Chapter 262 The Consequences Of Bella

Bella lay in bed at night.

The police officers brought away a few people after mediation. After the police left, several grannies came back and hit her with their canes again. They said they would come back the next day to "have fun" with her!

I already admit to my mistakes and would not make any more offerings. What else did they want? Bella was guilty at first but then she felt that they were too much.

Suddenly, there was a strong wind and the curtains were slapping against each other.

Bella was about to call Sarah to help her close the window and she felt weird. She turned around and the hairs on her neck stood up.

Several white figures were floating outside the window. The slapping sounds from the curtain were actually the sound of their feet kicking the window.

Bella screamed and scrambled to close the window. Her fracture on the ankle made her legs wobble and she couldn't move. The figures were in front of her in a blink of an eye.

They were staring deadly at her!

"Ahh... don't come near me!"

Bella desperately leaned back and she touched something soft. A child was in front of her.

"Hey."

The child smiled and his head fell off.

Chapter 263 How Do You Like Your Grave?

For the first time, Lilly knew that there was such a thing as a mausoleum.

She was curious with endless questions.

“How about our family?”

“How many tombs are there?”

“Is it enough for all of the ancestors? Could they squeeze together if there’s not enough space?”

“Do they like it there?”

“If I live there in the future, can my tomb be ribbon-shaped?”

What?!

Blake stuffed a piece of meat into Lilly’s mouth, “Kids should eat more and talk less.”

“Take no offense at a child’s words,” Old Mrs. Crawford murmured.

See! The adults are not answering my questions again!

Anthony smiled and answered the questions one by one.

“The Crawford family mausoleum is calculated by square meters. It’s currently a hundred square meters. Each starts at a minimum of 3 square meters.”

"What's wrong?" Anthony squatted and asked.

"It says that someone wants to compete with me in building a special grave."

Lilly ran away happily after she said that.

"Hurry up! Uncle Anthony! Granny is waiting for you to have afternoon tea!"

Lilly made a mugwort herb bag in various shapes for everyone in the family.

"And this is for Uncle Jonas..."

She ran to Old Mrs. Crawford's room, "Granny! Let's go to visit Uncle Jonas in the film crew!

"Uncle Jonas, you have to wear it around your neck!" Lilly urged him.

"Thank you, Lilly. But it is inconvenient for me to wear while filming."

Jonas handed the herb bag to the assistant and asked him to keep it in the bag.

Lilly nodded: "Okay. Just remember to wear it after filming! This bag is to ward off evil spirits since All Souls Day is near now."

"Give me the herb bag," Jonas told the assistant.

He then tied the herb bag securely onto the waistband of his pants.

"Lilly made this for me. I can't let her down."

Old Mrs. Crawford smirked.

Didn't you say that it was inconvenient to wear during filming? I know what you're thinking about.

"Just admit you're afraid!" Polly chirped.

Emily came over with a cup of milkshake, "Lilly! Do you remember me? I'm Emily! Would you like some milkshake? It's delicious!"

Lilly remembered her instantly by her high-pitched voice.

"No, thank you. Granny said that children should not drink milkshakes. Don't you know that, Aunty?"

"Oops... Sorry. I didn't know that."

“Aunty, is there anything wrong with your voice?”

Jonas was already in the mood for the character he played.

When the crowd heard Polly's voice, they couldn't hold back their laughter.

Jonas got out of character and Quinnie laughed too.

"Cut!"

The director turned around and looked at Polly.

"Shh... Be quiet." Lilly shushed Polly.

The prop team set up the scene again.

Chapter 267 Finally Fighting The “Demons”

The sky was getting gloomy in the evening. It was dark outside and the strong winds were blowing.

The few spirits among the extras started to appear boldly.

They sat on the ground and watched Emily on the set.

Emily slapped Quinnie hard.

Quinnie was stunned for a moment before she remembered her part. She braced herself from the pain to get up from the bed.

The director frowned and wanted to stop filming.

However, Quinnie continued her acting and the director continued filming.

The third wife of Lincoln was still reprimanding and insulting Ava. She slapped Ava again.

According to the script, Ava would glare at the third wife and insult her. Then, Lincoln would arrive to protect Ava in his arms.

How dare you slap me? Quinnie was furious.

She struggled to get up without following the script and slapped Emily.

Chapter 268 Real Ghosts On The Film Set

The man in the prison was wearing a tattered tunic. He looked bloody with sticky blotches of red and purple. He turned around and floated out.

In the next scene, Ava would dress as a ghost to save the intelligence officer. She would create some silhouettes to confuse the prison warden. When they were caught escaping, Lincoln would appear and fight the “demons”.

The film set manager thought that the man was one of the ‘demons’. He muttered, “Wow, the makeup is so realistic. The way he walks too. He literally floated. His dedication would make him famous one day.”

The scene was quickly set up.

“Action!”

Screams were heard from the tortured in the prison.

Suddenly, there was a gust of wind, and the fire in the fire pit turned green.

“This prop is good! The fire changes color naturally. It looked eerie and the effect was good!”

The actors were acting out a torture scene of the intelligence officer when the fire flickered again.

“Who is it?”

When the scene continued, a female ghost with messy hair appeared behind the intelligence officer.

“Ghost!” The man took a few steps back in shock.

Chapter 269 Acting Is Dangerous

The director had offered to get her a stunt woman because some of the scenes in the drama were dangerous, but she refused.

The people in charge had also tested the position that was safe for her to land on. It would be 3 feet away from the fire.

However, the partition was on fire. She could also smell her hair burning.

The others were dumbfounded. What happened? The fire is too close to her!

S*it! Quinnie cursed in her heart.

A silhouette flashed before her eyes and pushed her away. Quinnie flopped to the ground according to the script.

The film crew was unable to tell whether to stop or continue filming. Quinnie was a dedicated actress. They didn't want to film another take to put her in danger again. They could only observe her from afar to make sure she was okay.

Chapter 270 Who Set The Fire?

The crowd was amused by Lilly. They didn't expect Lilly to believe the actors were dead.

“They are not dead! See, they’re coming over here. They’re all fine!”

Old Mrs. Crawford comforted Lilly too, “Fighting the ‘demons’ are fake. See, everyone is fine.

“But Quinnie got burnt!” Lilly said with tears in her eyes.

If it wasn’t for Lilly’s prediction, Quinnie already got hurt.

The woeful ghost muttered, “Next time, tell me before you threw me out! Ghosts are most afraid of fire.”

“Did Quinnie get burnt just now?”

The woeful ghost nodded, “Almost. Luckily I kicked her off in advance.”

“Uncle, it’s true!”

The director was stunned and looked at Quinnie.
