

EMPEROR 1311

Chapter 1311: Karmic Guardian Physique

Alstreim Family's Grand Library.

In this place of immense knowledge, Davis in a corner sat as he compiled information and digested it. At the same time, his Solitary Soul Avatar dealt with Tina Roxley's matter after those two Zlatans left.

He had already assured Ancestor Dian Alstreim that trouble was unlikely, and even if it came, it would only be directed at him instead of the Alstreim Family as he was the one who provoked the Zlatan Family in the name of the Dragon Queen Isabella, further explaining that all he had to do was announce to the world that the Dragon Queen would exit in around six months from her closed-door cultivation session.

Davis became satisfied with how Ancestor Dian Alstreim was accommodating his actions and listening to his words without getting caught up in unnecessary ego problems, even though he was a bit rude to him. He knew that he had earned enough achievements and cultivation base to be listened to, but still, he noticed all this and knew how to reciprocate when the time came.

It could be said that Ancestor Dian Alstreim invested in him, who is a high-risk high-return, and since he thought of himself as an ultimate performer, he would make sure to pay back with full interest!

At the moment when the Solitary Soul Avatar asked Aurelius about the Karmic Guardian Physique, Davis was also going over the contents regarding the Karmic Guardian Physique from the Grand Library. It was the same as what was said by Edgar Alstreim with a few extra points.

The Karmic Guardian Physique is a constitution that enables one to comprehend Karma Laws without even having the need to interact with people most of the time like other people who would like to comprehend Karma Laws. It was such a boon that cast heart demons over numerous Mystic Diviners, making them feel jealous of the host of such a physique.

It seemed like a self-improving physique that, with each Whisper of Fate Phenomenon the host experiences and successfully crosses, it improves rapidly and, in turn, allows the host to easily comprehend Karma Laws. As to how many times it could improve, there wasn't anything concrete written about it.

Some ancient records indirectly mentioned that it was three times, while others said it was four or five times.

It was all nonsensical, obviously with some fake records mixed in it. Nevertheless, since no one could perceive the truth, the counterfeit records weren't taken away but kept.

This meant Edgar Alstreim's information on Tia's Karmic Guardian Physique Grade could also be wrong.

'There shouldn't be much of a difference...' Davis mused, 'If Tia does not have a Low-Level Emperor Grade Physique, then she should have a Peak-Level King Grade Physique or lower...'

'Nevertheless, this Karmic Guardian Physique keeps improving without any need for resources, almost as if the bind of the physique was released with every Whisper of Fate Phenomenon successfully crossed, so what's the end result? This physique... It's almost as if it's readying the host for something...'

Davis contemplated as he finished reading the contents recorded in the Alstreim Family library.

It was minor and limited, mainly about what the people with those Karmic Guardian Physiques could do using Karma Laws, but it was understandable since the Alstreim Family had no need to collect many records of this other than basic records. After all, in their ninety thousand years of history, the Alstreim Family has never given birth to a Mystic Diviner, much less a person with the Karmic Guardian Physique.

Perhaps, they had given birth to someone with that physique, but before they could mature, they were all unable to cross their life-changing Whispers of Fate Phenomenon and ended up dead without other people even coming to know about it.

'This is bad... There are only around less than seven or eight years left until Tia Alstreim, and her mother Lia Alstreim dies of an unknown cause...' Davis felt that time was running out and that he had to do something about it.

He didn't want that cute little shy girl to die, nor did he want her mother to die. Therefore, he felt that he had to do something about it, but even he didn't know what he could do for her!

Tia was just a teenage girl who probably had only subconsciously comprehended Karma Laws, not really pondering much about it or not able to. Even though her physique allowed her to comprehend, her cultivation base was small, not really allowing her to comprehend in resonance with the heaven and earth energy's acknowledgment.

Perhaps, the moment she reached the Law Seed Stage is when her Karmic Guardian Physique would start to show its prowess! It could not be helped. After all, Karma Laws were Greater Laws, but it should still be possible for Tia to learn Karma Laws even now if she actively pondered it.

However, when he recalled how he saw her bouncing around the palace without a care in the world, it was apparent that she was enjoying her life.

Davis finished reading the records and was about to read records on Transcendent Truth Eyes, the unique constitution that his little sister Clara possessed. However, he stopped, knowing that he could question the Mystic Diviner and quickly get some answers he failed to get, and perhaps have a breakthrough in why Tia might possibly die in a few years.

Using his Solitary Soul Avatar, he asked and listened patiently when his expression suddenly froze!

"W-What...?"

"Tell me all you know about the Karmic Guardian Physique..." Davis ordered Aurelius.

"... The Karmic Guardian Physique is a special constitution that allows..."

"..."

Aurelius went on and on about the things that Davis already knew, but there was some difference he came to know of as he listened.

"... The Whisper of Fate Phenomenon is what allows the host to know that they possess the Karmic Guardian Physique... This phenomenon foretells the importance of an event, person, or even a resource to their life, making it so that they have to find out what to do in order to cross it."

"... It may or may not benefit them or someone close to them, but it is up to the host to figure that out... Once they do successfully cross it, the binds on their physiques become weakened as they then advance in grades."

"... One Whisper of Fate Phenomenon indicates that their physique is in the Mortal Grade and successfully crossing it means that their physique has reached the Earth Grade... In the same way, crossing the second Whisper of Fate Phenomenon indicates that their physique has reached Sky Grade and so on and so forth until their Karmic Guardian Physique reaches Emperor Grade, where the host must have successfully crossed their fourth Whisper of Fate Phenomenon..."

"... Finally, when they experience the fifth Whisper of Fate Phenomenon and successfully cross it, they do not experience any increase in their grade, but their physique becomes awakened..."

"I see..." Davis uttered a word of comprehension.

Awakened... This was the word he had been looking for when he had earlier concluded that the Whisper of Fate Phenomenon was preparing Tia for something.

Edgar Alstreim told him that Tia was experiencing her fourth Whisper of Fate Phenomenon, but whether it was crossed or not remained something he didn't know unless he asked. Just when he thought that Aurelius had finished speaking, he continued.

"... When awakened, the Karmic Guardian Physique brings down heavenly tribulation upon the host..."

"!!!"

Aurelius's voice was indifferent as ever, but it made Davis feel a deep chill down his soul.

'H-Heavenly tribulation...!?'

'Is that why Tia dies in less than eight years!?'

Davis became utterly dumbfounded before he felt a deep chill again.

It now all made sense to him!

The moment she experienced her fifth Whisper of Fate Phenomenon and crossed it with his or someone else's help, would she encounter a heavenly tribulation!

Before he could ask anything, Aurelius continued.

"... It is said that if the host of the Karmic Guardian Physique survives, their talent in Karma Laws will bloom, and their path to becoming a Mystic Diviner is certain as long as they don't die halfway."

"Is there anyone who survived it...?" Davis blinked as his expression trembled.

"... It is said that the Sect Leader of the Heaven Gazing Sect possesses Peak-Level Emperor Grade Karmic Guardian Physique, along with two more Grand Elders who respectively have High-Level Emperor Grade Karmic Guardian Physiques..."

Davis bitterly chuckled as he heard it.

Presumably, if Tia joins the Heaven Gazing Sect, she would either be given the most care in the entire sect or killed to make sure that she doesn't infringe upon certain people's benefits. However, would the Heaven Gazing Sect go too far?

Davis can never know as people are sometimes truly unfathomable, hiding their real faces unless they encounter something that can flip their life upside down. For example, Tia's presence in the Heaven Gazing Sect would disrupt many people's path to the top, and one perfect example of such a person stood in front of him, Aurelius, who only barred his claws after a misunderstanding that Tina Roxley had the Fate Discarnate Soul that could take him to the apex!

"Do they experience the Whisper of Fate Phenomenon anymore after they have awakened their Karmic Guardian Physique?"

"... Yes."

"How does it differ from the previous Whisper of Fate Phenomenon, or is it the same? Does the Physique still improve after it awakens?" Davis asked three questions while he looked a bit agitated.

"... Yes, it is said to be the same. However, it does not improve the physique anymore as unique resources that relate to Karma Laws are required..."

"What kind of resources!?"

"... I don't know."

Davis looked like he had been splashed by a cold bucket of water right on his face from Aurelius's answer that he was jolted out of his agitated emotions.

Chapter 1312: Was Never Easy

Davis quickly calmed down as he came to know that there was no use getting agitated to know the way to save Tia. He pursed his lips before asking.

"By heavenly tribulation, what do you mean? What kind of heavenly tribulation is it?"

"... I don't know."

Davis nodded his head, thinking that Aurelius's knowledge was just that much about the Karmic Guardian Physique. Nevertheless, he had learned many things that he didn't know before, so he mused that letting this piece of shit live in a mindless manner had been worth it.

What's more, Aurelius had a lot of techniques that used Karma Laws, so it could be said that he became both useful to him and Tia's future as she was someone who would learn Karma Laws.

He had yet to see what kind of Karmic Techniques there were and what other resources were in the spatial ring, but that can be seen later since it all belonged to him now.

"Davis, could it be that I don't possess this Fate Discarnate Soul but the Karmic Guardian Physique?" Tina Roxley doubtfully asked at this moment.

Both she and Brandis Mercer heard the conversation, after all.

Davis shook his head, "No, it belongs to... someone else."

He almost leaked it due to the strange emotions that made him want to tell the truth, but he endured, feeling like he was getting used to it unless Tina Roxley came at him with deep emotions filling her face.

"I see..." Tina Roxley nodded her head, truly believing his words, but she then smiled.

"But to make you feel agitated like this, it must be a woman..."

Davis's lips twitched turned to look at her, watching her light smile that appeared gentle. Those pretty amethyst eyes made him feel unusual in his heart.

"I suggest keeping this bastard locked up in eternal closed-door cultivation until we can kill him. What do you say?" He asked as he returned his gaze to Aurelius, avoiding looking at her.

"I agree, but where...?" Tina Roxley looked confused.

Davis pondered for a bit before his lips moved.

"Does the Heaven Gazing Sect require you to return sometime later?"

"... Yes."

"...!" Davis narrowed his eyes, again feeling like time was pressing against him.

"When exactly...?"

"... Forty years later."

"About that... I think he said something about how the Heaven Gazing Sect lets its disciples wander around the world, only requiring them to show their faces once every fifty years in the main sect..."

"I see..." Davis nodded his head on hearing Brandis Mercer's words, "So it's already been ten years since he left. Then it is absolutely safe to keep him locked up in this palace in closed-door cultivation for forty long years unless you're going somewhere else..."

Davis felt even ten years were enough for him to take care of the Heaven Gazing Sect. There was no need to speak about forty years as it was a long time for him.

"I think we should leave..."

Brandis Mercer spoke up again.

"Even after Aurelius became mindless, there are still those young masters and old fogies who are bent on pursuing Tina. I think they would not stop just because they don't receive word from Aurelius anymore. Wait, Aurelius wouldn't absolutely let other people know that he is doing something wrong as he would not want people to have evidence of his wrongdoing, so that means he remained anonymous while commanding them to harass Tina Roxley."

"It makes sense..." Tina Roxley agreed, " Otherwise, I would've already found out as I captured a brute who tried to corner me in an alleyway when I went shopping for materials, but I made him miserable and had him confess who made them do this, but all he kept saying was that he didn't know before I burned him to death..."

"..." Brandis Mercer looked at his daughter's unknown and merciless side.

"Why'd you enter an alleyway when you were shopping...?" Davis frowned.

