

Chapter 141 Seduce

Cherry only felt aggrieved and embarrassed, but more sad because the five men didn't believe her.

A scene couldn't help floating in her mind: In the princess's castle, five men who loved the princess deeply misunderstood the princess because of some things, and all left the castle angrily. The princess cried sadly, and it rained cherry blossoms in the sky. When the princess ran out, she slipped and fell to the ground.

Cherry blossom petals fell one after another and landed on her eyelashes like butterfly wings. The five knights ran back quickly, but the princess refused to open their eyes again. They regretted it very much.

It was so sad, Cherry cried even harder and cried all the way home.

Stone was waiting anxiously, seeing her come back crying, he quickly hugged her in his arms.

"What's wrong? I can't even call you!"

Cherry threw herself into his arms and cried out of breath: "Stone, is it really my fault? But why, I really didn't mean it. Why did the principal fire me like this, why did the Murray family won't forgive me."

Cherry burst into tears.

Stone said distressedly: "It's not your fault, it's not your fault, please don't cry."

Cherry cried for a while, and suddenly saw her sad and beautiful appearance from the dressing mirror.

But the Stone holding her was a man who couldn't be more ordinary.

I used to think he was sunny and handsome, the most handsome of several boyfriends.

But after meeting Martin and Kellen, Cherry felt that he was no longer good enough for her.

Cherry, who suddenly felt dull, couldn't cry anymore, and felt an indescribable pain in her heart. For a good girl like her, when she cries, someone like Martin and Kellen should hold her.

Cherry suddenly pushed Stone away and ran out.

He hurriedly chased her out, but there was no sign of her in the corridor.

Stone hurriedly pressed the elevator, hurriedly entered the elevator and chased after him.

After he left, the dark stairway suddenly lit up, and a figure stood there faintly. It is Cherry.

She covered her mouth and murmured in pain: "I'm sorry, we can no longer be together. Fate arranged for us to meet, but we can't walk together."

Heartbroken Cherry. Went to Mark's house.

Mark was surprised and delighted: "Cherry, why are you here?"

Cherry thought she was 'haggard' and looked at Mark, but when she realized that he was even more unworthy, she burst into tears again.

But it was too late, she decided to finish crying the night and leave tomorrow.

She and him are also doomed to no results. !

In Susie's room.

Alana took a towel wrapped in ice and put it on Susie's forehead.

Kellen stretched out his hand: "I'll do it!"

But Alana glared at him: "Don't talk!"

Kellen rubbed his nose.

Susie tilted her head obediently, and let Alana apply ice to her, and said weakly, "Grandma, I'm actually fine!"

Alana: "Shut up, too!"

Kellen said: "Susie, Dad will tell you a story, what do you want to hear?"

He reached out and took a few picture books on the table.

Susie immediately raised her hand: “Dad, I want to hear Mary Sue’s story! I want that kind. An auntie held the hands of two uncles and told the story of letting them be her child’s father together.”

Alana said angrily: “Kellen, what kind of mess did you show her again?”

Kellen was dumbfounded, he was wronged! How could he show such indecent things to his children!

Susie looked aside suspiciously, folded her hands and asked in a low voice, “Mitch, is there anything wrong with this story?”

Alana paused, and both of them looked aside sharply. air.

Mitch was also wronged.

The Mary Sue story he told was a love triangle story, not the weird and unscrupulous ones.

The corner of Mitch’s mouth twitched, and he said, “Susie, be good, be good, let’s not watch it.”

Susie pursed her lips, understanding.

Sure enough? Unreliable Micky teaches her naughty things

Susie turned to Alana and said, “I don’t want to watch it. I want to watch the story of the hundred floors under the sea.”

Relieved, Kellen took out the picture book that Susie was talking about, and said, “Well, the story of a hundred floors under the sea.”

Alana watched Susie obediently go to bed and lie down, Kellen opened the picture book, and a very unruly person was honestly telling stories to the children.

Alana went out quietly and closed the door.

At this time, she felt a slight numbness in her legs, and she just felt a little strange.

It seems that since Susie started massaging her legs, her legs have become stronger and stronger. I don’t know if it’s her illusion.

Alana didn’t know what was going on, and suddenly tried to stand up, but her legs still had no strength.

She shook her head involuntarily, because she thought too much.

In the room, Kellen was half leaning on the head of the bed, holding Susie in his arms, making up stories about a hundred floors under the sea.

His voice was deep and very pleasant—and very hypnotic.

Susie quickly yawned and gradually fell asleep.

Kellen stopped and looked down at the sleeping Susie.

The little guy looked more cute when he fell asleep, like a little angel, making people want to kiss him.

Kellen leaned over and kissed Susie's forehead, and whispered, "Good night, my little angel."

Thank her for being in his life.

The only thing that makes him regret is that he failed to watch her grow up from the time she was born, and he was not by her side when she needed it most.

But in the future, he will be there.

Kellen gently put Susie down, covered her with a thin quilt, then stood up, stretched, and walked towards the balcony out of habit.

Alex, who was sleeping, opened one eye and moved sideways to make room.

It tilted its head and said, "Do you want to sleep together?"

The corner of Kellen's mouth twitched, who wants to sleep with a bird!

Kellen stretched out his hand and flicked the parrot's small head, and said speechlessly, "Go find a female parrot yourself."

Kellen closed the screen door on the balcony before closing the door and going out.

In the room, Susie slept soundly, and dreamed that she had caught a playboy, and the gourd was full.

As for Mitch, he was still distressed at the brochure: "I shouldn't, I shouldn't, why can't I find it?"

Where did Clara go?

Chapter 142 Solving Cherry

the next day.

After crying enough for the whole night, Cherry became energetic again.

Looking at herself in the mirror, she made a cheering gesture for herself, and said loudly: “You must work harder today! You are the best, nothing in this world can defeat you~”

Mark made breakfast and brought it in, just in time to see her cheering himself up in the mirror, and couldn’t help smiling.

“It’s so cute.” He put the breakfast aside and hugged Cherry from the back: “Don’t leave, okay?”

Cherry looked at him sadly, shook her head and said: “No. Mark, you are really good to me, I wish I could be with you for the rest of my life. I wake up in the morning, you make breakfast, and then we have A child, when you go to work, I will clean up the house at home and wait for you to get off work with the child.”

Mark tightened his arms and said hoarsely: “Then we will live like this, as long as you stay, I will try my best to give you the life you want.”

Cherry shook his head: “What about Stone? He suffers from severe depression, keeps himself closed, and smiles at everyone. I am his only courage to live. If I leave, he will commit suicide.”

She covered her face and cried bitterly: “I really love you, Mark, I really love you very much. I don’t care what I think about, just be happy with you like this. But I can’t do it, Mark, you know I There’s no way to just watch someone die.”

While talking, Cherry made up a life-and-death sadomasochism drama in her mind.

Chapter 142 Solving Cherry

And she is the heroine among them. She loves one of them deeply, but the other one is terminally ill, and she cannot abandon him.

Cherry cried beautifully: “I can’t be so selfish. Mark, forget about me.”

Mark hugged her distressedly, “I’ll go talk to him!”

Cherry immediately shook her head: “No, you went there to provoke him, what if he said right on the spot and jumped off the building? If that happens, I will never forgive myself!”

While talking, Cherry pushed Mark away, gave him a deep look, turned and ran away.

Mark chased her out, but still couldn’t catch her.

At the corner of the stairs, Cherry covered her mouth with a sad face, she was destined to be unable to be with Mark.

