Elite Doting Marriage: Crafty Husband, Aloof Cute Wife

Chapter 1998: (END) - The World is Huge, But Home is Wherever You Are (Part Eighteen)

Su Yan smiled at the mention of Xiaomi. "She said she liked a yacht and she went to take a look."

His tone and smile could hardly hide his affection for the girl.

Xuxu smiled and praised him. "President Su is really generous."

She sighed and continued. "All women want to look for a husband who would allow her to buy anything she wants. Or a man who would swipe his card for her any time."

She sounded as though she couldn't buy anything she wanted and didn't have a husband to swipe his card for her.

Young Master Yan looked exceedingly angry when he heard that. "I built the resort for you and now you want a bridge to connect the islands. I'm entirely yours too. Is this not enough to satisfy you?"

This stupid woman had deliberately provoked him.

"I'm just saying. Why are you taking it to heart?"

Xuxu glanced at Yan Rusheng and she looked frustrated.

Young Master Yan sneered. "You forget that I'm very petty."

He rolled her eyes at Xuxu and strode towards them. He settled himself in between them.

Although Su Yan was already attached, and they were passionately in love, he would still refuse to allow Xuxu to be close to Su Yan.

He remembered that this guy had a crush on her before.

Xuxu was speechless and she rolled her eyes. "Work comes first."

Then she suddenly hugged him and snuggled against his chest.

Ignoring the surprised look on Yan Rusheng's face, she glanced at Su Yan. "Both of you have decided not to hold a wedding? Does it mean we can save some money?"

Su Yan chuckled. "You can decide."

"Sure." Xuxu nodded as she suggested, "We should give you all of Flourish & Prosper."

She sounded half-serious and half-joking.

Su Yan waved his hands to reject her. "No way! If I take over, both of you can just sit back and relax?"

He glanced at Yan Rusheng as he spoke, "I have already helped out for the past few years. It's time for me to take a trip around the world. There are so many places I need to explore and there are beautiful sceneries waiting for me."

His passion for photography had never died down. He had been looking forward to traveling around the world to continue his passion.

“How I envy you. Sounds so wonderful.” Xuxu gazed at Su Yan, looking wistful. Unconsciously, she tightened her arms around Yan Rusheng.

But she envied herself more, for she had gotten the entire world.

In the end, everyone got what they wanted, along with additional surprises.

Ming Ansheng had a new little lover and he was happily taking care of his princesses.

Lu Yinan and Zhou Shuang were expecting their child. But they were still debating whether it was still considered Zhou Shuang’s second pregnancy.

Zhou Shuang’s status in the family had elevated and Young Master Lu was just like her personal assistant. He took such good care of her and was at her beck and call.

But it was both a happy and tormenting period for him as bedroom affairs were banned.

Young Master Jiang was going to be a father soon and there would be a new successor for the expanding Jiang empire.

As for Young Master Su, he was off to achieve his dreams.
