

Chapter 151 Susie Looking for Mom

Jade carried a box of drinks and walked towards the parking lot with a stunned expression.

She has been very lucky these days.

Buying a drink is guaranteed to win another bottle, and throwing garbage can still be thrown into the trash can no matter how far away it is, even if an egg is cracked, it is a double-yolked egg.

Jade put the case of drinks away and drove off.

Behind her, the ghost Clara opened her eyes and looked at herself – she was covered in golden light, like a koi carp.

“How did I get on this girl?” Clara felt so strange, she wanted to try to leave, but found that she couldn’t.

“strangeness.”

Clara didn’t believe in evil, so she tried hard, but bumped into the steering wheel.

At this moment, a large truck rushed over uncontrollably with a harsh horn sound.

Because the brakes were too fast, the car body was swayed.

Before Jade could react, her steering wheel turned around inexplicably, narrowly avoiding the big truck!

The big truck pushed several small cars out, and then stopped after five hundred meters.

Jade turned pale with fright, and hurriedly parked on the side of the road.

Passers-by were stunned. She managed to escape under the out-of-control truck!

“Oh my god, I thought she was going to be knocked into the air just now, and if she doesn’t die, she will lose half her life. I didn’t expect to stick to her past!”

Passers-by were constantly amazed and ran to the front to see the scene of the car accident.

Jade also took a look, several cars were horribly hit, only she was not injured.

“Oh my god.” She patted her chest with lingering fear, and drove away quickly.

Back downstairs in the community, something even more incredible happened.

The proprietress of the lottery shop craned her neck to see Jade, and hurriedly chased him out.

She lowered her voice, looked around, and asked, “Hey, Jade! Look at the lottery ticket you bought last night. Did you win a prize? Five million dollars! I remember the string of numbers you chose.”

Jade fumbled in her pocket and said, “No way, it’s not so easy to win five million. I just picked yesterday’s date at random.”

The proprietress saw it, and said excitedly, slapping her thigh, “That’s it! It’s yesterday’s date! Five million! My god, Jade, you’re rich!!”

Jade was excited, and then realized that she was going to be late, so she hurriedly changed her clothes and rushed towards the university.

It was halfway through the first class in the morning, and she sneaked in through the back door of the lecture theater, just in time to hear the teacher say:

“Okay, half of the class is over. I don’t think everyone is awake. Let’s roll the roll now.”

The teacher saw that he fell asleep, so he decided to play something exciting – roll call.

“Jade!”

Jade who had just sat up quickly raised her hand: “Here!”

The teacher took a look and continued to roll the roll.

The two classmates next to Jade looked at her in surprise: “Fuck, what luck are you having?”

Behind the university, on the road where the car accident happened just now.

Susie squatted on the side of the road, watching the cars coming and going strangely.

“Mitch, why are you sneaking on me?”

It turned out that Mitch couldn't find Clara, so he wanted to pull Susie out for a walk.

He figured out that he still had to rely on Susie to find Clara.

Now looking at the car accident in front of him, eight cars collided in a row, one died and seven were injured, he checked all the dead and seven injured, but still couldn't find Clara.

“Strange, it is clearly said to be here.”

But it turns out he was thinking too much.

There was a car accident, but Clara was still not found.

Susie stood up suddenly, and solemnly patted Mitch's arm: “Micky, what problem are you encountering, tell me? I can help you!”

Mitch was speechless.

After thinking about it, he still said with difficulty: “Susie, a few days ago, your mother went home for the last time before she was reborn, but she accidentally got lost.”

Susie froze.

Mom got lost?

Mitch rubbed his nose: “Yes. There was a little accident, and your mother's soul turned into a star and flew away. Mitch couldn't find it after searching for two days. We need to find your mother and send her away.”

Susie said urgently: “Micky, why didn't you say it earlier?”

Mitch wanted to say something, Susie ran with the puppet rabbit in her arms: “Quick, let's find mom together!”

Susie couldn't help being anxious in her heart, although in the Murray family, her grandparents and uncles were really kind to her.

However, she still wants to see her mother again.

Susie searched randomly, crossed the street, walked to the back door of the university without knowing it, and ran in without looking back.

Mitch: “Susie?”

On the other end, Jade finished class and looked at the timetable: “Teacher asking for leave this afternoon?”

That’s all right, she was thinking about going to see a new movie that was released.

Unexpectedly, the teacher asked for leave!

Jade cheered, got into the car and left with the book in her arms.

As soon as the car left, Susie found the door of her classroom and looked around.

“There’s no mother here either!” Susie was disappointed.

Strange, she just calculated that her mother is here!

Fate seemed to play a joke on them, neither Susie nor Mitch knew, now that Clara was possessed by Jade, everything was based on the idea of the host Jade.

On the way home, Susie leaned against the window, looking out at the street.

“Mom, mom.” She kept muttering, her beautiful black eyes full of disappointment.

After dinner, Susie heard Micky say that her mother disappeared in the Murray family, and she began to search the yard.

Everyone in the Murray family looked at Susie running all over the yard in bewilderment.

I saw her pulling the bushes, climbing up the trees, and lying beside the rockery pool.

In the rockery in the garden, Susie poked her head in: “Hello, is mom here?”

Grandpa Turtle was full of doubts.

In the temporary chicken coop behind the kitchen, Susie lifted the hen’s nest: “Hi, did you see my mother?”

Even before going to bed at night, Susie ran to the balcony and spread Alex’s wings: “Alex, did mom hide in your feathers?”

Alex: “No, I don’t have a mother.”

After making a fuss in the middle of the night, Susie finally fell asleep.

Mitch was stunned, and the reaction was a bit too much.

The Murray family all looked worried, did the little guy miss his mother?

Must be missing my mother.

Alana just felt sad, thinking of Clara, her eyes turned red.

Your mother will never come back.

Chapter 152 look, that's my dad

Susie searched for two days, but couldn't find her mother.

Soon it was time for her to resume school.

Susie could only keep the matter of finding her mother in her heart, and she couldn't help being in a daze during class.

"Susie." Flora was calling the roll, but seeing Susie in a daze, she couldn't help shouting.

At the beginning, the little cutie who responded loudly at the roll call was a little quiet. Flora felt that she was still affected by the cyberbullying, and felt a little uncomfortable in her heart.

Susie immediately raised her hand and said, "Here!"

Flora was slightly startled, and smiled, "Very good, Susie finally came to school!"

Adults can't bear cyber violence, and she has been worried that the little guy won't be able to get out.

Fortunately, looking at it now, it still seems so soft and cute.

Susie apologized very sensibly: "I'm sorry~ I made the teacher worry!"

Flora touched her little head and said, "It's okay. You're fine!"

"Okay, sit down, kids! Today we have a very important class, which is taught by the father of a child in our class. Guess who it is?"

The children chattered instantly, and Susie was also curious, whose father came to class?

I just heard Flora say: "Then the teacher won't be a joke. Today our whole kindergarten will participate in a drill called explosion-proof drill.”

0.00%

288 Nouchers

She explained what an explosion-proof drill is and what everyone needs to do, and then focused on revealing:

“Susie’s father from our class came to this explosion-proof drill. Susie’s father is a great soldier. He will teach us how to escape when we encounter gangsters, and finally show us how to subdue the gangsters!”

Flora only mentioned Kellen’s identity and nothing else, but the identity of a soldier is already very remarkable in the eyes of the children.

