

Eight Uncles 1101

Chapter 1101 Where's the Elevator?

Lilly was surprised by the fact that she arrived at the ice pond in seconds! "Wow! What is this elevator? It was as fast as the light!" Amazing! The size of the underworld is unimaginable, but I arrived within seconds! It took us days to fly from the underworlds to the Northin Land last time! "We should invent this elevator! So convenient! I hope there is an elevator that belongs to the Crawford family!" What a great idea! Since there is an elevator going from the ice pond to the house, we could also get an elevator that goes straight to the house! Lilly stared at the floor in thought.

The mirror was still struggling, as he believed that the Little Hades, which was Lilly, was here to take him back. Should I leave? Do I look eager to leave? Staying here is too boring. How about I act reserved and agree to leave with her? He unexpectedly witnessed Little Hades take out a shovel and begin to dig against the rocky ground. What is she doing all of a sudden?

Lilly was strong; she dug a hole in the ground that had been previously solidified by the Emperor Prosper. "This is not what I expected!" she exclaimed after looking inside. I thought there would be elevator equipment buried underground, but there was nothing in it. "Strange... There is no lift shaft, so where did the elevator come from?" Lilly pondered, looking at the mound of stones and dug-up soil.

The mirror was speechless. I believed I was the Luminous Cave's most magnificent object, but I didn't expect the Little Hades to not notice me! What's the elevator she's looking for? There isn't an elevator here! Lilly suddenly filled the soil and the stones back into the hole and murmured, "Forget it. I need to go back to Granny!" She turned around and left.

The mirror was shocked and thought to himself, Wait! Does she forget about my existence? Well, it's not like I care! She will regret leaving me behind later! Lilly showed no sign of hesitation, and she kept walking. If I remind her, I feel like I am defeated! But if I don't, she's really gone!

"Wait...wait!" The mirror finally didn't hold back and shouted. Lilly paused and cast a suspicious glance in her direction. Who's speaking? Oh! The mirror is speaking! "It's you! What's the matter?" Lilly asked.

The mirror was depressed after hearing her answer. She forgot about me! And yet she said she would take me away the previous time! The mirror reddened, and was tongue-tied.

"Are you saying hello to me?" Lilly waved her hand to the mirror and said, "Hello, bye, and I need to go now."

Seeing that the little Hades who had finished speaking was about to leave again, the mirror blurted out, "You are trying to study where this elevator came from, right? I know the answer!"

Lilly turned to the mirror and asked in excitement, "Do you really know the answer?"

With pride, the mirror declared, "Of course, I never lie."

"Great! Please explain to me how this lift is constructed."

The hole that Lilly had just dug out sparkled in the mirror as a flash of golden light. The mirror's reflection revealed a complex golden pattern in the hole. These lines resembled Lilly's typical runes in some ways, but they were way more complicated. Lilly felt dizzy looking at them. The mirror said, "It's useless if you dig underground. The elevator is in mid-air."

"Awesome! It turned out to be a painted elevator! And it was invisible!" Lilly shouted.

The mirror thought to itself, of course it is not painted!

Lilly sighed, "I thought I could easily build the elevator like stacking blocks... I never expected it to be so difficult."

The mirror was speechless. Do you think you are playing with Lego?

"I better go back to Granny first. I won't be able to learn this in a short time." She walked away once more. I will be back later. Give me a month, and I could create an elevator just like this!

The mirror quickly said, "Why don't you return to your grandmother's house and carefully study this elevator?" I must do something so that she won't leave without me! With a quick flash of its mirror, it flawlessly mimicked the elevator. What's more, it was in three dimensions. Lilly could study it thoroughly. The mirror was hinting at her, Take me back! You could study as long as you want!

Chapter 1102 Little Miss Is Back!

"Do you have a copy function?" Lilly inquired in amazement. "How does it work? You copy and paste an object? Cute little mirror, why don't you come back to Granny's house with me? My granny cooks deliciously," Lilly murmured softly.

High-end hunters often appear in the form of prey. "Since you begged for it, I shall accept the offer!" If it had a nose, it would almost tilt towards the sky.

With a smile, Lilly immediately said, "Alright! Let's go!" She held the mirror in her hand since she remembered that it didn't want to stay in the Hell Ruler Palace. The mirror chuckled and responded, "My name is not the mirror." "What's your name?"

"You used to name me the World Mirror," the mirror bragged. A mirror that can be used to learn about the world. Nothing could escape the World Mirror.

"Such a beautiful name! I used to be awesome." Lilly nodded. The World Mirror was wordless when Lilly complimented herself.

