Chapter 791

The jealous spirit had been in hell for an unknown amount of time...

It was not until the great luck later that he escaped.

The harem spirit scolded, "You deserve it!"

Lilly also scolded, "You deserve it!"

The jealous spirit was unbalanced, "I deserve it, but it was not all my problem! Who made their family have a grandson and show it off in front of me every day?"

"Who made our old Louis family so unlucky that they married four daughters-in-law but couldn't have a grandson?"

Even the second daughter-in-law reported on him on purpose!

She had seen him take the neighbor's child away a long time ago, why didn't she stop him then!

She also said that she didn't know he could do such a crazy thing, and she ran away directly after the incident, she was definitely guilty.

"My second daughter-in-law must have deliberately asked me to take away the neighbor's child, she did not stop me, she wanted to take revenge on me!"

"I was upset at the time, I was impulsive."

"If my second daughter-in-law had pulled me and stopped me, I would definitely not do such impulsive things."

Lilly, "..."

The ghosts were speechless.

He did a crazy thing himself, not only was he not reflecting it upon himself, he was even blaming it on others!

"You should be dead completely!" The unlucky ghost scolded.

An old man who was the passionate spirit also said indignantly, "Did the neighbors provoke you? They didn't hug you in front of you, but they carried them around the village. How could it be a show off!"

"It was just to show off, otherwise they would just stay at home. Why did they carry him to

Children were the most unrestrained, and when they were in a hurry, they only wanted to do that thing.

Lilly was so excited, she broke free from Lisa's arms, and ran inside!

Blake, "??"

"Lilly! "

She was nowhere to be seen!

Lisa, "Wait for me...!"

She disappeared in an instant!

Lilly's voice came faintly, "Daddy... I will be back!"

There was no one around Blake, not to mention people, there were no ghosts.

He silently looked at the mark he carved on the stone last time.

He gritted his teeth and took a step forward!

It was as if something was blocking him, like an invisible plastic wrap, blocking his steps.

Blake exerted all his strength, one foot was about to step in!

Puff...

When Blake let go of his toes, it felt as if the layer of 'preservative film' had been torn apart.

He was overjoyed from the bottom of his heart, sank down, and pushed forward with his whole body.

It felt as though he was pushing open a very heavy door, and it seemed to be covered with layers of plastic wrap. The whole person was bound by invisible rules, making it difficult to move forward!

However, Blake had already felt that that layer of 'rules' had been broken by him just now.

It was impossible for him to give up!

Blake let out a low growl, exhausted all his strength, and finally...

Ivan suddenly felt a kind of surprise, as if he had been walking for a long time and suddenly found a companion.

He thought she was just a very powerful little priest.

Perhaps her identity was not simple, such as the close disciple of some hermit sect, or the personal apprentice of a deceased expert...

However, since she could come here, it meant that she also came here to practice!

Also, she was experienced!

Ivan only guessed that Lilly was practicing, but to be precise, Lilly was not practicing, but was going through calamity.

He could not wait to find Lilly now, and he had a lot to ask.

However, Blake was staring at him straight.

Ivan, "...Hello, Uncle."

"Goodbye uncle."

"I shall go first."

After Ivan finished speaking, he immediately turned around and walked inside, and disappeared within a second.

Blake, "Wait!"

No one responded to him.

This forest was indeed greener than Polly.

Although there was no sun here, the strange thing was that the trees were as green as the trees in the mortal world.

Lilly still remembered the “locust tree forest” where he went to find the living soul flower last time. Both the trunk and branches were black, without leaves.

Everyone was very excited. Not sure why, seeing this forest was as though they saw hope.

There was just a feeling that the amphibious soil might really be in it.

After walking for a long time, they were running out of energy.

The weakling spirit supported Lilly, and the harem spirit ghost held Lisa, and flew forward in a swoosh.

The ghosts carried the humans on their backs, and traveled thousands of miles in one night.

Finally they arrived in front of this forest!

The closer they got, the more frightened the ghosts and Lilly became!

When they got in front of them, they looked up at the towering trees, and they were all shocked.

Lilly wowed, “What a tall tree! It’s so beautiful.”

The branches here were lush and leafy, and the branches extended out, intertwined in layers, and the trunk of any tree was at least as wide as three people hugging, vigorous and powerful.

The leaves covered the sky and blocked out the sun. Even though there was no sun, they grew lush and green.

Standing here, Lilly felt as if she had become a villain from a small country.

“Where do we go next?” The harem spirit looked at the jealous spirit.