The children suddenly let out an ah, and looked at Susie with sparkling eyes.

Susie suddenly felt her heart bulging, so proud!

When she came in the morning, Dad didn’t even tell her.

Excited, Susie finally put the matter of finding her mother behind her for the time being.

My mind is full of Dad now, and I can’t wait to go to the playground.

The children went out in line, and Susie saw the host stage from a distance. Her dad was wearing an army green camouflage uniform, with his hands behind his back, standing upright with a cold face.

The father standing on the podium looked taller, with sharp eyebrows and starry eyes. Susie thought her father was the most handsome father in the world!

Standing behind Kellen are two men who also wear army green camouflage uniforms, but Susie, who wears a father filter, feels that the two uncles are not as good as her father, and instead make her father look more majestic.

Susie couldn’t be happier.

“Look, that’s my dad! That’s my dad~” Susie couldn’t wait to share: “Stand in front, the tallest one!”

Lumi said, “Susie, your dad is so tall!”

The children described the height of Susie’s father one after another, and the children’s words were very innocent.

Kellen didn't squint, and slightly hooked his lips.

Seeing Pineapple Class passing by him, he lowered his eyes slightly, and locked his obedient daughter with one glance.

Susie was also looking up, and said hello nervously and quickly: "Hi, Dad!"

Kellen had a serious face, but when others were not paying attention, he quietly stretched out a hand and made an OK gesture to indicate acceptance.

Susie suddenly smiled, eyes crooked, stretched out her fleshy little hand, and made an OK gesture.

The little interaction between the father and daughter made the hearts of the teachers who saw it feel sore.

Stone on the podium was holding a microphone, and said in a gentle voice: "Kids, please stand in your respective class positions."

Stone haggarded a lot, but he was still very serious when working, with a smile on his face, making it impossible to see his downfall.

After all the classes were lined up, Stone said: "Today we are honored to invite the father of Susie from Pineapple Class to give us today's explosion-proof drill! Children, let us applaud together and welcome our instructor!"

The children immediately applauded vigorously and shouted: "Welcome, welcome, warmly welcome!"

He smiled slightly and said, "Hello, children!"

Stone handed the microphone to Kellen.

Kellen took the microphone and said: "Today, I will lead all the teachers and students of Wisdom Nursery School to conduct an explosion-proof drill. Later, a gangster will rush in through the door with a kitchen knife.

Kellen did not play cards according to the routine, and did not explain what explosion-proof drills were according to the procedure. He believed that the teachers in each class had explained it.

The children looked at the school gate. Although the teacher had explained everything, some children still showed panic on their faces.

The principal's mouth twitched.

Kellen said: “But children, don’t be afraid, the instructor, the two uncles behind you, and your teachers, we will protect you!”

“Now, put your little ears up for me, listen up!”

“When you are in danger, your campus police uncle will sound the siren. What you have to do is to increase your vigilance, keep your eyes on your teacher, and follow the teacher’s command to escape in an orderly manner! Don’t run around, don’t push people !”

A boy from the big class plucked up his courage and said, “Then can’t we beat the bad guys?”

Kellen directly denied: “No! Remember, when you can escape for your life, the first choice is to escape!”

After answering the children’s questions, and explaining the process of avoiding violence and things to pay attention to, let the children know what the explosion-proof siren sounds like.

Kellen started right away.

However, an alarm sounded, and a gangster in black clothes with black stockings on his face climbed over the wall and charged in with a kitchen knife!

The teachers panicked and couldn’t react at once, and the scene was chaotic in an instant.

Stone subconsciously ran forward, grabbed the children who were closest to the gangster, and backed away in a panic.

Kellen’s eyes were sharp, and with a glance, he recorded the existing flaws of Anquan.

What I want is the effect of such a surprise attack.

What’s the use of following the procedure?

His daughter’s kindergarten is to train for actual combat results!

Otherwise, his trip would be in vain.

Chapter 153 The most eye-catching

Seeing the chaotic scene, some children were crying, and some were at a loss and didn't know what to do.

Kellen dropped the microphone and said coldly: "Remember the escape process just now!"

This cold drink scared everyone back to their senses.

A few school policemen rushed over, holding a big fork to kill the gangster.

The gangster held a 'kitchen knife' made of a cardboard box and waved it while screaming.

The children screamed, and it took half a minute before the teachers managed to control the scene and led the children to escape along the planned route.

Kellen glanced again and went upstream, while the school policeman was still fighting the gangster with a fork, he grabbed the gangster's arm and threw him to the ground!

Boom!

The gangster suddenly screamed: "Ah."

Michael's head was buzzing with pain, man, when he first found out that Kellen had 'spoiled' their sister, he always wanted to beat him up.

Although I found out later that he was a good person, I was still dissatisfied in my heart. After all, Clara was the sister they had loved for more than 20 years.

Being "cheated away" by Kellen in this way, being an older brother must be more or less uncomfortable.

Ever since, when he learned that the kindergarten was going to practice, Michael signed up to be a gangster without saying a word.

Michael thought very well, and he decided to take advantage of the exercise to knock Kellen over. Pretend to be subdued again.

Let him know who is the boss of the family.

Unexpectedly, he was knocked over by Kellen.

Kellen snorted coldly, picked up the microphone and said lightly: "Okay, the first round of exercises is over, everyone is back."

The children were all stunned.

Susie was also stunned.

The gangster lying on the ground was none other than someone else. It's uncle!

With a black hood on, she couldn't even recognize it!

At the end of the first exercise, everyone's hearts were beating wildly, and the headmaster's face turned pale.

However, the children looked at Kellen with sparkling eyes in fear and excitement!

The way he swung the gangster to the ground just now was super cool!

The principal approached Kellen and whispered: "Instructor, can you give everyone a preparation time in advance?"

Kellen sneered: "Will the gangsters give you a preparation time?"

The principal was dumbfounded for a while, and said, "But you will scare the children like this."

Kellen didn't look at him, his eyes swept over the children who were lining up.

His tone was cold and unquestionable: "I believe our children are not that fragile. Although they are as delicate as flowers, they have a strong heart hidden inside."

Kellen does not agree with this greenhouse cultivation method. He believes that children do not have fragile hearts, and all fragility is raised by adults.

He has his own measure and knows what is acceptable and what is not.

War, bloodshed, brutal killings, beatings. These things really shouldn't be confronted by today's children, but it's just gangsters rushing in. This level is unacceptable. What happens when gangsters really come? Are you so frightened that you can't even run?

The principal was speechless for a while, under Kellen's strong aura, he didn't dare to say anything at all, and didn't know what to say.

With a sad face, he said, "But if the children say something to the parents after they go home, the parents will be angry."

Kellen glanced at him: "Because you are afraid that your parents will settle accounts with you, so you give up some necessary education?"

The principal complained from the bottom of his heart, but he heard Kellen say: "After the exercise is over, it should be your business to calm down the children. Also, if there is trouble, you just ask him to come to me."

The headmaster quickly said, "Okay, okay."

Kellen stopped looking at him, and waited until the children lined up before he said, "Kids, were you afraid just now?"

Some children said they were afraid, while others said they were not.

Of course, some are still crying.

Kellen smiled: "It's normal to be afraid. Only when we know that we are afraid will we be in awe of this world. It is also normal not to be afraid, which means you are very brave!"

A child cried: "The one who cried."

