

Eight Uncles 181

Chapter 181

The girl's family were in the lowest of low spirits, the light in their eyes slowly fading.

The girl heard the ding of her phone again and again, not even daring to take a single look.

But not looking would hurt too...

She closed her eyes and turned on her phone, all hope devoid in her heart.

To her surprise, she came across many private messages to her account that were positive.

All of them were apologizing...

"What's going on?" The girl was shocked.

Her parents hurried over as well, and realized that the tables had turned completely!

They found the original video after a bit of digging. The police had released an official statement about content creator Harvard Schumacher pretending to be one of the girls who had nearly drowned, posting videos with horrible sentiments on her behalf and disrupting public peace. He was arrested on the 15th.

The girl's real account had also been found, and her comments had been flooded with echoes of apology after apology.

The girl was moved to tears. Her hope in the world had been reignited!

As for Harvard, he got hated on like crazy. His accounts were all banned, but netizens managed to dig up his parents' numbers.

Karma had finally gotten its turn.

Harvard's parents got hell...

Their relatives and friends were also asking about their son in mocking tones. Incensed, they went looking for their son.

"I'd like to rip him a new one!" Harvard's father cursed.

Harvard's mother sighed. "Tell him to come home, come on!"

This made her husband all the more enraged. "How am I supposed to do that? Give him a call? He's not going to listen unless you beat the hell out of him."

Harvard's mother sobbed, "I told him not to go, but he just wouldn't listen! He's left home for eight years, but never comes home with any money. I'd rather he stayed dumb! At least he'd just work hard, instead of getting into trouble!"

The couple knew early on that their son was a smart kid.

He was so smart he never paid any attention in class, so smart he never wanted to just get a job and work hard, always thinking of ways to get rich quickly.

His poor parents worried day and night for him, terrified that he would do something terrible that would bring trouble to the family.

But he was their son, and they couldn't just abandon him...

Harvard did not know any of this.

After Lilly and Blake left, Harvard became more honest.
He answered every question he was asked and pleaded guilty.
However, until he was released and saw his parents picking him up, he complained about the grievances he had bottled up for a long time. "What's the point of you coming here now?"
If they were rich and powerful, they should have gotten him out of that place.
Harvard's mother tried hard to persuade him, "Harvard, please come back with us..."
Harvard shook off his mother's hand, and said angrily, "What can I do if I go back? Do I get to inherit your wealth?"
Harvard's father was so angry and he cursed loudly, "Whatever! Let him leave! I don't have a son anymore!"
Harvard was about to speak when suddenly, an invisible black air flew out of him and drifted towards the parking lot.

Harvard burst into tears immediately, and threw himself into his father's arms, "Daddy, daddy!"

Harvard's parents who were about to leave in anger were confused

Harvard's tears and snot streamed down his nose as his eyes became dull. He did not wipe off his snot as it flowed into his mouth.

Harvard's parents were dumbfounded as Harvard was acting irrationally all of a sudden.

At the parking lot, Harvard's soul drifted towards Lilly and he understood what was happening. He was terrified.

"No, I don't want to die, I just figured out the algorithm..." Harvard floated out.

He could still make a fortune, but this time he must be careful not to let others find him.

Pablo wrote down a few notes in the booklet, and said coldly, "You're just a human who became a ghost, I can't keep you here!"

Harvard shouted, "Then why did you arrest me? What qualifications do you have to do so?"

Pablo closed the booklet, and without a trace of emotion, he said, "I am a judge, how dare you say I'm not qualified to judge you,?"

Harvard went silent.

Jonas opened his eyes and his pupils shrank.

He did not know that a woman slept next to him. Her face was too pale and she looked a little strange. Her eyes were fixed on him and touched his face with her hair.

Upon seeing him wake up, the woman smiled, "You're awake~"

Jonas jumped up like a spring, he had never been this surprised before!

"Who are you?" he snapped.

Although he was taken aback, he tried not to think she was a ghost.

