Chapter 251

The water bed broke and water spurted from a hole.

Susie's paints on the drawer at the end of the bed were all swept off, and there were all kinds of colors in an instant, and the carpet on the floor was all wet and a mess.

Susie, Lucy, Zion, and Wade lay on the bed with dazed faces, all wet, the quilt and pillows were all wet.

The wire socket that was splashed sizzled, short-circuited with a bang, and smoke burst out instantly.

Alex, who was sleeping soundly, was frightened and flew around, shouting: "Help, help, this time it's really on fire!"

The entire Murray family estate was plunged into darkness.

Hamza was speechless.

Half a minute later, the backup power supply was activated, and the electrician rushed to repair it.

Alana caught up and saw the horror in the room, feeling her blood pressure rise.

"Who did this?" Alana spat blood.

Several children drooped their heads one by one, not daring to make a sound.

Susie raised her hand cautiously: "It's my idea."

Alana was speechless.

Lucy quickly said: "I also have a share!"

Chapter 251 Seeing or not is just a choice not a result

Wade stood up: "I did all of these "

Zion: "I got involved too."

Hamza was silent for a while, forget it, who made him the boss

"Grandma, I made the water bed, it's my fault."

Alana stared: "Everyone go out for punishment! Wait, change your clothes, put a basin and go out for punishment!"

The children changed their clothes obediently, and each of them stood obediently against the wall with the water basin on their heads and their hands on both sides.

When Martin and Kellen came over, they saw a row of children standing in the corridor.

One by one with water basins on their heads, pitifully punished to stand

This really is for everyone.

Clara couldn't help laughing when she saw the group of children punished to stand.

Inexplicably, I thought of the scene where she was punished to stand when she was a child, and her brothers were also accompanied by her

She didn't expect that after ten or twenty years, she could see such a scene again.

As expected of her mother.

Kellen asked with a smile: "What's the matter, are you taking the circuit board apart?"

Susie said very honestly: "Dad, no! We just made a water bed, and then rolled and rolled on the water bed, and the water bed broke..."

Chapter 251 Seeing or not is just a choice, not a result

Lucy followed innocently: "Then water poured into the socket..."

Zion looked indifferent: "Then the whole circuit short-circuited and burned."

Wade: "The water bed I made is not strong enough... I know, it must be the wrong material."

Lucy: "I think the seal is not tight!"

Susie: "I think I'm too heavy! And we shouldn't be rolling around."

A few children started chatting and discussing why the water bed broke, and summed up their experience: next time you make a water bed, you need to cover it with two layers of plastic bags...

Standing with a basin on their backs, they couldn't make them shut up.

Alana's temples were protruding, and she gritted her teeth and looked at Martin and Kellen: "What water bed? What is rolling around... How do children know this?"

Martin was speechless.

Kellen was speechless.

Alana: "Every day, what are you teaching her outside? I'm too old to care about you, right? Hurry up and stand there for me!"

Martin and Kellen were speechless.

They should be in the room, not here.

As a result, two tall and tall figures appeared in the children's team...

The children blinked and looked at their father and uncle curiously.

Clara almost breathed out from laughing, and the corners of Mitch's mouth never stopped, twitching.

chapter 251 being of not is just a choice not a reAUTE

Alex stood by the window in shock, his little head shaking

Everyone was speechless.

It ended with Alana agreeing to buy Susie a waterbed

But I was afraid that she would catch a cold, so I made a rule I can only play during the day

Susie has learned another truth from this incident if she does something wrong, she will be punished to stand on her feet, and it's hard to do anything when her father comes, and it's also hard to do it when her uncle comes...

The highest status in this family is that no one can mess with grandma!

Clara looked at everything in front of her, very warm, very warm, and full of happiness and joy.

It's a pity that she can no longer participate!

The children just had their summer vacation today, and it was less than two months before the July 14th Ghost Festival

Clara has been hesitating whether to see the old lady again.

Do you want to live with them for a while...

She wants to say goodbye, but she is even more afraid that after getting along for a while, the old lady will face parting again, and the life that has finally calmed down will be turbulent again.

"Maybe it's for the best," Clara murmured.

The happier the Murray family is now, the less she should meet them.

That's why I kept procrastinating, day after day, trying my best to separate myself, and also trying my best to make them no longer remember her...

At night, Susie temporarily sleeps in a room with Lucy.

Alana came over to check if the two were asleep, and found that Lucy was already sound asleep, but Susie still had her eyes open.

Alana asked, "What are you thinking?"

She began to regret it in her heart, was it too severe a punishment to stand just now?

But I heard Susie say, "Will you miss your mother?"

Just now she saw her mother smiling and suddenly looked a little lost.

Susie knew that her mother must be afraid that her grandmother would be sad, so she dared not see her again.

Would grandma want to see mom again?

Alana stroked Susie's little head, feeling extremely distressed: "Does Susie miss her mother? Grandma will also miss your mother, but it's okay. your mother will always live in our hearts..."

Susie looked up at her: "Do you want to see mom?"

Alana's face was kind, she didn't say whether she wanted to see her or not, she just said, "Go to sleep."

When she dies, she will be able to see her Clara!

So it doesn't matter whether you see her or not, what's more important is that her Susie should be fine.

Susie pursed her lips, her mother was going to be reborn, and no one would see her in the future.

But mother also met uncle, and mother and grandmother seemed to be

Chapter 251 Seeing of nut is a very afraid of seeing each other again.

Why is this?

Little Susie couldn't understand the complex emotions of adults, so she gradually closed her eyes and fell asleep.

Lucy on the side turned over...

Alana smiled, covered the two children with a thin quilt, adjusted the air conditioner, and went out.

Clara was standing at the door, and couldn't help whispering: "Mom..."

Alana didn't see anything, but felt that strange feeling in her heart again.

She murmured: "Clara, I know you must be here, have you been here all the time, right?"

"As long as Mom knows this, that's enough."

She doesn't expect to see each other, she just hopes that everyone is well, Susie is well, Clara is well, the children are well... that's enough.

Clara looked at Alana's stumbling back, and suddenly figured it out.

Seeing or not is just a choice, not a result...

The sky was as dark as ink, and the prison at night seemed to be covered with an invisible barrier

Mitch checked several times, frowning

The unlucky ghost is an evil ghost, the reason why the evil ghost is trapped here..... is a bit unimaginable

"What is someone doing behind the scenes?" Mitch mused

He looked at the prison surrounded by an inverted semicircle, and found a few signs buried in eight directions, which proved that someone was using this prison to suppress something.

But he couldn't find that person yet, and he didn't know who did it, so he could only wait now.

This Saturday, Martin didn't go to work, and sat in the restaurant for breakfast.

Kellen went for a run early in the morning. In addition to running, he usually went to the military headquarters. He went out at five o'clock in the morning and usually didn't come back until after nine o'clock.

Michael, David and the others have to supervise the project, Ryan, as a doctor, hardly has weekends, Paul's flying time is even more irregular, and Jonathan usually goes for a few months and a half when he joins the crew...

So now it's Martin and Kellen who spend more time at home.

The children who are on summer vacation are the happiest. They all slept in and didn't get up at eight o'clock.

Craig has an opinion.

"Children should develop the habit of going to bed and waking up early, otherwise they will be lazy when they grow up. They all sleep until eight o'clock, without any self-discipline!"

Martin pretended not to hear.

Alana gave Craig a blank look: "What's wrong with staying in bed? You don't sleep much when you're old, and you are a child, and children need to sleep more! Besides, don't they all go to bed early?"

"Although they wake up late, they go to bed early!"

