Chapter 1316 King Earthid

Lilly already recognized who the person in front of her was.

She had clues from the old monk. She also got the Stone Scroll when Blake took her to Mount Cape.

The five gods of the underworld were Emperor Eastmount, Emperor Greenbow, Emperor Prosper, King Earthid, and Queen Earthen.

There was a betrayer among the five people, but something was strange. There were only five people, all of whom were top figures in the underworld, but they could not find the betrayer.

Lilly connected all the clues until she came up with the answer. It only took a moment.

“You’re King Earthid, right?” Lilly said through gritted teeth.

The bad aura that prepared to penetrate her was stunned!

With this slight chance, Lilly finally escaped from the bad aura!

She stood in mid-air above the bad aura, unbelievable, and felt that everything was traceable.

“To be precise, you’re not King Earthid.”

Lilly stared at the bad aura. “A person can be both real and fake, one good and one evil. You imprison the real King Earthid.”

She finally understood what the old monk said, “We’ll meet soon.”

They did meet, but the bad aura was not the old monk.

This bad aura had the old monk’s shadow, but it had already been able to counter the old monk.

“One good and one evil each is one person?” Lilly showed a trace of sarcasm. “I was wrong. You’ve never become a person. It turns out that you’re only King Earthid’s shadow.”

Lilly stared at the bad aura, which had no substance, and she thought again of the weird and mysterious man in the black robe.

She already felt the black-robed man was strange but could not tell what it was

It turned out the black-robed man was not a human or a ghost. He was only a shadow!

12

The real King Earthid was the old monk she met that day. D

The bad aura, or the mysterious man in the black robe, was only the shadow of the old monk.

Could a fake person reach enlightenment through a moment of epiphany?

He was fake and evil, or he got controlled by an obsession and fell into hell.

Lilly murmured, “I finally solved the question Jessie once asked me. You’re not a King at all. You’re not worthy of the title King Earthid. What you’ve pursued all your life will never be yours. Can’t you understand?”

Although she was still nine years old and had no memories of the past, she could somehow see through the future of the bad aura.

It was doomed to fail.

Her words hit the most painful part of the bad aura.

In an instant, it exploded into the air. The murderous intent was so strong that it affected the small ghost beast on the tree. It fell from the branch and struggled painfully on the ground.

Lilly used her pen to break through and understand the past and present life of the bad aura.

The

pen of judgment was like a sharp sword hanging on the sin and issuing a judgment.

The most powerful thing about the pen of judgment was naturally not its force value but its ability to judge the world and the three realms.

Boom! A dazzling golden light lit up, and the bad aura got suppressed and retreated until it got pinned to the ground.

However, in only an instant, the bad aura suddenly dispersed as if it had never existed. It disappeared without leaving any trace.

Lilly's heart sank.

Chapter 1317 Entering Mount Everest

Lilly felt pain all over her body, and her wounds kept bleeding.

Although she was in the underworld, she was not a ghost. She would bleed and feel pain. She had experienced many things before, but nothing was as painful as this time.

It was a pain in which bones and internal organs got crushed.

Lilly fell to the ground while panting continuously, and her chest hurt.

The original ghost lord Dennis was now only a puddle of burnt black. He was not soul dissipated but was like burnt black charcoal, and his body was as if dehydrated. At first glance, he looked like a mummy for thousands of years.

He remained motionless with his mouth wide open and was dead again.

It was the first time Lilly knew that ghosts could die again, not only in the soul dissipated but also in other ways.

Staring at Dennis' body, she always felt a little uneasy. It was an inexplicable intuition.

Lilly flew out a fireball. It was better and safer to burn Dennis's body.

Unexpectedly, the familiar bad aura appeared when the fire started to burn. This time, it was not a billowing bad aura but a wisp as thick as an arm.

Lilly directly used the pen of judgment. She would rather waste her spirit energy to eliminate it!

An inexplicable scream sounded in the void.

Those screams were very similar to the people, which were lower, noisy, and indescribably terrifying.

After eliminating the bad aura, Lilly breathed a sigh of relief. She rested for a while and looked at a tree not far away.

There was a ghost beast under the tree. It was lying on the ground with a fluff on its tail sticking straight up. Lilly wondered whether it was dead or alive.

Lilly walked over tremblingly, pinched its tail, and picked it up.