Kellen affirmed: "It's normal to cry, I cried when I was your age."

The children gradually quieted down.

Susie looked up at her father.

Dad is amazing. worship!

"You all have great power hidden in your heart, so when another gangster rushes in later, do you remember what to do?"

One after another, the children raised their hands, some said to run, and some said to listen to the teacher's instructions.

Susie raised her hand and said loudly, “Run up and beat him!”

Her eyes were shining brightly, and she was waving her small fists, looking very excited.

When Lulu heard this, he waved his fist fiercely: “Yes! Run up! Fuck him!”

Kellen was speechless.

The teachers were speechless.

The corner of Kellen’s mouth twitched, now he dare not doubt the strength of his soft and good daughter.

He said: “Student Susie is very brave, but remember what I said, under normal circumstances, the strength of children is far less than that of adults. Our first principle is still to save our lives.”

Susie nodded, understood.

She felt that she belonged to the abnormal situation. She has a red string, so she can also fly uncle’s!

No matter what, you can’t make trouble for Dad now, so Susie nodded very obediently: “I understand!”

Kellen secretly breathed a sigh of relief, really afraid that Susie would really go up to fight the gangster later.

Once Susie goes up, is it okay? Lulu will definitely be there too.

Kellen summed up the confusion just now, pointing out the problems of the teachers, as well as the slow response of the school police and poor practical skills.

Immediately after the conclusion, the second exercise was conducted, and this time it was much better. As soon as the siren sounded, the teachers were shocked and immediately organized the children to evacuate.

The children also understood what to do, and no longer just obeyed the teacher’s orders, but had their own thinking and understood why they ran like this.

Kellen was very relieved, watching the school police forcefully cross Michael.

Michael was almost pissed off.

This time he couldn’t even handle a few school policemen.

Michael competed with his strength, and the school police also competed with their strength.

Michael was one against eight, and it took a full two minutes before he was kicked out, which is actually pretty good.

After teaching the drill, Kellen started the second process, teaching the school police how to prevent riots.

The children sat cross-legged on the playground, sweating profusely, but full of excitement, watching Kellen surrounded by seven or eight school police officers on the practice field.

The children shouted: “Instructor, come on!”

Susie then shouted: “Instructor, come on!”

A whistle sounded, and seven or eight campus police officers rushed to Kellen at the same time.

I saw Kellen’s eyes turned cold and crackled.

In less than half a minute, everyone was knocked down!

She was very proud and kept saying, “This is my dad! Look, this is my dad~”

Kid Susie instantly became the most eye-catching kid in the school!

Kellen couldn’t help curling his lips, looking at the proud little guy, his heart softened.

Chapter 154 Does Your Dad Like Ultraman?

Seeing Susie proudly say “This is my dad” to the children, Michael was sour.

He snorted coldly, raised his hand and said, “I’ll come!”

He didn’t believe that he was on the construction site all year round and was physically strong, so he couldn’t do Kellen? !

When the children saw the ‘gangster’ coming again, they shouted even more excitedly: “Come on! Come on! Defeat the gangster! Beat him up!”

Susie looked at her father, then at her uncle.

Uncle has no one to help.

So the little guy shouted at the top of his voice: “Come on, instructor! Come on, gangster!”

When Susie shouted, Lulu also shouted: “Come on!”

The kid was stunned again, what kind of operation is this?

Susie pointed at Michael and explained, “He’s not really a gangster! He’s the fifth uncle!”

The children suddenly realized.

Michael automatically ignored the first half of Susie’s sentence, and only heard the sentence [Gangsters, come on], his eyebrows were beaming, and he felt that he was full of strength, and now he can overturn a cow without any problem!

Michael hooked his fingers, full of provocation.

The next second, he was suddenly grabbed by Kellen’s wrist, and fell over his shoulder to the ground!

Kellen’s movements were too fast for everyone to see clearly, and the gangster was defeated.

The children cheered and applauded. The little girls looked at Kellen as if they saw a hero, and the little boys looked at Kellen as if they saw Ultraman.

Michael blushed and said loudly, “This guy’s sneak attack doesn’t count!”

Kellen raised his eyebrows, “Okay.”

Michael got up and saw Kellen turned to look at Susie.

Michael rushed up quickly, ready to knock Kellen down while he wasn’t looking!

Kellen didn’t seem to notice, the children exclaimed again and again, dancing wildly with their hands anxiously: “Behind.”

A triumphant smile appeared in Michael’s eyes.

However, just as his hand touched Kellen, suddenly, he fell to the ground again.

Some little boys have jumped up excitedly.

A child in a large class has mastered high-quality human vocabulary and kept shouting: “Awesome”

Kellen made a big splash in the kindergarten, but Michael was the opposite teaching material. No matter what posture he rushed up, he ended up lying on the ground in the same posture.

This explosion-proof drill, the children are still full of enthusiasm. On the way back to the classroom, some children even imitated Kellen, envious of Susie having such a father.

At this time Susie was waving goodbye to her father and uncle.

The little guy's eyes are full of adoring little stars: "Daddy is amazing!"

Kellen reached out and rubbed her head, the corner of his mouth slightly raised: "Hmm."

Seeing his uncle crossing his arms and looking a little unhappy, Susie said again: "Uncle is very successful in being a gangster today! He is also super powerful! If other gangsters fall like this, they will definitely have a black nose and a bruised face! Uncle is still so handsome!"

Susie really thinks that uncle is amazing, so she manually likes it and praises it sincerely.

The little emotion in Michael's heart disappeared in an instant, and he hurriedly asked, "Really?"

Susie nodded affirmatively: "Really!"

Michael grinned suddenly, feeling relieved in his heart.

**

Kellen went back to deal with some things, and looked at the time, it happened that Susie was about to leave school.

He changed his clothes and drove to pick up Susie.

Kellen thought that driving by himself would be enough arrogance, but he didn't expect a car to drive past him on the road. A young girl panicked and waved her hands: "Sorry, sorry."

Before the sound fell, the car drove past with a whistling sound.

Kellen raised an eyebrow.

He couldn't see ghosts, so he didn't see Clara lying on top of Jade.

He watched as the car ran crookedly in an S shape, overtook the other two cars, and barely stopped. There are quite a lot of cars on the road, and she will not be injured.

Kellen put his hand on the car window and tilted his head slightly: “Tsk tsk. Good driving skills!”

At this moment in the car in front, Jade secretly said that it was dangerous.

Her brakes failed, and strangely enough, she was fine.

“It’s amazing.” Jade muttered, “Is this lucky or not?”

How can a good brake fail if you’re lucky.

If you’re not lucky, the brakes on the fast rings of so many cars fail, and she’s fine.

Jade parked the car on the side road and made a phone call.

When Kellen arrived at kindergarten, it was just after school.

Susie came out all the way, and there were children who greeted her all the way:

“Hi! How are you, Susie! I like your dad very much. Let’s ask your dad to go to the amusement park next time!”

“Susie, let’s go together! I also take the school bus!”

“Susie, here you are!” A little boy ran up, stuffed her a lollipop, and then his eyes lit up: “Does your dad like Ultraman cards?”

Susie thought for a while: “Should like it?”

Boys seem to like Ultraman?

The little boy was immediately happy: “Next time I will bring an Ultraman card to your dad!”

Several other little boys also came up and asked Susie about Kellen in twitter.

While talking, I saw Kellen standing outside the school gate with one hand in his pocket.

