

Chapter 171 People Are Happier Than Ghosts Being Mixed With Gh

Susie looked at the river, with a serious expression on her little face. She didn't know what she was thinking, and there was a cute contrast between her serious look.

A row of live broadcasting equipment is set up beside the embankment, and there is a blogger live broadcasting every two meters. The originally heavy bank is now full of all kinds of very abrupt voices:

"This is the scene where three girls fell into the water. Pay attention to the anchor, and the anchor will bring friends to track the whole incident and see the latest progress."

"Now the corpse boat still hasn't caught anything. Everyone, look at the place where the anchor is pointing at, which is where the male corpse was found. By the way, everyone can look at the shopping cart. There are some snacks and melon seeds in the shopping cart. You can eat snacks at the same time." Guazi watched the anchor come to live broadcast for everyone. Order now and it will be shipped immediately!"

Susie was speechless.

She frowned in confusion and asked, "Dad, what are they doing!"

Kellen glanced at the embankment and said, "People are happier than ghosts mixing in it."

Some people don't think it's a big deal to watch the excitement, or add fuel to the flames. In their eyes, things that matter human life are only about interests.

Susie sipped her lollipop, silent.

Kellen said, "Susie, what do you need daddy to do?"

Susie shook her head and said, "It's nothing now."

Micky said that vile ghosts are also graded. Some vile ghosts can only come out at night, but some vile ghosts can also appear during the day.

The bottom of the river, the weed nests on both sides of the bank that are always dark, bridge holes, etc. are all places where they haunt.

That vile ghost killed at least one boy yesterday and even grabbed dad's foot.

Susie was worried that the vile ghost was too powerful and killed another person, so she wanted to come out to have a look.

Kellen said, “Then go back now?”

Holding the binoculars, Susie suddenly said, “Wait a minute. Dad, let’s go to the other side.”

Riverview parks have been built on both sides of the river, but there are many residences on this side, so there are many people along the river, while there are office buildings on the other side, and there are relatively few leisure people.

At night, the contrast is even more obvious, as this side is bustling and the other side is deserted.

Stetson broadcast live by the river for two hours, talking so dry that his skin was almost peeling from the sun.

But there are still very few people in the live broadcast room.

He was very annoyed, why did they broadcast the incident of the three girls falling into the water in the same way, while other people’s live broadcast room was so hot, but he was deserted?

Stetson unscrewed a bottle of water, looked at the only eleven viewers in the live broadcast room, and was in no mood to continue.

Just as he raised his head to drink water, he suddenly saw a tall man “holding” a little girl away from the crowd.

His height is really outstanding, the little girl is riding on his neck, directly higher than the crowd.

The spectators were all stretching their necks to look at the river, and those who took pictures with their mobile phones were also taking pictures in the direction of the river.

On the contrary, no one noticed the father and daughter.

Stetson’s eyes lit up, isn’t this Susie?!

After editing videos about Susie for so many days, Stetson is more familiar with Susie than anyone else, and he recognized Susie at a glance.

He immediately packed up his things and followed.

Stetson's eyes are shining, Susie is equal to traffic!!

Now it is off-duty time, the traffic on the bridge, the sound of car horns, the beeping of electric cars, people are rushing to go home.

Some people also stopped, pointing at the corpse boat in the distance on the bridge and whispering:

"Still fishing. Have you read today's news? The boy dived into the water to save others, and the person who fell into the water was rescued, but he himself never came up again."

"Didn't you say that the one who rescued someone went ashore?"

"You looked at the morning news. The latest news just confirmed the identity of the dead boy. He was a third-year student in a nearby high school. The one who went ashore was the second person who jumped to save others. It is said that he was a very tall man.

"It's so pitiful. I saved others but caught myself."

After coming out of the park, Kellen put Susie down, led her across the sidewalk of the bridge, and heard everyone's discussion.

These people were right, the two girls had already been rescued ashore when he jumped.

The man was saved by the boy.

Kellen speculated that after the boy jumped down, he fished up two girls one after another, and when he went to fish for the third girl, he failed to get up.

The only doubt now is where the third girl fell into the water. According to common sense, the three girls fell into the water at the same time. Even if the third girl drowned before being rescued, the body should be in the river.

The boy's death was also strange. It doesn't look like he died from exhaustion.

"Go down there." Kellen said, "One hundred meters after crossing the bridge is a side entrance to the opposite park."

The father and daughter entered the park and found that there were also many live broadcast anchors here. Although it was not as lively as the opposite side, there were still many people.

Most of them followed the corpse boat, and from time to time someone came with a live broadcast device.

So Kellen didn't pay attention to Stetson who was in the crowd for a while.

Susie is holding a compass the size of a watch that Mitch gave her.

"This way."

Susie took Kellen and walked towards a banyan tree by the water.

The banyan tree is not big, the trunk is only as thick as an adult's thigh, the branches extend to the river, and the aerial roots hang down into the river one by one.

The compass pointer does not move here.

Kellen asked, "Here?"

Kellen let go of Susie and warned, "Don't move here, I'll go down and have a look."

The muddy ground beside the banyan tree was slippery. Kellen carefully walked down a few meters and looked up towards the root of the banyan tree covered by shrubs and grass.

Seeing this, he was so scared that his heart missed a beat, and the top of his head went numb!

I saw a long-haired woman suddenly standing under the root of the banyan tree. Her dyed yellow hair hung down on both sides of her cheeks. She hung her head and wore a short top with a gray pleated skirt.

She stood with her hands down, her arms were pale and swollen, her nails were black, and her legs were also pale and pale. She was wearing a pair of black loafers, matching white socks and a beautiful lace circle.

As if hearing something, the girl suddenly fell into the water with a thud, and then a shrill cry suddenly rang in Kellen's ears:

"Help. Someone's overboard!"

Chapter 172 The Woman Who Doesn't Listen to Persuasion

Kellen turned his head, and there was a loud wind in his ears, but he didn't see the person who shouted 'someone fell into the water' just now.

But because of this voice, several people who were close to him soon surrounded him.

"Quick, someone fell into the water!"

"Help. Save someone, who can swim, go down and save someone!"

"Quickly call the person who fished up the corpse boat over there."

A few people shouted anxiously. There were not many people on the shore, but seven or eight people quickly gathered around, and some of them were bloggers who were filming with live broadcast equipment.

All of a sudden there was a lot of talk on the shore:

"My God! Someone fell into the water! What to do, I can't swim! Save someone quickly." This was an anxious cry.

"Someone fell into the water, oh my God, what's the matter with this river, why do people always fall into the water."

Amidst the commotion, a middle-aged man quickly took off his shirt and was about to go into the water.

Several live bloggers immediately turned their cameras on him.

Susie quickly grabbed the man's trouser leg and said, "Uncle, you can't go down!"

The man thought Susie was worried about him, and said, "Don't worry, uncle can swim!"

Susie said anxiously: "No, there is danger in the water."

Susie refused to let go, the red rope shimmered, and even a strong man couldn't break free.

The person next to him asked anxiously: "Hey, what's the matter with you, a child? You will delay things! What about the parents? Whose child is this!"

Several adults came over one after another, trying to pull Susie away.

Kellen just came up from the wetland by the river, and when he saw this, he shouted coldly: "Who dares to touch my daughter!"

The cold and stern voice made several people shrink their hands subconsciously. He looked around and said, "No one fell into the water, I have already checked."

Everyone saw that his clothes were wet, and they were taken aback for a while.

The man quickly asked, "Have you ever gone down?"

Kellen nodded: "I've gone down, and no one fell into the water."

Everyone was surprised and confused.