The jealous spirit said, “Come with me, I’ll lead the way, I had marked it, it’s right here...”

Lilly turned her eyes.

"I was in a hurry to escape at that time, so I made two marks, and the rest I remembered at a glance... I never expected to actually find it!"

Jealous Spirit was pleasantly surprised, feeling a bit smug.

“Is it here?”

The Ghost Bride looked bewildered at the scene before her.

This grove of trees was no different from the ones they had passed on their way here.

“Look, there’s nothing different! Are you playing tricks on us?”

Jealous Spirit immediately shouted, “This is unjust! I have been leading the way with utmost sincerity. This is definitely the place where I came out before, no doubt about it!”

“Look, when I was running fast, although I made random marks, it is the abbreviation of my name!”

L

Foolish Ghost wore a skeptical expression, and everyone stared at him, mainly concerned that Jealous Spirit was playing tricks.

They had noticed several times during their journey that he had contemplated escape. They weren’t fools!

Jealous Spirit couldn’t defend himself.

He had already realized that escape might not be possible with Lilly being so powerful.

Since he couldn’t defeat her, he would reluctantly join Lilly’s team as one of her subordinates!

He had taken such a step back, but these spirits didn’t appreciate it at all, which made him feel miserable.

Fortunately, Lilly suddenly said, “It’s here!”

She stared at the grove of trees in front of her.

At first glance, it seemed similar to the path they had taken to get here.

But...

“Watch carefully, this tree is called Maple... wait a minute, this tree is a bit greener.”

These days, Lilly had been waiting for her older brother at the school gate, and the security guard was always watching videos. She memorized the lines from the videos and blurted them out.

“The trunks of these trees are slightly different from the ones on the road we came from, they are a bit greener.”

“And the patterns on the trunks are a little whiter!”

The other spirits were confused.

Deep within the pathway of the forest, behind a towering tree...

A flower perched upon the trunk; its size comparable to that of Bettany's frying pan.

At first glance, the flower appeared white, but its petals transitioned from a tender green at the base to a sharp white at the tips, giving the impression of a white flower.

The stamen was pink, exuding a dreamlike hue.

Harem Spirit exclaimed, "This is... wait, what kind of flower is it?"

Weakling Spirit replied, "It doesn't have a name."

There was no sunlight in this area, yet the other half of the flower emitted a faint glow, as if it were bathed in sunlight.

Lilly raised her hand and lightly touched the flower, immediately sensing a waft of fragrant scent.

Truly magical! If she hadn't come here, she would never have known about such a marvelous plant.

"Let's search the surroundings for reddish soil!" Lilly suggested.

The spirits became excited and began a thorough search.

However, there was no red soil around the flower.

The entire area was shrouded in a dull gray, with the ground covered by decaying leaves that appeared black at first glance.

Lilly pointed to a lump of inconspicuous mud on the tree.

Carefully examining it, it seemed as if someone had accidentally flung it there.

"Wow—who is this hero?"

But as she took a closer look, Lilly was even more shocked. "Ivan?!"

Wait, how did Ivan end up here?

How did he get here?

And where's Daddy...

Lilly immediately turned around to look for her father, but he was nowhere to be seen.

She looked at Ivan, her little hand still firmly pressing on the soul lamp, while Lisa McCarthy continued to hold onto Lilly. Everyone had a perplexed expression on their faces.

Harem Spirit whispered, "How did Ivan get here?"

The Weakling Spirit looked around vigilantly. "I don't know, we'll talk about it later."

From the top of a tall tree branch came the sound of rustling, as if something was moving up there.

Ivan drew a short blade from the sheath strapped to his ankle.

The rustling sounds grew louder.

"We need to get out of here as soon as possible!" Ivan said.

Lilly looked at the bottle she was holding in her hand and exclaimed anxiously, "But Master is not well yet..."

They couldn't simply take the Amphibious Soil with them, which was the most troublesome part.

Unexpectedly, Ivan said, "Peel off the tree bark and take it with us."

Ghost Bride was momentarily stunned, realizing that it was indeed possible.

Even Weakling Spirit and the others felt ashamed for not thinking of such a simple and direct solution.

"But will peeling just one layer of bark be enough?" he asked, keeping an eye on the treetop. "What if the Amphibious Soil has deep roots..."

Before he could finish, Lilly seemed to have made a sudden decision. She grabbed Jessie and said, "Jessie, please hold on tight. Keep pressing the bottle no matter what happens, don't let go."

Lilly felt that she needed to read more books.

