

Eight Uncles 1241

Chapter 1241 I Didn't Ask You to Make Him Suffer

Blake had beaten scoundrels in the past. For those who did not care about anything, he could hit them until they surrendered. However, the narrow-minded ghost was different.

He was a pervert and a scoundrel. He was not afraid of judgment, let alone going to hell. Even if his soul dissipated, he seemed not to care about it.

Lilly had no idea what to do. She could use the illusion soup or read the Book of Life, but she felt annoyed.

The narrow-minded ghost could even insult his mother. It seemed nothing could punish him.

Pablo sneered. "Really?"

He raised his hand, and the Book of Life appeared. He turned to a page and said, "Jed Snyder, a native of Griysal, was born on... He died because he got skinned, deboned, and torn apart."

Lilly nodded. "No wonder he's not afraid of going to hell. It turns out he died so miserably."

Josh exclaimed, "Wow, I'm so curious about his story!"

Those tortures only existed in ancient times. What did this narrow-minded ghost do to die so miserably?

When mentioning his death, the narrow-minded ghost showed no fear or hatred. Instead, he smiled. "That's right. I won't be afraid of anything."

Pablo checked it for a while and said, "The person he hates the most, if I guessed correctly, should be Sherry Wright."

Upon hearing that, the narrow-minded ghost became sinister, but he laughed again.

"Yes! Sherry Wright! She must be old now, right? Was she ill? Did she get reviled by the whole village? Haha!"

The narrow-minded ghost became excited. "Sherry Wright was mean. She deserved it! It would be best if someone raped her again! She was already dirty! She might as well commit suicide! Haha!"

Pablo and Lilly frowned. When the narrow-minded ghost spoke, everything he said was very uncomfortable.

"You'll find out if you see her," Pablo said calmly, "What a coincidence. She lives not that far away!"

The narrow-minded ghost was stunned.

Lilly moved closer, lay Pablo's shoulder, and looked at the Book of Life. "Hey, it's true. It's right in our villa area!"

Crawford Mansion occupied a large piece of land but was not the deep mountains and ravines. It was in a community.

The people living here were rich and powerful. In addition to the Crawford Mansion, there were two other manor-type family villa groups, but the area was one-fourth the Crawford Mansion.

Except for those three manors, the others were single-family and large villas. Even the worst ones were better than the stacked villas outside.

Sherry lived in a villa here. Although it was not the best location, her life would be good.

"Impossible!" The narrow-minded ghost suddenly floated up. He was no longer as calm as before!

King of Hell had the privilege of checking a person and quietly brought the narrow-minded ghost to Sherry's house.

Sherry was now an old lady. She had nothing to do after breakfast and was pruning roses in the garden.

The gray-haired Sherry held a flower basket and put all the cut roses into it.

She sat under the parasol in the garden and pruned the roses little by little, then put the pruned flowers into the vase.

Her flower arrangement skills were good to make the vase beautiful.

The person who should be Sherry's daughter-in-law came out and said, "Mom, we'll go to the company. Let the maid cook whatever you want. Don't do it yourself, okay? Sweetie is doing homework. You don't have to worry about him. The teacher will take care of him."

Sherry nodded and sent her daughter-in-law and son out with a smile.

After a while, an old man came out of the house and tidied the garden with her with great interest. They accompanied each other, enjoyed, and lived a peaceful and happy life.

It took the narrow-minded ghost a while to realize it was the Sherry he had been pursuing!

Didn't I destroy her? How could she be living so well? No, I can't stand it! Why does she have a good life? Why could she get married? Her family is so harmonious! She doesn't deserve it!

"Sherry!" The narrow-minded ghost's eyes turned red, and he rushed forward angrily.

Lilly slapped the narrow-minded ghost away. Hell Ruler's ambience rolled out instantly and suppressed him.

Lilly said, "Let's go back and eat first!"

After saying that, she dragged Josh, Zachary, and Hannah away.

Lilly pinned the narrow-minded ghost on the spot and let him see how well Sherry was doing now.

Hmph, aren't you dissatisfied? Aren't you bold? Then continue watching here!

The naughty Lilly ran away happily.

Pablo was speechless. I didn't ask you to make him suffer like that.

Chapter 1242 Narrow-Minded and Crazy

After breakfast, it was almost eleven o'clock. Josh asked Lilly again. "Lilly, are we going to bring the narrow-minded ghost back?"

It was not that he sympathized with the narrow-minded ghost.

He was only too curious about what happened to the narrow-minded ghost.

Lilly nodded. "Okay."

Josh was about to run out immediately, but Lilly raised her hand, and the narrow-minded ghost flew back.

Josh and Zachary were stunned. They knew Lilly was powerful, but they were still shocked.

Drake did not raise his head and said calmly, "You two still have a long way to go."

Hannah was using Drake's Vision Eye Drops, and she followed suit. "You two still have a long way to go!"

Josh and Zachary were speechless.

When the narrow-minded ghost came back again, he was in an angry and irritable state.

He was hostile, laughed, and his eyes looked abnormal. "Don't you want to interrogate me? I won't say anything! Haha!"

Lilly yawned. "We didn't want to know either."

Josh nodded. "But we're quite interested in watching you go crazy."

Zachary glanced at Josh and said, "Why don't we stop the trial and stick him to the door of the Taylor family forever?"

Sherry married a man surnamed Taylor, who was in the villa just now.

Hannah nodded. "Good idea!"

Pablo raised his eyes and handed the Book of Life to Lilly. "This is his life. There's nothing to judge."

Lilly looked at it, but nothing was in the Book of Life. Master is cunning!

However, she deliberately frowned in displeasure. "How can you hurt her like that? You deserve to die!"

After that, she handed the Book of Life to Josh.

Josh looked excited. I would have found the answer here if Lilly had told me earlier! I didn't have to ask this narrow-minded ghost.

As a result, he was slightly stunned. Is this a Book of Life? There's nothing!

Josh also deliberately looked angry. "You deserve to die so miserably! What did she do to you? You destroyed her when you failed to pursue her! You're such a pervert!"

It was Josh's specially designed line combined with what the narrow-minded ghost had said this morning.

Then, he handed Zachary the Book of Life.

Zachary was speechless. You guys are liars.