Craig was speechless.

Alana continued: "Children can only grow up if they sleep well! Don't talk about self-discipline to me. The most important thing is for children to grow up."

What kind of perfect life is a life without staying in bed?

They were never late for school, so what's the matter with staying in bed during the holidays?

Alana thinks that she is strict when she should be serious, and indulgent when she should be conniving. Anyway, she is very reassuring about the children.

Craig shook the newspaper, the creases on his old face stiffened, and he muttered, “I let you talk, what can I say.”

Alana didn’t hear clearly: “What did you say?”

Craig touched his nose: “Nothing.”

After a pause, he said again: “I said they don’t learn anything during the holidays, and it’s a waste of life to be lazy at home. Enroll them in some remedial classes.”

Alana rolled her eyes directly: “Do Hamza and Wade need extracurricular tutoring?”

Craig was speechless unnecessary

Alana asked again “Like Zion and Lucy, is counseling useful?”

Craig was speechless. It seems that it is indeed useless

Alana finally said: “How old is Susie, does she need extra-curricular tutoring?”

Craig was speechless.

Well, he just doesn’t talk.

Martin was smart enough not to interject in the first place...

Alana nags: “When you learn, you have to study hard, and when you play, you have to play hard. Children play naturally, and the process of playing is the process of using their brains...”

Suddenly she remembered what happened on the water bed last night, and she stopped talking for a while.

But while it was messy, it cost the entire Murray family a lot to rewire.

But the children also made a conclusion at the end. The Murray family has money, so they can make it for them.

Thinking of this, Alana became optimistic again, and went out humming a song, ready to dance.

Susie rubbed her eyes and went downstairs in a daze.

“I’m hungry!” she said.

Her hair was disheveled, and she was holding a rabbit in her arms. There was a bunch of dull hair standing on top of her head, which was soft and Alana immediately called for breakfast to be brought out.

“Why did Susie wake up so early?” Alana poured milk for her and filled a small bowl of porridge.

Susie said: “Well... I fell asleep and woke up.”

Master just came back and heard that he went to prison for another night. Susie felt that she should help Master investigate together.

So after eating, she will study with Master...

Just thinking about it, someone called in, Alana answered the phone, seemed a little surprised, but then nodded with a smile: “Okay, that’s fine.”

Susie wondered, “Who is it?”

Alana said: “It’s an aunt, come over to our house later to have a look.”

After finishing speaking, he looked at Martin: “The girl who was treated with Clara before, named Oaklynn, do you remember?”

Martin thought for a while, then nodded: “What?”

Alana said with emotion: “She finished her treatment and returned home...”

At the beginning, that girl, like Clara, had leukemia.

Clara couldn’t wait for the right fit, but Oaklynn did.

But Oaklynn’s family is very poor, and I don’t know how she met Clara. Clara was very happy for her and asked Martin to help Oaklynn pay for her medical expenses.

How could Martin have the heart to refuse? Besides, he can afford the several million medical expenses, which is nothing to the Murray family.

Chapter 252

Later, Oaklynn went abroad for treatment with the help of the Murray family.

Later, Clara disappeared, and the Murray family was looking for Clara, exhausted by this incident, and no one remembered Oaklynn—

After all, to the Murray family, Oaklynn can only be regarded as a stranger they are slightly familiar with.

While Susie was eating, she turned the egg to play, and suddenly the egg stopped.

Immediately it fell down with a clatter, pointing towards Martin.

Susie snorted.

At about ten o'clock in the morning, a guest came to the house, a girl dressed plainly, who looked about twenty-three or twenty-four years old.

“Hi...I'm Oaklynn, do you remember me?” Oaklynn grabbed his clothes with a nervous look on his face.

Alana was easy to talk and said with a smile, “Remember, sit down!”

Oaklynn looked at the sofa anxiously, and said, “Well, I'd better not sit on it, this sofa looks so expensive...I, I don't deserve it...”

Alana was speechless.

Oaklynn, who said it was unworthy, looked like he didn't dare to look up, but looked at Martin.

“Martin, I'm here today to thank you all. If you hadn't given me money for treatment back then, I might have died by now...but I don't know how to repay you. My family...is very poor, I do n't know What can I give...”

The Perfect Life

Oaklynn bit her lip, twisting the hem of her clothes nervously.

Susie: Emm...

Susie looked at this aunt named Oaklynn strangely.

I just thought her behavior was weird.

Clara said in surprise, “It's Oaklynn...”

Susie asked in a low voice, “Mom, is she your friend?”

Clara recalled for a while and said, “It should be regarded as a patient!”

“I used to be treated in the hospital... When I can get out of bed and walk around, I will go for a walk in the garden.”

That's when I met Oaklynn.

During the chat, Clara found out that Oaklynn also had leukemia. She looked sad and said that she was going to die.

“I asked her why she died? Encourage her not to give up hope. She said that her family sold their car and house to treat her illness. She was originally an ordinary person in a small county town, but one illness drained her entire family...”

Clara sympathized with her, seeing that she was going to give up treatment and choose to leave the hospital, her father squaw without saying a word, and her mother silently wiped her tea

ide

She was soft-hearted for a moment, so she paid them the treatment fee for that time.

“The second time I saw her, it was already a month later. She went back after the last treatment, and then it was time for chemotherapy again”

“Oaklynn said she was making a fuss about not coming for treatment, but his father went to draw blood and sell money for her treatment, and his mother begged her on her knees...”

After finishing speaking. Oaklynn still looked at Clara enviously, saying that she lives in VIP, enjoys the best medical resources, and will never worry about money, but she is different, she is ready to die at any time, and even wants to jump off the building to end Himself... let the parents off

“I think their family is really pitiful. They gradually became friends like this Later. I paid for every hospital treatment she had to do.”

After all, money meant nothing to her at that time.

She is not the Holy Mother, but she saw the same despair in Oaklynn. She hoped that others would be well, and she would be well too. Seeing others well seemed to give her a glimmer of hope.

Susie realized suddenly, it turned out to be like this.

“The last time was probably when I was lying down and couldn’t even get up. She came up to the VIP floor by herself, found me, and said goodbye to me crying.”

“I asked her what was wrong, and she said that she had found a suitable bone marrow match, but the whole bone marrow replacement and chemotherapy would cost several million dollars, which was not affordable by the family at all.”

【Why is God so cruel? Give us hope, but make us despair again and again, I might as well not have heard the news...】

That's what Oaklynn said at the time.

Clara was also waiting for a suitable match at that time, and she knew how it felt to wait for this glimmer of hope in despair.

How many terminally ill blood cancers died while waiting for matching?

And she will be too...

It's good to say that a person is about to die, and Clara has no other thoughts, but only hopes that one more person will live.

What a pity to find a suitable match but choose to give up because of lack of money.

So Clara begged Martin for help.

Clara looked at Oaklynn in front of her. She seemed to be healed now, but this person was slightly different from what she remembered.

Maybe I did a ghost, and I can see things a little more clearly?

Martin lowered his eyes slightly, and said lightly: "No need. Just live your own life."

He almost forgot about it. The reason why he gave Oaklynn the money at the beginning was just to do good deeds, and he only hoped that his little sister would get a suitable match as soon as possible.

Oaklynn was relentless, and even more uneasily stirred the hem of his clothes tightly, stammering: "Martin, don't be like this... I really thank you for allowing me to do anything..... Really, I am very grateful to God Let me know a friend like Clara, now I'm fine, but Clara..."

She said with red eyes, and begged again: "So I just want to do what I can, and if I don't repay your kindness, I'm really uneasy..."

