbornness appeared in Susie's eyes: "I don't think I did anything wrong. Dad said we don't bully others, but when others bully us, we must not let others think we are easy to bully."

As she spoke, tears welled up in her eyes: "But uncles and aunts, brothers and sisters, you all said that I did something wrong. You all called me a bad boy. The uncles are very anxious, and my father is also very worried. They have been working hard I'm telling the truth, but you don't believe me. I want to ask, did you see with your own eyes why Sun and I fought? Why can you call me a bad boy without knowing anything?"

Susie's tears fell down, and she wiped them off stubbornly, but she wiped more and more.

Finally, I burst into tears: "Why can't those who tell the truth be believed, and why are there so many people who support nonsense? Could it be that I did something wrong?"

Chapter 136 Susie Don't Be Afraid. Daddy is Here

In the camera, the little child cried very sadly. She didn't know what she did wrong, let alone why all the uncles and aunts said she was a bad child.

She was wronged, and she didn't understand the world even more.

She was hesitant, but bravely looking for an exit.

Wade ran up quickly and brought her a tissue in a panic: "Don't cry, be good."

Susie cried very sadly.

"I'm not wrong!" Susie sobbed: "If he bullies me again, I'll still beat him."

Wade didn't know what to do, so he hugged her.

"Yeah, you're not wrong, if he comes again, I'll beat him with you too!"

"We just did nothing wrong!" Wade said firmly.

At the end of this video, Wade kept wiping Susie's tears, and finally he seemed to remember that the video was not turned off, and ran to turn off the camera again.

The entire video has not been edited, and it is the end here.

online.

After seeing this video, many people fell silent.

The little girl in the video is sitting obediently, her hands are well placed.

Quiet, it hurts.

The sentence [Why are those who tell the truth not believed, and why are there so many people who support nonsense? Am I really doing something wrong?]. Poke their hearts straight, but they can't answer.

Someone hesitated and said: [I think, did we really misunderstand something?]

[Look at the wound on this little girl's face, it seems to be much more serious than that of the little boy. I

[Tears, I couldn't help crying. Yes, why? Is what we see online really the truth?

【I don't know what happened, but at this moment, I choose to believe Susie! The grievance in her eyes cannot be faked!】

【Yeah, when this child cries, it makes my heart ache. If it's really like what she said, then she is indeed right to beat someone! If it were me, I couldn't help but want to fight! 】

It's just that among the well-intentioned remarks, harsh voices are still inevitably mixed in:

[The tutor of the rich is really amazing! How long has this child been crying for this effect?]

[Look at what she said, can a child ask such profound questions? Obviously someone wrote the lines first! 】

[If you are so good at acting at such a young age, why don't you enter the entertainment industry? Oh, I forgot, one of her uncles is an actor in the entertainment industry! 】

[No wonder you can act so well! It's so fake, if one of what she said is true, I will kneel down and kowtow to her during the live broadcast, brothers, take a screenshot of my words, hahahaha. 】

[Do you deliberately turn off the video after crying to increase credibility?]

The old lady who was still in the VIP ward of the hospital saw Susie's video.

After seeing Susie cry, she laughed very loudly.

Cry, will you cry now?

Wasn't yesterday awesome? What's the use of crying without evidence?

If they have the ability, they can show their innocence with videos, otherwise they don't want to prove it. Kindergartens are not monitored.

The old lady smiled so happily.

Murray family.

After watching the video, Alana couldn't help but control the wheelchair so that it flew up and rushed to Susie's side.

The Martin brothers also clenched their fists tightly, as if their hearts had been cut into pieces.

Susie has quieted down, and is sitting on the sofa in a daze.

"Grandma's good Susie!" She couldn't help but shed tears.

Susie was a little surprised, "Grandma, why are you crying? Don't cry."

She hurriedly took the tissue and said, "Grandma is not in good health, so don't cry!"

Alana couldn't help crying even more, the little guy was really kind, even though he was very sad, he comforted her instead.

This made her feel even worse.

"Susie, don't worry about those people on the Internet, your uncle will take care of it." Craig said softly.

Martin nodded: "Well, as long as Susie grows up happily, uncle will do the rest."

Michael has a bad temper: "Yes! No one dares to say that you are a bad boy. I went to his house overnight and smashed his phone!"