Sad, she went to Russell, her third boyfriend besides Stone and Mark.

Seeing Cherry coming over, Russell, who was just going to work, was surprised, he said silently, “Didn’t you say you’ll never see me again.”

Cherry said desolately: “I don’t know why. I couldn’t find anyone to talk to. It didn’t obey its feet, so it came here by itself.” Tears fell as she spoke.

Russell resisted not moving, and just laughed at himself: “Where are Stone and Mark? They’re not.”

“Stop talking!” Cherry covered her face and cried bitterly: “I didn’t have anything to do with them. After you left, I didn’t contact them again. I shouldn’t have come to you today, but I don’t know what to do. I miss you so much all of a sudden, I can’t lie to myself.”

There was a flash of struggle in Russell’s eyes, and finally he hugged her fiercely.

Cherry leaned against Russell’s arms. At this moment, this feeling was like in a sadomasochism TV series, where the hero and heroine meet again because of a misunderstanding.

She looked up stupidly, but was suddenly awakened by Russell’s appearance.

There was a circle of green beard growing around the corner of his mouth, which looked unclean at all and looked a little sloppy.

Cherry’s heart suddenly felt extremely painful.

Sure enough, Kellen and Martin had already occupied her heart, and she couldn’t fall in love with anyone else.

“Sorry, I shouldn’t have disturbed your peaceful life, me.”

Cherry turned around and was about to leave.

However, this made Russell go crazy even more, he directly grabbed her wrist, pressed her against the wall and kissed her.

The scene of this violent collision instantly fascinated Cherry again. She closed her eyes and imagined that the person who forced her to kiss her now was Kellen.

Her heart beat faster and she couldn't help but respond shyly.

Cherry, who kept her eyes closed the whole time, put herself into the process of being domineeringly loved by the general attacking Martin.

half an hour later.

Cherry covered the quilt with a flushed face.

Russell's eyes were filled with surprise, he couldn't believe it and said, "Cherry,"

Cherry immediately said: "I hate it, don't say it!"

Only this time she had just had surgery, and thinking of Kellen and Martin, she had to go to the hospital twice more.

Russell didn't know why, so he hugged her happily, believing everything at this moment.

The two had a conversation, and Cherry told about offending the Murray family and being expelled from the kindergarten.

Russell said distressedly: "So you came to me?"

Cherry cried: "I really don't know what to do, I blame myself so much. I really want to apologize to the Murray family! But they didn't listen, they kicked me out without saying a word. I really don't know what to do I was walking aimlessly on the street, not knowing where I was going, and when I came back to my senses, I found myself here."

Russell said happily: "So the person deep in your heart is me."

Cherry hummed, and suddenly said excitedly: "That's right, Russell, don't you work for the Murray 's Group? Can you sneak me in. I want to personally apologize to Mr. Murray. "

Russell said helplessly, "You don't have to blame yourself so much, you don't need to apologize to anyone."

Cherry shook her head with flushed eyes: “No, I blamed myself deeply when I saw Susie being bullied by the Internet in the past few days. It’s all because I didn’t like Susie, she is only four years old! But because of me, she was bullied by the Internet. If I hadn’t been in a daze because I missed you at the time, I could have prevented the two children from fighting, and Susie wouldn’t have been hurt so much later.!”

Russell only felt that she was too kind, how could he bear it, he just felt guilty: “I’ll try. But our ordinary executive office is not on the same floor as the president’s office. The president’s office is on the 66th floor, and most of us can’t go up.”

“It’s okay, just take me there!” Cherry happily kissed Russell, “I believe that God will favor those who refuse to admit defeat.”

Russell kissed her dotingly, and was late anyway, so he simply said that he had urgent business and took half a day off, and took Cherry to the company in the afternoon.

In the heart of the new economic district is where the Murray ‘s Group is located.

This landmark building is very large. Hotels and shopping centers are used below the 30th floor, and office buildings are used above the 30th floor. In addition to the huge system of the Murray ‘s Group, there are also parts leased to other companies, so people The flow is large and the interior is also complicated.

However, the Murray ‘s Group system has its own internal elevators, which are different from other rental companies. Therefore, when entering this area, employees will have their own access control cards. It is really difficult to get in without an access control card.

Cherry’s face was full of exclamation: “It’s amazing here!”

Seeing her pure and innocent appearance, Russell couldn’t help pampering her, and secretly decided to make more money in the future and take her to see more of the world.

Cherry asked nervously, “Is Mr. Murray going up this way too?”

She is wearing a white dress today, which is very beautiful.

Cherry couldn’t help imagining the scene of running into Martin in the elevator. The aloof boss responded to the employees’ greetings with a blank face, but suddenly lowered his eyes to her, with a flash of surprise in his eyes.

But she heard Russell say, “No, Mr. Murray and the others have a VIP channel. Now, those elevators over there.”

The Murray ‘s Group is very large, and it spreads across the industry. For example, he only works in the sales department of the clothing industry.

Both the general manager’s office and the president’s office are on the 66th floor. They belong to the ‘headquarters’ and manage their subsidiaries.

“Mr. Murray is not that unkind. He doesn’t have an exclusive elevator, but takes the VIP elevator with the employees of the headquarter.”

But even so, the VIP elevator is not something they can take.

Cherry’s eyes watered and she exclaimed, “It’s amazing.”

It turns out that the Murray ‘s Group is also divided into the general group and other companies.

Since it is the general group, there must be an attribute department.

For example, there must be some in the assistant department. It just so happens that she doesn’t want to work in the kindergarten anymore, so she can apply for the secretary of the general group, the general manager’s office, or the president’s office!

At that time, there will be many opportunities to meet Martin, and Cherry imagines the sweet script of the president and Jiao Didi’s female secretary.

Martin came out from the meeting and was handling work in the CEO’s office as usual, but his eyelids kept twitching.

He couldn’t help pressing his eyebrows, wondering, is something going to happen?

At this time, the door was pushed open, and a small head poked in.

“Uncle!” Susie’s cute voice sounded.

Susie is wearing a blue and white striped T-shirt with a pair of denim overalls. Carrying a thick-backed transparent pet bag, which contains Alex and Grandpa Turtle.

“Susie?” Martin stood up immediately: “Why are you here?”

Behind Susie is Alana, holding a food box in her arms, and said, “She thinks that you are not doing well today, so she wants to come and have a look.”

Alana believed that Susie had Mitch beside her.

But I don’t really believe in Susie’s divination. After all, she is such a young child, so I think her Mitch is teaching things again.

Martin didn’t say anything, but he had already pressed the pause button on what he planned to do today in the bottom of his heart.

Susie said things were not right, so he would do nothing.

“Then where is Susie going to take me?” Martin’s eyes were stained with a smile.

Susie tilted her head and said seriously, “I’ll take you to buy medicine!”

Martin paused, remembering a note Susie gave last time.

“You didn’t buy it, did you?” Susie asked, with a serious face and a little angry look.

Martin laughed: “If you want to buy, buy it, go today.”

Susie snorted: “You say that every time, but you don’t go, so I’m here today!”

Martin thought about what she said ‘today is inappropriate’, so let’s go with her if there is nothing to do.

His medicines are already on the list given by the best experts. In fact, there is really no need to take any medicines.

“Let’s go!” He picked up the phone key and took Susie and Alana out.

After obediently accompanying Russell to work for a while, Cherry excused herself to get some air and left the office on that floor.

She tried several methods, but unfortunately she couldn’t get to the 66th floor.