Alana stood up and said lightly: "How do you want to repay my daughter and replace Clara?"

be half

The Murray family gave her money for treatment, but she still wants to be the daughter of the Murray family?

Oaklynn panicked suddenly, and knelt down with a thud: "No, no, you misunderstood, I never had such a thought!"

Chapter 253 Claras Patient Oaklynn

“I, I really, just want to honor you and take care of you for Clara, I just think, even if you agree with me to join the Murray family as a servant!”

“Please...”

Oaklynn’s attitude was extremely humble, and he kept begging.

Susie interrupted suddenly: “Auntie, do you want to take care of my grandma or my uncle?”

“Why do you always look at my uncle secretly?”

Oaklynn’s lowered eyes secretly looked towards Martin from time to time.

Adults are taller and can’t see it, but she is a child, and she can see it as soon as she looks up.

This aunt’s eyes are not honest at all.

Alana was speechless for a moment. Forget about being the daughter of the Murray family, but coveting her son?

Oaklynn froze, and quickly denied: “No, I, I didn’t...I was just afraid that Martin would be unhappy...”

Susie kindly reminded: “But in our family, my grandma is the boss!”

Everyone was speechless.

Oaklynn was speechless.

She bit her lips uneasily: “Ah... I’m sorry, I was wrong. People from my small place don’t understand these rules. I’m ashamed.”

She knelt and kowtowed: “I’m sorry, I’m sorry!”

Alana walked away speechlessly, what age is this, she knelt and kowtowed at every turn...

253 Clara’s Patient Oaklynn

Made it look like they were a bully.

She regretted it to death. At the beginning, everyone’s attention was on Clara, and every time this Oaklynn looked for Clara, it was when they were not around.

Alana didn't even know that she was such a person. If she knew, she would never have agreed to let her come to visit just now.

“Oaklynn, get up first, sit down and talk.” Alana said, looking at Colt, gesturing for him to see off the guests quickly.

Oaklynn shook his head: “No, I won't sit, my clothes are dirty and old, don't make the sofa dirty...”

After finishing speaking, he glanced around enviously and cautiously, and whispered: “So Clara's house is like this... It's like the one shown on TV, I've never seen it... Unlike my house... My house is small and dirty...”

Alana was speechless. She just said that casually!

Susie suddenly said, “Auntie, isn't your house very unhygienic? Why don't you wash your clothes when they're dirty? Why don't you clean up your house when it's dirty?”

Oaklynn was speechless.

Susie: “Haven't your clothes been washed for ten days? Why can you dirty the sofa just by sitting?”

Oaklynn was speechless.

Susie suddenly realized: “I see, your family doesn't have the habit of taking a bath and washing clothes, right? Let me tell you, this is not a good habit! There will be lice on your head! You should change the habit...”

Oaklynn was speechless.

Everyone suffocated their laughter, children really have something to ask, it's great to be a child!

Colt smiled slightly: “Miss Oaklynn, things like family background cannot be compared. Ma'am will go out later, I'd better send you back first!”

Oaklynn suddenly looked embarrassed, bit his lip, and his small face turned pale: “I was wrong, I shouldn't have come, I'm the one who disturbed you, I'm sorry...”

After speaking, with tears in his eyes, he slightly lifted his eyelashes, looked at Martin with teary eyes, and quickly lowered his head as if he was frightened .

“Martin, sorry for annoying you.....”

Alana was really tired listening to her keep apologizing, belittling herself while apologizing.

Get rid of this kind of person directly!

In the future, if Oaklynn can step into the Murray family, she will lose!

Oaklynn lowered his head and twisted the hem of his clothes, almost tearing them apart.

According to normal logic, when others hear this sentence they will definitely say politely: [Why, we didn't hate you]... The really didn't mean to hate her, I asked her to sit down for show that I while...

Chapter 254 Then You Pay Bark The Money

Alana said directly: "Colt, 'please' her out!"

It's really annoying to watch.

When Colt heard this, he was not even polite, "Miss Oaklynn, please!"

Oaklynn kowtowed as if he couldn't hear: "I'm sorry, I'm sorry..."

"I know I don't deserve to step in here...but I really want to thank you all If Martin didn't give me money for treatment, I wouldn't be able to live now! Please give me a chance to repay, or I will feel uneasy in my heart!"

Susie frowned. This auntie came to thank her, but why did she feel so uncomfortable?

"Then you pay back the money!" Susie thought for a while, and said, "You keep saying that you don't know how to repay, and you feel uneasy if you don't repay, so you should pay back the money! Nothing will happen after you pay back the money!"

She looked serious, she was really thinking about the problem and proposed a solution to the problem.

And it suddenly occurred to her-so much money!!

millions! more money than her ...

Everyone in the Murray family was stunned for a moment. W they think of this idea?? didn't

Everyone fell silent for a while, and Alana gave Colt a wink, signaling him to let Susie finish.

Oaklynn was dumbfounded.

Then You Pay Back The Money

She came to thank the Murray family, not to pay back the money!

Besides, where would she ask for so much money?

“I...” She gripped her clothes tightly: “I have no money... Our family sold our house and car to treat my illness...”

Susie was surprised: “Oh, so you came to our house to find a job?”

Upon hearing this, Oaklynn immediately said, “If you don’t dislike me...I. I am willing to be your servant....”

She kept her posture extremely low.

The Murray family seems to spoil this little girl very much, the child is best coaxed, crying and begging for mercy, maybe this little girl will accept her...

Susie had heard her say that she was being a cow and a horse several times, and her little brows frowned even tighter.

“Auntie, you can find a job when you are looking for a job. Why do you come to our house!”

Oaklynn was speechless.

She took a deep breath and was about to cry: “I don’t have much education, I never went to university.....”

Susie’s small face became more and more serious: “If you come to our house, will we pay you a salary? But if this is the case, aren’t you using our family’s money to pay back to our family?”

In this way, it seems that they are at a loss.

Oaklynn was speechless.

comprehension ability does this little brat have!

154 Then You Pay Back The Money

It’s not normal to say “you are so pitiful, then you stay here, don’t worry we won’t treat you badly...”

She quickly said: “No, no, just give me a bite of food...”

Susie’s brows were almost tied into a knot: “Does that mean we want us to support you forever?”

Oaklynn was speechless.

She shook her head: “It’s fine if you don’t pay back the money, but you still want us to support you for the rest of your life. You didn’t come to repay your kindness, did you? You are...”

Susie racked her brains for that word.

Alex added on the side: “Thank you! I will revenge you in the future!”

Susie: “Ah yes, are you here to take revenge on us?”

Oaklynn was speechless.

She is so stupid, how can she talk to this extent?

“I didn’t mean that...”

Susie wondered: “Then what do you mean?”

Oaklynn choked for a moment, and could only look at Martin: “Martin...”

Martin’s face was numb: “Colt, kick her out! Also, she borrowed five million back then, you follow up and ask her to pay back the money”

Colt: “Okay.”

Oaklynn panicked: “Martin, I’m not, I’m.....I.....”

Colt directly grabbed Oaklynn’s arm and dragged her out: “We don’t really care about you, remember to pay back the money.”

Then You Pay Back The Money

Oaklynn burst into tears: “But I just recovered now, I can’t do much work... I can’t make money to pay you back...”

Colt: “So you came to the door and wanted us to take care of you and treat you like a young lady?”

Oaklynn was in a hurry: “I didn’t mean that...”

Colt sneered, and said that he came to repay you, and said that he had just recovered and had no strength to work.

I just want someone to support her, so it's better to serve her as a wife, right?

