

EMPEROR 2051

Chapter 2051 Their Whereabouts

Davis and Evelynn continued to follow Threelotus into the sixteenth and seventeenth rift, whereupon they encountered a strange creature again.

Spikes were on its head and body, appearing like a cactus humanoid with no limbs. It stood rooted to the barren ground, unleashing sporadic poisonous spores through its head that carved open.

There was no one guarding this rift space, and it attacked them as soon as they entered, causing Threelotus to react and attack it, but its defense was too strong, causing her attack to fail. When Davis entered, he waved his hand, and the sheer force of it caused it to disappear.

However, when Threelotus saw that its remains were scattered in the distance, she couldn't help gulp.

How much had their Palace Master improved from the time of the competition?

After all, she could sense that he stepped into the Martial Overlord Stage, his undulations still fluctuating anew as though he had just broken through today.

"Let's continue."

"Yes!"

Evelynn commanded, causing Threelotus to react as she led them further.

They entered the eighteenth rift... twentieth... twenty-fifth...

Clearly, they had entered deep into this shattered mini-realm, occasionally being targeted by strange creatures of poisonous nature and more substantial power. This was where people tended to die rather than meet treasures in their journey.

Davis wondered how deep Ivy Aires had fled to but recalled the thousands of rifts out there in the Poison Valley Territory. Any one of them could lead to the inner zone of this shattered mini-realm, trapping them so he no longer found it strange that she got trapped.

Finally, they arrived at the twenty-seventh rift space, where he saw Evelynn's Solitary Soul Avatar and Yotan waiting for them.

Davis and Evelynn arrived before them, turning to look at a humanoid figure beneath them.

Blood was splattered all over the place while its body lay above it, lifeless. It possessed an ugly yet melted face while some of its features were irregular, like the shell on its forehead and a lower body that resembled a spider's, reminiscent of an impure-blooded fey.

"So this is where you found that piece of cloth..."

Evelynn nodded her head to Davis's question, "This is a mindless savage beast, a human who had failed to become a fey. There are many of these beasts swarming the rifts. Nonetheless, I investigated its blood and realized that it possessed the blood of the Darkfall Spider, a lesser species belonging to the line of the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid. However, it happened to possess this piece of cloth."

She took out and displayed the piece of cloth that had the symbol of the Jade Lotus Valley, blood staining it.

Davis narrowed his eyes, trying to recall who among the two of them wore this kind of robe before he heard Evelynn speak again.

"I think it is safe to assume the only reason Ivy Aries and Valley Master Jade Aurora was unable to make it back was because one of the rifts they went through disappeared, never returning. Their only option is to find a new way out, and if they couldn't, could only make a living there, but this piece of cloth obtained from the razor-sharp leg of this mindless savage beast I killed made the situation problematic."

"Are you saying they could be captured in their nest and webbed up to be eaten later?" Davis inferred.

"That's a possibility, but I'm not sure. We wouldn't know until we check every rift here or stumble upon the right location..."

Evelynn's voice turned helpless, causing Davis to look around.

"This place..."

He pursed his lips as he surveyed with his soul sense.

This space alone contained ten rifts. Investigating each of them and continuing to head forwards to investigate them would take time and manpower. That's the headache, but they couldn't afford to waste more time considering that one of the two Jade Lotus Valley maidens could be in danger.

"However, this mindless savage beast's prowess didn't reach Peak-Level Ninth Stage, but the fact that it could harm one of them certainly means that they are injured, helpless, or out of energy. But, I also muse that the danger they are facing should've been avoided, considering that this mindless savage beast was frantically looking around as if searching for the owner of this piece of cloth."

Evelynn explained her findings before she shook her head, "Unfortunately, we don't know from which rift this mindless savage beast came from, and we ran out of manpower, so only we can find them as we continue to investigate these ten rifts."

"Give me that fabric."

Davis reached out his hand, causing Evelynn's avatar to blink before she handed it over.

He caught the silky cloth before he squinted his eyes, activating Fallen Heaven's karmic tendrils. He couldn't see anything, but as he strained his eyes, trying to look deep, he began seeing multiple threads extending towards different directions, causing him to purse his lips in confusion as he saw them all heading towards the void unblocked by the walls in the distance.

'What? This space is the same but interconnected through these rifts?'

Davis felt that Myria's conclusion of this world that it was formed by the collision of mini-realms was most likely true. It became a single mini-realm, but due to the instability, certain parts of the world were swallowed by space while remaining became interconnected with rifts. It was no wonder the Poison Rift Valley could train in Space and Poison Laws. If he were to sit at a safe and comprehensive spot, he ruminated that he could begin comprehending Space Laws here as well.

Nonetheless, he felt that one of these threads was interconnected with the owner of this cloth of the robe and the other threads were part of the robe.

'What the hell? Their robe had been shredded to pieces?'

Davis's brows couldn't help twitch. If that was the case, then the owner of this robe was either dead, eaten to death, or had escaped and put on a new robe.

'Any chances that they had used this robe with blood as a decoy to lure this mindless savage beast away?'

He wondered but didn't arrive at a conclusion.

He stood up, looking at that one karmic thread that led to a rift.

"Evelynn and I will travel through that rift." He pointed at that rift before looking at Yotan, "You head to another one with Evelynn's avatar."

"As for you," He then glanced at Threelotus, "You stay here as it's dangerous from this point onwards. If Myria comes, send her my way. If she denies it, then don't bother. Otherwise, you'll die in her hands."

"Yes!"

A bright reply came from Threelotus and Yotan, causing Davis to satisfactorily nod.

"Wait..."

Evelynn bent down and touched the mangled corpse of the mindless savage beast. Abruptly, a black spider abruptly crawled out of her forehead, its two forelegs appearing first before its entire body became visible to all. It was small. However, it quickly crawled towards the corpse and used its legs to tap as though checking on it before it squeaked.

"Go ahead."

Evelynn gently spoke, causing the spider to enlarge in an instant and sink its fangs into the corpse! Instantly, blood began draining from it before it became a shriveled corpse. The others watched this scene with a bit of horror except Davis, and then as if not having enough, the black spider swallowed the whole corpse, seemingly digesting it within its energy body.

"That's the Entombed Darkfall Wisp, right?"

"Yes. I have been regularly feeding it every day with my soul force, but its rate of growth is quite slow. Just a moment ago, it sent me an intent, expressing that it needed this corpse. Considering that this mindless savage beast possessed the blood of the Darkfall Spider, it was no wonder it noticed and craved its nutrients."

"Well, the horror of the rifts is also one of the reasons why people were afraid of you when you were known as the Hex Demoness. There should be many around, so while we're saving Ivy Aries and her Valley Master, we'll also hunt these critters down."

Davis patted Evelynn's shoulder, causing her to cheerfully nod her head.

The Entombed Darkfall Wisp abruptly began to tremble before its dark energy unleashed a shockwave, causing Yotan and Threelotus to stagger in fright.

"Very good. It has entered the Peak-Level Ninth Stage."

"Yes. It was about to breakthrough, so it's expected."

Evelynn nodded as though it was a matter of fact. She possessed a Mortal Sigil, so her soul prowess was at High-Level Emperor Soul Stage, allowing the Entombed Darkfall Wisp to quickly reach that level. It had silently broken through months before the competition.

"Haha. You're hard on it."

Davis lightly chuckled, but Evelynn shook her head, "It's something I received from you, although it was delivered by that magical beast named Nyoran. I treat it as something precious. Only, I lack a name to address it. Will you name it for me?"

She warmly asked him. However, Davis's expression became stumped.

"No, my naming sense is pretty bad that I would name it by its species name or features. You should name it."

Evelynn turned her head to look at it briefly before opening her mouth, moving her crimson lips.

"This Entombed Darkfall Wisp's squeaks sound like a female, so I'll name her... Wisteria Davis."

Davis nodded as Wisteria was a good name because some wisteria were poisonous but then gawked.

"Wha-? Wait! Why are you giving her my name?" His lips twitched, causing Evelynn to grin.

"Didn't I say? She's the present I got from you, after all."

After being conveyed something like that, Davis could only shrug as he thought, 'Zestia... you lit up an urge in your sisters to have my name behind their names...'

He wryly smiled, knowing that it was a consequence of that event but also felt smug about it, feeling good.

"Let's go."

Davis spoke, causing Evelynn to nod before she took in the Entombed Darkfall Wisp back and headed towards that rift he pointed towards, while Yotan also didn't waste time and followed Evelynn's avatar into heading into another rift.

