

Eight Uncles 871

Chapter 871 Apart For A Year

In the end, Ivan was carried back by the harem spirit.

The harem spirit was a kind and amiable old man, but fortunately he was not a real old man after becoming an evil ghost, otherwise he would not be able to carry Ivan back with his old bones.

A ghost carried a man on his back to ride the wind for thousands of miles, Ivan laid on the back of the harem spirit, it was the first time he was carried by a ghost, and he felt surprised.

The harem spirit suddenly said, "Little buddy, you... You need to grow up quickly."

Ivan nodded, "Well, I know...Thank you, Grandpa."

He would definitely catch up with Lilly.

In Ivan's small heart, a goal was deeply buried:

To become stronger, to be able to protect Lilly when she needed protection... No matter when and where...

Ivan's face was still childish, but his eyes were full of determination.

The harem spirit suddenly laughed and said nothing.

Lilly and Ivan both left.

The two people in the car on the edge of the cliff prayed and begged to the air, and after an unknown period of time, the surroundings were quiet.

Only then did they venture to take a look, and saw a mobile phone lying quietly on the ground, and...

An underworld bank note?!

It turned out that Lilly was too impatient and ran too fast, but there were piles and piles of her talismans on the table in the Palace of the Underworld, and there were also heaps of the underworld bank notes... She said she was going to save money for herself in advance...

She just wanted to get a talisman to give them as a thank you, but who knew that she made a mistake and got the underworld bank note.

It was even the largest one.

The two of them were so frightened that their legs were weak, how could they dare to accept this coin, they thought to themselves that they must have seen a ghost.

The ghost even called her father just now? Grandmother? Sobbing...

Immediately, he didn't dare to ask for his phone back anymore, so he stepped on the gas pedal and ran quickly.

The phone happened to be swept by the wheels of the car and fell off the cliff...

The wind whizzed by Lilly's ears, making her face ache.

However, these winds were nothing compared to those in the Abyss.

Pablo was faster than the evil ghost, and returned home in just an hour.

He avoided the cameras and went straight to your door.

In the room.

Old Mrs. Crawford was cooking in a hurry.

"Margaret... Chop up these vegetables first..."

"Margaret, I'll handle this roasted chicken... Lilly must be very hungry, the chicken will add calories..."

It had been a year... Her little darling had been hungry for a year.

Everyone else was wondering what kind of difficulties Lilly encountered and how she got through this year.

Old Mrs. Crawford only had one thought in her heart: Her baby had been hungry for a year...

The steamed eggs were still being made. The soft and tender eggs could cushion Lilly's stomach that had been hungry for a year, so that she would not have a stomach ache after eating all at once...

Needless to say, there would definitely be lobster and king crab. Lilly liked to eat it, so she would definitely arrange for it.

There were also pork trotters, roast duck, roast chicken, pickled peppers and beef. These meats could replenish energy the best. How could she not have it after being hungry for so long?

.....

Old Mrs. Crawford was doing it while talking, her hands were trembling.

Margaret sighed, "Madam, you go and sit down, I will do it..."

Old Mrs. Crawford was stubborn, "No, I want to make it for Lilly. Lilly said she wants to eat the food cooked by grandma."

No matter when her little darling came back, there would always be a mouthful of hot food cooked by grandma.

Suddenly, the doorbell rang.

Old Mrs. Crawford flicked the chicken in her hand, and hurried to open the door.

It was Blake.

As soon as Blake entered the door, he looked inside, "Is Lilly back?"

Old Mrs. Crawford was very disappointed, she pursed her lips and muttered, "Go, go, go..."

Just as the door was closed, suddenly the doorbell rang again.

Old Mrs. Crawford hurriedly opened the door again.

This time it was really Lilly.

Lilly stood at the door, and was about to ring the doorbell again when it opened.

She looked surprised, and subconsciously said, "Grandma? Wow, grandma, can you teleport? How can you open the door so quickly..."

The corners of Old Mrs. Crawford's lips trembled, she wanted to say something several times, but in the end she didn't say it, she ran and hugged Lilly.

"Lilly!" Old Mrs. Crawford choked up, "My little darling, you are finally back..."

Lilly gently hugged grandma, and her eyes turned red all of a sudden, "I'm sorry grandma, I made grandma worry."

Old Mrs. Crawford just cried and shook her head desperately.

Old Mr. Crawford's eyes were red, he turned his head to look at him uncomfortably, and coughed:

"Okay, she just came back, you don't have to cry..."

Margaret also came out, clutching her apron in one hand, wiping away her tears with the other, and said with a smile, "It's good to be back, Miss Lilly's older brothers have gone to school, otherwise the building will be shaken..."

Blake clenched his fists and stood silently without stepping forward.

He watched Old Mrs. Crawford holding Lilly and leading her in.

He also saw her asking about her health and bringing out the newly made steamed eggs.

Then she hurried back to the kitchen and kept saying that it would be ready soon...

Now that he was free, Blake's throat was dry, and he said in a low voice, "Lilly..."

His little baby had grown up.

He had not seen him for a year, and she had grown a little taller, but she had lost a lot of weight.

The little face was dull and muted, unlike when she was at home before, she was glowing, plump and rosy...

Lilly was really hungry, after cooking a bowl of steamed eggs, she finally remembered that she had not hugged her father yet.

She hurriedly stood up, with a little egg on the corner of her mouth, and threw herself into Blake's arms.

"Daddy, I miss you so much!" Lilly rubbed her head in his arms, "I'm sorry, I've been away for too long, and I made you worry."

Blake gently stroked her face with his thumb, and he didn't mind the little bit of egg crumbs at the corner of her mouth.

His throat rolled and his voice was hoarse, "Glad that you are back..."

Chapter 872 No Record Of Them In The Booklet

This meal was prepared in a hurry, but it was not perfunctory at all. All the ingredients that could be served were carefully cooked.

Lilly felt the familiar cramps again.

A table of dishes, four or five bowls of rice, a pot of chicken soup...

Desserts, fruits, and fruit tea that remove greasy and greasy after eating...

Not only Lilly's belly was stuffed round, Polly's belly also became round.

After the meal, Lilly slumped on the sofa, and Polly slumped on her shoulders, each with a satisfied sigh:

"It's better at home!"

Old Mrs. Crawford brought another cup of yogurt over, and asked distressingly, "How long have you not eaten?"

Lilly was afraid that her grandma would be worried, so she said, "It's just one... One day."

Old Mrs. Crawford did not believe it.

Lilly started to feel sleepy after eating and drinking.

Being in the underworld for a year, there was really no sky, no day and night, no hunger or sleepiness.

Lilly felt that if she stayed for another year, maybe she wouldn't have to go to the Abyss, and she would be lost!