Cherry pouted, unhappy

She even went down to the underground parking lot to see if she could go up from here, but found that there was no way.

Not only does the vip elevator have to swipe the card, even she can’t get through it, and there is a guard hall in the middle.

Cherry was about to give up, when she heard a ding, the elevator door opened, and a tall figure stepped out.

Martin was wearing a dark shirt and his well-ironed trousers made him even more handsome and straight.

Cherry's eyes lit up immediately.

Chapter 143 Three Boyfriends Gather

Seeing Martin, Cherry chased after him.

"Mr. Murray, please wait!"

Cherry was panting from running, and wiped the sweat with her forehead.

Martin looked back and saw that it was Cherry, and couldn't help frowning.

Alana cursed in a low voice, and immediately couldn't help but think of what Susie said about Martin's inappropriate things.

"Let's go." Alana said angrily.

Susie stared at the playboy on Cherry's head, and suddenly said, "Grandma, wait a minute."

Cherry ran up to Martin in small steps, thinking they would turn around and leave, but Martin was waiting for her.

Cherry was so happy that she flicked the broken hair beside her ear, and said pleasantly, "Mr. Murray, what a coincidence! Are you here too? Where are you going!"

Alana was about to speak with a blank face, but Susie smiled and said, "Cherry, we are going to buy medicine!"

Cherry was taken aback, medicine?

Susie asked them to wait, just to tell Cherry where they were going?

Cherry was elated, children are easy to coax, and this got her into the conversation.

She showed concern: "What's wrong with your health? Do you want me to take you to the hospital! I can take care of you."

A hint of impatience floated in Alana's eyes, and he said coldly, "Who are you to me, it's your turn to go to the hospital to take care of me?"

Cherry immediately bit her lips in aggrieved manner, and said weakly, "Alana, don't be so fierce! I really know I was wrong!"

"As Susie's teacher, I didn't take good care of Susie, please give me another chance to take care of you."

Alana was really powerless to complain, and couldn't understand Cherry's logic.

Susie had just figured out that going to the herb market was the best time to catch philanderers, so she stopped on purpose.

Now that we have finished speaking, we can go.

Susie believes that Cherry will definitely follow.

Seeing that Martin is leaving, how could Cherry agree? She finally met Martin!

Cherry rushed up immediately and stopped in front of Martin!

On the other side, Russell, who realized that Cherry was missing, found her and found her in the underground parking lot after searching around.

I was hearing her apology in a crying voice: "I'm sorry, Mr. Murray, please, give me one more chance. Give me one more chance to take care of Susie and Alana, and I will definitely do a good job!"

Cherry cried pitifully, and there was a stubbornness in her eyes that would not admit defeat, accept fate, and not give in.

She would be moved by such a self.

Isn't this the heroine on TV who doesn't bow to life and works hard?

Mr. Murray must be inexplicably upset, and then agree to her.

Unexpectedly, before Martin could speak, Alana scolded harshly first:

"First, I don't need your care, and Susie doesn't need your care. Who are you? What do you think of yourself? Are you qualified to take care of Susie?"

"Second, you didn't fulfill your duties as a preschool teacher, and you were expelled from the school. What does it have to do with us Susie? I apologize repeatedly, and I think you are trying to force yourself!"

Cherry covered her chest with a pale face, looking as if she had been hit hard. How could the old lady say that about her?

Seeing this, Russell not far away felt that Alana's words were too harsh!

Cherry has apologized so poorly, they just don't want to listen to it, why are they still cursing.

"Cherry!" Russell yelled, running after her.

Martin had already pushed Alana, picked up Susie in one arm, got into the car and closed the door to leave.

Cherry chased the car unwillingly: "Mr. Murray, Mr. Murray! Listen to me."

Seeing the car going away, Cherry couldn't help crying: "Russell, isn't your car parked nearby? Come on, let's catch up with Mr. Murray."

Russell: "Cherry, forget it, give up!"

Cherry cried: "No, I will never give up! I must ask the Murray family to forgive me. Russell, please help me!"

Russell had no choice but to chase after him in his own car, completely unaware that he was helping Cherry 'chase a man'.

This is one of the largest and most professional medicinal material trading markets in the country. The whole market covers an area of 100 mu and is extremely lively

Susie took Martin's hand, looking at this, looking at that.

Mitch taught her how to recognize medicine by the way.

Susie memorized while listening, went to several pharmacies, and had memorized more than half of the medicinal materials, and learned some theoretical knowledge on how to identify good and bad medicinal materials.

Alana just listened to her keep picking up the herbs and asking 'what is this?' "what about this?"

She was in a hurry to search with her mobile phone, but Susie often switched to another medicine before she found it.

Alana laughed and shook her head, what is she doing, children are just playing, does she expect the little guy to recognize these herbs?

Walking all the way, I soon arrived at a pharmacy.

The owner of the shop came out and asked with a smile, "Hello, what medicinal materials does the boss need?"

Suddenly he snorted and said, "Are you Susie?"

Susie looked up at him, with a smile on her face: "Yes, I finally found you."

Mitch was staring at the shop owner and said, "It's him who is black."

The person in front of him is none other than one of Cherry's boyfriends: Mark.

Because of Cherry, Mark also found Susie on the Internet and was seen by related incidents of cyberbullying, so he recognized Susie.

Mark didn't like Susie very much for making his family Cherry feel guilty.

Not to mention that Cherry went to apologize yesterday and was kicked out by the Murray family.

"Just look at it." He said something, too lazy to say hello.

On the other side, Russell led Cherry to the medicine market.

Cherry suddenly stopped, remembering!

She said that she is so familiar, Mark opened a shop in this medicine market!

It shouldn't be such a coincidence. Will not hit it. The medicine market is so big.

Cherry hesitated for a while, but finally couldn't resist Martin's temptation, and gritted his teeth and went in.

"There are a lot of people, Russell, let's find each other separately? If I miss today's opportunity, it will be difficult for me to see Mr. Murray again."

Russell reluctantly nodded in agreement, and the two separated.

Cherry was overjoyed, and finally got rid of it, but didn't see Stone standing in front of a shop not far away.

Stone came to buy medicine for his mother today. I have to say that he is indeed a kind and filial person. He is very careful in his selection at the moment, and he didn't even see Cherry walking past.

At this moment, Cherry didn't even know that her three boyfriends were all here.

Chapter 144 They Are All My Brothers

Susie looked here and there in Mark's shop, and Mark sat drinking tea inside and looked at her with curled lips.

Look at her little appearance, pretending as if she knows how to recognize medicinal materials.

Suddenly Susie picked up a piece of medicine, put it in her mouth and gnawed it.

Alana quickly said, "This is inedible! Spit it out quickly."

Susie said crisply, "Grandma, it's okay!"

While wiping her mouth with a tissue, Alana said, "There is no one who chooses medicinal materials like this."

Mark, who was drinking tea, couldn't help being surprised, this kid, really knows how to read?

Susie picked up the selected ones, and Martin handed over the basket tacitly to pack them.

The two picked around, and suddenly heard the familiar voice: "Mr. Murray! You are here!"

Cherry stood at the door, looking at Martin in surprise.

She was so surprised that she didn't see the equally surprised Mark sitting in the shop drinking tea.

Mark was about to speak when Martin's face darkened and he said coldly: "Are you finished? I have already said that the Murray family will not accept your apology and will not hold you accountable, but I warn you not to harass me again us."

Cherry's eyes turned red immediately: "But the kindergarten expelled me! It's because I didn't take good care of Susie."

