

EMPEROR 2131

Chapter 2131 Seduced Davis (R-18)

In a certain room within the Mortal Hex Emperor Palace, one purplerobed man and a black-robed woman were intimately holding each other.

"Mingzhi..."

The man called out in a delirious tone as he held the woman from behind, his rough hands groping her big bosoms over her clothes in an unbridled manner.

"Aan~ Davis~"

Mingzhi sweetly called out as she turned her head, connecting her luscious crimson lips with his as they exchanged passionate kisses. Her sizeable curves could constantly be seen changing shapes while being kneaded by Davis.

"Mingzhi, your breasts are huge. I wish I could hold them forever."

Davis let go of Mingzhi's lips and sucked on her adorable earlobe as he whispered in her ear, causing her to blush heavily. Although she knew there was the bigger boss, this compliment caused her hand to move to his swollen monster that kept grinding against her perky ass between their robes.

She captured the monster's head and massaged the tip ever so lightly, causing Davis to be more passionate. His right hand left her mound and groped her honey cave, rubbing her tiny bud over her silky robe.

"Uaa~"

Mingzhi's lips quivered as she uttered a sound of melting in pleasure. Her hot breaths left her mouth, making her stupidly smile as she recalled how she and Davis hurriedly entered a room to make out. She didn't know if anyone saw her, but the onset of his advances was exhilarating, making her quickly wet.

Davis became increasingly pleased as his fingering caused her to shake her hips, allowing her to grind his rock-hard thing with her perky butt. His left hand played with her delicious endowment while his right hand stroked her little cave, sometimes even going inside while being wrapped in her fabric. Consequently, her underwear and the black robe became quickly drenched in her honeyed juices.

Once his right hand's finger was almost drenched, he couldn't help but pull his arm back and put that finger in his mouth, savoring her uniqueness right in front of her gaze. The sight of it made Mingzhi crazy that she grabbed her black robe by the shoulder and tore it apart with a swing of her hand, causing Davis to be in hold of a bikini-clad beauty.

"Wha-"

Davis became flabbergasted as he saw Mingzhi's big bosoms were covered with a V-shaped fabric, stretching from her honey pot to her bosoms as it wrapped around her arms in a string. She was extremely attractive as the fabric didn't cover her mid cleavage, midriff, and belly button, revealing her enchanting white skin.

The next second, Davis couldn't help but grin, "You came prepared."

"Of course. However, I didn't even need to use the sexy clothes I made personally to seduce you."

Mingzhi seemed proud of her work of art, causing Davis to chuckle as he walked back before walking around her, intensely gazing at her with amused eyes as though he was etching her curvaceous body into his very soul. Her lean back was tame yet oozing with an amorous feeling. Her fair white butt that was only covered a bit caused his thing to twitch, but he suppressed his lust and continued onto her perfect long legs, biting his lips and raising one of his brows as though he couldn't get enough.

Mingzhi's eyes trembled as she could thoroughly feel him checking her out as her body heated up. His intense gaze caused the boldness in her head to flee somewhat and made her lower her head in shyness. Half a minute later, she could no longer take the sensual silence.

She turned around and looked at him as she opened her mouth, but she became tongue-tied as she looked at his chiseled physique, causing an electric shock to run through her spine as it made her lower body tingle. As though she was looking at him for the first time, she became mesmerized for a moment, especially when she saw his long, rockhard member pointing at her face.

While she was mesmerized, Davis walked toward her and grabbed her dainty wrist, pulling her towards the bed as he placed her down on the bed. He unceremoniously dropped to his knees, his face appearing at the same level as her lower body. He held her two legs and spread them, taking a good look at her pink lower lips that was unveiled after his soul force put a smooth tear on her V-shaped bikini.

Mingzhi didn't sneak a look at his face. Instead, she felt embarrassed that he was thoroughly spreading her that she could even feel his hot breath on her lower lips. At the same time, she felt a love bite on her thigh, causing her to open her mouth.