He had too many paparazzi following him. It was normal for his door to be pried open when he stayed in a hotel.

However, right now, that woman was the first one to open his door and was lying next to him!

It was scary thinking about it!

The female ghost slowly got up, sat on the bed and pulled her clothes off, revealing her round shoulders, and said shyly, "Time is a valuable thing, but tonight, I'm yours..."

Jonas froze.

Enduring the chill, he said coldly, "Get out!"

The female ghost stood up resentfully, with a grievance on her face.

"What's wrong with me, Jonas?" She continued, "I'm dead because of you. I'm already pitiful, can't you feel sorry for me..."

Jonas frowned, feeling that his stalker had some mental issues.

Since she was wearing a long skirt, he still did not notice anything unusual, until she floated straight from the bed in front of him, her feet did not touch the ground, and her toes were hanging...

Jonas was surprised.

She's a ghost!

He was numb, and suddenly thought of the ghost story Lilly told him before going to bed.

Was it possible to attract ghosts if the bed was not full?

The female ghost raised her head and looked at him obsessively, "Why aren't you talking, Jonas? I've been your fan before you debuted, don't you remember me?"

Jonas' heart was pounding like a runaway horse, how could he remember? He could not remember anything at all.

Although people said that he was a scum, he never engaged with his fans. Let alone interacting with fans in private.

Jonas furrowed his eyebrows "I'm not talking about the dumplings, I'm talking about the ghost. The story you told me yesterday... I really saw a female ghost!"

Lilly looked at him suspiciously, "There is no female ghost,"

However, it was true that Jonas had a bad aura in him.

Jonas immediately said, "It's normal for you not to be able to see, she's just over..."

He was about to point to the side but suddenly found that the female ghost was gone.

Jonas looked around in astonishment, but the female ghost was gone.

Did she run?

Pablo went out to check and came in after a while and said, "It should have run away, it left quite fast too,"

He looked at Jonas, "Were you unlucky? I think you met with a malignant spirit,"

Lilly asked, "What about the swelling?"

Pablo's eyes flickered, since the ghost had already found Jonas, of course, he was going to lure it out.

Lilly crawled to the side of the bed, stood up, and reached Jonas's chest.

"Please lower your head, Uncle Jonas," She tipped her toes and stretched her hands.

Jonas bent down.

Lilly patted his head, muttering, "I'm patting your head, everything will be fine."

Then her little hand patted his shoulders and legs, "I'm touching your legs, everything will be okay,"

Jonas was silent.

The bad aura disappeared.

Jonas his body being light and calmed down.

Pablo grinned, "Who taught you all this?"

Lilly answered Pablo, and pointed, "My master!"

Jonas still remained silent.

He remembered that his eldest brother told him that Lilly had a master by her side. Maybe she was tortured while growing up and wanted someone to protect her.

But there is another possibility, that is if her master really existed, how could Lilly know Gilbert's phone number?

However, at that time, Jonas did not take it seriously and was more inclined to believe that Lilly had a psychological problem. There was also an argument because Anthony did not send Lilly to see a psychiatrist...

However, right now...

Jonas subconsciously pushed his glasses but realized that he did not even have them.

Chapter 185

Outside the Crawford Mansion, the parents of the girl who jumped off the building were crying and rolling on the ground.

"My child...you'll pay for my child..."

"The rich are cruel, and don't care about the life of a poor child!"

Apart from the girl's parents, there were also relatives of their family shouting.

Jack came out and frowned, "I'm sorry for your loss. But this has nothing to do with the Crawford family, please leave!"

The girl's family was taken aback, "What do you mean? You killed our child, you're just gonna sit there and do nothing about it?"

Others also exclaimed, "Don't you have any mercy?"

"What do you mean it has nothing to do with you? Isn't it too unreasonable?"

Jack was calm and analyzed the situation.

"Then may I ask, has your child ever contacted anyone in our family?"

The girl's parents remained silent.