She leaned over to the Weakling Spirit and earnestly read along with him.

“What is a Spirit Cat? Does it belong to the mortal realm or the underworld?”

The Weakling Spirit pointed to the page and replied, “They don’t belong to either the mortal realm or the underworld. They are messengers that wander between the two.”

“It is rumored that during the opening of the Gate of Hell on the fifteenth day of the seventh lunar month, some ghost spirits refuse to return to the underworld, and many escape... And when the world is in turmoil, with wars raging, many wandering souls evade capture by the soul reapers...”

“During such times, the soul reapers are clearly insufficient. In order to maintain stability in the mortal realm, the Ruler of Hell has appointed a group of black cats to assist the soul reapers in capturing the wandering spirits in the human world.”

So, the black cats were originally cats of the mortal realm, but after receiving the Ruler of Hell’s guidance, they became a part of soul reapers and were known as Hell Messenger.

Cats have always had a legendary aura since ancient times, especially black cats. There are many legends about black cats walking over corpses and deceiving the dead.

“In the long process of reproduction, the Spirit Cat clan has grown and diversified. They are not just black cats; there are various breeds... However, black cats are still the kings among the abyss cats and they rule over the entire Gray Earth.”

As the Weakling Spirit spoke, he pointed to another line of text.

“The Gray Earth is the place we just passed through. It lies between the underworld and the mortal realm, a gray zone beyond the rules.”

“Spirit cats that have achieved meritorious deeds and successful cultivation can even transform into human form, transcending the realm of animals.”

Therefore, the Spirit Cats are not willing to be mediocre; they will strive to maintain stability in the human world.

The Ruler of Hell has stationed Spirit Cats in this gray zone as guardians, also to plug any loopholes in the rules. Thus, Spirit Cats are also the guardians of the Gray Earth.

Very few ghost spirits or living beings can pass through this region to reach the mortal realm or the underworld.

Lilly exclaimed, “Wow, I’m amazing!”

Lilly was perplexed. "Like me? What kind of king are you..."

In the Weakling Spirit's mind, the titles of the Ten Hell Palace Rulers quickly flashed by.

King of Transformation?

King of Age?

Or some other king!

He had never heard Master Belmont mention any other Ruler of Hell who had undergone human tribulations!

The Harem Spirit was filled with question marks and simply pointed at Lilly, saying, "Lilly is the Ruler of Hell, are you one too? What generation of the Ruler of Hell are you?"

Ivan: "???"

Lilly is the Ruler of Hell?

"No, I'm not any kind of king," he silently said.

He was familiar with the Ten Hell Palace Rulers and had learned about the things in the underworld.

But he was not Ruler of Hell of the underworld.

Ivan shook his head. "I have no status. I'm just on a journey of cultivation."

The ghost spirits and Lilly stared wide-eyed, and Lisa Mccarthy pointed at him. "You? Descendant of the Witch God?"

Ivan shook his head.

He was different from Lisa Mccarthy too.

The Witch God had descendants, but he was not one of them.

Upon his arrival, he managed to capture a flying creature.

The peculiar beast resisted all attempts at taming, leading Ivan to be suspended by it throughout their journey. Unable to endure it, he eventually leaped off while the creature was soaring above the dense forest.

To his surprise, he managed to catch up with Lilly just in time... Such fortune was unprecedented.

Initially concealing his injuries, Ivan now finds them miraculously healed.

Lilly's immediate response was to inquire about his injuries, which improved Ivan's mood further.

He nodded, trying to be cool. "I'm fine, it's just a scratch."

Observing Lilly's concern, he added, "It's completely healed after soaking it in the water."

Relieved, Lilly glanced at the pool with excitement in her eyes.

"Wow, that's amazing!"

Such a valuable opportunity must not be missed!

"Come on, Ivan, let's go soak in it again!"

Daddy always said to never let an opportunity go to waste and make the most of it!

Thus, they wasted no time and seized the opportunity.

Lilly grabbed Ivan's hand and, filled with excitement, they both leaped when they reached the pool's edge!

Ivan's expression changed slightly.

However, they did not let go of each other's hands and landed with a splash.

As soon as Lilly hit the water, she immediately sank and began to gulp...

"Ah... Gulp... gulp..."

Ivan's heart panicked, thinking that Lilly was drowning, and he had to save her!

He was about to pull her back towards the shallower part of the pool.

But to his surprise, she emerged from the water like a jubilant little fish, exclaiming happily, "Yahoo, it's so refreshing!"