It was common sense that one might be targeted where there are fewer people around, especially in an alleyway where there would be little to no people.

Tina Roxley blushed and looked hesitant but still spoke, " I was unable to help myself... because that's where we're supposed to hold hands for the first time..."

She shot out her tongue in embarrassment.

Davis inwardly cried on hearing her wishes, feeling that he shouldn't have asked as it just made him feel complicated for the nth time, again and again. He imagined that it would become better if he left her place, but he also couldn't bear to leave her just like this, and perhaps that's why he gave all those spirit stones to her.

"You two can come to the Alstreim Family..." Before Davis knew it, these words already came out of his mouth.

He inwardly sighed and added, "If you two want to, that is..."

Tina Roxley's eyes shone as she deeply smiled, "Are you staying in the Alstreim Family?"

Davis paused before he nodded his head.

"The Thousand Pill Palace has many branches there...?" Brandis Mercer nodded his head, "I think we can move to one of them..."

"No, we're going to the Alstreim Family, father..." Tina Roxley cast her puppy eyes at him, causing him to reluctantly nod his head while he also felt that it could be a trap, although it was unlikely.

Did a Soul King who easily enslaved a Mystic Diviner need to go as far as to take them back to his home before killing or trapping them? Highly unlikely unless there was another motive in Davis's mind.

"Don't worry... I won't ever disturb you unless you come to see me of your own volition...!" Tina Roxley assured him as she looked eager.

Davis nodded his head, but she instantly reacted.

"But there's a condition...!"

Davis frowned, "What...?"

"I should be able to at least see you once for half a year as I wait..." Tina Roxley shook her hands, "Ah, you don't need to accept this... I'll just be persistent in..."

Davis visibly sighed in front of her as if sighing in exasperation, "Why do all this when it is clear to you that I'm trying to avoid you?"

"You're a powerful man..." Tina Roxley appeared confused, "It is I who must pursue and not give up in managing to catch your attention... Otherwise, it wouldn't make sense, but I would love it if you were to pursue me as I would instantly-"

"Enough..." Davis raised his hand as he stopped her, "You're just influencing me more and more that I feel like that I want to take you home, wed and bed you right now..."

Tina Roxley became stunned as the smile on her face froze while Brandis Mercer understood nothing as his wry expression froze as well.

"That's why I said I need some time as I can't allow these unnatural emotions to run rampant in me. If possible, I would even like to erase these emotions and look at you in a new light and form an acquaintance with you, starting from the beginning, but I can't. Do you want me to love you with these 'fake' feelings that I have for you?"

Tina Roxley's heart shook as she shook her head, "... No... I want you to genuinely love me..."

"See..." Davis smiled as he relaxed, "We have the same taste in how we want our partner to feel towards us. I don't want to hide anything from you as I can feel that your love towards me is sincere. So until I find the source of these unnatural emotions that I have for you, I don't think I can truly love you as I would always have the doubt that..."

"Do I really love Tina Roxley..?"

Tina Roxley trembled as she heard his words and lowered her head. Silence filled the surroundings. A while later, she raised her head and nodded.

"I already said that I would wait, but every half a year, I will come to see you. Whether you allow me to see you or not is something I don't dare to think about, but I will remain persistent!"

Davis's heart shook as he heard her resolve. It was extremely difficult for him to not embrace and console her that he loves her with these unnatural feelings screaming inside him. However, he endured.

For all he knew, these emotions could be from someone else, or even from himself! No matter what it may be, he wanted to find the source and erase it so that he could normally interact with Tina Roxley. He could take her right now, but that just didn't feel right with him.

If he made love with her, was he the one making love, or would it be another person using his body?

His body couldn't stop trembling from just the thought of it. As long as he didn't know the source, he could never know whose feelings these truly are!

"You can see me, just like how you tried to forcefully see my face..." Davis couldn't help but wryly answer.

Tina Roxley blinked before she smiled, "I see that Elder Seylas spilled you with everything about me, but why didn't he contact me and said that you had come back? I had even given him a messaging talisman..." She pouted.

"That was because I threatened him with his life, and he obediently listened..." Davis deeply smiled.

"Seylas..." Tina Roxley uttered with a bit of anger.

If Seylas had told her that Alchemist Scythe had returned, she would've left to search for Alchemist Scythe without any delay!

All this while, she had thought that she wouldn't meet Alchemist Scythe while remaining hopeful that he would one day come to meet her of his own volition like a prince riding on a dragon, so the happiness that she had felt when she knew that this person was Alchemist Scythe was inexplicably rapturous.

And now, she felt that she had made considerable progress in her quest to find him as she had even received his approval to stay near him!

"Nevertheless, I look forward to meeting your beloved wives..." Tina Roxley gently smiled.

Davis's expression froze before he wryly smiled, hoping that she wouldn't start a crusade against him in his family.

"Fine, have it your way but don't cause too much trouble..." He felt that he could not really go against her before he looked at Aurelius.

"Go seclude yourself in your room after you announce that you decided to enter closed-door cultivation for decades. Every ten minutes, slap yourself really hard, every hour, smash your balls with your fists, and every twenty-four hours, suck your own... feet." Davis was about to say something else but decided not to as there was a lady beside him.

Brandis Mercer understood that slight pause, but he didn't comment on it as he saw Aurelius mindlessly open his mouth.

"... I understand."

Aurelius then left while Davis looked at them and waved his hand, "See you two, ah, you three at the Grand Alstreim City..."

He disappeared from their view, causing them to blink while Tina Roxley became happy that he remembered her little sister.

"Tina, are you sure of your decisions...?" Brandis Mercer wryly asked.

"Decisions?" Tina Roxley shook her head as she kept her smile, "I had decided that if I ever met him again, I would never lose the opportunity to interact with him like I lost in the Xuan City! If I don't go, I will be truly hopeless by then as this is the life I have decided for myself!"

"That's a difficult path you've chosen considering that he already has numerous women who could please him to his heart's content..." Brandis Mercer couldn't help but comment.

Tina Roxley resplendently smiled at this moment as she looked at him, "Father, my life was never easy in the first place..."

Brandis Mercer's expression froze as he recalled the life that Tina Roxley had lived through, crossing past adversaries like her wicked family, her vile father, and grandfather, all the while protecting her little sister. She crossed through all that before reaching here, all in the hope that she finds that single man one fateful day!

His heart shook at her determination as he smiled, "I'm proud of you, my daughter..."

Tina Roxley's body trembled before she shed two tears as she smiled, "I am only here because of father. I will never forget the undeserved care and concern you have shown towards me, father."

Brandis Mercer's eyes teared up as he looked away, "Get your little sister. We're leaving after we rent this whole palace all in Aurelius' name for the upcoming fifty years!"

"Yes...!" Tina Roxley's eyes shone with expectations as they left the place.

Chapter 1313: Not Wrong

Alstreim Family's Grand Library.

Davis sat up, his sapphire eyes shining with an understanding light.

"Mandate Laws..."

Two words escaped out of his mouth as his lips curved into a smile.

"To think my little sister Clara is in possession of such a law with the help of her Transcendent Truth Eyes... She can practically bend the will of numerous people, even force them to have strange feelings that are not originally present within them, similar to what I have for Tina Roxley."

It had been more than three years since he had seen her, making him feel nostalgic for her calm and poised figure.

Davis's lips curved into a forlorn yet wry smile, "It's a ruler's power, alright. I just hope that she doesn't bully me with it..."

He was a bit sad because of her powers. Since the heavens gave her this physique, has it prepared something for her to accomplish?

He didn't know, nor did he want her to face dangers as he just wanted her to live a peaceful and joyous life.

As for her powers, he learned that Mandate Laws were a part of the Greater Laws, and that meant its true prowess could not be unveiled until Clara reaches the Law Sea Stage. Nevertheless, he knew that as long as she reached the Law Seed Stage, she would be able to learn the Elementary Intent of Mandate Laws and keep comprehending until it reached its abstruse form in the Law Sea Stage, meaning that she had already comprehended and used it by now, perhaps on many people.

Davis couldn't help but imagine her using it to shut up people into submission with just her words. Perhaps, she might've already used it on Diana and Edward to make them obey her. That made him laugh but also gave him the shivers.

It was written, with just a few words uttered by a person using Mandate Laws like, "Become my slave!" the other party might inevitably become their slave if their cultivation base is lesser! It was that dominant!

Such a power was truly terrific like Karma Laws, but of course, like Karma Techniques that might fail to affect the target, the chances that Mandate Laws might also fail to affect the target remained the same or higher.

'I guess that Clara would have to figure those limitations out by herself, but what I can do as a big brother is to help her develop her Mandate Laws by getting her techniques from the Heaven Mandate Temple...'

The Heaven Mandate Temple!

It is one of the four great righteous power of the Fifty-Two Territories standing along with the Heaven Gazing Sect and two other powers, and their top experts are people who learned Mandate Laws, but he didn't know if they had the Transcendent Truth Eyes or other similar physiques that allowed them to comprehend Mandate Laws.

All he knew after reading these records was that the Heaven Mandate Temple possesses a comprehensive record, cultivation manual, and lots of techniques that concerned Mandate Laws.

Even more, they considered themselves Heaven's little substitute as they possess the power to command, the power of mandates, and apparently, they are said to rule as though they are emperors, especially the head of the Heaven Mandate Temple. It was said that no one wanted to deal with him as he was rumored to be the strongest human!

And Davis had just learned this through digesting the contents in the Alstreim Family Grand Library and also gained more general information about other powers in the Fifty-Two Territories, including magical beasts and spirits.

Nevertheless, he looked at the second level of the Grand Library as it contained more records of cultivation and professions, but he didn't access it as he was busy at the moment.

He had actually taken his foot to this place because of wanting to know more about the Fifty-Two Territories so he could plan accordingly and act in case of contingencies when the Dragon Families come knocking on the door of the Alstreim Family, but also because of meeting with Tina Roxley and ending up knowing about the Fate Discarnate Soul and Karmic Guardian Physique of Tia's, he had switched to learning about them after he learned about the Fifty-Two Territories.

And finally, he learned about the Transcendent Truth Eyes, along with other physiques such as Drake's Exquisite Nine Yang Body, Kara's Exquisite Nine Yin Body, and many more.

They were all unique in their own way, aiding the possessor in the path of cultivation.

However, Clara's was even more rare and unique.

With her Transcendent Truth Eyes, she had the power to see the ultimate truth of the events, regardless of the people's perspectives. At least, that was what was written in block letters in the records transcribing the Transcendent Truth Eyes.

He had once speculated how Clara's Transcendent Truth Eyes could see the ultimate truth of his transmigration, and it might turn out to be true from what he read.

And depending on her answer, he would know if he was a foreign entity who possessed the little Davis Loret or the previous incarnation who possessed the soulless husk of his next incarnation or, in other words, possessed his next life.

Although he was sure that he was the previous incarnation of Davis Loret with his short trip to Planet Earth, he couldn't be completely sure without having Clara confirm it for him.

'Physiques, huh...!' Davis inwardly sighed.

Although he felt a bit jealous of not having a physique, the presence of a heaven-defying treasure like Fallen Heaven made him not even think about that. It was just that a physique was considered one's own strength while a treasure was not.

But still, Fallen Heaven was his wealth, and this fact alone was more than enough to make him satisfied.

Davis began walking out of the Grand Library as he felt that he had learned enough for today.