Chapter 2052 Creatures Of The Rift

Davis and Evelynn entered through the rift and exited when they flew forwards, stumbling upon the same barren ground. But at this moment, they saw about ten to fifteen mindless savage beasts, disfigured humans with the lower bodies of spiders, roam around as though scrutinizing for something.

Instantly, they got sight of them entering and rushed towards them without a care for their lives.

Screech!~

Their voice sounded horrifying and grating as they made their way towards them. However, the moment they opened their mouths, a dark web encroached towards them, intending to trap them before they could apparently escape through the rift.

"It seems that they retain some battle instincts."

Davis waved his hand, causing the flurry of dark webs to disintegrate upon being ignited with his crimson-gold flames. When the flames cleared, the bunch of mindless savage beasts leaped towards them and brought down their sharp legs, intending to cut them down.

However, they all fell one after another as though it was written in some book of death, but when they fell on the ground, blood-splattered as their heads separated from their bodies. Their spider legs twitched for a while before they all stopped.

Davis turned to look at Evelyn's four spider sickles that rescinded back into her purple robe before he visibly gulped.

"That's so scary, Evelyn..."

"Hehe~ You jest."

Evelyn giggled before she had Wisteria feast upon their corpses. Clearly, they acted here like they were here for a trip, almost acting like a newlywed cultivator couple. Nonetheless, they both took a look around for the moment, trying to find some clues before they confirmed that there was nothing worth investigating.

"There are only two rifts here, one for going back and one for continuing further."

Evelyn uttered, causing Davis to nod, "Right, this should make it somewhat easier to us, but if we're unlucky, we'll meet with more than ten rifts past this location."

"Don't jinx it." Evelyn rolled her eyes.

They continued onwards as Wisteria quickly ate the corpses of the mindless savage beasts. When they stepped out of the next rift, their brows lifted almost simultaneously.

"Quick, the rift is closing!"

"That's the only path further!"

Davis and Evelyn quickly shouted out.

The moment they stepped past the rift, they quickly did a search and found out that there was only one other rift leading to another location like before. They kicked the air and rushed in that rift's direction! However, swaths of dirt surged up in the barren land as a plethora of mindless savage beasts attacked them, appearing poisonous and deadly as they waved their fangs and stingers, intending to cause them harm.

They were no longer of Darkfall Spider blood as many appeared disfigured and possessed a body shape similar to the centipede, scorpion, and other poisonous living beings. It seemed that this was a hunting ground for these mindless savage beasts as some even seemed to forget about them, feasting on other mindless savage beasts that got caught in their trap.

"Hmph!"

Davis merely harrumphed. His soul force surged out of his body and struck the hundreds of mindless savage beasts right in their soul essence, causing them to die painless deaths. Their floating bodies appeared like they had gained some extreme weight as they began to plunge towards the ground.

However, with a wave of his hand, every dead being within a few kilometers gathered towards him as he absorbed them all into his spatial ring.

At this moment, they were only two hundred meters away from the rift, which wasn't much of a distance for them, considering it didn't even take a second for them to appear in front of it. However, by the time they were already at that distance, the rift had merely become an inch long in radius, causing them to narrow their brows as they now stood before it, stumped.

=====

A white-haired woman was passing through the barren land while flying with a sword in her hand in another location. A mountain of corpses staining the ground on her pathway, blood dripping from their bodies the same way blood was dripping from her gleaming silver sword.

She faced a massive foe in front of her, a terrifying magical beast of poisonous nature.

"Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion, huh... and that too at a level above Peak-Level Ninth Stage. You must've eaten a lot to strengthen yourself to this point, no?"

"So what, human? You'll shortly become my meal as well. If you don't want to, then obediently surrender. I'll turn you into one of mine. Of course, if you couldn't handle my noble blood, you'll become a mindless retard like the ones you killed! Ahahaha!"

A dissonant voice echoed as the giant fifty-meter long scorpion waved its eighty-meter long golden tail, its stinger rushing towards the white-haired woman with a golden gleam.

Such sharpness would cause one's scalp to turn numb, but Myria nonchalantly stared at the laughing Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion, knowing that it contained a bit of Golden Dragon's blood in it because dragons were a horny race that screwed anything that moved. However, in the case of this magical beast, it seemed that a poisonous scorpion ate a Golden Dragon whole and produced a rare offspring known as the Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion, which turned into a whole race later on.

"Hmph~"

Nonetheless, this Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion seemed like it was going to lose its dragon bloodline in the next generation or two, causing her to snort with an unamused expression on her face as she swung her sword in a vertical line.

Sword light surged from her sword as it slashed down at the stinger, causing it to split into two as blood splashed like a tidal wave, staining the barren ground in enormous amounts of blood.

"You- Ahhh!!! Who are you!?"

The Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion hurriedly retreated, its huge body stumbling all the way back to a giant kilometer tall tree that possessed many vines flailing around it. It possessed a ravenous face at the very top of the trunk, overlooking the battle with bloody eyes. Over its branches were leaf-like structures producing a sap-like dense liquid which dropped to the ground, turning into one of those hideous creatures that attacked Threelotus.

However, their prowess was many times stronger, surging towards the level above Peak-Level Emperor Grade.

"Tch, wasting the vitality you stole from others like that... what a waste- I guess not."

Myria clicked her tongue in annoyance before she looked at the blood that was being absorbed from the ground. She smiled, abruptly disappearing before their very eyes.

"Huh? Where'd she go!?"

The Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion appeared shocked before it sensed a hint of pressure above its head, causing its eyes to tremble. Its body shuddered, causing it to open its mouth as it began to flail around.

"Save me!"

A vine hurriedly hurled towards Myria before it even shouted, causing her to cleanly dodge as she performed a black flip, descending as she retreated from the magical beast.

"Ahahaha! That's right! Run...! Otherwise, the fiendish tree behind me will- AH!?"

The Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion surged with excitement when it suddenly felt its head being pierced. Its eyes quickly noticed that the white-haired woman was still there in front of its gaze. However, her expression became amused.

"So you've finished using the scorpion for your gains? It's so like you to be predatory in nature, Wretched Rotten Nightmare Tree."

"Hmm? You know about my origin?"

The Wretched Rotten Nightmare Tree's bloody eyes squinted while its expression was warped into one of pleasure while sucking the vitality from the Malignant Gold Tail Scorpion. The magical beasts' eyes became one of horror, but it was powerless to resist as other vines further wrapped around its legs while the white-haired woman had also destroyed its stinger.

"Oh, right. Unlike magical beasts, plant lifeforms like you don't have inherited memories." Myria lightly smiled, "Although it seems you do know how to use your techniques as though since they are second nature to you, plant lifeforms."

"Human, do you not understand my words? I asked if you know of my origins or not!?"

The Wretched Rotten Nightmare Tree's grating voice became wrathful, causing the barren land to tremble as vines spread out, surrounding Myria. However, it didn't attack her, seemingly waiting for her answer.

"Indeed, I do know about your origin."

"Then speak. Depending on the value of the information you provide me, I'll consider letting you leave in one peace."

"Heh." Myria snickered at the Wretched Rotten Nightmare Tree, "Your origin... is to become an ingredient for a pill that I would have to concoct for my body once I reach the immortal level. After all, the fruits you cultivate possess an incredible life essence that when concentrated to the extreme surges with a bit of essence seething with death energy."

"I'm sure that he wants your fruits as well."

"Die!"

Myria giggled before her figure disappeared, causing the Wretched Rotten Nightmare Tree to lash out in pure wrath!

Chapter 2053 Trapped With A Spider

Davis and Evelynn came to a stop as they stared at the inch-long radius rift further shrink until it was no more.

"Ah, it closed..."

Davis's mouth slightly hung agape, causing Evelynn brows to twitch, not because the rift in front of them closed but the way back had also closed.

"What now?" Evelynn asked.

They were now eternally stuck in one place if the rifts were to never open again.

Davis contemplated for a moment before he shook his head and waved his hand, using his soul force to collect the corpses he couldn't collect before, storing them all in his spatial ring. As he did so, he noticed a minute tear in space that one wouldn't even notice because it appeared comparatively stable.

"This rift hasn't completely closed yet, fortunately."

Evelynn also found that the rift had shrunk to the bare minimum size that it could possibly achieve. This is what it means for the rifts to disappear because once it reached this level, finding it would become near impossible because this particular node would become one with the space, disallowing them to find it unless they were extremely near it like now.

"As far as I can observe while including my experience in traversing these rifts, I think these two rifts here have probably resonated with each other's presence, disappearing together. However, judging by this rift's stability, they should reopen at the same time. Until then, we're stuck here for some time, perhaps an hour or two."