Susie looked at the grandparents, uncles in front of her, and she felt confident in her heart.

"Yeah." She said, "But I still want to see, do they know?"

The little man felt that he had tried very hard to explain.

Martin hesitated, unwilling to show Susie the comments.

Susie can't read, they want to read to her, they can't read those vicious words, but Susie insists on listening.

Adults, you look at me, and I look at you.

At this time, a voice came from the door: "I'll read." It was Hamza.

With a small face, somewhat similar to Martin and Craig, he walked in with steady steps.

Hamza glanced at Susie and asked, "Are you sure you won't cry?"

Susie shook her head: "No, Susie is very brave!"

After recording the video and crying, she suddenly felt that she could stand up.

She felt that she had more courage.

Hamza nodded, reading the comments slowly.

There are good and bad.

Those who are not good speak even worse.

Susie felt very happy at first, because someone believed her!

But those sharp and piercing voices gradually made her more sad.

“It doesn’t matter, there are uncles and aunts who believe it anyway.” Susie comforted everyone.

Everyone in the Murray family felt their noses were slightly sore.

Obviously he was very sad, but he tried his best to smile and comfort them.

Such a good angel baby, how could those people say such ugly words. At this moment, the Murray family would rather believe that there is retribution in this world.

Susie smiled on her face, but a layer of darkness was unavoidably shrouded in her heart.

The more Susie thinks the more sad she feels.

She was only four years old, but she experienced the feeling of powerlessness for the first time. The world is falling, as if falling into an abyss, and the surroundings are getting darker.

It seemed that her efforts were of no use.

Just at this time, a new video hit with an explosion of comments, like a flood, unstoppable!

In the video, half of Kellen’s body is in the dark, but his eyes are extremely bright.

He said: [Susie, don’t be afraid, Dad is here.]

Immediately afterwards, he opened his third eye and zoomed in on the videos he found that were taken by the third eye!

These videos are not very complete, some only shoot the door of the classroom, some only shoot the back of the classroom, and some only shoot a window.

Fortunately, the third eye has hundreds of millions of pixels, and the enlarged pictures are stitched together to finally make up a complete event.

In the picture, Susie is struggling to cook, and there is a little boy next to him who doesn't know what to say, and then laughs.

Several children around also laughed, Susie got angry and said something seriously.

Instead of restraining himself, the little boy even made a grimace.

At this time a teacher came over, and the little boy ran away.

After a while, Susie stood in front of the students talking, and the little boy below started laughing again.

Although I couldn't hear what he said, the look on his face was irritating.

What did the teacher and Susie say, the boy showed reluctance on his face, and this happened again.

Soon came the highlight, the little boy forcefully pulled the hairpin off Susie's head, Susie seemed to be in pain, she turned her head while covering her head in surprise.

After she said a few words, the boy didn't restrain himself at all, and ever continued to reach out and pull her hair.

At this time, Susie moved the small stool aside politely before going up to pull the boy's hair, and the two started fighting.

This is no different from what Susie described!

Those people on the Internet who laughed and spoke harshly just now lost their voices in an instant.

All of them are desperately looking for their own comment records, and delete comments quickly.

Chapter 137 W Victorious

The kindergarten video is over, and it's not over yet.

Kellen released the video of the hospital again!

It was too troublesome to go through the process to retrieve the hospital surveillance video, Kellen couldn't wait, and directly hacked the hospital's network!

The surveillance video of the hospital is wonderful, with pictures and sound.

The old lady changed her crying and pitiful posture in the online video, and asked the doctor to make a diagnosis for her with her eyes wide open and unreasonable.

Immediately afterwards, in the ward, the family was talking, and the old lady was very arrogant.

A video of a little boy crying because of pain circulated on the Internet. The reason was not because of his 'wound pain', but because he wanted to eat fried chicken, and the old lady couldn't buy it for a while, so he cried loudly.

The whole network was shocked.

【Oh my God. This is the worst time I've ever been misled. 】

[It turns out that what the little girl said is true, and what the Murray family clarified is also true! It's ridiculous that they all said they were fake at the time.]

[My heart was very dull, I remembered what Susie said while crying.

