Chapter 1171 High Family Conditions

The Grim Reapers, Behemoth, Leviathan, and Madame Maya rushed to the Fifth Palace.

There were many Land lords, including Olivine the Great, Every village had a Land Lord. It was unrealistic for all of them to attend. Only a representative went to the Fifth Palace.

They had not stepped into the Hell Ruler Palace for thousands of years and were stunned.

“Ms. Hades...”

Before the words came out, everyone received tableware. They looked dumbfounded.

Lilly said, “Let’s talk after dinner.”

They dared not eat. Lilly was the King of Hell! Even if she was eight years old, she was their boss!

Madame Maya lowered her head and felt uneasy. Lilly was back, and Jean once helped her make Now she was watching Jean throw a few elixirs into the pot.

Thinking of the ghost in Spirit Bridge who drank the soup, she dared not eat. But the food smelled good!

Everyone did not eat real food for thousands of years. What they ate were offerings. Gradually, they became ascetic and lost their appetite for worldly food.

However, the food in front of them was steaming hot and full of aroma. It aroused their appetite.

As a food lover, King of Styx ate Icemount Fish before, but that was thousands of years ago.

It took him two Azurite gemstones to buy three pieces of Icemount Fish. He still could not forget the taste.

Now he's got the chance to eat Icemount Fish again! The King of Hell was so rich!

The King of Styx immediately went in and took out his gift. "King of Hell, congratulations on returning! Here is my sincerity!"

Lilly looked at the man in front of her.

The King of Styx looked fat and wealthy. His gift should be valuable!

Chapter 1173 Helen Distorted the Truth in Hell's Ruler Palace.

Helen stood in front of the Hell Ruler Palace. She felt terrified and dazed.

In her imagination, Hell's Ruler was ferocious and scarier than ghosts.

Thinking of that, Helen knelt when she entered the Hell Ruler Palace and bowed. "Hell Ruler! I died unjustly!"

Lilly, who was doing her homework, was stunned.

After seeing Helen, Lilly was surprised for a moment. Isn't she Hannah's grandma? I haven't seen her for years. How did she die?

Pablo flipped through the Book of Life. It showed that Helen arrived at the end of her lifespan.

"What's your name? Where are you from? How did you die?" Pablo asked.

Helen was too scared to look up, so she cried. "My name is Helen Jones, from Vofral in Clodston. My date of birth is..."

She first talked about her life. She had lived in good condition since she was a child. After she got married, she gave birth to a daughter. Then, she pinned her life's hopes on her daughter Winona when her husband died.

"Later, Winona was blessed. She married into a wealthy family and became the wife of the richest family. She had a son and a daughter. The son was obedient, and the daughter was cute. Originally, this was my happiest life. If it hadn't been for that brat, we might have been. happy forever..."

Listening to Helen's complaints, Lilly was stunned. She stopped doing her homework and looked at Helen. She wondered if Helen would say anything more outrageous.

"Did she die peacefully?" Lilly turned to Pablo and asked.

Pablo glanced at the Book of Life and said lightly, "It's an untimely death."

Helen listened and felt strange in her heart. Does the Hell Ruler talk to himself? Is that the voice of the judge?

Helen continued to cry while wiping away her tears. "As I didn't have my daughter and granddaughter to rely on, I worked from morning to night to earn money..."

It turned out that after Helen got driven away at Anthony's wedding, Blair thought she was pitiful and helped her for a while.

Helen could only earn a living by selling her jewelry and luxury bags. Later, she felt that she was already pitiful. Why did she need to sell her things?

So she accepted Blair's help and asked Blair to give her more money to buy jewelry.

Chapter 1175 Into a Little Hell

Lilly turned the book pages. Indeed, she was unfamiliar with the judgment. Lilly needed to confirm Helen should get what kind of reincarnation after committing those crimes. She learned and judged on the spot.

Pablo looked at Lilly to turn the pages. He felt helpless and doted on her. Forget it. After all, it's her first day at work.

Seeing that Lilly could not confirm the judgment yet, Pablo continued to ask Helen, "And then? You haven't talked about your death yet."

Helen murmured inwardly. The Hell Ruler should sympathize with me a little, right? Even if I did something wrong, I was the victim! Everything had happened because of that brat. She made me miserable! Or I wouldn't commit crimes!

"I got 30 thousand at once..."

Helen suddenly thought that it was the fastest way to earn money. Most people would not blame her, as she was a widowed grandmother. So she started to blackmail people for money. but suddenly encountered a fierce guy one day.

"The man is backing up, so I'll go behind the car..."

Seeing the car approaching, she fell and yelled on purpose.

The owner got out of the car to check and reason with her. She wanted $30,000, but the car owner said he could give her $500 at most.

Chapter 1176 Helen Is Surprised! The Hell Ruler Is Lilly!

Helen was stunned. Why didn't the Hell Ruler pity me and sentence me to hell?

"No!" Helen was anxious. "Why should I go to hell? That guy killed me! Even though I did many stupid things when I was young, someone killed me in the end! I don't accept this judgment!"

Helen yelled and raised her head abruptly. She was dumbfounded.