"Aaa~"

She released a sweet and relaxed moan as she smiled, feeling him bite her ever so softly as he made her way to her honey cave. Although she still looked at the ceiling in a delirious light, the expectation in her heart grew for that everlasting feeling of having her sucked out, and it came, causing her to cry out in pleasure.

"Aaaahn~"

*Slurp!~* *Slurp!~* *Slurp!~*

Davis's mouth caught hold of her tiny clit as he began to suck on it softly as though he was sucking on a bite wound, and when he stopped, his tongue rolled out on her lower lips and flailed before entering between and stirring her insides. His crazy and experienced tongue movements had Mingzhi use both her palms to hide her face from displaying a crazed expression on her face while her thighs enclosed his head from being unable to endure the pleasure.

She was choking him with her legs without concern. However, she wasn't powerful enough to even cause Davis any damage, while Davis himself thoroughly gave himself to eating out Mingzhi as though robbing her of her sanity, the very core of her morality.

"Aaaan~ Aaaa~ Davis~ Nyo~ I'm... not... not this soon~~~"

Mingzhi shook her head left and right. Her fair white butt struggled to throw him out. However, Davis's arms were wrapped around her thighs, disallowing her to throw him off. His tongue twisted rampantly like a snake slithering in a wet marsh, causing her eyes to finally rollback.

"I'm... coming..."

Mingzhi's entire body started to shudder, her waist rising to the ceilings while a flood of yin essence escaped her honey cave. However, Davis expected the dam to burst and covered her lower lips with his mouth, drinking everything that came his way that, further caused Mingzhi to spiral out of control as she began moaning like a sexcrazed woman who lost her mind to pleasure.

Her orgasm lasted for two minutes, constantly shuddering before she finally stopped. Only then did Davis leave her lower body, standing up to look at her melted expression that she quickly hid again upon seeing him rise.

"Curses... I didn't even last two minutes..."

Mingzhi's cheeks became crimson. However, she took her hands away and looked at him with a pouting expression on her face. "But... with this... I'll forgive you for not visiting me in these few months..."

Davis couldn't help but smile, "I'm aware that I left my newlywed wife hanging for a while. Do you have any requests? I'll accompany you today, doing lots and lots of fun and pleasurable things, my little fallen fairy."

Mingzhi slightly gulped, feeling her throat becoming dry. Anything? She can request anything?

However, she sat up and captured his hand, pulling him to the bed as she made him lie on the bed. Then, she twisted her body as she sat on his face, feeling his teeth pull her lower lips ever so lightly, causing her to open her mouth agape as she sensually reacted, breathless and quivering. But, she didn't stay like that and fell on his body, grabbing his rock-hard cock as she pouted her mouth and kissed its head.

"Ohh..."

Davis rasped underneath Mingzhi as he continued licking and sucking on her honey pot. Obviously, he knew that she would ask him of this as she liked getting eaten out but to do a sixty-nine now, he didn't feel that it was bad at all, becoming pleased as he pleased her.

They both tended to gain in this position, licking and sucking on each other's private parts.

Mingzhi adjusted her hand behind and bobbed her head up and down on his rock-hard member, coating it with her sweet saliva. Her small pink tongue ran over his majestic rod, occasionally twisting around it and flapping on the head before taking it all the way to her throat that she became accustomed to and didn't feel a hint of gag.

She kept repeating these movements and massaged his balls with her dainty fingers with passion, her face focused while her eyes were narrowed in pleasure from being sucked below by him.

They kept at it for ten whole minutes, slowly stirring before becoming intense at the end, their bodies shaking above the bed as Mingzhi ground her cunt on his face and Davis thrust his rock-hard dick inside her mouth. Their lips encased each other's privates before Davis captured Mingzhi's head and pushed her to the very base of his member, causing her to completely swallow him to the extreme back of her throat.

"Swallow it all, Mingzhi..."