Finally, they could go back in peace.

In the Grey Earth.

The Black Cat was resting on a rock beside the spiritual spring. Some cats surrounded the sacred tree while practicing their power. The Little Heartless Cat opened its eyes, and I felt like I had become stronger! He showed off his biceps like a human. He felt hungry and hurriedly made his way to the nearby grass. He checked to make sure no cat had discovered him and pulled out a small dried fish. He received the dried fish from Lilly. He treasured them, and this was his second one. He felt a gaze on him, and as soon as he raised his head, the King of Black Cats was peering down at him with icy eyes.

The Little Heartless Cat shouted, "Meow!" He dropped the dried fish to the ground. The Black Cat said, "Lazy around our practice time, the dried fish is confiscated!"

The Little Heartless Cat protested in a low voice, "Your highness, I have eaten this dried fish!"

The Black Cat was stunned. What do you mean? Do you think I care about your dried fish? Ignorant brat!

The Little Heartless Cat did not dare to say a word but glanced at his dried fish on the ground.

Suddenly, a gust of wind passed them. "Hello and goodbye!" Lilly ran over them.

The Little Heartless Cat couldn't stand straight.

The Black Cat mumbled, "Practice well." He followed Lilly like an invisible lightning bolt. It's not like I miss the dried fish from the Crawford family. I have realized I have left something in the Bellflower's hand. I should go back and settle this with Bellflower.

**

In the house of Crawford. Bellflower sneezed suddenly, and it stopped licking its paws. Bettany said worriedly to Hugh, "Did Bellflower catch a cold?" Hugh replied while reading a book, "It's just a few sneezes." Bettany did not refute him; she looked through the window and said, "I miss Lilly. I hope she is doing great. Is she taking good care of herself?" Hugh stopped flipping through the book and said, "Nothing bad will happen to her. You should stop worrying."

Jack entered the room and said, "Old Mrs. Crawford, Madame Lisa, and Mr. Anthony will be home tonight. Should we get more ingredients?" He had been getting old, but his posture was still perfect.

Bettany said in surprise, "Lisa is back too." After the two got married, they were busy and only came back once in a while. They were just like Lilly.

Margaret said, "Old Mrs. Crawford, let me do the cooking today." Children grew up day by day, but adults got older quietly. Margaret urges Old Mrs. Crawford to get some rest because her health has recently declined.

Bettany agreed to her suggestion, "Sure, you may do it." I am getting old; maybe it's time to let go of my responsibilities and rest. For a simple task such as cooking, I should leave it to others.

"Granny! I am back!" Far away, a small figure galloped across the lawn, yelling happily.

Bettany murmured, "Hugh, am I getting too old as I am seeing an illusion now? I saw Lilly."

"You are not! Lilly is back!" Hugh suppressed excitement in his voice.

Margaret and Jack were stunned, and they said, "Little Miss is back!"

Just as the little figure was about to enter the door, Bettany stood up tremblingly and said, "Hurry up, shop for the ingredients! I can still cook!"

Chapter 1103 She Has Grown Up

Lilly slowed down when she was about to pounce on Bettany, and she hugged her. She said, "Granny! I am back!" with joy.

Bettany teared up immediately, "Granny misses you!" She patted Lilly's head and asked, "Have you been taking good care of yourself? Are you hurt anywhere?" She noticed Lilly had grown up; she looked plump and healthy, but she was still worried about her.

Lilly shook her head and said, "I am all good, granny! Look at me!" She stretched out her arm.

Bettany stared at her gently. You are finally home. Even though it took you longer than last time, I am glad you are back safe and sound.

"How about your father?" Bettany asked. Everyone knew Blake was powerful, and they subconsciously weren't that worried about him.

Lilly replied, "Daddy and mummy are sleeping down there."

Bettany exclaimed with disbelief, "Oh no! Your father..." Did he die? Jean had already passed away, and Lilly claimed that they were sleeping together. It means they were buried together! Bettany didn't know how to react now. She was overjoyed when Lilly was back, but now she was depressed. Hugh embraced her shoulders, saying, "This is life... We can only accept it."

Lilly quickly said, "It was a misunderstanding! Daddy is alive! He is not dead! We met Mummy, and we had a barbecue together!"

Bettany and Hugh were both puzzled as soon as Lilly finished talking. Alive. Met mummy. And barbecue. They can actually barbecue underground. Bettany said blankly, "Alright, glad to hear that. Barbecue is not bad, I guess."

Josh ran down the stairs in slippers, while Hannah rushed out without her shoes. Josh said in surprise, "Lils is back! Let's suspend my invention!" Hannah yelled happily, "Lilly is back! Let's stop doing homework!" Drake followed after Hannah; he was about to lecture Hannah.