Why do no one believe those who tell the truth, but why do those who tell lies have so much support? 】

Some people were silent and did not dare to make a sound, while some still jumped out and cursed.

It's just that they scolded the Murray family for being rich and covering the sky with one hand, and scolded Susie for acting and deceiving people at a young age. Now, they scold little boys and children, and old ladies are hateful.

[Nowadays, people just don't use their brains to surf the Internet, right? Internet violence against a little girl, you are still not human! 】

[There are also those bloggers who will take the rhythm! We strongly demand that they be held accountable for spreading rumors!】

[I'm really convinced! What about those people who called me a little girl before? Why are you so vicious, stand up now, why don't you dare to stand up!]

Someone keeps deleting comments.

Naturally, there are non-stop screenshots.

Someone took a screenshot of the previous comment scolding Susie and found that these ids are very familiar.

Most of the people who scolded the most justly and solemnly were the same group of people!

[Hehe, fine score? You used to scold my little girl yourself, but now you pretend to be righteous, and you scold your former self in turn?]

[Where is the man who asked us to take screenshots of kowtowing live broadcast? I put the screenshot here, when will you kowtow to apologize live?]

[I don't care about these! I'm so pissed off right now, I just want to ask that nasty old woman when she will come out and apologize!]

There was another quarrel on the Internet, how distressed Susie was crying just now, now that they know the truth, how much they defend.

Someone even recorded a video, solemnly apologizing to Susie.

[Susie, don't cry, you are right, we are wrong. This impetuous society is Wrong.]

[Susie, I'm sorry, I scolded you before I didn't understand anything, I was wrong.]

Susie looked at these apologies, with tears still on her eyelashes, but couldn't help laughing

It turns out that hard work can really achieve what you want!

Kellen's words [Susie, don't be afraid, Dad is here], is like a ray of light, cutting through the darkness and completely illuminating her heart!

Just as he was thinking, the door was pushed open.

Kellen was dressed in black, with slightly curly black hair hanging unrulyly in front of his forehead, his slender figure still covered the doorway.

He slightly hooked his lips and opened his hands: "Susie, Dad is back!"

Susie flew over, Kellen easily picked her up and lifted her in the air!

Susie hugged Kellen's neck tightly.

"We won." Kellen looked at her like a returning general: "We won!"

Susie cheered: “Yeah, we won, we won! Daddy is great, Susie is great!”

“Uncle is great too, brother is great, grandpa and grandma are great.”

The little guy was so excited that he ordered all the human and non- human ones.

Alana smiled and couldn't help but choked up.

While cheering, Kellen's phone rang.

The voice of Roger, the subordinate of Grudge, collapsed through the microphone, and everyone could vaguely hear:

“What are you doing again? That's the network of the police department and the military department. You dare to hack. Someone from above has asked you to ‘have a meeting’.”

Kellen rubbed his nose.

Susie looked at him with bright eyes and asked, “Dad, what's wrong with Uncle?”

Kellen said without changing his expression, “Uncle told me to go over to have dinner.”

Martin looked softly at the father and daughter in front of him.

Kellen's done, next, it's his turn.

The truth came out, at this time he could do whatever he wanted with money, as netizens said.

Mitch, who had been silent all this time, also backed out silently.

Different from the relaxation and cheers of the Murray family, the atmosphere of the Sun family was terribly depressed at this time.

The old lady watched the words scolding herself on the Internet, the scolding was too harsh, she couldn't bear it.

“These blind people are all blind!”

She cursed and was half dead with rage.

What are you scolding, there is no such ugly scolding.

Don't you know that she is an old lady and her heart can't take it?

The old lady didn't expect that Susie's father was so powerful that he could actually find the video!

How can this be done.

Now she is so wronged that she wants to record a video to refute, but she has no excuses.

The old lady was angry and anxious, and couldn't help walking back and forth.

Sun's father was so angry that he was half dead, and asked: "Mom, didn't you say that it was the other party's fault before! Why is it like this!"

Sun's mother also said: "That's right, you said I hit our Sun for no reason, but that's not the case!"

This old woman is going to kill them all!

The Murray family is so rich and powerful, doesn't this make them the king of Tianliang?!

I told her not to do this a long time ago, she must listen!