Colt didn't bother to talk, and handed Oaklynn n to the security guard, who didn't care what kind of patient Oaklynn was just recovered, and threw her out professionally.

Oaklynn fell to the ground, tears welling up.

Her life is really too bitter.

It was when she was young that she got leukemia. In order to treat her, the family was destitute.

After finally being cured, I can't do anything but drag my parents down.

Seeing her parents working so hard every day, she is really sad!

That's why I came to the Murray family...

And...at the darkest moment of her life, it was Martin who check, and she swore from then on that she would repay Martin!

The treatment abroad was so painful, and she persisted with this belief...but they didn't want her.

The more Oaklynn thought about it, the more she cried, feeling that she

Susie repeatedly urged: "Uncle, remember to ask that aunt to pay back the money!"

She added worryingly: "I don't think that auntie is a good person, she doesn't even wash clothes, and she needs us to support her and give her money... You must not hire her!"

Alana laughed and said, "Don't worry! It won't happen."

Blame them for protecting Clara so well that Clara was so easily deceived...

Clara muttered on the side: “Why did I go blind back then...”

Seeing Oaklynn cry, and thinking of the same situation I was in, my heart softened...

She wanted to possess herself to frighten Oaklynn.

Suddenly she thought of something and said, “Susie, can you let the unlucky ghost come out with me for a stroll?”

It’s not that she’s mean, absolutely not.

Just out of curiosity, to see if Unlucky Ghost is really as powerful as he said? Who is unlucky?

She didn’t believe it, so in a rigorous spirit, she tried to prove it scientifically.

Susie trusted her mother very much and said, “Yes!”

Clara: “Hey.”

Looking at the sun outside, Clara couldn’t wait for it to get dark.

Then You Pay Back The Money

But seeing Mitch floating down, he said with a sullen face, “Susie, go, follow Oaklynn.

There’s something wrong with this Oaklynn.

Chapter 255 Untucky Ghost Part 1

Oaklynn returned home – now they live in a rented house in a community, with only two bedrooms and one living room, which is very small.

As soon as she entered the door, she felt very depressed and couldn’t help covering her chest.

I just saw how big the Murray family is, and then I saw how small the place I live in, old and old... The gap is too big, and I didn’t get over it all at once.

Oaklynn’s mother saw her like this just after she came out of the kitchen, and said quickly, “Are you feeling uncomfortable again? Sit down...”

Oaklynn suddenly cried fiercely: “Mom, the Murray family looked down on me, kicked me out, and asked me to pay back five million.”

“It’s all my fault... I’m useless at all, I’ve hurt you, where can I go for five million now...”

Oaklynn was crying out of breath.

Oaklynn’s mom was stunned, what? Her daughter felt sorry every day so she went to the Murray family to thank her. If they refused to accept it, it would be fine if they had to pay back five million?

She suddenly felt very sad, why is it so difficult for the poor!

Oaklynn’s mother wiped away her tears: “Oh, that’s what people are poor, how can we expect rich people to really think highly of us?”

“Forget it, let’s give it back to him! Who made me incompetent. As long as you live well, Mom will be satisfied!”

Clara fed the unlucky ghost to the neighborhood, and exclaimed, “Isn’t this the building that Jade’s parents left for her?”

Although it is not a high-end residential area, it is also separated from the village in the city. It belongs to an old residential area where you have to climb stairs.

“Susie, you stay in the car, mom will help you watch!” Clara patted Susie.

Susie is soft and cute, with crooked smiling eyes: “Okay~”

Mitch stared at the building, feeling a little weird—

This neighborhood is an old neighborhood, but this building is gloomy, with hints of gloom constantly floating around...

“I’ll check it out, Clara, don’t mess around.”

Clara: “Don’t worry, can’t you trust me?”

The corner of Mitch’s mouth twitched, pretending to believe it, and drifted away speechless.

Clara immediately floated upstairs with the unlucky ghost.

“Come on, let’s take you to play!” she said.

The unlucky ghost: “Don’t hurt me!”

Clara: “How can I? Am I that kind of ghost?”

The unlucky ghost looked at her with a ‘you are’ expression on his face.

Just as Clara was about to speak, she saw a familiar figure in front of the door.

“Oh, it’s Jade!”

Clara went up to give her a pat on the head.

“Seeing that your luck is about to run out, I’ll add some to you, thank you!” Clara tickled Jade’s chin lovingly.

Jade sneezed and muttered, “What... I suddenly feel cold... It seems that I won’t be able to collect the rent today.”

She knocked on the door, and soon Oaklynn’s mother came out and answered the door.

Seeing Jade, he quickly bent over and smiled apologetically: “Sister landlord, you are here, come in and sit down, we are just about to eat!”

Jade couldn’t resist Oaklynn’s mother’s enthusiasm, so she had to go in, only to see that there was only a plate of green vegetables on the dining table for the mother and daughter, and a small bowl of pork rib soup in front of Oaklynn...

What a miserable look.

Oaklynn said weakly, “You are here.”

Jade said: “You guys are eating... You are not in good health, why do you just eat a little...”

Oaklynn’s mother smiled wryly: “It’s all because I’m not capable and can’t earn money. The doctor said to strengthen nutrition, but I...”

Said and wiped away tears.

Oaklynn said: “Mom, what are you doing! Are you here to collect rent today?”

Oaklynn’s mother said quickly: “Yes, I’ll go get the money...”

She took out her wallet, rummaged through it, and found a hu dollars.../

At this moment, Oaklynn's father came back and saw Jade coming to collect the rent, he fumbled through his pockets without saying a word, and found two hundred dollars...

hundred..."

Oaklynn burst into tears: "I'm sorry, I'm the one who dragged you down... I won't take the immunosuppressant medicine for next month..."

Oaklynn's mother clutched at the corner of her clothes with a look of embarrassment, Oaklynn's father squatted in the corner and smoked silently...

Jade was speechless.

The family owed her rent for several months, and she paid for the utility bills.

But she knew that Oaklynn was a leukemia patient who had just had a bone marrow transplant, so how dare she stop taking the medicine.

If something goes wrong then, won't she force them to death?

"Forget it." Jade considered himself unlucky, and regarded it as doing good deeds.

Oaklynn insisted: "No, I'll find out if I still have money, we owe too much rent..."

She picked up her bag, took out and took out ten dollars...

Jade: "Forget it..."

Clara squinted her eyes. Oaklynn's bag was bulging. Look at her digging around in the bag, but she refused to open the inner compartment?

"superior!"

The unlucky ghost was speechless, so he was just a tool ghost.

He resigned himself to falling on Oaklynn's head.

Oaklynn, who was taking out money, took out another coin. At this time.

the rubber band that tied her hair on her hand accidentally caught the upper of the bag's interlayer

There was a crash, and before Oaklynn could react, the stack of money tell out of the interlayer!

Oaklynn panicked

Everyone was stunned Oaklynn's parents couldn't imagine that their daughter had so much money

Oaklynn had no choice but to pretend to be surprised "How did this come about?"

"I know! Yesterday I went to the hospital for a reexamination, and an auntic took me...she must have given it secretly..."

Clara was speechless.

It really looks like it.

The money fell out, and Oaklynn could only insist on giving Jade all the rent, water and electricity owed for several months.

Jade was in a daze until she went out the door.

I owed rent for several months and got it back like this?

It went so well that she was a little uneasy...

Clara said: "You can take it if you want, let's go!"

She wiped it on Jade's forehead.

Jade walked away in a daze.

Oaklynn inside the room felt like she was bleeding from heartache, the sum of money she had finally earned...