It turned out that just before going down to check, Kellen promised Susie not to go into the water casually, and Susie also gave Kellen a yellow talisman before coming.

Seeing the female corpse jumping down, Kellen wanted to pull her up while she was not drifting away, but he soon realized that something was wrong and immediately backed away.

At this point he lied, he didn't go into the water, but next he will call the river boat to come over, and the ordinary people must not be allowed to go down.

18.04%

However, at this time, a middle-aged woman suddenly separated from the crowd and rushed in, shouting in a panic, "It's my daughter, that's my daughter."

She ran towards the river while talking, and jumped down without any hesitation, yelling frantically, "Helen, Helen!"

"Helen, mother is here, Helen."

"Come back!" Kellen snorted coldly.

But the woman didn't listen to the persuasion at all, and rushed into the river with all her strength.

This scene happened so suddenly that no one could realize where the middle-aged woman came from.

Seeing that she had jumped into the river, the river water submerged her chest, and then she was pushed down by the water and struggled.

"Ah. Help." She instinctively shouted.

Everyone was speechless and anxious: "She can't water! What is she doing, really!"

The middle-aged man immediately wanted to go down again, but Kellen, who was on the phone, raised his hand to stop him: "I'll let the river boat come over."

Several anchors shouted:

"Oh, that aunt is going to drown!"

"The corpse boat is still so far away, how can there be time!"

The man saw the same thing, and wanted to go down again, but Kellen stopped him and didn't allow him to go into the water.

Seeing Kellen repeatedly blocking him, he said angrily, "What the hell are you doing!"

The surrounding people also said anxiously: "Yes, yes, he will water you and let him go down!"

"Oh, hurry up, people are dying!"

"What's the matter with this person! The small ones make troubles and the big ones make troubles too, so don't worry if it doesn't happen to you!"

Seeing that the man didn't listen, Kellen knocked him down, and said to Susie, "Hold him down!"

Susie pounced on him immediately-sat down on the middle-aged man's back.

The middle-aged man was speechless. He struggled a bit, but couldn't get

Kellen glanced coldly and said, "I told you not to go down, and no one is allowed to go down!"

Everyone was speechless for a moment, angry and anxious, and cursed one after another.

Kellen didn't answer at all, he made a few phone calls, but he didn't know where to call, and he was very efficient.

The nearest corpse boat on the river rushed over quickly.

Kellen checked the distance with his eyes, and the corpse boat should arrive within two minutes.

The effective rescue time after a person falls into the water is 4 to 6 minutes, and the effective rescue time after drowning is 1 to 2 minutes.

Even if the middle-aged woman stops struggling and gets the correct rescue within 2 minutes, the success rate of rescue can reach 100%.

In other words, as long as the corpse boat arrives within 2 minutes, she will be fine, but she will choke on water and feel uncomfortable.

At this moment, the setting sun is slanting, just shining on the middle-aged woman, and the only crisis Kellen can think of is whether the vile ghost under the water will pull the middle-aged woman down—

But whether the middle-aged woman will be dragged down by the vile ghost, Kellen doesn't care.

It doesn't matter whether he is indifferent or cold-blooded, why should the innocent people take the life of this woman who refused to listen to her repeatedly.

Everyone accused Kellen, and several anchors also criticized angrily:

“This man is so indifferent! He still has his daughter with him, no wonder his daughter is so cold-blooded.”

“Does this person have a conscience! How can he be so cold-blooded!”

“It sounds good because he is afraid that others will be in danger and won't let them go down, but human life is at stake. Is he happy to see a fresh life die in front of his eyes?”

“It's so hypocritical! Do you think you can get a good reputation if you think it's for the good of others!”

Among several live anchors, only Stetson was silent, but his eyes were gloomy, suppressing his excitement.

As early as the sound of “someone fell into the water” sounded, he seized the opportunity, took out two mobile phones, and took three separate shots of Susie, Kellen and the woman in the river.

Collect materials in all directions!!

Stetson is well aware that this matter will soon be popular again, and no one will have more comprehensive information than him at that time.

At that time, he will cut a few [full event videos] in a row and post them every half an hour, which will definitely increase his fans like crazy – Stetson feels that he is about to make a fortune!

At this moment, I don't know who exclaimed.

“Look quickly!!!”

I saw the river surface slanting under the setting sun, and suddenly a female corpse with yellow hair and wearing a gray pleated skirt floated over.

The reason why everyone was sure that it was a female corpse was because she was floating motionless.

Just when everyone was wondering and flustered, a strange scene happened.

The female corpse suddenly raised her hand and dragged the middle-aged woman to the bottom of the water!!

Chapter 173 Susie Gets Angry and Curses

The people on the shore exclaimed again and again.

As the sun set, the evening breeze in the park was cool, and the wind blew past, making everyone's hairs stand on end.

“Here, what's going on here?!”

“Am I dazzled?!”

“God, don't worry about it, hurry up and save people!”

However, no one dared to go down at this time, this scene was too weird and horrifying, if that yellow-haired one was really a female corpse. The female corpse drags people into the water, who dares to go down?

If the yellow-haired person is not a corpse, but a person, it means that someone deliberately murdered and dragged the person into the water after he jumped off-and he didn't dare to go down!!

Someone looked at Kellen, and at first they were glad that he stopped him, otherwise, except for the middle-aged man, they would have almost gone down too.

At this time, the corpse boat had arrived.

The people on the boat had a wider view, and a young rescuer shouted: “Found it!”

From a distance, everyone saw a struggling woman and a floating corpse on the water, and rushed to rescue them one after another.

An older man said: “Oran, keep an eye on it!”

The young rescuer’s name was Oran, and he was very excited. They found the girl’s body after a day and a night of fishing. The clothes on the girl’s body were consistent with the family’s description.

In the next second, the female corpse exploded, violently dragging the struggling middle-aged woman into the bottom of the water!

Oran’s hands trembled in shock.

He could see very clearly that the floating one was the corpse, and he would definitely not be mistaken after picking up so many corpses.

Can the corpse suddenly raise its hand and drag people into the water?

At this moment, Oran felt that his hair was also standing on end!!

“Captain!” he panicked.

The older captain came over with the rope, and said while moving quickly: “Why do you look like you have seen a ghost! Hurry up and get someone!”

“Hey, where’s the person? I just turn around?”

The people on the other side of the kayak also went down. The tools used to catch the dead were different from those used to catch people, so they temporarily changed the nets used to catch people, and the two sides worked together to catch all the aquatic plants.

Both the female corpse and the middle-aged woman were pulled out of the water, and everyone saw that the female corpse seemed to twitch, and they all wondered if it was their own illusion.

Oran’s eyes widened: “Captain!!”

The captain’s voice also became a bit more suspicious, and said: “I see, don’t shout!”

The middle-aged woman was pulled onto the boat first, and the rescuers on board stepped forward to rescue her immediately.

After a while, the middle-aged woman spat out a mouthful of muddy water and woke up leisurely.

In a daze for a moment, she quickly got up trembling, and shouted with trembling lips: “Helen, my Helen.”

“Quick, save my daughter!”

The rescue captain held her down and said, “Your daughter has been caught! We can understand your feelings, please let us be patient!”

The middle-aged woman was shocked for a moment, “What? What do you mean?”

No, no, the other two girls who fell into the water were rescued, why should her daughter die.

She doesn’t believe it!

The middle-aged woman grabbed the edge of the boat and kept muttering to herself: “I don’t believe it, you must have caught the wrong person. I saw my Helen just now. I will go down to fish by myself. If you don’t help me, I will go to fish by myself.” !”

