

EMPEROR 2031

Chapter 2031: The Viridian Tree

Davis caught up to Myria and looked at her drivel to herself.

"To top it off, it seems to have a spirit. The grade of this tree seems to be quite high, well enough to give birth to high-quality seeds in its fruits."

"What's wrong? Do you know about this tree and the fruit it bears?"

Davis looked at the viridian tree and its ample fruits as he asked Myria, who then turned to look at him with a weary look on her face.

"What? You're growing it without knowing what it is?"

Davis shrugged, "I do know that it allows one to undergo reincarnation after having its essence painfully etched into one's soul when eaten. Other than that, I don't know its name nor its origin. The Emperor Grade knowledge of alchemy doesn't seem to have a clue of what it is either, at least not from the records I read."

He wondered if the Glorious Pill Palace possessed more information and felt that they should. Nonetheless, he appeared as ignorant as possible so the great Myria could enlighten him without him having to ask again or pay something for it.

And as expected, Myria opened her mouth.

"It's called the Viridian Afterlife Path Tree. As you said, it has the ability to make a mortal existence reincarnate, so when they wake up and reunite with a branch of this tree, they can awaken their previous life's memories. However, this fruit only allows one to reincarnate three times. Any more than that, their spiritual soul essences would be harmed, meaning that they would no longer be truly present in this world."

Davis's lips couldn't help but twitch.

At that time, if he didn't stop Alia Silverwind by initiating trade with Mival Silverwind, she would've died instead of reincarnating. After all, this life was her third reincarnation.

"What? You used this fruit on someone?"

"Not exactly."

Davis shook his head, not willing to go into detail, "So, the Viridian Afterlife Path Tree doesn't seem to be useful to you. Why were you astonished upon seeing it?"

"True. It is a lightning-attributed tree with the property of life, but as it fuses with the soul essence, it undergoes a minute change and produces a tiny strand of reincarnation energy that allows them to carry their memories into the next life."

"You want to harvest that tiny strand of reincarnation energy?"

Davis asked to which Myria shook her head, "That kind of tiny strand couldn't be extracted. After all, it intricately fuses with one's soul imprint. In any case, this isn't that important to others, but it's important to me."

"Is it the main ingredient to some pill you badly need to make?"

Myria looked like she had heard something hilarious.

"Would you believe me if I said that it could be counted as just one of the thousands of auxiliary ingredients?"

Davis's lips twitched, "What kind of pill is that?"

"An immortal pill, probably the most valuable pill ever created." Myria indifferently uttered, "As I told you, the ingredient itself isn't worth much but finding it in the vast immortal world is the problem. Sometimes, even if you just want a mortal grade herb, you may never find it until hundreds and thousands of years later."

Davis: "..."

"I'm not lying about the uses of the Viridian Afterlife Path Tree itself. You can ask Ellia if you want. Although this tree isn't worth anything compared to the things you asked for, it is very difficult to find it even in the immortal world. I want it, and therefore, I can agree to the exchange."

Davis stared at Myria's nonchalant face. He couldn't find any fault in her words because her words sounded sincere. Besides, after quoting Ellia, he really couldn't stay suspicious of her words.

"Deal."

Myria faintly smiled on hearing his words, "Then? How do I pass on the knowledge to you without soul force?"

"Of course, through the primitive method of using ink and a scroll."

Davis reached out his hand and held the stationeries, almost causing Myria's lips to twitch but inwardly, he was astonished that she could perform knowledge transfer although he still expected it.

Myria didn't take what he presented and headed towards the tree.

"Careful, that tree has a spirit-"

"I know. I'm going to grow them anew with its seeds. Also, tell me where you obtained these lightning strands. The property of life in them is very weak, but they would suffice, providing an increase in their rate of growth."

Myria plucked the viridian fruits, leaving the viridian tree alone, and as she did so, she placated the spirit of the tree while having her hand on the bark.

"What are you looking at?" Myria looked towards him once she was finished, "One tree and its fruits won't suffice for what I need. I need a thousand fruits of this kind."

"What the hell are you even concocting!?"

Davis was already dumbfounded that she did not take the very first spirit tree he grew as it was part of their deal, but her explanation almost gave him a heart attack as it made him flinch.

"Didn't I tell you?" A hint of pride was visible on Myria's face, "It's for the most valuable Immortal Grade Pill that was ever created. Ah, I forgot to tell you that it is one of the five most important auxiliary ingredients of that pill."

Davis remained stunned for a few seconds before he wryly smiled.

"Does that mean that I got bamboozled?"

"No, I still end up with the short stick. I must be a fool to agree to this exchange, so quickly explain where you found its lightning strands. If you don't want to explain, then procure some of those lightning strands for me. If there's none, then forget about it. I'll be taking the display cases later when I need it."

Myria had no chill to be suspected, barking at him before turning around and looking at other resources. It seemed like she wanted to try her luck again.

Davis sighed and followed her, explaining the location where he obtained the Viridian Afterlife Path Tree in the Hundred Devil Thunder Archipelago while Myria explored the ninth floor.

At the end of the search, Myria appeared a bit tired, seemingly not finding anything worthy of her gaze. Her expression appeared like she cursed her bad luck.

'As expected, it seems like she's still exhausted, not having fully recovered....'

Davis saw the exhaustion in her eyes. Nonetheless, she summoned a feather and scroll out of her spatial ring and began writing the pill recipe he asked for before giving it to him minutes later. She also handed over a spatial ring that contained a plethora of ingredients required to concoct the Supreme Ebbing Sigil Pill.

"The exchange is complete. I'm going to meditate for the whole day, so don't enter the fourth floor during this time."

Her sweet lips let out a gentle sigh before she turned around and left.

"Wait...!"

However, Davis stopped her, causing her to turn around, her face still as a silent lake.

"What?"

Davis opened his mouth, but he sighed first.

"So, I was wondering if there is any way to strengthen a pill. Can you tell me if there is any way that I can strengthen the effects of the pill that you gave me?"

While Myria was touring the ninth floor, he had checked the Supreme Ebbing Sigil Pill and found out that it was an Advanced-Tier Pill. Naturally, creating a Perfect Tier Pill Peak-Level Emperor Grade Pill, no, a near Immortal Grade Pill like the Supreme Ebbing Sigil Pill should be almost impossible unless he wanted to exhaust himself to death repeatedly.

Myria pursed her lips, staring at his handsome face before she spoke.

"There are indeed ways to strengthen or improve the effects of a pill. You should be aware of the most common way, that is to imbue an inscription made from similar ingredients as the pill."

"Hmm. I am aware."

Davis nodded. However, the problem with that method was failure meant ruining the pill. Besides, how many times could one ruin the pill before they found the right inscription to imbue on the pill?

It was extremely difficult and resource-depleting that it could make an alchemist sect wither away from bankruptcy.

"Other methods range from repeated refinements using the same cauldron spirit as a source. Another method is called the Waste-Refinement Powder, where you utilize the pill waste of many concoctions to improve the effects of one last pill. However, these are all orthodox methods. There's an unorthodox method where one sacrifices their own karmic nature to imbue the pill and strengthen, which is called Karmic Embodiment."

"Karmic Embodiment, you say? Davis blinked.

"Yes, there are more. If you want to know more and learn any of these methods, pay up something of worth. Otherwise, I'll see you later."

Myria turned around and left, looking exasperated with his requests, although it seemed that she was too prideful to tell him that she needed some rest to him.

Davis raised his hand, wanting to know more. However, he didn't stop her this time.. Instead, his lips slowly curved into a blatant smile.

Chapter 2032: Bonds

Some unknown time later.

In a certain room, three figures lay on a wide and luxurious bed.

In between the two naked women was a naked man. He had his face sandwiched between the big bosoms of a voluptuous woman beside him, his arms wrapped around her. However, it didn't seem like the man was engaging in carnal acts but was sleeping instead, his small breaths falling on the woman's cleavage ever so lightly but she didn't react, also sleeping.

At this moment, the man's eyelids flickered before it shot open and what greeted his sight was two supple peaks sandwiching his cheeks while his sense of smell picked up a familiar fragrance that he craved. His lower body instinctively reacted and even with the relief after the exhaustion. Combined with the phenomenon of morning wood, his thing stood tall as a pillar, poking at a certain entrance.

But at this moment, the man became stiff, noticing that there was another woman holding him from behind.

'Who is that...?'

The man groggily wondered as he could feel a pair of supple mounds behind his shoulders.

"Davis, you're awake~" Evelynn's voice echoed as she moved a bit, her big bosoms slightly slapping his face.

Davis, who was caught in this wonderful cleavage, forced himself to look back and saw a pale-skinned woman. She was extremely beautiful, her purple eyes looking at him with an otherworldly gleam before she transformed into a ray of darkness and entered his soul sea.

"Nadia..."

Davis's lips twitched.

He then turned to look at Evelynn, looking at her curvaceous naked body with unconcealed adoration and obsessed eyes. He caressed her face and kissed her sweet red lips gently. However, he didn't make a move on her but sat up, looking at his palm as the mass slaughter he had committed reflected in his eyes once again.

Two arms wrapped around his neck like snakes before a pair of voluptuous breasts flattened on his back, providing him with unending warmth.

"Are you fine?"

"Hmm, I'm fine. I'm just recollecting a few matters."

Evelynn nodded and no longer disturbed him. She stood up, dressing up in an instant before she looked at him, allowing him to slowly return to his old self.

On the other hand, Davis rubbed his forehead, making sense of the situation as the memories of the Solitary Soul Avatar poured into him.

'I see. Two days have passed since I slaughtered people. Moreover, Karmic Embodiment, huh...'

His lips slightly curved, although it quickly turned sour as he could sense that some of his women weren't quite impressed with his actions, perhaps even disappointed and disheartened when he met them using his Solitary Soul Avatar. However, he did not expect them to understand, and that vaguely desensitized him.

Did they think that he was a guardian angel or something?