Blake was sending a message to Anthony:

Lilly has grown taller, and needs to buy new clothes... These are pretty good, take a look.

He sent over a dozen pictures in a row, all of which were small skirts, pants, and beautiful clothes.

A couture black shirt was mixed in the middle.

Anthony: Why didn't I know that Lilly also wears shirts?

Blake: Well, this is for me to match hers.

Anthony: ....

Go away!

Blake slightly hooked his lips, raised his phone in satisfaction and asked, "Lilly, what do you like..."

However, Lilly was already asleep.

She tilted her head, held the yogurt in her hand, and bit the straw in her mouth, breathing evenly.

Perhaps it was an illusion, but Blake felt that after she ate a meal, her thin face was rounded instantly.

Blake stepped forward, gently picked up Lilly, and carried her to the room.

His feeling was right. Lilly was very light when she first came back, and she was not even 25 kg (the average weight of a five-year-old girl is about 18 kg).

Now he weighed again, it felt like a little over 20 kg...? She seemed to be a few kilograms heavier...

Blake suddenly felt miraculous, and couldn't help but weighed her again.

Old Mrs. Crawford came over with something and saw it, she couldn't help but said, "Blake! Be careful..."

Realizing that her voice was a little louder, she lowered her voice again, "Lilly slept soundly, why are you weighing her?"

Blake coughed, "It's okay, I'm afraid that what she ate might not end up in her stomach, so I'll weigh her and shake her well..."

Before the old lady kicked him, Blake slipped away.

As soon as he entered the room, he saw Pablo sitting quietly on the sofa with a book in his hand.

"Huh? Are you back?" Blake was startled for a moment, full of surprise.

He had not seen Pablo just now.

After careful calculation, the first time Lilly went to the Underworld was to find something to save Pablo... Unexpectedly, he really came back with Lilly this time.

Pablo put down the book, nodded and said, "Yes."

Just now when Lilly was reunited with his family, he didn't disturb him, but quietly went back to the room by himself.

Seeing that Lilly was asleep, he stood up, his clean white robe swaying gently in the breeze, leaving a beautiful arc.

"Lilly fell asleep?" Pablo raised his hand, subconsciously wanting to hug Lilly.

Blake had already put her on the small bed.

Then he turned around and asked, "By the way, is this normal for Lilly? Just now she was light when she didn't eat, but after eating a meal, she felt like she had a balloon blown up in her..."

Pablo replied, "Normally, it's different in the underworld and in the mortal world."

One year later, Lilly was already six years old in the mortal world.

Within a few days, she would quickly regain her 6-year-old weight and height.

Blake whispered, "Really... Then every bowl of rice she ate was not in vain."

He raised his hand and gently brushed Lilly's hair aside, and the child grew up all of a sudden, why did he feel so sad to be a father.

Pablo suddenly said, "By the way, have you been to the underworld this time?"

Blake hummed, "What?"

While talking, he walked to the sofa and sat down, crossed his legs, put one arm on the back of the sofa carelessly, and stared at Lilly who was sleeping soundly on the bed without blinking.

Pablo frowned, "Normal people cannot reach the underworld."

Those who could go down are dead.

Pablo raised his hand, took out the shiny golden booklet, and turned to the page where Blake was.

"Blake, male, 256 years old..." Pablo said in a low voice, "28 years old, from Metatopia, born at 5am on x month x day x year... Death date..."

The corner of Blake's mouth twitched, "Hey, is it really okay to say this directly in front of me?"

He didn't want to know when he would die, if he had to, he hoped it would be five hundred years.

Pablo stared at the brochure without speaking.

His death date was followed by blank, he did not have a death date?

He suddenly raised his head and stared at Blake.

What was the origin of this guy?

Blake, "What are you doing looking at me like that, don't be gay, thank you."

Pablo, "....."

He wanted to smash the brochure in his face.

Pablo looked away speechlessly, and turned to the page about Ivan again.

Very good, this time there was no more detailed information, only a name and gender: Ivan, male.

The corner of Pablo's mouth twitched, he remembered the first time he saw Ivan and flipped through his booklet, it still recorded the date and place of birth!

Unwilling to give up, he turned to the page of Alban again, and finally there was a record:

Alban, male, 12 years old.

Born on December 3, 2011 at No. xx, X Street, Hallow County.

A practitioner who defied his fate and died at the age of 18.

Pablo, "....."

His efforts to defy his fate were in vain...

Chapter 873 Mending Master's Robe

At this moment, Anthony was packing up his things, preparing to rush to Hallow County overnight.

When Lilly came back, the entire Crawford family came to life instantly.

Liam and Edward, who were absent-minded at the construction site every day, were so happy that they went to swing the sledgehammer in person. Bryson, who flew the plane, flew an hour earlier that day. It was rumored that he was going to pick up his sweetheart...

Cloud was on a mission abroad, and when he heard that Lilly had returned, he knocked out a few spies on the spot, pinching bullets with his bare hands...

Max yelled at Stacy urgently, "Hurry up, Stacy! Find out about the world's popular cuisine!"

Her youngest uncle Gilbert was bandaging a patient, and the remaining gauze was even tied with a beautiful bow.

Patient: Aww, Dr. Crawford likes me!

When Lilly woke up, it was already the next day.

Drake didn't even know how many times he went back and forth, but when he saw Lilly woke up, he immediately yelled, "My sister is up, my sister is up!"

He ran over excitedly, hugged Lilly, and said with tears in his eyes, "Sister, if you don't come back, I will go find you!"

Drake stood on the side, holding a glass of warm water... Grandma said that sister should be thirsty after sleeping all day and night, so he prepared warm water for her to drink.

Holding a candied fruit in his hand, Zachary said to himself, "I said I wanted strawberries and candied strawberries, why did you still give me hawthorn..."

When Lilly saw her older brothers, her heart felt warm.

Even though she came back, after staying in the Abyss alone for so long... She would indeed feel homesick.

She missed her grandma and grandpa, her father, her uncles, sisters and brothers...

After Lilly woke up, the quiet home suddenly became lively, the kitchen was tinkling, and the living room also heard the sound of old Mr. Crawford broadcasting the news.

Josh kept saying, "Sister, do you know that you are six years old! When you were away, grandma secretly bought cakes for you and came back..."

Lilly, "Ah... Am I, am I 6 years old?"

Zachary said, "That's right... Well, I also spent the New Year here, and grandma couldn't even walk, and she refused to go back."

Lilly really burst into tears.

Josh gave Zachary a menacing look, and said, "Don't talk about that, let's talk about something happy!"

"Look, sister, this is your summer homework!! Although it has expired, it doesn't matter, brother will teach you!"

Lilly's tears froze and she suffocated for a moment...

"Summer homework?"

What, she had summer homework right now?

Drake nodded, "You are already in the first grade of elementary school."

Lilly, "!!!!"