Davis cried out in pleasure and exploded in her mouth, his lower body shuddering while Mingzhi simultaneously orgasmed, letting out yin essence in his mouth. Their time to orgasm together was impeccable as they both furiously sucked on each other, absorbing each other's essence in fierce pleasure, when a resounding sound startled them both.

*Bang!~*

The door opened, and a blurry figure came flying in and stopped, causing Mingzhi's pupils to dilate while yang essence kept flowing down her throat in loads and loads.

Chapter 2132 Intruding (R-18)

In a hallway, a group of women stood in front of a door. They looked at each other with confusion, wondering where someone had gone. However, the woman in the lead spoke at this moment.

"I'm sure Davis is in here."

Evelynn's voice echoed as the other ladies couldn't help but blink.

Whose unit was this? Judging by the aura on the door, they couldn't help but think of a person. However, having a bit of hope, they sensed with their soul sense but could not find the person they were looking for.

"The only one who isn't here is Mingzhi... It seems like we have a winner today."

Evelynn couldn't help but smile, turning around to leave. However, a few others were unwilling

"That vixen... she always manages to seduce him first..."

Natalya clenched her white teeth, feeling like she had made some powerful rival. After all, before Mingzhi came, she was the one who regularly seduced him.

"I wish I was bold enough like her..."

Shirley simply sighed, possessing an expression of defeat. Although she felt herself to be fiery and passionate, she was still reserved. She had even temporarily given Eterna to Claire, wanting to feel his touch so badly, but with this kind of competition, she couldn't help but wryly smile.

However, she wasn't disheartened as she thought she would be as a competitive urge filled her heart.

The others, like Zestia and Bylal, didn't even know what to say. They saw the utmost shy Tanya and the proud Lea fleeing like they were the wind and almost couldn't help but laugh. However, knowing that they couldn't do something about this matter anymore, they also decided to leave. Natalya and Shirley came to a similar conclusion, turning around to leave, but then they suddenly froze, looking at the green-robed figure walking past them.

"Fiora, what are you doing?"

Flora walked towards the door and pushed it open. It seemed that it was not locked but imagining that they came here like wild animals, Fiora couldn't help but smirk as she turned around.

"What am I doing? I'm getting back at someone cheekier than me, elder sis-"

*Creek-*

With the door closed, Natalya and the others possessed expressions of shock on their faces, unable to believe what they had just seen.

"I smell trouble..."

Shirley couldn't help but comment, causing Natalya to shudder before she bowed.

"Everyone. I apologize for my little sister's insensitive actions. I'll call her back right now."

"Leave it be, second sister." Shirley shook her head, "Davis wouldn't force them anyway. If Mingzhi didn't want Fiora in, he would kick her out."

"Ah, I see..."

Natalya wryly smiled, inwardly worried about Fiora coming out crying like a little girl for being thrown out. Meanwhile, the Fiora in question walked towards the bedroom with an excited expression on her face. Once she arrived at the location, she kicked open the door and entered.

Both sides were seemingly startled. However, the scenery Fiora witnessed had her mouth going agape before displaying a deep smile on her face because...

There was an Imagery Stone recording in her hand.

"Mhmm!!!-"

Mingzhi moaned onto Davis's throbbing dick that further causing his pleasure to rise drastically. Her cheeks turned into a crimson shade as she hurriedly thumped on Davis's thigh using her fists, wanting to become free of his hands that stuck her face to his lower body.

Davis was also shocked as she suddenly sensed Fiora barging into this room. He belatedly let go of Mingzhi, causing her to sit up. However, his rock-hard dick still hadn't finished ejaculating yet, spurting towards Mingzhi's face as it splashed on her. Her innerwear also got smeared in his color, but Mingzhi was unresponsive, blankly watching Fiora record them with disbelief etched on her face.

"Mingzhi, how dare you!?"