'The world named me the Emperor of Death and not expect me to commit slaughter? My title isn't there for a joke...'

The ironic thing was that Myria praised his actions. Perhaps, only those who have stained their hands in greater amounts of blood for revenge or to protect their loved ones would know the weight of the actions he committed, like...

Davis turned to look at Evelynn, a gentle light emanating from his eyes.

"Thank you for taking care of me, Evelynn."

"You don't need to say that between us." Evelynn faintly smiled, her heart radiating with joy.

"Tsk, tsk. Compliments always make one feel good as long as it is sincere and the timing is right. In any case, why was Nadia... also hugging me?"

"Didn't you like it?"

Evelynn raised her brows while her lips curved in a teasing manner, causing Davis to chuckle.

"I don't know." She shrugged, "Nadia just came out and copied me, wrapping herself around you. Unfortunately, I was unable to have you all to myself, but I didn't mind. If our warmth can positively affect your rate of recovery, I thought, why not?"

Davis possessed a wry expression on his face.

With death behind him and a hex in front of him, he couldn't see how his soul would quickly recover. Nonetheless, he just inwardly laughed about it as it was more likely he was thoroughly healed by their bosoms. There was nothing those peaks couldn't heal when it comes to a man's mind, although they were also poisonous at certain times.

"However, I did monopolize you for a single day, so I'm more than happy."

"Sorry."

"Don't say that." Evelynn shook her head, "Although you're becoming more and more of a womanizer, don't think I am not looking at the hard work you're putting into protecting and loving us."

"..."

"No matter what happens, even if the entire world blames you, know that I will always be with you together."

Davis's heart shook, his eyes moistening before he quickly glanced down and hid his face with his palm. His body shook ever so lightly while a smile filled his face.

'Damn, she made me cry...'

He thought that he was impervious to what he did, but it looks like he needed some words of approval and love from his loved ones.

Raising his head, he looked at Evelynn and inwardly thanked her again.

Evelynn resplendently smiled before she spoke.

"I know there should be some mixed reaction my sisters gave you. Don't blame them, okay? They haven't seen the world for what it truly is..."

"It's not like I blame them." Davis chuckled, "Heck, if they don't frown upon this action of mine, then I can say with a sixty percent assurance that I have committed to them wrongly. However, what I want is for them to understand that I did not do it for fun. I even gave the Vast Sky Emperor Palace a chance to make it known that they did not side with the Vast Trash Emperor but who knew that they would be filled with so much hatred for me?"

"People are opportunistic beings. The moment I fooled them into believing that their Vast Sky Emperor had turned into an immortal being and ascended, they all decided to bare their fangs. They thought they could please the descendants left behind or even the Vast Sky Emperor one day, somehow choosing to antagonize me. I couldn't leave them alive even if I wanted to."

The moment his Heart Intent broke through to Level Two Intent, everything became clear to him around a hundred-meter radius, and as though the entire Vast Sky Emperor Palace resonated, he could feel their overwhelming intent to make him pay for his 'wrongdoings'.

The funny thing was that even if the Vast Trash Emperor ascended, he didn't know where they got that kind of courage to mock him. Did they think that he would leave them alive to not offend trash whom he already offended?

"Mhm." Evelynn pursed her lips, "Give them some time. They'll naturally arrive at an answer after contemplating everything."

"I know. They are cute on their own, looking scared to talk about this matter with the others. It's not like I'm going to eat them alive."

"It's a matter concerning you, after all. One misstep, and they know that they'll ruin their entire lives. Even if they do not agree with your actions, they'll come to terms with it."

"I don't want that." Davis shook his head, "I'm going to be deeply disappointed if they do that. I would be happier if they confronted me about this matter and tried to understand why I did it."

"They're just scared." Evelynn consoled him, "So who are those women?"

"Niera, Dalila and Tanya." Davis didn't hesitate to answer, "The others, although saddened, didn't have a single doubt over my actions."

"As expected, the three of them do not have much world experience." Evelynn nodded.

The experienced ones like the Dragon Queens, even the righteous world's Burning Phoenix Ridge's Sect Master Lea Weiss, didn't doubt Davis's actions. As for Natalya and the others, even if they could not understand the intricacies involved, they've been with Davis for so long. How could they not understand him?

Only Niera failed to understand because she felt deeply sorry for the children he massacred. She was still a pure soul who followed Sophie into a suicidal training session, wanting to help her or die trying. She lamented the fates of many, not understanding why he would kill so many when it was the Vast Sky Emperor who was his sole target.

Evelynn knew that Davis was feeling sad because Niera failed to understand him, not Dalila or Tanya, who had just entered his life.

"Let me talk to them." She uttered.

"You have also slaughtered many people. Do you think that they will listen to you in this matter?"

Davis asked to which Evelynn smiled.

"Precisely. If they can look me into the eyes and see me as a sister despite what I've done, then they can understand you too. They're just confused why you would do such a thing when you appeared so understanding and righteous in their eyes. As long as they know the reason, you'll see them come running to you as they would before."

Davis couldn't help but laugh at Evelyn's words. She made it sound so easy.

"Well, if I leave it to you, I can rest assured."

"Yes, leave it to your first wife. I will do anything to make you happy."

Evelyn patted her heart, making her bosoms quiver while her voice was full of determination, causing Davis's eyes to widen.

"Damn, are you trying to seduce me?"

"Hehe~ Took you long enough to realize but too bad that I have to go look after my sisters now."

Evelyn flew away from the room, leaving him sitting on the bed still naked. He possessed a heartened smile on his face, recalling the words Evelyn said to him.

"Even if the entire world blames you, know that I will always be with you together, huh?"

Just those words cleared all gloom away from him.

"Master, I'll always be with you too~"

Davis blinked before he laughed, "I know, Nadia. Thank you for taking care of me. I love you so much!"

"Mhm!~"

Instantly, he could feel her joyful emotions overflowing and affecting him through their soul connection. On the other hand, Eldia could care less if he committed a mass slaughter or not, making him laugh even more.

Shortly, he began to check on the gains he had obtained.

Chapter 2033: Renewed Wealth

He couldn't help but think how he had burned money for the past few months.

Davis possessed about 1106 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources in his spatial ring.

He had used about 600 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources to procure resources using the All-Seeing Emperor, and the payment for his services was 6 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources. After all, he and the All-Seeing Emperor was in a cooperative relationship. As long as the All-Seeing Emperor received money, he was more than happy to act as a subordinate, messenger, intelligence expert, and procurer for him.

All of All-Seeing Emperor's services cost him about 56 Peak-Level Spirit Stones Vein Sources in total.

Together, they cost about 656 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources.

He had also used Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources to power Isabella's Golden Palace, so it cost him an additional 250 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources. However, these Vein Sources can be retrieved provided they don't lose so much of their energy.

In the competition, he had given 50 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources to the Glorious Pill Palace to forget about the contract that bound Dalila and also exchanged with Drake for about 30 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources.

The total expenditure arrived at about 986 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources, leaving him with a mere 120 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources available for use.

However, today, things were different.

With the destruction of the Emperor Sword Sect, he had gained 356 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources, and after clearing the wicked path remnants, he gained an additional 129 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources.

The total had come to 485 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources. However, that was not the end. The spatial rings individuals possessed like Grand Elders, and other top powerhouses possessed about 94 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources, making it reach 579 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources.

Combined with his 120 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources, his wealth grew to 699 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources.

Still, that was not the end as he had stripped clean the entire Vast Sky Emperor Palace.

The powerful formations there required a massive amount of Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources to operate, and he had them stripped clean, including the city defensive formation and the heavenly tribulation defensive formation, which were both spatial in nature.

The Vast Sky Emperor Palace had never taken the energy source out of them, so they naturally possessed a vast treasury of Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources. Now, Davis knew how they could afford to reward the winners of the competition so magnanimously.

Altogether, he had plundered about 816 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources from them. Counting the wealth he had tabulated, he now possessed 1515 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources!

Moreover, there were still the 250 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources that he could retrieve anytime from the golden palace.

Of course, some of the Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources were attributed, but he didn't include them in his calculation. There were about 39 Peak-Level Elemental Spirit Stone Vein Sources, and space and wind attributes were rather plenty.

As for Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Fragments, he was too lazy to count. However, a mere skimming look said that there were more than fifty million Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Fragments with him now.

Davis felt richer than ever.

His women were lamenting that he was spending too much on them, but now here he was, suffering from success.

'Or should I say, suffering from wealth...?'

Davis chuckled. He knew that this wealth would also be spent sooner or later, so he never worried about it.

As for his other gains, there was the Vast Sky Emperor Palace's Legacy Artifact. There were two of them. One defended the treasury while the other was in the Arcadius Skycloud's possession. Of course, defeating the legacy artifact was what took much energy out of him. Otherwise, there was no way killing people below Peak-Level Ninth Stage would exhaust him.

Furthermore, he erased the spirits of both legacy artifacts since they were enemies.

Techniques and manuals were abundant, and the spatial attributed ones were especially worth it. He had also gained valuable knowledge about many things, but it would take time for him to arrange everything that he would rather task someone else to take care of it.

These were all external gains. As for internal gains, they were bountiful as well.

His Heart Intent reached Level Two, allowing him to sense the emotions of others in a hundred-meter radius. However, it was just not a matter of range. He felt that he could now influence or rather amplify the emotions of people.

This ability of his was similar to Misdirection, but not by so much as Misdirection was just distracting them or making them feel a hint of something or some emotion. He wondered what would happen he used both of them simultaneously.

Nonetheless, with the slaughter he enacted, his Death Laws also reached Level Four Intent, making him look like he officially caught up to Ninth Stage's comprehension level. After all, for Greater Laws, the Eighth Stage embodied law intents from Level One to Level Three, while in the Ninth Stage, the law intents ranged from Level Three to Level Six.

Still, Davis couldn't help but feel ironic about this matter.