He deliberately frowned and said, "You had gone too far. How could you find someone to rape Sherry Wright?"

It was also a line that Zachary designed based on what the narrow-minded ghost said.

Hannah leaned over with a confused look. There's nothing! They're acting!

She frowned and looked angry.

Finally, they handed it to Drake. Drake raised his eyebrows.

He slowly took the Book of Life, looked carefully, and finally sneered.

"Sherry is innocent. That's why she can meet someone who truly loves her. She'll be happy for the rest of her life. That's what she deserves."

The narrow-minded ghost's expression changed from grinning, disdainful, sneering, jealous to resentful.

"She deserves it? Nonsense!"

Josh snorted. "She deserves it, of course! She didn't do anything wrong to you!"

The narrow-minded ghost suddenly got angry. "Sherry was supposed to be with me but betrayed me! She was wrong!"

Lilly raised her eyebrows. "Have you misunderstood? She didn't mean that at all."

She did not know if it was true and said it casually. If she said it right, it would stimulate the narrow-minded ghost; if she said it wrong, it would anger the narrow-minded ghost.

The narrow-minded ghost would tell it all himself no matter what.

Sure enough, the narrow-minded ghost laughed madly. "Are you here to make fun of me? Would she smile when she saw me if she didn't mean that? Why did she lower her head and blush when I talked to her? She even helped me to move a chair during a meeting once. That was all because she liked me!"

Lilly and others were speechless. This ghost is very confident in himself.

Josh could not help but say, "Are you crazy? Does anyone who smiles at you mean they like you?"

The narrow-minded ghost looked at Josh coldly. "You don't understand! Our era was not as open as now. All women nowadays are b*tches. They smile when they see men. They're shameless..."

Lilly wished to pick up Hugh's slippers and slap the narrow-minded ghost, but she held it back.

It turned out that the narrow-minded ghost had been dead for forty years. In that era, it was indeed not open.

In the 1980s, the narrow-minded ghost and Sherry worked in a garment factory.

Sherry had a cheerful personality and was enthusiastic. She always smiled at everyone.

One time, when getting off work, the narrow-minded ghost and Sherry were left behind. Seeing her silent colleague, Sherry smiled at him and said, "Goodbye."

However, the narrow-minded ghost took it seriously. It was the first time someone showed kindness to him. He believed Sherry must have a crush on him!

With this idea in mind, the narrow-minded ghost continued to prove this point of view in the future life.

Sherry got off work a little late because she was waiting for him on purpose. Sherry smiled at him. That was a hint at something.

During the meeting, Sherry moved chairs with others. He happened to sit on the chair that Sherry had moved and sat next to her. He felt that Sherry helped him on purpose and wanted to date him.

Chapter 1243 Destroy If He Could Not Get It

"I treated her as my future wife!" The narrow-minded ghost sneered, "However, one day, she suddenly was dating another person."

The narrow-minded ghost was angry and felt betrayed.

He found Sherry and scolded her for being promiscuous and hooking up with other men when she was with him!

In that era, this was an issue with serious consequences.

Sherry was filled with indignation and said that she had never been with him and they never even talked much!

"She actually denied it, haha, she actually lied because of another man!"

Lilly, Josh, and Zachary were speechless, "..."

Most importantly, most of her colleagues in the garment factory came forward and backed Sherry up that she had indeed not dated anyone.

"She seduced me and didn't admit it. The other women also protected Sherry. All women are bitches!"

"The most despicable thing is that after my mother heard about it, she didn't even help me, but said that I didn't date anyone!"

How could this be?

He and Sherry had been together for a year, and he had been saving money to marry her.

In the end, they all denied it?

Of course, the narrow-minded ghost was unwilling to give in. Not only was he unwilling, but he also quickly made up his mind: If he couldn't get her, he would ruin her so that she could not seduce others!

"The bitch is not worthy of getting married in her life!" The narrow-minded ghost sneered, "A dirty woman who is flirtatious and a bitch who doesn't love herself should be outcast and reviled by everyone. She should be ashamed to go out for the rest of her life."

The narrow-minded ghost began to spread rumors, saying that Sherry was despicable, that she quickly found a new man after abandoning him, and even teamed up with other women to slander him.

Then he made it up to say that they made out in the woods before they got married, and had to hook up with each other every night before returning to the dormitory.

He said that she was not satisfied with her desires, and that everyone in the village knew that she was a promiscuous woman and that she had affairs with many men in the village.

Defaming her was only the first step, but it was also the easiest tool to destroy a girl. Even if Sherry was not that kind of person, people would be curious and talk about her behind her back when there were many rumors like this about her.

Gradually, she and her partner fell apart. Her partner didn't believe her. His family felt that when looking for a wife, he needed to find a well-mannered wife. Obviously Sherry was not the one.

It was quite a sensation at the time for someone to "break up". In those days, most people who dated would get married to each other eventually. There would be nasty rumors about anyone who had an ex-boyfriend.

Sherry was ruined. There were always some people in the factory who would harass her from time to time.

"Why would others harass her if she's not a slut? Right, why did people go to her instead of harassing other people? It means she is always seducing people."

He did see that she always smiled at other men. She smiled whenever she saw other people. Wasn't she a slut?

The narrow-minded ghost chuckled, "Bitches will not die well."

Sherry couldn't bear the harassment and eventually lost her job in the garment factory.

"She thinks she can wash away the deception and hurt she caused me by leaving? No, I won't make it easy for her!"

On the day Sherry left, she was alone and he knocked her unconscious.

He found several men in the factory and raped her.

When Sherry got up, she could only see herself in a mess, but she didn't know who it was.

She had no evidence either.

Her underwear was even taken to the dormitory by a few men with evil intentions as a medal.

Of course they wouldn't say that they raped Sherry, they just said that the woman was too promiscuous and played with them before leaving.

It was too easy to destroy a woman in that era. Sherry was wronged but she could not tell people about it. She couldn't find any evidence, and she was so angry that she wanted to find justice for herself.

"It was indeed difficult to convict rape cases at that time. Although it would be the death penalty for the crime, it was very difficult for a woman to prove the crime of the other party. Even if she could, her life would be ruined. No one would be willing to marry such an unclean woman," Drake said.

Lilly only felt very angry. What kind of psychotic mindset did this person have to feel like he had to destroy her because he could not get her?