"I am in elementary school?"

She was dumbfounded.

Three months underground, she was already in elementary school in the human world... Wait, she was not here, how did she go to school?

Josh the chatterbox answered her doubts, "My dad said that although you are not here, you still need to go through the process of going to school."

"Whether you go to school or not, you have to get the diploma first."

"Oh yes, for the exam... The first grade will not have a final exam, so don't worry! However, when you enter the second grade, remember to come back for the exam!"

"However, it's only the second semester now. Let's catch up and make up for the lessons. My sister is so smart she can surely catch up..."

Lilly, "Okay... Okay?"

Josh spoke excitedly, Zachary wanted to interrupt but didn't.

He felt bad for being stopped to talk about the things that he wanted to talk about, but it was fine for Josh himself to tell her that grandma bought cake for her secretly, hmph.

He was even asked to talk about happy things, what kind of happy things were the summer homework...

The uncles arrived at the same time.

Hearing that Lilly was back, Uncle Anthony: The meeting is suspended, I will pick her up.

Uncle Gilbert: The operation is suspended (no), I will pick her up...

Liam brought Hannah and Edward together, Anthony rushed over overnight, when Lilly woke up, he had just returned from grocery shopping, Lisa hurried into Lilly's room, and gave her a big hug.

Big Head Hannah cried, "I thought you weren't coming back! We promised to go together for a lifetime, how could you go first, boo-hoo!"

She hugged Lilly's leg.

Lilly, "Uh..."

Bryson made an emergency shift, since he was going on leave anyway, so he came here directly.

Jonas, Max and Gilbert came a little later, but the whole family was present at dinner time.

Lilly's cell phone rang, and Cloud made a video call from abroad, and asked rather pitifully, "Has everyone arrived yet?"

Lilly said, "We are all here, missing you, Uncle Cloud!"

Not one of them could be missing... So... Perhaps she should set Uncle Cloud up?

Lilly put the phone aside and let Uncle Cloud watch everyone eat.

Abroad, late at night, Cloud, "..."

Old Mrs. Crawford talked about telling him to pay attention to safety abroad, Cloud nodded, "I understand."

Edward picked up the vegetables on purpose and swayed in front of Cloud, "You can't eat, are you angry?"

Cloud sneered, "Childish."

There was nothing in his heart.

However, Edward picked up Lilly and kissed her, "Aren't you angry that you can't kiss?"

Cloud, "..."

Everyone couldn't help laughing, Lilly looked at the whole family, and the heaviness in her heart that was tainted by the Ghost Abyss quietly dissipated.

Best family in the world...

However, they were all family members, why were some family members like demons?

Lilly had one thing hidden in her heart, she still wanted to find Claudia.

**

The weather was fine, Lilly was carrying a small school bag, and it was the weekend after a day of school.

Blake drove her to Charade County.

It was news from decades ago. After the horror news that the biological mother abused her daughter, sewed her daughter's mouth with needles and thread, and poured hot oil on her, she was only sentenced to seven years in prison.

Later, she had long since concealed her name and ran far away. In addition, her appearance had changed a lot over the past few decades, and no one could find her anymore.

However, that was someone else, it was very easy for Blake to find someone.

Pablo sat in the back seat of the car with Lilly, propped his head on one hand, and focused on Lilly with downcast eyes.

Lilly was 'sewing and patching' his robe...

Chapter 874 An Insignificant Reason

Blake glanced at the rearview mirror.

He remembered that when he saw it yesterday, Pablo's white robe was clean and tidy.

When did it break again?

Pablo curled his lips slightly, and touched Lilly's small head, "It's fine if you can't sew it."

Lilly tore the talisman and stuck it on, saying, "How can you say not to mend it?"

Her talisman was omnipotent.

"Master, this is the mending talisman I just researched, look!"

She stuck the newly drawn talisman to the hole in the robe.

A bright light flashed, and the white robe returned to its original state.

Pablo, "....."

She really could draw anything...

"Why do you want to go to Claudia?" Pablo asked, "You didn't promise that kid."

While sticking the talisman, Lilly said, "However, I still want to see it."

She raised her head and said softly, "Master, the best thing in this world should be family members. I want to see why there is such a thing..."

It was the people closest to you who hurt you the most.

She did not understand.

The car soon arrived in Charade County, and Blake drove straight to Claudia's house.

Lilly got out of the car, this was a town under Charade County, it was not very lively, but it was not too desolate, there were various stalls on the street.

Claudia now lived in a self-built building, people lived on the second and third floors, and the first floor was a shop where daily necessities were sold.

It had been a pretty good day...

Claudia sat on the sofa chair by the door and swiped his phone, laughing from time to time.

Lilly looked at it, her heart was very complicated, she couldn't tell what it was like...

"Claudia!" Blake's voice was cold, his expressionless face looked cold and gloomy.

Claudia only took one look, and subconsciously stood up in fright, "You, who are you looking for... I am not Claudia!"

She hastily put on her shoes and ran in, trying to close the door.

As soon as Blake raised his hand, a single arm pressed against the glass door.

"If you are not Claudia, why are you running?"

Claudia's eyes flickered, "I... I see you are so vicious... Normal people would run away..."

Lilly felt an indescribable disappointment in her heart.

Is this the kind of person who brutally tortured his daughter to death, but now she did not feel any guilt at all?

"Master, I don't know why... I think even if she is a pig butcher or a heinous woman now, it is better than who she is?"

Lilly was puzzled by her mentality.

Pablo said, "Because if she is an evil woman who treats everyone badly, you will feel better. However, she is such a person, she is 'good' to everyone but is so cruel to your own daughter, so you will naturally feel uncomfortable."

Because there was no 'excuse' for Claudia's violence against his own daughter - most people would always wonder why when faced with something beyond their understanding, it was human nature.

Lilly nodded and said, "Claudia, don't run away, we can find you because we already know what you did."

Blake took Lilly, stepped straight into the shop, and kicked a sofa chair over.

The sofa chair turned around, Blake held it down with one hand, sat down steadily, and blocked Claudia like this.

Claudia couldn't close the door even if he wanted to, and couldn't escape if he wanted to run outside, so he gritted his teeth and said, "Who the hell are you? If you do that again, I'll call the police!"

Blake sneered coldly, "Just report it, Claudia, don't think that changing your name to Gloria Willow will erase what you have done."

"Thirty years have passed since your daughter Leigh died, but you are living quite easily now."

Gloria fell into an ice cellar in an instant, and she couldn't stand still.

She muttered, "I've already been sentenced, that is enough..."

Claudia was shocked and depressed in her heart. She had been imprisoned for seven years, and the punishment was enough. Why did they look for her again?

She knew that the unlucky kid would still bring misfortune to her mother after death, and she wouldn't stop even after death!