"Hey, are you still alive?" Lilly poked the small beast ghost's cheek.

The small ghost beast tilted and did not wake up, but it seemed safe lying on Lilly's shoulder.

So, it tightly hooked Lilly's clothes.

Lilly originally wanted to take it off and put it temporarily in the jar of souls, but it hooked her clothes too tight, and she did not have much strength, so she had to give up.

Here was the foot of Mount Everest. Lilly looked at Everest, then at the blurry Mount Everest. After hesitating, she walked resolutely toward Mount Everest.

She knew very well the bad aura she had killed was only a clone of that mysterious man. It was not his real body.

When she sentenced Dennis just now, she was so close to him that she could not feel the bad aura hidden in his body.

Lilly got seriously injured at this time, and she felt that returning to Everest to heal her injuries was not a good choice.

Only a handful of distracted bad auras could seriously injure her. What if she bumped into that mysterious man in the black robe when she returned to Everest?

Crawford Ancestor and Blake could not save her. Except for Queen Earthen, whose whereabouts were still unknown, who might be able to stop the mysterious man in the black robe, Lilly felt that no one could fight him anymore.

Lilly suddenly thought of Ivan but quickly shook her head.

Maybe Ivan was hiding from the mysterious man in a black robe by disguising himself like that.

In short, before she had the strength, it was the best choice not to approach the black-robed man.

Lilly poked the small ghost beast's cheek again, but it did not wake up. Lilly guessed Crawford Ancestor would be worried, so she could only summon the unlucky ghost.

"Mr. Unlucky, please find Crawford Ancestor, and then go back to the underworld to tell Master and my parents I'm fine..."

The unlucky ghost was still out of the situation. What happened? Why is Lilly covered in injuries?

The unlucky ghost asked anxiously, "Lilly, are you okay? Why don't you go back to the underworld?"

Lilly shook her head. "It's too far away. I have to heal myself immediately."

She had a lot of elixir in her ring, so she did not have to worry about healing. The more important thing was to seize the time to hide and heal.

The unlucky ghost kept saying, "Then you must be careful!"

Lilly smiled. "Don't worry, I'm a lucky star!"

The unlucky ghost quickly floated away.

Lilly entered Mount Everest without looking back and dared not to stop for a moment. She flew straight toward the deepest part of the mountain.

Five minutes later.

Someone floated in the distance and soon reached where Dennis got burned into nothingness. He narrowed his eyes slightly.

"Run away?" The black-robed man's eyes were sinister. He raised his hand, and a flower lamp floated above his palm.

After a while, the black-robed man locked his gaze on Mount Everest.

At this moment, he thought of Ivan, whom he had been chasing. The more he attacked, the stronger Ivan became, and now Ivan had reached a higher point that he could not underestimate. If he did not crush his opponents when they were weak, it would be even more difficult for him when they grew up.

The black-robed man stepped into Mount Everest without any hesitation.

Not long after the black-robed man left, about five minutes later, Ivan appeared on the spot this time.

He glanced around and found traces of battles. Assuming Lilly did not win, she probably went there.

Ivan looked at Mount Everest and intuitively knew that Lilly would choose there without even thinking about it.

So, he stepped into Mount Everest without stopping.

Chapter 1318 The Weirdness of Mount Everest

Ivan and the black-robed man entered Mount Everest one after another.

It did not take long before Crawford Ancestor and Cloud came. Crawford Ancestor was on full alert. Knowing that Lilly had stepped into Mount Everest, his heart had already sunk to the bottom.

Cloud asked, "What's wrong?"

He was very irritable. It was the first time since his death that he had been so helpless. He was like an ant watching an elephant fight and could do nothing!

He could not help anything or see everything.

Crawford Ancestor said, "Behind Mount Everest is Mount Cape. No novice ghost has ever been able to step into it. Even with my strength, I don't dare to step in easily. We must find her father as soon as possible! I'll go in first. You go find Blake with the unlucky ghost."

Cloud wanted to say something. But what else could he say?

Before leaving, Crawford Ancestor looked deeply at Cloud. "The situation is too critical. I can't protect you two, so I can only leave you temporarily. You must be careful."

Cloud immediately said, "Go find Lilly. Don't worry about me! I've been through many battles during my lifetime. I can protect myself!"