What did Sherry do wrong?

The only thing she did wrong was being too friendly!

"So you were beaten to death by the brothers of Sherry's family?" Pablo said.

The booklet about Sherry stated that she had four brothers and three sisters.

The narrow-minded ghost had gloomy eyes, half-smiling but not smiling, and quickly admitted, "Yes!"

Sherry was completely ruined, but he still didn't let her go.

When she returned to the village, he followed her back to the village, saying that she was playing with others in the city and had a miscarriage, so she had to return to the countryside. Otherwise, why would she quit such a good job in a garment factory?

She must have been disciplined and asked to leave.

After Sherry returned home, her brothers were very angry.

Half of the reason was that the relationship between the siblings was good, and the other half of the reason was that when Sherry was single, more than half of her salary was sent home.

The brothers relied on Sherry's salary, so they naturally gnashed their teeth at those who spread rumors.

After catching the narrow-minded Ghost again, the brothers tied him up deep in the mountains and forests.

"They slit my skull open, and peeled off my skin, hehe!" The narrow-minded ghost smiled proudly, "They even dug out my flesh and poked my bones."

"They wanted me to clarify and admit that I found the people to rape Sherry. Would I have done it?"

Naturally, the narrow-minded ghost would not give in. He detested Sherry, and felt that she was playing with his feelings.

This bitch deserved to die without peace. Why should he clarify it? She deserved all of it!

Chapter 1244 Those Who Don't Give Up Will Never Be Too Bad

The narrow-minded ghost was tied up and beaten in the deep mountains and wild forests for three days and three nights.

He was narrow-minded and psychopathic, and he was so stubborn on what he believed in. He would not clarify anything for Sherry.

Instead, he thought she was definitely guilty because otherwise, why would she need a clarification if she had not done anything? She would be able to find another man to marry if she got the clarification, wouldn't she?

He won't let her get her wish!

Sherry's brothers relied on Sherry's salary, and they were not very righteous people, and each had their own stubborn ideas.

The most important thing was that the narrow-minded ghost was not a sweet talker. Every word he said made people want to punch him in the face.

In the end, he was beaten to death...

The narrow-minded ghost didn't have much expression on his face when he said this. Instead, he seemed to be talking about someone else, and he was impressed.

In short, the narrow-minded ghost left nothing behind in the end. It was terrifying the way he died and also terrifying after death.

Drake frowned and commented, "They committed a crime, but you deserved it."

The narrow-minded ghost didn't think so. He gritted his teeth and chuckled, "Do I deserve it? It was obviously Sherry who committed the crime first, otherwise would I have bothered to look for her?"

"I was taking back the justice that belonged to me!"

"Those promiscuous women, shouldn't they be punished?!"

Lilly looked at the "honest man" in front of him without words. It was really difficult for people with erroneous views to understand the thinking of normal people. No matter what, he was right. He lived in his own world and was cynical.

Josh gritted his teeth angrily, "Fortunately, God is fair. She is living a good life now! After all the hardships, she has peace now!"

The narrow-minded ghost's eyes were full of sarcasm, "I'm surprised she could get married, that man is so unfortunate to marry such a woman. He doesn't even know what kind of bitch he married, right?"

Sherry must have hidden everything about her past, otherwise what man would marry such a dirty woman!

However...

Lilly suddenly raised her hand, and the pen of judgment appeared.

The pen of judgment did not examine the narrow-minded people, but it replayed Sherry's life.

When she was young, she worked in a garment factory and was a friendly person. She accidentally smiled at Jed Snyder, a male colleague with a flawed personality. She had no idea that this smile would change her life!

The pen of judgment was God's perspective. From this perspective, it could be clearly seen that—

Sherry indeed had no unnecessary feelings for this male colleague. She did not "seduce" the male colleague. Instead, the male colleague acted like a pervert, often following her quietly and peeping at her.

She was properly introduced to a man and had a good relationship with a partner. Unexpectedly, everything started to change from then on. She suffered from all the vicious rumors...

Sherry didn't know about the death of Jed Snyder (the narrow-minded ghost), but she was determined to find out everyone who was involved in her rape.

Her brothers all tried to persuade her, so what if she confirmed and found the person who committed the crime?

It would only confirm the fact that she was gang raped. Even if she took advantage of it, it would not be of any benefit to her future marriage.

It was better to pretend that nothing happened, hide it and get over it, or at worst, marry far away.

Sherry quit because she wanted to collect evidence. This journey lasted for ten years. Several brothers in Sherry's family gave up trying to persuade her. While Sherry was filing a lawsuit for herself, she was working a few freelance jobs, she worked as a female labor, worked at the street stall, and even worked as a nanny.

In the process, the lawyer who helped her in the lawsuit was gradually moved by her perseverance. Sherry still established her own business in such a bad situation and even opened a small company.

Finally after ten years, when she was 30 years old, she finally brought justice upon those who had bullied her. Such a long leap, even in modern times, few women could achieve it.

Sherry did it, not only getting justice for herself, but also gaining love. The final outcome was that her lawyer proposed to her.

The narrow-minded ghost looked at all this and couldn't believe it, "Is this man sick? He knows that Sherry is unclean and yet he proposes to her?"

Moreover, Sherry rejected him at first, the other party did not give up his pursuit, and finally the two of them achieved happily-ever-after.

"He must be dumb!" The narrow-minded ghost roared angrily.

Why Sherry? She was a promiscuous bitch who had been played by so many people. She didn't deserve to be happy anymore!

Why was she the one being pursued, what qualifications did she have!

He really wanted to say that the lawyer must have thought that Sherry would make money by opening a company, and that he did not really love her. However, in the picture that the pen of judgment showed, the lawyer came from a well-off family background, and he was completely different from Sherry who came from humble origins.

However, they still got married. The lawyer's parents knew about Sherry and did not dislike her.

When the narrow-minded ghost learned about these situations, he felt that this was more tormenting than killing him!

Sherry's happiness was sharper than the knife that used to peel off his skin. It made him unable to calm down, and the jealousy in his heart turned into a billowing wave of evil energy!

He roared, suddenly jumped towards Lilly, and wanted to tear both Sherry and Lilly into pieces!

This little girl who could reopen his scars at such a young age was not a good thing!