Martin sneered: "The kindergarten expelled you because you had three boyfriends at the same time, which corrupted the teacher's morality. It has nothing to do with Susie."

Alana also had a grim look on her face: "I'm convinced too, I come to touch porcelain every day, and I always say that Susie is hurt, what do you mean?"

Cherry said weakly, “I didn’t.”

Alana sneered: “I think your apology is fake, I know what purpose is in my heart!”

Cherry shook her head and cried: “I really don’t.”

Hearing this, Mark was already stunned.

three? Isn’t there only Stone besides him?

And Cherry and Stone don’t have a boyfriend and girlfriend relationship. She said that she was just afraid that Stone would commit suicide due to depression, so she had to coax him first.

Here, Cherry, whose eyes had been on Martin, still didn’t notice Mark who had stood up, after all, there was a shelf across.

She was about to cry, and choked up: “Mr. Murray, Alana, you really misunderstood me. When did I have three boyfriends? I don’t.”

Mark was relieved to hear her denial, and he just said, how could his Cherry be that kind of person.

However, Cherry’s next sentence stunned him on the spot:

Cherry: “I’m still single, I don’t have any boyfriend at all, I don’t know what you guys are talking about.”

She shook her head and wiped her eyes sadly: “Mr you are upset, you can just say so, there is absolutely no need to frame me like this.”

Mark’s hands and feet were cold, and he couldn’t believe what he heard.

Cherry said she was single. Don’t have a boyfriend?!

What about him? What is he!

Martin’s face was cold, and there was no superfluous expression in his eyes, helping Cherry who had intermittent ‘amnesia’ remember:

“Your boyfriend, Stone, Mark, and Russell. You were with Russell just now, and now you’re denying it so quickly?”

Susie looked at her uncle, then at Cherry.

Micky said, collect all three boyfriends and exchange them for a philanderer!

Just thinking about it, Susie's eyes lit up, and she saw Stone and Russell behind Cherry.

It happened that Cherry was defending: "Mr. Murray, I think you misunderstood! The three you mentioned are just my friends!"

"Stone, he was a colleague from the same school as me before. We can chat better, so maybe someone misunderstood."

"As for Mark, he is just a friend who takes good care of me. Our relationship is very pure. He dropped me a meal before, and I don't know how others misunderstood him."

"And Russell. I don't know him very well. I went to the mall today and happened to bump into him and chatted. Did you see it and misunderstand it?"

After finishing speaking, Cherry did not forget to say sincerely: "Really, they are all just my friends. If you misunderstand, then I will not associate with them in the future."

"Actually, the person I've always liked is you!"

When Cherry said this, her face flushed as if she was juggling.

She couldn't help it, and couldn't help but fantasize in her mind that the male protagonist misunderstood her relationship with other people because of jealousy, and was questioning her, and then she cried aggrievedly, crying and saying that I actually like you, you villain!

The hero's heart ached, and he couldn't help but hug her into his arms.

Thinking of this, Cherry glanced shyly at Martin quickly.

With this glance, he happened to see Mark behind Martin.

Cherry froze, feeling panicked. To make matters worse, two familiar voices came from behind her.

Stone let out a miserable laugh, and said dejectedly, "So, I'm nothing?"

It was also hard for Russell to believe that Cherry, who spent a good night with him last night, actually said that she didn't know him well!

Cherry never expected that all three men had arrived and heard what she said!

She immediately turned pale.

Susie was amazed, this auntie is so powerful, her face seems to have a switch, it turns red when she pulls it, and turns white when she pulls it again.

Cherry's head was buzzing, she opened her mouth, and said in a panic, "Why are you here?"

Chapter 145 Revealing the Truth

Russell barely had the energy to speak.

Mark disappointed: "Cherry, why can't we be here? What did you mean just now?"

At this moment, Cherry was anxious, "No, Mark, listen to me."

Russell, Mark and Stone all stood in front of Cherry, watching her flustered expression, preferring to believe that none of this is true.

Stone stared at Mark: "You are Mark? You are pestering Cherry?"

Mark snorted: "Stone? The one who stalked Cherry!"

Russell squinted at Stone: "You are Stone? Cherry said you have severe depression, I don't think so!"

When the three men met, they immediately confronted each other.

A scene of several men fighting for her appeared in Cherry's mind, and she yelled, 'Don't fight, stop fighting'. The huaxin ghost coiled on her head let out a honey-like laugh.

Cherry said immediately: "Stop arguing, don't quarrel about me."

The three men paused for a moment and looked at Cherry again.

God, what is she doing? Shouldn't you run away?

"Mr. Murray, I think I still have something to do, so let's go first."

Cherry hurried to leave, but her three boyfriends stopped her!

"Cherry, who are they? You have to make it clear today." Mark said.

Stone's eyes were full of sadness: "That's how you explained it to him?"

That I have severe depression?”

Russell clenched his fists and said with difficulty: “Cherry, you tell me this is not true. As long as you tell me, I will believe you.”

After all, she was still in his arms last night.

Russell didn’t care, anyway, her first time was for him.

He can forgive her previous mistakes, as long as she is willing to be with him.

Cherry said weakly: “What are you doing? You are all my good friends, and I have always regarded you as brothers.”

Stone was extremely disappointed: “As a brother? Then you said you would marry me.”

Mark is also unbelievable: “Impossible, if you just regard me as a brother, then why did you still have sex with me?!”

Cherry was shocked in his heart, no matter how he exposed this layer!

She was about to defend herself when Russell said in shock: “Impossible! She was only with me last night. I can swear on my life that when she had sex with me last night, she was still a virgin!”

The two looked at Cherry, and it took a while to find their voices.

Stone: “When Cherry was with me, she was also a virgin.”

Mark clenched his hands: “Me too.”

No matter how stupid he is, he still understands what’s going on.

No wonder, after she had the first relationship with them, she refused to have the second relationship desperately.

They thought she was innocent, shy, and embarrassed. Unexpectedly, even this thing is fake.

Russell looked at Cherry in complete disappointment.

And they thought she was innocent and lovely, but now it seems that they are the innocent ones.

Stone felt so tired, took a step back, his eyes showed determination: “Since we are just colleagues, then everything will end here, you can do it yourself.”

After finishing speaking, he left without looking back.

Cherry suddenly felt as if her heart was being torn apart, and shouted, “Stone!”

Stone paused, didn’t look back, and quickly disappeared into the crowd.

The one who treats her the best and loves her the most is Stone, but it was also Stone who left the most decisive way!

Cherry wants to chase him out-and take the opportunity to leave.

Mark grabbed her wrist violently and pulled her back: “Cherry, why don’t you leave without an explanation? You still can’t let him go, can you?!”

Russell immediately grabbed Cherry’s other hand: “Tell me, who is the person you love the most!”

Mark: “Stone is gone, you choose him or me!”

Russell stared at Cherry.

Alana was shocked. Now that we have seen Cherry’s true face, can he still choose to forgive?

Alana suddenly found that she was old, she didn’t understand.

As for Cherry, her brain is still buzzing. They all wanted to fight for her and rob her.

Umple MND MOVE

She is so troubled, she loves them all, she can’t make a choice!

Chapter 146 Catch the Ghost

Cherry looked at the two men who were jealous of her, and was in pain.

“Russell, Mark, stop pushing me.”

“I can’t, I really can’t.”

Deep in the sadomasochistic plot, she forgot her new pursuit goal-Martin for a while.

At this moment, Cherry grabbed the hands of Russell and Mark, tears in her eyes:
“Can you stop robbing me? Don’t force me to choose which one of you to be with.”