He witnessed Josh and Hannah run up to hug Lilly. Lilly giggled while they squeezed her face and played with her hand. Drake was slightly startled and sad. Lilly had gotten taller. She left the house with lovely flower braids on her head, looking adorable. She now came back in a blue dress and a different hairstyle. He thought to himself, My sister has grown up. I hadn't seen her for two years, and I didn't get to witness her growth.

Josh said, "Lils, you have grown much taller!" He often laughed at Alban when he sent his sister to school every day. In fact, he was envious from the bottom of his heart. Instead of rarely seeing each other for a year or two, he hopes to grow up with Lilly and witness her growth too.

Lilly was in the underworld, and she didn't think she had been gone for long. Two years in the mortal world were about half a year in the underworld. She comforted Josh, saying, "Josh, you should be proud of me! No one can experience this!"

Hannah nodded. "That's right! I wanted to grow up in seconds, too! I am getting tired of all the homework!"

Lilly laughed, saying, "Hannah, why are you doing your homework every time I come back?"

Hannah sighed, "I have more homework now! Growing up isn't fun at all!" She never expected to have more homework in the sixth grade. Everyone told her that she could relax when she got to middle school. They were lying! I knew the homework was twice as heavy as in elementary school! I wanted to grow up instantly, please! She didn't understand the sorrow of the rest of the Crawford family; she envied Lilly for having such an ability.

Lilly asked, "Where is Zac?"

Chapter 1104 Lils, Why Am I Not Getting Any Taller?

Josh replied, "Zac went out." The ghost that Zac tracked down recently was difficult to catch; he had been out for two days. Lilly calculated Zac's safety and was relieved to get a good reply.

Josh suddenly asked softly, "Lils, I have a question..."

Lilly said, "What is it?"

Josh questioned, "I think that I haven't grown up in the past two years... I am only one year younger than my brother, but he is much taller than me now! Even Hannah caught up to me!" He was puzzled and depressed. "I have Googled this question before; I should have grown at least 10 cm to 14 cm in two years! But in fact, I didn't gain a single centimeter. I'm still 1.4 meters tall, just as I was when I was ten years old!" Lilly, who hadn't seen him for two years, was now 1.2 meters tall. Josh was already struggling with his height; he felt more pressure now.

Lilly couldn't answer his question, "Heh..."

Bettany nagged while she was about to enter the kitchen, "I have been worrying about his body! We have gone to the doctor several times but couldn't get any answers either." Bettany was stressed about Josh's height as well! Her hobby was to raise children with her food, but Josh was not growing up! She had been working on various recipes last year; Drake, Zac, and Hannah all gained height except Josh. It was a great blow to her that she failed in Josh's case.

Lilly smiled in guilt and said, "Maybe he could grow taller in the future?" What should I do? I didn't know how to make up a lie! Josh and Bettany were stunned at Lilly's reaction; they both understood something from her expression. Josh was flabbergasted. Bettany quickly changed the topic, "It's alright, Josh could wear heightening shoes in the future. Granny will make something for Lilly to eat now." She hurriedly walked to the kitchen.

"Granny, I have a souvenir for you!" Lilly took out the chicken she brought back from the Hell Ruler Palace. Josh and Bettany were terrified by the souvenir. Bettany said, "What is this?"

Lilly showed it off, "It's a chicken!" Everyone looked at the 'chicken' in disbelief. No one had ever seen a chicken the size of a sheep. Is it edible?

Josh shook his head. "I don't think it's edible." It was from the underworld.

Lilly nodded her head affirmatively and said, "It's edible! Daddy made this for me! It was delicious! My face had grown big because of this!" Josh was amazed by her answers, "We will eat it! Granny, I will give you a hand!" Lils gained weight and height after eating the chicken. Maybe I could gain some height too!

The chicken's life was over before it knew it. Drake was curious about the souvenir from the underworld, too. Lilly took out the mushrooms she had picked. The kids sat together to remove the soil from the roots of the mushroom. Josh asked, "Lils, is there soil and grass in the underworld?" He wouldn't have noticed any difference if Lilly hadn't said these were picked from the underworld.

Lilly nodded. "Yes, they have it. The underworld is not buried under the ground. You can't reach there even if you dig through the earth."

Hannah immediately asked, "Why is that so?" I have always thought that the underworld was just buried under the ground! Hannah was not as knowledgeable as her brothers; she had always thought that she could find Lilly if she dug deep.