All women in the world were indeed bitches! !

"Sister, be careful!" Josh and Zachary were shocked.

The narrow-minded ghost's eyes were red, but as soon as he threw himself at Lilly, he was stepped on by her.

Lilly stepped on the narrow-minded ghost's face and looked at him condescendingly.

"It seems that you have not learned your lesson," Lilly turned his wrist and said expressionlessly, "It's better to send him to be nailed at the Taylor family."

The narrow-minded ghost's eyes widened, and he cursed nastily!

He didn't want to be nailed at the Wang family and to watch Sherry's happiness every day. It would be better to send him to the worst of hell!

However, he struggled desperately, but couldn't move...

Chapter 1245 Jean's Resentment

Pablo wanted to speak but stopped himself.

According to the standard procedure, after the King of Hell had interrogated an evil ghost, he would either be sent to hell or be destroyed right away.

Nailing evil spirits in a certain place for punishment seemed to be lynching with personal reasons...

However, before he could speak, Lilly closed one eye, looked outside and said, "Hey, it's raining? Put away the laundry!"

After saying that, she ran out, and two shining talismans fell from her body.

Pablo's mouth twitched.

She was literally turning a blind eye.

Josh understood it in almost a second, oh, it was not convenient for my sister to take revenge, right... Well, how can we call it revenge? It can only be called punishment.

"Follow me!" Josh picked up the two talismans on the ground and slapped them on the narrow-minded ghost.

He then dragged the narrow-minded ghost away.

Zachary followed behind and said, "Ask him what the man who stalked Ms. Berrycloth was up to."

Josh said, "Do we even need to ask? It's probably similar to what the narrow-minded ghost did during his lifetime."

The voices of the two brothers gradually faded away, and Hannah blinked blankly, "I haven't seen enough yet..."

Drake looked up, "Did you finish your homework?"

Hannah was speechless, "..."

**

Although the matter of the narrow-minded ghost had been solved, it was not over yet.

Josh and Drake kept a close watch on the man who was following Raven, they were always on guard...

However, they didn't see any movement.

"He is always just stalking and taking photos every day. How many years can he be sentenced for this..." Josh asked curiously, "Is it because we caught the narrow-minded ghost and there is no evil ghost to influence him, so he will not do anything to hurt Ms. Berrycloth again?"

He had a gut feeling that things were not as simple.

Zachary said, "It's impossible."

This man had the same personality as the narrow-minded ghost. In the past few days since the evil ghost was captured, he did not behave any better.

He was still stalking and filming... Although it sounded brutal, the cost of crime was really too low.

In the current environment, assuming that a man did not violate the privacy of these photos or use them for profit, he would only be locked up for ten days and be imposed with a fine of five hundred dollars.

This was not enough to create an impact on him.

"Be patient and wait."

The two brothers were like hunters, patiently waiting for their prey to fall into the trap.

After a few days of waiting, Lilly was about to return to the underworld.

"Don't worry, the New Year is just around the corner, I will be back soon," Lilly said.

Bettany began to prepare her shopping list for the New Year's, "What does Lilly crave for? The bacon and sausages are good. Grandma asked someone to prepare some of those..."

Meat, ducks and fish were a must, so there was no need to worry about these. The Crawford family had already found chickens and ducks that were organically raised in the countryside, and even roasted suckling pigs and piglets had been reserved in advance.

Needless to say, king crabs, lobsters, various seafood such as red devil shrimps, arctic sweet shrimps, shellfish, abalones and sea cucumbers.

She also prepared bacon and sausages, only because Jean liked it.

The Crawford family was quite down-to-earth, and the things they prepared for the New Year were not much different from those prepared by ordinary families. The other wealthy families tend to only buy rare and high-end things. The rarer and more expensive the better.

Bettany did not like this, she just wanted the food that the children really liked to eat, and something practical.

"Get home early with your mother," Bettany said, "Is there anything else you want to eat in particular?"

Lilly shook her head, "As long as it's made by grandma! Grandma, wait until I come back to cook with you!"

"I'll bring back some local specialties then, grandma, what do you want to eat?"

Bettany suddenly burst into laughter, "Anything is fine, as long as it is something that our little baby brings back..."

It suddenly occurred to her that their food was not ordinary either. They ate "local specialties" that other wealthy families could not get their hands on ever in this life.

"Don't worry, Lilly, we will keep an eye on things," Josh, "Ms. Berrycloth will be fine."

The two brothers secretly vowed that before Lilly came back, they would resolve this matter and not let her worry about it.

Lilly waved her hand. What she was more worried about now was... Whether her mother would chop her with bare hands when she went back.

She figured it had only been a day or two in the underworld, right?

Ummm...

In the underworld.

Jean was restless.

She did not want to go to Blake, but she was worried about what happened to him.

While wandering around, she finally saw a flash of light in the Palace of the King of Hell.

Lilly probed her head and walked out quietly.

"Master, is my mother here?" She asked.

Pablo kept his eyes straight, "No, she isn't."

Lilly, "Master, how about we go outside to practice?"

She would bring her parents back after the New Year. Then they would have a happy New Year and her mother would not be displeased.

Pablo glanced at the corner, "This is not a good idea."

Lilly, "Why?"

Immediately afterwards, Jean's voice was heard, "Haha... Lilly, mommy's little baby..."

She lowered her hands, her feet not touching the ground, and floated out from the corner.

"Lilly... Mommy's Lilly, where have you been?" Her voice was eerie, "Mommy misses you so much, but you didn't take mommy with you when you went up."

Lilly, "!!!"

The little King of Hell covered her butt and ran away quickly, shouting, "Daddy... Help!!!"

Jean dashed forward.

Pablo looked at the chaos in the underworld with amusement and helplessness. It was obviously still the same Palace of Hell, but it was different from before.

That was good.

Chapter 1246 Distorted Thoughts

After Lilly left, Josh and Zachary did not find another place to practice, but kept their eye on the man who was stalking Raven.

The man's name was Joe Evryman. As his name suggested, he looked like a commoner, just like every other man. He was the kind of person you wouldn't notice even if you walked by.

However, what they didn't expect was that before Joe could do anything, there were already scandals on Ms. Berrycloth.