On the throne above, the Hell Ruler was not the image of a vicious ghost but a child.

Isn't that Lilly?

Helen was surprised. "Lilly?"

Lilly was expressionless. She kept her gaze fixed and looked indifferent.

Helen looked aside. Blake and Jean were beside Lilly. She recognized them even though she had not seen them in years.

It's Lilly! How did Lilly become Hell Ruler?

For a split second, Helen remembered something.

Chapter 1177 Interfering With the King of Hell's Judgment

The King of Judgement frowned. He did not know what happened to Lilly in the mortal world.

Although he did not like a child sitting in the position of Hell Ruler, he did not think that Lilly was the brat Helen had mentioned just now.

It was not that he trusted Lilly so much. It was just that Lilly was overbearing a thousand years ago and would take revenge on the spot. She had nothing to do with pretending to be weak or fighting for a favor.

Hearing what Helen said, he suddenly realized he had a misunderstanding.

The King of Judgement felt embarrassed and asked Lilly bluntly, "What did you sentence? Let me see it!"

Lilly raised her eyebrows. "Why? You have no right to see it."

The King of Judgement sullenly said, "I'm the Hell Ruler of First Palace, King of Judgement. Don't you recognize me yet?"

Lilly thought. I didn't recognize him before, but now I do.

She nodded and responded calmly, "I recognized you! So what?"

Chapter 1178 The Embarrassing King of Judgement

Lilly snorted. "Do you mean you're more suitable for this position?"

She spoke more fluently and continued, "How can you conclude that my judgment must be wrong, not yours?"

The King of Judgement lost his mind and sneered. "I've been in the underworld for thousands of years. It's only been your first day since you came back from trials! Could I be wrong?"

Lilly stared at him. "What if you're wrong?"

The King of Judgement snorted. "If I'm wrong, I'll apologize to you in front of the other eight Hell Rulers!"

Lilly smiled. "You don't need to do that. Now there are only six Hell Rulers left besides you and me."

The King of Judgment was speechless.

Not every Hell Ruler could see a ghost's life, but they should be able to tell whether a soul was lying.

It was the business capability of the Hell Ruler!

To save trouble, they could force the ghost to drink illusion soup before stepping into the Hell Ruler Palace so that it could honestly say everything.

People said that after a person died, everything was empty. Everyone could figure it out when arriving at Hell Ruler Palace.

Lilly had seen all kinds of life. Those people would have had many obsessions before they died. She wondered how the ghosts would reveal their entire lives.

"Harem, please give her a bowl of illusion soup," Lilly said.

The ghost bride shouted, "Let me do this!"

She flew over immediately, took a bowl of illusion soup, and forced Helen to drink it.

Helen struggled but soon became sluggish and told everyone everything she had done.

Sure enough, it was not the child who instigated discord, but Helen. Moreover, her daughter killed someone to marry a wealthy family, and Helen later knew it but chose to hide it.

Jean got separated from her family, which was also related to causing wives and children to disperse.

After a while, Helen became sober and realized that she had said everything. She was unwilling to go to hell and cried to the King of Judgment.

The King of Judgement's complexion was gloomy. He believed he was in charge of making everything right, so he did not anticipate Helen to be deceitful.

"Shut up!" The King of Judgement yelled angrily, "There is nothing wrong with the sentence!"

Helen was desperate. No, how could this be? I was already miserable when I was alive. But go to hell after death!

She never expected the things she did before her death would be as severe as going to hell. She thought she had only instigated Hannah with a few words.

If she had known Lilly was the King of Hell, she would not have dared instigate Hannah to argue with Lilly but flatter!

Helen regretted it and felt unreconciled. She kept yelling, but Ms. Ugly dragged her away.

"Hmph, I didn't expect I could take revenge myself..." Ms. Ugly clung to Helen and grinned grimly. "Do you know who I am? I'm May Lee. Your daughter killed me back then. She hasn't come down yet. I'll ask for some debts from you first."

Helen screamed.

The King of Judgment sat on the chair and did not know whether to stay. Lilly stared at him and waited for his apology.

The King of Judgement could not say a word of apology, so he remained silent.

Lilly asked, "King of Judgement, do you have anything else to say? Am I right?"

The King of Judgement felt ashamed and said muffledly, "Your judgment is correct..."

According to Helen's life, none of the punishments were wrongly judged. There was a reason for every punishment, and there was no public revenge.

Chapter 1179 Kill the Innocent? Gave Birth to Innocents?

Although ghosts without faces were uncommon, they were not considered particularly rare.

It was just that most of them were woeful ghosts and resentful spirits who had stayed in the mortal world for too long. The ghosts who had not recovered their faces after arriving at Hell Ruler Palace were rare.

The two faceless female ghosts were all wet and still pinching each other, unconvinced, when they got here.

“What’s your name? Where are you from? How did you die?” Lilly could not help but be curious.

The two female ghosts were still attacking each other, but suddenly the pressure pressed on them. They immediately sat on the ground obediently.

“My name is Annie Marshman, from Qosnad City. I got into a fight with her and drowned in the river.”

“My name is Catalina Sarratt, from Lotrye Province. I got into a fight with her and drowned in the river.”