When it came to learning Death Laws, he was slow, or rather, he thought he was not talented in it, but it turned out that as long as he possessed a vast source of death aura, fresh and powerful death aura, he could comprehend quickly.

The Vast Sky Emperor Palace particularly had Grand Elders that were all at Peak-Level Ninth Stage. Their deaths combined with millions of people contributed to his comprehension of Death Laws, allowing him to comprehend Level Four Intent from Level Two Intent.

The only gripe; the only problem about this matter was that he was unwilling to commit slaughter unless he had been pushed to do so, like at that moment where he was disillusioned by the selfishness and avarice of many people.

As he thought about what to do about this matter, the door opened, and a few figures barged in.

"Ahh!"

Davis came out of his reverie and looked at Natalya, Fiora, Isabella, and Shirley visiting him. Of course, the one who shouted and looked away was none other than Shirley.

As for the others, their cheeks blushed, and their eyes became predatory, especially Natalya. She even seductively licked her lips.

Davis stood up and flew when a purple robe appeared on his body, covering him up. His figure appeared before Shirley as he put a hand on her shoulder.

Shirley shook, "D-Did you wear your clothes?"

The others saw Shirley's inexperience and silently giggled. They felt like they found her weakness, having some material to tease her later.

Davis raised his brows before he whispered over her ears.

"Should I remove it?"

"Ah~ no~ You cannot tease me like this..." Shirley pouted, feeling a sense of comfort and pleasure pervading her, causing her cheeks to turn red.

Davis couldn't help but chuckle at her reaction.

Although Shirley had seen his naked body once and even joined together, he didn't cause her to become sexually active, unlike the others. Therefore, Shirley seeing his naked body or him seeing her naked body was still awkward and shameful for her.

He was looking forward to the part where he removed that shame from her but before that...

Davis's arms wrapped around Shirley's bloated belly where he could feel a life dwelling within it.

"Soon, our child will be born."

"Mhm, soon."

Shirley lowered her head as she caught his hands.

'Fortunately, you came back safely...'

She thought and couldn't wait for two more months to pass so she could hold their child together with him soon.

Davis kissed her cheek and looked at the others, "Natalya, Isabella, Fiora. Are you not going to ask me anything?"

"Don't bring it up. Anything you do, I know you do it for a valid reason." Isabella waved her hand.

"That's right." Natalya nodded, "Unless you admitted that you did it for the wrong reasons, there's no need to even talk about this matter."

"True. I know you did it to protect the Alstreim Family, husband." Fiora uttered with a knowing smile, "There's no right or wrong in this matter. The strong end up devouring the weak, and if they were strong, they would've targeted us. Husband saw that they chose to do what we feared. Isn't that why husband decided to completely decimate them?"

"You all..."

Davis was flabbergasted. He thought they had remained silent because they didn't want to needlessly talk about it, not wanting to hurt his feelings, but it seems like their faith never wavered. Excluding Isabella, whom Davis knew would support his decision because of her ruthlessness towards her enemies, he felt that Natalya and Fiora had significantly matured.

"What's more important is that you came back alive." Shirley took his hand and smiled at him.

The charming grace of a mother was already dwelling within her silhouette in Davis's eyes. He couldn't help but smile, wanting to say something, when Natalya flinched.

"That's right. I almost forgot to tell you some important news."

"Important news? What is it?"

Davis's eyes narrowed at Natalya. Had he missed some powerful remnants?

"That is..." Natalya's lips curved as she acted mysteriously, "Yesterday, someone visited us and gifted a hundred Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources."

"..." Davis became stunned that he reacted belatedly.

"What...?"

"Hehe~ Guess who it is?" Natalya giggled.

Davis was flabbergasted. He wondered who it was, but Natalya could no longer suppress revealing the answer as she grinned.

"It's the Glorious Pill Palace!"

"...!?"

Chapter 2034: A Softie?

The Glorious Pill Palace actually sent 100 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources, returning half the wealth they tried to trick him out of using Dalila Leehan as the exchange while also giving him an additional 50 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources.

Davis's brows couldn't help but twitch as he imagined their unsightly yet boot-licking expressions while giving the gift to Natalya.

Natalya had told him that it was some important news, so his mind went to search for some remnants he had left or the consequences of his actions, and although it was the latter, it came in a positive way instead of the negative ones he thought.

"The message you meant for our potential enemies was too strong for them."

Isabella grinned while Fiora giggled.

"Hehe~ They became scared shitless."

Davis nodded. As expected, only absolute power can suppress people's greedy and ambitious thoughts.

He raised his hand and patted Natalya's head, "I heard something good and hilarious. Thanks!"

"Hehe~"

Natalya placed both her palms on her cheeks as she melted. Davis knew that this matter had been bothering her because she tried to get his wealth back, putting the burden on herself and selfishly becoming disappointed by herself when she couldn't, so this was a piece of joyous news for her.

"Both Venerate Pill Emperors are waiting for you in the guest hall. Shall I make the arrangements for them to see you?"

Natalya asked, but Davis shook his head.

"Let them wait for some more time. I'm more looking forward to spending time with you all."

"You're the best!"

Natalya jumped and tightly hugged him.

Davis laughed before he spent an hour with them chatting, sometimes flirting as his evil hands wandered. He got berated multiple times for being a big pervert, but they still had their smiles, genuinely giggling and laughing as they gathered around him.

He knew this was what he wanted, to have a family and live with them forever. That thought didn't change one bit as he laughed along with them.

=====

A white-robed woman sat in a lotus position in another room, crimson flames with a tinge of gold revolving around her. Her eyebrows flickered ever so lightly. Her silky blonde hair hovered as they were lifted up by the heat emanating around her. However, rather than finding it difficult to cultivate, it looked like she was distracted by something.

The flames receded a few seconds later, and she opened her eyes. They were slightly red, indicating that she had shed some tears not too long ago.

*Tok!~*

A knock on the door caught her attention just as she was about to try again, making her stand up as she headed towards the door and opened it.

"Big sister..." Niera's voice was somber.

However, Evelynn didn't seem to mind it, giving a look inside before she asked.

"You seem too busy with cultivation. Can I enter?"

Niera's expression flickered before she nodded. She closed the door after Evelynn entered, following her around as her lips moved.

"Is Davis fine?"

"He is fine." Evelynn satisfactorily nodded.

"Has he woken up yet?"

"Yes. He wants to see you soon. Will you go?"

Niera froze, but then a wry expression filled her face.

"I... don't have any face left to see him."

"...?"

Evelynn looked confused, but at this moment, she noticed Sophie walking from another room within this unit.

"Sophie, you were not in your room but here this whole time?"

"That's right, big sister." Sophie yawned as she placed her palm on her lips.

It seemed like she slept for a while, lazily walking before she arrived before Evelynn and whispered in her ear.

"After all, Niera's a softie who laments those poor children's fate. I can't leave her alone." Her voice was gentle as she glanced at Niera.

'No kidding.'

Evelynn smiled as she knew how Davis came to love Niera. It was for her honest gaze and pure determination to sacrifice herself in her family's stead when he gave them a trial that could essentially make them kill each other. Such a pure soul would lament any lives shed, much less the lives of children.

However, what she wanted to know was if Niera's belief in Davis had crumbled. If it has collapsed, then as sisters who crossed their episode of tragedy not too long ago, she would feel saddened. Thinking like this, a glint of determination appeared in Evelynn's eyes.

"Niera, do you think what Davis did was wrong?"

"It's not a matter of right or wrong..."

"Then what's wrong? Why would you say something like that? Have you lost faith in hi-"

"No!"

Niera clenched her fists, her body quivering as she looked straight at Evelynn. Her eyes were fierce, and she even looked angry to be questioned that part of her conviction. However, she knew that she was out of her mind these few days.

Unable to bear the weight, Niera's lips quivered as tears fell.

"If I was only stronger like sister Lea and made the Alstreim Family impregnable, he... he wouldn't have needed to make a decision like that. I'm sure what he did hurts him as well. Otherwise, he wouldn't be the person I fell in love with. It's all my fault."

Sophie and Evelynn became stunned, but they watched her continue as she grabbed her trembling arm.

"We are strong for our ages, but it's not enough. This is clearly my responsibility. Call it my arrogance or whatever you want. I feel accountable for this matter, so those children's blood is in my hands, not his or anyone else's."

Evelynn's eyes were wide as she watched Niera return to her cultivation room.

Indeed, Davis did feel bad for that matter, or else he wouldn't have shed a tear when she made him feel that it was alright, that she would be there for him even if everything around him collapsed.

However, she also knew that he didn't feel regret over it. After all, she, of all people, knew that Davis wouldn't do things that he regrets. He must have given them multiple chances for them to push him to do it, or that was what she saw.

Nonetheless, it seems that Niera was thinking in an entirely different way than they were.

"Sophie, it seems like we all misunderstood Niera."

Evelynn wryly looked at Sophie, whose lips twitched

"As her closest sister, this is embarrassing for me."

She didn't feel responsible for the Alstreim Family's safety at all because she felt that Davis protected it. But unlike her, Niera felt herself to be the greatest genius of the Alstreim Family when excluding Davis and Clara because their true family names were Loret. Because of that, Niera felt more responsible when concerning Alstreim Family's safety.

"Well, thanks to big sister confront my stubborn sister, now we all know what was going on in her mind."

Sophie exhaled, causing Evelynn to dryly smile.

"Was she always that prideful?"

"No, it had actually grown from back then." Sophie shook her head, "After all, she is one of us, which is greater than being the Young Mistress of the Alstreim Family. If I had to guess why she's so sad, what she wanted was a clear history for the Alstreim Family to rise, but now that it has been stained with the blood of young innocents, she thinks that karma would follow suit in various ways, harming us, harming our children. She doesn't blame Davis but blames herself for her weakness which apparently forced him to take that cruel decision. This is harder to resolve than her simply blaming him without much thought."