"Private photos of xx kindergarten teacher is leaked"

At first, Josh and Zachary thought it was Joe who took action. However, after seeing the photos, they were both stunned.

"Zac... I need to wash my eyes," Josh covered his eyes, feeling that this was not something he, a child, should see.

Zachary was speechless, "..."

Although he was taller and older than Josh...

However, he felt that this was not something he should see either!

Many of these leaked photos were high-definition and uncensored. The most important thing was that they were taken so close up as if they were right in front.

What was certain was that this was definitely not a candid photo taken by Joe...

"However, this seemed to be a photo taken in secret," Josh was confused, "They should be taken by someone she is familiar with, and they must be living together."

Photos of her just came out of the shower, wearing transparent pajamas...

In some of them, she was lying on the bed with her eyes closed, the bed messy, and her mouth was slightly open...

The most fatal thing was that there were two selfies mixed in the pile. Although they looked more conservative, her shoulders were exposed and her expressions were relatively seductive. Because of these two photos, it seemed as though the other photos were also taken by the "female teacher" herself.

There was an overwhelming amount of criticism on the internet, "Teachers are the kids' role models, this is not what a teacher should do!"

"She should be expelled from campus and have her teaching qualifications revoked!"

These were denounced with righteous indignation.

There were also some who took the opportunity to make nasty stereotypes.

"Female teachers are all like this. They are decent on the surface, but in fact they are wild in private."

"I hate the female teachers the most! I hired a tutor for my child before, and the female teacher got involved with my husband. Shameless bitch."

There were also those who were excitedly spreading rumors.

"I know this teacher! The surname is Lopez! It's from our kindergarten! She always dresses up very coquettishly to school and talks like a bitch. I knew she was like this."

"This teacher secretly has three boyfriends. Oh, and she also has affairs with a big boss. The boss seems to be in the jewelry business. The bracelet on her hand is said to be worth three million dollars."

These remarks were so messed up that they were like ghost-talks, except that the people were happier than the ghosts.

Raven had already taken leave and went home, and her face turned pale when she saw these photos!

She looked at her roommate with disbelief on her face, "When, when did you take these photos of me,? You...!"

The woman looked guilty, immediately held her hand, and said tremblingly, "I'm sorry, I really didn't know this would happen, I..."

Raven threw her hand away and said hysterically, "Go away! We shall not see each other again!"

She had never taken these photos, never said those words, let alone having three boyfriends or sugar daddies. She knew that her sexual orientation was not in line with the mainstream, so she had been trying hard to hide it, and she did not like to cause trouble to other people's lives.

She had worked very hard to restrain herself, to try to live like a normal person, and to look at the world with a positive attitude.

However, why did it become like this?

The other end...

In the dark room, heavy curtains blocked the sunlight outside.

A man looked through the photos over and over again, his eyes shining with obscene and lustful light.

"She is indeed a slut, dirty slut..." He cursed bitterly, "You can't hold it in any longer, can you? How badly do you want others to see you naked!"

This man was Joe.

Joe's original plan was to find a few people to abduct Raven and tie her to the bottom of the bridge this week. He had already contacted the people and the high-definition cameras were ready.

He didn't expect that something like this would happen first.

He immediately exposed some photos that he took.

"You would not even dare to imagine this teacher's private life."

"She is a lesbian, hahaha, so she looks down on men so much, but she still kneels at man's feet to beg!"

"This female teacher is a liar. She is a lesbian, and she is dating four men at the same time to cheat their money! Women are all trash, how disgusting!"

"That is shocking, I really feel sorry for those men who are taken for granted, hahaha!"

"The female teacher looks down on all men. She says they are all gorillas and they are disgusting."

The news that was already on the heat suddenly became even more sensational.

Lesbians were not accepted by the public, it was worse for it to be a homosexual scamming straight men.

"Lesbians are so disgusting, all lesbians should just die! How can there be such a thing as lesbians in this world? Immoral!"

"These are the people who have ruined the social order and they disgust me. I even vomited out my meal today."

"What, men are gorillas? So much so for the gentle little girls, they are so different from the mortal world. Their fist fights frightened me. "

"Hahaha, I just want to know how two women can physically do that...? I'm curious, so... Come to see me, I can help you with what a woman can't~"

Leaked photos, chaotic private lives, lesbianism, cheating on men, female fistfights...

All the elements were mixed together, and the comments became even nastier. Not only were there more people reprimanding it, but there were also a group of obscene and vulgar men who like to make love to others...

Looking at this, Joe felt the pleasure of revenge for the first time.

She deserved it, because she rejected him when he pursued her!

Wouldn't it be better if she just accepted him earlier? She would not have ended up this way!

What made Joe resentful the most was that Raven actually liked girls!

If she liked girls, then why did she dress so beautifully?

Wasn't she dressing up so beautifully to seduce men?

Otherwise, how could he be seduced and deceived, and confess his love to her but be rejected?

Chapter 1247 Well, The Little King Of Hell Is Unpredictable

Raven was mentally and physically exhausted, and her sexual orientation was also exposed at the same time as her private photos.

Still in a daze, she went to buy groceries, but she bumped into a colleague from school, a female teacher with whom she usually had a good relationship.

When she saw her, the other party gave an awkward smile and nodded.

Raven said, "What a coincidence, you are here to buy groceries too!"

As usual, she wanted to get closer.

However, the other party took two steps back suddenly, and soon realized that she had overreacted, and became even more embarrassed, "Ahem, I'm sorry, I suddenly remembered that I have something to attend to."

She left in a hurry.

Raven stared blankly at the back of her colleague as they left, her eyes gradually filled with tears.

After the incident, she also tried to go back to school and tried to resume a normal life.

However, the principal said that parents protested, fearing that her unusual orientation would affect their children, and jointly asked her to resign.

She had expected the parents' incomprehension, but her colleagues' incomprehension...

She was also mentally prepared, but she could not bear the strange looks from her colleagues and the deliberate alienation of her female colleagues.

Especially this time, her closest colleague, who was also a good friend in normal times, avoided her like a snake or a scorpion.

This broke Raven's last psychological defense.

When she went back that night, she posted a status in her social media feed——

"I know this is not everyone's problem, it's my own problem. I have no right to force others to understand me, but I have never caused any trouble to others. Goodbye, this world, I once really loved it."