Lilly gave her an example, "The mortal world and the underworld are like two different glass bottles with two different barriers."

Josh and Drake were deep in thought. The underworld was another space independent of the mortal world. For example, a game's protagonist lives in a virtual world that people could never truly join. Correspondingly, there would naturally be flowers and plants in the underworld.

Hannah was the only one who was still confused. It doesn't matter where the underworld is, as long as it can be dug!

Chapter 1105 Hannah Was Gifted an Automatic Writing Pen

Everyone had no idea what Hannah was thinking. They cleaned and cut the mushrooms into small pieces. Lilly classified different kinds of mushrooms and picked some for Bettany, "Granny, these kinds are best to be stewed! Mummy likes to braise these instead." Bettany pretended to ask unintentionally, "Does your mummy prefer braised mushrooms?"

Lilly nodded, "Yes! Daddy likes to stew them, Master likes the stir-fried ones, but Mummy likes the braised ones! Granny, let's put some soy sauce and oyster sauce into the mushroom soup! It's delicious!"

Bettany nodded and was glad to know that Jean was having a good time in the underworld. "Let's raise them!" Lilly agreed in excitement.

Josh couldn't help being curious; he asked Lilly, "The underworld has soy sauce and oyster sauce too?"

Lilly replied, "They do! When we had no salt, Daddy even used elixirs." That's right! The elixirs! Lilly took out some pills and introduced them to Bettany, "Granny! I have more for you!" She passed her the pills, namely the anti-poison pill, the body-strengthening pill, and the longevity pill. The anti-poison pills could protect everyone from viruses and diseases. The body-strengthening pills could enhance the body's immunity. The longevity pills worked as their name suggests; they increased one's lifespan. These pills were useless in the underworld; everyone was a ghost, after all.

Bettany said, "What should I do with these?" Lilly replied, "Just add them in, Granny."

Bettany nodded. Just as the kids walked into the living room, an extremely strong aroma came from the kitchen. Josh was dripping from the rich aroma. Drake lectured him, "Dirty brat..." He quickly closed his mouth to prevent his saliva from dripping out. Hugh was attracted by the aroma and said, "Bettany is getting better at cooking now!"

Lilly said, "That's right! Grandpa, I brought you bamboo!" Hugh said, "I don't need any gifts, Lilly." I have just planted bamboo in the garden; it's not that I am obsessed with them. I am not a panda. Lilly took out a few clusters of bamboo and said, "This bamboo emits fragrance that can boost your energy. Grandpa, you could exercise beside them in the morning, and you will feel good!" They looked as shiny as jade; they shone under the sun. The leaves were dark green, which looked gorgeous.

Hugh immediately said, "Yes, I love bamboo!" He hurriedly carried the bamboo to the backyard to plant it. He refused to let the gardeners help out. The gardeners looked at Hugh confusedly. Are we losing our jobs now?

Lilly gave Josh a blueprint and said, "I took this from Daddy! It's a drawing of various inventions!" Josh was thrilled.

She then gave Drake a book, "This book recorded the ancient times. It was rare and couldn't be found in the mortal world."

She passed Hannah a pen and said, "This pen writes automatically." She was cut off by Hannah's exciting shouts, "I love it! What a lovely gift!"

Lilly hurriedly calmed her down, saying, "Hannah, you have to control it with willpower!" Hannah grabbed the pen and ran upstairs, saying, "Let's try it out now!"

Drake frowned. "This is the first time I have seen her so eager to do homework. Is the pen that magical?"

Lilly said, "Hmph. It is actually semi-automatic. It works when she relies on herself! As long as she thinks fast, the pen writes fast." If its owner was dull, this pen was considered useless.

Josh said worriedly, "Oh no. Hannah is such a fool; she will run down crying, saying that you lied to her."

Hannah suddenly shouted in excitement, "Oh yes! The pen is moving on its own!" Josh was surprised.

Lilly laughed and said, "Josh, Hannah is not stupid. She simply didn't pay attention to her studies. In order to use the pen, she needs to focus on her homework now. Which will soon create a positive loop as she needs to utilize her knowledge to finish her homework faster."

Josh said, "I got it. If it's in a game, it means she has upgraded her weapons to fight the bosses now!" Lilly nodded. "That's right!" Drake was left speechless by their analogy.

Chapter 1106 Mum, Your Son Is Here!

In the Crawford family group. Hugh wrote, "Lilly is back; who is free to come back tonight?"

Anthony, who was on the way, slammed on the gas pedal. Lisa replied using Anthony's account, "The meeting is suspended; I will be back!" Everyone decided to follow the way she replied.