The old lady threw away her crutches immediately, sat on the ground and cried loudly: "Oh, I usually take Sun with you, and you don't care about it. Now if something happens, blame me?"

"I was looked down upon by my son and scolded by my daughter-in-law. I didn't take care of Sun well."

Sun's mother rolled her eyes and tried this trick again.

She has had enough!

Chapter 138 Stap in the Face 1 The Ancestor Comes to the Door 288 (Vouchers)

The old lady cried for a while and found that no one paid attention to her.

While watching cartoons, Sun lost his temper and kicked the things off the coffee table: "It's so noisy! Can you please keep your voice down!"

The old lady's voice couldn't help but lowered a little.

Sun's father was holding the phone, and said distressedly: "I don't know what's going on, Mr. Murray hasn't answered the phone."

The Mr. Murray he was talking about was Laith, the eldest son of the Morton family.

Sun's mother also sighed: "The most urgent thing now is to find a backer. This matter is too much trouble, and the Murray family will definitely not let it go. I will not let our family go bankrupt right away!"

I used to think that I was right, if the Murray family dared to bankrupt them, they would go online and say that the Murray family is covering the sky with one hand and doing whatever they want. But now they are the ones being scolded by the whole Internet, even if the Murray family makes them go bankrupt, the Internet will only be full of applause.

The more the couple thought about it, the more they regretted it. The old lady was all to blame.

The old lady immediately said: "I know Hallie well, I'll call her!"

After speaking, he took out his mobile phone and made several calls before he got through.

The old lady laughed immediately: "Hello, Hallie, it's me."

Hallie's angry voice came from the opposite side: "Your family don't call us anymore, you want to kill us!" He hung up the phone without explaining the reason.

The old lady's family was shocked.

"The Morton family is so powerful, why are you still afraid of the Murray family?"

As everyone knows, the Morton family is almost scared to death now.

After the birthday party, they lost all face. The big families who had been begging for their cooperation all ran away, and all the relationships they were proud of were all severed with them.

At the beginning, they still said that Kellen was their grandson behind their backs, but in the end, Kellen fixed him up and didn't dare to talk nonsense anymore.

They had no choice but to cooperate with the small families who were not there at the time. When they sent invitations before, they felt that they were not qualified.

It was not easy to find the small family of the old lady, who had a bit of background and was easy to fool. In the end, they actually provoked Susie!

The more Hallie thought about it, the more angry she became, and she said depressedly: “This Susie, at the beginning, said she wanted to recognize me, but now she doesn’t even ask.”

She regretted it to death in her heart, if she had recognized Susie at the beginning, she would be the old lady with the highest status in Los Angeles now!

How can I be so aggrieved like now!

This night, I don’t know how many people can’t sleep.

The old lady tossed and turned, the more she thought about it, the more wronged she became.

She just wanted to protect her grandson, so what was wrong with her.

After tossing until midnight, the old lady gradually fell asleep.

However, just as she closed her eyes, she saw a man in a white robe with a pale complexion standing in front of her, staring straight at her.

The old lady opened her eyes again with a fright.

“It scared me to death.” The old lady patted her chest, “It turned out to be a dream.”

At this moment, the window slammed lightly, and something fell down.

The old lady subconsciously turned her head to look. This look almost scared her away.

I saw a row of “people” standing upright outside the window.

They all stared at her coldly. When the wind blew, the curtains rolled up, and in the blink of an eye they all entered the room from outside the window.

The old lady screamed, only feeling the heat in the bed, she was scared to pee.

“Help. Help!”

The old lady got up and wanted to run, but her hands and feet were soft and she fell to the ground.

She was fascinated, screaming as she crawled outside: “Help. There is a ghost. There is a ghost!”

Just then, a pair of shoes stood in front of her.

The old lady was so frightened that she sobbed, and when she poked her head tremblingly, she saw a pair of eyeballs staring straight at her.

And this person is too familiar, she was the mother-in-law who fought with her to death when she was young and was pissed off by her.

The old lady was going to be scared out of her wits.

Her mother-in-law gave a grinning smile, gritted her teeth and said, “Zoe, you are awesome! Don’t you think our family has been hurt enough by you?”

An old ancestor was so angry that he grabbed the old lady’s feet and pulled her out.

“Go! Go now!”

The old lady screamed and cried: “No! Help! Help!”