**

Lilly ran and called her father for help. Although she didn't know where her father was, she quickly found him based on her intuition.

Blake closed his eyes, he was staying calm... Concentrating...

"Dad!!"

Oh, unable to concentrate, Blake suddenly opened his eyes.

"Dad, help! Mom is going to beat me up!" Lilly rushed towards Blake.

Blake smiled, "Huh? Really? I had the same intention too."

Lilly, "!!!"

Mixed doubles!

Sure enough, she was no longer their favorite little baby!

Lilly turned around quickly, and before she could pounce on Blake, she boomeranged back and ran away very smoothly.

Blake was speechless, "..."

Jean was speechless, "..."

Both of them found it funny and helpless, they would never beat her up, they were just saying it to scare her.

Blake stood up and said, "I'll cook for her."

Jean waved her hands quickly, "No, you better... Uh, you go on, I'll do the cooking."

After speaking, she gave him a quick glance.

Blake was speechless, "..."

Lilly did not dare to return to the Palace of the King of Hell, and went straight to the Second Palace.

"King of Styx! I have brought you food!"

When grandma asked her what she wanted to eat during the New Year, Margaret had already packed all the food for her.

Lilly, who had nowhere to go, suddenly remembered that she had promised to bring food to the King of Styx, and here she was.

The King of Styx walked out quickly with a look of surprise on his face, "King of Hell, you are back!"

Where is the food! Where is the food!

When Lilly arrived in the Second Palace, she found a table and started serving the food.

"My grandma made them all, and they are delicious!"

The King of Styx couldn't wait to pick up the black pepper pork knuckle.

"Hmm! Marvelous! It is indeed marvelous!"

It had been a long time since he last had human food. The King of Hell was awesome, she could even bring back food from the mortal world!

Lilly hid at the King of Styx's for a while, counting with her fingers... Mommy and daddy should have calmed down, right? She reckoned they no longer wanted to hit her.

The King of Styx asked, "King of Hell, what's wrong with you? What are you worried about?"

Of course Lilly could not say that she was afraid of being beaten when she got home!

She also had her ego.

Then there was a deep look on her little face, "Well, I think I will stay with you for a while, waiting..."

The King of Styx was puzzled, "What are you waiting for?"

Lilly, "Well, I am waiting for someone."

The King of Styx looked confused, but naturally he would not chase her away. This was the boss who introduced him to the delicacies.

At this moment, a ghost floated to the door of the Second Palace with a blank expression on her face.

The King of Styx frowned, "Why is there a living soul?"

Lilly looked over and was stunned for a moment.

She was surprised, "Raven?!"

How come she was dead... Oh, she was dead but not completely dead. The mortal world should be trying to rescue her.

Raven suddenly came to her senses when she heard someone calling her.

"This place is..."

She took a look at the gloomy atmosphere around her, and saw a fat man wearing a strict official uniform... The King of Hell!

She had come to the Palace of Hell!

Yes, she committed suicide and she should come here.

The King of Styx was also stunned, "King of Hell, is she the person you are waiting for..."

Wow, the little King of Hell was really clever and had great foresights!

He was just thinking that the little King of Hell would not come to his place and stay for so long without any reason. It turned out that she had already expected everything.

Much admiral!

Lilly frowned and looked at Raven, and asked, "Only those who hurt people's limbs, commit crimes and kill others in the mortal world will come to the Second Palace. Did you commit suicide?"

The King of Styx, who had his attention on food, asked, "How do you know she committed suicide?"

Although hurting one's own life and killing oneself was also counted as hurting someone's limbs and killing, perhaps this woman killed someone else or was killed by someone else?

Lilly looked at Raven's wrist, and there was an obvious cut there.

Chapter 1248 Wandering Back To The Mortal World

Lilly's mood was a little heavy. She had just seen Raven not long ago, and she was still fine.

Could it be that her two brothers didn't keep the watch and that wretched man got his way?

Raven couldn't stand the stimulation and so she committed suicide?

"Tell me what's going on," Lilly sat down at the side.

The King of Styx kept pulling her, "Come, King of Hell, take my seat!"

He pointed to his throne.

Lilly waved her hand, "No."

Raven was confused, she seemed to have met two Kings of Hell...

So there were two kings of hell in the underworld?

She lowered her eyes and soon became sad again.

"I..."

She explained what happened in the past few days.

Lilly sighed, this was the same as the two girls arranged to have an offline fight because of a verbal dispute online.

In today's era, audio-visual entertainment was developing fast, and the people's daily social interaction had already moved from reality to the internet.

Words kill people... It seemed that very few people could learn to be careful in their words and deeds.

"Go back, your time is not up yet."

Raven was stubborn, "No, I won't go back."

There was nothing left in that world worthy of her nostalgia.

Lilly asked, "If you don't go back in time, you will really die or end up a vegetative state. Are you sure?"

Raven nodded, "Yes."

She did not care.

The King of Styx frowned, "There is also the possibility of being possessed by other ghosts, your body will become someone else's body, and they can do whatever they want with your body... You don't mind?"

Raven was silent for a moment and nodded, "Well, I don't care anymore."

She really gave up.

The multiple blows from love, friendship, life and work left her with no courage to go back and face it again.

Lilly shook her head, "Do you think this is the best ending? You are not even afraid of death anymore, you might as well get back and throw some tantrums..."

The King of Styx coughed, "Ahem!"

He looked at Lilly with wide eyes, uh uh, what are you talking about? How could the King of Hell say such a thing?

Then he nodded, "Yeah, go back and throw a tantrum, don't you want to take revenge or something?"

He had just heard what happened to Raven, and he was actually a little angry. However, he had been one of the underworld kings for a long time and had encountered many outrageous things, so he gradually learned to be calm.

Raven never expected that the King of Hell would be like this...

After she died, she vaguely saw some comments:

"She must be feeling guilty, it's better for her to die, so as not to harm young people."

"She could not stand it and committed suicide? What does it have to do with us? It's not our problem that she had a poor ability to bear it."

"If she had the ability to be a lesbian, then she should have the ability to accept other people's strange looks. What did she mean?"

The world bullied her, humiliated her, lied to her, and ruined her. People ridiculed her, even slandered her and shouted that she deserved it.

Instead, when she arrived in the underworld, the two kings of hell told her to go back and go crazy and take revenge...