"What? Wait for that long?" Davis gawked, his heart shaking.

Evelynn unceremoniously nodded.

"If we do not like to wait, we could tear a hole in space to move, which could connect to another rift or cause us to die as we could be swallowed by the unknown void, so I think it would be better for us to wait considering- Ah!?!~"

Two big hands suddenly cupped on her voluptuous breasts, causing her body to jerk as she moaned. She turned her head to look at Davis, biting her lips as she sensed his warm hands do their divine work.

"Husband, you-"

"Who told anything about not wanting to wait? We're finally alone again, and heavens thought that it was impeding me from reaching Ivy Aries, but it doesn't know that it ultimately forced me to have some amorous time with you, my sexy demoness..."

Davis's expression appeared a bit crazed. He was unable to hold back his lust anymore upon hearing that they were trapped here for some time because even his logical thought process supported this decision.

On the other hand, Evelyn almost went limp on hearing him whisper in her ear while biting her earlobe, licking and sucking on it. She wanted to break free to concentrate on the task at hand but knowing that they would have to wait while being alone, her thoughts couldn't help but arrive at the same conclusion as him.

"But... what if... what if a rift suddenly opens to our rift space and someone suddenly... enters?"

"Matters for that time will be handled at that time..."

Davis sneakily undressed her belt, pulling her robe sideways before her voluptuous breasts spilled out, held by a mere golden cloth that hid and held her weight. He captured those sensual peaks once again with his hands, feeling their warmth, shape, firmness, and flexibility with his palms as he groped her.

He dived onto her jade-white neck, extending his tongue and tracing it gently before biting on her smooth, lovely skin, leaving a soft kiss before sucking on them with a loud sound reverberating in the rift space.

"Aahn!~"

Evelyn had her palm over her lips, trying to hide or suppress her moans while trying to hold onto his hand from letting it rampage over her breasts. However, the more he instigated her lust, the more she felt like wanting to do it with him right now.

"Davis~"

She moaned his name, wanting to feel more of his deft caresses.

Davis's two fingers caught and pinched Evelyn's nipples, lightly twisting and turning through the silky feel of the cloth, causing her to moan to become more fervid. Her body was burning in response to his actions, causing him to use one of his hands to reach her lower lips, caressing them as he outlined them with his fingers before finding the tiny bud and stimulating it until he could feel her wetness overflow.

His rock-hard dick that he had calmed earlier after breakthrough began raging again as all the blood surged into it despite rubbing it against Evelyn's naughty yet struggling butt, almost making it painful for him that he wanted his release so much.

"Evelyn! I can't hold back anymore!"

Davis pulled on her robe, causing her to twist as she became half-naked. He pulled down her panties with one hand and pulled his pant with the other skillfully before kicking them off. Lifting one of her thick thighs, he entered her insides, feeling her warm, pink flesh wrap around him in a loving yet sloppy embrace.

"Hnghaaa~"

Evelynn clenched her teeth as she sighed in pleasure, feeling his rock-hard dick penetrate her all the way till her womb. She hurriedly wrapped her arms around his neck, beginning to kiss him. Their lips smooched before their tongues came out for a battle, intertwining like snakes. They connected their lips, battling inside their mouths while their eyes were shaking in passion.

Davis lifted her other leg and held her salacious butt, pulling her back before he rammed his rock-hard dick inside her.

"Mhpm!!!~"

Evelynn moaned into his mouth as her insides tightened on him, trying not to let him leave in both holes, but Davis had dominance in the hole below, practically swinging his hips at her cave hole, messing up her insides with intensity.

Paah!~ Paah!~ Paah!~

The sound of their flesh banging resounded in this space very well, causing Evelynn's face to become all crimson. Even her ears were the same as though she was afraid someone might stumble upon this scene, but her actions seemed excited as she cooperated with Davis, passionately responding to his movements as she shook her hips against his rock-hard cock and greedily kissed his lips, seeking his flavor.

Davis didn't resist or try to suppress his ejaculation this time. He quickly reached his limit while holding Evelynn's voluptuous body that he craved anytime, so he let her lips go, causing her to head to fall on his shoulder, but feeling the massive waves being created inside her, causing unbearable pleasure, her head leaped to the side as she began sucking on Davis's neck.

Davis's mouth went 'O' as he began furiously banging her cave hole, sliding in and out with sheer force before he made one last thrust and ejaculated deep inside her. Feeling the hot liquid surging with force and hitting her womb, Evelynn orgasmed as well, her body rapidly beginning to tremble with intensity as she held him, her face warped in euphoria while her mouth drooled as she stained his shoulders.

Globes of hot yang essence shot inside Evelynn as he tried to impregnate her, but she wouldn't become pregnant, considering that she was a fey. However, she was receiving them all, continuously being filled up by him. Four minutes... five minutes... six minutes... seven minutes, no, it was eight minutes before he finished his ejaculation.

Davis believed that he let out a liter of yang essence in these eight minutes, but of course, Evelynn absorbed it all as she circulated Yin-Yang Merit Sutra, which still worked for her. Her insides were wet with her yin essence while his yang essence had been all absorbed dry.

There was a slight amount of improvement in her body and essence, but otherwise, her face was melted in pleasure.

Davis turned his head and looked at her appearing tame in his grasp. Watching her countenance return to normal, his lips slightly curved.

"Don't think that this is the end."

When Evelynn heard his whisper, she trembled as her eyes went wide. It was unknown if she was scared or anticipating, but she kept her mouth shut as Davis moved in a direction while carrying her.

He was heading to a source of water, a spring.

It looked like a clear spring, but it was mixed with deadly poison. Not only was it invisible to the common eyes, but its scent was also mixed with the scent of rain, no different from the scent of groundwater mixed with minerals.

However, to the two of them, it was nothing of concern!

"Ah!~"

Davis jumped into the clear spring, their bodies sinking almost to their chest level. The spring itself wasn't that deep, so their bodies underneath the water could be clearly seen, interconnected with each other.

Splash!~

Big waves rose as Davis thrust into her pleasurable cave, once, twice, and thrice, keeping it going as he created great waves in the poisonous spring. Their bodies shook, especially Evelynn's, as her breasts kept bouncing in front of his face. He could in no way not notice those huge honkers flailing in front of him because its attractive capability was definitely off the charts, causing him to pounce on them as he began to ravenously suck on them!

He let go of her ass and grabbed her bosoms, pushing them into one location and pulling on her erect nipples into his mouth, fiercely sucking on them.

"Haaahn!~"

Evelynn felt waves and waves of pleasure storming within her.

Paah!~ Paah!~ Paah!~

Her insides kept getting repeatedly pounded by him, quickly bringing her into an orgasm. She heavily shuddered in his hold, showing his nonstop penetrating dick with her yin essence while drooling heavily.

Soon, Davis also ejaculated inside her again, and when he saw her flushed face and her gleaming crimson lips that was sloppily wet, he supported her back, pasting her body close to him as he gave her a passionate kiss, sucking on her little mouth as much as he could while spurting his yang essence inside her lower lips.

The curve of his eyes twisted in pleasure, unable to get enough of his first wife's curvaceous and mouthwatering body.

Chapter 2054 Putting The Weight Off (R-18)

Davis carried Evelynn to the edge of the spring before he let her down on the water and jumped on top of it, sitting on the surface. Evelynn, who was still in the clear spring, looked at his stiff rod aiming at her face. She instantly knew what to do, leaning her head before she placed a hot kiss on the tip of his member before taking his thick cock into her wet mouth.

"That feels good... Evelynn..."

Davis rasped, placing a hand on her head as he watched her suck on his thick and long cock. Her crimson lips coated his already gleaming dick that was filled with their sheen of lovemaking. He could feel her lukewarm tongue licking his tip and wrapping around his shaft before that feeling became entrenched as he entered her throat, staying there for a while as she pushed her face to the base of his shaft.

A few seconds later, she moved back, letting his tip go with a pop before putting it into her mouth again, sometimes gently sucking, while at other times, she practically slurped like a succubus.

Her purplish-green hair fell by her side face, causing him to shiver. Her gorgeous and sexy face, combined with her sexy crimson lips sucking on his rock-hard member, was alone enough to make him ejaculate with force. However, he desperately kept it from releasing, wanting to enjoy more of Evelynn's mouth.

She thoroughly took care of him, not leaving a single corner as she licked him with a kind of passion, praising him with her eyes. She further went down and sucked on his yang-essence jewel, pleasuring him to no end. Her face was practically attached to his crotch as he sometimes held her down, unable to get enough of her pleasuring techniques.