Oaklynn's mother asked: "Is this money really given to you by someone else?"

Oaklynn lowered his eyes, covering up the twinkle in his eyes: “Well... it was given by a rich aunt.”

Oaklynn’s mother has joy in her eyes, that’s great... It would be great if I could meet her every time I go...

She happily went to work.

Oaklynn couldn’t cheer up, and sat down weakly, but for some reason, the stool was lifted, and she sat on the ground with her buttocks, the pain made tears come out of the corners of her eyes.

Oaklynn’s mother hurried over to help her, but she accidentally spilled the bowl of pork rib soup on Oaklynn’s head.

Oaklynn’s father frowned, blaming Oaklynn’s mother for being careless, but he accidentally stepped on the clothes pole, which hit Oaklynn’s face with a slap.

Oaklynn’s face turned red instantly...

11hde: By Oaklyn.

Oaklynn’s face was swollen, and he covered his face with an ah, tears streaming down his face.

Her parents hurried over and wiped her face and hair frantically.

“Why are you so careless, pouring soup on your daughter’s head!” Her father said angrily.

“Are you still talking about me? Didn’t you kick the clothes pole and hit your daughter! You’re blushing!” Her mother also said angrily.

Oaklynn wiped away tears and said, “Parents, stop arguing...I’m going to take a shower.”

The two quickly helped her up, but the soup on the ground slipped and shoved her down again, and all three of them fell down.

Oaklynn felt that her tailbone was about to split, seeing that her parents wanted to help her, she quickly said, “I’ll do it myself!”

She leaned on the table and chair and went to the bathroom. The more she thought about it, the more she felt aggrieved. She was devastated at the Murray family and went home without a sum of money. She is still so unlucky

Oaklynn turned on the shower while thinking, but the shower stood up with a whoosh, and ran after her strangely!

Oaklynn screamed and slipped, this time into the toilet,

The foot still stepped into the hole of the squatting pit, and with broke a bone...

ck, it

Hearing Oaklynn's screams, her mother quickly opened the door and came in, good guy, the bathroom was in a mess, the shower was running around like an Egyptian snake dance, and Oaklynn was lying next to the toilet pit.

Unlucky Oaklynn

"How is this going!"

Oaklynn's mother quickly helped Oaklynn up.

Her dad looked confused: "Didn't you keep saying that the water pressure of the shower is too low? I changed to a supercharged shower this morning..."

Oaklynn's mother was speechless.

Oaklynn was speechless.

In the end, Oaklynn didn't know how to get back to the room. For example, when washing her hair, water was poured into her nose, the bubbles sting her eyes, and she fell on the bed and hit the head of the bed. Needless to say, Oaklynn was so unlucky Doubt is alive!

Lying on the bed now, the tailbone hurts, and the sprained foot also hurts. I touched my forehead and found that I even had a fever.

Oaklynn couldn't stop crying, feeling miserable, why was Clara able to be born in such a family, and occupy such a good position even after she died, while her family was a poor family where one dollar was exchanged for two, She tried her best to survive, but there was still no rainbow after the storm.

Why is this world so unfair, why is the gap between people so big, why does God treat her like this...

The more Oaklynn thought about it, the sadder she became, and she burst into tears.

What she didn't know was that there were two ghosts floating beside her...

Clara sighed in admiration: "I'm really convinced! After scientific verification, you are really unlucky, whoever is unlucky!"

The unlucky ghost complained: "Otherwise, why would I be called an unlucky ghost?"

Clara smiled: "So you wanted to get close to me at the beginning because you coveted my good luck?"

The unlucky ghost was speechless.

Dare he say yes?

Clara's good luck overwhelmed his bad luck, and he could only be beaten by Clara, not to mention a little bit of good luck, and it would be good if he didn't have more bad luck.

"Let's go, go find my Susie." Clara felt relieved, and floated out leisurely

Another building in the community

things hanging on the red thread

At first glance, it is hard to imagine that there is such a house in such a community.

There are several children standing in front of the house – Susie, Lucy, Zion and Wade

They followed Susie out.

the

Lucy thought there was something funny, but she took a leat broken building in front of her with a puzzled expression on) face

"Where is this?" she asked

Wade clutches a net, tense

Zion was holding a camera, that damn camera Wade invented, and was standing there speechless and bored

Chapter 256 Unlucky Onlynn

“Where is this?” Susie looked in front of her curiously.

Wade looked at the house number on the top, and said in a low voice, “Building 7, Unit 1, 602...”

“Go and find out,” Mitch said.

Although he can check it quickly, what Susie needs now is to do it by himself.

Susie said yes, but ran downstairs quickly.

Wade: “Huh? Are you leaving now?”

He’s just getting started!

Wade looked at Susie, and then at the net in his hand. In order to verify whether the net could catch ghosts, he gritted his teeth and threw the ghost net into it.

“Run!” He followed Susie down.

Lucy didn’t know what happened, but felt inexplicably nervous: “Wait for me!”

Zion followed impatiently with the camera, but there was a jingle behind him-this was the sound of the bell on Wade’s online photo.

Zion glanced back, staring at the dilapidated door, which was dark inside...

He suddenly felt that the house in front of him was a bit scary so he ran away immediately.

It is around six o’clock in the afternoon, and many mothers-in-law are playing in the small square with their grandchildren.

As soon as I went downstairs, there was a wave of heat rushing towards my face, as if I had crossed two worlds, and my eyes suddenly became brighter

Susie glanced back at the dim old building and became even more puzzled

Wade asked nervously. “Is there a ghost in this building?”

Lucy: “99”

Ghost, what the hell?

Susie shook her head: “I don’t know yet!”

“Susie, where are you going?” Clara went downstairs with the unlucky ghost, just in time to see Susie.

“I’m going to ask something.” Susie said about the strange house on the sixth floor.

Clara said: “You are a child, how can you ask these things?”

What kind of adult would talk to a child about these things.

Susie pulled Clara: “Then mom, play with me!”

Zion and Wade followed without asking anything, only Lucy, who hadn’t experienced anything, looked puzzled.

When she arrived at the small square, Susie walked towards a mother-in-law who was wearing a blue floral dress and seemed to like to talk.

“Hello!”

Grandma looked at Susie, then at Clara, and asked, “What’s the matter? Which family are you from? Why haven’t I seen you?”

She didn’t know at all, at this time, she saw the devil...

Only then did Clara realize that Grandma could see her.

The weather is really nice today. ” Clara smiled and pointed to Building 2: “I’m Martin over there.”

She wasn’t lying either, Martin’s car was parked there.

Grandma glanced in her direction, thinking that they were visiting relatives, and began to chatter familiarly: “Are your relatives here?”

Susie nodded innocently.

Clara squatted down and chatted with Grandma, and the two became acquainted after a while.

“By the way.” Clara leaned closer to Grandma and asked in a low voice: “I took my daughter there to play just now, and found a strange room over there. What is that?”

Grandma’s face changed slightly, she patted her thigh and whispered, “Why did you run there!?”

Clara looked blank: “What’s wrong there?”

Grandma looked around and leaned closer to Clara, “Let me tell you. that place is bad luck! Don’t go there!”

Clara: “What’s the matter? Let’s talk about it?”

The two leaned their heads together, and while talking, they looked at Building 7 from time to time. They looked like members of the village intelligence bureau, except that they didn’t have a handful of nuts in their hands

“That building is now said to be a dangerous building, and no one is allowed to live in it, so it is very dilapidated.”

“But the real reason is not like this. There were still people living there more than ten years ago. The house on the sixth floor...”