A lot of hours did pass from the time he made love with Natalya and took the innocence of Fiora, followed by the dull encounter with the retarded Raeburn Zlatan before learning that he had probably acted on his own or was put up to it by someone other than Farus Zlatan. After that, he met with Tina Roxley, ending up learning the conflicting emotions he had towards her, but the moment he left her and floated in the skies, he came to know that those conflicting feelings left him, making him entirely calm again.

It was just as he expected.

He was only influenced by those strange, unnatural emotions when he was near Tina Roxley and not when he was away from her. That gave him a bit of relief as he knew that he didn't have to be feeling strange all the time.

However...

'I won't let it become a repeat of Shirley's...'

'If I do confirm that these strange feelings are indeed mine, then I'm making her mine... I won't let her keep waiting, nor would I let her be taken away by another man...'

Davis inwardly nodded his head as he decided while he was on his way back to the Purple Guest Palace.

Before he could even reach halfway towards the Purple Guest Palace, a figure appeared in front of him.

It was none other than himself, his Solitary Soul Avatar. It had speedily returned and threw an object at him before it disappeared again.

Davis smiled as he captured the spatial ring and bound it to himself. It was none other than Aurelius's spatial ring.

However, he kept it inside his main spatial ring as there was already a matter of top priority in his mind. There was someone he should see as he felt irresponsible of leaving after doing something like that, but with all these things he had to do piled on his head, he could only keep giving excuses to himself that he would see to it soon enough.

Naturally, he was thinking about Fiora and the loving look she had on her face while looking at him.

Davis knew that this lovely woman was probably head over heels for him. He had just taken her innocence today, and yet he didn't spend more time with her. He felt that it was irresponsible of him when he compared it with what he did with Evelyn and Natalya.

'It's all because of that retarded Raeburn Zlatan...!' Davis inwardly cursed.

If it were not for him, he would still be in bed with Natalya and Fiora, perhaps, ultimately descending deep into the arts of carnal pleasure with them!

Nevertheless, because of that retard, he also got to know about the anomalous Tina Roxley. Otherwise, he doubted that he would've gone to see her of his own will with all the things he had to attend to piling up one by one.

At this moment, another figure appeared before him, causing him to stop in his tracks.

"Davis..."

Davis looked at the exquisite beauty in front of him, looking at him with mixed emotions in her golden eyes.

"Nadia, what's wrong? Did something happen while I was away?" Davis raised his brows in doubt.

Nadia pursed her lips before she avoided his gaze, "I had enough sleep..."

Davis became relaxed. However, he became amused at seeing her avoid his gaze.

'That's rare... She came to see me of her own volition, huh...'

He smiled and flew towards her as he reached out his hand to hold hers while Nadia became startled.

Davis could feel her soft palms with his own as he held her hands, "I'm glad that you had some sound sleep after protecting me for all those days in the dungeon, but I still haven't told Evelyn or others about us yet..."

"I apologize, Nadia..."

Nadia's arms lightly shook as her eyes widened, "No..."

"There's no need to apo-"

"No..." Davis remained adamant, "Although it would take them some time to accept you, it can be even now. Therefore, it was I who was not courageous enough to take that step, as I don't want to be seen by them as a sickening pervert who has that kind of relationship with a magical beast..."

"Davis..." Nadia's lips trembled, "Are we wrong...?"

"Never...!"

Davis uttered with such confidence that Nadia looked blown away, her mouth slightly agape.

Soul force sprung up like a tide before it concealed them as Davis pulled her towards him and strongly kissed as he embraced her. Soon enough, Nadia began reciprocating with passion as she relished the feeling of his lips, realizing this was a part of sharing love with each other as she felt her heart flutter in ecstasy.

After a few seconds, Davis let her rosy lips go before he looked at her moistened golden eyes.

"It's the world's perspective that is wrong, Nadia... not us."

"Mhm..." Nadia pursed her lips and nodded, "I want to become yours, Davis..."

"You are already mine, so you should say that you love me instead..." Davis resplendently smiled as he pulled on her cheeks.

"Hehe.." Nadia's lips turned wide as she giggled.

She turned around and flew towards the Purple Guest Palace, leaving him behind in an instant.

Davis smilingly shook his head as he saw Nadia's back, thinking she was becoming cuter and cuter in his eyes. She was no longer the wild Nadia he knew but an exquisitely beautiful woman who moved his heart and made it skip a beat a lot of times.

Nevertheless, a wry sigh escaped from his mouth as he began following her back.

Taking on all of his women's worries and needs is sure gonna be hard, perhaps harder than satisfying his own hardness!

Chapter 1314: Otherwise, Difficult?

Davis and Nadia headed back to the Purple Guest Palace. They soon arrived at the eighteenth floor, whereupon he saw another three lovely figures standing in the hallway, seemingly giggling and chatting as their faces were all smiles.

When they turned around and finally noticed him, their eyes slightly widened in excitement as if they were waiting for him.

"Davis, you're back~"

A voluptuous figure shot towards him as a melodious yet seductive voice echoed.

Davis saw Evelynn rush towards him as she ditched Natalya and Fiora. She arrived before him in an instant and jumped on him as she embraced his neck.

"Ahaha~"

Davis spun her around three times as he held her back while looking at her bright face that was full of smiles and love for him. He stopped as he embraced her, feeling her body warmth pass all over him as she too tightly held him, kissing his cheek before her lips curved into a teasing smile as she arrived beside his ear.

"I heard you tasted the forbidden fruit... How was it?"

Davis's entire being froze as he received a shock that traveled from his brain to his lower body, making his thing inevitably stand up as he recalled the taste of Fiora when he took her in front of her elder sister Natalya.

His expression changed before he whispered in Evelyynn's ears, "You vixen... You dare to tease me now...?"

Paah~

"Ah~"

An erotic sound echoed as Davis clasped on to Evelyynn's butt cheeks as she released a startled moan. At the same time, he leaned and took her lips, starting to explore her sweetness with his long tongue as he kissed.

"Mhmm~? Mhmm~"

Evelyynn's cheeks were filled with a healthy yet shameful blush. She became a bit hesitant, but she gave up resisting almost instantly.

Knowing her body became lax, Davis took advantage of her as he forcefully groped her butt, pulling her towards him as he pushed his rod into her honey pot as if wanting to ram into her, but it remained impossible with their robes obstructing them.

However, Evelyynn trembled on feeling his heat pass through her while that hard feeling made her shiver. Her mouth watered while her legs became limp in pleasure, but Davis kept pleasing both her mouths while he sucked on her upper lips while teasing her lower lips.

"D-Davis~ ... D-don't~"

Davis let her lips go, but she used that chance to helplessly implore. However, it appeared extremely seductive to him that he pounced on her lips once again, licking her lovely tongue sloppily, sucking on her plump and mesmerizing lower lip before releasing it with a pop of his mouth, seemingly licking his lips the next second as if enjoying it before he attacked her once again!

"Mhmm~~ Hmpfm~~"

Evelyynn found herself at his mercy as he tightly held her green hair and pressed her mouth towards him. It was almost as if she didn't have a choice, but even that turned her on as her lower body twitched under his constant, skillful machinations. She could feel his hands clawing deep onto her plump butt cheeks as he kept squeezing, pulling, and releasing them, making them bounce before he lightly slapped them and pushed her towards his raging boner.

Fortunately, she was facing Natalya and Fiora after they spun around, but she couldn't see their expressions as her moist eyes were shrouded.

Davis became so focused that he caused her breathing to become rushed. Her whole face was now red, including her two cute earlobes that made him want to bite and nibble on them. However, he soon came out of his reverie, knowing that if he took it further than this, a conversation with his second wife and the forbidden fruit was near impossible to start.

Chupa!~

Davis gave Evelyynn a final loud kiss before he released her.

"You'll dare to tease me again after this?"

"... Ah~" Evelynn breathed hard while her black eyes were glazed, "I will..."

"You impudent-"

"Davis, you're making Fiora jealous..." A melodious voice suddenly echoed, prompting Davis to know that it was time to stop flirting.

"Wha-!~ When did I become jealous!?"

Fiora reacted like she was a cat that had its tail stepped upon. However, her expression was covered with a crimson hue.

"Haha... I got a bit carried away with sharing my love to Evelynn..." Davis wryly chuckled as he saw Evelynn lower her head, still breathing hard while her big bosoms heaved along with her.

'Was that a bit too stimulating for her...?'

Davis inwardly thought as he recalled how he fondled her plump ass and teased both her fronts. His expression became rather awkward as he knew that she was probably wet for him right now.

He leaned towards her and kissed her fair cheek, "Wait for me... We'll begin our round two in a few minutes after I reassure Fiora..."

Evelynn trembled as she released a heavy breath.

She knew that she had inevitably provoked him with her words, so she reaped what she sowed. However, she didn't regret it but was glad that she provoked him because she now got his time, as well as her scent all over him.

However, she became confused.

'Davis tasted a bit different initially... Was that Fiora's taste? But... It had already been hours since he left this place...' Evelynn blinked in doubt as she looked towards Nadia, her eyes narrowing.

'Well, I'll know who it was if I ask Nadia... But Davis said that he won't hide anything about other women from me... Oh well, it must be because he ate a sweet fruit or something...'

Davis left Evelynn and walked towards Natalya and Fiora. He arrived in front of these two sisters and felt awkward as he saw their smiling faces. Somehow, he couldn't believe that they were both his women.

"Davis! I loved those face slaps! It resounded throughout the entire Alstreim Family that the Zlatan Family brat was forced to run without any face left in this place!" Fiora excitedly spoke as she clenched her fists.

"Hehe..." Davis wryly chuckled, "I'm glad you liked it, but I might've inevitably offended so many people now."

"That's right. I was worried about that..." Natalya frowned, "You-"

"It's fine, Natalya. Our husband knows what he's doing, or at least, we'd like to believe so, right?"

Natalya blinked on hearing Evelyn's voice before she smiled, "Yes, big sister. I didn't mean to doubt."

"I didn't mean to interrupt either. It's just, Fiora's matter is more important to us than some Zlatan Family brat..." Evelyn wryly smiled as she arrived before them.

Natalya's expression became thankful while Fiora shyly lowered her head.

Davis almost whistled on hearing Evelyn's words. She was surely taking the initiative to act as the big sister and unite all of them as one. He felt moved to have such an accommodating first wife.

He reached out his hand and grabbed Fiora's hands that were comparatively smaller than her elder sister's.

Fiora's heart shook as his strong hands touched hers, letting her become expectant of his next move.

"Truth be told..." Davis began with a wry smile, "I don't know what to say to our relationship, Fiora."

"...?" Fiora blinked, not understanding what he meant while the other two also possessed similar expressions.

"I know I was a little hasty in taking you as mine with little to no feelings of love for you, but that doesn't stop me from wanting to make love with you as I want to try to develop those feelings for you." Davis pursed his lips before he chuckled, "You don't understand, right?"

Fiora absentmindedly nodded her head while thinking about his words when Davis suddenly pulled her lithe figure into his embrace and whispered into her ears.

"It means that I want to develop strong feelings with each other using our bodies..."

"!!!"

Fiora trembled in his embrace, her ears becoming crimson as blood congealed towards her earlobes.

"Do you think that's forceful?" Davis asked as he gently held this deflowered woman yet a maiden at heart, "I do not mind slowly develop-"

"No..." Fiora shyly lowered her head as if wanting to bury her head in his chest, "Please make love with me..."