Lilly suddenly asked, "Gloria, I want to ask you... Why did you dig up Leigh's ashes after you were released from prison?"

When Claudia was sentenced to 7 years in prison, the first thing she did after he was released from prison was not to repent... But to dig out her daughter's ashes to vent her anger.

Lilly really couldn't understand, as a mother, what kind of hatred she had for Leigh.

The corners of Claudia's mouth twitched, probably because she was afraid that others would come to take revenge on her, and seemed to want to quibble.

Lilly watched quietly, she wanted to know how this mother was able to live happily until now after doing such a thing.

Claudia really quibbled and said, "Leigh is my daughter, it's none of your business on how I deal with her ashes."

"My daughter's ashes... I have the right to deal with it. I have checked everything. This is not illegal!"

Blake's expression darkened, and he said coldly, "We are asking you why!"

Gloria was taken aback, and when she saw Blake's sinister gaze, she felt her scalp go numb, and she didn't dare to defend herself even if she wanted to.

"I gave birth to her in the 1980s and 1990s, and you all know that it's not my fault! After giving birth to her, I didn't abandon her, and even gave her to my brother's family to raise her..."

However, the truth could not stay hidden for long. In the end, the unit knew that she had given birth beyond the regulations and fired her.

She had to take Leigh back to her side!

"I just feel very unlucky! This child was born unlucky, cursing the parents!"

"Everyone's children come to repay their parent's favor, but she is just a debt collector!"

Anyway, Claudia hated Leigh very much, and felt that she was the one who caused her to lose her job, and it was useless because she was a girl.

"It's annoying just looking at her!"

When Claudia talked about Leigh, she still didn't feel guilty at all... Her eyes were filled with boredom and disgust.

"So... You just... Just because you don't like your daughter, you just... Treat her like that?!" Lilly asked incredulously.

Claudia muttered, "So what..."

Lilly opened her mouth.

How could this be.....

She traced to the darkest places of the human heart to find out why.

However, no matter what, it was just such an insignificant reason!

Lilly instantly felt that a bucket of cold water had been poured on her in three cold days, and her hands and feet were icy cold...

Chapter 875 She Was At Perfect Liberty

Lilly deliberately searched for it, but she didn't expect to hear a phrase of "so what".

"However, she is your own daughter!" Lilly's heart ached.

However, Gloria nodded as a matter of course, "I know she is my daughter, and I wouldn't be like this if it wasn't someone else."

"The daughter I gave birth to is a lump of flesh that fell from my body... I am at perfect liberty to do what I want..."

Gloria still could not figure out why she was imprisoned for seven years.

The child she gave birth to was her own decision, she was the mother who gave birth to her and raised her, so it was her right to deal with it.

"Isn't it normal for parents to beat their children since ancient times..." Gloria felt more and more aggrieved the more she thought about it, "Shouldn't she be beaten for stealing food? If I did not beat her, she wouldn't remember the lesson!"

She still stole food at home, so she was born to be a cheap bone.

Lilly understood that talking too much was useless.

What she wanted to know was why she committed violence.

Sometimes it was just because of a concept, sometimes it was just because of an innocuous little thing...

"Then today, you don't feel that you are guilty towards Leigh," Lilly stared at her, wanting to see if there was any trace of remorse in her eyes that was stubborn or dared not admit it.

Unfortunately... No.

Gloria just nodded again and again, and said obediently, "I know I was wrong. After the education and reflection inside, I deeply realized my mistake..."

This was said very slickly, she probably had said it countless times just to deal with it, but there was no trace of regret that should be there.

She gave birth, no one else can control it! She could do whatever she wanted, she gave Leigh a life, even if she killed her, she should give it back to her, what was wrong with that?

Lilly said disappointedly, "Everything has a cause and effect, reincarnation is not empty... You asked for it."

After she finished speaking, she said softly, "Dad, let's go!"

Blake stood up, kicked the chair back to its original place, picked up Lilly and left.

Lilly laid on her father's shoulder, feeling limp and powerless.

Perhaps most children had a perfect fantasy about the world, thinking that good people would always be rewarded and bad people would always be punished.

However, in just two or three years, she discovered that this was not the case. The more she watched, the more she discovered the reality of the world.

After getting into the car, Lilly took out her pen of judgment, and was silent for a long time facing the void...

On the street, a woman suddenly yelled, shouting a name.

"Nina Ethan! Why did you run away by yourself! How many times have I told you not to run around by yourself and you still do this to me!"

The angry mother slapped her three or four-year-old daughter in the street, and still slapped her in the face.

She probably couldn't find her daughter just now, so she was anxious, and said angrily, "Are you going to die? You wished for someone to abduct you, right?"

The helpless little girl burst into tears.

The people around were taken aback, and those who were close persuaded, "Oh, it's not good to slap someone in the face, why did you just slap your own daughter in the face..."

"Yes, yes, you shouldn't have."

The young mother was even more angry when she was accused by others, with tears rolling in her eyes.

She flicked her hand and pushed the little girl aside, "Go, go! Don't you like to run around and play? I don't want you anymore! Go!"

After speaking, she walked forward angrily.

The child was terrified, and chased after her, crying heartbreakingly and calling for her mother.

The young mother took out her mobile phone and called the father of the child, complaining to the father in a crying voice:

"As soon as I turned around, she was gone!"

"Hurry up and take her away, I won't want to watch her anymore!"

As she spoke, she cried herself first, hung up the phone, and felt more and more wronged as she thought about it.

She was also a mother for the first time, so why did people who did not understand the situation wrong her?

Before she gave birth to a child, she was also a human being, and she also had her own emotions, not to mention the exhaustion of raising a child. She was really terrified just now.

The strange eyes of people around made the young mother even more uncomfortable. She couldn't figure out why she couldn't do well. It was wrong to care, and it was wrong when she was anxious. No one understood.

This kind of emotion was manifested on the surface, that was she walked forward angrily, no matter how much her daughter cried for her mother to hug, she just ignored it.

After a while, the child's father arrived and picked up the crying daughter. The child laid on his shoulder crying out of breath.

The young mother also cried. If the child was lost, she was the first to be blamed. When the mother lost her temper, the first one to be blamed was the mother... Who would forgive her?

The noisy family of three gradually walked away.

"Daddy, you said they are like this... Who is wrong?" Lilly looked out the window.

Blake said, "The child made a mistake at the beginning, the child's nature is to be playful... She completely forgot what her mother said when she was having fun, and ran around by herself."

"Later, it was the mother who was wrong. She cared about the child. There was nothing wrong with worrying about the child. What was wrong was that she couldn't control her emotions."

A child was a child for the first time, a mother was a mother for the first time, and everyone was a human being for the first time in this life.

Some people became top students at one time, whether it was taking exams, getting married, or raising children, their whole life was a role model in the eyes of others.