Lilly was surprised. “Do you two live together?”

Annie said, “No, I’ve been living in Qosnad City. She has been living in Lotrye Province!”

Catalina snorted. “I would never live with such a person! It’s an insult! I don’t even know her!”

Pablo opened the Book of Life and handed it to Lilly. Lilly saw that before the two ghosts died, one lived in the east and the other in the West. They were far apart.

And then they died in Cloud Province? How come? Did they have an appointment for a fight there?

Annie immediately said, “It all started with a video!”

It turned out that Annie saw the life record of a full-time mother with two children.

The full-time mother got up early in the morning to cook and rushed the eldest son to school before the younger daughter woke up.

The home was only ten minutes away from the elementary school, but when she got home, her younger daughter woke up early and sat on the bed, crying sadly. While coaxing her daughter, the full-time mother cooked and did housework, then took her daughter to buy ingredients, nap, and prepare dinner.

There were many trivial things during the day. Finally, when the elder son was out of school, she took the younger daughter to pick him up. When her husband returned from work, he sat on the sofa and did not care about anything but only transferred a thousand dollars to her for living expenses.

At night, the full-time mother was busy washing dishes, mopping the floor, helping her son with homework, taking her daughter to bed after a shower, and telling stories.

It was a typical widowed marriage. The video sparked debate among commenters.

"I only commented on it," Annie said, "But she argued with me!"

Catalina was relatively silent. After holding back for a long time, she scolded angrily, "It's all your fault!"

Annie exploded, "What's wrong with me? Can't I comment? Is there anything wrong with my comment?"

Human nature was gossip. Lilly asked curiously, "What did you comment on?"

Annie answered, "My comment is, don't give birth to children without conditions! What do you want to express by posting this video? Do you feel that you're very hardworking and great? You're so annoying!"

After Annie finished repeating her past comment, she began to feel aggrieved. "What's wrong with this comment? She came up and cursed me!"

Lilly could not see Catalina's expression, but she felt she was angry.

Chapter 1180 It Was Difficult to Be the Ruler of Hell!

After Annie paused, she turned her head and "looked" at Catalina. They couldn't tell what their expressions were because they didn't have faces. It wasn't until Catalina arrived at Hell Ruler Palace that it erupted.

"Don't give birth if you don't meet the requirements..." Catalina questioned rhetorically, "Make the child unhappy? Are you that kid? How can you tell whether he's happy or not?"

"I've been there before, and I'd rather my parents didn't give birth to me!" Annie remarked.

"Oh, it seems that you are so incompetent," Catalina scoffed. "It's all your parents' fault if you don't have an easy life, right? Others work hard from the beginning to live good lives and experience great happiness. You are unwilling to face difficulties and have given up on yourself."

"You then blamed social reality and your parents for not providing you with a solid starting point. You don't want to work hard; you're a slacker, and you still want to get away from reality!"

"On the one hand, you hate the injustice in the world, while on the other, you are envious of those who were born into prosperous circumstances."

"You blame your failure on society, your parents, or the pressure from competitors, but you don't think about what you've done. Complain freely on the Internet, indulge in extravagance, and mock individuals who work hard to survive. That's your problem."

Annie was stunned and angry. "Who do you think you're talking to?"

Catalina said, "I'm just talking about you! You claim that when the circumstances are unfavorable, the poor should not give birth! Does this imply that poor people have no right to have children?"

"You will rebuke people fiercely if a stray cat on the side of the road is taken in for sterilization. However, when you see people in awful living situations, you then deduce that they are unfit to have children! Just who the hell do you think you are?"

"You can only give birth if the conditions are good; therefore, don't give birth if the circumstances aren't ideal. The poor are unworthy of life, enjoyment, or even having children."

"Just listen to what you just said! You are incredibly self-centered, moaning to your parents and believing that you have a point. You keep stating that the poor should not have children if they don't meet the requirements, as if you're doing it for the sake of others!"

"You are not someone else's parents or children; how do you know whether someone else's children love their parents or not? What makes you think that other parents don't love their children? Is it up to you to judge?"

"They don't have good circumstances! Love is the only luxury that can be enjoyed. Saying "Don't be born if you are poor" deprives people of their freedom to love and hope. That's the most idiotic thing I've ever heard before!"

"You are blatantly self-righteous yet incredibly self-serving. Do you believe that your viewpoints are the most reasonable? What's wrong with you? Where do you have the authority to judge another person?"

"People's lives are difficult enough as they are, and you have to sneer at them, saying, "Don't be born if you are poor," and making the mother who works hard feel bad, depressed, and morally abducted! What makes you any different from cyberbullying?"

"Do you still think your comment was sage advice? It appears to be logical. So parents should feel guilty in front of their children, saying, "It's because of us that you have a bad life"? You make me sick! Telling children that the reason things aren't going well for them is because of their parents. What kind of nonsense is this?"

"Your vehement criticism of others is nothing more than a way for you to express your displeasure with the world! To make up for your failures in life! Distract you from your feelings of failure and self-rejection! You are such an awful individual that you continue to vent your displeasure indiscriminately, telling others not to have kids while claiming that you're doing it for the sake of them!"