Crawford Ancestor was sad, but he could do nothing about it. Even though he did not want to let his great-great-grandchildren out of sight, he was the one who brought them out.

The unlucky ghost sighed while feeling anxious and helpless. "Let's go... Forget it. I'd better not follow you."

On the way here, Cloud fell twice and was hit in the face four times by branches. If it were not for Crawford Ancestor holding Cloud back, Cloud would not have come so quickly.

Cloud said, "Let's act separately. You can't protect me much. I'll go alone."

The unlucky ghost took a few steps back and asked, "Where are you going now?"

Cloud counted the time and wondered if Jean was still with Bettany. If Jean came down, Blake would also arrive in the underworld.

If Blake and Jean came down, they would find that Lilly was not in the underworld. Pablo would tell them where Lilly went, and Blake would probably take Jean to find Lilly.

Blake's tracking ability was better. If he were looking for Lilly, he would arrive at Everest soon.

"I'll go to Everest. You go to the underworld."

The two ghosts separated, but Cloud did not expect that after he left, two more figures appeared in the same place!

Blake was carrying Jean solemnly.

"Lilly is in danger." Blake looked up and took Jean decisively toward Mount Everest.

When Jean heard that something happened to Lilly, she asked anxiously, "What's going on? You said you found Lilly's whereabouts. Why would Lilly..."

It turned out that they had come all the way. Although they looked relaxed, they wanted to see Lilly soon.

Blake was fast and could easily find the paths Lilly, Crawford Ancestor, and Cloud had taken, so he had already searched for information about Lilly when he arrived at Everest.

When they learned that Lilly, Crawford Ancestor, and Cloud were hunting, they followed the routes. Unexpectedly, Blake felt something was wrong when they found the place.

There had been a battle here, and there were dots of blood on the ground. He could feel Lilly's aura without having to verify it.

Lilly must be hurt.

"Find Lilly first!" Blake took Jean in his arms and led her quickly to Mount Everest.

Lilly did not know that after she entered Mount Everest, not only was the black-robed man chasing her, but also Ivan, Crawford Ancestor, Blake, and Jean.

The further she walked into Mount Everest, the thicker the eerie fog.

Lilly was naturally familiar with the eerie fog. She first saw it at Abyss of Ghosts and later followed Blake to Mount Cape. Standing at the foot of Mount Cape and looking down, she also saw the eerie fog surrounding Mount Cape.

The eerie fog in Mount Everest was not as good as that in the Abyss of Ghosts and Mount Cape.

Lilly's breathing became difficult, and she saw strange eyes lighting up in the forest. Some shapeless ghost beasts approached her.

She had no choice but to wave again. The golden light lit up, and she disappeared.

Lilly did not know what kind of those ghost beasts were, but they were much more ferocious than the rabbit outside.

She did not want to waste her energy fighting them. Firstly, it would hold her back, and secondly, it would consume her energy.

Now, she must race against time to find a place to stay.

She used teleportation repeatedly. The further inside she went, the more ghost beasts there were.

Lilly did not know where she was going, and a new species appeared. Those ghost beasts were different from the shapeless ghost beasts outside.

With the taller bodies and heavier hostilities, Lilly felt a crisis.

Moreover, those ghost beasts did not appear one after another but appeared in groups. They immediately surrounded Lilly.

“No wonder Crawford Ancestor said no one can climb Mount Everest...”

In this situation, she would have gotten trapped here if she had not learned teleportation.

Lilly had not forgotten that under the Abyss of Ghosts, any obsession would become an obsession that trapped her. If she had been fighting ghost beasts in Mount Everest for a long time, the ending would be the same!

Lilly gritted her teeth and raised her hand. The golden light lit up, and she disappeared again.

The ghost beasts widened their eyes.

Compared with the peripheral ghost beasts, their IQs were almost equal to those of twelve- year-old humans. The prey they were about to hunt suddenly disappeared. They felt shocked and confused.

Lilly escaped and landed in a mountain col again.

She could not remember how many times she had seen such mountain cols or how many times she had teleported. She only knew that the spirit energy in her purple elixir field was getting less.

She did nothing. Only teleporting away from Mount Everest almost used up all her energy.

“I can’t go on like this...” Lilly gritted her teeth and looked around. Suddenly, she felt terrified.

