

Eight Uncles 31

Chapter 31 Chased by a Spirit

Winona and Helen trembled in fear and ran to the office as fast as lightning. They finally calmed down when they saw people walking around the building.

When she turned back, she saw the white plastic bag again. It was following them and circling at the same place. Goosebumps and tingles erupted all over her skin.

She ran into Liam's office and his arms while crying.

"Liam!"

Lilly was showing Liam her drawing when Winona barged into the room.

Liam frowned and stepped back awkwardly.

Winona was going to throw herself into his arms, but when Liam stepped back, she fell face-down on the ground, causing her nose to bleed.

"Liam Crawford, you...!" Winona covered her nose and said angrily.

Employees who walked past peeked into Liam's office curiously.

Helen took out a napkin quickly and criticized Liam, "Hey, what are you doing? Winona is your wife! How can you let her throw herself on the floor?"

Liam replied harshly, "I'm not into this kind of gimmick."

Winona felt embarrassed. He made her look like she was seducing him.

However, she had no choice but to keep quiet. She could not let others know that she and Liam were not on good terms. Arguing here at the office will only make the situation worse.

Winona glanced at Lilly and suddenly a drawing on the table caught her eye.

Lilly's painting showed a portrait of a lady. Although it is not very realistic, it even looks a bit cartoonish...

It somehow reminded her of May Lee who was crushed to death at the construction site five years ago!

Lilly stood up straight on the chair. She glanced at Liam and carefully peeked at Winona.

Winona's face looked even scarier. The dark cloud covered half of her face and only both of her eyes were revealed. It looked scarier than ghosts and spirits!

Lilly covered her mouth and asked quietly, "Master, what is wrong with Aunt Winona?!"

Pablo shook his head in dismay, "Oh no, did you see that poo on her face? I guess she was slapped by May Lee just now."

Lilly glanced at her face and mumbled to herself, "No poo! But it's kind of stinky."

Winona heard Lilly and Polly murmuring words like “poo” and “stinky”, and she could no longer hold back anymore.

that she forgot gagged and immediately rushed into the glanced at Helen coldly and asked, can’t get a divorce with Winona. Zachary and Hannah are already so grown up and

and wives to here to talk about this, I guess you can leave now.” Liam divorce agreement letter has already whether to sign or

going to get a divorce

out of his office without

to employees outside pretended to be busy with work, but actually, some of them took out face turned red, “Liam Crawford, office, Liam pressed a button on the telephone and muttered a just a few minutes, two security guards came and sent Winona and Helen were extremely embarrassed as there were

I am his mother-in-law. How can he do this to agitated. Lilly’s drawing sent shivers

she know about

here at

Winona was deep in her thought, Helen was still ranting to Liam. You always mess things up!” Winona said do you mean ‘mess things up’?! I do all these because I care about you!” Helen gave her a ignored her

Helen

She examined the statue up and down and felt relieved when everything looked her head, she saw a right creepily when Winona stared ran as

“Shoo!”

plastic bag was blown by a strong

She ran as fast as she could and even lost one of her high heels like Cinderella. Her hair which has so afraid that she let out a terrified wail while front of a window at the pantry located on the sixteenth floor. She tilted her head in confusion when she saw Winona running across the construction ground was paved with floor tiles. There are Polly’s head, “Polly, that person

his head and blinked his eyes,

corrected him, “It’s Aunt

“Winona, Winona

Winona is not a