But all things came to an end, including his ability to be able to no longer suppress his throbbing cock.

"Evelynn, quick...!"

Davis grunted when Evelynn started to suck on his dick forcefully, bobbing her head up and down. Little waves of water splashed under their movements, creating a few ripples, but for the most part, Evelynn could see herself passionately sucking on her husband's dick, the sight of it making her lower body tremble with pleasure.

Instantly, she felt him tremble and pop in her mouth, warm liquid essence crazily surging from his rock-hard dick. However, she didn't take him deep but kept his head clasped on her lips, feeling his taste shooting on her tongue, which she then rolled and kept swallowing as it came. Once her cheeks were full, she was capable of swallowing them all in one gulp and kept repeating the same, continuously pleasuring him.

As a fey, her ability to eat bigger things was better than humans.

Hence, Davis felt the time of his life having his tip continuously sucked by the sexy demoness, making him think that she was definitely a succubus. His face was warped in pleasure, wanting to make this ebbing pleasure last for long before he found that he lasted five minutes inside her mouth ejaculating.

'As expected, the average volume I could let out increased...!'

Feeling completely satisfied, Davis tried to get up, but Evelynn held down his thighs, having him be seated. She took her salacious breasts and placed them between his dick, causing him to shudder before a pleasant smile filled his face. Then she spilled his last spurt of yang essence from her mouth, including her saliva, allowing them to drop on her breasts and his dick before she began to give him a boobjob.

She firmly held the side of her breasts, pushing towards him as she massaged his rock-hard dick while her countenance was looking at him as though wanting to see pleasurable facial reactions to her actions.

Davis lightly smirked, letting her do whatever she wanted. But looking at that smug face made him grab her nape and pull her towards him.

Smooch!~

Their lips met as they began heavily kissing, especially Evelyann as she plastered her mouth to his and kept sucking as if wanting to derive more pleasure for herself.

However, Davis also didn't keep his hips lazy and began to thrust against her voluptuous breasts, seeking more pleasure. The movement of their bodies continually created waves in the clear spring. Once Davis let go of Evelyann's lips, she moved her head down and began to suck on the tip that was trying to get out of the choke of her mountains.

However, it wasn't long before Davis found himself wanting to release under the great pressure of her sandwiching breasts.

Spurt!~

However, they were all sucked by Evelyann's sloppy mouth, causing his face to warp in pleasure again.

After that session ended, Davis kept his hand behind on the surface and leaned behind slightly, making himself comfortable, "Mount me."

Evelyann's gaze shook before she cast an embarrassed smile and washed herself with the poisonous water. She hovered above the water and revealed her voluptuous figure to him, moving forwards and then spreading her legs, positioning her wet cave on top of his dick before she sat down, heaving a sigh of pleasure as she began feeling that she was at home once again.

However, four sickles extended out from her back at this moment, stabbing into the surface around him.

Davis wondered what she was doing when he saw Evelyann place her legs to the edge as she leaned back, holding his thighs with her hands. Her sexy posture slightly bent her upper body, revealing her under-boobs to him as well as her lovely nipples that stood erect on them.

Then she tried to stand up slightly, causing her lower body to move away from him. Her tight hole that wrapped around him also left until it staggered at the entrance when her figure flickered, sliding down straight on his dick!

'Fuck!'

Davis's expression changed as he threw his head back as extreme pleasure surged in his lower body. Greatly embarrassed, he forcefully lowered his head to look at her face but saw that she hid it with her palms.

Evelynn hid her face from Davis, not wanting him to see it because she was sure that it was twisted in extreme pleasure. However, she didn't let up, pushing her legs to lift her body only to pull herself back using her four sickles as she slid down on him using great force.

Paah!~

"Haaa!~"

The sound of flesh slapping heavily rang out as the both of them moaned heavily.

Paah!~ Paah!~ Paah!~

Because Evelynn hid her face, her voluptuous bosoms were heavily shaking in front of his eyes, causing him to reach out his hand and grab them while he could also clearly see the place they were connected, making it too erotic than he could imagine. Still, she continued to dance on him, making it highly pleasurable for him as well as herself that she still refused to show her face.

Davis's fingers sank into Evelynn's breasts as he molded them into many shapes. Before long, he found himself ejaculating inside her, but Evelynn was still sliding on his dick using her sickles as her arms and legs.

He could not longer take the pleasure and threw his upper body to her breasts, sucking on her erect nipples while swirling his tongue over her areola as he kept ejaculating inside her while Evelynn threw her head, heavily moaning as she wrapped her arms around his head.

She was like a spider who had captured its prey, feasting on the essence she kept sucking out of him, continually shaking her hips as her bootylicious butt kept striking his thighs, making carnal sounds.

The tidal waves of orgasm kept them shuddering in pleasure while they held each other with love.

As soon as they finished their orgasms, they fucked around like rabbits, trying many positions while using her spider lances as extra support for rushed movements, which greatly provided pleasure to Davis as she could fiercely dance on him without a problem in most positions. Unlike her arms and legs, her spider lances rarely went limp, after all.

He took her from her back, pounding her deep while her spider lances allowed her to reciprocate his movements, making him go crazy.

Before long, his yang essence splurged her insides eight times already. Evelynn received them all with a passionate expression on her face. Her voluptuous body that was thoroughly made slave to pleasure and love could not get enough of his hardness and warmth. She deeply craved him, wanting to keep sharing their warmth for a longer time.

However, she knew that the time of separation was nearing as the rift would reappear soon.

She kissed him with fervor one last time before moving her head back, looking at his melted expression with love. No words were exchanged, but they knew the ardent feelings they held for each other, which burned more brightly than ever.

Davis reached out his hands as he held her hips, lifting her before he made her comfortable sit on his lap on the edge of the lake. Evelynn was held like she was a baby, cradled by him. That gesture was enough to melt her carnal feelings away, only looking at him with a pure gaze in her eyes.

He kissed her forehead and caressed her cheek, "Evelynn, will you forgive me for my past transgressions?"

"I will." Evelynn bit her lips unknowingly, her eyes tearing up, "You are my everything, after all."

Her voice was unusually meek, making it rather obvious that she decided to be completely vulnerable in his grasp.

Davis had his eyes closed as he heard that craved answer. His eyes fluttered open before he smiled at her, "Then, as hideous slaughterers who even killed children in the name of vengeance and survival, let us continue to be together no matter what happens in the future."

Evelynn's gaze shook. Her mouth opened and closed a few times before tears spilled out as she nodded her head. She didn't stop nodding, burying her face in his chest as she shuddered in his embrace.

"I'm sorry... for shedding the innocent lives of those children... I'm sorry..."

"Me too." Davis tightly wrapped her in his embrace, "However, I don't regret it, just as you don't regret it, right?"

Evelynn kept nodding, crying her heart out silently as she repeated the word that she was sorry, refusing to scream while Davis could do nothing but caress her head, consoling her as she put down the weight she was carrying all this while. She hadn't released the guilt she held in her heart ever since she massacred the denizens of the Poison Lord Villa from children to old monsters, but now, it wasn't the same.

She slowly put down the weight in her heart at this moment, and all she needed were his words of acknowledgment and encouragement.

Chapter 2055 Contact

Davis and Evelynn left the rift space they made fond memories in, but before leaving, they didn't forget to take the poison essence with them, which was the clear spring. Such pure poison essence was hard to come by, which made Evelynn a bit happier because she could improve her Poison Laws with this to a great degree.

It could've also produced its own Spirit Attribute Source if it happened to experience a suitable reaction.

Still, according to Mival Silverwind and the records she read from the Myriad Poison Sect, also obtaining some suitable manuals, she knew that she should be able to create a Rune and a Crest. Then, once she reaches the peak of Level Six Abstruse Intent in Poison Laws, she could even try making an Imposing Rune after perfecting her domain and law sea that she never got to complete as her body turned into a fey.

However, Evelynn didn't feel clear about her cultivation path because the laws attached to Essence Gathering Cultivation and Body Tempering Cultivation felt the same to her. She supposed that she could use those laws for both cultivations, meaning her Rune and Crest would come from the same source of comprehension.

She wasn't convinced about that but what she knew for a fact was that it was going to cost her a ludicrous amount of energy to form a Supreme Immortal Rune and Supreme Immortal Crest than it was required for Natalya and the others, all because she was a fey, having both the innate potential that magical beasts possessed and comprehension ability humans possessed.

Nonetheless, when they stepped out, they were again greeted by the sight of mindless savage beasts. However, different than before, they were all of Darkfall Spider blood, clearly dominating this part of the rifts as they were more compared to the other types of mindless savage beasts.