Talking about jumping into the river at the same time, it doesn’t work for anyone.

Everyone was speechless, but they had seen a lot of family members who lost control of their emotions.

After so many years of searching for corpses, when the corpses were not recovered, most of the family members held a glimmer of hope, thinking that their loved ones were not dead.

When the corpses were picked up, some family members fainted on the spot, and some were madly unwilling to accept the facts, and some even beat and kicked them, scolding them for picking them up too late.

The middle-aged woman was restrained, she turned her head and threw herself at the corpse covered with blue cloth, she couldn’t help but lift the blue cloth, and she saw that it was her daughter’s face.

She sat down as if drained of strength, and frantically punched and kicked Oran who was closest to her!

“What are you doing for food! Why did you just find my daughter now! Isn’t it easy to catch someone! You are all trash, and you have been fishing all day and night! You killed my daughter!”

“Damn you! Damn!”

She screamed and yelled, and Oran was hurting.

I didn’t close my eyes all day and night. As a rescuer, the joy when I found a living person can completely heal the heaviness in my heart when I found a corpse. Not to mention that what I found now is a corpse, and being scolded by the family like this makes him feel even more uncomfortable.

When I came to the rescue team, I was full of enthusiasm, but it was slowly extinguished. After seeing too much human nature, I felt a little dazed.

Do these things they do really make sense?

When the boat docked, the middle-aged woman was still crying and cursing

Kellen hugged Susie and waited on the shore. Hearing that someone caught it, there were more and more people watching.

Hearing the middle-aged woman’s scolding, Susie felt very uncomfortable in her heart. She was only four years old and felt a sense of irritability for no reason.

“Stop swearing!” She suddenly shouted angrily, “You are useless! You are the most useless person! You can make trouble and be disobedient, and you will accuse others. You are a coward!”

The little guy was so angry that he also used the “You’re a coward” from the TV school.

She just thinks that this aunt is too annoying. Even if her daughter is gone, it’s very pitiful, but she shouldn’t scold people like this!

Everyone nodded.

“That’s right, it’s not easy for me to rescue people. Three of the five corpse boats belong to the Blue Sky Rescue Team. The Blue Sky Rescue Team is a volunteer rescuer. I confiscated your money and didn’t take your things. I stood up desperately. Come out, what are you scolding?”

“Why don’t you help me?”

The grumpy person directly scolded back: “If you want me to say that you are a mother, you should be scolded even more! Don’t you think about your daughter? Will you blame others if something goes wrong?”

Kellen pursed his lips and looked at the crowd with cold eyes. He had already been indifferent due to blood and human affection, and there was no ups and downs in his emotions at the moment.

However, Susie broke free from his embrace, and ran to a young man with his head down, who was silent and silently packing his things.

Oran was pulling in the rope, and he was overwhelmed by the increasingly heavy emotions in his heart. After the high-intensity work was over, his whole body relaxed at this moment, and he felt very tired.

At this moment, a small hand suddenly held his hand, and Oran froze for a moment.

I saw a little girl raised her head and said to him seriously: “Thank you, you have worked hard!”

“You are the best! You are as good as a superhero!”

Seeing the little girl’s serious expression and her clear and pure eyes, Oran’s eyes turned red for an instant.

“thanks.”

The little girl’s father came over, picked her up and said, “It’s time to go.”

Susie waved goodbye to him, and Oran quickly waved back.

Oran laughed, rubbed his eyes and murmured, “Thank you.”

The strange little girl made him feel that he had infinite courage again.

Next to him, the middle-aged woman was still crying and cursing.

“Why are you cursing? Do you know how I feel? Did you kill your daughter? You don’t know anything!!!”

“Did I say something wrong? If they rescued quickly, my daughter would not have died. It’s all your fault, my daughter, my Helen.”

The wind blew the blue cloth covering the girl’s body, revealing the girl’s pale face with wide-eyed eyes.

No one saw it, her eyeballs trembled for a moment, and then returned to calm.

Chapter 174 Two Water Ghosts

Susie frowned, staring at the blue cloth blown away by the wind.

“This vile ghost is too cunning.” Susie said, “She... Huh?”

Kellen asked, “What’s wrong?”

Susie pointed to the girl’s body in the distance: “Dad, her eyes are closed.”

Kellen looked over, sure enough.

No one noticed the strangeness of the female corpse just now, but he and Susie have been paying attention.

The female corpse originally had her eyes wide open, but now she closed her eyes.

Kellen said: “The male corpse was not like this last night.”

When the male corpse was in the river, the whites of his eyes were rolled up. After being picked up, the eyeballs moved twice, and they followed him.

Susie stared at the river for a long time, and suddenly said, “I see. We were wrong, Dad.”

Kellen: “Huh?”

Susie said: “There should be two vile ghosts, one is very fierce and the other is not so fierce. The one who grabbed Dad yesterday should be the very vile ghost, and the not vile ghost should be possessed by this young lady.”

Kellen understood: “So there should be two girls who fell into the water last night. The girl named Helen died a long time ago. She was possessed by the vile ghost who was not fierce and became the bait. After the boy rescued the two girls last night, Seeing Helen as bait in the water, he went down the river again, and was killed by the vile ghost.”

Susie nodded, stretched out her hand, and gave a thumbs up: “Dad is so smart!”

Kellen raised his brows, very flamboyantly: “That must be.”

Susie said: “How did the two girls who fell into the water last night fall into the water? Did you see Helen when you were in the water?”

Kellen said: “This father checked it for you. The two girls saw the beautiful river surface reflected by the lights. They wanted to take a group of atmospheric photos near the river surface, but they accidentally fell down.”

“They didn’t see Helen who was dead, they just felt as if they were being pulled out – they were too panicked at the time to be sure whether they were being pulled out or washed out by the water.”

“Just then the boy passed by and rescued them immediately. The boy had just landed when he heard another thud, and then someone yelled ‘help’.”

Speaking of this, both father and daughter understood that the boy had successfully rescued the two of them, and neither of them would have died.

The problem lies in Helen who is possessed by the vile ghost.

When Kellen just went down to the river to check, he saw the already dead Helen standing upright under the hidden banyan tree–

The river hadn’t risen recently, and Helen, who was already dead, couldn’t climb ashore by herself, and even if she was caught by a branch, she couldn’t stand up straight.

Susie said distressedly: “Now I understand, I just don’t know how to catch the two vile ghosts.”

The two vile ghosts should have spotted her, so they won’t approach the shore easily.

Kellen lowered his eyes and said in a low voice, “Susie, Dad will take you on a boat tonight, do you want to?”

Susie’s eyes lit up, and she immediately raised her hand: “Hmm!”

“But Dad, the female ghost should remember us, let’s watch and dress up.” She clasped her little hands and said quietly.

Kellen picked her up and hugged her in his arms, and corrected, “It’s a disguise.”

Susie: “Well, Dad, don’t you dress up as an aunt so that you won’t be recognized?”

It wasn’t until Kellen and Susie left that Stetson put away his phone and left in a hurry.

More and more anchors rushed over, wanting to capture the news of the girl's body being picked up as soon as possible, but they were stopped outside the park by the security guards who rushed over.

Stetson walked out, not even bothering to follow him.

He has breaking news!

Stetson, who returned to the rental room, immediately edited the video.

When he finished editing, the videos of [Girl's Body Found], [Man Seeing Death and Not Rescuing], and [Girl's Family Swear at Rescue Workers] just became popular.

[The girl's body was found] Under the related video, all the comments are:

[farewell!]

[Cried.]

[May there be no pain in heaven!]

Accompanied by this hot spot, there is a video of Kellen stopping others at the scene and not saving lives for others.