Clara interrupted: “602?”

Grandma: “That’s right, that’s the one. There used to be some men who lived there, not from our place.”

“They spoke with foreign accents, came here to do business, and even set up a stall in the community. The owner refused to let them set up a stall, and they beat people directly. It’s really rude.”

Susie took out a handful of nuts out of nowhere, and interjected, “It’s so fierce!”

Wade’s nerves tense, what?

Sure enough, there are ghosts!

Grandma snorted coldly: “Isn’t that right? Not only did they beat up the owner who lived here, did you just come and see the small shop in Building 3? They also robbed the small shop, drove the original owner away, and opened it by themselves..”

“If we don’t buy from him, we will be intimidated by them.”

It seemed that she recalled a very bad history, and there was a trace of hatred in the eyes of the grandmother

Clara frowned, these people are the real villains.

Why is no one in charge?

Clara asked her own doubts: “If it’s too much, is there no one to take care of them?”

There was a hint of aggrieved in Grandma’s tone: “No...”

“They occupied the commissary, bought and sold forcibly, and then made some money if they were not satisfied.”

“Then they started to occupy the open space in the community. At that time, our family had motorcycles, tricycles and so on. We usually put them downstairs in our house, and they didn’t need money.”

“They stipulate that the open space downstairs of our house is not ours, and we have to pay for parking!”

“Later, it got even worse. They blocked us at the door, saying that we had to prove that we lived here before we could get in. How to prove it? Everyone has to get a resident card from them, with your name and age written on it. Write about your occupation and prove that you citizen...”

a good

Clara’s eyes widened in shock: “Can’t you? No one calls the police for this kind of thing?”

Grandma said angrily: “They belong to a dark group, ruthless and cunning... At that time, no one could control them.”

The community is like this, struggling to survive under their oppression, many people quit their jobs to go to petition, just to bring them down.

In order to give these people a bad start, those men arrested the elderly, women and children of their family.

“It’s locked in Building 7.” Grandma looked at the building

Lucy, Wade, and Zion couldn’t help becoming nervous, and asked, “And then?”

Grandma glanced at her, and finally said: “Then everyone fought with them... In order to deter those who dare to fight against them, they killed all those old people, children and women.

Grandma’s eyes gradually became cloudy: “They didn’t even spare the children, and 30 people died that night!”

When things got serious, those men were finally arrested and locked up.

Clara murmured: “No way... This thing is too exaggerated, thirty people died... It’s unbelievable...”

Grandma pursed her lips: “Isn’t that true? It’s unbelievable, so no one dared to believe it. Until they went to court, they were sophistrying, saying that the number 30 is simply nonsense. How could they kill so many people?”

cate

“Until the evidence was in front of them, the group of animals who were not as good as animals actually said that they were only there their disobedient younger brothers- that they were a family relationship with the community, and those who petitioned were their younger brothers. It is only hen we are lost that we want to teach u

When Grandma said this, she couldn’t help laughing ironically.

Chapter 257 Building 7607

The nuts in Susie’s hand fell with a thud, and she was no longer in the mood to pick them up, and her little face wrinkled together unknowingly.

Clara didn’t recover for a long time: “Why haven’t I heard of such a big thing.”

Grandma shook her head: “It’s been too long, the matter has gradually been forgotten, and even some of our younger generations doubt the truth. After all, 30 people died, not three people!”

Later those villains were executed.

On the contrary, the children of the villain were very angry. Not only did they not admit that their parents had killed someone, but they also said that people in the community framed their parents.

Clara remained silent, no wonder Unit 602, Building 7, was surrounded by people.

In such a lively neighborhood, no one felt that something was wrong, so that was the reason.

After finding out the truth about Unit 602, Building 7, Susie and Clara went back to find Mitch.

It was getting dark, and the grandmother bent over and called her grandson to go home.

Someone asked her strangely why she had been muttering to the children for so long. Grandma was stunned and was about to speak, but a young man came and happily said that grandma's hometown had been demolished, and it cost tens of millions!

A group of people forgot about it in an instant, and grandma hurried home happily. C

On the other side, Susie asked, "Does this matter have anything to do with the prison?"

Mitch said: "The prison where the unlucky ghosts are held is the same prison where those villains from 602 were held."

The prison that the unlucky ghost cannot live without is related to those villains.

"The eight directions of the prison have been suppressed. It should be to lock up the ghosts of those evil people-this is the reason why the unlucky ghosts are trapped in the prison and cannot leave."

Susie suddenly realized.

"But now there are ghosts gathering in 602, so we have to find the reason."

Susie asked, "Didn't you go in and have a look?"

Mitch didn't say anything, looked down at her and said, "There are some things you have to see for yourself."

Susie understood.

Since it was getting dark, Martin came over and heard Susie said that he would go to 602 to have a look again, so he went up with her without further questioning.

The 7 buildings are located in the westernmost part of the community, and the 6 buildings closest to it are all separated by a small playground.

The small playground is full of weeds, and it can be seen that few people come here.

In the dark building, there were only the footsteps of Martin and Susie. Martin turned on the flash with his mobile phone and walked upstairs.

I don't know which door was blown open by the wind, and it made my scalp tingle in this silent night.

3/

Wade glanced up inadvertently, his pupils shrank suddenly in fright, and screamed and hugged Susie's arm

Susie patted Wade: "Don't worry! I'm here!"

Zion's movement of holding the camera also froze.

Only Lucy, who has been out of the situation, thought what's wrong?

What the hell is going on here?

Isn't it just a door being opened?

Martin frowned, he felt the air around him became cold, and whispered: "Susie?"

Susie said, "Don't worry, with Master here, nothing will happen."

Hearing that Mitch was there, Martin felt relieved, but saw Zion suddenly throwing the camera in his hand to him.

While stuttering, he said, "Uncle, take..."

Martin took the camera, so let him take it. Wade's camera is indeed unusual. After all, Zion is a child, so I'm afraid it's understandable...

Just as he was thinking, Martin glanced and saw that the camera was full of people.

Beside the door that was just creaked open, a family of young and old stood quietly...

Their faces were withered and pale, their hands were hanging by their sides, and they were all staring straight at this side.

Uncle's fingers trembled imperceptibly...

So the team became Susie leading everyone up, Wade straightened his eyes and made himself cross-eyed, and Zion's walking posture became a little stiff, with the same hands and feet.

Martin holds the camera but doesn't look at the picture, doesn't squint.

Only Lucy complained: "Susie, how long are we going to climb! It's no fun here, there's nothing. I'm almost exhausted, I can't climb anymore..."

Susie interrupted her: “It’s here!”

They came to the door 602 on the sixth floor again.

The door of 602 opened at some point, and the yellow paper hanging on the red string blew loudly.

Suddenly Wade heard the familiar sound of bells, ding... ding ding...

Susie: “Come on, go in.”

Wade’s face turned pale with fright: “I don’t have to go in, do I?”

Susie nodded: “Okay, then you wait outside.”

Wade glanced out of the corner of his eye, and there were a few figures floating in the corridor...

They didn’t know why, they all stared at it, and there was an old woman’s hoarse voice, struggling to say: “Little... girl...”

Wade’s scalp was numb, and he said quickly: “Forget it, I’ll go in too, I’ll go wherever you go...”

On the other hand, Zion remained silent.

Wade couldn’t help feeling a little more admiration in his heart, his cousin was so calm, he usually underestimated him!

Only Lucy, who didn’t know anything, said, “It’s too dark inside, I’m afraid there are mice.”

Wade shouted from the bottom of his heart: Is it the mouse problem now!