"I want to feel pleasurable, fortunate, and loved by you like elder sister and big sister!~"

Hearing Fiora revealing her wishes, Davis smiled in acceptance as he kissed her forehead.

"Well, you know what I think?" Davis smiled, "I think you're already covered by happiness with two elder sisters pampering you..."

"... Yes~"

"So you're greedy for more?"

"... Yes~ I want more~"

'Damn! She's so adorable...' Davis's heart melted at her shy squeals.

He looked at Evelyn and Natalya and saw that they were smiling widely as they giggled, but he felt that they were once the same adorable women who clung to him and similarly squealed to express their love towards him.

He looked back at Fiora, finding her immensely to his liking as she was open about her feelings like she said she was, and even though she may have a sharp tongue, he believed that she would mature and know when to use it and when not to in the future.

Davis decided as he nodded his head.

"As for marriage, I-"

"Wait! I'm willing to wait!" Fiora raised her head as her voice melodiously echoed, "I know that you will marry big sisters Isabella, Sophie, and Niera, so I'm willing to be the last!"

Davis blinked at her outburst, not knowing what to say.

"Fiora-" Natalya interrupted, but Fiora squealed.

"I've already decided, elder sister! Unlike you, I know the problems of a man with many women as I've read a lot of romance novels. At least, one of us needs to be the last! Otherwise, D-Davis will find it very difficult to look after us...!"

Chapter 1315: All To Myself

Davis looked at the three beauty's expressions and understood that they were likely discussing what to do about Fiora's marriage when Fiora decided on her own on what to do before she just confessed out of the blue, her decision becoming a surprise to both Evelyn and Natalya.

Her words reached his heart that made him want to pamper her with his newfound love for her.

He absolutely didn't peg Fiora to be the understanding type, but from her words, she appeared like she knew how to be considerate, making him relax a bit because if she started crying that he was not sincere towards her, he would not know what to do other than thinking that it was his fault.

"Fiora, are you really okay with your decision? I might really marry you last if you would allow me to, you know..." Davis slightly had his eyes narrowed.

Fiora looked at him with her moistened black eyes as she had her arms wrapped around him.

"It's not necessarily a bad thing. I get to be the last dish, a babelicious dessert, no?"

Davis's eyes widened while Evelyn and Natalya reacted the same.

He almost thought that milf of a mother-in-law put Fiora up to this because this sentence of hers low-key turned him on. However, considering that they had the same genes, he figured Fiora was another mature woman in the making.

Today, she had her first, and as time passed, he felt that she would blossom into her best form with his passionate and experienced love-making sessions.

"And when it is finally my turn, I can have you all to myself. Isn't that right...?"

Hearing Fiora's voice again, Davis came out of his reverie as he amusingly smiled.

"You're right, Fiora. If you're like this, I think I can come to love you faster than I imagined I could..."

Fiora's expression blossomed into a bright smile as she giggled, "Love me faster. I'm a delicious woman, you know..."

"Oh yes..." Davis lewdly smiled as his lips slightly widened, "The taste while I plucked the flower as I made love with the forbidden fruit was tremendously delicious..."

Fiora's cheeks became crimson red as she recalled the time when she was pounded while she held her elder sister for emotional support. Remembering that wonderful sensation now as she felt his body warmth made her body shiver in his embrace.

'Oops, can't afford to make her wet right now...'

Davis let her go and saw her breathing became a bit rushed as she turned away. She then took a deep breath to calm herself down.

Davis looked around and noticed that they smelled rather fantastic, perhaps sensual, making his brain be stained with pink, full of lust and love. He himself endured his already hard boner as he looked at his second love.

"Natalya..." He moved to and embraced her while she closed her eyes as if it was natural and puckered her lips.

Davis wanted to let her know, but looking at her expectant expression, he leaned and took her luscious lips as he began to savor them with utmost contentment and love.

"Mmm~"

Natalya reacted with a pleased moan as she wrapped her arms around him while Davis ran his fingers through her lush black hair and held her head, not letting her escape even though she would not, but that ended up making her feel squeezed in his love instead.

Chupa!~

Davis gave her a loud kiss as he let her lovely lips go with a pop of his mouth, looking at her entranced yet needy expression with love.

"We'll continue this with only the two of us after I satisfy Evelyn, alright?"

"As you can see, she is already dripping wet from the teasing I did just now..." He added with a soul transmission.

"I know..." Natalya resplendently smiled while Evelyn averted her gaze, looking shy yet expectant.

Davis looked at Evelyn as he spoke, "Evelyn, I presume that you learned the manuals I gave by heart, so give the two manuals to Natalya."

Evelynn smiled, "I already gave her the Yin-Yang Merit Sutra months ago while I gave the dual cultivation manual for the soul just a while ago. I'm sure she would find it interesting and easier to comprehend before it is her turn..."

"So you kept the second manual with you all this time so you could experience it the first, big sister?" Natalya looked angered as she smiled at Evelynn.

"Mhm... Naturally..." Evelynn raised her head and provocatively smiled.

Natalya licked her lips as she smiled, "I want more time with him then..."

"Deal!"

'Yup, I'm a valuable object, alright...' Davis nodded his head as he saw them barter him.

"Big sisters... What's about this dual cultivation manual...?" Fiora suddenly sounded out as she boldly spoke, her face covered in a shy blush, "I want to learn too..."

Evelynn and Natalya raised their brows at this little chick, thinking that perhaps the one they would have to worry about the most is her because she was perhaps bolder than them in wanting Davis to look at and make love to her!

Nevertheless, they smiled at each other before they gave Fiora the Yin-Yang Merit Sutra before giving her a light peck on her cheeks, causing Fiora to feel fortunate.

At this moment, Evelynn suddenly felt a strong hand grasp her wrist before a voice echoed.

"Nadia, protect Fiora with your doppelganger while she gets a powerful and suitable Wind Elemental from the Verdant Alstreim House. I've already informed Xiao Meili of Fiora's arrival just before I entered the Purple Guest Palace, so the transaction would be smooth without a hitch."

"I understand, Davis..." Nadia answered from the side when the three women shot a confused look at her.

She blinked, realizing that she called him Davis instead of Master in front of them, but realizing that Davis didn't specifically ask her to hide, her expression remained the same.

"Yeah, Nadia is no longer my magical beast mount after the training session. She's more like..." Davis answered after a slight pause, "... family to me now..."

Although he didn't reveal the true relationship he shared with Nadia, his words were true nonetheless.

"I see... Isn't that good for you, Nadia?" Evelynn giggled as she hid her mouth with her free hand, her black eyes shining in a contemplative light.

"Yes..." Nadia answered, a thin layer of blush appearing on her cheeks as she averted her gaze.

"Then, we'll be leaving..." Davis smiled as he dragged Evelynn along with him.

Natalya and Fiora watched them leave before they looked at each other, a lewd smile forming on the faces of the two sisters as they giggled in sync.

"Nadia," Natalya walked to the exquisite beauty, feeling rather humble in front of her, "Please take care of my little sister."

"I will~" Nadia was rather overreacting as she clenched her fists, her golden eyes narrowing in a sharp manner, "Unless a Ninth Stage Powerhouse appears, they can forget about even trying to lay a hand on her!"

Natalya's expression became a bit wry, not knowing what to say.

Ninth Stage Powerhouses? Surely, they couldn't be bothered to attack her little sister, no?

Nevertheless, she nodded her head and smiled at her enthusiasm, "Thank you, Nadia. Davis was right to take you in as a family. I can also call you Nadia endearingly like Evelyn calls you, right?"

"Yes... Second Mistress..." Nadia seemed pleased as another Nadia spawned right beside her.

Fiora's eyes became rather wide as she didn't even see how the doppelganger had appeared. Didn't Nadia say that as long as Ninth Stage Powerhouses didn't appear, she would be safe?

Did that mean...

"Elder sister, what is her cultivation base?" Fiora hesitantly pointed at Nadia as she asked.

Natalya wryly smiled as her lips moved, "She's the strongest out of us all, a King Rank Species, King-Tier Magical Beast! Perhaps even more than husband and third sister Isabella as she could fight Low-Level Ninth Stage Powerhouses according to Evelyn..."

Fiora's body shook as she instantly took down her finger from rudely pointing at Nadia. Her confused smile froze as her brain trembled.

'Ninth Stage Powerhouse as a bodyguard!? This is too... extravagant!!!'

Fiora was about to decline as she felt pampered to the extreme, making her feel that she didn't deserve this much attention or care.

However, Nadia spoke as the doppelganger reached out her hand, "Let's go, Fourth Mistress."

"!!!"

"Uh, yes..." Fiora could only dumbfoundedly answer as she was then dragged away by Nadia's doppelganger, feeling like a naughty little princess who was taken away by her protector back to attend cultivation lessons.

Moreover, Nadia looked too beautiful in her eyes that she couldn't help but feel dazzled by her presence.

Natalya waved goodbye with a teasing smile while Nadia remained beside her as she had the important responsibility of protecting the Purple Guest Palace while Davis remained 'busy'.

"Thank you, Nadia. Thank you for protecting my husband when he traveled alone in the training session. I was always worried, but with you beside him, I was relieved that he would come back without fail."

Natalya conveyed her heartfelt thanks before she slightly bowed.

"Second Mistress, you can leave the security of this palace to me while you earnestly cultivate." Nadia patted her bosoms as she brightly smiled.

"Thank you, and don't ever leave Davis's side. Please keep an eye on the surroundings while being beware of the Zlatan Family or anyone else for that matter as they might try to make a move on him. I will have to shamelessly take liberties with you and have you guard the palace while I cultivate, Nadia..."

Natalya wryly giggled.

"Not a problem as I am already protecting the palace by Davis's instructions! As for those miscreants who might secretly show up, there is no need to worry, Second Mistress. No one can escape my senses unless they're a Ninth Stage Powerhouse at the very least!" Nadia proudly spoke.

"I see... but still, I thought of making some talk with you now that you're family. I'll be on my way now, so see you later~"

Natalya waved her hand as she left.

'Second Mistress is rather nice and pleasant like Evelyn. No wonder Davis likes the both of them deeply...' Nadia felt like she could become friends like she did with Evelyn, perhaps even becoming sisters in the future.

'For that, I have to work even harder!~' She inwardly cheered as her senses covered all over the place.

While Natalya left, her expression was rather strange, 'Oh dear, such a beautiful woman but a magical beast is now family? Even I feel entranced by her beauty, so what about Davis? Will he possibly lay a hand on her in the future?'

Natalya felt her brain tremble as she felt that it was not impossible before she inwardly cheered.

'I must work hard and learn many pleasuring techniques to make him stay his hands from Nadia!~ She's such a kind wolf, and I can't let her become defiled and feel abused by his strange needs!~ I will be the one to take care of his strange needs!~'

Natalya inwardly swore as she went back to her place to eagerly read the dual cultivation manual for souls!

Clank~

The door heavily closed on a couple as they looked at each other with knowing smiles. It was obviously Davis and Evelyn.

"Undress me..." A seductive voice came from Evelyn as she narrowed her lazy eyes.

Davis reached out his hand as he began to work on her instruction.

Soon, their robes fell, and their naked bodies entwined as Davis embraced her voluptuous body while deeply kissing her plump lips!

Chua!~

A loud sound echoed as Evelynn separated and smiled, a sensual look filling her expression as her luscious lips moved.

"I had enough of waiting and enduring, so ravage me already~"

Davis's eyes shone with a lustful light as his lips moved, "As you wish, my Poison Queen..."