The bottom is full of abuse:

[Who is this person? Don't dare to go down to save people yourself, and don't go down to save people for others? 】

[Speechless, how could there be such a person! 】

[One thing to say, I watched another video, the girl's mother blamed the rescuers for coming too late and killing her daughter (smiling), if you want me to say, it would be nice if this kind of person went down and died! No sympathy at all! 】

[I watched it too, the girl's mother saw that my blood pressure was high, what the hell. 】

[Although, this tall man is not a good thing, is he? Why did he stop others from going down? 】

[I advise everyone not to speak too early, it seems that the tall man stopped people from going down because they heard that there was danger in the river! 】

In order to solve this doubt, netizens kept looking for related videos, just to see what danger was in the river at that time.

As a result, I saw a fuzzy video of the middle-aged woman who was thumping down and being dragged into the water by the floating corpse

The netizen was horrified: [Fuck, tell me I was wrong!]

【really? The related videos are very blurry, I feel that someone deliberately ps for the traffic!)

[Hehe, I laughed, what time is it, everyone's mobile phones are high- definition, but as long as it involves supernatural, weird, UFO, all of them are blurry videos, just playing tricks!]

[It's not fake, I was there at the time, and it seems that I saw the girl's body move.]

Ever since, the discussion about "Girl's Body Fraud" rushed to the hot search again.

This is the moment Stetson was waiting for, and he has high-definition videos for three hot searches in a row.

Stetson immediately posted the full video in segments.

He was very smart, and first posted the high-definition video of the girl's dead body suddenly cheating and dragging his own mother into the water.

[Complete incident: Part 1: The girl who fell into the water suddenly cheated her body and dragged her mother into the river!]

Sure enough, after the video was released, it had its own search traffic. In less than half an hour, the video soared into the sky like a rocket!

Netizens were frightened:

[It's too high-definition, it scared me to death! I even saw the girl's pale face!]

[No offense intended, bless my family and bless me, don't hurt my family and those around me.]

Of course, there are also doubts:

[So high-definition, post-production special effects? I laughed to death, there are a group of people who believe this, what about the brain?]

[It is definitely synthetic. I

Chapter 175 Susie Paints Nail Polish

Stetson listened to the ding ding ding ding in the background and thought it was the most beautiful sound in the world.

His video has become popular, and its views have exceeded 50 million in just half an hour.

This is just the beginning!

Stetson immediately posted a second video:

[Complete incident: CIMC: The man quietly went down the river, followed by someone shouting for help. The girl who fell into the water cheated on her corpse, is it man-made or supernatural? !]

After the video was released, a bunch of netizens who followed up immediately came.

[Get to the sequel with your strength!! The blogger is so awesome, follow up decisively!]

[Strange, isn't this little girl Susie?? What's going on, how did Susie get involved with this?]

【The tall man went around under the banyan tree, he was definitely placing a corpse! I have a bold guess: the girl was murdered by him, and he dumped the body when night fell. In order to divert the attention, he deliberately made a scene of fraudulent corpses! 】

【This speculation is nonsense. Have you ever seen someone throw a corpse in the presence of so many people? You see in the video, there are live broadcast anchors around. 】

[Although it's not a case of dumping the corpse, I think the girl's fraudulent corpse must have something to do with this guy. 】

The more intense the discussion, the higher the popularity. Stetson easily gained 500,000 fans by eating the traffic brought by Kellen and Susie.

Becoming a well-known anchor in a blink of an eye is truly an overnight hit!

With these fans, he will release videos in the future. Although it is impossible to get millions of likes like these few videos today, it is still easy to get tens of thousands of likes, which is enough for him.

Posted a third video:

[Complete incident: Part 2: Internet celebrity Susie watched coldly, but was indifferent to the corpse. Is it really that simple when I cried and questioned the innocent children of the whole network?]

This video is even sharper. The clips are all videos of Susie standing quietly on the shore watching. Susie is well-behaved and doesn't make trouble, but in his clips, she becomes a cold-eyed bystander.

Susie's incident gained a lot of mother fans on the Internet. Now that Stetson's video came out, there was a group of people who spoke for Susie immediately.

Of course, that comes with a bunch of people who say Susie is horrible.

Double the heat.

Stetson was thrilled.

At this time, no one in the Murray family paid attention to the media.

After all, this matter belonged to 'others' to the Murray family, and they didn't know that Susie could be involved in this matter.

Their focus now is on Kellen.

The Murray family folded their arms one by one, looking at the 'noble queen' who came down from upstairs.

288 Voucher s

Martin walked in from the outside and said, "The boat has been booked."

As a result, he saw Kellen who was dressed as a woman, and the corner of his mouth twitched.

Is this the Kellen he knew?

Kellen's eyelids also kept twitching, and he said, "Father will find someone for you, and you will make another one."

Susie was very interested. Holding a few bottles of nail polish, she said excitedly, "Dad, sit down!"

Kellen was forced to sit on the couch.

Susie took the nail polish and painted him one by one. Ten fingers were colorful. She also took off his shoes and the toes were also colorful.

Craig grimaced and snorted, “Nonsense.”

If a child wants to paint his nails, he really paints it?

Michael said: “That’s right. But, if Susie wants to draw, she can draw for her!”

He even added fuel to the flames: “Susie, use that Barbie powder!”

Susie suddenly looked at Michael.

Michael only thought that something would happen, and sure enough, he heard the little guy say: “Uncle, sit down~”

Michael was speechless.

How angry I was just now, how regretful I am now.

“I’ll let it go,” Michael said.

Susie looked at Michael pitifully: “Uncle wants to draw too!”

Michael: “Okay, okay.”

Craig shook the newspaper and muttered, “There’s no principle.”

However, “retribution” came, Susie finished painting Michael, and stared at Craig sitting nearby.

“Grandpa, which color do you want?”

Craig was speechless.

He frowned, “I don’t.”

Susie: “Grandpa~”

Craig: “.Blue.”

Little girls like to play with these things the most, such as painting nails, imitating mother’s makeup, stealing mother’s lipstick, and tying hair for Barbie dolls.

The addicted Susie immediately took out the blue nail polish and painted Craig’s nails one by one.

Martin backed away quietly, pretending to go out to answer the phone.

David remembered that Lulu needed another page of handwriting practice, so he hurried upstairs.

Kellen took a look, what is such a big blessing for?

“Susie, I think Martin is suitable for Barbie fans, and David is good for black.”

Susie’s eyes sparkled: “Yeah, don’t worry, come and line up!”

Everyone in the Murray family was speechless.

Alana suppressed a smile and looked at a group of old men who were forced to be suppressed by a little doll.

In the rental area of the park’s boat rental night tour, a group of people behaved strangely.

The three big men put their hands in their pockets, wore sweaters and hats, and boarded the boat silently with their heads down.

Behind them was a bouncing little boy.

Behind the little boy, followed a woman in a bright red dress. The woman was wearing heavy makeup, which looked weird no matter how she looked.

At the end of them was a girl who looked like a college student with a browless smile, and followed behind to take pictures vigorously.

The three men are Kellen, Martin and Michael, and the woman with heavy make-up is Roger, who was pulled in temporarily and looks suspicious of life.

The little boy is Susie who has been carefully dressed by Clara. He wears a wig on his head, which cannot be seen in the dark.

Clara was going to laugh like crazy. Although Kellen didn’t come out in women’s clothing, Kellen, Martin, and Michael were all painted with nail polish. Susie insisted that they wear slippers to show off their beautiful toenails.