Sophie wryly smiled, feeling a bit of irony as well as a headache as she knew Niera was a stubborn person.

Once Niera decided on something, she most likely wouldn't change it. Even Niera's decision to follow her back then was suicidal. If it weren't for that, Sophie felt like she would've never seen Niera as a true sister, so she understood the best about Niera that she wouldn't easily back down from taking responsibility, although it was needless.

Just when she was wondering what she could do to retrieve Niera back from her self-harming conviction, Evelynn walked towards Niera's cultivation room and knocked on her door.

"Niera, you only heard what the world spread. I won't refute the weight of the matter. However, did you know that Davis left the children below three years old alive?"

"Eh? Really!?" Sophie swiftly turned her head, looking shocked.

Just before Evelynn could nod, the door opened with force as Niera stood there stunned, her moistened eyes appearing to want to know the truth.

"Tell me more... please..."

Chapter 2035: Swindlers

The moment she saw and heard him being verbally mocked by many people upon the misunderstanding that their Vast Sky Emperor was still alive, having become an immortal and ascended, she was enraged, wanting to personally come over and slaughter them and as if responding to her emotions, Davis did slaughter them all.

However, he didn't kill the children below three years old, choosing to leave them alive and left them on top of a mountain nearby, scaring away all the stray magical beasts in a hundred-kilometer radius.

Sophie and Niera listened with utter focus before the former clenched her teeth, looking enraged.

"To think something like that happened and the Heaven Mandate Temple and the Heaven Gazing Sect didn't release any news of it. How hypocritical can they be!?"

Niera also looked angered. However, Evelynn shook her head.

"You're wrong. It was I who told them not to reveal it."

Sophie and Niera became shocked.

"Why?"

"Because Davis's wish for those children is for them to grow without knowing or having much of a connection to their origins. If they did, they would be forced to take the mantle of vengeance as their life's goal, getting them killed in the end, which would give no meaning to his actions of letting them live."

Evelynn pursed her lips, pausing before she continued.

"There are tens and thousands of orphanages in the righteous path. Those children will be secretly sent to those orphanages to live. They're all talented children. As long as they don't try to trace back their origins and live while following their cultivation path, they will be even recruited by sects and other kinds of powers, continuing on with their life as they create a new family later on. So it's essential that the world doesn't know about their origins so that some opportunistic or ambitious people wouldn't be able to make use of their past."

"To Davis, what's important isn't letting the world know that he was merciful but for those children live safely as much as possible. As for the children above three, they were already full of hatred for Davis as they adored their dead father and mother and worshiped their Vast Sky Emperor. The chances that they will live forgetting that tragic event is essentially below one percent, but not so high for those children below three. Even after all this, if they insist on taking revenge in the future, then all I could say is..."

Evelynn let out a deep sigh, "It can't be helped."

"But..." Niera's lips quivered as a grateful smile filled her face, "I'm glad that those children could be spared."

Niera knew that there was no right or wrong in this matter. After they ascended, the Alstreim Family's defenses would become weaker with time, and the consequences of their actions would come to haunt them back. She didn't want to leave behind a calamity of their making for the family she was finally reunited with.

Her father and mother were so happy to return from the sealed lightning space, and the same could be said about her grandparents. How could she allow the Alstreim Family to be destroyed by a calamity of their own making?

Even if those kids did not take revenge after they grew up, others would naturally use his deeds as an excuse to destroy the Alstreim Family.

At least, it should not happen while she was still alive, so she took it as her responsibility to make things right.

However, to think that she didn't talk to Davis about this matter and kept it all to herself, not only worrying and hurting herself but everyone else. After all, for Evelynn to have visited meant that Davis was worried about her.

To not speak her heart with him, what was she so terrified of?

"I want to see Davis~"

Niera bit her lips as she stood up, causing Evelynn to smile resplendently.

=====

In the guest hall of the Purple Guest Palace, Davis walked the red carpet and glanced at the two shriveled men.

It appeared like they considerably aged from the last time he had seen them.

They were none other than the Venerated Twilight Pill Emperor and Venerated Sunrise Pill Emperor.

The Two Venerate Pill Emperors instantly stood up, one of them running towards him.

"Ah, Emperor of Death. Please forgive us old men for our past transgressions. We realized that we were rather slightly irresponsible at that time, so we came to sincerely apologize."

The Venerated Sunrise Pill Emperor cupped his hands and bowed ninety degrees before the Venerated Twilight Pill Emperor did the same. Their expressions were a mix between unappealing and boot-licking, just like he imagined.

'Shrewd old bastards...'

Davis's lips almost twitched.

Although he didn't have a good impression of them, he has to say that they knew how to stay alive, unlike someone else. If the Vast Sky Emperor simply kowtowed to Isabella three times and asked for her forgiveness, he would not have pursued that matter at all.

But he refused to do so, and now where did it end? In the Vast Sky Emperor Palace's complete destruction with millions of unneeded deaths.

To him, while the descendants of the Vast Sky Emperor possessed the freedom of thought, the others didn't seem to possess it. It was more like they were servants to the Skycloud Family, their reverence all gathered towards one individual. The moment that individual became an immortal existence, their reverence only grew to worship, causing them to become retards against an apex powerhouse like him.

It was a tragic event, but these two old men in front of them were precisely here to prevent that tragic event.

However, he couldn't help but laugh a bit as he possessed no hatred against them. They might have felt like they had swindled wealth out of him, but to him, he felt like he gave alms to the poor. His only intent was to get Dalila out of that forced contract they had with the Thousand Pill Palace.

As that matter was settled peacefully, he didn't mind leaving it at that but here they were, giving him back all they swindled and, on top of that, giving him actual compensation for him to not lay a hand on them.

Davis felt that it was amusing as he raised his hand.

"Here."

The Two Venerate Pill Emperors raised their heads and saw that there was a spatial ring on Davis's palm, causing their pupils to dilate.

"This..."

The Venerate Sunrise Pill Emperor's lips quivered. Wasn't this the same spatial ring they gave to the Yin Lotus Fairy?

"Oh, no. The Emperor of Death must accept our gift. Otherwise, we will feel distressed."

He added with a fake smile on his face that almost made Davis turn his face away in disgust, but he kept his smile and moved his lips.

"I did accept it."

The Venerate Sunrise Pill Emperor's expression became relaxed but then froze.

"However, make a copy of all your manuals, techniques, alchemy knowledge, and pill recipes, including the hidden ones. I'll buy them all for a hundred Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources."

"W-What...?"

Both Venerate Pill Emperors trembled simultaneously, looking dumbfounded.

The Emperor of Death wants to buy what?

Their Glorious Pill Palace's complete inheritance wouldn't even sell for 10,000 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources, much less a mere 100 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources!

How can he swindle him in broad daylight like this!?

The Two Venerate Pill Emperors were vexed and enraged, but they didn't dare show their anger on their faces, shivering as they lowered their wrinkled heads. Who knows what would happen if they made him even the slightest bit angry?

For a person who massacred the entire Vast Sky Emperor Palace and received no blame or sanctions from the three other righteous sects proves the absolute power of the man in front of them.

They very well knew that if this youth in front of them wanted to unite the human race under his banner, he could very well do it. Otherwise, they wouldn't have gone out of their way to repay what they swindled and add compensation on top of that. Their coffers were crying, and so were their eyes, but there were no tears at this moment.

"Of course, you can choose not to accept this transaction and leave. As for what would happen in the future, who knows?"

Davis shrugged, left the spatial ring on a pillar made using martial energy, and left, walking towards the inner zone when a hoarse voice echoed.

"Wait!"

Davis turned to look back at the Venerate Sunrise Pill Emperor, who seemed to have a difficult expression on his face. His expression changed numerous times before he finally heaved a sigh.

"Fine, we agree. However, you should promise us to not leak the pill-"

"Do you think that I have any interest in this small, desolate world that could no longer aid my growth?"

'But the Alstreim Family... they...'

The Venerate Sunrise Pill Emperor gnashed his teeth and held his tongue from speaking out before he stiffly nodded his head.

"Alright, we'll prepare everything in a week and send it to your eminence. However, our Glorious Pill Palace should also be present after your eminence's ascendance. Don't blame us if they come looking for your eminence because they found the presence of their things in your eminence's possession."

"Thanks for the warning, but that's not something you need to worry over with your old lives."

Davis chuckled like a carefree youth, causing the Two Venerate Pill Emperors to have somber expressions. They no longer stayed and flew off with no one sending them off.

Davis looked at their leaving figures with a gaze full of derision.

The Venerate Twilight Pill Emperor didn't even talk much, probably knowing that he would offend him with his words and choosing to keep his mouth shut. Such restraint and flexibility really did broaden his horizons.

In front of opportunists, he was also an opportunist that he did not feel a tiny hint of pity in ripping them off in this manner because he knew that they would do the same using many methods if he was weaker.

When he turned back, he saw his wives as well as Zestria and Bylai. When his eyes met the two Dragon Queens, they momentarily shuddered, causing him to narrow his brows.

"Isabella, prepare our fleet. Let's move out to lay waste upon our enemies."

Davis looked towards the distance as he waved his sleeves, causing the others to become shocked.

"To where?" Isabella blinked as she asked subconsciously.

What's going on? What about their fleet? Did they have one? Did he mean the magical beasts of the Magical Beast Sanctuary? The Soul Palace? Didn't he just wake up? Why the need to be out so soon?

Isabella had no idea but heard him speak again.

"First, to the Zlatan Family."

Davis declared, his voice echoing like thunder that it caused a woman to jump in fright.

"Ah!"

Bylai Zlatan instantly appeared before him and grabbed his arm, looking at him with pleading eyes.

"What's wrong? Did they do something wrong to offend you?"

Bylai desperately held his arm, her heart pounding crazily while her life flashed before her eyes under his cold gaze. However, her expression froze as she heard his next words.

"I'm just kidding."

Davis grinned before he looked elsewhere.