Raven suddenly cried.

Lilly's face was serious, "Of course, it's okay to go crazy, but you can't harm others!"

Otherwise, her Master would say that she was teaching the wrong lessons.

"Lilly? Time to go home for dinner!" The harem spirit came and called, "Your father said that you should go home for dinner."

The King of Styx's eyes lit up, "Dinner?"

Lilly made insinuating remarks, "Was my father decisive when he killed the chicken?"

The harem spirit was stunned and said strangely, "Yeah, he was decisive, he stabbed the free-range chicken right away."

Lilly was speechless, "..."

"Let's go, Ms. Berrycloth, I'm getting bored... I'll go up with you for a walk."

"Harem, if my father comes to see me, just say that I am having an epiphany."

Lilly sat cross-legged with the King of Styx and said to Raven, "Let's go!"

Raven was confused, "?"

The harem spirit too, "??"

The King of Styx secretly sighed: The little King of Hell is really dedicated, she is worthy of her throne as the King of Hell!

He must keep her true identity safe!

This was his long-term meal ticket!

He vowed to protect her no matter what, and even if he had to die, he would not let her die!

**

Raven returned to the mortal world again, and Lilly also came.

However, this time was special, she came back in the form of a soul.

She had never thought about it before, but this time she felt different.

There seemed to be a trickle of water between heaven and earth pouring into her soul...

Lilly was stunned for a moment, "Eh..."

She had never wandered too far in the mortal world before, and suddenly she felt as if she had missed something.

What exactly is it...

Lilly raised her head and looked into the air, frowning and thinking.

It was the first time for Raven to wander around like this with the King of Hell. Although the King of Hell was a child, she always felt inferior from her own destiny...

"What's wrong?" She asked anxiously.

Lilly waved her hand, "Nothing. You go on with your business, and I will follow you. You don't need to pay too much attention to me."

Raven, "Uh, okay..."

She quickly got into the mood.

She vowed to find out what was going on and why her private photos were leaked out all of a sudden!

As a ghost, she first stalked her original partner.

She couldn't forgive the other party for secretly taking photos of her without her consent, but she still couldn't figure it out!

However, after following for a long time, she suddenly discovered that her original partner didn't know how the photos were leaked, and she was also investigating it.

Out of guilt, her partner often came to the hospital to see her, but her parents drove her away.

Raven couldn't describe her mood. Just when she was about to leave the hospital, she turned around and met a pair of eyes in the corner unexpectedly...

Chapter 1249 Unusual Ghostly Encounter

Raven was startled.

Those eyes were extremely vicious and sinister. Even though Raven was now a ghost, she was still freaked out.

"Who is it?!"

She quickly looked over and found a man quietly lying next to the crack of the emergency exit door. He said nothing and stared directly at the ward.

Raven was now a ghost, so the other party naturally could not hear her voice or see her.

Raven only felt that this man looked familiar. After thinking about it for a long time, she suddenly remembered that he was a chef in the kindergarten...

Because he was not a teacher, she didn't see him very often, so Raven didn't recognize him at first sight.

However, after recognizing him, she quickly remembered that this man had confessed to her once before, but she rejected him.

Later, she heard that the chef had resigned, but she didn't think much about it.

"Why is he here..." Raven was stunned.

Lilly came to her senses and asked, "Do you remember him?"

Raven nodded, "He confessed to me..."

She paused and frowned, "To be precise, it was not a confession. He asked me on WhatsApp, 'Do you have a boyfriend?' I said no, but there was someone I like."

"When he asked this question, I didn't even know it was a confession. Then in the blink of an eye, I saw him posting a status on his social media, saying that his confession had been rejected..."

Raven vaguely guessed that he was talking about her, but that was not a confession, was it? She was not such a conceited person, and it was impossible for her to ask him, "You're not talking about me, are you?"

"I haven't heard from him since then. I don't know when he resigned. I just heard that the youngest guy in the kitchen quit, some time later."

From then on, the two had no contact either online or offline, and she never saw him again.

"That's why I'm so shocked, why is he here..."

When Raven and Lilly were talking about this, Joe was still staring at the door of the ward.

At this time, Raven's former girlfriend came out, and Joe's eyes moved from staring at the ward to staring at another girl.

He actually followed her.

Raven subconsciously followed her.

Lilly felt like a dandelion, fluttering in the wind, tagging along Raven.

She was practicing to upskill herself while investigating cases at the same time.

Raven followed, and she could clearly see that Joe followed Ivy.

Ivy was Raven's previous girlfriend, and she knew nothing about Joe's stalking at this time.

"What the hell is going on..." Raven was stunned.

Just when she felt her head was buzzing, Joe suddenly answered the phone, "Well... The time has changed..."

"People have also changed..."

"I will go over tomorrow, and go directly to her house."

"Ha... What does she have to disagree with? She is so sexy that her belly button is exposed even when she wears clothes. She wishes everyone could see her naked."

Lilly raised her head and realized that this man was much worse than the narrow-minded ghost.

He actually stalked two of them at once?

The narrow-minded ghost reluctantly attributed what he did to his hatred arising from love. On the other hand, Joe was plainly because... How should she put it, the feeling of hating all women and taking revenge on just any woman.

What Lilly didn't understand was that although it was clearly hatred, she could also see his "desire" for women - she didn't know whether this word was accurate.

Harem wasn't around either, so she couldn't ask her about it.

This man made her feel very uncomfortable, more uncomfortable than simply being chauvinistic and narrow-minded.

Lilly flew and billowed, she could feel that there were more and more substances in the air. While looking at Raven, she "ate" all these things that she still didn't understand and compressed them in her diaphragm.

Soon, she saw her two brothers.

Joe snooped on Ivy, while Josh and Zachary snooped on Joe.

The two of them held their breath and kept watch for the whole night.

"So sleepy..." Later in the night, Josh's eyelids were twitching, "No, wake up, I must not let my sister down."

Zachary on the other hand seemed to be asleep with his eyes closed.

Josh angrily cursed secretly, "Useless guy."

Zachary with his eyes closed muttered, "Who are you talking about?"

Josh yawned, "Nothing, just talking about ghosts."

While he was smiling, he raised his head at a 45° angle to look at the sky, and he really saw a ghost.