According to what that granny said, the things in this house, if not in order, are the ghosts of those wicked people!

Susie comforted: “Don’t worry, this place is dead, there will be no mice”

Lucy: “Oh...!”

What does the dead land mean? There are dead and alive lands?

Stepping into the room, Martin took a picture with his mobile phone and saw that the tables and chairs inside were dilapidated. It seemed that there had been a fight here before. The legs of the table and chairs were all broken, and things were scattered on the ground in a mess.

At the end of the living room, there was a table standing firmly, unscathed, four things could be seen standing on it through the light, and there was a faint black shadow in front of it.

Wade took a quick look around, strangely, there was no ghost in this room, the ghost net he just threw in was not far from the door, it dinged from time to time, but there was nothing inside.

Maybe it's because his ghost catcher is not good enough? What went wrong while making it?

Anyway, as long as there are no ghosts in here... Wade breathe a sigh of relief.

At this time, there was a sudden crash!

The curtain was suddenly pulled open.

Wade jumped up in fright: "Dad!"

He threw himself into Martin's arms, hitting his head hard on Martin's crotch...

238.7 urbe

Martin snorted suddenly.

Zion froze in place, and Lucy was also taken aback, looking at the small figure by the window with a frightened expression.

Susie blinked innocently: "It's me!"

Everyone was speechless.

This is really, people are frightening and frightening to death...

The rotten curtains kicked up a lot of dust, everyone covered their mouths and noses, and finally saw clearly what was standing on the table through the dim light outside—

Four photos!

Under the gloomy moonlight, the four photos stood there quietly, and there was a fruit plate in front of them, and the bright red apples set off the black photos even colder.

Wade's fine hairs exploded again, looking at the four photos on the desktop, he was almost scared to pee.

“Who is it, who is so perverted to put four photos here!” He said angrily.

Lucy’s complexion gradually changed, the photo... the photo of a dead person!

Lucy finally reacted!

Trembling, she took two steps forward and grabbed the arm oor, who was closest to her.

“I’m afraid!” Lucy cried.

Zion’s voice was also trembling: “Don’t push me! I’m afraid too!”

Mitch floated aside and said, “Susie, go get those four photos.”

“Okay!” Susie ran over and dragged a chair with a broken leg over.

She wobbled on the chair, the table was too high for Susie to reach.

Martin went up immediately, hugged Susie with one hand, and was about to take down the photos with the other.

With a flash of the mobile phone flash in his hand, it shone on the ceiling, and saw four faces sticking to the ceiling...

Seeing a few people, those four faces showed treacherous smiles, and rushed towards them fiercely!

This time, not only Wade, but Zion and Lucy screamed too.

Wade: “Dad! Sister!”

Lucy: “Susie, save me!”

of charms like a full moon flew out, and at the same time, the net shot out quickly.

The spell suppressed the two faces, and Binding Ghost Net caught one of them running to the left.

There is still a very cunning shovel shoveling out from the ground, and it is about to rush out of the door.

“Where to run!”

With a cry, she rushed up and stepped on a face.

Cheeky let out a scream, and was crushed instantly!

Susie snorted, and said condescendingly, “Run! Run again if you have the ability!”

Wade, Zion, and Lucy were stunned!

This is their sister?

Wade, Zion and Lucy looked at Susie with stars in their eyes.

An expression of admiration!

I saw that face was trampled under Susie's feet, and she couldn't break free no matter how hard she tried, making a shrill scream.

Susie squeezed her fingers and let out a low cry.

Wade was stunned for a moment, but in the next second he saw a fireball flying out of Susie's fingertips, burning that face to ashes.

Lucy was dumbfounded.

Wait, she has seen this scene before!!

I still remember the night when her mother was kicked out by her grandma, she was crying alone in the room.

Suddenly a ghost crawled in from the window, she was so frightened that she hid in the quilt, and the ghost wanted to lift her quilt.

At that moment Susie came, muttered something, then threw a fireball and ran after the ghost...

"Ghost...it's a ghost!" Lucy seemed to have a lightning strike in her mind, and she realized it all at once!

She wasn't dreaming or sleepwalking before, it was a ghost! To hell this time too!

Lucy jumped on Zion, riding on Zion's neck.

How did his sister jump up?

"Give up!" Zion staggered, his tongue stuck out from being strangled "I'm

Chapter 259 Enshrined by Oaklynn going to be strangled to death by you!"

Wade turned around and saw Lucy riding on Zion's neck. Zion stuck out his tongue, and felt even more horrified. He was hanging on Martin's belt and refused to get off.

The scene was once chaotic.

Susie threw a few fireballs, and burned the other three faces to ashes. The three faces let out shrill, angry, and unwilling roars, and disappeared completely.

“Okay!” Susie clapped her hands, and then sent Binding Ghost Net with a stretch of her little hand.

Martin supported Zion who was about to fall, and lifted Lucy down.

Zion slumped to the ground, Lucy also sat on the ground with limp legs, and Wade was still hanging on Martin.

All three children looked at Susie blankly with shocked expressions on their faces.

Their sister is super hot!

“Are they all dead?” Wade asked worriedly.

Susie said, “They’re already dead!”

“These faces are their resentful souls. If this photo is enshrined more years, they will be able to gather together.”

a few

Susie placed the photos neatly on the ground and asked, “How do you pronounce these words?”

Wade was scared again, but his sister was asking him.

He ventured forward, took a quick glance, and grabbed Martin’s belt

again

Martin took a look and whispered a few names.

Susie curled her lips: “The names of these big bullies are really strange, and they are not good people at first glance.”

Susie went around the other rooms again, but found nothing, that is to say, there was nothing in this room except the four photos enshrined in the living room.

She asked puzzledly, “Why do you enshrine photos here?”

Tip from Mitch: “Why do ordinary people enshrine photos?”

Susie said: “To enshrine the deceased?”

Mitch nodded: “The prison has set up eight directions to suppress, and someone wants to make these four wicked people die forever—we didn’t see them in the prison.”

“So these four ghosts should have died, maybe only the souls are left in the world.”

“But enshrining photos here is to guide them back.”

The soul is whole, reborn again.

Susie understood: “In other words, someone is secretly enshrining the big villain.”

Mitch patted her head: “That’s right.”

These four people are the enemies of everyone in the community

They did all kinds of bad things, even killing old people and children, but someone confessed to them.

What is this person thinking!

shrired by Daklynn

Susie asked, “Who is it?”

Mitch pointed to the photo: “It has the name of the person who made the offering-Oaklynn.”

Susie’s eyes widened: “That aunt enshrined it?”

Mitch nods.

Susie didn’t understand even more.

why?

This aunt is not their junior, neither relative nor reason...

Clara thought of the money that fell out of Oaklynn’s bag and said, “It might be for money.”

This kind of thing only Oaklynn knows.

As soon as Susie raised her hand, she snapped several photos, completely ruining them.

people standing in the corridor, and they all looked at Susie in silence. Seeing that she burned four faces, and saw that she destroyed several photos, some of them couldn’t help tearing up their eyes.

“Death!” Hate burst out of their eyes.

Susie waved to them: “Let’s all go... have a good journey!”

Revenge

One after another, these “people” left, maybe they finally saw of the big revenge, or they ended the concern, and they didn’t have any resentment or obsession.

The yelling of several people in Zion still attracted people from Building 6 not far away. Several men shone their flashlights, and the first thing they saw when they came up were a few children.

Immediately, his face darkened, and he reprimanded “Which family are you children Nonsense, what are you running around at night? Where is your adult?”