The little boy who said he was going to give Kellen an Ultraman card suddenly called out: “Look! It’s the instructor!”

A group of children rushed out. The teachers hurried up to pull people, their foreheads covered with sweat.

Susie was amazed, her dad was so popular!

At this time Lulu ran over and took Susie's hand: "What's the matter?"

In front of me, a group of children surrounded the tall Kellen, asking questions one by one:

Little boy A: "Instructor, I like you!"

Kellen was speechless.

Little boy B: "I want to ask you a question, how did you grow so tall?"

The children who worshiped heroes also admired Kellen's height by the way.

Kellen said 'uh': "Eat on time, go to bed on time, eat less snacks and read newspapers more."

Little boy C was shocked: "Really? My mother kept telling me that, but I never believed it."

Now go home, eat and sleep!

288 (Vouchers

After finally getting away, Kellen took Susie's hand and asked, "How do you feel at school today? Are you happy?"

Susie: "That's great! Daddy, I want ice cream!"

Lulu immediately raised his hand: "Me too!"

With a wave of his hand, Kellen stuffed the two children into the car: "Let's go! Eat ice cream!"

The handsome off-road vehicle drove away, leaving only a bunch of envious eyes.

Chapter 155 Encounter by chance, I found my mother
Central mall.

Next to the colorful ice cream cart, there stood a man and two children.

Susie lay on the transparent glass cabinet, holding back her saliva: “Auntie, I want a yogurt ball, a strawberry ball, and a mango ball!”

The ice cream lady scooped out scoops of ice cream. According to the taste she ordered, each scoop was scooped round and big. The ice cream cup was filled with three ice cream balls of different colors.

Susie took it, and took a bite first, then stretched it out to Lulu.

Lulu was staring at the ice cream in the ice cream truck with bright eyes, waved his hand and said, “No, no, I want to choose by myself!”

Susie held up the ice cream again: “Instructor, hey!”

Kellen was funny, bent over and took a small bite, and put his finger on her nose: “Call me dad.”

Susie: “Dad!”

Kellen couldn't help but curl his lips, the more he looked at his good daughter, the more he liked it.

Mitch floated aside, wondering: “What's so delicious about ice cream?”

Susie gave him a squinting look: “Micky, you haven't eaten it, have you? The ice cream is super delicious.”

Mitch curled his lips and said, “Is there anything delicious, isn't it just ice slags?”

While thinking, he took a quick look at the ice cream in Susie's hand.

After Kellen paid, he still leaned against the central flower bed.

A little girl turned her head while walking, only to hear that the door was slammed again.

Lulu: “Hahaha! The little girl must be looking at my ice cream, she's hungry!”

Susie: “I think she might be looking at my dad.”

Kellen: “Oh. She's looking at you.”

Seeing them eating with gusto, Mitch turned around speechlessly, sat cross-legged on the edge of the flower bed, and resignedly flipped through the books.

What's so delicious about ice cream, he'd better read the brochure!

In the past few days, he has almost dug out the booklet, but he still hasn't found Clara's whereabouts.

"Where did it go? I couldn't find it with Susie. Is it so confusing?" Mitch muttered.

At this time, a girl's voice came from the ice cream truck behind: "Boss, help me get an ice cream."

The ice cream owner asked, "What flavor do you want?"

Jade looked at the original ice cream, she wanted the original one.

Clara lay on top of her, staring at the yogurt, strawberry and mango flavored ice cream with bright eyes.

As a result, as soon as Jade opened his mouth, a sentence came out of his mouth: "One yogurt ball, one strawberry ball, and one mango ball."

Jade was confused, no, what she was thinking was original.

16.83%

Susie turned her head when she heard that someone had the same ice cream as hers: "Ahh, it's the same as me!"

Seeing this, Susie snorted.

I saw a young lady wearing a yellow T-shirt and strappy jeans standing in front of the ice cream truck, with a ghost lying on her body.

A golden ghost!

Susie has never seen a ghost with golden light.

"Micky, what the hell is that? It still glows." Susie stared at Clara without blinking, feeling an inexplicable feeling in her heart.

At this moment, Clara turned her head and looked at Susie.

Susie's eyes widened suddenly, and the ice cream bar in her hand fell with a bang!

Mitch also just looked up, and at this look, the whole person bounced off the edge of the flower bed, and his eyes almost fell to the ground.

"Fuck?! Fuck?!"

Mitch's whole person is not calm, a series of lies in his mouth.

Who else could this glittering ghost be but Clara?

“Why did you run onto someone else!”

Clara is not an evil ghost, nor a vile ghost, how could she be possessed?!

Seeing the golden light on her body, Mitch quickly understood.

In a way, it is not a ghost possession.

Susie rushed over, hugged Jade’s leg, looked up at Clara lying behind her with tears in her eyes.

27 005

“Mother!”

Jade thought to herself, kid, if you want ice cream, just say so. There is no need to call mother!

Susie refused to let go of her, staring at her head with sobs and calling her mother.

Clara was also stunned the moment Susie called her mother.

Who is this kid?

White and chubby, with baby fat on her little face, very cute.

The eyes are big, the eyelashes are curled up, two braids are braided, and the broken hair on the forehead is pinched with a small white rabbit hair clip, revealing the round forehead.

In an instant, something seemed to disappear in a flash, but her head was empty, and she still couldn’t think of anything!

It’s just that I feel a pain in my heart for no reason, and I have an urge to hold the child in front of me in my arms.

Clara struggled to get away from Jade, but she still couldn’t.

On one side, Lulu opened his mouth wide with a puzzled expression on his face.

Kellen calmed down from the surprise, walked over with long legs, and said, “Sorry, this is my daughter.”

He looked down at Susie looking behind Jade with tears in his eyes, his eyes flickered slightly, and he said with a sullen face: “My daughter just lost her mother, she may have made a mistake.”

Jade said, “That’s it.”

Looking at the tearful Susie, Jade's heart softened.

She hesitated for a moment, then handed the ice cream in her hand to Susie.

"Here you go, your ice cream fell."

Susie rubbed her eyes and said in a crying voice, "Then you're gone."

Just as Jade was about to speak, Miss Ice Cream suddenly said in surprise: "Ah, you are the thousandth customer today! Wait a minute, we have a small gift!"

I saw the clerk quickly made another ice cream that was exactly the same.

"Buy one get one free!" The clerk said happily.

Jade took it and said thank you with a dazed expression.

This, this luck seems a bit too coincidental.

Next to the flower bed, there are four people sitting here.

Susie, Jade, Lulu and Kellen.

Susie grabbed Jade's hand and stared at her head – at Clara, actually.

Jade touched her forehead strangely, and asked, "Little friend, is there something on my head?"

Susie shook her head.

There is nothing, but there is her mother!

Clara looked left and right to confirm that Susie was indeed staring at her, and also calling her mother.

Pointing at herself, she asked, "Little friend, do you know me?"

Susie's mouth suddenly flattened, "Mom doesn't know Susie anymore!"

Mitch couldn't help being bald on the side: "This. Maybe it's because of amnesia."

After speaking, he quickly added: "But it doesn't matter, we will find your mother's other soul fragments, and she will be able to remember!"

Only then did Susie understand, it turned out to be like this.

As long as you find other fragments of your mother, can you make your mother remember her?

Susie nodded heavily: “Well! It’s okay if mom forgets me, I will help mom remember.”