“Can’t we live happily and happily together?”

“I can’t give up any of you, I’m in so much pain.!”

“Please, can you turn your fight for me into a secret care for me?”

Susie approached Mitch quietly, and asked in a low voice, “Micky, is this the Mary Sue story you said about an aunt and two uncles?”

Shocked by the scene in front of her, Alana took the words subconsciously and said,
“No, it’s not a Mary Sue story.”

Susie nodded and said: Got it!

The corner of Mitch’s mouth twitched: “Don’t forget about business, Juicy!”

At this time, the playboy on Cherry’s head looks at Mark for a while, and Russell for a while.

Mitch squints and whispers to teach Susie

Susie learned it seriously, muttering in her mouth, and immediately threw something out forcefully.

Mitch encouraged: “It’s okay, try again!”

Susie tried again, didn’t come out?

She was not convinced, Martin subconsciously looked at Susie, she was throwing something. ?

What he couldn’t see was that, as Susie threw it vigorously, a red net flew out and landed on Huaxin Gui accurately.

Mitch opened his mouth wide in surprise, a red net?!

A genius can only throw a red string for the first time!

The flower-hearted ghost was trapped, and instantly regained consciousness from the fantasy he had created, and when he looked up, he saw that the person who restrained him was actually a little kid.

She roared and struggled hard, but she didn’t know that the red net was getting tighter and tighter.

Cherry's eyes also gradually became a little demented.

"Mark. Russell. Don't leave me," she murmured unconsciously.

Susie pulled hard and pulled the rope.

The Huaxin Ghost struggled desperately, and roared heart-piercingly: "Let me go, let me go."

She pulled the red net hard, and Susie, who was unsteady, was almost thrown aside.

Martin quickly supported Susie.

Mitch's eyes were slightly cold, and with a slight movement of his finger, the red net suddenly emitted a red light, suppressing the philanderer so much that he couldn't move!

With great strength, Susie finally tore the flower-hearted ghost off

Cherry's head!

The little guy was overjoyed.

At this moment Russell was breaking away Cherry's hand and said, "Enough is enough. Since you have no choice, well, I'll just quit."

He is heartbroken.

Last night, he still hugged her sweetly, dreaming about a happy life in the future.

Today, reality hit him hard.

He should have known. From the very beginning, she never thought of single-mindedness.

Russell sighed and turned his head, leaving without any more lingering thoughts.

As soon as Cherry came back to her senses, she saw Russell leaving. Thinking of the sweetness of last night, she subconsciously said urgently: "Russell."

Mark pulled her back again, showing a very complicated smile: "Cherry."

Cherry looked at the man in front of her, she only had him.

"Mark, you're not going to leave me, are you? You said you'd love me forever."

After the two boyfriends left, Cherry just felt empty in her heart, which was worse than not letting her breathe.

Cherry looked at Mark eagerly, but unexpectedly Mark said, "I want to tell you, move your things away when you go back."

He looked at Cherry and said word for word, "Don't come back again."

Cherry was stunned: "No. You can't do this, you said that no matter what I did wrong, you would forgive me and be by my side!"

She is just insecure and just wants lots and lots of love!

What's wrong with her?

Mark pushed her away: "No, I've changed my mind now."

He took a deep look at her: "I will take back the card, and you will take care of yourself in the future!"

If he took back the card, she would have no money, how would she live?

"Mark."

Mark resolutely pushed her out!

A lot of spectators had already gathered outside, Cherry was pushed out, and suddenly a bunch of people pointed at her, which made her unable to get off the stage.

Mark pursed his lips and looked at Susie and Martin, packed the medicine they had just chosen without saying a word, and handed it to Susie.

"Sorry." He said, "I won't be opening today, so I'll give these herbs to you."

After a pause, he added, "Thank you."

Alana took Susie by the hand and said, "Let's go."

Martin pushed Alana's wheelchair, and the group passed Cherry and walked outside.

Susie felt so tired with the struggling philanderer in her hand.

This aunt is too heavy!

Alana turned around and asked strangely, "Susie, what are you taking?"

Susie remembered how her grandma was frightened before, and immediately shook her head: "I didn't take anything! Grandma, I'm just playing!"

Alana was suspicious, but didn't ask again.

Susie stopped several times along the way. Although she caught the playboy, she still didn't forget her uncle and grandma's medicine.

After visiting a few more stalls, I bought all the medicinal materials I needed, and then went to the parking lot.

As soon as I arrived at the parking lot, I saw that familiar figure sticking up again.

Cherry burst into tears: "Mr. Murray. I'm so sad, I'm really sad. I don't know what to do now, I don't know where to go! Can you lend me your shoulder."

She looked at Martin through sobs.

He must have accepted her. After all, she is so pitiful now.

Martin's fists hardened when he heard that. Seeing that Cherry was really sticking up shamelessly, he lifted his foot gracefully. Kicked her out!!

Cherry bumped into the trash can, knocked the trash can down, and fell into the trash.

After kicking Cherry aside, Martin straightened his clothes and said lightly, "If you dare to pester me again, we will see you again and hit me once!"

Susie and Alana were stunned.

Martin picked up Susie, pushed her into the car, and stepped on the pedal to push Alana up.

Cherry lay on the ground, raising her hand to look at the luxury car going away. My heart broke from crying!

A scene can't help appearing in Cherry's mind: the hero misunderstood the heroine, let her off the side of the road cruelly, and drove away by himself.

The heroine fainted from crying on the road, and the hero who drove halfway regretted it, and came back quickly, holding her in his arms.

Cherry stared blankly at the end of the road, but unfortunately, no one will come back.

Chapter 147 The Evil Ghost influenced by the Host

Cherry waited in a daze for a long time, until it was dark and didn't see Martin coming back. She felt as if she had been abandoned, and cried all the way back.

When I arrived at Stone's house, I found that he had moved overnight, was still there in the morning, and sold the house in the evening.

She went to Mark's house again. Mark is the owner of a shop in the medicinal material market. He has opened a small company of his own. He is the richest of her three boyfriends and lives in a high-end neighborhood.

When Cherry arrived, she found out that he had changed the lock, and he hadn't come back. The door was full of her things.

The cleaning aunt asked her if she wanted these things? If you don't want her to sweep away.

Cherry had no choice but to drag the suitcase and take a taxi to Russell's house.

Russell was in a bad mood. He was fired for such a trivial matter, and he couldn't figure it out.

He is also a victim, and he just brought Cherry into the company without authorization.

Thinking about all of this, it was Cherry's fault, and Russell regretted it.

So Russell saw Cherry coming, locked the door silently, and went back to his hometown.

Cherry cried and begged all the way, but Russell never looked back.

She was desperate and wanted to stay in a hotel for a while. In the past, several boyfriends gave her money, and the hotel was always luxurious. Looking at it now, the room fee is not enough!

She couldn't help squatting on the side of the road and crying loudly, feeling like the heroine who was targeted in a TV series, weak, helpless and pitiful, and the hero misunderstood her.

She had no choice but to live on the street and suffer so much. When the male protagonist found her again, her eyes no longer had the brilliance like stars, like marionettes.

But Cherry didn't think she was wrong at all. They really loved her, shouldn't they love her all and accept all her shortcomings?

So at this moment, she only felt that she was sad and pitiful, but she didn't have any thoughts of regret.

At this moment, a taxi drove past quickly, just as the wheels sank into a puddle on the side of the road, and Cherry was splashed with sewage.

A lump of sludge or something flew into her mouth.