“I don’t want to die, I don’t want to die, I haven’t lived enough.”

Terrible screams pierced the sky.

It’s a pity that Sun’s parents suddenly received a call in the middle of the night and hurried to the company.

Sun slept soundly, leaving only the old lady’s shrill screams.

the next day.

Sun woke up too hungry and knocked on the door of his grandma’s room, but there was no answer.

He opened the door and went in, but smelled a bad smell.

Then he saw the old lady lying on the ground with her mouth crooked and her eyes slanting, which made him jump up in fright, and ran out screaming.

“Mom, grandma has become a ghost!!”

Their family’s financial problems were reported and exposed, and they were seized overnight.

Zoe had a stroke at this time. Although she saved her life, she was paralyzed in bed and unable to take care of herself.

She treated her daughter-in-law badly before, and her daughter-in-law didn't bother to take care of her.

The old lady was in great pain, and living was worse than dying. Only then did she realize that she regretted it.

Compared with the old lady, those Internet celebrities who were stalking traffic at first were not much better.

They regretted it, the Murray family really cares about it!

The Murray family is the richest man, they are just some little people, and such a big big man still cares about them.

Yes, it was wrong for them to spread rumors at the beginning, but didn't everyone know it at the beginning.

Those who do not know are not guilty. Why did he send them to prison.

Chapter 139 Face Slap 2 Cherry Comes

A group of people clapped their hands online for what happened to the Li family and those rumor-mongering bloggers.

At the same time, there was an upsurge of [Apologizing to Susie] on the Internet.

It's hotter than ever, hotter than ever.

At the beginning, a large number of Internet celebrities who were arrested for spreading rumors cried bitterly and apologized.

Then, a blogger who was involved in a minor incident and not enough for a sentence shot a video overnight to say sorry.

Immediately after that, things became unreal. Seeing the popularity of this matter, the whole network followed suit!

They made videos to apologize one after another, and took the opportunity to say a lot of life truths.

Gained countless likes overnight.

Immediately afterwards, just talking about reason and apologizing can no longer satisfy them.

Another person took a video, knelt on the ground and wept bitterly, fanning himself wildly with his exaggerated acting skills.

There were even no fewer than ten people who said that they were the ones who kowtowed and apologized to Susie immediately at that time. They kneeled and kowtowed during the live broadcast, and then took the opportunity to bring goods.

Cherry also took the opportunity to post a video with red eyes, saying it was all her fault. As a result, there were no more than ten likes.

Susie was stunned when she saw these videos.

For some reason, she felt a chill inexplicably.

What happened to these people? They are obviously living people, but why do they look like ghosts.

In the kindergarten principal's office.

Cherry looked at the principal in front of him and asked incredulously, "Fired me? Why!"

Her eyes turned red, and she choked up, "Is it something I didn't do well? I was indeed distracted by the matter of Susie and Sun. I'm sorry, please give me another chance."

The principal frowned and said, "Neglect at work is just one reason, you can think of other reasons yourself."

Cherry burst into tears: "I see, did I offend the Murray family?"

The principal was annoyed by her crying, and said directly: "It has nothing to do with the Murray family. It is a unanimous decision of our school board to dismiss you! You dated three boyfriends at the same time, and this matter has had an extremely bad impact on our school!"

Cherry was stunned.

"I don't have one." She defended: "I only have one boyfriend! It's Stone! The others. The others are all pestering me. I'm trying to deal with my personal affairs, but I don't want to hurt them. I just want to Come on a little bit, speak slowly and clearly."

The principal sneered: "Speak clearly slowly? Kissing someone on the cheek at the school gate, is that clear?"

Cherry turned pale: "No, you listen to my explanation."

288 Vouchers

The principal didn't want to hear it, so he just told her to get out. Cherry standing at the door felt aggrieved.

Her dismissal had absolutely nothing to do with her own affairs.

She's going to the Murray family to ask for forgiveness.

She is Susie's teacher, and she is so sincere, the Murray family will surely forgive her, right?

After she left the kindergarten, she went home and changed into a pink chiffon off-the-shoulder dress, let down her slightly curly long hair, and then put on a lovely Cherry earring.

The timing of Cherry's visit to the Murray family was also very subtle, at 7:30 in the evening.