Jade: “Uh.”

She looked at Kellen as if asking for help, brother, take care of your daughter!

She is still a big girl with a yellow flower, and she also has a male god who secretly likes, she doesn’t want to have multiple children out of thin air.

Kellen understood something in his heart, and after a little thought, he said, “I’m really sorry, my daughter has never been like this before, I wonder if I could ask you to take her home today?”

Fearing that the girl might misunderstand, he immediately emphasized: “Don’t worry, her grandparents and a few uncles are at home.”

Jade wanted to refuse, but seeing Susie’s aggrieved eyes, she couldn’t help but said, “Okay.”

“Let’s go!” Kellen stood up.

As for her mother, Kellen glanced vaguely at the top of the girl’s head, but saw nothing

Chapter 156 The Uncaning Daughter

On the car ride home, Susie was very happy.

She murmured to Clara that after she came to the Murray family, her grandmother treated her very well, and her uncle treated her very well.

She’s fine, Grandpa Turtle is fine, and Alex is fine.

Clara’s eyes were empty and dazed, but she felt inexplicably sad.

She couldn’t remember anything, and she didn’t know how she possessed Jade.

Could it be that she really had a daughter before her death, the little guy in front of her?

Jade looked at Susie who was talking to herself, and sighed inwardly.

This child really misses her mother too much, right? There seems to be something wrong with the spirit.

She couldn't help but patted Susie's head and said, "Little cutie, I can't be your mother anymore, but how about we can be sisters?"

Jade said: "It's friends who hit it off at first sight, and become brothers and sisters! From now on, you will be my sister and I will be your sister, so our relationship will be closer!"

Susie nodded and realized: "Okay, okay!"

Jade held up the ice cream: "Come on, after making this ice cream, we are good sisters!"

Susie held up the ice cream: "Damn it!"

The two of them took a big bite of the ice cream, and then gasped from the ice together.

Seeing Susie's cute look, Jade was also very happy from the bottom of her heart.

Finally not a daughter. If a child calls her mother when she goes out, will she still chase after the male god?

She couldn't help pinching Susie's little face, and said, "You will be my sister from now on, come on, call me sister!"

Susie: "Sister!"

Jade responded happily.

Mitch wondered if it was a little hasty?!

You two don't even know what each other's names are?!

Mitch was about to say something when suddenly Susie pointed at Kellen:

"Sister, this is my father. If you are my sister, my father is your father? Sister, call me father!"

Jade squirted out a mouthful of ice cream.

Kellen's mouth twitched.

Jade looked at Kellen and said, "Hello."

Before Kellen could speak, Lulu said loudly, "I have to call Dad!"

Susie: “That’s right!”

Jade: It’s outrageous.

She just recognized a little sister casually, why did she recognize a father for herself?

288 (Vouchers

Susie suddenly frowned again: “No, no, my sister was not born by my father, so I can’t call her father!”

Seeing that the two children were really lost in thought about a title, Mitch was really speechless.

He looked at Clara and said in a deep voice, “Clara?”

Clara responded subconsciously: “Ang?”

Mitch tried to answer the code: “Remember? Invincible from the womb?”

Seeing that Clara didn’t respond, he said again: “Invincible from the fertilized egg?”

She moved away from Mitch with a look of disgust.

Some time ago, I was dying to wear the soul wear with memory, but now I completely forgot it.

Just then Kellen’s phone rang, and Kellen picked it up, holding the handset a little away from his ear.

Alana’s voice came from the receiver: “Kellen! Where did you take Susie and Lulu?”

Clara stopped short when she heard Alana’s voice.

Why does she also feel so familiar!

Kellen was touching his nose innocently: “It can’t be called abduction.”

Alana was out of breath: “Did you take them to eat ice cream again?!”

Kellen: “You can’t say ‘again’ either.”

Seriously, it’s Lulu’s first time to eat ice cream, so how can you say yes.

Alana snorted coldly: “You have 30 minutes to bring me back!”

Kellen was about to say yes, but Alana quickly said, “Forget it, I’ll give you an hour, and I’ll warn you not to drive too wildly.”

Kellen raised his eyebrows lazily: “Don’t worry.”

After hanging up the phone, Kellen said, “Sit tight!”

Susie quickly said, “Wait! I haven’t finished eating ice cream.”

Lulu did the same, his mouth turned red from eating, and he said, “Wait, I still have one more bite.”

Susie held up the glass: “Dad, why don’t you help me have a bite.”

Thinking of grandma/grandma, both Susie and Lulu are nervous.

Kellen laughed: “Eat slowly, we can just destroy the garbage before we get home.”

The two little girls nodded immediately.

ten minutes later.

Kellen’s off-road vehicle has reached the periphery of the Murray family estate. Susie leaned behind the driver’s seat and said nervously: “Dad!”

Kellen: “Oh, almost forgot.”

He parked the car in front of the trash can beside him and was about to ask Susie and Lulu to give him the empty ice cream cup.

But I saw Susie looking left and right, sweating and nervous, as if she was about to do something big.

Kellen laughed: “Destroying the rubbish means that we throw away the rubbish before we get home, and don’t let grandma find out.”

Only then did Susie understand, and she got out of the car with Lulu, and Jade followed without worrying.

When she looked up, she saw that the setting sun had already sunk into the horizon, and the far side was the end of the river, and the bright sunset glow dyed half of the sky red.

“It’s so beautiful.” Jade couldn’t help admiring.

Clara, who was lying on her head, looked at the scenery in front of her with a dazed expression, always feeling familiar.

She seems to have seen this kind of scenery before, as if she often walked this way in her previous life.

As the car got closer to the Murray family manor, Clara didn't know what was going on, and became nervous for no reason.

At the gate of the Murray family manor, Alana was sitting in a wheelchair, like an old mother waiting for her children to return home.

The light of the sunset glowed on her white hair, making her inexplicably sad and lonely.

Clara stared at Alana, something in her head was about to come out, driving her head into a terrible pain.

"Mom.?" Clara murmured subconsciously.

Susie's eyes lit up: "Mom, do you remember?"

Clara shook her head, she didn't understand why such a title appeared.

Susie cheered her up: "It's okay, when I find mom's soul fragment, mom can remember everything."

She reached out on tiptoe and took Clara's hand.

Clara just felt a wave of warmth flow through her soul. If this little guy is really her daughter, it would be so sweet.

20

However, in the next second, Susie pinched her wrist and pulled her hard

Clara flew out!

Chapter 157 Clara returns to the Murray family

Clara flew out and hung on the top of an osmanthus tree.

A bird was startled, flew away, and pooped.

Clara was speechless.

She took back the thought just now!

Clara floated up quickly, and found that she was inseparable from the host no matter how hard she struggled before, but now she is free.

She flew to Susie with a cry: "I never thought you'd be so good!"

Susie had a "of course" look on her face.

The happy two didn't notice that there was Yin Qi approaching around.

Mitch frowned and looked around, only to see a dozen or twenty ghosts gradually gathered outside the Murray family manor.

The ghouls stared at the gleaming Clara, their eyes sparkling.

Mitch thought to himself: It's not what he thought.

Clara's scattered soul fragments must not have been "divided" by the surrounding ghosts by accident.

Susie didn't pay attention to the ghost in the distance, pulled Clara and ran towards Alana quickly.

"Grandma, we're back!" The little guy threw himself into Alana's arms.