Chapter 1316: Can I Go? (R-18)

Evelynn reacted with a satisfied smile to Davis's words as she was gently lifted up by him in a princess carry. She watched his side profile while he carried her to the bed. He appeared dazzling to her love-filled eyes while her lustful body trembled ever so slightly in anticipation of the wonders she was going to experience.

Once Davis arrived before the bed, as the bedroom door closed upon them, he naturally laid her down as if he was treating her like a baby before flicking himself above her, looking at her voluptuous naked body in all its glory as he admired her vivacious curves.

He could see droplets of perspiration on her forehead, her fair white neck, and even some spots on her bountiful bosoms. Those droplets were not sweats but her liquid pheromones secreting to attract him, and he had tasted these sweets many times.

She was literally a delicacy. His mouth became slightly agape as his breathing became a bit rushed while his hardened rod stood tall, wanting to pierce her to death!

She was a perfect woman in his eyes! A seductive beauty!

"You are extremely beautiful, Evelynn..." Davis subconsciously spoke as he had a feast for his eyes.

Evelynn's expression became full of crimson hue all of a sudden as she blushed. The hands that were free on the side moved to hide her bosoms as she now felt rather embarrassed after his compliment.

Davis looked at her soft, willow-like arms, and her hands hiding her bosoms but failing to do so as it was bigger than her small, delicate palm. He smiled as he reached out his hand, grabbed her wrist, and moved it aside, looking at her pink buds stand erect from lust.

She was already turned on, and her lower body remained wet for him. Nevertheless, he still took some time to enjoy the view of her womanhood before his gaze moved down, looking at her navel, her thick thighs before he went all the way to her elegant and pretty feet.

"Davis~ What are you doing? Looking at me like you're seeing my naked body for the first time? We did it just earlier today... and hundreds of times in the past~"

Evelynn's face went utterly crimson even though she looked as if she was enjoying his attention. She spread her trembling legs as he revealed her two pink petals that already looked soaking wet.

"Rather than let it hang in the air, at least let it in me..."

"That's right, I almost forgot about ravaging you while I admired your body..."

Davis teased with his brows raised as he grasped his long-hard rod and placed his hotness over her pink lips, eliciting a longing moan from her.

"Ah~"

He moved her lower lips aside with his rod and entered her as he pierced inside, feeling her warm inner walls tightly wrap around him as he grunted in pleasure.

"Evelynn~"

He pounced on her with lust as he wrapped her big bosoms with his two big hands, holding it as he moved his hips with fervor, ramming her insides with pleasure filling his member with each thrust that entered deep inside her.

Evelynn possessed a beautiful frown as she bit her lips, trying not to release a moan as she still felt shy about being overly complimented by him. She could feel her pink buds be teased and nibbled by his mouth as she held him towards her bosoms like a baby while his hips kept ramming her thighs as his rock-hard dick plundered her honey pot, issuing pa~ pa~ sounds as it caused her to squeal in immense pleasure.

"Mghmm!~ Mhmmm~::~"

She refused to let out moans as she closed her eyes, only feeling his caresses and ramming as her body shook each time.

With a pop of his mouth, Davis let go of her nipples as he moved his face towards her and saw her protest while she bit her own lips tightly but not fiercely in order to not moan. He became dissatisfied as he wanted to hear her moans, so he leaned with hesitation and took her lips, prying it open with his tongue.

Evelynn's eyes shot wide open as she felt his tongue enter her mouth like the last time as it began to explore her sweetness. Nevertheless, she was no longer able to keep her moans from escaping as it echoed into his mouth as she began to breathe harder and moan louder under his relentless kissing.

"MHMMH~::~"

However, her moans were all suppressed by his mouth instead, causing her to let go of her restrictions as she began to move her hips along with him, matching his rhythm as lewd and erotic sounds revolved around her love-making room.

"Ahn~ AHnng~ AHn~ Unhmm~!"

Davis left her mouth while his tongue was outside, but Evelynn pounced on him as she held his head from leaving, taking his tongue into her mouth again and crazily sucking on it as she frantically shook her hips along with his ramming.

Slurp!~ Slurp!~

She unceasingly swallowed his saliva as if she was hungry.

Chupa!~::~

Evelynn let him go while Davis instantly moved, sucking on her snow-white neck.

"AHhnn~ Davis!~"

She called out his name, causing him lustfully to suck on her neck as he began to speed up his ramming, his dick uncontrollably trembling inside her on the verge of spewing his yang essence into her womb as it stimulated and pleased her fleshy walls!

"Hnnnghh!~~~"

Evelynn likewise began to incessantly tremble as her pleasurable walls began to squeeze him tightly to restrict him from pleasuring her too much, but he had broken past her point of ecstasy as he hit her sensual spots while also sucking on her neck, making her orgasm before him but before her waves could reach his engorged top, hot white liquid shot inside her as it excitingly pulsated inside her, causing her pupils to tremble as she moaned.

"Ahhhhh!~~~"

Evelynn's moans were unabated as they both made each other deeply satisfied. Davis held her tightly as he let out his seeds into her while that pleasurable feeling made him heave a sigh of immense pleasure and comfort as he stayed connected with her supple body.

Davis stopped moving while Evelynn did the same, simply feeling the warm white liquid flowing through the entrance of her womb before it entered deep inside her. As the yang essence began to fill her up, it spurted for a whole minute in intervals and she began to refine it using the Mid-Level Emperor Grade Yin-Yang Merit Sutra.

"Ahnn~ I can't refine anymore, I'm full... I might break through to the Law Dominion Stage if I keep refining your potent yang essence..." Evelynn coquettishly spoke as she shook her head.

"I see..." Davis lifted his head up from her neck and rained kisses amidst her lovely face, "It's fine... You can take your time reaching the peak of Level Six Poison Intent... There's no rush..."

Evelynn's eyes trembled ever so lightly as those soft kisses and his words made her heart melt.

Davis knew that she was aiming for similar or greater prowess at the Law Dominion Stage. However, he felt that her progress was already great considering her age and the time she started to seriously cultivate. Even though she had higher cultivation than him in the past, it was not much different.

Moreover, Evelynn was just ten years older than him. He felt that there was no need for her to rush when he was the one rushing his cultivation, and one of the reasons he was hastening his cultivation rather than relaxing was so that his wives could relaxedly cultivate under his protection. So when Evelynn uttered her next sentence, he became shocked.

"Davis, can I go to the Poison Lord Villa Territory to improve my Poison Law Intent...?"

Davis became tongue-tied as he didn't know what to say. The moment he thought of letting her go as an understanding man, his heart shook.

"No, you must be under my protection...! I can't have you all alone out there in that chaotic place...!"

Davis recalled the bandits that stopped Raeburn Zlatan but were instantly killed with his overwhelming power. Nevertheless, there were actually too many bandits that Evelynn wouldn't be able to handle if she went alone. Moreover, he knew that the Poison Lord Villa Territory was more dangerous than it seemed, and even if Evelynn could survive on her own, he didn't want to take the chances.

Letting her face level danger like that Heinous Scourge of the Sunset Tear Mountain was okay, but dropping her in a land full of danger wasn't something he would allow her to face.

"I know...! AhnnN~~~" Evelynn answered when Davis suddenly pounced on her bosoms as he took her two pink buds into his mouth while he gathered her big bosoms in his two palms.

Slurp!~

He began sucking with an intensity that her erect nipples experienced immense pleasure that made her insides clench his rock-hard dick!

"I- I thought after we return from the G-Grand Sea Continent... At that time... even if you're still busy, I thought either Nadia or Isabella could accompany me..."

"Oh..." Davis stopped sucking on her two lovely bosoms as he raised his head, "So you weren't trying to go alone...?"

He pulled his hip back and rammed into her pussy, his rock-hard member sliding through her fleshy walls as it reached deep inside her once again.

"Ahnn~~~ You-! Of course, I won't go alone as I have no need to~ I have no such suicidal tendencies when I am living the life of a queen right now..."

Evelynn hid her face with her fingers as a healthy blush filled her cheeks while she held his blonde hair with another hand.

Were they having a conversation or making love? The gap between the two made her feel strange, and since she was already sensitive, she was feeling his thrusts even more!

Chapter 1317: Shocking Pleasure (R-18)

Davis smiled as he looked at her helpless expression while her body shivered lightly under him from his jab at her insides. He began rhythmically moving again before he sat down behind as he lifted Evelynn's thick thighs and placed her on his lap, letting her straddle him while his dick pierced deep into her cave hole as it caressed her fleshy walls.

While they sat, their faces were just inches apart, looking at each other in rapture from the pleasure created from the movement.

"As I said, there's no need to rush. However, if that is your wish, so be it. I'll accompany you if I'm free, or the two you mentioned would be glad to help you too."

"Moreover, your Poison Laws would indeed increase at a tremendous rate if you were in the Poison Lord Villa Territory as it has many poisonous environments, so I apologize for keeping you here instead of there."

"What are you saying? I love you and want to stay with you all the time, no matter where it may be... You are first for me while cultivation comes after..."

"Evelynn..." Davis pleurably groaned as her fleshy walls tightened at this moment, wrapping him in her loving embrace, which made him feel intense emotions for her.

Smooch~

Evelynn lovingly kissed his forehead and placed her delicate hands on his chiseled body as she pushed him on the bed.

"Lay there... Let me make you feel good..."

Davis laid on the bed, his face looking at the ceiling while his rod remained towering inside Evelynn's honey pot. She interlocked her fingers with his and began to stand up ever so lightly until she reached the very tip, her two flower petals holding it as if biting before she dropped in an instant.

PahhhH!~

An erotic sound echoed, followed by intense pleasure that shook both Davis and Evelynn as their expression twisted into one of pleasure.

PahhH!~ PahhH!~ PahhH!~

Evelynn noticed it as she could see that she was pleasuring him and soon became drunk on it as she lifted herself up and slammed herself down in a sensual rhythm, creating waves of pleasure that rocked their cores.

Her insides were already a squelching mess from the white yang essence he released into her. It was falling down from her womb as it gradually coated their sex under her constant yet repeated movements, making his rock-hard dick slide more easily as she jumped up and down.

PahhH!~ PahhH!~ PahhH!~

"Aahnnn!~ AAh!~ AHH!~"

Evelynn enjoyed dancing above him as her bosoms bounced heavily along with her. She could see his intense gaze was stuck on the point of her nipples, making her deeply satisfied that he was giving much attention to her.

As she held his hands, their pores interconnected as Evelynn began sending the little yang essence she refined into yin essence back towards him, wanting him to benefit from her.

Davis noticed her actions and continued to circulate Yin-Yang Merit Sutra. He had already finished refining her orgasmic yin essence and wanted to send it back to her as a habit, but knowing that she might unwittingly breakthrough, he refrained while not knowing what to do. It wasn't until Evelynn sent him her essence energy that he became aware that he could absorb it amidst his delirious state of pleasure.

His eyes slightly widened as he noticed that his Essence Gathering Cultivation was increasing at a rather fast pace but considering that she was at the Mid-Level Martial Master Stage, he could understand. Just like how his High-Level Martial Master Stage yang essence was potent, hers was too that it could help him rapidly increase his Mid-Level Law Manifestation Stage Cultivation.

Davis had no second thoughts as he rapidly refined her yin essence as he took advantage for the first time, and because of the Mid-Level Emperor Grade Yin-Yang Merit Sutra, the increase of his cultivation from the efficiency of the refinement was rather tremendous. He imagined that he was likely able to absorb ninety percent of her energy and turn fifty percent of it into his, meaning that he was directly absorbing forty-five percent of her energy from each strand with each circulation, which was extremely great in terms of efficiency!