Cherry vomited violently. After vomiting for a long time, she had no strength, and cried while hugging the pillar of the bus stop sign.

Susie dragged Huaxin Gui back home and tied her to the bed.

Playboy: "Let go of me! Damn it, let me go!"

She is an evil ghost! Is it reasonable to keep her on a leash like a dog?

Susie: "Call it slowly, it's okay, you won't be able to hear it anyway."

The flower-hearted ghost continued to shout angrily.

Alex flapped his wings and ran behind Susie with small steps: "It's so noisy, it's so noisy!"

Wade poked his head over and asked, "Susie, what did you catch?"

Susie looked at him and said, "Brother, you don't want to know."

Wade was speechless.

After dinner, Susie played on the first floor for a while before returning to her room.

Huaxingui had already shouted until his throat was smoking, and he was paralyzed at the foot of the bed speechlessly, not wanting to move.

Susie: "Hi Auntie, are you calm?"

Playboy: "Hmph."

Susie moved a small bench and sat next to her, excitedly said: "Story time!"

She rested her chin and looked at Huaxin Gui longingly.

Wade didn't know when he followed, he ran in quickly, set up his camera, then turned it on carefully, and took a look.

Seeing a female ghost in red looking straight at her, he was so frightened that his feet went limp, and he quickly supported Susie.

"Susie, let's sit together."

The corner of Mitch's mouth twitched, and he said, "Tell me, what's your name, where you were born, and how you died."

At this time, Huaxin Gui has calmed down a lot, thinking back to the time when his Cherry was on his head, he couldn't help but cursed 'Damn'.

"That woman disgusts me to death." The flower-hearted ghost said angrily, "Can you believe that I, an evil ghost, was blinded by her fantasy?"

Mitch looked suspicious.

The flower-hearted ghost wants to cry but has no tears: "I originally attached to her, just wanting to suck some black energy, but I didn't expect that girl to be so good at fantasizing."

After staying with Cherry for so long, she almost forgot what she was here for.

Mitch sneered, "Then when you were arrested, you still shouted to let you go?"

The Huaxin Ghost was full of displeasure: "That's another matter."

If caught, they may be exterminated. But if she could leave Cherry at that time, she would have taken the opportunity to escape. She can find another one!

"There are so many flirtatious men and women in this world, I can easily find one that suits me, but I am blind, so I chose Cherry."

This is the first evil ghost they caught, being affected by the host.

She is such a miserable woman, ridiculous and ridiculous.

The flower-hearted ghost cried: "You don't know! Cherry's desire and greed should have turned into black energy to support me. In the end, my good fellow, the black energy on my body has become her nourishment instead."

"I've never seen such a woman. I fantasize that I'm the heroine in a TV series, a noble princess! I also imagine that my hair is curly when I'm happy, straight when I'm unhappy, and heavenly when I'm happy. It rains cherry blossoms, and when you are unhappy, it rains roses! The whole world revolves around her, centered on her!"

"Although I'm a playboy, I'm not a fool! She's good, she's a playboy and a fool. I don't think her brain is that of a normal person."

Huaxin Gui complained for a while, as if he had already been filled with resentment.

Susie asked curiously, “So how did you die? You became a playboy, wasn’t it the same as Cherry before?”

Huaxingui frowned: “Don’t insult me!”

Immediately, I don’t know what to think of, and Huaxingui has another unspeakable expression on his face.

“I also dated two men at the same time.”

The Huaxin ghost said faintly: “I am definitely the worst in the world. My ex-boyfriend cheated me of my money and eloped with my ex-ex- boyfriend!”

Susie and Mitch, master and apprentice, were full of doubts.

ha? Two boyfriends elope together? What kind of strange thing is this? Can two men still elope?

Susie looked dazed, with doubts all over her little face.

Chapter 148 Two Exes Elope

The playboy sighed and said, “My name is Jennifer. Although my family is not very rich, it is also considered rich. My parents bought a villa in a rich area. Because I am the only child in the family, my parents bought that house. The transfer of ownership of the villa is under my name.”

Jennifer has been serious in her studies and well-behaved before university. It’s just that no one knew about the repressed wantonness in her heart. When she was in college, she was freed from the supervision of her parents for the first time. She felt like a bird that was let free.

“I often go to bars, sing K, and play. Because I am rich, I look good, and I have many suitors. My first boyfriend is also from our city, and his family background is similar to mine. After we were together for half a year, Suddenly one day I felt bored.”

Susie scratched her head and asked, “Why?”

The feelings of adults are so difficult to understand.

Why do you suddenly dislike it?

Huaxingui said: “Maybe it’s been a long time since I saw him. After seeing all his characters clearly, it seems that the future can see the end at a glance.”

At this time, another boy with a completely different personality from her boyfriend came into her sight.

“He is very well-behaved, so well-behaved that it makes people feel distressed, he will stick to me, sensible and gentle. I really like this character.”

Huaxingui soon broke up with the first boyfriend and got together with the second boyfriend.

Susie nodded: “Then you chose the one you like this time, will they be together forever?”

Unexpectedly, Hua Xingui shook his head: “No, we broke up after a month.”

Susie was confused: “Why?”

Huaxingui said: “He is too obedient, not challenging, and too clingy!”

Susie pursed her lips, wondering what she was thinking.

Mitch asked, “And then?”

Huaxin Gui said: “After breaking up, I found that if I don’t fall in love, my heart will be very empty. At this time, I feel that my ex-boyfriend is better.”

She wanted to get back together, but suddenly another senior appeared beside her.

The senior is sunny and handsome, warm and cheerful, and caring for others. She was tempted again.

Susie nodded, already guessing the routine: “So you’re with the senior?”

Huaxingui sighed: “I don’t want to, but the senior is really handsome. Compared with his ex-boyfriend, everything about the senior seems fresher.”

Mitch said speechlessly, “You’re really hardworking.”

Huaxingui defended: “That’s not what I said. Every love, I put 100% into it, and it’s all sincere!”

Every time she talked about a new boyfriend, she seemed to have changed into a new dress, and she felt happy from the bottom of her heart.

Especially during the passionate love period of the previous month, she was intimate with every boyfriend, wishing to become Siamese twins and stick together.

Huaxingui really likes the feeling of being in love, and even has no brains when in love, and cannot do without her boyfriend. She often does things like showering her boyfriend in the rain, weaving towels, and washing underwear.

Mitch pouted, glanced at Huaxin Gui, and asked, “Then you were hacked to death when you changed boyfriends?”

Playboy: “Not really.”

After graduating, the family began to urge her to marry, and suddenly learned about what she had been with her first boyfriend.

It happened that both of them knew each other, so the parents of both parties matched her with her ex-boyfriend.

“At that time, I was in a period of emotional emptiness, so I agreed.” The female ghost said: “Maybe I was tired from playing, and I also wanted to settle down. Soon I talked about marriage with my ex-boyfriend. Although I no longer like him It was as glucy as before, but it was also very sweet. At this time, I suddenly realized that there is also a long-term side to love, and it is also equally happy. I am willing to step into the grave of marriage.”

Wade, who had been silent all this time, asked, “Is it time to stop now?”

Huaxingui shook his head: “At this time, my second good boyfriend came to me. He said with a sad face that he hadn’t forgotten me all these years, but he forced me to bless me with a smile. He took me to watch the fireworks and made a wish for me. Peace and happiness in the next life. When the fireworks exploded, I saw him cry quietly.”

Susie hugged Alex and commented, “He’s a very good brother.”