Chapter 1319 The Woman in Mount Everest

It was quiet all around before Lilly reacted. There was no ghost beast here.

There were the most ghost beasts on Mount Everest. It could not be because the ghost beast had not found this place. It only meant that even the ghost beast dared not approach this place!

Lilly looked around cautiously and was alert. She felt like something was watching her.

At this moment, the small ghost beast on her shoulder happened to wake up faintly, climbed up, and sat on Lilly’s shoulder. It rubbed its eyes with a confused look.

Suddenly, the fur all over its body exploded.

The small ghost beast struggled desperately, and its legs were trembling. It was obvious that it wanted to run at the first moment, but its legs went weak and could not run.

Lilly whispered, “Be quiet!”

The small ghost beast hugged its head while its teeth chattered. After that, it got into Lilly’s collar and covered itself.

Lilly did not have time to look at it because she heard the heartbeat.

Lilly turned around cautiously and slowly but still could not see anything. Even the eerie fog seemed to have disappeared.

The surrounding mountains and forests became clear, but this clarity made Lilly feel terrified. She heard someone approaching her but could not see where that person was.

Thump thump! The heartbeat was getting more violent!

Suddenly, Lilly's back stiffened. She covered the small ghost beast on her shoulders, turned around, and flew out the pen of judgment!

As a result, Lilly found that a mummy-like woman had been attached to her back.

For some reason, Lilly subconsciously thought of a scene of a piece of human skin covering a body.

She took a few steps back, but the woman disappeared.

Lilly felt something strange but did not know what it was.

Thump thump! The heartbeat started again. It was closer this time. Lilly still could not see anyone.

She gritted her teeth and closed her eyes. She was so alert that she used her intuition to feel her surroundings.

There was a slight coldness approaching her left ear.

Lilly struck first. She held the pen of judgment and suddenly attacked toward the left shoulder!

A woman's scream sounded, and Lilly almost used all her strength. Ten teleportations were no match for one time of pen of judgment. She would be exhausted.

She moved so fast that the small ghost beast on her shoulders got thrown away.

"Who are you..." Lilly looked around and approached the small ghost beast to pick it up.

The small ghost beast had already rushed up her leg and hugged it tightly.

Thump thump! The heartbeat was coming again!

Lilly closed her eyes again. There was no way. She could not see the woman and could only feel it through intuition.

Lilly desperately wanted to sense that woman and was forced to activate her powerful memory ability. Lilly's mind flashed through images of the time she had just arrived and also. images of the woman appearing twice.

Suddenly, Lilly's head hurt, and she felt a cold feeling in the direction of her legs. Lilly did. not have time to think much and attacked again.

The woman screamed and disappeared again.

Lilly's head was buzzing. The headache was worse than the injuries on her body, and she felt dizzy. She did not understand what happened, but the strange feeling in her heart deepened as if the woman was not attacking her.

The memories were still flipping frame by frame, and Lilly's mind showed three scenes of women chasing her down.

The first time was close to her back, the second was on her left shoulder, and the third was on her leg.

Lilly suddenly looked at the small ghost beast holding her leg.

She immediately picked up the small ghost beast and placed it on her right shoulder.

The small ghost beast shivered. Ms. Hades is the best! She protects me!

Thump thump! The heartbeat was coming again!

Before the small ghost beast had time to bury itself in Lilly's collar, the woman came close to Lilly.

This time, Lilly was prepared and speculated on a possibility, so she focused all her energy on her right shoulder.

She was one step faster than the woman. Before the woman could get close to her, she struck the woman with the pen of judgment.

The

pen of judgment hit the woman's head.

The woman did not expect Lilly to be so fast. She was stunned and disappeared soon, but this time Lilly saw clearly.

She only felt horrified. This woman's face turned black, similar to Dennis' tragic condition! Was that woman also related to the black-robed man?

However, Lilly was determined. The woman's target was not her but the small ghost beast.

Lilly looked at the small ghost beast and pondered.

The small ghost beast looked at Lilly with tears to thank her for protecting it. But the next moment, Lilly threw it away.

The small ghost beast fell to the ground and was dumbfounded! And it could not move!

The small ghost beast was trembling and full of accusations. Lilly was more cunning than Crawford Ancestor!

Chapter 1320 Mental Power

The small ghost beast wanted to escape, but it could not.