Clara hooked Roger, who was twitching at the corner of her mouth, and said with a smile: “Hey, sister, come out to play?”

It’s a pity that Roger can’t see her, otherwise he will be pissed off.

The cruise ship was a small yacht. After entering the private room, Kellen and the others immediately stretched out their hands.

Roger's expression returned to normal, and he asked, "What is our mission this time?"

He only received urgent messages asking him to come on a mission.

Who knew that Michael and Susie forced them to put on women's clothes when they first arrived at the Murray family.

Kellen said, "Come on, put this chain on."

This is the evil spirit necklace made by Susie.

Roger, who was wearing women's clothing, had a questioning face.

Immediately afterwards, he saw the ten brightly colored fingers of their Morton family.

Even the ten toenails are colorful.

The same goes for Martin and Michael. Martin's ten nails are Barbie pink, pink and tender, and Michael's ten nails are black.

Michael looked at his nails, quite satisfied: "Hey, I think it's pretty cool looking at it."

Chapter 176 Catch the Water Ghost

Roger was puzzled: "So what is our mission this time?"

Kellen said: "We are going to lure out a person. This person has met me and Susie. We can't come forward, so it will be up to you to lure him out."

"I remember that you are quite good at water, right? You have also conducted underwater actual combat."

Roger nodded, it's all fine.

"Has that person seen me?" He asked seriously, still wondering which enemy it was? Or the fugitive?

Kellen paused and said, "I haven't seen it."

Roger was speechless. So what's the point of him wearing this suit!!

Kellen seemed to see what he was thinking, and without raising his head, he talked nonsense: “I asked you to wear this for your own good, to ward off evil spirits.”

The yacht drove out of the river and wandered slowly on the river.

“So what do I do now?” Roger asked, covering his face.

Kellen leaned comfortably on the sofa chair, opened his hands in a big shape, crossed his legs, and raised his legs.

“See that window?” he said. “Open it and stick your head out.”

This yacht is designed for sailing on the river. The upper part of the second floor belongs to the deck, and there is a comfortable sofa area. There is a small bar in the belly of the ship. Near the windows are a row of glass windows that can be opened.

Roger opened the window and poked his head out.

Susie took off her shoes and climbed onto the sofa. Following Kellen’s example, she leaned back on the sofa, stretched her legs, and added, “And then you have to stretch out your hands to play in the water on the river~”

Roger: “?!”

Wearing women’s clothes, sticking your head out, and playing with water.

Why did he feel so wrong?

There was no other way, Roger, who was concerned about the ‘secret mission’, had to follow suit.

Since the window was quite high from the water, he had to lie on the window and bend down to reach the water.

Fortunately, he is also quite tall, with long hands.

Susie took a picture of Roger with her mobile phone, and said, “Sister, you say: Grandpa is here to play~”

That’s how it’s played on TV.

The corner of Martin’s mouth twitched.

Kellen had a half-smile: “Don’t shout.”

So a group of people sat around drinking tea and coffee, and Roger worked hard alone. The night wind blew his long hair, and his hands patted the water, playing with the water one after another.

At this moment, Roger suddenly felt something.

He frowned, water plants? But it's thin, slippery, and feels more like hair.

The next second, he suddenly felt someone grab his wrist and pull it hard!

Roger sneered, and raised his hand to pull the man out forcefully.

I only heard Kellen's low voice behind him: "Here we come! Roger, hold on!"

Roger was about to say he was a battle-hardened man, don't worry about that.

However, in the next second, he saw a pale hand sticking out of the water, grabbing his other hand and pulling hard.

Roger fell into the water with a plop!

Roger was wearing a red dress, and when he fell into the water, a thin voice sounded in his ear: "Help, someone fell into the water."

His eyes are sharp, and he has been trained to open his eyes even underwater.

Roger grabbed the hands of those two with his backhand and pulled them hard, wanting to see who they were.

As a result, when he looked at it, he saw a pale face sticking in front of him, rolling his eyes!

Beside him was a young girl, also staring straight at him.

After all, Roger's temperament was not as calm as Kellen's. He choked a little bit of water in his nose in this shock, and was dragged to the bottom of the water by those two 'people' in the next second.

At the critical moment, the necklace on his neck shimmered, and Kellen's cold voice sounded vaguely:

"Roger, grab her, don't let her get away!"

Then his feet were grabbed.

Roger immediately clasped the wrists of the two, and the two bodies were pulled out of the river and fell onto the boat!

Before Roger could react, he felt a pain in his neck and passed out.

This operation shocked Michael and the others.

Before coming here, they only thought of 'ghosts'. There is a high probability that they can't see ghosts, and they can only watch Susie catch ghosts.

But now these two are clearly not ghosts, but corpses.

Susie remembers what Micky said last time, she is not strong enough now, so she must not forcibly accept ghosts.

but. If she doesn't accept these two water ghosts, she won't be able to hold on for long, and she won't be able to hold on until Micky comes back.

Susie suddenly remembered what Mitch said, the red rope in her hand is so powerful that it can bounce back automatically.

Well, in Susie's understanding, it is rebound.

Susie immediately approached the two water ghosts, put her hands on her hips, raised her chin, and said, "Come on, hit me if you have the ability!"

That little expression is called arrogance.

The corpse rolled its eyes and roared from its throat.

One of the female corpses seemed to be particularly angry, and one jumped up and bit Susie directly!

Kellen was startled: "Susie!"

Susie instinctively raised her hand to block in front of her, only to see a flash of red light.

The female corpse was severely hit by the red light and fell out violently. The ghost inside the corpse was also thrown out, screaming again and again.

The younger girl's corpse hesitated for a moment, then rushed over.

In the next second, he also flew out screaming.

The ghost came out of the body, and the two corpses landed on the deck of the ship. Suddenly, a stench came over the face. It quickly swelled and rotted, and soon turned into two pools of foul-smelling yellow water.

Michael was startled: “Caught it?”

As expected of his niece, really amazing!

Susie said, “Not yet!”

Susie yelled, and the ghost was kicked away.

Martin, Kellen and Michael hadn’t recovered from the shock when they saw Susie throw the gourd out again.

The flower-hearted ghost flew out.

The three ghosts were fighting the landlord in the gourd, and the philandering ghost was doing everything possible to play with the cowardly ghost, and flew out by itself in the next second.

Seeing the two vile ghosts rushing towards her, she slapped them without thinking.

In front of evil ghosts, vile ghosts are not fierce enough to look at.

The vile ghost who screamed the most was pinned down by the Huaxin ghost and couldn’t move.

The female ghost struggled angrily.

Suddenly, the ghost of the girl next to her knelt down with a plop, and said with tears, “Please, please let my mother go.”

Chapter 177 Why Are Adults’ Hearts So Complicated?

She fought instinctively, and when she stepped on a female vile ghost, and the little vile ghost next to her knelt down and begged her to let her mother go, she didn’t understand what was going on.

Susie clapped her hands and praised: “Auntie is amazing!”

Huaxingui subconsciously said: “That is.”

The young girl vile ghost was kneeling, crying and begging: “My mother and I were wrong, we will never do bad things again, please let us go.”

Susie shook her head: “How many lives have you claimed?”

The girl struggled in her eyes and said, “Yes, there are only seven or eight.”

Susie frowned, seven or eight?

The vile ghost, who was stepped on by the philandering ghost, seemed to have a throat blocked by sand, and said in an ugly voice: “Rebecca, don’t beg her.”

“This time it counts as our failure.”

The vile ghost stared at Susie, very unwilling.

It only needs to devour another innocent soul. Really only need one!

She can become an evil ghost and leave the river forever.