Fiora stopped recording and hurriedly appeared before Davis, wrapping his ejaculating member with her small fingers as she took it into her mouth and sucked him hard.

*Slurp!-* *Slurp!-*

"Ffff-"

Davis threw his head up, his hand that was going to stop Fiora freezing mid-air as it quivered. His heart and mind were saying one thing, but his body was urging another. With his ejaculation ongoing and no danger to his life, he was forced to submit to his desires and watch Fiora suck him off as his body refused to move to stop this almost taboo pleasure.

"That's my line!" Mingzhi finally came out of her reverie as she screamed, "What the fuck are you doing here!? Get off from him!"

She clenched her fists, seemingly furious as her blush spread to her ear. She couldn't believe the audacity of Fiora to barge in here and take her Davis, much less record them.

Fiora shot a derisive look at Mingzhi as she took his raging member from her mouth, causing his yang essence to fall on her green robe. However, Fiora didn't seem to mind as she glared at Mingzhi.

"Then don't waste it. It's a precious resource that would cause countless women to sacrifice something important, you know?"

"Eh?" Mingzhi became dumbfounded, unable to refute Fiora's statement as she thought the same, but her anger surged like a tidal wave, "We... We aren't talking about that right now! How dare you film me being intimate!? Give me that recording.-"

"Oh that... since you refuse to comply, then wait for some time."

Fiora turned and took his splurging cock into her mouth again, causing Davis to gasp in surging pleasure. On the other hand, Mingzhi's mouth went agape, unable to believe the atrocity that was happening in front of her. She wanted to cause a rampage at the moment but looking at Fiora fiercely suck him off, her own orgasm that hadn't ended resonated with Fiora's actions, making her become limp.

Her anger was overwhelmed by her lust, causing her to be unable to do anything, that tears welled up in her eyes. She abruptly leaped and pushed Fiora off from his thighs before taking his dick into her mouth and returning to her position, only then feeling relieved.

Davis's brain refused to work at this moment, meaning that his lust fully took control despite the chaos occurring. No, it was better said that this random chaos that was filled with two flowers sucking on his thing as though it was rightfully theirs caused his lust to overtake his mind. Only after his ejaculation receded did sanity come back to his mind, and at that moment, he glared at Fiora, causing her to look away, but he could sense the trepidation in her heart causing him to inwardly sigh.

"Fiora, you-"

"Fine, I get it. Here..."

Mingzhi interrupted Davis as she raised her hand and handed over an Imagery Stone, "I know I pushed you to this state by bullying you, so I won't ask why or such stupid questions. Now, hand over what you recorded just now and leave."

Davis recognized the Imagery Stone Mingzhi possessed in her hands. It was the one Fiora walking on his statue's head, which made it seem like she was stepping on his head with a crazed expression on her face, which certainly seemed like a blasphemous thing to do but not to him since he knew what happened as he was watching them play around at that time.

"Bullying me?"

However, Fiora narrowed her eyes, seemingly offended, "Mingzhi, it's true that I wanted to get back at you, but when have I ever truly claimed that you bullied me? When have I ever claimed that you are causing harm to me?"

She took out an Imagery Stone, the one she used just now. before crushing it right in front of their faces, causing Mingzhi to widen her eyes in surprise.

"You can keep your imagery Stone, Mingzhi. Catching you in that strange posture to humiliate you wasn't my intent. It was accidental, but today, I came here to serve husband with you. However, it seems like I mistook you as my closest sister that I would die for. I'll take my leave then."

Fiora trembled, tears seemingly welling up in her eyes as she turned and took a step forward.

"Wait!"

Mingzhi clenched her teeth, looking annoyed. "You can't just barge in here and say that to my face before leaving like nothing happened!"

"You just thought that I was a bitch or a slut to barge in here and do something like that. didn't you? However, I'll have you know that I have only done that with my elder sister and lesha. I was happy to serve him with you, but it seems like we do not share the same thoughts. I'll take my leave as you wish."