"You too, Zestria. What are you two terrified for? Just because I slaughtered so many people doesn't mean that I have changed. I'm still looking forward to the day when I get to have both of you on my bed, so how could I hope to offend you, Dragon Queens?"

"Ah, you..."

Bylai and Zestria's expression alternated between embarrassment and anger as they heard his helpless tone while his wives shook their heads.

There was no cure to pervertedness.

However, they all saw that Zestria and Bylai no longer possessed that slight hint of dread they had towards him.

Chapter 2036: Helpful Beauties

Perhaps encouraged by Zestria's actions, Bylai also bit him while tightly holding his right arm.

Davis languidly smiled as he felt sandwiched between Zestria and Bylai's big breasts. Those twin peaks of theirs wouldn't lose to Isabella's, making him daydream of what he spoke just a while ago.

While he was daydreaming, Zestria and Bylai's cheeks were blushing in embarrassment as they looked at each other.

In their eyes was a peculiar glint of shyness.

Should they reveal that it was quite normal for their family's women to wait upon their man together although they were exempted from that unspoken rule because they were Dragon Queens?

They pursed their lips, not wanting to dwell to that location at this point as they looked away, their cheeks blushing more before they showed that embarrassment at Davis, gnawing his arms more fiercely from both sides.

'What are they doing...?'

Natalya and the others didn't know what they were watching, their husband looking fortunate while being gnawed by two women.

"Zestria, Bylai. Why waste time here? If you want to eat him, go eat him above a bed. I'll cheer you two on!" Fiora jumped, her expression appearing evil.

"Ah!"

Fiora's words had the opposite effect as they let Davis go, looking like they had been caught doing something perverse.

Having lost that supple feeling of grandness, Davis returned to reality, his expression looking like he had lost something important.

At this moment, Lea made her way from the outside, looking at the people gathered. The moment her eyes landed on Davis, her eyes lit up before a sweet smile appeared behind her veil.

"Davis, you're awake. Just now, I finished scouting the outskirts of the Alstreim Family Territory and didn't find anything strange."

"Oh! Thank you, Lea. Your help is much appreciated."

Davis caught Lea's hands, looking at her with a thankful smile.

His smile was infective, causing Lea to want to kiss him, but she suddenly noticed two teeth marks on his robe plastered with some saliva before looking at the two Dragon Queens. Instantly, her crimson lips curved into an amused smile, making her look mature.

She didn't know what he said to incur the wrath of the two Dragon Queens but felt that it was well deserved.

"You need to be grounded for making all of us worry. What if something happened to you?" However, she couldn't even maintain her blaming tone by the end, causing Davis to hold her hands dearly.

"I crave my current life with you all to make foolish decisions, so you don't need to worry about that."

"Liar..."

Lea slightly pouted, not finding any lies in his words, but with the precedence of him sacrificing himself, she didn't have the confidence that he would try to stay alive if they, his women, were in danger.

"And, don't worry about the things you did. I've been alive for many years, and the amount of powers that disappeared overnight in my eyes numbers in the hundreds. It's not worth mulling over. I would've made the same decision if it were to protect my Burning Phoenix Ridge, so what's important is that you protected everyone important to you, understand?"

Davis looked at Lea, who was consoling him while his eyes were blinking innocently.

The Sect Master who tried to determine whether he was righteous or evil along with Ancestor Cornelia back then was now completely on his side, possessing an unwavering belief in his actions. That alone couldn't help but make him feel that he was fortunate to have such understanding women.

He leaned his face closer, wanting to kiss her, when he suddenly turned to look towards the inner zone.

A figure rushed past everyone else and jumped into his embrace, causing him to raise his hands. That figure trembled while tightly holding him, causing his stunned expression to turn into one of satisfaction as he stroked that figure's head, brushing their silky blonde hair.

He had seen and heard what had happened through his connection with Evelyn. Therefore, no explanation was needed for him to know about Niera.

It was a while before Niera raised her head to look at his face, her face full of tears while her eyes were red.

"Stop crying." Davis wiped her tears with his fingers, "Look, it's ruining your beauty."

Niera bit her lips, trembling in his grasp as she sobbed.

"I'm sorry... I didn't have any... face... left to see you... I was afraid that if I had said something, you would abandon... the Alstreim Family because it's an unneeded burden..."

"It's not an unneeded burden." Davis shook his head, "It's my mother's family, and the Alstreim Family follows me without questioning my actions. How can I say they're a burden? The two Ancestors are determined to follow me to death, so how could I leave them without fully entrenching their defenses?"

Davis poked Niera's nose, causing her to embarrassedly pout. Perhaps, she had been too afraid before that Davis's gentle now cleared all her fears, causing her to cry as she smiled.

"Ah, you're crying again." Davis shook his head, "You've become ugly now."

"Scoundrel! You're the one who's ugly!" Niera beat his chest as she flailed, looking aggrieved before she bit his chest.

"..."

Davis blinked. What's going on? Wasn't he getting bitten a lot today? Did he smell that good? Or were they just sneakily leaving their mark on him?

He felt that he should research some dual cultivation books for this matter. Nonetheless, he pushed her back and grabbed her chin, looking solemn.

"Still, you are too arrogant, thinking that you can protect everyone at your little age, thinking of taking responsibility for the trouble I caused. Who do you think you are?"

"You said we are all equals in status." Niera meekly spoke, pouting, "If we are truly equals, then I should hold myself up to your level without anyone pointing it out for me."

"..." Davis became speechless.

He wanted to say that she was twisting his logic. However, there were no words that came out of his mouth. Not only him but everyone else was speechless as well.

The next moment, flames ignited in their hearts.

Just because they obtained a good life didn't mean that they had to take their cultivation and responsibilities easier. The intent of having to work hard even more burned within their eyes. The atmosphere was rather infective that even Evelynn and Lea looked solemn enough to raise their strengths as quickly as possible.

'Oye. At this rate, my women might seclude themselves...!'

Davis inwardly sweat buckets. What about his daydreams turning to reality? Did he have no choice but to abandon them?

'I have no choice. It's all for the greater good in the end.' Davis raised his head and closed his eyes, his lips downturned.

"You look like you made some great sacrifice just now but whatever." Evelynn giggled before she panned her gaze, "Everyone, listen..."

Evelynn explained what she had told Niera and Sophie before, causing their eyes to widen in shock before their faces became relived, their eyes slightly tearing up as they looked at Davis.

Clearly, that matter also weighed on them all a bit. After all, killing children, whatever the reason, couldn't be justified. They all knew it as well, knowing he had done it for the Alstreim Family's survival. That's why Niera also took that mess upon herself.

Now that they knew that he had left many children alive, they became proud of him. When it comes to the survival of powers, it was not an easy decision to make as the best decision is to eradicate them all.

Evelynn lightly smiled before she turned around and started to walk away.

"I'll go look for Tanya and Dalila..."

However, she stopped as a hand grabbed her shoulder, causing her to look back.

"Evelynn, I changed my mind," Davis uttered with narrowed eyes.

"They must have their own reasons for not being able to see me in the eyes. Let them resolve the knot themselves. I can wait."

Evelynn narrowed her brows, appearing disagreeable.

"Those two are inexperienced and lost. Tanya didn't even leave her sect until a while ago-"

"Big sister, leave Dalila to me." Sophie raised her hand, interrupting their conversation. I forcefully brought her to Davis, so it's my responsibility in case anything happens."

"In that case, I'll take care of Tanya, my dear friend who is now one of my treasured sisters." Natalya also took a step forward, "Can't have her treading a wrong path, although I'm sure she will not be in closed doors any longer since she's following the path of the sword."

"There's no need for that, Natalya."

A female voice echoed from the hallway, causing Natalya's lips to curve into a wide smile.

Chapter 2037: We're Doing It Now?

"I... thought a lot about it, and the answer I reached was that even if Davis massacred the entire world because it blames him, I would still be with him, becoming a devil if that's what it is."

"...!"

Davis's eyes went wide similar to the others. That was no longer conviction but blind faith.

"Tanya! I knew my eyes weren't blind!"

Natalya resplendently smiled, causing Tanya to return the smile shyly when a purple-robed woman walked past her.

"Uhm... can I also say something?"

"No need to be reserved," Evelynn replied, causing the purple-robed woman to take a deep breath.

"I haven't even repaid Davis for saving me, and yet, I doubted his actions for the past few days, not knowing how to even look at his eyes anymore. I don't deserve my place here. That's why... I won't utter a word of complaint if I'm exiled or killed."

"..."

Everyone felt awkward at Dalila crying silently after saying something like that.

In truth, they didn't expect her to have much faith because she was not a part of them until a few days ago. In their eyes, she was like a responsible little kid crying over doing something she regretted.

"Good, you're one of us now."

"...?"

Evelynn appeared before Dalila, causing the latter to flinch in shock. How can she be one of them after what she felt? Although her love towards him didn't fade, it was true that she doubted his actions, which led to her questioning her love, which is Davis.

What if Davis had changed? Wouldn't he be the person she loved anymore? Thinking of it day and night in these past few days, she was scared to meet him, almost losing her mind over what she was doing, locking herself up.

Abruptly, she felt a palm on her cheek. It was soft and warm, causing her tearful eyes to clear up somewhat as she saw a beautiful face in front of her.

"To doubt is the first step to finding the truth and building a stronger relationship. You don't know Davis like us, so it's fine for you and Tanya to doubt the intent behind his actions."

Evelynn couldn't help but caress Dalila's cheek, wiping away her tears. She also had come past many trials in the past as there were so many things that were vague about Davis even while he was young; his true identity and his powers, but even so, she chose to trust him, willing to put her life on the line to get to know him.

It was all a bonding process that one must go through when in a relationship. In fact, if these two didn't feel doubt over Davis's intent, she would feel suspicious about their true characters. After all, a snake in hiding really wouldn't care if its golden goose was righteous or evil.