Bryson replied, "The plane stopped in mid-air; I will parachute back."

Jonas replied, "The award show is suspended; I will fly back home with the trophy."

Edward replied, "The project is suspended; I will drive the excavator back."

Max replied, "The experiment is suspended; Stacy will send me back."

Cloud replied, "The bullet is stopped; I will step on it and go back home."

Gilbert replied, "The operation is suspended... Oh no, I can't do this. I will be back soon."

Liam did not join them; he was on his way back.

The news of eight sons of the Crawford Family rushing back home caused a scene in Alford. Everyone was discussing it, "Did Old Mrs. Crawford pass away?" "I heard that she has not been in good health for the past two years; she has not been attending any events either." "It's not surprising if that's the truth."

The Miller Family was also curious about what happened; Tina asked, "Why don't we pay a visit? We could do something about this."

Thomas glared at her and asked, "Are you not satisfied with the punishment we got back then?" The Miller Family nearly went bankrupt a few years ago; fortunately, the Crawford Family let them off the hook in the end. Tina said embarrassedly, "I wanted the best for the Miller family." We could have been promoted into the upper-class circle. Look at us now; we are just an ordinary middle-class family. We are richer than ordinary people, but we are nothing in the upper-class circle!

Cheryl was doing her homework obediently. She had grown up and become more mature. She thought of Lilly, the girl who was treated like a princess; everyone fawned over her. Unlike her, she must be sweet-mouthed to please others. I wanted to be like Lilly. Why didn't my parents work harder to provide me with that life? Cheryl thought so, but she didn't dare say it out loud; she continued doing her homework silently.

The eight uncles arrived at the Crawford Family's mansion. They smelled a mouth-watering aroma as soon as they entered the house.

"Lilly!" Lisa shouted as she ran into the house. I didn't need to take care of my image; I am going to see Lilly!

Lilly was feeding General and Bailey the food made by Bettany. It was made from the underworld's chicken bones and mixed with rice. The dogs of the Crawford Family were never fed canned food; they all grew healthy. Lilly patted their heads and said, "Dig in! It tastes great!" The two dogs enjoyed it as soon as Lilly put their bowl down.

Josh wiped away his saliva as he stared at the dog's food. He murmured, "It's strange that we humans can consume items from the underworld. Not to mention that they are delicious too." This was new to him, but he adapted to it quickly. Humans could never travel to the end of the universe. The existence of new things other than human civilization is not implausible.

Lilly said hesitantly, "Josh, about your height..."

Josh said dejectedly, "I knew the answer. There is a record that the Asmodeus is in the form of a child. The moment that I awakened my power, I was frozen at the age of ten, am I right?"

Lilly nodded and comforted him, saying, "Josh, think about it! When you fight any bad guys in the future, they start making fun of your height, and you beat them up in seconds! This contrast is so amazing and cool!"

Josh was speechless. It feels like I will jump up and hit their knees instead. Lils, don't comfort me next time.

Someone appeared suddenly; it was Lisa! She picked Lilly up and kissed her. "Lilly! My baby!" Josh looked at her and yelled in his mind, Mom, your son is here! Did you forget about me?

Chapter 1107 Crawford Family's Cherished Princess Forever

Lilly felt dazed while being kissed by Lisa. She quickly stretched out her hand and held her face. Lilly felt dezed while being kissed by Lise. She quickly stretched out her hend end held her fece.

"Aunt Lise, I brought some colorful flowers for you!" Lilly seid.

Lise seid, "Are they edible?"

Lilly wes confused. This wes not the reection she wes expecting.

"You could try to eet them." Lilly replied.

Anthony took the bouquet of flowers end gently petted Lilly's heed. "Bleck flowers ere rere; I will keep them."

Lilly excleimed, "Uncle Anthony, I missed you!" He wes the richest uncle.

Anthony indulgently smiled end put the flowers in e lerge vese with some ice pond weter inside. The flower in the underworld hed never seen the Sun in the Humen Reelm before. The flower shone under the sunlight.

Dreke quietly took e picture of it. It wes wonderful. He set the photo es his phone wellpeper.

Josh looked et the flowers end esked, "Lils, how cen flowers from the Underworld bloom in the sunlight?"

Lilly replied, "It's true that most of the ghosts end flowers in the Underworld cen't fece the sun. But the things I brought beck ere not ordinery!"

Josh was speechless. This made Josh want to eat the flowers as well.

Lilly continued to say, "There are also spirit beasts and demonic beasts!"
Lilly felt dazed while being kissed by Lisa. She quickly stretched out her hand and held her face.