Flora shuddered heavily as she took a step forward again to the door. However, a half-naked Mingzhi appeared behind her and grabbed her green robe as she tore it apart with a swing of her hand.

"Uh?"

Flora momentarily didn't know what happened in her chaotic emotion, only realizing a second later that she was stripped clear of her robe with only her underwear remaining. She turned to look around, witnessing an unusually angered Mingzhi.

"Ever heard of humiliation play?"

"Uh?"

"Today, you're going to wish you haven't barged in, Fiora."

Mingzhi's eyes flashed in cold light, causing Fiora to feel a rapid chill flowing through her spine.

"Wait, what?"

Davis opened his mouth in bewilderment as he garnered their attention, both beauties turning to look at him while still being painted in his color. However, humiliation play?

When had he ever accepted doing something like that? What about his consent?

But still, did this mean that Mingzhi accepted Fiora to stay here. or was she going to plan now for Fiora and him to become together another day?

Inwardly, he couldn't help but gulp and wish that it was the former for obvious reasons.

Chapter 2133 First Friend (R-18)

"Humiliation play..?"

Flora didn't get a good feeling about this term, but for some reason, she didn't feel like refusing at all, perhaps even slightly anticipating what it was as her cheeks turned red. On the other hand, Mingzhi turned to look around Davis, who voiced out his surprise that she couldn't help but condescendingly smirk.

"What are you acting for? Isn't this what you would like?" Davis's brows couldn't help but twitch as he stood up, appearing before her and taking her hand.

"Certainly, I would like it without a doubt. However, did you forget my words? I won't let anyone be with us while we're intimate, not without your permission. Although Flora managed to take advantage of our 'weak' moment, if you want to send her away, then I'll do it. Now, what's it going to be?"

Davis's expression was solemn while his voice sounded sincere, causing Mingzhi to feel complex as she pouted.

"You might have your way with words, but I'm not falling for it. I'm only doing this because Fiora is the first friend I made here, as Emine respects me too much. Since Fiora wants to please you with me. I'm merely going along with her wish."

Davis smiled ever so lightly before he turned to look at Fiora, watching her stand with her hands before her ample bosoms while being half-naked, only wearing her underwear.

"What about you, Fiora? I know you have entered to somewhat get back at Mingzhi as you had an Imagery Stone in hand and probably used that to coerce her into serving me together. However, do you really want this? Ask yourselves because I'm not ready to ruin our relationship for a night of fun and intimacy. After all, the way you two will look at each other might change after this..."

"Oh. Is that so?"

Mingzhi turned around and started to push Fiora away, "Since you no longer want Fiora badly, then I don't need to accompany this farce."

"M-m-mingzhi..?"

Flora became dumbfounded, wondering what happened for the sudden change in her heart. However, from her view, she saw an imperceptible wink from Mingzhi while it was not visible from Davis's view. Fiora then understood the assignment and acted sad while Mingzhi brought her near to the door, about to push her out.

However, Davis didn't say anything, merely watching them as though he wasn't disturbed.

Mingzhi unceremoniously pushed Fiora outside and was about to close the door, but just before it could close, she paused and turned to look at him, clenching her teeth.

"You're not using Enigmatic Heart Intent, are you?"

"I'm not using it."

Davis couldn't help but chuckle, causing Mingzhi's cheeks to redden. She shuddered before pulling Flora in and locking the door.

"Fine, you win! You can have your way with us today!"

Davis's eyes flashed with a lustful light before he turned to look at Fiora, his fingers seemed to be twitching ever so lightly from holding back.

"I still haven't heard from you. Fiora."

Fiora shot a look at Mingzhi, her watery eyes gleaming with a sensual intent, "Please make me feel good, husband. Waa~"

Abruptly, both Fiora and Mingzhi flew towards him, their bare legs floating in the air as they fell into Davis's embrace. His hands wrapped around their waist, feeling their soft and supple skin that melted to his touch. At the same time, his head leaned towards the left side and took Fiora's small lips, the slimy texture of her tongue and his intertwining with passion.