Playboy: “Bah! My death is related to him!”

Susie, Wade, and Mitch were full of doubts.

Huaxingui gritted his teeth and said, “When I saw his tears at that time, I felt distressed all of a sudden, and suddenly I realized that I still love him! But I’m about to get engaged again, and I love my first boyfriend deeply. How to do?”

So, while preparing for the wedding with her boyfriend, Jennifer secretly dated another obedient boyfriend.

The stimulation of this secret relationship gave her the illusion that she loved her obedient boyfriend more.

“I feel that I owe him, I’m sorry for him, let him break up with me! But he said, no, as long as he can be with me, he is willing to be anonymous for the rest of his life.”

Huaxingui cried at this point: “I was moved and cried. How could I let my good boy have nothing, so I gave him the villa that my parents gave me, and bought him a car with my savings .After a few days he stopped contacting me. I was busy during the wedding and didn’t think much about it. I thought he was hiding in the dark and sad. When we got married and exchanged rings, I was still Thinking about him. I only found out later that he sold his villa and car in those few days, turned them into cash, and ran away overnight!!”

Mitch, Susie, and Wade were speechless.

Huaxingui became more and more excited when he said this: “Run and run. I didn’t know until later that he ran with the senior!!”

Huaxingui was very excited when he said this.

“My ex cheated me of my money and eloped with my ex! Is this a script that people can write?”

The playboy cried loudly: “These two liars!!”

The villa was sold, and the family and her husband soon found out, and the husband was going to die of anger when asked.

When my wife was sweetly preparing for the marriage with me, she was still meeting other men in private.

“My husband is going to divorce immediately.” Huaxin Gui choked up: “But after going through all this, I realized that from the beginning to the end, my husband is the one who really loves me.

“I don’t agree with the divorce, but he seems to have made up his mind. I can’t help it. I begged him hard and didn’t turn back. So I climbed up the tallest building in the community and threatened death. I didn’t want to really jump off the building., who knew that it had rained in those few days, and the moss on the roof was too slippery, so the fake show came true. I just fell.”

Wade, Susie, and Mitch were speechless.

Chapter 149 I did

“The moment I fell, who could know my fear? I didn’t want to die, I was so scared that I disappeared, and I was scared to death before I fell to the ground, so I watched myself hit the ground and my brain burst.”

The soul has not completely left the body, and she can still feel the pain in the body.

The scariest thing was watching his red and white brains spurt out, spraying her soul body all over the face. It was an unspeakable fear and regret.

After she died, she couldn’t “fly up” at all. Day and night, she repeated falling from the roof of the building, repeating the fear of being sprayed all over her face with her own brains.

It took a whole ten years until she became an evil ghost before she was able to leave that place.

“I’m so miserable.” Huaxingui wiped his tears: “It’s so miserable.”

Huaxingui looked up at the sky at 45°, and burst into tears: “I once had a sincere love in front of me, but I didn’t cherish it. If God can give me another chance, I will tell my past self. Cheating is not good die!”

Mitch, Susie, and Wade were speechless.

Susie: “So?”

Huaxin Ghost looked at Susie pitifully: “So for the sake of my sincere repentance, can you not kill me. Although I am a ghost, I still want to live for five hundred years.”

The corner of Wade’s mouth twitched.

Mitch was very speechless and wrote a few words on the booklet, and saw Susie patted her small chest and promised: “Okay, I won’t kill you, so come in by yourself?”

Playboy: “Where are you going?”

Susie held up the gourd: “Gourd! There are ugly aunts and candy-loving brothers in it.”

As soon as he heard that there was a boy, Huaxin Gui’s eyes lit up: “Yes, yes!” After speaking, he willingly flew to the gourd.

Mitch silently crossed out the few strokes he wrote just now, and rewrote.

Susie held up the gourd and shook it: “Micky, is the gourd full?”

Mitch didn’t even look up: “It’s early, last time one box was full, now it’s two full.”

Susie propped her chubby chin and asked, “But I caught several ghosts, why did I add one more.”

Mitch: “Because you didn’t kill every ghost.”

The gourd needs to refine the black energy of the evil ghost. If her permission is obtained, the ghost entering the gourd will enter a space and cannot be transformed into the black energy required by the gourd.

“But it’s okay. Maybe these ghosts can be your helpers in the future.” Mitch said.

Susie was lying on the bed, staring at the gourd with her head tilted, wondering what she was thinking.

On the side, Wade took out a notebook, and saw a list of formulas written on the front of the notebook:

The volume of evil ghosts = x , the volume of ordinary ghosts = y , and the volume of vile ghosts = z .

Calabash area =

Filling the gourd requires $x \approx 19$, or $y \approx 100$, or z .

Wade pens to add:

Now: $x=2$ (vanity ghost, hypocrisy devil), $y=0$, $z=0$

Untransformed $x=2$ (cowardly ghost, playboy), untransformed $y=1$ (ugly aunt)

Wade looked at the records in the notebook and sighed.

No way, I need to find more x ’s!!

In the gourd, the ugly aunt and the coward are playing guessing games, and the loser gets a slap in the face.

Seeing the philandering ghost come in with a smile on his face, the cowardly ghost trembled for some reason.

Playboy: “Hahahaha, what are you guys playing?”

Aunt Ugly and Cowardly Ghost were speechless.

Before going to bed at night, Susie secretly uses her mobile phone to watch videos.

Like all young children who are new to new things, Susie can't control her hands.

At this time, Susie suddenly saw a video, and felt a chill run down her spine.

In the video, a man is kneeling on the ground with a kitchen knife, kowtowing and shouting:

【Sorry, Susie! I'm the one who set the flag and said kneeling and kowtowing the day you were bullied by the Internet! Unexpectedly, I raped a little girl on the Internet! I regret it! I'm wrong! I will never spray on the Internet again! The man does what he says, I will cut off my finger today under the witness of the whole network!!】

After finishing speaking, he really put his finger aside, and chopped off with a swipe of the kitchen knife, on his index finger!

The video is not coded, but black and white image processing is done when it is cut.

The man let out a scream, and blood spurted out. He covered his fingers and rolled on the ground in pain, then picked up the chopped off index finger, and showed a sick smile to the camera:

[Look, I am really chopping. You should know my sincerity.]

The black and white picture is even more weird. Susie was so scared that she threw her phone out!

Due to the cyberbullying, the Murray family decided to let Susie go to kindergarten after the incident completely subsided.

Alana opened the door and came in, asking quickly, "What's wrong?"

Susie threw herself into Alana's arms.

"Grandma, these people are scary."

She has seen so many ghosts. Headless, even limbs were severed. She is not afraid.

But I never thought that these people I saw on the Internet were scarier than ghosts.

Alana patted Susie: "Don't be afraid, grandma is here!"

Susie pursed her lips tightly, but she still couldn't help asking: "Those people, why did they do this? It's obviously an apology, but why is it so scary?"

Alana sighed, hugged the little person in her arms, and said in a low voice: “In this world, there are always people who become inhuman for money. Before we made money, we knew that we had to work hard and suffer, so we honed our will and took one step at a time. Step up and keep your feet on the ground. But now traffic is king, whoever masters traffic, even a person with no knowledge, can get rich overnight. Traffic gives people a false impression that traffic is within reach, and they think they are casual Just post a video, and it seems to be able to explode all of a sudden.”

“In order to get gifts, I am full of ugliness. After I have tasted the sweetness once, I am not willing to do other hard work. I will only use more extreme behaviors in exchange for more traffic.”