When the time comes and the golden eggs it lays no longer satisfies the snake, it unwittingly poisons and swallows the golden goose, looking for another one without any remorse or shame.

Nonetheless, hearing Evelynn's words, the other ladies also couldn't help but find it resonating with their hearts. It made them feel closer to Davis now that they chose to believe in him wholeheartedly.

"Really, I can... stay?"

Dalila's lips quivered, causing Evelynn to giggle, turning to look at Davis.

"Looks like if you don't say it, she won't believe me, her big sister."

"Ah~ It's not like that."

Dalila trembled before she hugged Evelynn, "Ahh~ I love you, big sister Evelynn."

"There, there..." Evelynn caressed Dalila as though she was caressing a crying baby.

They both looked young, but if their appearances reflected their ages, they might be laughing at it because Evelynn was way younger. Clearly, the world experience Dalila possessed was lesser than Evelynn.

'Damn, Evelynn stole my Dalila...'

Davis lightly chuckled as he saw this scene. However, a hint of satisfaction gleamed in his eyes when he saw Evelynn truly shine as their big sister. Her words also resonated with him because he also doubted their love for him these few days.

"What we're scared about is... if he isn't the person we all loved, then we're all screwed one way or another."

At this moment, two figures walked out from the inner zone.

"Tina, Mingzhi..." Davis uttered as he saw their figures. It was Mingzhi who uttered that sentence while Tina maintained an amused smile.

Instantly, he had a certain feeling that Mingzhi and Tina were behind Dalila and Tanya's clarity of mind, although he strongly felt Mingzhi played a heavy role in that matter.

'Subconsciously taking the path to comprehending Heart Intent, huh... She might be as skilled as me...'

Davis couldn't help but be full of expectations for Mingzhi's growth.

Abruptly, a hand grabbed the hem of his robe while a beautiful face appeared before his face. Before he knew it, Mingzhi was already in front of him, baring her fangs.

"Scoundrel. The competition is over, and a few days have passed, but you have yet to fulfill the promise of marrying me...! Are you planning on abandoning me!?"

Mingzhi clenched her teeth as she pulled Davis close to her face, looking like a fierce woman.

Davis blinked before his lips curved, "Oh? Are you sure that you want to marry me now, a slaughterer who killed millions? Do you not want to wait for some time? Otherwise, you might be seen as an evil fiend who married the evil Emperor of Death by the world as well."

"Those hypocritical bastards already looked at me with hostile gaze for me using Darkness Laws. Do I look like I care what they think about me? You either marry me within two days, or I'm cutting off your manhood tonight while framing Schleya!"

"Mingzhi, I'll kill you!"

Schleya roared from the shadows that some people didn't even notice that she was here.

"..."

The others were practically stunned, wondering what was going on.

Davis wasn't stunned. Instead, he stared at Mingzhi's moistening eyes with his head inclined. A moment later, his eyes flickered.

"You really have no thoughts on what I did?"

"I'm the first person to know even without knowing anything that you are not the person to kill children if you were not forced to." Mingzhi bit her lips, appearing full of conviction, "My entire existence is proof of that."

Davis's eyes shook. A moment later, his head straightened as he gently smiled.

"I understand. I'll fulfill your wish tonight. However, the gallery-"

"Just our family is fine. Other than you, this group of sisters is what I all have." Mingzhi's voice became meek as she lowered her head, "I need no outsiders to witness my marriage with you."

Davis held her waist and pulled her into a passionate kiss, causing Mingzhi's eyes to flutter before she closed them and dwelled into his taste.

"Beautiful..."

Some ladies couldn't help but utter while almost all of them thought their exchange was romantic, of course, if not for the part where she cuts off his manhood, which almost invoked their wrath before it made them laugh.

Davis left Mingzhi's lips, watching her become unusually shy in front of everyone's gaze before he turned to look at Evelynn.

"Evelynn, did you find Ivy Aries yet?"

Evelynn shook her head, "The rifts are not stable. They open and close at regular intervals, but no one knows those regular intervals as they only stay that way for a set amount of time. It's easier to get lost within without an entire group to keep watch on the way back. Therefore, I presume that Ivy Aries and Valley Master Jade Aurora are lost somewhere, unable to find their way back. There should be no danger to their lives unless they stepped into a danger zone."

"Furthermore, I'm working together with the Soul Palace's Peak Soul Kings and Soul Queens to clear many areas and know the way back. Although I haven't found them yet, I have managed to find some clues. It will take some time for the rifts to move, so don't worry."

"I see." Davis nodded before he looked at someone else, "Then Natalya, I'll depend on you to gather everyone tonight."

"Leave it to me!"

Natalya pumped her fist, looking more than ready to officially welcome Mingzhi into the family while Mingzhi lowered her head, feeling expectant of tonight.

Chapter 2038: Marrying Mingzhi

The gathering was at the Purple Guest Palace's Ceremonial Platform located on the eighteenth floor.

There were only a few people present.

Ancestor Dian Alstreim, Ancestor Tirea Snow, Ancestor Cornelia, Edgar Alstreim... everyone from his mother's side, Tina's side, Niera's side, Natalya's side, Shirley's side were also here. There were less than a hundred people, but it put a delighted smile on the face of a crimson-robed woman on top of the ceremonial platform as she held hands with a crimson-robed man.

Their robes were embroidered with the patterns of a phoenix and a dragon, respectively, and the sleeves where their hands met displayed the love between the two legendary magical beasts intertwining each other.

The people below were joyously feasting at the banquet for them all with the help of Jaisi Alstreim. Her culinary skills and her ability to employ skilled chefs had already climbed above many ranks, and she had already established many restaurants in the entire Alstreim Family Territory and other Territories' major cities.

There was also a rumor that she was the Emperor of Death's woman, but no one obtained any proof of it so far.

Nonetheless, this time, it was no Aqua Flood Dragon Meat but the meat of an Emperor Beast Stage Magical Beast, Translucent Daylight Deer, a magical beast meat that was good for the essence and soul, especially to anybody training in Light Laws and a majority of the righteous path people trained in Light Laws for Soul Forging Cultivation.

Even if they didn't, it was still restorative.

Nadia went out during the day and hunted the Peak-Level Emperor Beast Stage Translucent Daylight Deer for them. As for where she killed it, it was apparently in the Twilight Shade Valley where war between the Blood Pledge Villa, Dark Moon Crow Empire, White Serpent Palace, and the White-Winged Tiger Empire was going on.

After the Poison Lord Villa fell, it seemed that the White-Winged Tiger Empire had also moved its focus to the unearthed resources in the Twilight Shade Valley, although none of it mattered to them.

The moment Nadia arrived, the entire Twilight Shade Valley went silent, stopping their battles while she silently reaped that deer's life and left. There was no one there to stop her because the Translucent Daylight Deer was a native to the Twilight Shade Valley's Illuminated Mountain, where the dark fog wasn't present all year long.

However, no one would go there because the light shining there was very dangerous that it would continuously burn them, but for Nadia, such a matter wasn't a problem. She practically one-shot the deer with her species soul technique and brought back an unharmed carcass that people were now deliciously feasting upon.

Although there was some awkwardness between the people because of the Vast Sky Emperor Palace's matter, the ceremonies proceeded smoothly. None of them blamed him, or rather, they were unable to say anything because they could understand why someone powerful like him would have to commit slaughter.

It was for them. After all, it was no secret that Davis's future lay above this realm.

Speaking of above, from the golden palace above every palace in this city was an icy-blue-robed figure watching this marriage ceremony with clear eyes from the fourth floor's balcony. Inside the golden palace's fourth floor was a man treating an icy-blue-haired woman who stared daggers at him but was unable to keep it up as she closed her eyes.

The Solitary Soul Avatar was healing the Ice Phoenix that had awakened some time ago and moaned in pain. She was called Xiaolan. At this moment, he was only giving her first aid. After all, he was unable to heal her soul essence since it was way more powerful than his own strength.

He would even find a lower quality soul essence difficult to heal with his own strength.

In any case, there was a bunch of reasons he didn't use Fallen Heaven's life energy to heal Xiaolan at this moment.

First, his main body's soul force had only been restored to sixty percent in these two days. Perhaps, his exhaustion left sooner because of some reason that he woke up in two days, but it didn't matter as he should wait for some more time to completely restore his soul force.

Normally, when uninjured or not in an exhausted state, he would need about eight to nine hours of sleep to restore his soul force up to ninety-five percent or more. However, the heaven and earth energy that resonated with his soul essence to produce soul force were low in quality here, after all. The rate of recovery was quite slow.

Secondly, he needed his soul force to be in top shape for manifesting the Supreme Immortal Sigil.

Lastly, he couldn't fully heal the Ice Phoenix as he didn't believe that it would obediently stay put. Judging by the impression Xiaolan gave him, she was practically spoiled by both Myria and Ellia. Therefore, he knew that Xiaolan wouldn't easily forgive him for apparently hurting them, not that he expected any forgiveness in the first place.

He was just fulfilling the words he gave to Ellia while Xiaolan was reluctantly being made to be healed by him by her master. It was the case of being glued together by external parties.

"I, Davis Loret, solemnly swear to take Mo Mingzhi as my sixth wife..."

"I, Mo Mingzhi, solemnly swear to take Davis Loret as my husband..."

At this moment, the two voices of the groom and the bride resounded through heaven and earth as the both of them vowed in front of the witnesses, promising to take care of each other through thick and thin.

Upon finishing their oaths, Myria saw Davis hold Mingzhi's small hand and slid a ring through her ring finger. It appeared dark and elusive, giving off a black illumination that absorbed the light around it, causing unseen ripples that could only be seen when focused.

'A High-Level Emperor Grade Defensive Artifact...?' Myria wondered why it would be so weak for Davis's ability to procure resources but then saw it was customized for Mingzhi. Moreover, it seemed that one of his women called Sophie was the one who made the ring, as discussed by the people below.