Other manuals were rather inferior and even crap compared to the Yin-Yang Merit Sutra!

Davis didn't move at all, simply refining and experiencing immense pleasure while Evelyn danced, straddling his towering cock as she kept slamming her butt on his thighs.

PahhH!~ PahhH!~ PahhH!~

The sound of their thighs slapping and her moans even helped him enter into a semi-meditative state, a trance as he refined her yin essence. Her pussy was soaking wet, full of yin essence mixed with his yang while she continually sent the essence she refined through the pores connecting them that she made temporary contact with like when her butt slammed on his thighs, she momentarily sent her refined essence to him as she separated and continued rocking on him as she danced.

Soon, Davis was nearing his peak as his long-hard dick began to pulsate inside her as she pleased him without a stop. Evelyn could feel his member tremble inside her walls as her face was twisted into pleasure and satisfaction.

PahhH!~

She slammed down his dick with greater force and bent her body as she pasted her supple and voluptuous body all over him as she took his dry lips that seemed needful of her nectar. Nevertheless, she didn't stop moving her lower body as she began to frantically move her butt as she kept slamming his dick down as if trying to flatten it, but it ended up piercing deep into her with each thrust she made on top of him, making her delirious that she began to extend her tongue out, seeking his love.

Davis's mouth was pried open by her, making him instantly respond with his long tongue as they twisted and churned with their saliva while she immensely pleased him below.

"Mhmm!~ MhnN!~"

Evelyn began panting hard above him as she deliriously licked and kissed him.

"Take my e-essence... refine it all...!"

Riding on top of him somehow made her feel dominant as she began to paste her body all over him as if she was claiming him for herself, and that made her pleasure multiply by manifolds as she kept slamming her honey pot down his rock-hard dick that was already secreting more and more semi-yang essence for her.

The dance she did was intense. She could feel her reaching orgasm quickly, and noticing that he too was shaking inside her, she frantically moved her lips as her round butt stuck up in an unimaginable angle, her fine waist taking the shape of a tempting curve before she dropped herself all over him and...

PahhH!~

"Ahnn!~ I'm cumming~~~~"

Evelynn screamed into his mouth as she tightly held him as she reached her peak, letting out waves and waves of yin essence that showered on his dick as it began to coat his balls and the sides.

However, she missed the margin slightly that Davis failed to reach the peak of ecstasy. However, he reached out his hands and held her two butt cheeks as he began to ram his unquenched rock-hard dick into her in a frenzy!

PahhH!~ PahhH!~ PahhH!~

"Ohh!~ OOH!~"

Evelynn's eyes began rolling back as she experienced extraordinary pleasure while being banged by him. She hadn't finished orgasming and had to slightly raise her hips to escape the pleasure but was still held closer by his strong hands as he kept banging her to death! His dick slid in and out, reaching her very depths!

"Ahn!!~ AH~ AHn~"

Her eyes completely rolled back at this moment as she felt his hot rod becoming blazing inside her!

Davis spurted his white seeds once again into her womb as he painted her in his color. Immense satisfaction and pleasure filled his heart and dick before he closed his eyes, licking all the essence that she had to offer him through her mouth as she began drooling deliriously from pleasure.

Davis swallowed from both her upper and lower lips as he directly refined it into his energy and began circulating the Blazing Thunderlight Kirin's Firestorm World Ode with the supporting technique of Yin-Yang Merit Sutra in periodical circulations. He was already near the very peak of the Mid-Level Law Manifestation Stage, and from digesting her potent yin essence, his energy began to overflow while his dantian began to rumble.

Crackle!~

Black lightning began to surround him as it also covered Evelynn's body, making her feel a minute tremor in every pore of her body as she began to rock under him as she orgasmed once again! It made her feel as if every part of her body was being caressed by him as it passed a shock through every pore.

The strands of black lightning were unable to harm Evelynn's Mid-Level Martial Master Stage physical body but, in turn, served to pleasure her to death as her eyes that were becoming normal once again rolled to the back as she trembled while straddling him.

"Hnnnghhh~::~"

Her lips were still held by Davis as she intensely moaned into his mouth, feeling every positive emotion of lust and love overwhelm her!

Davis broke through to the High-Level Law Manifestation Stage amidst the sea of pleasure. He let Evelynn's lips go as he panted hard along with her, their faces covered with a crimson hue as he looked at her. Evelynn still seemed to be experiencing rapture from his double attack of thrusting through her while she stopped to orgasm before the tiny lightning strands pleased every single pore of her body that made her tremble on him as she orgasmed multiple times.

Her whole supple and voluptuous body laid over him as it trembled, but he could not feel her weight as she was light as a feather. It was almost as if she was a thin layer of bed sheet draped over him, making him only able to feel her soft skin and body heat passing through him, further causing him to feel exclusively comfortable.

They were both wrapped in each other's embrace, seemingly glowing in the aftermath of their ecstasy waves.

Chapter 1318: Superimposed Dual Cultivation (R-18)

"Ha..." Davis panted, "You told me you'll make me feel good, and that was good until you came by yourself, Evelynn..."

"Ah~ D-Davis~" Evelynn slowly regained herself out from the pleasurable zone as she answered, "Sorry... I got carried away..."

"Hehe..." Davis chuckled under her featherweight, supple body. He still remained hard inside her while Evelynn was overflowing for him, giving him more treat to improve his Essence Gathering Cultivation.

"I don't think that you don't need to feel sorry for it because I was able to make you cum twice... That gave me more satisfaction than this breakthrough, my Poison Queen..."

"Aaaa~" Evelynn shook as she reminisced that pleasure that shot through her entire body.

"That was... too intense..." She coquettishly spoke, invoking the lust in him.

"What are you saying?" Davis deeply smiled, "We're going to dual cultivate with our souls superimposed now..."

Evelynn's eyes went wide as her brows trembled ever so slightly, "That... Isn't that said to be too pleasurable, sometimes even leading to death as it could lead to the soul collapsing... I've learned the method to summon a physical soul from the soul essence but is it safe...?"

"Of course..." Davis's lips curved into a teasing smile, "I'll make sure that I don't die..."

"Hey!~"

Evelynn used her fists to smack his chest, "I won't allow you to kill me and enjoy your life with other women. I'll haunt you to death as a ghost~"

"Oh, you'll come to me as a ghost?" Davis's expression brightened, "I've always wanted to do it with a ghost. Will it feel the same if I pierce the ghost you with my rod...?"

"Shameless!~"

Evelynn giggled as she leaned and took his lips, licking and nibbling to her heart's content as she let him go.

"I'd rather want you to pierce me now..."

She slightly ground her hips as she rode his dick, inviting him with a seductive smile on her face.

Davis could see that her endurance had drastically increased after reaching the Martial Master Stage. They could now probably go months without feeling sore, and as long as they are not extremely abusive or rough with each other. In reality, his rod did remain flushed with blood all the time, not even turning limp once even after he ejaculated multiple times in her as she kept straddling him.

Davis sat up and took his member from inside her and laid her down, looking at the white liquid that was mixed along with her love nectar overflow from her honey pot. He reached out his hand, touching her two petals as he caressed her.

"Ahnnn~ W-What are you doing...?"

Davis kept caressing her outer folds as he flicked her tiny pink bud, causing her to throw her head upwards as she released a sigh of pleasure. He then inserted his finger over her folds, scrapping off the remnants of his seed that she was not able to refine within this second before he made her clean. He took his fingers out of her, eliciting a longing and confused moan from her as he brought his finger towards her mouth and made her lick it.

Evelynn simply extended her tongue and moved it around as she gulped his two fingers and sucked on it, feeling his taste in her mouth. He didn't answer her question, but she knew what he was going to likely do.

And as expected, he lifted her up and flicked her over him. However, her horny cave was now facing his face while her face was closer to his towering dick!

Evelynn couldn't help but breathe his manly scent at such close proximity, even though it was mixed with a few of her love fluids. It made her mind feel dizzy, her heart feel fuzzy as she subconsciously licked her lips. Without a word from him, she leaped forward and took his dick into her mouth, gulping it deep into her throat.

"Hngh..."

Davis grunted from the sudden increase in pressure and pleasure. The way she took him in from caressing the tip to the base of the shaft was heavenly. He was about to lick her first after getting a good whiff of her sex that made him feel as if he was fed an aphrodisiac as she smelled completely sweet. However, she got the best of him.

"Lick it clean..."

He commanded and began to work on her lovely pink folds as he ran his tongue over it in a sensual manner before he began to heavily suck on it.

Slurp!~ Slurp!~ Slurp~

Erotic sounds echoed from both sides as Evelynn sucked his long-hard dick while Davis sucked her pussy with fervor. They pleased each other, continually echoing grunts and moans as they bobbed their heads according to the rhythm they had created.

"Hmpfh~ Mhm~ Hmpf~"

Evelynn bobbed her head up and down on his dick while her eyes were filled with a lustful light. His huge dick was in her mouth and deep in her throat, causing her to have a shameful blush on her cheeks, but she savored it while feeling pleased on her lower lips. It practically served to ignite her lust as she feverishly sucked after bobbing her head and used her tongue to lick his head in an erotic manner.

It granted Davis an immensely pleasurable experience, making him equally lustful as he licked and sucked her honey pot. Evelynn had her hands on Davis's thighs while Davis had his hands on her plump and round butt. They both didn't use hands on each other as their mouth did the work.

He extended his long tongue inside her walls and scraped it clean, swallowing her overflowing yin essence. She was sloppily wet for him. He retracted his tongue and nibbled and licked on her tiny pink bud, causing her to tremble.

Slurp!~ Slurp!~ Slurp~

Evelynn also felt Davis tremble, so she began to move her head faster, up and down as before she completely buried his dick into her throat till the base of his shaft. Davis also tightly held her butt, not letting her escape from the pleasure he was bestowing her as he began to crazily suck and lick.

Soon, their mouths sprinted over each other's sex before they orgasmed into each other's mouth!

Slurp!~ Slurp!~ Slurp~

Evelynn swallowed his hot white liquid deep down her throat while Davis opened his mouth wide as he licked, her yin essence raining down to his mouth as he swallowed her sweetness.

Gulp~

They swallowed with willingness, lust, and love before they only used their tongues to clean each other of the remnant mess before they both let each other's thing to with a pop of their mouths as they began to breathe hard and satisfied.

"Evelynn, your mouth was wet and tight..."

"Don't say that!~" Evelynn squealed in embarrassment as she moved aside from him.

Davis sat up as he looked at her heaving bosoms. He had intended to only clean each other using this erotic way, but they got too engrossed in it that they actually made each other cum in this way.

"Now that we are kinda clean and reset in terms of lust, I think we can begin using the Physical Soul Superimposing Technique from the Rapturous Soul Aroma Manual. Are you up for it...?"

"We're really doing it...?" Evelynn appeared hesitant, looking a bit apprehensive.

"Evelynn... I won't force if you feel apprehensive..." Davis turned gentle before he smiled, "But know that you might inevitably lag behind in Soul Forging Cultivation when compared with Natalya..."

Evelynn pouted, "I would've said okay even if you didn't provoke me..."

"Ah... I was found out..." Davis reacted with a saddened expression on his face.