"Aunt Lisa, I brought some colorful flowers for you!" Lilly said.

Lisa said, "Are they edible?"

Lilly was confused. This was not the reaction she was expecting.

"You could try to eat them." Lilly replied.

Anthony took the bouquet of flowers and gently patted Lilly's head. "Black flowers are rare; I will keep them."

Lilly exclaimed, "Uncle Anthony, I missed you!" He was the richest uncle.

Anthony indulgently smiled and put the flowers in a large vase with some ice and water inside. The flower in the underworld had never seen the Sun in the Human Realm before. The flower shone under the sunlight.

Duke quietly took a picture of it. It was wonderful. He set the photo as his phone wallpaper.

Josh looked at the flowers and asked, "Lils, how can flowers from the Underworld bloom in the sunlight?"

Lilly replied, "It's true that most of the ghosts and flowers in the Underworld can't face the sun. But the things I brought back are not ordinary!"

Josh was speechless. This made Josh want to eat the flowers as well.

Lilly continued to say, "There are also spirit beasts and demonic beasts!"
Lilly felt dazed while being kissed by Lisa. She quickly stretched out her hand and held her face.

"Aunt Lisa, I brought some colorful flowers for you!" Lilly said.

Lisa said, "Are they edible?"

Lilly was confused. This was not the reaction she was expecting.

"You could try to eat them." Lilly replied.

Anthony took the bouquet of flowers and gently patted Lilly's head. "Black flowers are rare; I will keep them."

Lilly exclaimed, "Uncle Anthony, I missed you!" He was the richest uncle.

Anthony indulgently smiled and put the flowers in a large vase with some ice pond water inside. The flower in the underworld had never seen the Sun in the Human Realm before. The flower shone under the sunlight.

Drake quietly took a picture of it. It was wonderful. He set the photo as his phone wallpaper.

Josh looked at the flowers and asked, "Lils, how can flowers from the Underworld bloom in the sunlight?"

Lilly replied, "It's true that most of the ghosts and flowers in the Underworld can't face the sun. But the things I brought back are not ordinary!"

Josh was speechless. This made Josh want to eat the flowers as well.

Lilly continued to say, "There are also spirit beasts and demonic beasts!"

"It's true that spirit beasts can only be eaten by ghosts. But demonic beasts can be eaten by humans. It's delicious!" Daddy raised only demonic beasts in the area of the palace and a few mythical creatures. He mentioned that only mythical creatures could not be eaten.

Jonas's gift was a beautiful hairpin, while other uncles were giving gifts such as a gold chain and a box of rare fruits.

Jones's gift was a beautiful hairpin, while other uncles were giving gifts such as a gold chain and a box of rare fruits.

Lilly was surprised. She held the gold chain and golden lock in her hands. Those gifts were expensive!

"Thank you, Uncles! By the way, why did all of you come back together?" Lilly said.

Edward hugged Lilly and said, "Lilly has grown up. You're so tall now!"

Bryson laughed and said, "Anthony asked us to come back, saying there was an important announcement."

They didn't expect such a big surprise and sped up their journey.

Lilly asked curiously, "What is the announcement?" Anthony remained silent.

Betty said from the restaurant, "Come over and eat!"

The table was filled with delicious food. Henneh rushed downstairs when she heard the call to eat. She happily exclaimed, "Dad! I finished my homework!"

Liam was surprised and asked, "All by yourself?"

Henneh replied proudly, "Yes. I finished every homework in just an hour."

Liam's expression turned worried. He pulled Lilly over and asked, "There isn't a second Henneh, right?"

Lilly turned speechless.

Jonas's gift was a beautiful hairpin, while other uncles were giving gifts such as a gold chain and a box of rare fruits.

Lilly was surprised. She held the gold chain and golden lock in her hands. Those gifts were expensive!

"Thank you, Uncle! By the way, why did all of you come back together?" Lilly said.

Edward hugged Lilly and said, "Lilly has grown up. You're so tall now!"

Bryson laughed and said, "Anthony asked us to come back, saying there was an important announcement."

They didn't expect such a big surprise and sped up their journey.

Lilly asked curiously, "What is the announcement?" Anthony remained silent.

Battany said from the restaurant, "Come over and eat!"

The table was filled with delicious food. Hannah rushed downstairs when she heard the call to eat. She happily exclaimed, "Dad! I finished my homework!"

Liam was surprised and asked, "All by yourself?"

Hannah replied proudly, "Yes. I finished every homework in just an hour."

Liam's expression turned worried. He pulled Lilly over and asked, "There isn't a second Hannah, right?"

Lilly turned speechless.