"Tch, how many humans have come here with the idea of seeking power, only to turn themselves into this wretched state? There are even small ones. Or were they used as bait by the wicked path?"

Evelynn clicked her tongue, appearing angered. She couldn't believe the number of mindless savage beasts in this spacious place, around five thousand lurking in this rift alone.

"Most of them aren't treasure seekers necessarily, you know."

Davis's voice was amused, causing Evelynn to narrow her sexy eyes before they went wide.

These mindless savage beasts actually mated and propagated to this level instead of humans turning into these wretched yet unfortunate creatures? They were born and bred here?

She couldn't help but feel a bit nauseous because one misstep would've also caused her to become like this, and it seems that even in that mindless state, a living being's instinct to propagate still existed within them. She slightly felt pity for these creatures who were unable to think for themselves, only capable of acting on instincts, and the moment they saw them, they began rushing towards them without even thinking about the consequences.

"I'll do it. After all, we got trapped for some time already, trying to make some life..."

Evelynn pouted while Davis chuckled as he raised his hand, death energy surging from his palm. The dark and ominous energy then became seamless, spreading towards the surroundings quickly while the mindless savage beasts started dropping dead one by one. Their prowess ranged from the Fifth Stage to the Peak-Level Ninth Stage, but in front of Davis's death energy, none of them even managed to rise with a counterattack.

The sheer numbers didn't make a difference to Davis, whose prowess was unstoppable and lethal for them.

The mindless savage beasts acted on their instincts, so if they feared something, they should be able to run away. However, their foremost characteristic was being bloodthirsty, which meant that they would put themselves in danger even if they sensed extreme danger.

Davis's death energy wave, which he just spread his soul force with a wave of his hand, was alone enough to quickly collapse their souls, disallowing them to run away even if they wanted to scam after being faced with the bane of life that intrinsically struck fear into all life.

"There are too many of them like before. Let's feed Wisteria later, okay?"

Davis asked while Evelynn nodded without hesitation. Although Wisteria's eating speed was fast and became faster as it entered the Peak-Level Ninth Stage, there was no telling how long it would take for it to devour all five thousand corpses. They were already trapped in the previous rift for some time, so they didn't want to waste more time.

Evelynn went to collect the corpses while Davis searched around for some clues. There were many stains of blood on the dim, barren land. However, they each had a distinct aura around them because all of these mindless savage beasts possessed the blood of the Darkfall Spider. His soul sense constantly brushed over these thousands of bloodstains before he found something strange.

The bloodstain of a pure human. However, it was coagulated, causing him to understand that the owner of this blood was contaminated with poison, specifically the poison of these mindless savage beasts.

Evelynn also came closer to him and witnessed the coagulated blood on the ground. She understood the gist of it and turned to look at the rift nearby as judging from the path of another rift to the rift she was looking at, the owner of this blood could've very well headed into the latter rift.

"Yeah, that's the way."

Davis saw that the karmic thread from the fabric he possessed, and this coagulated blood also led to that rift. He felt that they were getting closer and closer, so they did not delay anymore and moved towards that rift.

They passed through the rift and saw the same scenery, but their eyes went wide as they witnessed a dark green-robed walking towards them slowly while holding her arm, abruptly stopping when she witnessed them appear through the rift.

"Em-Emperor of Death..." Laden in her weak voice was a bit of fear but also hope.

"Please... save... save Ivy... She's our only hope... She's further inside that rift... and then to the east rift... and to the north rift... please save-?"

Abruptly, the woman's robe wore off as they disappeared, causing her to become butt naked while wearing her accessories that indicated that she was the Valley Master. Her eyes went wide from shock, but she could even further speak; her body shuddered once before she collapsed, hitting face-first on the ground.

Both Davis and Evelynn were stunned by this scene, wondering what was going on before they realized that the robe Valley Master Jade Aurora wore was one of her martial energy.

"Oh no! She's going to die!" However, Evelynn shouted as they quickly came out of their reverie!

Davis instantly appeared before Valley Master Jade Aurora and turned her around, trying to get her breath some air as he instantly used Fallen Heaven's life energy to begin healing her.

A quick glance with his eyes told him that she was slashed in many places, on the arms, over her shoulder and stomach, and even on her cheek. Some of the wounds seemed to be new, while some seemed to have been given appropriate measures as the medicinal paste was applied over, but every wound seemed like they were inflicted because she failed to dodge them at the last second, not too deep but shallow.

If it were just the wounds, it would've been fine. However, the scars were in a poisoned state, causing her to finally collapse. Her jade-white skin was also adorned by black veins all over, displaying that the toxin had invaded every part of her body.

"No, we won't make it in time. Evelyynn, help me remove the poison."

Simultaneously, he used his soul sense to scan every part of her body and saw that the poison had invaded all her organs. They were spreading rapidly and could be on the verge of causing organ failure. If that's the case, he would be too late to save her.

Evelyynn captured both Valley Master Jade Aurora's hands and began to absorb the poison through her pores, easily annihilating the poison with her own Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid's blood while Davis clenched his teeth before he grabbed her left breast and forehead, intending to get rid of the poison from her heart and brain first.

There was no other choice. If he hesitated any longer, Valley Master Jade Aurora would die before he could clear the poison from her system!

Chapter 2056 Sharing

Davis's quick thinking and concentrated healing quickly got rid of the poison spreading in Valley Master Jade Aurora's brain and heart. However, it wasn't the end.

He took his hands from both locations and targeted other organs, intending to get rid of the poison there as well. The intensity of the life energy he used was such that it took only a second or two for the invading poison to die before continuing to heal the damaged parts of the organ.

However, as his hands traced her smooth jade-white skin, he couldn't help but feel that he was tainting her.

'This is first aid... yes... just like CPR...'

Inwardly convincing himself, he took his hands back but kept them hovering above her, this time healing her entire body.

Meanwhile, Evelyynn let go of Valley Master Jade Aurora's hands. She saw that there was no poison left to absorb, blinking at Davis's ability to quickly cure poison like that. Not only had he destroyed the poison, but he also healed her contaminated blood, which happened to be the most difficult part, which she would also find difficult to cure despite her medical knowledge and prowess in it.

She couldn't help but smile, once again understanding why he was not afraid of her deadly poison or even her hex. If it were any other man, would he be able to look at her past her poisonous ability?

The time it took for them to heal Valley Master Jade Aurora didn't even last half a minute. However, they knew if they had been late for a minute or two, they would've met a corpse instead. But who knows? Perhaps, Valley Master Jade Aurora relaxed upon witnessing them, causing the poison to spread faster and affect her heavily.

In any case, Evelyynn helped dress Valley Master Jade Aurora in one of her own purple robes. Of course, she told Davis to look the other way despite him seeing Valley Master Jade Aurora in all her glory while Davis could only do as she said.

And as he surveyed the rift space, he saw about hundred and thirty corpses of those mindless savage beasts, all looking to have more or less exploded from within.

'So the new wounds Valley Master Jade Aurora incurred was a result of this battle...?'

"You're allowed to look now."

Evelynn's smug voice resounded, causing him to shake his head before he turned around.

Valley Master Jade Aurora was all dressed up, but she was still asleep, meaning that she had exhausted all her strength.

"I'll leave a soul body here to guard her. Let's go save that brat."

Davis spoke, but Evelynn shook her head, "You want to take advantage of her again? Hmph! I've called my avatar and Yotan back. They should be here shortly."

"Haha! I'm sorry. I'm sorry."

Davis couldn't help but laugh as he apologized, hearing her obsessive feelings. It was obvious to him that she wanted to monopolize him during this trip, but he had to touch another naked woman in front of her just after making love with her, so he supposed that it couldn't be helped that she was slightly angered.

Evelynn's pout declined on hearing him apologize, "It's fine. I know that it was unavoidable. Otherwise, she would've died."

"It's fine to get angry at me, Evelynn. Always together, right?"

Hearing Davis's genial voice, those odd feelings in her disappeared before she heavily nodded her head, "Mhm!~"

A few minutes later, Valley Master Jade Aurora didn't wake up, but Yotan and Evelynn's avatar showed up as they returned from their exploration. Evelynn's avatar piggybacked Valley Master Jade Aurora before she brought her back to the final waypoint, which was Threelotus's location. However, before Davis and Evelynn could leave, they were graced with the presence of the white-haired woman.

"Are you done exploring alone?"

