

Eight Uncles 114

Chapter 114 Peeping In The Dark

Lilly patted Josh's shoulders, "Young man, don't give up!

"I'm not a young man," Josh answered dejectedly.

"Kiddo, don't give up!" Lilly said again.

—

About an hour later, Old Mrs. Crawford shouted from downstairs, "The food is ready! Come down quickly! Lilly, Droke, Josh, Zochory, Honnoh!"

The sound of the children upstairs could be heard.

The one who was running was definitely Lilly. The one who was dilly-dollying was Zochory.

Honnoh was doing her homework in her room.

She looked up pitifully, "Daddy, can we eat first?"

Liam was silent as he stood by what he said. He would not allow her to leave for anything unless she had finished her homework.

Honnoh was spoiled by Winono. She was already in kindergarten but couldn't even read a word.

Two of Anthony's children were top students. Lilly was also smart and clever. Liam felt pressured as a father because one of his children was dim-witted and another one was addicted to video games.

Honnoh cried, "I'm only in kindergarten. Why do I have to do homework? Other kids don't need to do that."

"Don't compare," Liam said without any expression. He was impatient from waiting for Honnoh to finish her homework.

Honnoh wanted to go eat with Lilly.

Liam didn't budge although he was hungry too. Honnoh had no choice but to do her homework while crying.

Meanwhile, Ashley came upstairs with a big bouquet. Her footsteps were light like a spirit.

She passed by Honnoh's room and secretly peeked inside.

After observing for a while, she got bored and moved to another room to set down the flowers. She also took the chance to snoop in the other rooms.

The dining room downstairs was bustling with a lively atmosphere.

The people felt suffocated as they saw the few dishes Blake brought in.

Only the poached chicken was fine as it was the easiest to cook.

Old Mrs. Crawford was disgusted by the omelet as it was runny when she scooped it.

“This... this is..”

“I’ve tasted it, it’s delicious even though it doesn’t look good.”

large piece

young man,” Josh

don’t give up!” Lilly

—

an hour later, Old Mrs. Crawford shouted from downstairs, “The food is the children

was running was definitely Lilly. The one who was her

up pitifully, “Daddy, can

he said. He would not allow her by Winona. She was already in kindergarten but couldn’t even read of Anthony’s children were top students. Lilly was also smart and clever. Liam felt pressured as a father because one

Why do I have to do homework? Other kids don’t need to do without any expression. He was impatient from waiting for Hannah

to go eat

budget although he was hungry too. Hannah had no choice but to do her with a big bouquet.

by Hannah’s room and secretly peeked

a while, she got bored and moved to another room to set down the

was

as they saw

the poached chicken was fine as it was disgusted by the omelet as it was runny when she

“This... this is..”

tasted it, it’s delicious even though it doesn’t look

Mrs. Crawford picked up a large piece

“Eggplant,” Blake answered.

Crawford decided not to you cut it?” She

“I had

it evenly in

Crawford family was

up a piece,

Hope that Blake can do a better job

and muttered, “We must also let Liam have a taste of this delicious who were absent missed out on such delicious eggplant. Next time, we

Blake nodded, “Alright.”

the omelet and held a thumbs

Daughters

eggplant and put it into her mouth. The uncles said it tasted delicious, it shocked by

next second. Yucks! It’s so disgusting! Why did Uncle Anthony, is too disgusting. I can’t

Some of picked up a piece and took a bite. He couldn’t said quietly after he drank some water, “It’s okay, I can’t boast about it