Chapter 1108 What Happened to Aunt Lisa?

The dinner was over.

Bettany felt happy as she looked at the empty plates and bowls on the table. The most satisfying thing for a chef was seeing empty plates and bowls.

The Crawford family members were lying on the sofa while some Uncles hung around Crawford Mansion.

The air was filled with sweat after a quick walk.

"Hurry up and take a shower!" Lisa said.

Edward wondered and said, "Lisa doesn't seem to sweat."

Anthony pressed his hand on Edward's head and said, "Go take your bath."

Gilbert said, "I thought you had something to announce?"

Lilly sat straight from the sofa and said, "Right, Uncle Anthony hasn't told us yet!"

Anthony hesitated and said, "It's about your Aunt Lisa."

Lisa said confusedly, "About me?" What was wrong with her? She had become better and was almost no different from a living person. In any case, she felt she was just like a living person. So, what was the matter?

Anthony's hesitation confused everyone.

Bettany complained, "Just say it out. We're a family. There's nothing we can't talk about. Last time you even had problems with your sexual life."

Hugh quickly covered Bettany's mouth. Anthony was going to be ridiculed! Men cared a lot about this aspect!

Anthony looked at Lilly and said, "It's about Lisa's pregnancy."

Lilly was stunned.

Drake was shocked and dropped his book on the ground.

Lilly exclaimed, "Aunt Lisa is pregnant?"

Josh exclaimed, "My mom is having her third child!"

Drake felt silence and fell into his imagination.

Would the younger sibling be like a normal person?

Would it be born as a zombie? What would be a good name?

It seemed like Drake had to take care of the child.

Everyone was stunned and looked at Lisa.

Even Lisa herself looked at her belly in shock.

Lilly said, "Uncle Anthony, we didn't misunderstand, right?"

Anthony nodded.

Bettany stood up and said, "Am I going to be a great-grandmother?"

Josh said, "You're still Granny."

Bettany fell silent as Josh's words made sense.

Hugh said severely, "How many months have you been pregnant?"

Anthony said, "That's the problem. It had already been six months."

Everyone was stunned in shock again and looked at Lisa's slender waist.

Lisa said, "I might be pregnant with gas."

Otherwise, why hadn't her belly become round?

Lilly approached and checked Lisa's pulse.

"Aunt Lisa, don't move," Lilly said.

Gilbert was surprised. "Lilly knows about pulse checking?"

Lilly said solemnly, "Nope."

Lilly continued to say, "But I know about horoscopes."

Everyone fell silent.

Chapter 1109 Pregnant?

Lilly carefully checked Aunt Lisa's pulse while applying pressure. She had a strong pulse and everything that a human being ought to have, but she also had something extra, her spirit energy was surging. Aunt Lisa was an inheritor of the Witch God bloodline. She had been undead for several years, and her physique was also strong. Lilly wasn't sure if she would get pregnant in this situation.

Lilly had a serious look on her face as she sat cross-legged on the couch. Josh asked nervously, "How's it going?" Lilly said gently, "Daddy mentioned before... If metaphysics fails, we should turn to scientific methods. Why don't we take Aunt Lisa to do an ultrasound?" Everyone was silent. "The blood test and urine test can show pregnancy," Anthony added. "But the ultrasound can't show it." Lilly patted Uncle Anthony on the shoulder and said, "Uncle Anthony, don't worry! Whether Aunt Lisa is pregnant or not, we will know after ten months. All we had to do was wait." She smiled, which put everyone at ease.

Edward nodded in agreement and said, "That's true; we'll know when Lisa is going to give birth." Bettany stated, "Okay, it's getting late; let's go to bed!" We should leave it to time and God if we do not know the answer. You'll always know what you ought to know, and God will make arrangements for what you aren't permitted to know.

Lilly had not slept at home in a long time. She inhaled deeply, and the quilt smelled like the sun! Granny wasn't sure when she'd return, so she frequently washed and dried the quilt for her. Lilly got emotional, saying, "Granny's hair had turned a lot whiter." Lilly cuddled the bunny and said softly, "When I'm not at home, you have to accompany Granny for me."

The bunny that her mother gave Lilly was left alone at home. She usually keeps it by her bedside at home. Bunny was unable to talk and was certainly unable to respond. Lilly remembered that her elevator had not been built yet. However, she was too "busy" today; she was busy eating, chatting with her siblings, and spending time with her grandparents and uncles. It's okay; I will think about it after I get some sleep! Lilly thought. Lilly quickly fell asleep.