She drowned in this river tens of thousands of times, she couldn’t bear it, she chose to devour other ghosts, so that she could leave here quickly.

Did not expect to fall short!

Susie didn’t care what the female vile ghost said, she just looked at the female ghost named Rebecca and asked, “What’s your name, where are you from, and how did you die?”

Rebecca hesitated for a moment, with a trace of despair in her eyes, and said, “We used to be residents on the shore. About eight years ago, there were self-built houses in the village in the city.”

She pointed to the other side of the river, but tall buildings had been built there now, and the old buildings had disappeared.

“One weekend, my mother and I went to the river to wash the quilt. My mother thought the quilt was too big and the washing machine couldn’t clean it, so I went to the river. My father also came, but my father was swimming in the river.”

Rebecca’s mother suddenly fell into the river while washing. Rebecca hurried to pull her mother, but she fell into the water too.

“My mum yelled for help, but my dad swam too far away to hear him.”

Rebecca said, crying sadly: “My mother and I drowned like this. After we drowned, we became water ghosts here. My mother was very angry and didn’t want to be reborn. She hated her father and didn’t look back no matter how she screamed.

The female vile ghost also seemed to recall the scene before her death, her eyes were red.

When she died, she died, but even her daughter died, and her husband was swimming in the river a hundred meters away. Obviously, her daughter had a chance to be rescued.

But followed her and drowned!

“I’m not reconciled, I hate it!” The female vile ghost hoarsely gritted her teeth, “I’m going to find him and kill him! Ask him if his ears are just for display?”

Susie was speechless.

Rebecca continued: “Due to getting stuck in the mud and being entangled in water plants, my father didn’t see us for a while, thinking that we were going home, so he followed. Later, my father brought people to fish a few times with bamboo poles., but they didn’t find us.”

Susie frowned: “How did you kill Helen?”

The female vile ghost struggled a bit, but seeing that she couldn’t break free, she gave up.

Rebecca glanced at her mother before telling what had happened in the past two days.

It turned out that Helen didn’t intend to commit suicide at all. After she quarreled with her mother, she went to the river and sat on a leisure stone bench by the river in a daze.

“Because she was alone, my mum and I approached and tried to attract her.”

“Then I heard her on the phone with her mother. Her mother was very angry and asked her where she had been. Helen said she was in the park by the river.”

Rebecca paused, pursed her lips, and said, “Helen’s mother was very angry when she heard that, and said, ‘Okay, you’re still threatening me with suicide now, aren’t you? Who are you going to show by the river? You have that ability You jump off and don’t come back!’.”

Susie asked, “And then?”

On the side, Martin, Kellen, Clara, and Michael could only watch Susie talking to herself.

I'm afraid when I see a ghost, but I'm afraid when I don't. I couldn't "listen to the story", and my heart was itchy.

So what did the water ghost say to Susie.

41.50

Clara muttered: "Mistake, I should have caught Wade for a walk just now."

At this time Rebecca was continuing to say: "Helen is as old as me, and I understand her mood very well. Before she explained, her mother hung up the phone. She squatted by the river crying."

Originally, she didn't want to kill Helen, but her mother told her not to soften her heart.

"My mother said, if you sympathize with others, who will sympathize with us?"

After hesitating, Rebecca's mother dragged Helen into the water.

Rebecca struggled internally, but she didn't stop in the end.

"Her mother came to look for Helen one day after she died, but she couldn't find it for a whole day. At night, my mother dragged the two girls into the water again. Helen's mother was very anxious when she heard someone said that she had fallen into the water. Passing by that The boy is very brave, he is good at water, and the place where the two girls fell into the water was not too deep, so he really rescued him. My mother was angry, so she let me attach herself to Helen and pretend to fall into the water, and put the boy..."

Rebecca seemed very guilty when she said this, and stopped talking.

Rebecca's mother didn't show any remorse, she just said, "Yes! It's not good for them to take pictures, why should they stick to the river?"

Susie was very angry: "What about that boy? He is a good person who saves people!"

Rebecca's mother didn't care: "So what, I'm going to die anyway, it's better to fulfill me if I die sooner or later."

Susie was speechless, angry, and went up to grab the female vile ghost's neck and shook it vigorously: “Be sober! Your life is your life, isn’t the life of others not your life?”

Clara looked suspicious. Isn’t that what she said yesterday?

The female vile ghost was shaken to the point of disappearing, struggling to slap Susie, but before hitting Susie once, the red string in Susie’s hand shimmered and hit her hard.

The female vile ghost always feels that she is beating herself?

If you don’t fight, you will be strangled by Susie. If you fight, you will attack yourself. It’s not flattering anyway. The female vile ghost was furious: “Stop it.”

Susie doesn’t.

With the blessing of double attack, the female vile ghost was finally pinched by Susie, turned into black gas with a puff, and was absorbed by the gourd.

The playboy was shocked, what the hell, is this little guy so powerful?

Susie was also taken aback for a moment, then looked at her empty hands and pursed her lips.

Why is the heart of adults so complicated?

Why do they always like to blame others?

Children understand the truth, why don’t many of them understand?

Susie was confused for a moment.

Chapter 178 The Good Side

The Playboy looked at Rebecca and said, “Your mother deserved what she deserved, but you can still go to be reborn, whether you go or not.”

Rebecca suddenly laughed and shook her head: “No, I’m with my mother. No matter how bad she is, she’s still my mother.”

She’s killed a lot of people too, and she’s as damned as her mother, unforgivable.

Especially that Helen. These two days she possessed Helen, pretending to fall into the water to lure others, she felt even more sinful.

Rebecca threw herself at the gourd without hesitation, turned into black air and was absorbed by the gourd with a snort.

The gourd lay quietly on the ground, a stream of light slowly passed across the gourd, and the crimson light seemed even more eye-catching.

Susie picked up the gourd, wiped it, and lightly touched the red string, and the gourd hung on the red string.

Kellen came over and picked her up and asked, “What’s wrong?”

This is the first time Susie has completed ghost hunting independently, although it is a vile ghost. It should have been a great sense of accomplishment.

But every time I feel bored.

Confused, she said everything that the female ghost said just now.

The little guy asked puzzledly: “Aunt Vile Ghost fell and drowned by herself, and Rebecca drowned to save her. Why did she vent her grievances on others?”

“Helen is innocent, she’s still the same age as Rebecca, why doesn’t Auntie Vile Ghost let her go?”

“And Helen’s mother, that aunt, has been looking for Helen anxiously for the past two days, but if Helen is so important, why would she say something that hurt Helen?”

Helen just said that she was by the river, but she said very vicious words, saying that she was going to die and would not stop her, if she had the ability, she would really jump down.

“Helen died. Obviously the aunt didn’t take good care of her, but she said it was the fault of the uncle who rescued her. Why?”

Susie asked all at once.

Kellen thought of that middle-aged woman, who couldn’t swim, and went into the water again and again to make trouble.

After Helen’s body was recovered, she refused to accept the reality and beat and kicked the rescuers, saying that they killed her daughter.

He carried Susie to the deck, and the cool evening wind on the river blew away the sultry heat in his heart.

Then she said: “Rebecca’s mother regrets that she killed her daughter. She could have washed the quilt with the washing machine, but she went to the river on a whim, and she didn't expect both of them to die. That middle-aged aunt, she didn't expect that she said it in a hurry. Be obedient, and your daughter will really die."

"They all regret the same thing, but they can't change it. In order to alleviate the self-blame in their hearts, they blame others crazily in an attempt to alleviate a little bit of self-blame."

Not just mum Rebecca and mum Helen, there are many, many parents these days who tend to blame someone else whenever a child is injured or killed due to their negligence.