Even took Clara and flew into Alana's arms.

Alana put her arms around Susie, and Clara felt like she was being hugged too.

"I'm back!" The inexplicable vicissitudes and loneliness disappeared from her body just now, and there was a kind smile on her face.

Clara didn't know why, but when her nose felt sour, tears fell down.

"Strange, why am I still crying?" Clara hurriedly wiped away her tears, and the result was golden light.

As a ghost, whether it is crying tears or bleeding, it is essentially black air.

And Clara was amazing, the tears she shed were not black air but blessings.

Susie remembered what Micky said, after finding her mother, she should send her to be reborn.

She was a little sad, but after thinking about it, her mother was reborn with a whole body of blessings, and she must be a very blessed person in the future.

Thinking of this, Susie became happy again, and asked, "Grandma, I'm hungry! Mom is hungry too!"

Alana heard her mention her mother again, thinking that Susie must miss her mother again, so she patted her little head:

"Okay, then Susie and mom are going to eat, okay?"

Susie cheered, pulled Clara and ran away. After running two steps, she remembered that there was still a sister she had just appointed, and turned back to pull Jade.

Jade didn't expect Susie's home to be so big and luxurious, like a palace, everyone was stupid.

"The person has been delivered, so I'll go back first," she said.

Unexpectedly, Susie ran over, pulled her and ran away: "Eat!"

The little sister brought her mother back, this meal must be eaten!

Jade quickly said, "No, really no."

Kellen said: "It's all here, the housekeeper will send you back after dinner."

Alana looked at Kellen suspiciously, and asked, "This is?"

Susie said: "Grandma, this is the little sister who brought mom back, she is Susie's sister!"

She waved to Jade: "Sister, come quickly, call grandma!"

Seeing Martin come out, Susie said again: "This is uncle, sister calls uncle!"

The corner of Jade's mouth twitched.

Kellen held onto Alana's wheelchair very naturally, and while pushing her into the room, told what happened just now.

Alana didn't think too much, but Martin's heart tightened—

Susie said, Jade brought Clara back?

Martin looked over Jade's head calmly.

Jade kept smiling.

There was a lot of panic in my heart: why does this family always look at her head?

Susie is so cute, their family can't be some kind of pervert, they want to cut off her head, right?

Thinking of this, Jade became even more restless. She grabbed the door and refused to enter, and said in a panic:

“I remembered that I haven’t finished the homework left by my professor. I’m going home to do my homework!”

As she spoke, she patted her satchel, indicating that she really had to do her homework.

Susie pulled her with great strength: “Don’t worry, you can write here too!”

Jade looked at Susie, wondering if she was thinking too much.

As a result, Michael, who had a dark face and a fierce look, just came out of the room.

Jade: “No, no, I think homework seems to be at home.”

Susie looked at her satchel suspiciously. Didn’t she just say that her homework was in the bag?

Martin took out a business card and handed it to her.

“I’m Martin from the Murray’s Group, don’t worry. Our family won’t sell you out.”

Jade was punctured, and looked at the business card again, Martin, the president of the Murray ‘s Group.

She is a junior this year, and it’s time for an internship. The classmates will also discuss the future of each company.

And the Murray’s Group is a company that everyone dreams of but is difficult to get into.

Yesterday she also said to the male god she had a crush on, “It would be great if I could go to the Murray ‘s Group for an internship”.

Didn’t expect to meet Mr. Murray from the Murray ‘s Group today? Jade was stunned.

She stumbled and apologized: “I’m sorry, I, I didn’t mean that.”

During this delay, all the ghosts outside the manor gathered around, staring at Clara one by one.

Susie froze for a moment, looked at Mitch, but saw Mitch make a “shh” gesture.

She had no choice but to pretend not to see, and pulled Jade into the door.

**

In the dining room.

Hamza was holding the chopsticks gracefully, eating slowly.

Next to him was Zion, who buried his head in his meal without making a sound.

Wade sat across from Hamza, eating very fast, his cheeks were bulging when he looked up.

He raised his head when he heard the voice, and said happily, “My sister is back!”

As a result, when he looked up, he saw a big sister standing in front of her, followed by a bunch of ghosts.

Some of these ghosts had eyeballs hanging from their sockets, and some had a piece of skin missing from their mouths, revealing rotting gums.

Some were clutching their open stomachs, and there was a ghost baby hanging in their stomachs.

There was an old woman in a dark purple dress with a cane, who grinned

288 (VOUchims

at Wade when he saw it.

More and more ghosts poured in, as if feeling Wade’s gaze, all of them twisted their eyeballs stiffly, looking at Wade faintly.

The food in Wade’s mouth suddenly spewed out with a puff.

Hamza and Zion, who were sitting across from each other, suffered immediately and were sprayed with rice grains and vegetable dregs all over their faces.

As for it! As for being so excited!

Isn’t it that my sister is back!

Chapter 158

Hamza was about to die of anger, and quickly wiped it with a tissue. Zion snorted and said angrily, “Wade, did you do it on purpose?”

Wade couldn’t care about them, his scalp tingled with shock.

Why the hell is it always him!

Susie held Jade in one hand and her mother in the other, and said, “Sit down, let’s eat!”

Then I filled another bowl of rice with many, many dishes.

The family wanted to say something but dared not say it.

Only Martin remained silent, picked up the spicy fried chicken wings that Clara loved most but could not eat, and put them on the bowl.

Clara looked at the fried chicken wing, then at Martin, Alana, Craig, and Michael.

With an inexplicable sense of familiarity, I couldn't help but want to burst into tears.

"Thank you." She said silently.

Susie patted the chair beside her: "Mom sit here!"

The little guy is very happy. Grandpa and grandma, parents and uncles are here for dinner today.

Grandpa Turtle is also there, Alex is also there, and he has a new friend.

So happy!

Susie groaned and happily took a bite of the big chicken drumstick.

Jade grabbed the chopsticks, feeling sad again

Susie really misses her mother so much. Her family also took good care of her and did not expose her.

From this point of view, the Murray family is quite loving.

Everyone eats differently.

Only Wade's back was stiff and he didn't dare to move. Feeling the crowd of ghosts around him, he was about to cry.

after dinner.

Susie and Lulu are playing in the living room, next to them is Jade who is squatting to tie Barbie's hair.

As expected, eating is the fastest way to get closer. Jade is not afraid now, and plays with Susie and Lulu conscientiously.

"Susie, come upstairs, I have something to tell you." Martin walked over.

Susie looked up and said, "Okay!"

Mitch said, "Ask your mother to come with you. By the way, you told Jade not to go."

Jade was possessed by Clara, and her body was also stained with blessings.

These ghosts in front of me are here for these blessings—

These blessings are different for ghosts. These blessings originally belonged to Clara. If ghosts can share this golden light, they will not be too bad in their next life after rebirth.

So they're all staring at Jade.

She can only be allowed to leave after tonight, otherwise it would be too irresponsible to Jade.

19.715

Susie nodded and said to Jade, "Don't go, I'm staying here tonight." Jade: "Huh?"

Colt heard about it and immediately went to prepare a room for Jade.

It happened that David came to ask Lulu to practice calligraphy, Lulu quickly hugged Jade's arm. let go of his feet and ran away.

Jade stayed like this.

Susie led Clara up the stairs, and Martin followed behind, staring at Susie's curled little hand.

So Clara was with her now?