It buried its head in the fallen leaves, and its little tail raised to the sky.

Lilly stared at the small ghost beast and heard the heartbeat again. She did not dare to be careless. She would be doomed if the woman's target was not the small ghost beast but her.

So, she spread all her energy around and intuitively sensed the existence of strange women.

The pain in her head was getting worse. It was so painful that Lilly could hardly breathe.

She held on and forced herself to persevere. At the same time, her gaze never left the little ghost beast's tail.

She concentrated and spread her energy around.

The sound of that heartbeat seemed to drive her heartbeat. Her heartbeat resonated with that heartbeat. It made her feel very uncomfortable. Her brain and her chest seemed to be about to explode.

Hold on a little longer... Hold on for one more second...

Lilly kept cheering herself up. Suddenly, the world disappeared in her eyes and left only her thoughts!

Finally, she saw the air twisting inexplicably, and a woman's face appeared.

This time, Lilly could see it very clearly. The woman stared at the small ghost beast on the ground, opened her mouth wide, and wanted to bite at it terrifyingly.

The small ghost beast was so scared that it peed.

Lilly grabbed the small ghost beast. When she held the pen and flicked out a golden light, she felt a few drops of wet stuff sprinkle on the back of her hand.

She had no time to explore. She flew over, tried to grab the woman's hair, and pulled her out of the air!

However, the woman disappeared inexplicably!

Lilly felt her movements getting heavier, and her feet softened. Then, she fell to the ground!

With only a move, she had squandered all the spirit energy in the purple elixir field!

What happened? She estimated that the spirit energy in her elixir field should be enough for her to perform the pen of judgment three more times. Why was it all used up now?

Blake said she had to leave a way out for herself at all times, so she did not use a special move. when using the pen of judgment.

Even when she fought against that bad aura, she kept it hidden. If she faced the black-robed man, she could attack him by surprise and escape even if she could not kill him. But she had. squandered all the spirit energy she left for herself to run away.

What did she do? She only grabbed the woman's hair but did not even catch it.

Other than that, she only used the pen of judgment. It should not be the case!

There was no time for Lilly to think much. The woman was unwilling to give in, and the heartbeat started again.

Lilly knew the woman was about to appear again. The small ghost beast hugged her wrist. tightly.

Lilly took a deep breath and collapsed on the ground, but she still squeezed a bit of spirit energy from her body to build strength.

She was still concentrating her energy. At this moment, she did not realize that her mental power was getting consumed faster.

Soon, Lilly could see her surroundings more clearly. She saw a woman hiding behind the air while staring at her strangely.

Lilly thought it was because she had experience and figured out the opponent's tricks, so she saw it.

Then, she saw the strange woman rushing out of the air and wanted to bite her wrist!

“I’ve got you!” Lilly grabbed the woman’s hair with all her strength! It did not matter if she could not move. She still had weight.

Lilly held the woman’s hair tightly to prevent her from running away and pressed against the woman’s mummy-like body.

She could not tell whether she was a real mummy or a soul.

“Want to run away?” Lilly did not know why, but she was not afraid anymore. She seemed to confirm the woman would not hurt her and only wanted to eat the small ghost beast.

The small ghost beast was so frightened that the fur on its body exploded. It quickly rolled off Lilly’s wrist and retreated several meters away.

Then, it quickly climbed up a tree, held the branches with fear, and looked at Lilly and the woman underneath.

So fierce! That woman wants to eat me! Ms. Hades is also heartless!

Lilly pressed against the woman while breathing heavily. The woman struggled desperately to break free and escape.

Lilly shouted, “Don’t run! Or I’ll crush you with a dumbbell!”

As soon as she finished speaking, a dumbbell appeared in her hand. The dumbbell continued to enlarge and press on the woman.

Lilly was still worried the woman would run away, so she used a spirit compass and containment spirit net to tie the woman tightly.

It’s not enough. Lilly had not forgotten her feelings. She did not know if the woman was a soul or a real mummy. The spirit compass and containment spirit net could only trap the soul.

So she took out the rope, tied the woman up again, and finally tied the other end to the dumbbell, which became as big as the truck.

After doing that, Lilly sat on the side while holding the magic pan and stared at the woman.

The woman also stared at Lilly and muttered, but Lilly did not know what she was talking about.