"Fine, fine... Stop making that puppy face... Just don't kill me with your King Soul Stage soul..." Evelynn said with that pout, but her eyes remained expectant as it shone.

Davis's lips curved into a lewd smile. They sat opposite each other with only an inch of a gap as they began to arouse their physical souls from using the Physical Soul Superimposing Technique. A strand of light shot from their soul essence upon using the technique.

Davis was able to see this, but Evelynn was not. Nevertheless, they both gathered that strand of peculiar, hazy, or transparent light with their soul body as they began to summon their soul body.

Another Evelynn and Davis manifested beside them, but they were suddenly pulled over each other's originals as if returning to their source. However, instead of retreating back to the soul sea, they superimposed over their fleshy bodies.

Kna!~

A peculiar sound echoed as Evelynn trembled. She opened her eyes and saw that Davis had succeeded in superimposing before she tried again without saying a word. It was not until the third try that Evelynn succeeded, and Davis patiently waited, not opening his eyes as he felt that she might become embarrassed or disturbed from continuous failure.

"Well done, Evelynn..." With a compliment, he raised his hands and opened his eyes.

"Do you feel anything different...?"

He asked, to which Evelynn shook her head.

"Let's hold hands first..."

Davis nodded his head to Evelynn's wish as they both reached out their hands.

"!!!"

Both Davis and Evelynn jerked as they held hands. It was as if electricity ran through their palms as they threw their heads above!

'Fuck! Why does my hand feel like it turned into an erogenous zone...!?'

Davis felt deeply pleasurable even though it was just his freaking hand, but when he looked at Evelynn as he lowered his head while trembling, he could also see that face was distorted with pleasure.

"This- Davis~~~" She moaned his name as both her upper and lower body trembled.

She instantly let his hand go as if fearing that the pleasure would overwhelm her, but the next second, she knew that she was rather hasty as the pleasure receded out of her mind almost as instantly it came.

Davis blinked, "The most important thing is not to panic, okay?"

Evelynn nodded her head, feeling embarrassed, "Mhm... No matter what happens from now, I will fully trust and follow your lead..."

Davis felt his heart turn a bit heavy as it was his first time doing something like dual cultivating with the soul. Nevertheless, he remained courageous and nodded his head as he reached out his hands.

But instead of clasping her hands again, his ten fingers landed her big breasts as he hooked.

"Ahh~"

A startled gasp escaped from Evelyn's mouth even though she prepared. Her face became flushed from that maiden-like sound she let out. This was completely new to her that she couldn't help it and she could see his rod slightly twitch in response to her coquettish moan.

Davis gulped in response to her sweet and seductive moan.

He began to move his hands, roaming his fingers all over the bosoms, her navel, her waist, her entire upper body as if he was pleasuring her with a feather, but to Evelyn, her sensitivity and the pleasure she experienced was many times great that she squirmed and trembled, moaning comfortably with every caress he made on her body.

"Ahh~ Ahhh~ Ahn~"

"I see, so the entire soul has its sensitivity multiplied enough to change everything into an erogenous zone... No wonder Drake said that both pain and pleasure are intense and warned me to take it slow with my women..."

Davis spoke out loud, wanting Evelyn to learn what he found.

"Aah~"

Evelyn coo'ed under his caresses as her body shivered in extreme pleasure. Her mouth was agape as her saliva glistened her lips as she licked them herself. The sight of it was completely seductive and inviting to Davis, but he held back from pouncing as he knew the consequences.

Time passed.

Davis became addicted to roaming his hands all over her body, mainly her bosoms, as he lifted, wrapped with his palms, and even drew circles around, flicked her nipples with his fingers.

"Ahn~~~~ Aaa~~~~" She was coquettishly moaning to his tunes which made him greatly satisfied.

However, he knew that this was mostly not possible between two strange persons. There was no way that they would trust each other enough to have their souls displayed to each other.

One extreme painful or pleasurable moment that rushed past the threshold could cause the soul to collapse! If it were just a matter of sensitivity multiplying, even prostitutes would drool over it, but if it were a matter of life and death, even those drooling prostitutes would definitely have deep apprehensions.

However, he also wondered if there were any high-class prostitute who was willing to train the soul with another man. Even if there was, he doubted that they would exist in the Dual Lotus Manor Territory.

Evelyn gave herself to him with full, absolute trust, and he would make sure she reaches the extreme pleasure possible for her threshold while also having her breakthrough.

He took his hands back before reaching out to her body as he lifted her up and effortlessly positioned her on top of his spear, ready to literally pierce her to death if things became awry. He still felt pleasurable on his wrists and neck while Evelynn trembled on having her thick thighs lifted by him while her wrists felt pleasurable wrapped around his neck. It was that dangerous.

"Be prepared... I'm entering..."

Davis gulped, feeling apprehensive himself while both of Evelynn's lips quivered on top of him. She heaved heavy breaths before she gave an apprehensive nod as she tried to relax her tensed-up body.

Davis's member and Evelynn's pleasure cave was already dripping wet with their essence. He took a deep breath before lowering her over his rock-hard member that incessantly twitched upon meeting one of its love.

Both Davis and Evelynn felt a shock traveling through their lower bodies as they trembled, but as they were both prepared, they endured. Davis lowered her onto his dick even more before he moved his hips slightly.

Plop~

"AhhhhhhH!~"

Evelynn threw her head up as she completely took in his member inside her honey pot as intense pleasure rocked through her body to her very core as she instantly orgasmed while Davis wasn't much different as the pleasure overwhelmed him and made him ejaculate in loads and loads.

White liquid spurted out in a frenzy to enter her womb. Davis had just entered her, but that was enough to make him cum as he severely trembled from the pleasure of being wrapped around her walls while shooting out his seeds in loads.

He felt that this feeling could not be explained by words as he closed his eyes to control himself from losing to pleasure, but before he could completely close his eyes, he saw Evelynn's trembling body go limp while the head she threw up hanged behind without a movement.

"Evelynn...?"

Davis's heart shook as he almost thought of dispersing the technique but knowing the consequences of abruptly detaching the soul body, he stayed his hand and looked at Evelynn in trepidation as he suppressed the pleasure through his will alone in its entirety.

"..."

"..."

"...!"

Gasp~~~~~

Evelynn suddenly shook as she took in a deep breath and sat up. At the same moment, the heaven and earth energy began to manifest before it twisted and churned around her. Her black eyes shone while her green hair floated as her soul began to experience a qualitative change in an instant as it resonated with the heaven and earth energy.

Boom!~

A low, invisible hum could be heard from her soul sea before she practically ascended to the Adult Soul Stage as her soul force spread around the room!

The Fourth Stage in Soul Forging Cultivation!

Davis's expression became bright, his moistened eyes clearing up from the resurrection of her almost death-like state as Evelynn successfully broke through!

Chapter 1319: Did You Find Her Yet?

Davis and Evelynn blinked, their sapphire and black eyes only having eyes for each other as they stared. They both stayed stiff, unmoving as the pleasure continued to affect them. Their expressions were a sight to see as it was a bit melted in ecstasy, joy, and relief.

"Davis..." Evelynn heavily sighed as she regained her breath as well as herself from breaking through to the Adult Soul Stage, "It was otherworldly... I experienced too many comprehensions at once that I think I blanked out for a few seconds along with the pleasure..."

"... I see..."

Davis nodded with a relieved sigh.

So she had fainted... He felt like he now understood the events.

At that moment, his soul and her soul were inexplicably connected in a strange manner along with their flesh, and the moment she went limp, he could momentarily feel no response from her soul. That made him be struck with intense fear, making him think that her soul had collapsed.

They had made fun of it, but if she really died, it wouldn't be funny anymore, nor would he know how to face this mess himself other than to salvage her soul.

However, they can't be cultivators if they keep getting scared of taking risks.

This juxtaposition between fear and courage in their lives remained nothing more than an ironic contradiction.

"But it's strange..." Evelynn continued amidst the unusual silence, "I just recently entered Peak-Level Young Soul Stage, so it shouldn't be possible for me to reach the next stage this quickly. Likely, I think the comprehensions of your King Soul Stage Cultivation was too much for me to bear that it quickly made me faint while also making me subconsciously comprehend..."

"Your words make sense..." Davis nodded.

Evelynn's bosoms heaved as she still continued.

"If it is true, then I could see why these cultivation manuals are rare and precious enough to be valued at Emperor Grade. Although, the effectiveness of this will not be much bigger or much of a use in terms of efficiency and potency without a King Soul Stage Cultivator as their partner like you, no...?"

Evelynn seemingly giggled while Davis wryly smiled at her.

"Stop using the Rapturous Soul Aroma Manual and disperse the Physical Soul Superimposing Technique..."

Evelynn did as she was told. The soul body that was superimposed on her fleshly body separated before it scattered into thin air while it happened the same to Davis.

"!!!"

Davis suddenly began to rain down kisses on her face and lips as he cupped her cheeks. Evelynn looked pretty dumbfounded as she received his lovable smooches that were full of intense emotions for her, making her heart melt and feel wonderful. It was not before ten seconds that Davis left her, having a complicated expression on his face as he held her gently.

"Idiot, don't go limp on me like that... I almost thought that you were dead..."

Evelynn's black eyes became moist as her lips quivered, "Dummy, I was scared too..."

How could she not be...?

Davis knew it as he wrapped his arms around her waist and let her shed a few tears on his shoulders while she sniffled. Indeed, that was a fruitful yet scary experience, and it was no wonder there was a ton of warning in the manual to not go overboard in using it.

In fact, it was warned not to have coitus the first time as a precaution, but they did it anyway. Fortunately, it was not the pleasure that overwhelmed her but his King Soul Stage soul's immense comprehensions. He received nothing but Evelynn's soul probably received a ton of these comprehensions before only managing to comprehend a bit of it, but that was enough for her to have a quick breakthrough to the Adult Soul Stage!

It was overwhelmed with comprehensions, and that's why he had probably lost connection. Her soul had automatically rejected him from giving more comprehensions to protect herself.

"Still, I'm glad we risked this because I have entered the Adult Soul Stage... I am now one step closer to you in Soul Forging Cultivation..."

Evelynn separated from him as she resplendently smiled; the tears on her face already seemed to be wiped on his bare shoulders.

"What does cultivation have to do with how you're close to me? Even if you're a mortal, you're still my first..."

Davis touched her forehead with his and smiled as he brushed with her nose as he lightly shook his head. Evelynn kept smiling back widely as she pouted.

"You sweet talker..."

"You used this sweet tongue of yours to conquer how many women excluding me? Five or perhaps more...?"

Davis smiled wryly, "To talk about other women while we're making love, are you testing me again...?"

"Of course not..." Evelynn giggled, "I just want to know what you're going to do with Fiora, Sophie, Niera, and perhaps, even Shirley... Did you find her yet?"

"No, but I'm on it currently with the Solitary Soul Avatar heading towards the Burning Phoenix Ridge Territory. Perhaps, it had already made it there, considering the distance needed to reach has been shortened by my King Soul Stage Breakthrough, but I've severed connection with it as we're making love with our souls superimposed. I don't want the Solitary Soul Avatar to be disturbed by these overwhelming pleasures, you see..."

"A very wise decision..." Evelynn's cave hole clenched Davis as she recalled that overwhelming pleasure.

She still couldn't help but feel that it was otherworldly, as if it was the ultimate pleasure that they, humans, should strive for, but on the other end of it was death, making it rather ironic.

"But how does your avatar work anyway...?" Evelynn blinked, "Are you two the same or someone else if your connection is severed?"