That meant that she did not do so.

They searched through her diary, phone, and socials, but they could not see a reply from Jonas, not even a reply from the official support team.

Jonas was a star, how could an ordinary person contact them?

"But my daughter died because of Jonas!" The father of the girl who jumped off the building gritted his teeth with grief and indignation on his face.

Jack looked at him and asked, "Excuse me, did Mr. Leo tell her to jump off a building? Did she call Mr. Leo before jumping?"

The girl's parents were silent.

If she did not have his contact, how could she interact with Jonas? They were being irrational.

Jack asked again, "None? Has she met with Mr. Leo? Did she interact with him?"

Everyone had been arrested as the mother of the girl cried, "The police are beating someone up!" She continued, "They're indecent, help!"

Eventually, the commotion stopped. They might have been gagged by a piece of cloth.

Jack straightened his tie and then walked back to the mansion.

He walked gracefully as if nothing happened.

At this time his phone rang, he answered it then said in surprise, "It's her?"

On the phone, Anthony said, "I've sent the information to you,"

Jack said, "Okay, I'll take care of it!"

After hanging up the phone, Jack checked his phone and was speechless.

It never occurred to him that the address of the Crawford Mansion was leaked from that woman. It was too cheap for her to just drive her away.

Priscilla!

Why was that annoying woman still here?

Jack did not want to see her at all, so he made a phone call immediately.

"Hey... Help me deal with someone. The address was sent to your mobile phone. What do you mean we killed someone? Our family is innocent, how could we do something illegal?"

We're law-abiding citizens!

After hanging up the phone, Jack muttered, "This woman shouldn't live long,"

If she managed to survive, it meant that he failed.

The police officers in the detention center saw Priscilla falling to the ground and foaming at the mouth and hurriedly called the prison doctor.

After an examination, the prison doctor could not figure out what was wrong with her.

"She has no problem, the heart is normal, the CT scan is normal, the blood test is normal...everything is normal."

She was healthy.

But why did she foam at the mouth and roll her eyes?

Several prison guards looked at each other and understood.

One of them sneered, "Another prisoner who pretended to be crazy to avoid getting put in jail? I caught one last time and he pretended to have amnesia,"

The prison doctor nodded, and after a rigorous discussion and report, it was finally determined that Priscilla was pretending to be sick to avoid going to prison.

The prison doctor woke her up, then the prison guards pulled her back and kept her locked up.

Priscilla felt bitter, but she could not tell what was wrong with her. Her mouth and eyes were crooked but they thought she was faking it.

Why was she so pitiful?

No one saw that there was a female ghost lying on top of Priscilla, cursing and vomiting.

“She’s lovesick, how disgusting!”

She was so unlucky she had to meet Priscilla, who was the worst human being she had ever seen.

The female ghost suppressed her nausea and consumed the bad aura on Priscilla’s body. She then left Priscilla’s body and spat it out.

“Dogs wouldn’t even eat this!” The female ghost walked away with displeasure.

Priscilla was locked in the detention center, and she would not be able to escape for three to five years. Men and women were separated in the prison. At least she would not have any delusional thoughts for these years.

That would teach her how to be a decent person,

Priscilla looked at the sky outside the iron bars, weeping silently, feeling that her fate was unfair.

She was supposed to be a heroine, but she was unrecognizable for her talent. She had not even met her true love, a person who truly loved her, spoiled her, and would even die for her.

The film and television company that Jonas was working for was Taylor Entertainment.

It was a cloudy day, and the dark clouds outside hung low, as if they were pressing down on the tall buildings.

Valentine sat on his chair, he was having a headache because of the incidents involving Jonas.

“Actor Jonas’ ruined his image,”

“Actor Jonas leaves the film crew without permission,”

...

“They really like taking advantage of people’s downfall to make them suffer...”

Jonas was a senior in the entertainment industry. It meant that he was popular, and his acting skills were recognized.

However, it also meant that his topic was not discussed as much as the rookies.