Susie said softly: “Then, are they still human?”

Alana stroked Susie’s soft hair, not knowing how to answer.

“Okay, go to sleep!” Alana looked at her kindly: “You are not allowed to play with your phone from now on.”

Susie obediently picked up the phone and handed it to Alana: “Hmm!”

After Susie fell asleep, Alana, who left the room, turned on her phone and found the video Susie had just watched.

When she saw that scene, she couldn’t help being startled, and immediately became very angry.

How did this thing pass the trial?

Alana backhanded a report.

In the future, if this kind of video comes, she will report one and block the account of the other party!

Chapter 150 Good Luck

Passing through this noisy area is the densely packed urban village self- built housing area.

There is a medal hanging in front of one of the buildings, with colorful marquees flashing, and four large characters written on it – Love Apartment.

In a studio apartment on the fourth floor, a man with short arms was excitedly swiping his phone.

He is the Stetson who cut off his finger. Stetson found that the video he just posted broke 1 million views and more than 70,000 likes in just half an hour.

He's about to explode!

However, before he could be proud for two seconds, the phone received a notification: [Your video has been removed from the shelves due to violations!]

Stetson was startled, then resentful. Why take down his video!

He adjusted the bloody part to black and white, without any red at all!

“Obviously I was the one who set the flag and said kneeling and apologizing, but because the company was in a hurry, I didn't pay attention to my phone all night.”

Stetson flipped through his phone, looking enviously at the accounts that became popular and gained countless fans because of apologizing to Susie.

The first person who pretended to be him kneeled durian live, and his fans had 100,000.

Then he took the opportunity to sell durians to see the transaction volume in the past two days. You have to earn tens of thousands just for the pure share!

Stetson was furious, staring at the phone.

The second person who pretended to be him was kneeling on the glass slag in the live broadcast, and then cried miserably, saying that he was in a tragedy. Immediately afterwards, they brought goods and sold various 'cups'.

In the past two days, the sales of cups alone have exceeded 10,000!

“Am I the one who is ruthless? I cut off my fingers live!” Stetson's eyes glowed green.

“It's all like this, and I only have more than 10,000 fans. It's really unfair!”

The video of chopping off his fingers made him gain 10,000 followers in an instant, and he tasted the sweetness. Now he racks his brains and just wants to make another video.

You have to catch up with the flow, otherwise he won't be able to get up when the heat passes.

Stetson was scrolling through the video, and suddenly came across a video of [Girl was captured by three boyfriends on the spot].

This should be a video shot by the crowd.

Stetson looked at it, and suddenly his eyes lit up, and he recognized the child in the video as Susie!

“God help me too!”

Stetson was excited.

He saved the video, and then carefully selected a clip, titled Susie# 參考約三男友直播】

This title is a steal, others see Susie? Susie dating three boyfriends at the same time?

The number of headlines has exploded, the completion rate has exploded, comments and likes have exploded, and the popularity is rising like a rocket!

Stetson attached an ad link to the video, and as long as there is exposure, he will be paid.

Looking at the rising number of fans, the man seemed to see a pile of money beckoning to him, and his heart was full of joy.

“That Susie is indeed a cash cow!”

In the crowded and messy rental room, the curtains were drawn, the room was dark, and there was an invisible coldness.

the next day.

Stetson got up with dark circles under his eyes, and the first thing he did was to watch the video.

“The daily income is 3268. I rely on it!”

The man jumped up happily, muttering: “More than three thousand a day, more than one hundred thousand a month.”

What class do you still have?!

The man resolutely quit his job, all he wanted was to hold on to Susie, the cash cow.

At this moment, there was a bang on the door.

“404, Stetson! The rent is paid!” The landlord muttered indistinctly from outside:
“You have been procrastinating for months!”

Outside the door, Jade, a charter woman, was wearing a T-shirt and big pants, holding a lollipop.

She stretched out her hand and scratched the top of her trousers, and said to herself,
“This Stetson is still refusing to move out after six months of rent.”

“When we come to collect the rent, it’s either that no one is there, or the door is not opened. Can the rent be collected smoothly today?”

This single room is at the corner of the fourth floor. The door opens to the stairs. Not to mention the noise of people going up and down every day, and the lighting is not good—three sides outside are the outer walls of other buildings, and 404 has only one window.

The room number sounded ominous.

So the monthly rent is only 450, which is 2700 for six months, plus water and electricity

“A total of 3268.”

Jade looked up and knocked on the door again, without any hope in her heart.

The tenant of 404 is very poor and lazy, and his monthly salary is not enough for him to eat, drink and smoke.

Obviously earning a monthly salary of less than three thousand, but want to smoke the best cigarettes.

Can’t afford the rent, but the game has bought all the equipment.

It is estimated that there is still no way to collect the rent today, Jade couldn’t help sighing.

At this moment, Clara, who was lying on her neck, sneezed again.

Jade knocked on the door, there was a rustling sound from inside, and a voice said impatiently: “Wait a minute!”

After a while, the door of 404 opened.

Stetson has a sloppy beard and serious dark circles under his eyes. Holding his mobile phone, he said angrily, "Isn't it just six months' rent? Call me every day! Are you annoying?! Tell me, how much is it?"

Jade was amazed, Stetson was finally willing to give the money?! Suddenly found that her luck has been very good in the past few days!

Jade quickly said: "You owe six months' rent, a total of 3268 yuan!"

Stetson was dumbfounded.

3268?

Such a coincidence?

The daily income he just saw was exactly 3268.

This income is the income shown after tax deduction, and as much as it is shown is withdrawn, Stetson grumbled, withdrawing the 3268 yuan with great heartache, and then transferred it to Jade.

He snorted, this place costs more than 3,000 yuan, and when he makes more money, move out of your damn place immediately!

404 is dark and airless, and the single room is very small. He has had enough.

Jade closed the notebook and said, "If you still want to live next month, remember to pay the rent. You won't be here every time you come."

Stetson rolled his eyes and closed the door.

"Bah, I'm rich and I'm going to rent a house in a high-end neighborhood, who wants to live here!" He murmured to himself.

Jade threw the pen and notebook into the bag and stretched.

"Done!"

She walked down with her slippers on with a relaxed face. There was a banyan tree downstairs, and a few uncles and aunts were chatting with their grandchildren to enjoy the shade.

"Hey, Jade, have you received the rent for 404?" an aunt asked.

Jade smiled: "I received it, and I gave it for six months."

Several uncles and aunts were surprised.

Jade nodded and said, “Yeah, I feel weird too.”

As she spoke, she chewed the lollipop that was left in her mouth, and threw the stick of the lollipop casually, and the stick fell into the trash can.

Jade’s eyes widened: “Ah!”

Is it so accurate? After eating the lollipop, Jade was a little thirsty. After turning out of the alley, she bought a bottle of drink at a canteen.

The proprietress saw her and asked, “Have you finished collecting the rent?”

Jade: “Yeah. Finished.”

She unscrewed the cap from her drink, turning it around for a look as she drank.

When she saw the following words, she almost spit out a mouthful of soda.

The proprietress quickly said: “What’s the matter, shouldn’t it be another bottle?!”

Jade: “No.”

The proprietress breathed a sigh of relief: “You said that the drinks you bought from me in the past few days, every time you open it, you get another bottle.”

Jade coughed, looked at her innocently, and handed the pull ring to the proprietress.

She said, “It’s another box.”

The proprietress was speechless.

In disbelief, she picked up the ring of the can and looked carefully, and sure enough, she saw that there was another box written on the back.