Davis's brows couldn't help but twitch as he saw Myria arrive through the rift. If she was here together with them, he wouldn't have needed to heal a naked woman nor have made Evelynn feel that way but considering that, he wouldn't have been able to make love with Evelynn and finally clear her guilt in that opportune moment of her vulnerability, he inwardly thanked Myria for leaving.

Myria arrived before him and deeply smiled behind her veil, her eyes curving.

"Prince Davis, here!~"

Davis blinked at the blue fruit in Myria's palm before he realized, "Ellia, is this fruit from the Wretched Rotten Nightmare Tree's that Myria mentioned?"

"Yes!" Ellia giggled, "This fruit will help you comprehend Death Laws once you make it into the Shrouded Lamenting Soul Pill."

"Oh?" Davis's eyes widened in astonishment before disbelief filled his face, "You're giving this to me? Are you sure that you won't get yelled at by Myria?"

"There's no need to worry about that." Ellia gestured with her finger, shaking her index finger with a smug smile on her face, "We found four of these fruits, so half of them belong to me. Naturally, one is for me, and the other one is for you."

"Really?" Davis didn't seem to believe, "She shares half with you all the time?"

"That..." Ellia suddenly looked unsure before she shook her head, "So far, I've never had the need to give my share to someone else, so I didn't say anything, but you are different. I'll be sharing things with you from now on."

"Ellia, I understand your feelings for me very well and even appreciate it every time." Davis raised his hand, cutting her speech, "However, I don't want your other half thinking that I'm taking advantage of you, especially when we're supposed to be in cooperation. I'd rather be shameless about it and ask you myself if I want it."

"Prince Davis..." Ellia bit her lips, her eyes appearing moved yet unsure, "But... I know this fruit is really important to raise your Death Laws. I know you won't commit slaughter meaninglessly, so this is the only way you can learn Death Laws faster."

"I understand." Davis nodded, "In that case, I'll buy it. Judging by the potency, rarity, and value of this fruit, I surmise that it would cost around 200 Peak-Level Spirit Stone Vein Sources or more. For how much would you give this fruit to me, including the pill recipe?"

Ellia blinked, looking as though she didn't know what to say. A moment later, her lips curved as he raised a single finger.

"Alright. I'll trade you both for one purple coin!"

Davis's brows couldn't help but twitch.

One purple coin? Wasn't that the price that his mother bought Ellia for from the High Line Slave Traders to have her as his personal maid?

What kind of joke was this?

But thinking back, Myria destroyed the entire High Line Slave Traders overnight, massacring them all as she took revenge for Ellia. If he were to give her one purple coin, wouldn't Myria become mad and attack him? He couldn't help but want to try trading one purple coin but refrained as he shook his head.

"Ellia, I appreciate your feelings, but do this seriously."

"Hmph~"

Ellia pouted, looking offended that he didn't take her gift. However, her expression changed at this moment as she threw the fruit toward him.

Davis caught it as he didn't want to let this precious fruit fall and be damaged. He then looked at Ellia, wondering what she had in store now but then saw those indifferent eyes.

"Well, at least you have sincerity. Consider it a token of faith for our cooperation. This too."

Myria tossed a scroll. The moment it appeared on her hand, it glowed with her soul force before she threw it.

Davis caught it again and saw that it was the pill recipe for the Shrouded Lamenting Soul Pill. However, he didn't look amused.

"Are you looking down on me? Or-"

"Don't misunderstand." Myria's cold voice echoed, "If you don't accept it, Ellia will annoy me instead. You know you can't deal with a kid, especially a kid that's adamant. Still, it's my fault for spoiling Ellia to this level. This is what they say by what you sow, what you reap."

"That's true." Davis couldn't help but nod with a wry smile, "If you didn't give Ellia her freedom, I wouldn't have given you your freedom either."

Myria stared at him before lightly sighing as though realizing both were children, although only this child in front of her was extremely dangerous as he possessed the damned treasure.

"Then, do you plan on glaring at me or saving that damsel in distress? Judging by the despondent expression of that Valley Master who had fainted, you might not have enough time to save her, no?"

"Oh, right."

Davis grabbed his head as though he had just remembered before turning around and leaving towards the rift pointed out by Valley Master Jade Aurora before she fainted. He was followed by Evelyn, who arrived beside him, while Myria followed, looking interested in what she would find further.

Chapter 2057 Chancing Upon

Davis and Evelyn followed the route specified by Valley Master Jade Aurora. They chanced upon many carcasses of the mindless savage beasts, powerful ones that were at High-Level and Peak-Level Ninth Stage.

Surprisingly, it seemed that they were not taken away by Valley Master Jade Aurora, considering that she could've taken them and sold their organs and parts for a high price, not to mention that even antidotes could be made for their poison with this much of carcasses to experiment on.

This was a conflicting point Davis couldn't understand. However, it was rather clear that Valley Master Jade Aurora was searching for a new way out, perhaps believing that one of these rifts might lead to outside, but every time she stumbled into a new rift, she was unlucky, being bombarded by these huge critters.

Her prowess was at the level above Peak-Level Ninth Stage. Otherwise, she wouldn't have defeated so many of them, and since her prowess was at that level, she shouldn't have been injured, but since she was, it most likely meant that she was already exhausted.

Perhaps, the mindless savage beast that possessed her robe's fabric was the one who attacked her sneakily, causing her to be poisoned. Considering that they were already exhausted when they were chased inside by the Poison Rift Valley's remnants, it was inevitable that they would meet demise sooner or later, so to have survived this long in a state of exhaustion was alone tantamount to their strength and survivability.

Thinking of what Valley Master Jade Aurora's intention could be in leaving Ivy Aries alone where danger could befall her, he arrived before the third and final rift that was to the north. Fortunately, Valley Master Jade Aurora remembered the location of the rifts well. Otherwise, he would be forced to check the seven rifts in this space alone and three more back in the previous rift.

It could be said that these rifts reminded Davis of the complex dungeons or mazes that could be seen in games. He slightly chortled, took a step forward with Evelynn, and arrived at the other side, followed by Myria.

However, Davis and Evelynn became shocked to see the five hundred-meter-tall spider in front of them, towering with an ominous gaze. It was an eight-legged spider with a purplish-obsidian body. There were two sinister eyes on its head, two sharp venomous fangs, and two rows of jagged teeth adorning its mouth. However, most of the outer structure looked as though they were damaged, while there was also a strange pattern on its forehead that seemed to be closed.

Evelynn even felt shook, her blood boiling in reverence, almost wanting her to kneel to it.

"This..."

"It's a palace constructed in the form of a spider?"

"I see. An inheritance palace of the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid, huh? Not bad. Someone here is rather lucky..."

Evelynn's lips trembled, and Davis blinked as he realized that the five-hundred-meter-tall spider was a building, while Myria possessed an amused expression on her face as she turned to look at Evelynn.

Her words caused Davis and Evelynn to be shocked, although the latter had already surmised that it could be the case after witnessing the building and feeling her blood boil as though she wanted it. She had this vague feeling that she was feeling warmer as she neared this rift space, but now, she understood why.

It was her calling.

On the other hand, Davis had no idea of what the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid looked like, so he only recognized this spider's image after being told by Myria. Its color certainly did resemble Evelynn's purple body after her transformation to Fey.

Bzzz!~

Mindless savage beasts began surging towards them in droves, attracting their attention.

Davis unceremoniously waved his hand as death energy spread out, engulfing them all, a hundred of them at Peak-Level Ninth Stage, which was terrifying. However, nothing happened to them under the assault of his death energy.

"Hmm? No souls?"

Davis blinked before he recognized that they were actual energy lifeforms, just like the human figures that had been summoned to make them battle and measure their strength during trials.

'So it's truly an inheritance site?'

Davis's eyes widened in glee, feeling that he should definitely obtain this sight for Evelyn. However, he stayed his hand, thinking for a moment before he turned towards Evelyn.

"Evelyn, you take care of them."

Evelyn understood the gist of his words and disappeared, jumping into the swarm of mindless savage beasts by herself. On the other hand, Myria merely stayed and watched the show.

Davis used his soul sense to search this rift space only to come up with nothing, but he had only managed to sense the outskirts because a powerful barrier was not letting his soul sense penetrate the inheritance palace, which made him blink.

According to Valley Master Jade Aurora, this rift space should be where Ivy Aries should be present, but she wasn't here, causing him to search with his eyes, but it was so dim that he couldn't see clearly. With so many energy lifeforms running around here, was Ivy Aries killed?

He took a step forward and flew towards the inheritance palace and chanced upon a blood writing on an arch with eight pillars but a single triangle-like structure on the elevated base.

[Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal Inheritance]

[Exchange your main spatial ring for entry if you can't defeat the first trial. Beware, karma doesn't play, and hex doesn't forgive.]

He blinked, turning to look at the pillar below where there was a small compartment where a spatial ring could be inserted, and then, he finally noticed inside the barrier of the inheritance palace was a collapsed Ivy Aries. He could see her breathing even from here, comprehending that she was still alive.

'So that's what had happened. The spatial ring on Valley Master Jade Aurora's hand is probably empty because they sought refuge here from the swarm of the mindless savage beasts in the previous rifts and also here. It was no wonder she was wearing a robe created from her martial energy, which then disappeared after she completely exhausted herself...'

Davis felt like he understood a bit, but a few things still didn't make sense to him. For example, why did Valley Master Jade Aurora leave a sleeping, or rather, a fainted Ivy Aries alone in this place?

'Well, I will know soon once one of them wakes up.'

Davis smiled as he turned to look towards Evelyn, thinking that saving the two damsels in distress was a mission accomplished matter. His thoughts were now all on Evelyn clearing this first trial written according to the arch of this inheritance palace.

Evelyn leaped from one place to another, her four deadly scythes elongating from her back, hacking whatever dared to come her way. Only her two fine legs were moving while she kept her hands free as though she was on a stroll. To her, these Peak-Level Ninth Stage energy lifeforms were of no threat. Every time the purple flash of her scythes erupted, she cleanly hacked their heads, causing them to disappear.

However, her attacks strangely didn't seem to create fissures in space, meaning that despite the instability of this space, it was stronger than the space outside.

Evelynn cleaned the area in a matter of minutes as the surrounding energy that had spread into the air as a result of the energy lifeforms being defeated coalesced into one ray of dark light and shot towards her.

She didn't resist, but there was a fair amount of caution in her heart as she saw the incoming energy ray of darkness with a purple sheen. It fell on her right hand, tracing to the center of her palm before it embedded into the mark of a purple spider.

Chapter 2058 Circumstances Behind

"Evelynn."

Davis arrived before Evelynn, causing her to show the spider mark to him, "Does this mean that I have received some form of recognition from the inheritance palace?"

"I think so." Davis nodded as he cast a look at the barrier, "Probably only you could enter it without getting harmed by its defenses. It's your lucky chance, so I'll not join, but before you go past the courtyard after bringing out Ivy Aries, are you willing?"

"I'm willing!"

Evelynn answered without a hint of hesitation. However, Davis took a long while, like more than a minute, before he answered her.

"Alright. No matter what happens, don't die."

Evelynn smiled resplendently behind her purple veil. She headed towards the arch gate and saw what Davis witnessed, arriving at a similar conclusion. In front of her was a semi-transparent purple barrier. She stepped forwards, flying towards it, and the moment she touched the barrier, it rippled, allowing her to pass.

She didn't stop heading forwards, only stopping when she arrived in front of Ivy Aries. Her soul sense scanned the collapsed woman before she turned to look at Davis.

"There's no injury. She's only exhausted."

Davis nodded, "Bring her back."

Evelynn acquiesced as she lifted Ivy Aries, piggybacking her. She returned hovering, passing through a semi-transparent purple barrier. It didn't impede her entrance and exit one bit, allowing Davis to confirm that this was how Valley Master Jade Aurora left Ivy Aries, but for what kind of reason, he still couldn't understand.

After all, if they searched for the exit together, it would be easier, no?

Evelynn summoned a single bed out from her spatial ring and laid Ivy Aries on it. She then leaped towards Davis, hugging him tightly.

"I believe you can do it."

Davis patted her head and ran his fingers through her purplish-green hair gently.

Evelynn was no longer the old Evelynn for him to be worrying about. She had gone through numerous trials already for her will to be easily defeated. Although there was worry that he could never erase, he had an immense belief that she would pass the trials of this immortal inheritance with ease. Her current prowess was nothing to laugh at the very least, after all.

Evelynn kissed his lips and parted, leaving towards the inheritance palace without uttering a word.

She passed the arch, entered the barrier, and hovered past the courtyard, whereupon her figure disappeared, causing a bit of unease to appear in Davis's heart.

'I should curb my overcautious mind at the moment...'

He felt like he shouldn't create imaginary dangerous scenarios in his head.

"Ellia," Davis turned to look back at the white-haired woman, "I'm going to shamelessly ask you questions, and you're going to answer now. What do you know about this world, the inheritances, especially the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal's Inheritance that lasted till this time, and the matter of Candidates?"

"That's a lot of questions, and that expression of yours says that you wouldn't take no for an answer. Are you worried to death about your precious first wife?"

Hearing a teasing voice, Davis narrowed his eyes.

"I'm not talking with you this time, Myria."

"Hehe~" Myria giggled before her smile faded, replaced with a contemplative expression.

"Don't mind about Myria. She's just pleased that a person with that damned treasure could care about someone to this level."

Ellia smiled before she continued, "First, this world is rather... that touches upon karmic burden, so I won't speak about it. As for the inheritances, didn't I say before that the master of this world released the news of that damned treasure to the entire immortal world? When they did so, they simultaneously invited many powers to have a chance at owning this damned treasure in turn for a deep cost, which is having one or two of their powerful younglings sacrifice themselves, forming a karmic connection with the master of this world while also empowering the aboriginals here to cooperate with them. This way, they could slightly escape the effects of karmic burden that plagues this world and tend to gain out of it."

"Is that what the Candidates are for? Don't I already..." Davis appeared confused, but he didn't say it.

Was he the final enemy for those candidates because he possessed Fallen Heaven? What kind of bullshit is that?

Ellia made a skeptical expression, "Possibly, but I'm not sure since it was just a chance to have a fate with that damned treasure while the main source of attraction and the foremost reason why they decided to send and sacrifice their most talented younglings is for those powers to have a chance at obtaining the prized cultivation manual of the master of this world. In other words, a successor to the master of this world."

Davis gawked, understanding that the master of this world was an amazing and powerful person for them to be able to attract so many powers from the immortal world and have them sacrifice their most talented youths. However, he also understood that it couldn't be their most talented youths. A power wouldn't dare to use their hope as a sacrifice because if they did, it would mean that they could be in dire straits.

"Well, Myria and I don't know much since she was in dire circumstances during that time. She was the least bothered until... Oops, looks like I said too much. In any case, the circumstances behind the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal Inheritance could be rather special as I believe the last I heard from their magical beast species was when many powers were hunting them down due to some reason."

"Because they were feared for the ability to use hexes since Hex Laws are Supreme Laws?"

Davis asked, quickly worrying as he wondered if Evelynn would be targeted in the future.

"There is that too, but- ah! I remembered." Ellia suddenly exclaimed before her face lit up, "This is something Myria heard as a rumor, so this memory is not quite clear, but I think that it was because they actually managed to-"

Chapter 2059 Lucky Chance?

Evelynn entered the inheritance palace's inner courtyard, seeking the location of the trials.

As she entered the palace, fierce purple flames surged, revealing the hall's layout as though welcoming her inside.

The surface of the walls and the ground carried an archaic purple and obsidian sheen which told her a significant amount of time had passed here than the other immortal inheritances she had seen, like the Earth Dragon Immortal's Inheritance that was fairly archaic itself.

Without fear clouding her eyes, she sauntered forwards and walked through the hallway until she came across a tombstone that radiated an eerie yet fierce aura.

[The one who seeks to obtain this inheritance must be prepared to face the consequences in the near future. This inheritance gives you immense power, but it is not easy to obtain, much less easy to absorb. Furthermore, your life is not guaranteed during the trials because the dangers you will face would be many times more significant than the other immortal inheritances situated in this world. Failure means death. If you are not confident enough, now is the time to turn back.]

Evelynn stared at it for a while before she continued walking forwards across a different section, whereupon the entire view behind became veiled in shadows, effectively sealing off her path of return. However, Evelynn paid no heed as she kept moving in a straight line.

Purple flames lit up as she closed in on them, lighting the pathway. Before long, she arrived in a spacious hall, whereupon a gaseous cloud surged and turned into a Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid like Misteltae. However, Evelynn couldn't help but feel that there was something different about this arachnid, but she couldn't tell the difference due to its features appearing muddled.

"Oh?"

That Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid moved its mouth, revealing razor-sharp teeth as it hissed in a sharp female voice.

"A female descendant of my Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Species has carried her foot here to this crumbled space? Including you, how many is that?"

"Whatever, it's been quite a long time since a descendant showed up. I can only hope that you are suitable enough to carry the wish of my race as time isn't on our side. My species could've already been completely exterminated, sigh."