Kellen reached out and touched Susie's head, and said warmly: "Be happy, you are also very good today. Besides, it's not all good. Didn't that Rebecca finally repent? There is always a good side in this world. Being a human being Look at the bad side."

Kellen's voice was gentle, his eyes were tender like never before, and in his own way, he cared for Susie with all his might.

Susie lay on Kellen's shoulder, thought for a while, and finally nodded: "Yeah!"

Dad is right, just think about the bright side more!

When Kellen and the others got home, Susie had fallen asleep because she was too tired.

Martin also felt a little tired. He turned on the computer habitually and wanted to continue working, but he yawned and soon realized that he was a little sleepy.

He was a little surprised, only to notice that he fell asleep earlier and earlier during this time.

Martin simply washed up and went to bed. He thought it was difficult to fall asleep when he lay down, but he fell asleep soon.

the other side.

Clara's night had just begun.

Susie burned her the latest mobile phone, which is powerful and can really connect to the Internet.

Ever since she was able to stay with Susie but couldn't go out for a walk, she became obsessed with watching videos.

Clara rolled on the bed holding back her laughter, afraid of waking Susie, she floated out, ready to go downstairs to brush, to the roof, or to the treetops.

Then when I looked up, I saw Kellen sitting on the sofa on the first floor.

She immediately turned off the screen of her phone, not noticing that the flashing picture was Stetson's video.

In the evening, Susie paints nail polish for everyone, and the nail care kit is still on the first floor. At the moment, Kellen is taking the nail polish remover to remove the 'nail art'.

Clara only thought it was funny, and because Kellen couldn't hear or see her, she laughed and laughed, and then went outside to check her phone with satisfaction.

Kellen glanced wordlessly at Wade's camera on the couch.

Just very speechless.

But fortunately, the two did not plan to communicate.

Clara knew that she was going to be reborn, and the only thing she wanted was that Kellen, the father, would treat Susie well, and now she was relieved of that.

As for everything before? She is dead, so why care about so much.

As for Kellen, since he knew that Clara lived in Susie's gourd, he didn't have too many thoughts.

At that time, he was in an uncontrollable state. How could he remember so much? Susie's smooth birth was considered a blessing.

The previous accident was that he was sorry for her, all he can do now is to take care of Susie and the Murray family for Clara, the rest is not important.

That's fine for now, there's no need to do anything.

Kellen was about to put away the camera when he overheard the sound of Clara swiping the video from inside the camera.

[Internet celebrity Susie watched coldly, but was indifferent to the corpse. Is it really that simple when I cried and questioned the innocent children of the whole network?]

Kellen stopped in an instant!

Clara, who was swiping her phone outside, was also half-pissed off, but unfortunately she can only watch on her phone, and cannot really participate in comments like a human being.

She cursed angrily.

Kellen's eyes were cold.

At the beginning, the Murray family took down hundreds of accounts that framed Susie and hyped Susie by means of thunder. Who would have thought that someone would dare to take the lead now?!

There was a cold murderous look in his eyes.

At this moment, Stetson is editing the video. Such a good material, of course, cannot be stopped without draining the value.

"The series of complete videos has exceeded 100 million views!" Stetson was elated: "Is it still a dream to earn a million dollars a month?!"

He seemed to have seen himself living in a mansion.

Chapter 179 Hold him down, friendly exchange

Stetson leaned against the hard board head of the bed, counting the money he'd earned for the night.

The data hasn't come out yet, but he estimated it, including advertisements, links, etc., including the copyright fees reprinted by several bloggers. One hundred thousand starts!

Stetson is enjoying the future in comfort.

He has more than 500,000 fans now. According to the current trend, it is not a problem for him to have millions of fans. If you operate well, you can still think about earning a million dollars a month.

Even if she loses followers regularly, at worst there are two to three hundred thousand followers, right? 200,000 to 300,000 fans receive advertisements, live broadcasts bring goods, and post videos to hang links. The minimum monthly income is 50,000.

Stetson suddenly felt that the head of the bed was too hard, and then looked around. The simple single room can only be said to be barely livable, without any sense of quality and design!

He is now a person with a monthly income of one million, how can he still live in such a house?!

He immediately took out his phone and opened the APP. Originally, I wanted to find a high-end community to rent a house, but then I thought that he is now a person with a monthly income of one million. What kind of house should I rent?

He wants to buy a house!

At this moment, while swiping his phone, he suddenly found that his video had been taken off the shelf!

“?” Stetson quickly sat up straight, what’s going on?

He opened the background and saw an official message: [Your video is suspected of violating regulations and has been taken down!]

Stetson laughed angrily. The video he carefully edited was shot by himself, and there was no bloody violence, pornography, gambling, or drugs. How could it be against the rules?

Who reported him!

Stetson stared, and immediately reposted the original video with a different title.

It turned out that my account was banned.

Stetson called the customer service of the platform like crazy, but was told that he secretly photographed others for profit, infringed on the portrait rights of the other party, and the other party wanted to sue him.

Stetson was speechless.

Stetson said excitedly: “I want to appeal!”

The customer service’s answer was cold and heartless: “I’m sorry, the other party has sufficient evidence and does not accept the appeal. What you should worry about now is the lawsuit.”

Stetson hung up the phone angrily.

He didn’t care about who was sued at all. He was afraid that it would be impossible to be afraid. The video platform is so big, there are thousands. of newly released videos every day, and there are also a lot of illegal videos. How can he win the lawsuit?

Generally, banned accounts are banned at most, and nothing will happen. Even if they want to sue him, do they know where he lives? He will move out tomorrow!

The only thing Stetson is distressed about is his own account, half a million followers!!

just this!

Once the account violates the rules, the platform has the right to recover the income earned from the account.

In other words, the 100,000 he just earned went into the platform's pocket for nothing before it reached his hands!!

“Damn!” Stetson said viciously: “Black heart website!”

He changed his account, but he still couldn't send the video, and even if he typed the code, he still couldn't pass the review.

After repeated operations several times, the trumpet was also blocked.

The trumpet also accumulated some fans in the past few days because of uploading the ghost video of the small website [The Theory of Meeting Ghosts], but they disappeared.

Stetson was about to vomit blood.

This hot event is an explosive all-platform hot event, and Stetson is well aware that each hot event cannot last more than a week, and once seven days pass, the traffic drops sharply.

I don't know when I will encounter such a golden opportunity next time!

Stetson gritted his teeth, his account was opened with his own ID card, and the trumpet account was opened with his mother's ID card, now. He opened another account with his father's ID card.

“I'm already familiar with the suction routine. First of all, I have to hit hot spots! Innovate within the scope of hot events!”

After spending one night, he finally found the Xiaomoushu account of the two girls who fell into the water, and successfully captured the photos of the two girls on it.

I was even lucky enough to capture a selfie video.

Then combine these photos and videos to make a new video and post it to your account.

So far, he has successfully impersonated the girl.

The next day, the highlight came, and Stetson wrote a text in a memo:

[I'm really fed up. People have been telling me these days that he saved my life and asked me to treat my parents well in the future! Even asked my family to send money to my parents! Who is he to me? He wants me to honor his parents! Did I beg him for help? He didn't come up by himself, it was his own fate, can you blame me? 】

This section complained in the tone of the rescued girl.

Buy another traffic and put it in.

Sure enough, the video went viral soon!