Martin felt a slight pain in his heart, but he couldn't meet each other.

Seeing everyone's enigma, Wade immediately said, "I'm going too!"

Susie paused and looked at the growing number of ghosts surrounding Clara.

She said, "Brother, I advise you not to come!"

When Wade heard this, he immediately ran upstairs to get his camera.

Got it, my sister is going to catch ghosts again, right?

There are so many ghosts this time, how many x, how many y?

Clara looked at the second floor that was getting closer and closer, as if she felt that something was waiting for her in front of her, which made her inexplicably nervous.

There were only one floor of stairs, and Clara felt that she had walked so long.

Finally on the second floor, she subconsciously looked at a room at the end of the second floor.

The door to that room was closed, and Clara vaguely saw herself walking down this corridor.

Susie pulled her, “Mom, this way, my room is here.”

Clara regained her senses and said, “Huh? Good.”

Last time Ryan didn’t know what was going on, but this time he had to follow whatever he said.

Inexplicably, Michael watched a group of elders rushing towards Susie’s room, and followed immediately.

Wade flew over with a video recorder: “Wait, there’s me!”

Michael poked him on the forehead: “What kind of fun are you brats doing!”

Wade snorted: “You’ll have to rely on me later.”

As he spoke, he set up his camera.

Michael sneered: “What do you rely on to take pictures?”

Martin said in a deep voice: “From now on, don’t ask anything. No matter what you see today, just pretend that nothing happened. Do you hear me?”

Ryan said: “Okay.”

Michael pouted, what else could he see, there were only a few of them in this room, could they still see ghosts?

Then I heard Martin ask: “Susie. Is your mother here?”

Michael’s face was full of doubts.

Susie nodded: “Yeah! Mom is here!”

She hugged Clara. “Mom, say hello to uncle.”

Clara was helpless, she couldn’t think of anything.

But after coming to the Murray family today, she found that she was very familiar with this place, and she was anxious to find out what was going

The little guy is like a little adult, teaching the amnesiac Clara to recognize people.

The corner of Michael's mouth twitched, wondering if his elder brother was out of his mind, why not just play house with the kids?

But he heard a familiar and abrupt voice suddenly sounded in the room.

Is this the voice of Clara?!

Michael stood up in shock.

"Clara?" He looked around frantically.

He noticed Ryan leaning towards the video camera in shock, and Martin watching the video.

He hurriedly followed, only to see a person standing next to Susie. It's Clara!

"It's really Clara!" Michael was startled.

"Impossible." Ryan's pupils shrank sharply.

The two brothers felt their brains buzzing, looked around Susie in shock, and then looked at the camera.

At this moment, they feel that their world view has been subverted.

"What exactly is going on.

Chapter 159 Leader. I'm going to be a wizard

Michael and Ryan were shocked, their brains buzzing, and they couldn't believe what they saw.

Everything is beyond their cognition!

Susie explained: "My mother became a ghost after death. Micky said that a few days ago, my mother was going to be reborn, but an accident turned into pieces and disappeared, and then she came back possessing the young lady."

Clara couldn't remember anything, and said with a headache: "Is that so. I can't remember anything."

Susie nodded: "Well, it's normal that mom can't remember now because the soul is broken into pieces!"

Martin has always been composed, his lips pursed and his back tensed.

It's really Clara!

It was their sister who died alone in San Diego before they could say goodbye.

“Clara.” Martin said in a dull voice, “It’s my fault. I didn’t protect you well.”

Michael stared, still unable to believe it: “Brother, do you really believe it?”

Martin said firmly, “I believe it.”

As long as Susie said it, as long as Clara came back. He believes it all.

Ryan looked at everything in front of him with an extremely sense of absurdity.

Michael took Wade’s video recorder even more irritably: “Did this thing have a mask recorded in advance, and the one in the white robe in it was recorded by an actor a long time ago, right?! And Clara, you made it What AI? Come play a prank on us?”

Wade saw him rudely grabbing the video recorder and turning it over and over, and even wanted to pull out the few magnetic pole signal bars at the top, so he quickly snatched the video recorder over.

“It’s true!” Wade was speechless, his precious camera!

Ryan pressed Michael’s shoulder: “Don’t worry, just listen to Susie.”

Michael suppressed the irritability in his heart and looked at Susie.

Susie continued: “Mom’s soul fragments are gone, but as long as you help mom find the soul fragments, mother will be able to remember and be reborn!”

Martin narrowed his eyes slightly, and keenly caught what Susie said twice-accidentally, into pieces.

“Why did it break into pieces?” he asked.

Susie was stunned, yes, Micky just said it was an accident, what kind of accident was that?

She looked at Mitch.

Mitch coughed and said, “Susie, remember when Mitch went down to a meeting some time ago? Mitch brought your mother here at that time. And then.”

He told everything that happened that day.

Anyway, it must be impossible to hide it, so it’s better to confess it earlier.

“So, Mitch didn’t know what was going on, and Clara was taken apart by the booklet.”

Martin and the others all looked at Mitch after hearing what Mitch said.

Susie froze for a moment, and said, “Micky, so you lied to me when you said you stayed up late and worked overtime, right?”

Mitch touched his nose and said, “It was my fault.”

Mitch suddenly discovered that this series of logic came down. It all turned out to be his fault?

He brought Clara to the world because of his soft heart, and accidentally took a picture, making Clara “disappear”.

The disappeared Clara possessed Jade by accident.

Jade and Susie meet by chance, and then Susie finally meets her mother.

In other words, all of these causes and effects were caused by him! Nothing to do with Susie!

Even if Susie reunited with her mother, it wasn't because of her private use of power, but because she happened to meet her own mother in the process of catching ghosts.

Mitch stared at Susie: “Seriously, this was all arranged before you were reborn?”

Susie looked blank: “Micky, what are you talking about?”

Mitch was speechless.

Looking at Susie in front of her, her eyes were pure and innocent, and her eyes were all blank, she really didn't know what he was talking about.

Mitch was instantly thwarted.

Forget it, now Susie is just a four-year-old child!

She really doesn't know anything.

288 (Vouchers

Mitch held his forehead and said, “Forget it. Let's think about how to get back your mother's soul fragments.”

He looked at Clara and asked, “Clara, if you think about it carefully, can you really remember nothing?”

Mitch looked at Kellen leaning against the door frame. Forget it, this is not worth mentioning.

Clara shook her head silently: “I can’t even remember.”

Martin just felt a pain in the heart. Their beloved sister died in a foreign land, and now she doesn’t remember anything.

“Don’t be afraid. No matter where you go or where you are, I will definitely find you.” Martin’s face was dark and his voice was firm.

Ryan also said: “What do we need to do?”

As long as it reminds my sister, let him do anything!

“Don’t be afraid, little girl. I’ll be by your side too. If you have something to do, let’s do it together!”

Susie looked at the uncles, her eyes were bright, and she was full of energy: “Yeah! Let’s go together!”

Clara suddenly felt warm in her heart.

Although they didn’t know each other, or in other words, they just met each other, but they seemed to have been together for a long time. It’s hard not to be moved.

These ‘brothers’ of hers really love her very much. And her ‘daughter’.

Clara took a deep breath and smiled, “Well, together!”

Such a good family, she also wanted to remember it quickly.

Suddenly she let out a snort, looked at the soft and cute Susie, and said, “Hey, I thought it was just an extra daughter, but I didn’t expect that there were three more brothers.”