The World Mirror, which was placed on the dressing table, was speechless. It imagined that after being brought back, Little Hades would cherish him, but Little Hades fell asleep and ignored him! The World Mirror also went to sleep.

The World Mirror awoke from its sleep the following morning to find itself being watched. "Wow, this mirror is not an ordinary mirror!" Josh exclaimed, amazed. "Does it have anything to do with artificial intelligence? It can even express itself!" "Does the Virtual Human run into the mirror?" Josh asked, poking his hand in the mirror. "Can a Virtual Human sleep?" asked Hannah. There was a sleeping expression in the mirror just now, but now it has a confused face. The World Mirror said firmly, "You are the Virtual human; you are both Virtual humans!"

Josh said, "Wow!" Undoubtedly, Uncle Max should have made it because it's so clever." When Lilly awoke, she was momentarily confused and asked, "What are you two doing?" Josh replied, "Lilly, we are playing with your artificial intelligence!" "You finally got up; I finished my homework; where are we going to play today?" said Hannah as she hurried to her side. Lilly was surprised and said, "That's fast!"

Hannah was proud, "Of course! Today I got up at seven to supervise the automated pen to write my homework!"

Lilly was stunned. She changed the subject, "Josh, that mirror is not a Virtual human; it's from the underworld." Josh, who was grimacing and staring at the mirror, was surprised. From the underworld! Ghost? He was no longer afraid of ghosts, but he was so close to the mirror! He was not going to suck my soul, was he?

The World Mirror seemed to be able to understand Josh's thinking, showing a sneering expression and saying, "It's been a long time since no one has been so close. It's fantastic. I'm so full." Josh was shocked to discover that he had transformed into an old man in the mirror!

Chapter 1110 Research the Elevator

Josh quickly stepped away to look in the other mirror because he was so terrified. He was unaware that the World Mirror could control other mirrors. Unsurprisingly, he noticed that he had wrinkles on his face and, more significantly, that he had grown shorter as he aged. He was even shorter than Lilly! Josh touched his wrinkled face, noticing that he had aged from a charming young man to an old man. "Lilly! I am old!" yelled Josh.

Lilly was speechless. "Stop playing!" She warned the World Mirror. Josh returned to his previous self. He was delighted and thought that being frozen at the age of ten was perfectly acceptable; it was far better than being an old man who was ten. "Josh, this mirror is called the World Mirror," Lilly said. "It can display your appearance in your past, present, and afterlife, and it is also aware of all of your innermost thoughts while you are in front of it." "The World Mirror can confuse people; everything it showed you was an illusion."

Josh's fears could be displayed through the World Mirror. Josh was stunned, then quickly became excited. That's so cool! Lilly jumped out of bed, grabbed the mirror, and sat back down on the sofa. "Josh, it also has a very powerful ability. It can recreate anything in this world that has appeared in front of it," said Lilly. "What do you mean?" Josh said this in confusion.

Lilly said, "I came back using the elevator." She discussed the procedure for returning with Josh and also brought up the individual who claimed to have the same father as her. "She is not Uncle Blake's daughter; Uncle Blake is not that kind of person," Hannah said after hearing Lilly's words. Josh was speechless and said, "Stop talking; you know nothing about it." Lilly shook his head and said, "This is not important! The important thing is the elevator!" Josh was stunned. It doesn't matter? Your father will be heartbroken to learn this. The World Mirror showed the appearance of the "elevator".

The elevator had complicated lines and patterns. Countless lines converged into massive veins, eventually forming the look of an 'elevator'. Josh couldn't stand it with just a glance, and he became dizzy. Hannah was dizzy as well. Josh asked, "Lilly, why do you call this an elevator?" As a science student, he was familiar with the elevator's structure, but what was in front of him had nothing to do with it.

"I don't understand either, but as long as I can write the spells, then I can go home anytime I want," Lilly said as she studied the elevator's runes. She was very familiar with writing spells in the void. Lilly was unaware that many people had difficulty writing spells on paper; it is nearly impossible to write spells in the void. The success rate of writing spells in the void was only about 10%. But she was always successful, so she decided to recreate the 'elevator'.

Lilly was immersed in her research. Josh could not stand the suppressed lines in the mirror. Josh pulled out his phone, snapped a couple of pictures, and zoomed in on the phone; it worked. "I've never seen anything like that before", Josh stated. "It's like the concept of space folding!" Even the most advanced instruments were unable to generate such lines! Lilly forgot to eat while studying it all day and night. Bettany and the others noticed Lilly was studying something important, and they didn't dare disturb her. Lilly suddenly stood up! Josh quickly stood up and asked, "How's it going?" Lilly replied, "I'm hungry."