However, Davis didn't keep Mingzhi alone. Once he caught their waists and fastened them to his waist as they subconsciously wrapped their long legs around him, his right hand left Mingzhi's waist and began to feel her fair white ass, fondling them to his heart's content before using his middle finger to stroke her tiny bud, causing her eyes to waver.

Looking at his bare neck, Mingzhi leaned forward and began to lick his neck from feeling pleasure, sucking as though trying to leave a territorial mark on his skin.

Davis's hands didn't stay still, wandering almost all sensitive parts of their bodies that they could reach, stirring their desires and relieving them of their awkwardness. Once he took care of Fiora, he leaned right and took Mingzhi's tantalizing lips, exchanging their love juices with passion while Fiora attacked his neck this time.

He couldn't get enough of making out with them at this moment, almost having been bewitched by their taste. Slowly, he arrived above the bed and reclined against the bedrest while holding the two of them. Mingzhi and Fiora possessed shy yet amorous looks on their faces as they each took each side, alternating between kissing his lips and neck, sometimes even stirring his chest with their mouths.

On the other hand, their hands didn't stay still, stroking his rock-hard dick ever so lightly as though making art. The semi-yang essence in their hands was like a lube, making it even more pleasurable for Davis to be touched by them while he also constantly roamed his hand over their bodies, mostly provoking their insides as his fingers entered their honey cave and stirred love juices that wet the sheets.

However, he was more greedy, bringing their faces closer and closer in proximity before he finally caught both their necks with soul force and pressed their heads to his lips, kissing them both simultaneously.

"Mhm...!"

Mingzhi and Fiora belatedly noticed, but their tongues were already captured by him, being made into a sloppy mess as the three of their tongues intertwined.

*Slurp~*

He fiercely sucked off both of their honeyed saliva, thoroughly drunk with their taste. Their combined taste didn't even ruin it but made it more exquisite for him, causing him to fiercely move his fingers inside their fleshy insides.

Mingzhi and Fiora felt drowned in pleasure. Not only was the kissing and slurping sounds make them feel erotic and taboo, but his fingers inside them were also vibrating on their nubs ever so lightly, causing their eyes to almost rollback. Their hands kept dancing on quivering dick, not forgetting to pleasure him as they reached their peak of ecstasy. climaxing together.

"Mhmmm!~~~"

Fiora and Mingzhi shuddered heavily above him as they began to wet the sheets. Without his mouth to suck them off, they thoroughly wet half the bed with their flooding yin essence. Davis was also drenched in their yin essence, but he managed to hold himself back from ejaculating

The girls regained back their sanity in a few minutes and appeared shy, unable to look in each other's eyes.

Davis looked at both of them and smiled lightly, pulling Mingzhi closer as he took her lips again. However, he pushed away Fiora, causing her to blink before she understood his desire because he pushed her head to his lower body.

"Fiora... yes..."

Davis rasped as he kissed Mingzhi heavily, finding his rock-hard member enter a lukewarm hole that caused him to drown in pleasure. Fiora had taken his dick inside her mouth to the very base, his tip twitching inside her throat, and she kept it that way, causing him to even struggle from the pleasure as her throat clenched and massaged his head.

Twenty seconds later, Fiora moved back, having coated his dick in her saliva heavily before she gave him sloppy seconds, sucking him off with passion.

*Slurp!~* *Slurp!~* *Slurp!~*

*Paah~*

"Mhhmmm~~~"

Davis lightly slapped Fiora's cheeky butt, causing her to moan into his dick, the extreme vibration of her windy tunnel causing him to clench his toes. He almost came but managed to hold in, feeling Fiora's lips and tongue caress all the way from the tip to his base.