This time is usually the time when the teacher makes home visits, and when others have just finished eating, it is the time when they have the most free time and the most relaxed mood.

Most importantly, people are there.

Standing at the gate of the Murray family manor, Cherry was stunned.

The address of the Murray family was hard to come by, she had a hard time getting Stone to steal it.

It was only at this time that I really saw the Murray family that I was so shocked.

The Murray family's manor is somewhat similar to a castle, magnificent and romantic.

Cherry hid her shock, and showed a polite yet cute smile to the doorman:

“Hello, I'm the teacher of Miss Susie's class, my name is Cherry, and this is my business card.”

The guard looked at her, frowned, and went to notify the housekeeper.

After a while, Colt came out.

But when he saw Cherry, he also frowned.

If Miss Susie's class did not have this teacher, he would definitely drive her out as soon as they met-

Seriously doing home visits, no one is wearing a strapless dress.

"Come with me, please," Colt said.

Cherry didn't notice the problem yet, so she suppressed her excitement.

When I saw my shape on the mirror in the entrance hall when I entered the door, I felt gentle and cute. The exposed shoulders were round and round, and the pink color was more innocent, shy, tender and pleasant.

She would be fascinated by herself like this.

After passing through the entrance gate, and passing through a large lawn and garden, they officially stepped into the main building of the manor.

Everyone from the Murray family was there, and Martin was sitting on the sofa in the lobby on the first floor, dealing with company matters.

Kellen was also sitting by the sofa, with Susie leaning in his arms, holding a picture book in one hand, and resting his elbow on his knee with the other, teaching Susie how to read in a low voice.

I heard that a teacher came to visit Susie's home, and David, Ryan and Michael also went downstairs, sitting on the side and waiting quite formally.

Suddenly seeing a woman in a pink off-the-shoulder dress walk in, everyone was taken aback with strange expressions.

Kellen frowned slightly, and asked Susie in a low voice, "Is this your teacher?"

Susie nodded: "Yeah, it's Cherry."

But she doesn't like Cherry very much, Susie thinks Cherry is a bit unreasonable and fooling people.

Kellen read this layer from the kid's expression.

I get it, the teacher she doesn't like probably isn't a good teacher.

Alana pursed her lips, and looked Cherry up and down, her usually kind face was rigid at the moment, just like Craig's, cold and unreasonable.

She also felt strange when she heard a teacher come to visit her home suddenly.

But two days ago, the principal said that he hoped to come to Susie's door to apologize for what happened to Susie, so she didn't think much about

As soon as Cherry entered, she was shocked by the scene in front of her.

Her heart was pounding, and a picture involuntarily appeared in her mind. In the magnificent palace, she was wearing a snow-white princess dress and slowly walked down the stairs. Beside her were five tall and handsome men in knight uniforms.

Among them, the tallest and most handsome one held her hand, and the other four looked at her fascinatedly, and said softly: [Good morning. my dear princess.]

At this time, a voice came from my ear: "Cherry?"

Alana looked at Cherry displeased.

As soon as she entered the door, she saw her staring at her sons in a daze, which made her very unhappy.

Cherry said quickly: "Hello! I'm Susie's teacher, Cherry!"

Everyone in the Murray family was speechless.

Alana took the business card that Colt handed over, and looked at her sharply: "Why did you come to visit home suddenly, and the school didn't notify you?"

Holding a cup of coffee, Ryan nodded and said, "Flora, the English teacher, didn't say hello to us in advance."

Cherry followed the trend and saw Ryan, who was dressed in white and gray home pants. Her heart beat faster.

"Ah. This is our fault. Flora forgot to notify in advance."

Martin's face was cold, and his eyes were tinged with a chill: "Forgot to notify?"

Cherry blushed, it was Mr. Murray!

Her voice couldn't help becoming cute: "Yes. This time I'm here on behalf of the school. I'm really sorry for the fact last time!"

“It’s all due to our school’s mismanagement, and it’s also due to my negligence. I am also very responsible for this matter. So the principal asked me to come and apologize in person.”

Martin didn’t say anything, just glanced at Colt.

Colt understood, quietly went out to call the principal.

Alana said lightly: “Sit down.”

Cherry was so happy that she really wanted to sit on the sofa.