"Ah, so romantic~"

A voice inwardly echoed in her soul sea, causing Myria's lips to curve, "You can say that, I guess..."

Sixth wife? By the time a man got to that position, women were of mere commodity or possession to that man most of the time. The fact that he still could care about their emotions and give meaning to a sign of marriage like the customized ring was alone romantic that she couldn't help but find ironic in many ways.

Was he naive, or was he just caring?

"Well, as long as he could treat you well," Myria replied to Ellia, and no longer spoke again.

Above the ceremonial platform, Mingzhi stood there with tears gleaming in her eyes. It wouldn't be a lie for her to stay that she didn't want a marriage with him because being in a polygamous relationship took away the meaning of marriage from her. However, seeing him marry his women one after another and then put that spell on her, she craved the same.

Now, she understood that there was meaning in it even if it seemed foolish, finally feeling that she was officially a part of his family.

"How is it? Do you like it?"

Mingzhi nodded thrice. "Sister Sophie's crafting skills have vastly improved. I can brag that I have a better ring than Fiora's!"

"That's where you're concerned!?"

Davis laughed, causing the others to laugh along with him, although Fiora pouted, possessing a smile that appeared not so amused.

Mingzhi grinned at her before she grabbed Davis's arm and looked into his eyes, "Of course, nothing triumphs your existence in my life, darling."

She coyly smiled, possessing an obsessive glint in her eyes.

Today, Mingzhi was unusually beautiful. Wearing a phoenix crown on her head and the crimson robe suited her figure very well. As Davis observed her, he felt his spine tingle, causing a reaction in his lower body but he wryly smiled and suppressed that reaction as it wasn't time yet.

They walked down the aisle before finally meeting his parents, where they bowed, obtaining their blessings.

"Mother, I-" Davis uttered but was interrupted.

"I know. Besides, Mingzhi is a good girl. I know that she stood helpful to our Loret Empire in many ways, hunting down evildoers while solving many cases."

Claire held Mingzhi's shoulders, looking agreeable and proud.

"Mother-in-law..."

Mingzhi felt something like a spark in her heart, realizing that she hadn't talked much to her mother-in-law before. Feeling bad, her eyes couldn't help tearing up.

"Don't cry." Claire wiped her tears, "Today is your day, not my son's. Therefore, make sure you completely manage to seduce him tonight."

"Mhm. I will!"

"Wha-?" Davis went flabbergasted, "Mother...?"

"Shut up. It's for your sake as well."

Claire berated while Mingzhi giggled, looking like she had won the battle of gaining her in law's favor.

Davis couldn't help but smirk as he saw this scene. His mother finally accepted him despite his decadence. Perhaps, it had to do with the child in Shirley and Isabella's bellies? She apparently couldn't wait to see her grandchildren. Perhaps, she wanted more grandchildren already?"

Thinking like this, he smilingly shook his head.

Soon enough, there was only the last ceremony left, which was obviously completing nightly affairs above the nuptial bed.

Davis and Mingzhi arrived before the nuptial chamber, followed by his other women. Together, they sent the bride and the groom into the depths of the sensual enclosure, where they were welcomed by a fragrant room that invoked one's lustful desires.

Chapter 2039: Enacting Revenge (R-18)

The door closed behind the bride and the groom when suddenly the groom grabbed the bride by the butt and lifted her.

"You!-"

Mingzhi's mouth went wide as she was lifted above, but before she could realize what had happened, she was already seated above Davis's shoulders while she subconsciously moved her hand to capture his head, her fingers sinking into his blonde hair to gain balance.

"Hey, what's the meaning of this?"

"Don't you like it?" Davis chuckled.

"I..." Mingzhi couldn't help but blush, "I like it, but there's nothing to sightsee here, so why-"

"Exactly."

While they were talking, Davis arrived before the bed, turned around, and slammed her down behind.

Mingzhi bounced on the firm yet soft bed before she felt him twisting around her lower body. Her senses became distraught, and the initial composure she held was greatly weakened with this forceful move of his, causing her to feel that he was rather fierce today.

However, what she expected didn't come, but he was in front of her face, not his head but his other head.

"Now, tell me. How do you want to be humiliated?"

Davis grinned as he towered above Mingzhi's face, looking like an evil tyrant.

"Haha~ What do you mean?" Mingzhi's lips twitched as she acted ignorantly.

"Didn't I say that I'm a vengeful man? I'll return you all the humiliation you caused me in front of my women here double-fold."

Davis removed his clothes completely while his rock-hard dick that was raring to go was above Mingzhi's face, appearing to tower above the height of her face.

"Oh? Could it be... that you are turned on?"

"Who is turned on!?"

Mingzhi clenched her teeth as a crimson blush spread above her cheeks. How could she not be turned on with his manhood giving off that mind-numbing manly smell that she craved?

She knew that he was doing this on purpose, but she didn't feel like resisting at all.

"Hmm, since this is your day, I can consider making a one-time exception. However, for that to happen, you must say: Forgive me, husband. From now on, I will be a good wife who will not tease you in front of everyone el- Hiss~"

Davis's sapphire eyes melted as he felt a lukewarm feeling on the tip of his dick before that feeling slowly covered his entire shaft. When he looked down, he saw the sight of his sixth wife throating him with a strange glare in her eyes.

"To think that you would choose this over compromising... As expected. I love your stubbornness, Mingzhi..."

Mingzhi moved her head back, extending out her tongue to lick his glans.

"Isn't this... what you wanted? I'll give you... the time of your life... today..."

Mingzhi coyly uttered, a smile appearing on her face.

"..."

Davis kept his silence as he caressed her face with one hand and moved his other hand to his back, grasping a soft mound that changed shapes to his touch.

Mingzhi began to enthusiastically give him a blowjob, all without using her hands as it was placed on his thighs. The supple feeling of her crimson lips ran over all the way from the tip to his shaft as she kept bobbing her head without stopping. Her tongue swirled over the tip before they rested on the shaft like a snake coiling over a branch when she reached the base.

Davis could feel that her technique was growing with every session she spent with him while her throat no longer seemed to be haunted by gagging reaction, allowing her to take him all the way to the root multiple times. He still couldn't help but remember the days when she gave him quickies sneakily.

All those playful deeds were now helping her give him immense pleasure.

By this time, Davis's rock-hard dick fully became covered in her saliva, becoming sloppy and shiny under the crimson light of the room. The sound of their clothes rustling and slurping sounds began to echo in this nuptial chamber, creating an erotic atmosphere.

"Mingzhi, your mouth is too fucking great..."

Davis deliriously uttered as he began thrusting into her mouth while grabbing the back of her head. His lustful gaze was on her continuously distorting face, and combined with the phoenix crown on her head; he felt like he was face-fucking an ancient chinese empress.

Mingzhi's eyes were wide as she stopped moving her head, letting him drive that big cock into her throat all the way multiple times. His rock-hard dick kept brushing against her tongue and the back of her throat, making her feel dominated. A twisted curve appeared along the lines of her eyes, looking at him desperately thrust into her.

"That's right. Fuck this impertinent mouth of mine, daddy! Let me realize my place in your harem. Otherwise, I would never stop humiliating you in front of your women!"

"Fuck!"

Davis hoarsely cried in pleasure as he heard her soul transmission that was extremely provoking, and even though he knew that it was on purpose like him, he couldn't help but fall for the provocation.

Instead of holding her head, he pushed her head to the bed and began pounding her mouth pussy crazily. Mingzhi was underneath him, receiving his pounding with renewed vigor. She was scared, but the excitement was more. With each thrust he made, she felt her consciousness tremble. However, she didn't stop sucking, practically holding him in place as she wrapped her arms around his waist.

Suddenly, she could feel his rock-hard dick trembling before he thrust into her one last time, reaching deep inside her throat. Simultaneously, she felt a dense amount of liquid flowing down her throat, reaching into her belly while she began to circulate the Yin-Yang Merit Sutra, beginning to refine his virility which was full of energy.

"Yes, yes. Keep it coming, daddy. I'll swallow everything for you."

Davis shivered in her mouth as he heard another provocative soul transmission again, causing him to burst more yang essence into her, although it might just be his imagination.

Mingzhi kept sucking on his member like a bloodsucking mosquito. His 'blood' was extremely delicious to her that she began bobbing her head again, milking more out of him while Davis spent the entire five minutes shivering and quivering as he even twisted his hips to ejaculate more comfortably.

Davis finally collapsed beside her. It wasn't like he was tired, but he let Mingzhi regain her breath as she was heavily gasping.

"Oye, you really took my mother's words into heart, huh?" Davis sighed in pleasure.

If she wasn't seducing him, then what was she doing provoking him? He hadn't heard her calling him 'daddy' in a long while. Perhaps, it's for special occasions like today that he couldn't help but feel excited.

"Hehe~" Mingzhi gasped as she giggled, "Today, you're mine, and I'm yours. We're going to do this for many hours without stop."

"As you wish, my sexy Mingzhi."

Davis approached her lower body but saw that her panty was already drenched in wet juices. He cast a glance at her, causing her to look away as that innocent blush returned.

'Looks like she enters a shameless state when feeling too much excitement and pleasure...'

As he removed her pieces of cloth one by one, he derived in his thought, but he didn't blame her because he too became crazy when reaching the height of pleasure, willing to do crazy things.

At this moment, Davis had completely undressed Mingzhi and ran his searing gaze over her curvaceous body. An oriental yet sexy look feature adorned her face, and further below was her jade-white neck and bountiful breasts where two pink cherries lay on top to be licked and sucked.

She possessed beautiful child-bearing hips and a curvaceous butt, while further below were her heavenly thighs and long legs. In between those sleek thighs was her cave that was already drenched in love juices.

"I think you don't need foreplay, but..."

Davis lifted both her legs from the thigh as he held her upside down and buried his head between her thighs, his tongue lashing out over her lower lips.