Some people stumble and learn slowly, but there was no simulation in the exam of life, and anyone who made a mistake will be criticized.

Lilly asked, "So what should we do?"

Chapter 876 Mobile Phone

Blake thought for a while and said, "If you ran away, Dad would hide and follow you secretly."

"I won't let you find out. When you get tired from playing and think about looking for your father, you suddenly find that your father is gone..."

This time, the child should be panicking. When she cried enough and really knew that she was afraid, he would show up again.

"Of course, that's just Dad's style of doing things."

There were also some parents who took the trouble to respect and teach, and kept talking in the children's ears.

There were also parents who beat them up, and dutiful sons were born under the stick.

There was also simple and rude verbal violence from parents: Don't dare to come back no matter what you do...

While talking, there was another pair of father and son on the road. The son took the new toy and assembled it enthusiastically.

The father kept urging him to hurry up with the things, but the child seemed not to hear, so angry that the father confiscated the child's toys.

The child who was concentrating suddenly lost his toy and started crying... The father got impatient and scolded and reprimanded him on the street.

There were many parents with children on the street.

Every parent was different.

Lilly held the pen in her hand, and didn't write for a long time.

Pablo looked at her quietly, wondering what she would write down.

After a long time, he finally saw Lilly slowly write a line of words on a new booklet:

All evils in the world: There is a kind of violence in the world, which is the violence of parents against children.

This violence existed in almost every family.

The crying child on the street, the mother shouted angrily, 'You go! I don't want you anymore! ' was a form of violence.

Children dawdling a bit, parents verbally abusing was violence...

Not to mention the ones who do it at the slightest disagreement...

However, people like Claudia's treatment of Leigh was utterly evil.

Heaven, or hell, the difference lies in the thought.

Lilly wrote the sentence and finally put down the pen.

"So, there is a limit to everything, right?" Lilly smiled, looking at Master.

The discipline of children should be relaxed and moderate, but it must not be to vent their temper.

The moment you lost your mind, that was when the demons appear.

Pablo was slightly startled, and whispered, "Yes... One thought of heaven and one thought of hell."

What kind of thought determined whether you stood in heaven or hell.

**

Claudia hid in the house, watching the tall off-road vehicle drive away from the town and disappear.

She muttered, "What was that ..."

Came to ask about the past and then left, she thought they were here to arrest her!

For so many years, Claudia was not afraid that Leigh would turn into a ghost and come looking for her, but she was afraid that she would be arrested and locked up for a few more years.

However, which parent did not beat their child? She was unlucky enough to be imprisoned for seven years. Now that Leigh was dead, she did nothing but dig out Leigh's ashes and stampede her ashes to vent her anger when she was released from prison.

She didn't do anything wrong, so it did not make sense for them to arrest her!

Claudia did not know how many times she had studied the punishment, but after Lilly and Blake left, she confirmed one thing:

The country's laws could not do anything to her now!

"Spit!" Claudia muttered a few words, then spat at the street.

A neighbor next door came by and asked, "Gloria, who are the father and daughter who drove the car today? You have rich relatives in the city!"

"What are they looking for you for?"

Gloria was ambiguous, closed the door and went back after saying something she didn't know.

The neighbors just thought it was strange, but they didn't think too much about it.

They never dreamed that the protagonist of the female abuse incident that caused a sensation all over the country was actually their neighbor Gloria!

However, they soon found out...

The night shrouded the lively town.

Gloria just took a shower and walked towards the washing machine with her dirty clothes.

Her husband went out to play cards after dinner, and her son had already married and worked outside all year round, only coming back during the New Year.

At this time, her phone rang.

Gloria thought it was her husband who liked to play cards, so she swiped to answer without looking at the screen.

There was a harsh noise on the opposite side.

"Hello?" Gloria frowned, and glanced at the phone screen strangely.

Number display: Unknown number.

Gloria was very surprised, she said hello a few more times, but there was no sound, and the phone hung up quickly.

"I'm sick," Gloria cursed in a low voice, and continued to put the clothes into the washing machine.

After she was done, she half-laid down on the sofa and started watching videos again.

Just when she was enjoying the scrolling, the phone rang again suddenly. Gloria swiped up the video call just in time, and the phone was connected in an instant.

On the phone screen, a human head suddenly appeared.

Gloria was so frightened that she almost threw her phone out!

Immediately, she remembered that she was just watching the video, and thought that what appeared on the screen was a short video. She did not know which bastard pulled such a horrible prank on her!

Gloria swiped her phone repeatedly, wanting to swipe away the 'short video' on the screen.

However, somehow the phone got stuck, no matter how she swiped, the head on the screen was still there, staring straight at her.

Gloria panicked, she didn't dare to look directly at her, and somehow felt that this face looked familiar.

Suddenly, a familiar yet unfamiliar voice came from the phone, and she said quietly, "Mom, what are you doing?"

Gloria's eyes widened in an instant, and she threw the phone out reflexively!

Snapped!

The phone fell to the ground and the screen shattered!

The strange thing was that the mobile phone with the display screen facing down suddenly moved by itself and turned over with a click.

The bloody head on the screen appeared in front of her again!

Chapter 877 Reincarnation Was Not Empty

Gloria screamed.

"Ahhhh—"

She backed away in horror, stuck to the sofa, and shouted, "Don't come here!"

Gloria thought that she had already forgotten what her daughter looked like.

However, tonight, a bloody head suddenly appeared on the phone screen.

The few memories about her daughter in her mind suddenly became clear!

"You... Don't come here!" Gloria yelled in horror, "Get out, get out!"

The phone floated faintly.

It rose to about one meter, which was exactly the height of a child...

It seemed that there was an invisible body standing in front of her, and the head connected to the neck of the body happened to be the head on the screen of the mobile phone.

It 'walked' forward step by step - the mobile phone moved forward one by one.

"Mom, have you forgotten about Leigh?" The phone slowly floated closer, "How could you forget Leigh?"

Gloria screamed, grabbed something on the sofa and threw it at the phone.

However, luckily, such a big pillow just missed and landed on the side coffee table.

"Mom, it seems that you still remember Leigh," There were two lines of blood and tears in the eyes of the head, "Mom, have you seen it? I am in so much pain that I cried until my tears disappeared, and I was bleeding from crying."

"Mom, I'm really hungry... I want to know why mom doesn't give me something to eat!"

"Mom, look at Leigh's mouth and throat... The hot oil was poured by my mother, it's so scalded and rotten now!"

A sound of "Mom" should have been the warmest and most cordial salutation in the world.

However, at the moment it seemed terrifying.

Leigh's mouth grew wide, and even two small blue and purple hands appeared on the screen, opening her throat.

Cut open the scalded meat in her mouth and throat and presented it to Gloria.