Some netizens accidentally discovered that this account is the girl who fell into the water, and the netizens were angry:

[Was it wrong for me to save you? I don't know how to be grateful, but I still say these words, is it a person? 】

Stetson immediately replied: [Did I beg him for help? 】

When netizens saw this, they were even more furious: [To be human, you must at least be human! 】

Stetson replied: [Who are you? 】

In the comment area, people @

REAR came to see and scolded together, as long as Stetson scolded him, he replied one by one.

Every reply poked at the sore spots of netizens. More and more people scolded him, and this video became more and more popular. It actually broke 100,000 likes in less than half a day.

Stetson smiled contemptuously: “This is the traffic password!”

Stir up the popularity first and accumulate fans-even if those people follow him for the convenience of finding him, he wins.

Then post the same statement for a few days in a row, wait until the popularity is almost there, delete all the videos immediately, change the name, change the information, and at the same time register another account with a false name and paste the original account name, leaving only the latest video. Sorry, I’m logged out.

Then this account reposts several high-quality landscape videos, emotional copywriting, and mobile phone screensavers.

After this operation, netizens who have no online memory will soon be unable to tell who is who, and think that he is an emotional anchor, and the fans left behind are his ultimate fans, and such videos are often easy to retain fans.

As for whether the girl will be hurt or not, Stetson doesn’t care, he can’t afford to live, so who cares about her, he won’t die if he is said a few words, let him make money first.

Stetson’s eyes glowed.

After a while, there was a knock on the door. Stetson thought it was a takeaway. When he opened the door, he saw several people in black T- shirts standing in front of him.

A very tall man put one hand on the window at the end of the corridor, watching the scenery outside.

He turned when he heard the door open and asked, “Stetson?”

Stetson asked warily, “Who are you?”

Kellen squeezed his fingers, and the knuckles made a soft click.

He hooked his lips and smiled a little coldly: “Hold him! Be careful and communicate with him in a friendly manner.”

Before Stetson could react, he was punched in the face, and his head was buzzing.

This is the so-called friendly exchange?!

Chapter 180 Trust Collapses. The Innocent People Are Hurt

Stetson was pushed to the ground and beaten. At this time, everyone else had gone to work, and those with elderly and children at home also took them out for a walk.

“Who are you?!” He was startled and frightened.

Kellen bent slightly, raised his eyebrows and said, “I thought you would be very familiar with me after relying on me to eat traffic for a few days?”

Only then did Stetson recognize Kellen, isn’t it the man he saw every day when he edited videos these days?

“Beating is against the law!” he said hastily.

Kellen: “It doesn’t matter, you are not afraid, I can still be afraid?”

Seeing this posture, Stetson felt a kind of fear belatedly, and his lips trembled: “You, don’t mess around, there is surveillance here.”

As soon as he finished saying this, he saw a familiar person approaching from a distance. It was the landlord!

Stetson yelled, “Help! Someone’s been beaten!”

Jade said to herself: “It’s really strange, why is the monitoring broken? I have to go and see.”

After speaking, he walked away as if he didn’t see what happened in front of him.

Monitoring is broken?

Kellen waved his hand: “Come on, take him in, let’s have a good chat.”

Stetson was about to yell for help when a man in black slashed somewhere on his neck.

He suddenly couldn’t make a sound!

The door closed, and Stetson despaired.

In the small rental house, because of the men in black and the tall Kellen, the space seemed very cramped.

Kellen lifted his chin.

A man in black patted Stetson on the shoulder: “Don’t worry, we won’t make the scene dirty.”

Is this to kill people?

Sure enough, I saw a man in black wearing gloves and taking a kitchen knife from a small kitchen chopping board.

Another held his hand.

Kellen sneered: “Don’t you like chopping off your fingers? Cut off the remaining nine!”

“In this way, you won’t be able to catch traffic.”

Stetson didn’t know why, the first thought that popped into his mind was not to beg for mercy, but subconsciously.

If his ten fingers are gone, he can use his disabled status to attract a wave of traffic. Selling is miserable, and the disabled have miraculous effects in bringing goods.

Suddenly, a cold light flashed in front of his eyes, and the man in black raised his kitchen knife and chopped it off fiercely.

Stetson flinched in fright, and the kitchen knife slashed on the bed.

What he doesn’t know is, who is Kellen? If you really cut him, how can you miss it.

It was to scare him on purpose.

Stetson turned pale with fright, and kowtowed: “Forgive me, forgive me! I won’t dare again! I was wrong!”

Kellen looked at him coldly.

Shameless people are really not even afraid of the law sometimes.

He can’t wait for the court to go through the process, and it will take a long time from suing him to the hearing.

He had to get Stetson there first.

If you don’t teach him a lesson, it’s not in line with his character.

Kellen looked around, picked up a yellowed business card on the table, and read: “Stetson.”

Kellen threw the business card away and said, “You guys have a good chat, remember, we are civilized people.”

Several thugs of the Morton family: “Understood!”

Kellen closed the door and went out.

Stetson kept backing away in fear, knelt on the ground and waved his hands repeatedly, begging for mercy, and finally all turned into muffled groans of being beaten.

Outside the door, Roger was guarding the goal nervously, his mind buzzing.

“It’s not good for you to do this in your capacity?” He was about to cry.

Kellen was still leaning against the window at the end of the stairs, with a numb expression on his face: “What is my identity? I’m a wizard now!”

Kellen: “Besides, it was the Lord of the Morton family who beat him, not anyone else.”

Stetson was beaten up and his whole body was in severe pain. Finally, he was imprisoned for 15 days for making trouble and fighting.

Because Kellen’s people are very good at attacking, they know how to hit people the most painfully without making them invisible.

On the contrary, it was a few of them with bruised noses and swollen faces-it was because of their own people beating each other.

After hearing this, Martin frowned and said, “If you do this, your subordinates will also be arrested.”

Kellen looked relaxed: “It doesn’t matter, they already have a mission, they have to go in and stare at someone.”

It just happened to be a matter of course.

Martin is speechless, avenging his personal revenge?

Kellen doesn’t feel that he is avenging his own personal revenge at all. He calls it a reasonable use of advantages to realize the reallocation of resources.

When Stetson was caught, the rescued drowning girl was suffering from cyberbullying.

Because Stetson’s remarks were too outrageous, angry netizens found her real home address and phone number, and even her family’s phone number.

The abuse and curses were endless, and the girl was about to collapse after being scolded.

She also clarified on the video platform, but she was just an ordinary account, and was quickly drowned in the abuse.

Their family even received a courier that day. When they opened it, there was a prosthetic limb with a severed arm splashed with bright red dye, which looked real at first glance.

The girl screamed in fright, broke down and cried: “Mom, why is this happening?”

She didn’t say those words, but no one could hear her.

The benefactor sacrificed to save her, and she has been benevolent to me these days, thanking, apologizing, and feeling guilty.

I didn’t expect to encounter cyber violence all of a sudden!

The girl’s father sighed: “Be patient, my father has already reported to the platform.”

Although that account was banned, things have gotten out of control, and if too many lies are told, they become true, and now the whole network believes that the girl is an ungrateful person.

Now the whole network is spreading rumors about how his daughter is doing. The platform has banned more than a hundred accounts, and it is difficult to recover.

The girl’s mother wiped her tears and said: “Child, bear with it. After all, we survived, but the boy is gone. Even if we want to speak out, how many people believe us? They won’t listen, they only believe that they believe of.”

The girl cried a lot.

Because of the incident on the Internet, everyone looked at her strangely when she went to school today.

Some people even deliberately bullied her: I heard that you were ungrateful and said you didn’t ask me to save you, did you?

The girl is going to have a meltdown.

She didn’t understand how it happened like this, and she didn’t know what to do next, because even if she clarified, most of the netizens were preconceived and sneering.