Evelynn looked at this magical beast's remnant soul lament with a melancholic gaze in its eyes.

"Misteltae?" She narrowed her eyes, "Does that name ring a bell?"

"Misteltae?" The Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal wondered before it shook its head, "I don't know who that is, but I can feel that you have the bloodline aura of Flaylock in you, meaning that this Misteltae must be a descendant of his bloodline descent."

"Flaylock?" Evelynn inclined her head as though she was confused.

"Flaylock is one of us, a Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid who was the last of three magical beast eggs to be released to a King Grade Inheritor because we're lacking in time and could not keep eggs alive for that long since- Well, do you know if Flaylock or his descendants is still alive?"

Hearing its question, Evelynn thought for a moment before she shook her head.

"All I know is that there are no Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid species to be seen in the Fifty-Two Territories. They don't exist anymore while I obtained Misteltae's blood from a remnant tomb. She explained that she failed to pass the heavenly tribulation and decided to refine her body into blood essence since she only had a few days to live. Furthermore, she remarked that it was a sad reality for her Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Empire Nest in the so-called First Haven World that I have no idea of, which means your species is more or less exterminated."

"What a failure and a catastrophe to my Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Species. Even in the First Haven World, my species is hunted. Sigh, it seems that the heavens truly wish for us to die."

The Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal's voice sounded deeply hurt. It sounded like an elder lamenting the fate of its child, but its two eyes flashed with a deep glint as it returned its stare to Evelynn.

"In any case, I recommend you take the Emperor Grade Trial or the Immortal Grade Trial since you already possess our blood. What's it going to be?"

"If I pass the Emperor Grade Trial, when will I be able to participate in the Immortal Grade Trial?"

Evelynn didn't immediately answer but asked with a nonchalant expression on her face, causing the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal to look at her rather more closely before it moved its front leg that possessed a sharp scythe before it hid its mouth, its body shuddering as though it was giggling.

"Whenever you want since the energy accumulated is enough for this trial to operate many times, although it is a matter of whether you're alive to face this trial again or not."

"...?"

Evelynn blinked.

Many like her have entered before but have failed to claim this inheritance, all having died? It didn't make sense to her. How hard could it be?

Feeling suspicious, Evelynn moved her lips.

"Emperor Grade."

Since she could access the Immortal Grade Trial any time she wanted after passing the Emperor Grade Trial, she decided to choose the safe route.

The Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal stared at her with even more interest before revealing its razor-sharp fangs and gesturing with its two forelegs.

"A wise choice since none have passed the Emperor Grade Trial so far. In any case, do your best to survive. If you fail, you will die. If you pass the trials, you will obtain my blood essence, the noble blood of an Emperor-Tier Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal."

"...!?"

Evelynn's expression faltered for the first time since she entered the inheritance palace.

An Emperor-Tier Magical Beast Immortal?

Not even the Earth Dragon Immortal or any other immortal magical beasts, for that matter, were of King-Tier, much less Emperor-Tier, but she actually chanced upon an Emperor-Tier Magical Beast Immortal Inheritance!?

Chapter 2060 Hex Arachnid's True Prowess

"This is something Myria heard as a rumor, so this memory is not quite clear, but I think that it was because they actually managed to give birth to an Emperor-Tier Magical Beast Immortal, which shook the heaven and earth for the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Clan."

Ellia continued her collection of thoughts in a lively tone.

"They rejoiced and became overbearing but fearing their supreme power and the influence they would possess upon the growth of the Emperor-Tier Magical Beast Immortal, many other powers didn't want to leave them alone, deciding to send them all to their deaths by joining forces. "

"What? A Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Clan with such power was pushed to dire straits? And what do you mean by Emperor-Tier?"

Panic was visible in Davis's eyes. If the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal inside was an Emperor-Tier Magical Beast Immortal, wouldn't the difficulty also drastically increase for Evelynn?

His blood chilled.

"Calm down." Ellia worriedly gestured with her hands, "Even if Myria told me to keep quiet about it, I would've said something to you. I was just playing with you when I said I just remembered. Personally, I think Evelynn would more or less pass this trial."

"Why do you think so?" Davis had his eyes narrowed, his expression looking not so amused, even angered.

"Because she possesses the Earth Dragon Immortal's Blood with her. Do you even realize that such a fusion of blood to a fey is close to impossible?"

"To even digest one type of magical beast blood in order to become a fey, humans would have to go through excruciating pain. Imagine if they took another type of blood. Not only would the pain be tormenting the soul, but the chances of becoming a fey would become abysmal. Our Evelynn is a unique existence who could be said to have achieved a fusion between Earth Dragon Blood and Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Blood. In other words, she became a mixed fey species between a dragon and a spider."

"What does that have to do with Evelynn being able to breeze through the trial?" Davis's eyes flickered in urgency.

"Because the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Blood only lacks a powerful body. Since Evelynn could compensate for her bodily strength with her Earth Dragon Immortal's Blood and what the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnids are mostly concerned about are their weak bodies, the trials should mostly be taxing on the body, and if I'm not wrong, the body would be tested with the ability of their three hexes."

"Collapse Hex, Sealing Hex, and the Poison Hex?" Davis quickly asked, causing Ellia to nod.

"I'm not sure if that's what it is called, but yes, those three hex abilities are what scares everyone the most. Their third eye is a great source of pride for them, so I'm positive that Evelynn would be trialed through their species technique."

Ellia smiled assuredly, causing Davis to finally relax.

"If that's the case, I'm relieved..."

Davis heaved the stifled heaviness out of his heart. He was worried that he would lose Evelynn because of his near-blind faith in her abilities and a lack of consideration for the difficulty of the trial, but it seems like his belief wasn't misplaced.

"You also seem to be misunderstanding something."

Suddenly, the tone of the white-haired woman changed, causing Davis's heart to clench as he knew that it was Myria who was speaking now. Was Ellia kidding just to placate him?

"What am I misunderstanding?"

"The King-Tier and Emperor-Tier in the mortal realm produce a different level of strength when they're in the immortal realm. In the mortal cultivation realm, a King-Tier Magical Beast at the Emperor Beast Stage could only surmount two levels above their level, and an Emperor-Tier Magical Beast at the Emperor Beast Stage could surmount four levels above their level."

"But before we get to the difference, there is something called bloodline potential. Magical beasts, when they reach their bloodline limit, lose their royal status by one tier as their bloodline potential degrades. An Emperor-Tier Magical Beast would become a King-Tier Magical Beast upon stepping into the Immortal Stage, and a King-Tier Magical Beast would become a normal Magical Beast upon stepping into the immortal realm cultivation. In short, growth in the immortal realm cultivation follows the same rule as surpassing bloodline limit in mortal realm cultivation, causing degradation to follow after they've expended their bloodline potential to increase species rank or their stage above their limit."

"When their cultivation reaches the immortal cultivation realm, their tier confers a completely different array of prowess. In the Immortal Beast Stage, a King-Tier Magical Beast can jump three levels, while an Emperor-Tier Magical Beast can surmount six levels."

"...!"

Davis looked fairly shocked, but Myria still continued.

"An Emperor-Tier Magical Beast that has the ability to innately perform the terrifying Hex Laws like the Three-Eyed Chromatic Hex Arachnid Immortal would be very well able to cross six levels with ease, and when they use their Supreme Laws, which are Hex Laws, they could almost cross eight levels to battle in the immortal realm of cultivation, but not like me. In any case, you can see why many powers would hunt-

"What!?" Davis stood shocked, "Not like you?"

Wasn't Myria only capable of crossing seven levels with her Reincarnation Laws?

He suddenly saw Myria's lips faintly curve behind her veil.

"My Eternal Life Soul is originally an Immortal Soul Physique, so of course, it could only display its true prowess after I enter the Immortal Foundation Stage."

"..."

"What are you so shocked of? In case you couldn't tell, I was born an immortal during my first lifetime."

"@#$%^&*!"

Davis's expression became fuming, almost stifled.

He didn't detect any lies in Myria's words, so how could she be so powerful yet still need Fallen Heaven!? Were the cultivators so unfairly strong in the immortal realms!?

However, Davis's fuming expression faded as he saw Myria's eyes look forlorn, as though she wasn't happy to be born an immortal. Furthermore, her previous gloating voice, while bragging about her power, sounded rather dejected, causing him to not even know what to say to the sudden gloom in the atmosphere.

"Va- Valley Master... Please... Please don't... die...!"

Abruptly, a heart-wrenching voice echoed as it attracted Davis and Myria's attention, causing them to look at the source of the voice, which sat up on the bed, stretching its hands into the distance with wide eyes.