Gloria couldn't stand the terrifying stimulation, she rolled her eyes and passed out!

Creek creek... Creek creek...

Gloria was woken up by a strange voice. She didn't know how long she had been in a coma, and she opened her eyes in a daze.

It was soon discovered that she was asleep, with the phone stuck to her face.

Gloria who just woke up was a little confused, subconsciously picked up the phone, and immediately froze!

She remembered, she fainted from fright, she fainted from the things in the phone!

Why was the phone stuck to her face now!

Gloria looked at the quiet mobile phone. The screen of the mobile phone was still black, and the light in the living room was a bit dazzling. She could see her own face on the black screen of the mobile phone.

She only felt her scalp go numb, stood up in a panic, and threw the phone out of the window forcefully!

Who knew that as soon as she turned around, she saw her mobile phone appearing on the coffee table behind her!

The phone with the purple case, the broken screen... It was the one she threw out just now!

Gloria screamed and fled through the door. She rushed out of the road, screaming and running away like a crazy woman.

The neighbors in the neighborhood were all surprised, and they all poked their heads out to see.

"Gloria?!" Someone shouted, "What's wrong with you, where are you going!"

A piercing sound of brakes sounded, and Gloria was hit by a car that turned off the road and flew away...

Gloria couldn't see the road in front of her.

It was dark, and the usually clear street was now dark. She ran for a long time in horror, and when she turned around, she found that the mobile phone was still closely behind her.

The height of about one meter is exactly Leigh's height before she died.

Because of long-term malnutrition and not having enough to eat, she was only about 90 centimeters tall when she was four years old.

The floating height of the mobile phone was exactly 90 centimeters. Gloria couldn't measure it carefully, but she knew that the height was 90 centimeters.

"Don't come here...don't chase me anymore!" Gloria screamed, "Get out! Don't call my mother, I don't want you anymore, you murderous thing, get out!"

After Gloria cursed a few times, she suddenly remembered what the old man in the village said, that was, if you encountered something unclean, just scold it severely and it would be scared away.

"You bitch, you can't make people peaceful even after you die!"

"I was hurt by you! Not only did I lose my job, but I was arrested! You bastard!"

"I just hate why I didn't kill you earlier!?! As early as when you were just born, I should have pushed you into the urine bucket and drowned!"

The more Gloria scolded, the more resentful she became, and she invisibly expressed the resentment in her heart.

The bloody head had two red eyeballs on its face, staring at her motionlessly.

"Mom, don't you know that I will also be in pain?" Leigh complained in her voice, "I also long for my mother's hug, and also long for my mother's love."

"I'll be cold, I'll be hungry, I'll be in pain... I'm not a beast!"

However, animals lived better than her.

The leftover white rice at home was not given to her, but the chickens.

The chickens ate the leftover rice bran, and she grabbed it and stuffed it twice, and she would be beaten by her mother.

Her brother had apples to eat, and he could go to the canteen to buy candy... However, she could only shrink in the corner of the door and watch.

After being poured with hot oil, she didn't eat a grain of rice or a drop of water for seven days, but she could only curl up under the wooden sofa, enduring the pain...

Why... Why!

Leigh became terrified in an instant, blood and tears kept falling from her eyes, and she said sharply, "Then mom, you should also... Feel my pain!"

She cried and laughed, "Mom won't hurt, right? Even if you forcefully sew your mouth shut and pour hot oil, it's okay, right?"

Gloria only felt a chill in her heart, and she felt terrified for no reason, but before she had time to think about it, a gust of wind suddenly blew past!

The surroundings were dark, she could not see clearly, there were only countless crying sounds, there were men, women and children!

Before Gloria regained her senses, she was held down by two ferocious men who looked like ghosts, and they picked up a needle thicker than the tip of a pen and pierced the skin at the corner of her mouth.

"Ah ah ah ah ah ah ah--!!"

Gloria screamed!

However, soon she couldn't cry out anymore, the needle and thread went up and down her mouth, and her mouth was quickly sewn up... The blood kept dripping!

Gloria almost fainted from the pain.

So cruel, so cruel! Was there any reason to just sew her mouth like this, it was a crime! Come and catch them!

Gloria whimpered non-stop, shouting for help from the bottom of her heart, to come and arrest them.

The next moment, her mouth was pinched, and the stitches that had just been sewed on were torn off abruptly!

"Ah--"

Gloria fainted from the pain.

In the next second, she was woken up by a bucket of cold water!

The two men in front of them were expressionless, as if they were doing things according to the order:

One was frying lard, the oil in the pan was smoking...

The other was pinching her mouth, holding a big spoon in his hand...

Gloria instantly remembered what happened thirty years ago, and the scenes of that day played back in her mind very clearly!

It was just that, in this identity swap, it was her daughter who had her mouth pinched and poured hot oil thirty years ago, but now it was her!

"Don't... Don't... Help, Help..."

In hell, Gloria's tragic cry echoed.

Chapter 878 Polly Awakens

Gloria took a trip to hell.

Her mouth was sealed, and she was poured with hot oil, she got whipped and her flesh was cut...

Everything she did to her daughter played back in hell.

She couldn't bear it just once, and the screams and cries didn't stop.

Finally, the bad news stopped, and she was paralyzed on the ground like a pile of feces.

"Finally... Is it over?" She cried, with snot, saliva and tears all over her face.

"Do you think this is the end?" The ghost messenger who carried out the retribution said blankly,

"This is just giving you back all the atrocities you have done to your daughter."

"The next step is your real retribution!"

Clatter—

The real pan of oil in hell, the tongue pulled out, the mountain of knives, the copper pillar etc... Appeared, and Gloria only felt a buzzing in her head.

Her shitty limbs struggled and crawled, "No— I want to go back, I want to go back!"

She did not want to die, it was terrible to die!

She used to be complacent because the laws of the world could not punish her. Even though many people scolded her in the past, she would suffer retribution. She thought it was something after death. What else do people know after death?

I didn't expect it to be so scary!

"I want to go back... Ah—"

Gloria was dragged down.

Here, no one could come to 'save' her, no one could pull her out of the nightmare.

In the hospital, the unconscious Gloria had a grim expression.

Her husband didn't have the patience to take care of her. Most of the time when he came to see her, he was playing with his mobile phone and didn't pay much attention to her expression.

It turned out that after Gloria was hit by a car that day, her head hit the curb and she fell into a coma on the spot.

He was sent to the hospital for emergency treatment, and he was indeed rescued, but he never woke up.

The doctor told her husband to talk to her more and help her wake up early... Unfortunately, her husband didn't have the patience.

Gloria lay like this day after day, until the hospital said she could be discharged, but she didn't wake up.

After taking her home, Gloria, a vegetable, lay in bed for a long time and needed to be taken care of, but she could not count on her husband. Her son and daughter-in-law came to see her in a hurry.