Usually, the headlines were about which celebrities were having a scandal, or which celebrities were the most beautiful.

Now that there was breaking news about Jonas ruining his own image, the incident gained a lot of attention. So, there would be people who were jealous of him and took the opportunity to cause trouble for Jonas.

“Sigh...” Valentine sighed.

At this moment, an old lady in a green suit appeared silently by the window.

Valentine’s mouth was so frightened that he almost screamed.

“Oh... Oh my god!” He fell to the ground all of a sudden.

The old lady in the green suit stared and said, “Why are you yelling?”

Only then did Valentine realized that the ghost in front of him was his mother!

“Why are you here, mom...” That was the second time Valentine saw a ghost.

The first time was when he went to ask Lilly to summon his mother and after so long, Valentine thought that his mother reincarnated.

The old lady in the suit said, “I’m here to help you,”

Valentine was heartbroken. Everything was going smoothly for him recently, but he did not expect his mother to help him.

“Mom, what’s the matter with you this time? Do you have enough money to spend? If not, I’ll send you some more every day,” He got up and said.

The girl's mother froze for a moment, and it took a while for her to react.

She said sadly, "I want an explanation, not medication!"

Lilly immediately took out another medication from her bag, "Is this the one you want?"

The girl's mother was silent.

Looking at the little girl in front of her with a serious face, she was pure and soft...

It messed up her rhythm!

A troubled relative next to him yelled, "What do you mean by that? Why are you letting a kid fool us!"

"Yes, you are treating such a serious matter like child's play! You don't even take our dead child seriously,"

The girl's mother cried, "Boo hoo... I just want my daughter back... If you don't give us an explanation, then why did she die?"

Lilly was silent.

She wanted the dead to come back to life? She should not talk about that kind of nonsense...

Lilly was about to say something but Jonas picked her up.

Jonas said lightly, "Don't interfere with adults' issues,"

In other words, about ghosts...

Jonas said something to Valentine.

Valentine beckoned and asked someone to bring down a speaker and microphone used by trainees.

He held the microphone and turned it up to the maximum.

"Hello?"

The microphone was too close to the speaker, it made a harsh sound, and everyone hurriedly covered their ears.

Only then did Valentine say, "Can you hear me? Come on, tell me, what do you want me to say to you?"

He held the microphone in front of the crying girl's mother.

The girl's mother only knew that her daughter was gone, and she was going to make a fuss, and told her to explain, and she was dumbfounded.

Eight Uncles' Beloved Treasure (Lily)

Chapter 190

The mother of the girl who jumped off the building cried and caused trouble. Anyone could see that there was no way to end it if they did not compensate them.

Just when everyone was angry, the mother of the girl who fainted suddenly screamed and kicked her legs back.

“Don’t...don’t come here!”

Her face was full of horror.

Everyone was confused.

They looked in front of her and there was nothing!

“What is she doing?” Everyone asked.

Jonas held Lilly and looked condescendingly at the girl’s mother who fell on the ground and screamed. He asked, “Isn’t she your daughter? Why are you afraid of her?”

These relatives had been crying for two days, especially that aunt, who cried from beginning to end, Lilly thought she would faint from crying.

She’s so sad, she must love her daughter very much.

But now that the Master let her see her daughter, why did she react like this?

The girl’s father was also taken aback by the girl’s mother’s scream, and quickly lowered his voice and asked, “What are you doing!”

The girl’s mother’s pupils dilated, and she kept shouting, “Kelly... Kelly...”

The woman next to her turned her eyes, and immediately patted her thigh and cried, “Oh no, she must have been so sad and emotional, she’s gone bananas,”

“She’s crazy, did she have a seizure? We need to send her to the hospital!”

Other relatives also said one after another, “That’s right, we need to send her to the hospital!”

“Kelly died because of Jonas, now that she’s gone, Kelly’s mother has gone crazy...”

All the relatives said and thought, “Kelly’s mother is a genius!”