"Ahhn!~"

Mingzhi threw her head back, or at least she tried to but was unable to because she was already flipped upside-down. She felt him capture her tiny bud with her mouth and fiercely suck on it, causing her soul to leave her body for a moment in extreme pleasure. Then, a naughty tongue entered her cave, exploring her fleshly inner walls as it swirled around.

Mingzhi's expression kept twisting in pleasure.

His tongue was at least two inches in, continuously licking while his mouth sucked on the love juices she was flooding with. Blood rushed to Mingzhi's head, making her feel like she was going to pass out from the overwhelming pleasure, but she didn't, feeling both tortured yet pleased at the same time.

It was unknown how much time had passed, but finally, he let her go, making her gasp for breath.

She suddenly felt her body shift and, a moment later, realized that she was kneeling on all fours.

'This position...'

Mingzhi didn't even recollect herself amidst the lingering pleasure when she suddenly felt him entering from behind. At the same time, two hands traced her back before they wrapped between her bountiful breasts, holding her firmly in place.

"Wai-" Mingzhi's lips quivered when a single thrust suddenly pierced her deep inside, causing her to throw her head in tongue came out.

"Ahhnnn~::~"

The sound of flesh slapping and Mingzhi's lustful voice resounded in the nuptial chamber.

Chapter 2040 All Three (R-18)

Davis thrust his rock-hard dick into Mingzhi's dripping cave hole deep in one full thrust and stayed inside for a few seconds, allowing her to regain back her sanity. However, just when that sanity was near, he pulled back to her entrance, causing her to tremble in his grasp, her nerves instantly became taut as she knew what was coming next.

*Paah!~*

Mingzhi's perky ass shook as she rushed forward, reaching out to the front with her hands as though trying to escape from the overwhelming pleasure. However, he firmly held her in place, shaking his hips as he pounded her into a slobbering mess.

"Aah~ Aaan~! Ahhhn~"

The force he was pounding her with completely made her feel that she had left this world, not to mention that his entire body was wrapped around her, making her feel his addicting warmth.

It was nothing short of heaven in her mind, making her start to drool.

"Aaan~ Aaa~ Aaahn~! Mmph-?"

Abruptly, he lifted her chin up before he caught her flailing tongue, starting to kiss her as he connected with her lip to lip, sucking on her mouth fiercely.

Mingzhi's waist was bent heavily to accommodate his thrusts but having both her holes be sealed and treated pleurably caused her to orgasm quickly. Her eyes rolled back, and the strength in her hands was lost. She became a doll under him at this moment, continuously shaking underneath his thrusts while furiously squirting her yin essence at him, which was all being absorbed by his rock-hard dick.

Davis didn't allow one drop to be shed as he held Mingzhi close, passionately thrusting into her pleasant insides. He couldn't get enough of her unique taste, continuously sucking on her little mouth. He could see her face warped in pleasure, but he bet that she wasn't aware of the face she was making or wouldn't be this silent, obediently receiving his thrusts.

"Get pregnant!"

Davis grunted as he reached climax and ejaculated deep inside Mingzhi's womb, heavily shuddering with her as he let out a vast quantity of his yang essence. He still didn't stop plundering her lips, being a complete rogue as he thoroughly pleased her.

Mingzhi's lips were passionately responding to his, although it was unknown if she was doing it consciously or subconsciously. His mouth practically suppressed her moans, so all there remained was her suppressed cries that further egged Davis to ejaculate more into her.

Soon, they got out of their euphoria, looking at each other from above and below with blatant smiles.

"Husband, I'm close to a breakthrough."

Davis was about to continue giving Mingzhi overwhelming pleasure but hearing her cry out with urgency, he sat in a lotus position and made her sit on him. While the mat sat in a lotus position, the woman sat on his member and interlocked her legs around his waist. This was the optimal position to dual cultivate.

Mingzhi didn't leave his lips, wanting more of their tongue action as she was completely enamored with it. She also moved her hips, giving him pleasure as she slid his member in and out of her dripping pussy.

*Bzzz!~*

Soon, she broke into the High-Level Martial Ascendance Stage. However, it didn't stop there but entered the Peak-Level Martial Ascendance Stage. What's more, her foundation was still good, giving her a chance to break through once more.

*Smooch!~*

Mingzhi heavily kissed Davis one last time before her lips left him, a string of saliva connecting their lips before it fell.

"Husband, did you impregnate me?" She coyly asked, causing Davis to wryly smile

"I hope I did."

Mingzhi bit her lips, appearing amorous and ripe.

"I want your child so badly now... but the chances have become less again, am I right?"

"Yes..."

Davis didn't know how to console Mingzhi. With Earth Dragon and Fire Phoenix's Blood, he did think that his chances to impregnate women had climbed, but now, with the addition of Blazing Thunderlight Kirin Blood that collapsed that balance, his chances of making his women pregnant had also significantly dropped.

Mingzhi dejectedly smiled, entirely different from her deviant self from before. However, the playfulness in her eyes returned before she got off of him and went on all four knees, showing her peachy ass towards him.

"What, you like this position very much?"

Davis couldn't help but chuckle, but his expression froze as he saw her reach her hands back and spread her butt-cheeks, revealing a pink hole that twitched upon coming in contact with air.

"I couldn't give you my virginity today as you've already taken it back then, but here's another one."

"Mingzhi..."

Davis's brows twitched, not knowing how to react. Looking at his reaction, Mingzhi blushed as she clamored.

"It's okay~ I've cleaned it~"

"That's not the problem... are you for real?"

Davis knew that the Aqua Flood Dragon meat that they ate during the competition couldn't be completely digested, so they did end up excreting the remnants, so her sentence didn't faze him but to be actually willing to do anal, was she for real?

"What? You don't like it?" Mingzhi's tone became a bit dejected.

"No," Davis stood up, positioning himself behind her. However, he still looked at her, asking with his eyes if she was really okay with it. Obviously, he wasn't going to leave this chance.

At this point, Mingzhi's narrowed brows widened.

"Don't tell me... you never fucked any one of your women in the ass?"

Davis blinked before he suddenly couldn't help but feel embarrassed. Why did she make it sound like he had to have done this before, or he was not a man?

Nonetheless, he shook his head, "I haven't-"

"Then you have to do me! Take my anal virginity right now!"

Mingzhi cried out as she suddenly turned around, capturing his cheeks with intensity.

"You..." Her sudden craziness shook him, "Is there a thing such as anal virginity?"

"Huh?" Mingzhi's expression fell, "You dare to claim such a thing doesn't exist? Don't you know the existence of the first kiss? That's called mouth virginity. If that exists, then anal virginity exists as well! If you say it doesn't, then it should be fine for a married woman to share their ass with other men, no?"

"Fine, anal virginity exists."

Davis's face turned into a stiff stone, knowing that he couldn't win arguments like this against the daring Mingzhi, whose expression became scary.

'But... she seems rather way too eager...'

Did the particular that she was his first partner who gave him her ass that important?

Davis couldn't understand that line of thought, but his interest was piqued. His two naughty hands captured her butt-cheeks before they spread her, one of his fingers beginning to tease Mingzhi's pink hole.

"...!"

Mingzhi shuddered on receiving that pleasurable feeling. At the same time, Davis lunged at her neck and sucked, causing her to heave heavy breaths as her eyes became misty.

"Here, use this lube."

A vial appeared on Mingzhi's hand as she opened it and poured them on Davis's rock-hard member that was rubbing against her belly.

Davis felt a sudden cool feeling on his dick while he slightly shook his hips against her. He raised his head, licking all the way from her jade-white neck to her ear, nibbling on it gently.

"You got this from Drake?"

"Yes," Mingzhi hissed, "This lube, although not as precious as the nectar-"

"Then we'll use the nectar." Davis let Mingzhi go and took a vial of the Million Emerald Calamity Vines' Nectar as he poured them on his already lubed dick, "Your walls should be able to absorb the nutrients in it as it is the same case for using suppositories."

"..."

Mingzhi's cheeks were blushing crimson when she heard Davis put it like this. Things did become different when the holes used were different, but to get him to fuck her ass, she had to prepare some bullshit on the spot while hiding her embarrassment. But now, seeing him take the initiative, she...

"What are you doing? Show me your ass..."

*Paah~*

Davis slightly slapped her ass, demanding for her to turn around. Mingzhi shook. However, instead of flaring, she lowered her head and turned around, kneeling on all fours above the bed.

"Return to how you were before."

Mingzhi clenched her teeth, feeling shame filling her heart. However, she moved her hands behind and spread her ass-cheeks, making it more than visible for him to see.

"Good girl. As expected of my sixth wife. So here's your reward."

Davis drank the remaining nectar from the vial and bent, inserting his hands between her thighs as he wrapped her waist, abruptly lifting her up while plunging his tongue into her asshole.

"Hiii!~~~"

Mingzhi shrieked heavily as her nerves became taut upon sensing the slimy feeling entering her ass. Her entire body shuddered in pleasure, and it only increased as she sensed his tongue making its way in unabated as it swirled around, rampaging over the entrance of her rectum wall.

Her eyes rolled back from the pleasure she hadn't felt before. Not only was his tongue slimy, but it was filled with nectar that spread to her insides, and then came the fingers, one, two, and before long, three fingers were inside her asshole, widening it as much as possible for the entry of the boss.

"Mingzhi, are you okay?"

*Gasp!~*

Mingzhi came out of reverie, suddenly realizing that she had drooled all over the bedsheet below her chin. Instantly, her expression became full of embarrassment, blushing all the way to her ears.

"Mingzhi, you're extremely sensual at this moment."

"Aahn~"

Davis once again began to lick her asshole, flailing his tongue inside her wall as he caused her to moan and cry out in pleasure. She struggled as if wanting to get out, shaking her ass against his face, but it ended up giving her more pleasure, making her drool.

She even deliriously thought that his tongue was so good that she was willing to become a slave to it, but that was only until her ass was dropped and held in front of his lower body, ready to be penetrated.

"I'm entering, Mingzhi."