Gloria's living soul was trapped in hell, repeating the process of being punished forever.

As for her body, because her husband forgot to change her diapers and bed sheets twice in three days, her body was now covered with bed sores, feces and urine are all over her body, and maggots have grown from the rotten bed sores, and the whole room reeks of stench...

In the end, Gloria died in her own excrement and urine. When she died, she didn't have a piece of good meat on her body, and the rotten flesh was covered with maggots. It was a tragedy on earth.

After Gloria's real death, her retribution did not end, and she was still in hell to atone for the evil she had done, until finally her soul was sluggish and unconscious...

Of course, these were things for later.

Lilly wrote a few words on Gloria's page of fate and closed the booklet.

This was her own booklet, and now it only recorded the various situations in the world... Even she and Pablo did not know that a booklet recorded casually will later become a book full of enlightenment and principles.

"Hey... People's hearts..." Lilly sighed like a little adult.

Pablo couldn't help laughing, "How old are you, you're so old-souled."

Lilly muttered, "I am five... I am six years old, I am not old."

Polly shook his head and said, "Not old! Not old! We will never be old... What the hell!"

Just as he was singing vigorously, Bellflower rushed over with a sudden pounce!

Hunting time!

With a creaking sound, Polly flew up like a firecracker, and hit the ceiling with a bang.

"Bellflower, I'll circle you around..." Polly was furious.

When did this damn meow come here!

It didn't know at all!

Shouldn't he be locked up in the Crawford mansion honestly?

Bellflower meowed, turned its belly over, and rubbed against Lilly's arms begging for a hug.

Its hunting look just now was gone, and was replaced by soft meows, so much cuter.

Polly flew down, stood on Lilly's shoulder, and said speechlessly, "Hypocrite meow, bitter tea meow, fake meow..."

"Let's learn to meow together, meow meow meow meow! Pee on its head, meow meow meow meow!"

Bellflower was annoyed, and jumped into Lilly's arms to kill, the sharp claws hooked Polly's wings!

It showed a sinister meowing vicious expression.

Got caught by it this time?!

Its claws were very sharp, as long as it was hooked by its claws, no one could run away!

In the next moment, a ball of light exploded!

Polly fluttered his wings, and the dark light appeared!

"Meow--!"

Bellflower screamed and was sent flying out.

Lilly was stunned, and so was Polly!

Polly looked at his own wings in shock, and then at the hanging bell that was blown away...

There was a bird chirping on the window sill, and it looked over subconsciously... Only to see a bird that had turned into bones pecking at the window!

It could also see human ghosts before, but this was the first time it saw ghosts of the same kind, as if a person had suddenly seen a ghost, and it gave it a fright.

However, it reacted quickly!

Polly, "!!"

"I'm sorry, what kind of operation is this, I am shocked!"

"This is really awesome, it's awesome!"

"Did you see it? Did you see it? This is the speed of your Master Polly! It's as fast as thunder and jingle bells!"

After reacting, Polly jumped up happily on the spot, as excited as it could be.

It worked!

It was awesome!

It could be with Lilly forever!

Chapter 879 Officially Entering the Primary School

Seeing the crazy Polly, the corners of Pablo's mouth twitched, and Lilly's eyes were filled with amazement.

"Master and father said that Polly would not get knocked off easily, and sure enough, he has become more powerful, as expected of Polly!" Lilly boasted fiercely.

Polly was very excited when he was praised, he beat Bellflower!

Wow, wow, it was so awesome, it could not only talk, sing and fly, but now it could also attack with magic!

"It's okay, Rookie!" Polly raised a paw and danced, "I'm sorry, I'm sorry, it's too powerful and I won't stop it for a while!"

Not sure where it learned the lines, and it even looked smug when it said them.

Bellflower limped over, just now Polly was instinctively counterattacking, but he didn't know it himself, so it was no wonder...

Bellflower pitifully stuck to Lilly's feet, meowing as though complaining, with tears in its eyes.

Lilly hurriedly comforted him, "Bellflower is injured? It's alright, don't cry, I'll cure you right now... Polly didn't do it on purpose, don't provoke it next time."

Bellflower was even more aggrieved, "Meow!"

Why did this damned bird become so powerful, it's not fair! It also wanted to travel with the little master, and it also needed to become more powerful!

Beep!

Seeing that Bellflower was fine, but with an aggrieved expression on his face, the proud Polly sang happily:

"Oh... I can't afford to be hurt, I really can't afford to be hurt~ The master and his three apprentices~ If you have a conscience, if you have your conscience, you will be taken away by a dog~ It will be tens of thousands of miles away~~~"

"Yo Ho Ho Ho Ho ~~"

Pablo, "....."

Lilly, "..."

Bellflower, "..."

No one expected that Polly would become so powerful, Pablo floated cross-legged in mid-air, holding Polly in his hand, checking it thoroughly.

"What about it, master! Have I opened up my conception and governor vessels, master!" Polly quacked.

Pablo was speechless, "Shut up!"

Polly, "Alright, Master! I shut up, Master!"

Pablo, "....."

He squeezed Polly's frame, and said, "It's really powerful, it has already begun to absorb energy, and circulate the energy..."

From then on, he was no longer a mortal bird.

When Polly heard it, it let out a hahaha arrogant laugh, "Lilly! I have opened up my conception and governor vessels, and the bridge between heaven and earth. From then on, I will be a bird who has evolved!"

Lilly couldn't help covering her mouth and sniggering, "Polly, do you know where the vessels are?"

Polly tilted his head.

Lilly said, "The conception and governor vessels only exist in the body of selective talents, and the conception vessel is in people's stomachs!"

She pointed to the location of her diaphragm.

"The governor vessel is in..."

Pablo's hand trembled, and he quickly pressed her hand, "Don't point it!"

The governor vessel was in the middle of the legs! Was this not nonsense?

Lilly blinked, and immediately said obediently, "I know Master, I don't point it out!"

Polly's head was full of question marks.

What was wrong with the Governor Vessel?

Its head stretched between its two paws, and it tilted its head to stare at its stomach...

It was opened up! It was opened up!

It felt like the wind was swishing in its body!

Soon the Crawford family knew that Polly was not an ordinary bird. Josh and the rest circled around Polly curiously, spreading his wings and opening his mouth.

They wanted to see what was different, the final conclusion was:

"It's not the same!" Josh made a conclusion.

Polly, "..."

"Sister, when are we going to catch ghosts?" Josh asked, turning his head and looking at Lilly expectantly, "I caught the head myself last time! Aren't I super powerful!"

He told Lilly about his independent capture of the ghost and the case.

Lilly nodded affirmatively without hesitation, "Brother is the most powerful!"

Drake on the side curled his lips, and snorted unobtrusively.