They saw Raven floating above their heads, her eyes staring straight at the stairwell on the 19th floor.

Josh was shocked, "!"

His eyes widened, he was so frightened that he almost could not catch his breath and went directly to the Hell.

Soon he really saw the King of Hell—

Lilly was wearing the official uniform of the King of Hell, sitting cross-legged next to Raven, winking at him.

Josh, "!!!"

"Zac... Zac!" Josh lost control and tugged on Zachary's sleeve.

Zachary frowned, finally opened his eyes, gave him a warning look, and then looked at the building opposite.

Ivy lived on the 19th floor of Unit 1, Building 1. At this moment, Joe was waiting at the safety exit of the stairwell on the 19th floor.

That was, at Ivy's door...

Josh and Zachary were on the 20th floor of Unit 2, Building 1, where they could see the stairwell on the 19th floor.

Zachary lowered his voice and scolded, "What are you screaming for? Are you wishing for others to find you?"

Josh was indeed the kid that never learnt his lessons to remain calm and collected, unlike himself.

Seeing that Josh was still staring in the air, Zachary frowned and was thinking to himself: At most, they just had a ghostly encounter, what could be the worst? He was already used to this after all this while.

In the next second...

"!!!"

Lilly?!

Chapter 1250 Looking Into Their Eyes

The green light of the "Exit] indicator light was very weak, making the dim stairwell looking even more sinister.

In this context, imagine there were two female ghosts floating above your head...

Who would not be frightened?

Especially the kid wearing the official uniform of the King of Hell, she looked even scarier——

Fortunately, Josh and Zachary were also people who had seen bigger things. What frightened them out of their wits was the fact that their sister had turned into a ghost.

"Lilly, you...!" Zachary was anxious, and his originally calm face was no longer calm.

Lilly hissed, "Don't worry, I'm just in a fuzzy state, I came up to take a look."

She pointed at Raven, "When I saw her coming to the underworld, I was a little curious about what happened."

She also wanted to save face by not mentioning that she would be spanked by her parents.

So Josh felt ashamed and said, "It's all our fault that we didn't handle it well..."

Zachary shushed.

The man on the opposite floor was very alert. He felt like he heard someone talking and looked around cautiously.

Josh and Zachary stopped talking and hid under the window.

Lilly and Raven were ghosts, and they were not worried about being seen.

The man in the building opposite quietly stuck out half of his head from the edge of the window, his eyes staring straight at the building opposite.

After a while, he looked back.

"Strange... No one is there, did I hear it wrongly?"

If someone actually spoke, the voice-activated light on the opposite building should light up.

Joe stood up, quietly walked to the door of Ivy's house, raised his hand and grabbed the door handle and pulled it gently.

Of course it could not be opened.

Ah...

There was a hint of malice in Joe's eyes, and he tiptoed to peek through the peephole on the door, trying to see if he could see what the people inside were doing...

Ivy was applying a facial mask. The young people tended to stay up late. For Ivy, the night life had just begun, so naturally she would not go to bed so early.

"Um?"

Why did she hear a sound at the door?

Ivy walked out and was about to open the door to take a look. Suddenly she thought it was not safe, so she looked into the peephole...

As a result, when she looked at it, she only saw darkness.

"There's nothing..."

Ivy was puzzled. She did hear the sound, but she didn't dare to open the door in the middle of the night.

"Never mind..."

Ivy confirmed that the door was locked, turned around and was about to walk back to the bedroom. Suddenly she thought of something. For a moment, her whole body froze, and fear filled her body!

Oh no...

This was not what she normally saw through a peephole at night!

Although the lights in the elevator were voice-activated, they did not come on when no one was around.

It was indeed dark at night.

However, her peephole was a smart peephole with infrared night vision function!

In other words, even if it was pitch dark outside, she could still see the outside clearly. The difference from daytime was that when it's dark at night, the picture was just black and white!

Therefore, it was impossible to see only pitch black!

There was only one possibility...

There was something dark stuck to the peephole at the door...

In other words, there was indeed someone outside, and her peephole was covered.

After thinking about this, Ivy felt that the hairs all over her body were standing up, her scalp was numb, and the fear in her heart was surging. Her screams were stuck in her throat. She ran towards the bedroom quickly, not daring to look back.

"Hello... 911..." Ivy frantically called the police.

In the opposite building.

Lilly said, "Brother, you two go back first."

She heard Ivy calling the police.

Raven floated to Ivy's door with a complicated look on her face.

Now she understood that the private photos were indeed not released by Ivy.

However, she found it unacceptable for her to secretly take photos of her without her consent.

Because some of those photos were from two years ago, this meant that Ivy secretly photographed her for two years without telling her. Even if the photos were not released, that was not right.

"I remembered that she initially offered to take pictures of me, but I refused."

So Ivy was very aware of her resistance and unwillingness to take photos, but still secretly took so many private photos without telling her.

Raven couldn't tell what her mood was for a moment. When they were together, they were obviously very happy and respected each other, so why did this happen?

Lilly glanced at her and sighed.

Ms. Berrycloth, it seems that now is not the time to talk about the photos.'

The police came soon, and Ivy finally had the courage to open the door, and she sounded like she was crying as she spoke.

"There are no traces of anything being stuck on the peephole. Madam, did you see it wrongly?"

The police looked around and found no trace of anything, and there was nothing in the stairwell.

"Impossible..."

Ivy insisted, "I just looked through the peephole and it was all black. It is impossible!"

Everyone entered the room, waited for the lights outside to turn off, and tested it on the spot.

It was true that even in darkness, they could still see the outside. Except for being black and white, everything else could be seen clearly.

"Ma'am, are you too nervous and haven't had a good rest? Did you make a mistake?"

"If something was stuck to the peephole, it would definitely leave some traces. No matter how clean it is, there will still be traces."

"Assuming someone is really playing a prank, there will be traces of pasting on the peephole, and the thing shouldn't be taken off so quickly."

Some of the police were taking notes, some were making inquiries, and some were investigating.

There was really no problem and nothing could be asked.

Ivy was dumbfounded for a moment. Did she really see it wrong just now?

She had no idea that she was not wrong, but when she was looking out the peephole, the person outside was also looking in.

The darkness she saw was the other person's eyes...