Martin came out of the house, and said calmly. “I’m here ”

When everyone saw an adult walking out, their first reaction was to be startled, and then they were speechless

“You’re not from our community, are you? I don’t know where this is

Martin interrupted before he finished speaking: “I know where this is. I’m here to find something.”

He handed over one of the broken photos: “Someone is secretly enshrining those wicked people here.”

Martin asked them to go in and take a look by themselves. The men were taken aback for a moment, then went in and looked around suspiciously, and then anger ignited in their eyes!

The apples on the table are still fresh, and it can be seen that they have just been put on the table in the past two days.

It can be seen that the man is very diligent in changing!

“Is that the damn thing?” An uncle was so angry that he kicked the chair in front of him flying.

Another person stomped on the photo and cursed: “Which one eats here!”

If only there were heaven and hell in this world.

Doesn’t it mean that those few bad guys are all enshrined in heaven?

Everyone's anger was ignited, and someone took pictures of all the broken pieces and posted them in the community owner group.

Enshrined by Oaklynn.

For a while, everyone was looking for the person named Oaklynn!

Suddenly someone in the group said: [Wait, I know this name...this is my tenant...]

At night, everyone rushed towards there aggressively!

Dead Oaklynn!

Oaklynn was lying in bed with a broken leg and she was in pain.

Her mother has already called an ambulance for her, but for some reason, the ambulance hasn't come yet!

"Mom, my leg hurts..." Oaklynn cried, "My head hurts too."

When Oaklynn's mother touched it, she had a fever!

She hurried to get a wet towel and put it on her forehead.

"Be patient, your dad has already called for an ambulance."

Oaklynn's father outside the door said a little irritatedly: "What can't be dispatched?...all of them are going to pick up pregnant women?"

"What does it mean to go to the hospital by yourself? A broken leg is also a fracture. What do you mean it's not an emergency..."

The other side didn't know what was said.

He hung up the phone angrily, and scolded in a low voice: "It must be because we are poor and have no money to give them money so we can't come to pick up the money! They said that the pregnant women can't be dispatched. Could it be that all the pregnant women are on rating on giving birth tonight??"

Oaklynn burst into tears when he heard these words.

Is she that unlucky?

It's just calling an ambulance, but how can you still encounter such a situation that cannot be dispatched?

Mom I want to eat watermelon "Oaklynn ened

Oaklynn's mother quickly said, "Okay, I'll cut it now!"

Oaklynn's father sighed. "Don't worry, Dad will go out and call a car, we will go by ourselves"

If I had known earlier, I wouldn't have waited for an ambulance, and it would have been nice to take a taxi directly to the hospital

At this moment, the door was kicked open

It is no exaggeration, it was really kicked away

Oaklynn's mother was so frightened that she froze in place holding the watermelon

"Who are you?" Oaklynn's father stopped him.

A man sneered and said, "Hey, are you still going to open watermelon What are you going to eat! Go eat shit!"

He was so angry that he kicked a chair away.

Oaklynn seemed to sense it, and clutched the quilt tightly in fright

Sure enough, everyone looked around, their eyes fell on her, and they said fiercely, "Are you Oaklynn?"

Oaklynn nodded weakly

A man sneered and took out the photo and threw it on her face

"Are you enshrining these photos?"

Oaklynn's heart beat violently, and he quickly shook his head "No what are you talking about, I don't understand what you are talking about!"

A granny was holding a cane, poking the floor angrily, and said in a stern

Chapter 260 Martin, help me
our relatives in Building 7, isn't it? Is it you?"

Everyone stared angrily and cursed at one another.

It took Oaklynn's parents a while to realize, and they quickly said, "There must be some misunderstanding... We have only moved here for a few months! We don't even know who those people you are talking about!"

"Our children are very timid. They are scared even when they see cockroaches. It is impossible to do such things as secretly taking pictures!"

But no one listened to them.

A middle-aged uncle went up and grabbed Oaklynn's arm and dragged her out of the room!

"Oaklynn's name is written on the photo, and she is still quibbling!"

Oaklynn's mother cried and yelled, this group of people is too bad, is it easy to bully because they are poor and have no background?

Open your mouth and frame their daughter!

"You are robbers! There is no law!"

"What photo says Oaklynn, how are you sure it's our daughter!? There are so many people named Oaklynn in this world!"

No one heard her cry.

After all, this incident is so infuriating that many people have lost their minds.

Some people went to rummaging through boxes and cabinets, trying to find evidence that Oaklynn worshiped the wicked.

Someone was pulling with Oaklynn's dad, and there was a conflict.

The room was messy, and someone took the opportunity to grab Oaklynn's hair and give her a few big fights.

Oaklynn was stunned and kept crying, "It's not me, it's not me..."

She raised her hand tremblingly, covering her face and crying loudly: "I'm just a leukemia patient! I don't know them anyway, why would I do such a thing?"

Oaklynn's mother was also so angry that her lips trembled: "You are breaking into a private house, I will sue you..."

While searching for evidence, he suddenly found a certificate, opened his mouth, and said, "Wait!"

He held up the certificate, which said that Oaklynn had received a bone marrow donation, and it was indeed a leukemia patient...

For a while, everyone stopped, suspicious.

Really a leukemia patient?

If so, it seems like she really has no reason to do that...

Are they really wrong?

Seeing everyone's hesitation, Oaklynn cried out of breath: "I, don't, it's really not me... I go for treatment every month, our family is so poor that we can't bear to throw away the leftovers, we have to eat th Lovers For three days, my parents saved money to buy a spare rib and had to divide it into two meals for me, and I couldn't bear to eat it myself..."

"A family like ours, how can we have the money and the rood to worship others!"

Oaklynn was extremely desperate, tears were streaming down her eyes,

260) Martin, help me

and the appearance of pear blossoms with rain made people couldn't help but feel sympathy.

Oaklynn's mother even hugged Oaklynn and choked with sobs: "My poor daughter... What the hell did we do in our previous life! Why is my daughter's life so miserable!"

Oaklynn's father squatted aside and scratched his hair, not saying a word.

If he attacked the weak with force, he kept his head silent when facing the strong... At this moment, although he crouched in the corner and didn't say anything, he looked pitiful everywhere.

Just when everyone was hesitating.

Suddenly a lovely voice sounded: "Uncles and aunts, there is surveillance here!"

Susie held a USB flash drive high up.

With his dad's computer in hand, Wade plugged in the USB drive and played the video.

The video shows Oaklynn sneaking into Building 7 with fruits and paper money and incense sticks.

The time is very frequent, and she will go there every three or two days, and she has been doing it for several months from the beginning to now.

when

The date on the surveillance camera was clearly displayed, and Oaklynn was the one who was photographed, no doubt, when she went she came out, she was photographed.

Oaklynn's parents froze.

When they were arguing just now, they said that they didn't even know who those villains were, but how could they not know who they all lived in?

And their daughter, actually is secretly enshrining the villain who both humans and gods hate?

"Impossible." Oaklynn's mother murmured, "My daughter is weak and struggles to go downstairs..

Oaklynn's father also said in a daze: "My daughter is kind-hearted, she wouldn't do such a thing..."

Both looked at Oaklynn

Oaklynn was stunned a long time ago. She thought that the building was deserted, so there was no monitoring, but she didn't know that there were...

"I...I..." She stammered and couldn't speak, she could only shake her head vigorously, tears fell with her movements, it was a sad and helpless...

Suddenly she saw Martin outside the crowd, and she seemed to see hope!

She stumbled up and cried, "Martin, it's not me, and I don't know what's going on, Martin, help me..."