After a long while, he finally couldn't hold back, and said lightly, "I was also there."

Drake raised his eyebrows, and laughed haha, "That's right, my brother was also there, but he can't even see ghosts!"

Drake suddenly said very displeased, "Who said I can't see it?"

Didn't he see it in the end?

"Besides, I stepped on the head when it was about to bite you."

Josh picked out his ears, "Why don't I remember such a thing?"

He only remembered his super handsome side.

His brother...? Forget it, his brother was just like his uncle, not worth mentioning!

"Let's go, sister, I'll take you to do your homework!" Josh hurriedly pulled Lilly up.

Lilly, who was about to praise Drake, said, "Ah?? Wait..."

Wait, were they not going to catch ghosts? Why did they suddenly skip to the homework!

Lilly was ashamed, even though she had been in the first grade for one semester... She didn't learn anything!

Josh said, "Ghost hunting is also a must, but my dad said that studying is the first priority! Let's write our homework before catching ghosts!"

The two brothers Drake and Josh were extremely self-disciplined.

From an early age, they developed a good habit of finishing their homework and studying before doing other things.

Big Head Hannah was on the contrary!

So in terms of learning, they vowed to train Lily well!

Lilly was dragged to the study by Josh with such a confused face.

Drake was in charge of teaching her languages.

Josh was in charge of teaching her mathematics.

There were several workbooks on the table, which was Lilly's 'homework' - although it had already passed due, it did not matter, Drake and Josh both feel that these few homeworks were small cases and can be completed soon.

Lilly just sat down in a daze, started to study in a daze, and started to do homework in a daze...

She had officially stepped into the ranks of primary school students!

Chapter 880 Retentive Memory, Lilly's Super Brain

In the study room, there was a language book in front of Lilly, and Drake was teaching her patiently.

Lilly listened very carefully, and quickly sank down.

Because of the epiphany in the Abyss, Lilly quickly entered a state of efficient and focused learning. The words and vocabulary she had learned could be fully memorized after reading it—

Whether it was writing or memorizing, she had no difficulties at all!

Furthermore, Drake had taught her to read and write before, and although most of the characters she learned at that time were traditional characters, she also learned simplified characters.

So Lilly learned the language quickly, and she memorized it completely after flipping through the book.

Drake couldn't believe it, her speed... People who didn't know would think she was just flipping through books!

"You can write these and see," Drake put the classroom exercises of last semester in front of her.

Lilly nodded, picked up the pen and swished...

Soon she discovered: She could do it all!

She remembered it vividly in her mind! Every stroke, every punctuation mark... Were all very clear!

In less than half an hour, Lilly finished the whole classroom exercise.

Drake, "!!!"

Drake opened his eyes wide, "No way..."

She had learnt so fast?!

Could it be because he thought his brother taught her how to read before?

No, no, no, he could not think that way, it must be because his sister was smart!

Drake hurriedly took out the first grade math book and began to teach Lilly.

Lilly still finished reading after turning a page. Drake only needed to go through it once, and she immediately understood it.

Drake's mind was buzzing, she had learned the entire mathematics book at once, and he hurriedly took out the mathematics classroom exercises.

Lilly looked at the math workbook, and her little brows couldn't help frowning.

It was too easy!

It was to fool the children, she was not a kindergarten child!

The difficulty of counting to 12345 was almost the same as teaching Polly!

Lilly swished her pen again and again! In less than half an hour, she finished a book of math exercises!

Both Drake and Josh were shocked.

The two were stunned, Josh's face was dull, even Drake, who was always calm and elegant, couldn't control his expression.

Lilly raised her head in doubt, "Brother, what's wrong?"

She was suddenly a little uneasy. She just wrote it after reading it. Could it be that she made a mistake?

Her brother said at the beginning that she must be serious in her studies, and carefully review the questions when doing the questions, and she must not be impetuous.

She should not be careless...

Lilly suddenly became unsure, cautiously stretched out a finger, and quietly turned a page to see if everything was wrong...

However, Drake suddenly jumped up and shouted excitedly, "Wow!!!"

"A super genius was born in our family!"

Their sister was better than him and his brother!

Super brain, photographic memory, she could understand everything at a glance!

Super smart, she could master it after only teaching once or even without teaching herself!

This brain could definitely defeat 99.99999% of the world's geniuses!

He was going to be so proud!

"Long live my sister!" Josh was so excited that he couldn't help but pick up Lilly and spin around in circles!

Old Mrs. Crawford heard the croaking in the study, and thought it was Drake and Josh having a dispute, and the two brothers had quarreled again.

"It was really outrageous, arguing in front of your sister, do you behave like a brother?" Old Mrs. Crawford said to herself, and pushed open the study.

She saw Josh almost lifted Lilly up and spun her around wildly.

She was shocked and said, "Put her down quickly! It's dangerous!"

What if she fell!

Josh said excitedly, "Grandma, my sister is a genius!"

He immediately told her how well Lilly studied just now.

Old Mrs. Crawford doubted, "Is it really so magical?"

The entire Crawford family knew how much Josh doted on her sister.

Old Mrs. Crawford wondered if he was just biased for his sister.

As a result, she stood by the side and watched as Lilly finished a test paper, she was also shocked!

"Old man... old man, come quickly! Something has happened!!" Old Mrs. Crawford went out in shock and panic to call someone.

As a result, the rest of the Crawford family came!

Old Mr. Crawford panicked and ran away with one shoe, "What's the matter?"

He looked flustered, thinking that something happened to Lilly.

Anthony was in the middle of the meeting when he heard this and threw the computer away! He also quickly arrived at the study...

He looked around, and first thing first he confirmed that Lilly was fine, the second thing that Old Mrs. Crawford was fine, and finally that his two sons were fine.

"What?" He asked, walking to the desk with steady steps.

Blake arrived at the same time as Anthony, Lisa was behind him, and finally the impatient aunt almost threw Blake out.

"Are you okay?" Blake also immediately confirmed that everyone was fine, and stood on Lilly's right side.

Zachary, Hannah who was doing homework, and a few other uncles all rushed over. This space was considered small with so many people, so it was easy for each other to hear the movement outside.

"Are you okay?" Edward lifted the nearest chair and put it aside.

Liam looked nervously at the children.

Jonas raised his eyebrows, "What happened, our Lilly pierced the ceiling?"

Bryson said, "If she did, then just let it be. Our Lilly is not an ordinary person, it's a normal thing."

Max said, "The ceiling is not broken... No, we can redecorate it another day and install Stacy No. 2..."

Gilbert asked gently, "Lilly, what happened? Why is your grandfather missing a shoe?"

Lilly was stunned.

She innocently looked at grandma, then at grandpa, and then at the ceiling.

"I... I don't know either?"

Lilly swore, she really didn't know anything!