But in order to appear polite and measured, she chose to sit on the single sofa chair opposite the sofa.

She looked at Alana with a cute smile.

When she said this, Cherry unconsciously had another picture in her mind. Alana is the most authoritative queen in the palace. She likes herself very much and has been worrying about which son she will marry herself to.

Susie stared at the female ghost on Cherry’s head. At this moment, the female ghost was in sync with Cherry, and her eyes were obsessed.

The ghost looked at his uncle for a while, with a hint of shyness in his eyes, not knowing what he was thinking.

After a while, she looked at her father again, covered her face suddenly, and shrugged her shoulders shyly.

Mitch sneered: “Tsk, I don’t know how many scripts I have made up in my mind.”

He sat cross-legged, flipping through the booklet in his hand.

“Most of these philandering ghosts live in their own fantasies. Judging by the look on this guy, he probably has watched too many TV shows.”

Thinking of this, Mitch suddenly felt his scalp go numb.

Listening to Micky’s chatter, Susie understood a little bit.

In order to learn romance better, she decided to ask Wade to help her find the TV series that Micky mentioned later.

At this moment, Colt walked in after finishing the phone call.

He walked up to Martin and said something in a low voice.

Martin immediately looked at Cherry with a cold expression on his face.

At this point Cherry is still repenting. “The two children were right in front of me that day, but I failed to stop them immediately. It’s all my fault! Later, when I saw those words scolding Susie on the Internet, I blamed myself so much that my heart was broken.”

Just Rickéd

As Cherry spoke, her eyes turned red.

But suddenly heard Martin’s cold voice: “Colt, see off.”

Cherry, who was moved by herself, was stunned and stunned.

No, she blamed herself so much and seemed so kind. When they saw her so pitiful, they shouldn’t have comforted her: Be good, it’s not your fault that you don’t cry. How could he suddenly drive her away.

Colt made a please gesture: “Please!”

Cherry stood up anxiously, looked at Martin pitifully, bit her red lips and said, “Mr. Murray, did I say something wrong?”

Sure enough, when it came to the fact that she didn’t like Susie, they got angry.

So they just blame her. They were the ones who got the principal to fire her.

Alana remained expressionless: “You didn’t say anything wrong, we were wrong, and we shouldn’t have let you in.”

Before Cherry could figure out what was going on, she was forcibly taken away by Colt.

Susie looked at her uncle and then at her grandmother.

what happened?

She just heard Micky say Mary Sue, and Cherry left?

She hasn’t even caught that playboy yet!

Mitch said, “Next time! Don’t be here, bad luck.”

The little guy blinked and said obediently, “Okay.”

Kellen carried Susie, lifted her onto his shoulder easily, and said, “Come on, Dad will take you back to the room.”

Susie suddenly became taller, let out a cry of surprise, and immediately thought it was amused, and laughed.

He felt that he could take off the chandelier on the roof with his hand. If he was outside, would he be able to reach Grandma Moon?

Susie excitedly said: “Dad, go higher, higher!”

Kellen shook his shoulders, Susie let out a low cry, and immediately became happier.

Alana was frightened: “Be careful, don’t fall!”

Kellen said: “It’s okay, I’m fine if I run with the plane, but what’s the point of carrying her? You can’t fall.”

Alana was speechless.

I saw Susie excitedly said: “Dad, I can pick the stars! One for grandma, one for grandpa, one for each uncle. And brothers and sisters. Then give one to dad, one to Alex, one to One for Grandpa Turtle.”

I still counted all the family members, and the birds and tortoises were not left behind.

Kellen pursed his lips, grabbed her two little hands, and raised her hands up.

Both father and daughter went upstairs smiling like children, only to hear a bang.

Susie covered her head: “I hit the door frame too!”

Kellen: “How? I’m bent over.”

Susie: “It’s almost a little bent, it needs to be lower!”

Kellen: “Dad’s fault.”

Everyone in the Murray family is angry and funny, they are really unreliable fathers, cheating kids!

While cursing, Alana went to get the medicine box.

Cherry looked at the closed iron door in front of him, tears came out uncontrollably, and he choked up, “What did I do wrong!”

She came to apologize sincerely.

The Murray family didn't listen to her explanation.