Davis couldn't help but chuckle, "We're one and the same. Our thoughts are the same, intersecting when we're connected, but when we're disconnected, our thoughts become parallel. We are able to think differently, but it is still me."

"I... I see..." Evelynn's mouth became agape in wonder.

Davis narrowed his sapphire eyes, "You want the Solitary Soul Avatar Technique, don't you?"

Evelynn bit her lips as a crimson blush filled her face, "I do..."

Davis's eyes relaxed as she shot a teasing look at her, but it changed into one of gentleness, "Look, I will give every one of you the Solitary Soul Avatar Technique even if you didn't ask. However, the prerequisite is for you all to reach the Elder Soul Stage first..."

If it were before, Davis definitely wouldn't have given them because of another requirement that sacrificed thirty percent of soul essence to create it. That was a bit fatal to even Elder Soul Stage Cultivators. Hence, it was described that only Mature Soul Stage Cultivators should use it.

Davis succeeded at Elder Soul Stage, but that was due to his prowess and soul quality being superior. If anyone else were to have a try with their normal souls, it would quickly end in sickness and ailments plaguing them, making them want to have rest in bed for many years until their souls recuperated by themselves.

However, Davis had the life-like energy to negate this as he could regenerate one's soul essence back to health, perhaps over ninety-seven percent at max!

Nevertheless, that was before when he wasn't a King Soul Stage Expert. Now, it could've changed, and the limit he could heal might've increased relative to cultivation bases.

"Oh... So, I'm still incapable of using this technique..." Evelynn understood as she nodded her head.

"I thought I could travel beside you without having to fear death..."

Davis couldn't help but smile as he placed his finger on her nose, "The world is vast, Evelyynn. Mystic Diviners and people who are skilled in Karma Laws would still be able to kill you even if you are not present in front of them. They'll use the strong soul connection route that you have between the avatar and yourself to target you..."

Evelyynn's mouth became as what she thought of an extra life was still counted as one in front of these Mystic Diviners.

At this moment, Davis felt that this was his chance!

"Speaking of which, I just made a Mystic Diviner a slave and looted his spatial ring while also saving a dams- Uh... I guess not a damsel as she already had preparation to kill the Mystic Diviner in an ambush..."

Evelyynn became shocked again as she heard him.

"W-Wha...?" Her lips quivered as she knew that most Mystic Diviners belonged to the Heaven Gazing Sect, "Don't tell me that he is from-"

"Yeah, it is what you think it is, but I say he deserved it. He was not righteous but a wicked person who wore a righteous mask. I didn't see what crimes he had committed, but I'd recommend that you don't look at the spatial ring because when I glanced at it, I think I saw human flesh, corpses, and even baby corpses..."

"Moreover, there were a lot of unorthodox and wicked karmic techniques when I glossed over with my soul sense. That's why I also think it is possible for these Mystic Diviners to target us directly even if we use our avatars as a front..."

Evelyynn's expression went pale as she heard him speak.

Corpses of babies?

Her expression turned wrathful as her lips moved, "Tell me that you killed him already..."

Davis sighed, "A pity..."

He explained how Tina Roxley explained to him about the protective artifact and heaven gaze mark that would send a punitive force to deal with him if he had killed Aurelius.

"I see..." Evelyynn sighed in relief after hearing all this, as she didn't want her husband to be branded a wicked person by the world just because of killing a wicked Mystic Diviner. She could see it coming from miles away.

"We must thank that woman Tina Roxley-"

Evelyynn's expression suddenly changed as her brows lightly frowned.

"Tina Roxley... Wait... Isn't she the woman whom-"

"Yes, that woman who knew of my identity as a youth while I took the persona of Alchemist Scythe..."

Davis smiled wryly.

Chapter 1320: First

Davis didn't know if he should be glad that Evelynn remembered when the experiences he recounted after they got married.

How was he supposed to explain that he and Tina Roxley were probably fated to be husband and wife by the heavens, but it got severed with his overuse of Fallen Heaven?

Even this was merely his speculation and something he found hard to believe, so what needs to be said about Evelynn?

It was more likely she would cast an exasperated look at him and say 'fine, do whatever you want...' with her current mindset.

Nevertheless, he still explained what had happened when he met her after experiencing this strange phenomenon after he broke through to the King Soul Stage, about how his emotions were confused, telling him that she was extremely important to him and that he loved her.

Evelynn's expression was a bit complicated as she heard him. Nevertheless, after he finished, she couldn't help but wryly smile.

"I don't think you need to create a fantastical romance story like this to convince me or others, so what you're saying must be true..."

"It is true..." Davis blinked, "We can even have Clara attest to the honesty of my words..."

"No, I said I believe you..." Evelynn narrowed her eyes, "But you have yet added another woman to your harem, you womanizing crown prince..."

Davis looked away as he had no comeback to this sentence of hers.

Evelynn's strict face faded as she smiled, thinking that he was adorable when he acted like that, having no words or excuses to offer.

"So she would come here to stay until you find the source of these unnatural emotions...? I understand. I was just joking when I said that you're womanizing because if that were really the case, you would use us instead of having feelings for us. I feel like I need another derogatory term for shaming you..."

"How about... a foolish man?" Evelynn raised one of her brows.

Davis became stunned, not getting what she was coming at.

"Husband, I know that you love us, but are you really going to share your one person's love that is limited with many of us? If it were like this, wouldn't there be a day that would come when you might become exasperated of any one of us and let go of our hand? Even if it were not me, what about the other women? The path you're following is something that most men might choose to follow but easily fail to look after their women..."

"I'm... I'm afraid that you might one day become disheartened with your decisions as you're still young..." Evelynn's eyes moistened as she finished her speech.

Davis remained utterly flabbergasted, wondering why she would say all this when he suddenly recalled Fiora's words. He remembered she said something like becoming exasperated with them because of the numbers and the headache he would have facing them while dealing with each of their individuality.

His lips became slightly curved as he couldn't help but smile.

"So you're now worried that I would fall out of love?"

Evelynn confidently shook her head, "I'm not worried that you'll leave me, and in case if you leave me, I'll come after your life and end you with the very same poison you have bestowed me."

Davis's mouth became agape at her boldness, but she continued.

"What I'm worried about are the other women you're now taking and trying to make love with while you seem like you're focusing on your cultivation. I think... I mean, you haven't developed much feelings for them, so you would think of them as a burden, right?"

Davis blinked at her, "You're right, Evelynn."

"However, it is impossible for me to fall out of love or become exasperated with you all since I'm extremely possessive..." He appeared serious before wryly smiling, "If it meant that I ever fall out of love with one of you, it either means that one person did something that I consider a betrayal, or I'm dead..."

Evelynn blinked before she smiled, "If you have that much of a conviction in your actions, then I am convinced that I don't need to worry that you'll turn into a sleazy and heartless man."

Davis smiled before he raised his brows and reached out his hand to pinch her luscious lips.

"Did this delicacy just say that it would poison me...?"

"Hmph~" Evelynn averted her gaze as she closed her eyes and pushed her bountiful bosoms towards his chest as if challenging him.

"If you can declare that you would kill me if I were to ever betray, then I can declare that I would kill you if you fall out of love with me."

She opened her eyes and smilingly looked at him, "It is fair in your words, right?"

Davis's lips twitched as he couldn't help but spat out the word, "... Yes..."

Evelynn smiled as if she won and tapped his chest where his heart lay with her delicate index finger.

"You cannot resist at that time just because your cultivation base is higher, okay?"

"Oh... don't you worry..." Davis lewdly smiled as he leaned and whispered into her ears with a sensual voice, "I'll welcome your poison anytime into my body..."

Evelynn shivered as her expression became full of crimson as she knew what he meant. Her lower body trembled as it squeezed his rock-hard member, making her heave a heavy breath as she gulped and swallowed her saliva.

"We aren't done talking yet..." Evelynn's eyes flashed as she pushed him away a bit, "You still haven't told me what you'll do about Sophie and the others..."

Davis breathed in lust as his eyes narrowed ever so lightly, but he refrained from shaking his hips as he knew how important it was to Evelynn to know about others as she was the big sister. She was likely feeling pressured than him in wanting to take care of the women in his stead.

She was doing it all for him, going out of her way to look after them, even sacrificing the bit of the love-making time she got with him to know about them, so why wouldn't he endure and tell her everything that she needed to know?

He was greatly moved by her sacrifice that he began explaining with a wry smile.

"I honestly don't know when I would marry them because I can only think about that after I marry Isabella... Not to mention that I have to find Shirley and Ellia, beware of ninth stage incursions from the Flowing Mist Sect, The Poison Lord Villa, and the Dragon Families. There are practically so many things to do..."

'Even facing an unknown, unidentified danger that is still a bit more bothersome than other problems at this point...' Davis thought as he kept his wry smile.

Evelynn suddenly reached out her hands and wrapped him around before burying his face in her soft and perky twin peaks.

"You have all the time in the world to do the things you want to do, so just don't rush. Even Shirley, you bring her back so that I can apologize to her for taking you from her. I know that you voided the marriage agreement with her because of my adamance in wanting to have you all to myself initially."

"...!"

"You don't need to give excuses that it's your fault to console me."

Davis became moved as he was immensely comforted by her words.

When he raised his head and was about to say that it was his own decision that he voided the marriage agreement, she told him that he didn't need to give excuses.

He couldn't help but wryly smile, "Are you trying to make me say that it is your fault to Shirley so that we can fall in love without hard feelings between us?"

Evelynn's eyes shook before she pouted, "You're going to reveal my magnanimous feelings that I distressed over for a bit of time just like that...? You can't use your Heart Intent like this..."

"The Heart Intent isn't that omnipotent to know what you're thinking, and I'm not using it now..." Davis blinked.

"I appreciate your feelings for me, Evelynn. However, it is better not to lie. I was the one who made that hasty decision as I felt that I wouldn't stray from you, but things changed after I saw how the world seemed accommodating to polygamous relationships. My cheap mind wanted to take advantage of that. I was selfish and made you suffer after I took Natalya, but you crossed that for me selflessly and even began to look after her, became sisters with her and Isabella, continuing to do the same down the line with the other woman I have arbitrarily chosen."

"With all this, if I told Shirley that it's your fault that I voided the marriage agreement, then there's no truly saving me at that time as I would have become a genuine scum, Evelynn."

Evelynn bit her lips as she shed two tears from her moistened eyes, "Dummy, why don't you just use me...?"

Davis looked like he had heard something extremely funny as he chuckled, "Because you're my first love as well as my first woman, you dumb woman. Remember when I said that I would find it difficult to love you all equally even though I would try to strive for it? Heh..."

His lips became wide with a grin while he had his eyes only for her.

"You're still the one I love the most, Evelynn... That didn't change, and even Natalya and the others are aware of it..."

"Besides, even if you're not my first, I would never use my wom- uhmm!"

Evelynn sealed his lips as she pounced on him and stuck her voluptuous body as if she would never let him go.

Davis became enticed as he stopped talking and passionately kissed her while feeling her overwhelming softness fill him up with pleasure.

She was soft as a pillow, delicate as a flower, and melted in his embrace like a moth that would willingly die for its love in the smoldering flames.

It made him want to make love with her for the rest of the day, and he instantly acted on his thoughts without further hesitation as he pushed her down and began to move with an enchanted grunt while Evelynn rapturously moaned.

Lovely moans and erotic sounds of flesh slapping resounded even as the sun began to rise outside!