Michael corrected: “No, it’s the eight brothers.”

Ryan emphasized: “There are also parents.”

Susie immediately raised her hand: “And Micky!”

After a pause, he added: “And Alex! And Grandpa Turtle!”

Clara was speechless.

Mitch looked at the energetic couple, and was speechless for a while.

He opened the booklet and wrote a few words in the booklet muttering.

Aside, Wade looked at this and that, apparently more interested in xy.

Just so many ghosts. Could my sister's gourd be half filled this time?

Mellen touched his nose and said, "You talk."

He went out and closed the door quietly.

Looking for soul fragments.

Kellen took out his mobile phone, made a call, and said casually, "Hello. I want to resign."

The person on the other side seemed to be stunned, and immediately chattered a lot with excitement, and vaguely heard the words [what do you want to do again].

Kellen snorted: "Leader, I'm going to be a wizard."

The other side was speechless.

Chapter 160 Wade Gets Strange

In Susie's room, looking at everyone who was silent, Wade raised his hand hesitantly: "I still have a question."

Everyone looked at him.

Wade said: "Why are there so many ghosts with Aunt Clara?"

Michael and Ryan's brains buzzed, a lot of ghosts?

They quickly looked at the camera – no?

I just heard Mitch say: "Because Clara is blessed with golden light, these are blessings. If the ghosts have these golden lights, if they go to rebirth, they will be rich and wealthy in the next life, so they all want it."

Susie followed up and said, "They're not only following their mother, they're also following Sister Jade, so Micky said not to let Sister Jade go back."

Everyone suddenly realized that this was the case.

Wade probes: "So, what about them now?"

Mitch said: "They should all be wandering around the manor now, they are thirsty for golden light, I want to see if they can find Clara's soul fragment."

“Attracted by the golden light, ghosts will only gather more and more.”

“But don’t worry, I have arranged things in the house, and they can’t get in.”

“I’ll see if I can find anything.”

In the middle of the night, it was very late, and Susie had already fallen asleep.

Wade was also sent to bed, but his camera was left behind.

In Ryan’s room.

Michael came over with a big box and opened it.

Clara asked strangely: “What is this?”

Martin took out a doll from the box, and said softly, “This is your favorite doll when you were three years old, remember?”

Clara shook her head.

Ryan and Michael also started to take things out:

“This is your favorite little bag and little flower ring when you were five years old. You were so pretty at that time.”

“This is seven years old. You were diagnosed with leukemia, and you have been holding the puppet rabbit.”

Since then, Clara has had to undergo a lot of treatment and isolating a lot to avoid infection.

She could only look at the outside world through the glass window of the ward.

They want to bring the best things in the world to her, but she only wants to be healthy, the only thing they can’t give.

Martin’s Adam’s apple rolled, and he said in a low voice: “This is the first time you have completed the whole chemotherapy, and when you were discharged from the hospital, you were so happy that you grabbed the sunflower that you refused to let go.”

A dried sunflower lies quietly in the photo frame.

“At that time, everyone was very happy, thinking that we had finally overcome the illness, so we took a group photo at the gate of the manor.”

He put the photo on the table.

Clara stared blankly at the photo, only to see a smiling girl in the photo, her hair was short and looked like it had just grown out.

Beside her eight older brothers and her parents.

Martin took out a lot of things, most of which were not valuable items, but each one had extraordinary significance.

The photos of the little girl also gradually changed from seven or eight years old, teens to twenties. There are photos on her birthday every year, but most of the time they are photos in the ward. She made many, many wigs.

Clara can really see the mark of the girl's growth from the photos.

“This is really me.?” Clara stroked the photo, feeling both familiar and strange.

It was as if I looked at my experience in my previous life, but I couldn't remember it at all.

Martin put down his things, and said softly, “It's okay if you can't remember, take your time.”

They are still too anxious.

Susie said she needed to find the soul fragments, but they always wanted to show her something from the past, so that she might remember it.

Clara said silently: “I'm sorry, I really don't have any impression.”

Michael said immediately, “No need to say sorry! Clara never needs to say sorry.”

Ryan also said: “It's late, go to rest.”

Clara wanted to say that ghosts don't need to rest, but in the end she didn't say anything, nodded and floated out.

Michael stares at the camera tightly until Clara disappears into the shot.

“Oh. If only I could see Clara directly,” he said.

Ryan put the camera away and said, “What, you want to go to hell?”

Michael muttered: “Can't it? Wade can see it? It's strange to talk about it. Why can't we see ghosts, but Wade can often see ghosts.”

Susie didn't mention that their cubs are the most special in the world. But Wade had never seen a ghost before Susie came.

Is it true that children's third eye is not fully closed, is it different from adults?

Wade tossed and turned in bed, unable to sleep, thinking about catching ghosts all the time.

Now Susie, father and uncle are all thinking about Aunt Clara, but he cares more about his sister Susie.

You have to catch ghosts early and fill the gourd, otherwise. He probably doesn't have a sister anymore.

"Assume x=evil ghost, y=ordinary grudge, z=vile ghost."

Mitch, the younger sister, said that more and more ghosts gathered around her aunt.

He suddenly had an idea-then can he design a ghost-catching net to catch a hundred ys at once?!

x and z are not common, but y is a lot!

Doesn't this mean that the kpi is completed at once? !

"Wonderful!" Wade immediately stood up and turned on the light.

Since Mitch said that ghosts can't get in, Wade is not prepared at all, thinking that there will be no ghosts if Mitch is around.

Inside and outside the Murray family manor, ghosts floated faintly.

A black cat raised the hair on its back, meowed, and quickly jumped up to the roof of the main building of the Murray family as if frightened.

Suddenly it seemed to hit something, and it rolled and fought.

A dementing streamer that Mitch had placed in a hidden place on the roof was accidentally swept away by the black cat's tail.

The black cat screamed strangely and had another fight before it fled in fright from the edge of the roof and disappeared into the flower garden.

In the middle of the night, Wade was writing vigorously under the light, and the wind blew past him. Suddenly, a female ghost in red clothes appeared behind him, standing faintly behind him.

Wade felt something strange. When he looked up, he saw the reflection of the glass door of the bookcase. On his shoulder, there was a female ghost in red lying on his shoulders!

In the middle of the night, a scream pierced the night sky.

Wade sprinted to find Susie immediately.

Unexpectedly, when I opened the door, I saw that the corridor on the second floor was full of 'people'. At a glance, there were at least twenty or thirty of them!

When they heard. Wade open the door, they all looked over and stared at Wade.

In the corridor late at night, a group of 'people' stood dead silent outside the door without making any sound

No matter who it is, they will be scared to death!

Wade's scalp was numb, his eyes were fixed, and he walked towards Susie's room tremblingly pretending to be sleepwalking.

[Can't see me. Can't see me. ] Wade said silently in his heart.

However, the female ghost in red lying on his shoulders slid over his shoulders like a snake, her head was facing Wade's face, and her white eyes were staring at him.

"Kid, can you see me?" The ghost in red breathed into Wade's ear.

Wade forced himself into a cross-eyed bluntly, and moved on stiffly.

The female ghost in red laughed again: "Are you pretending to sleepwalk? You were doing your homework just now, but you weren't sleeping!"

As she spoke, her face suddenly split in two, and her eyes became extremely terrifying: "Come down and accompany me!!!"