He felt like he was completely in heaven but not daring to relax as he struck Fiora's ass again, causing her to tremble, but she understood that this was the play for her to be here today, at least according to Mingzhi, and she was determined to please her too.

The erotic sounds of their flesh slap and slurping reached Mingzhi's ears, causing her eyes to tremble as she imagined the scene behind her.

"Do you want to join Fiora?"

Davis let go of Mingzhi, looking at her with a lustful gaze, but Mingzhi shyly looked away.

"I don't remember signing up for humiliation play..."

"I just came back, so I would prefer vanilla over anything, but if I'm going to perform humiliation play, then I'm going to perform it on you both. So, what's it going to be?"

Mingzhi stared at him, her cheeks increasingly becoming crimson before she moved away from his head, appearing in front of his other head.

"...!"

Flora became stunned, not expecting Mingzhi to show up while she was passionately sucking Davis.

*Paah~*

"Ah~"

Mingzhi let out a shocked moan before she turned to look at Davis, feeling her fair white ass tingle with pain and pleasure.

"What are you looking at? Join your sister Fiora in pleasuring me, Mingzhi..."

Davis smirked like an evil villain, causing Mingzhi to clench her teeth.

"You better remember this- mhm~"

However, she quickly bit her lips, sensing his stern yet twisting fingers making a wreck of her insides, occasionally flicking her tiny bud that caused her to shudder once in a while. Glaring at Davis, she moved back her gaze to Fiora, who moved back a bit before Mingzhi extended her tongue out, starting to lick him.

However, the moment Mingzhi's tongue touched Davis, his dick throbbed and spurted a flurry of thick, pure white essence at her face, causing her to become dumbfounded.

Chapter 2134: Cheeky Combo (R-18)

Mingzhi was dumbfounded, and so was Davis. However, he quickly grabbed Mingzhi's head and forced his throbbing dick into her mouth, causing Mingzhi to swallow him halfway before she subconsciously started sucking him. However, her eyes were focused on his sapphire eyes, a mocking smirk hanging on her lips as though she was mocking him for being unable to hold back.

The pride in her eyes glowed like a light bulb, but Davis just patted her head, seemingly praising her for her wonderful work.

"Ah... I made him reach the edge, but you finished him..."

Fiora sadly sighed. However, she didn't stop as her eyes flashed with a playful glint as she leaned and puckered her lips onto his baby-holding sack, starting to suck him off.

"Aaa..."

Davis relaxed all the way as he freely let the two vixens suck his essences, feeling like his life was leaving his body. At this moment, he was completely vulnerable. They could kill him if their weapons could pierce through his forehead, but that's just how much trust and love he possessed for them.

'Well, even if it's humiliation play, it's going to be tame...'

At the same time, Davis couldn't imagine humiliating them for real, for he respected them as his other halves. Even his plan to quickly ejaculate once Mingzhi touched him was meant to not harm her feelings. After all, Mingzhi liked winning when teasing everyone, including him.

He gave her the sweet taste of victory, literally.

*Bzzz!~*

Mingzhi shortly experienced a breakthrough in her Essence Gathering Cultivation even in the Seventh Stage, finally entering Peak-Level Law Dominion Stage.

She extended her tongue out and sucked off the remnant yang essence from his hardness with full-on passion, seemingly appearing to know once again how his yang essence was a crucial substitute for a source of energy. Although she understood that she was taking his vitality and cutting off a tiny portion of his lifespan, she wasn't sorry since he was giving it from feeling erotic pleasure, and since she was receiving it with love and passion, she felt that she could not waste it.

She now understood how Fiora felt when she wasted it a while ago.

"Mingzhi, you didn't leave anything for me."

Fiora pouted, causing Mingzhi to giggle as she pointed the rock-hard member that refused to die toward Fiora.

"If you want, you can take him."

"Then I'll accept the gift~"

Fiora giggled as she stood up, wanting to ride on him as she raised her leg and intended to place it on the other side. However, Davis's strong hands captured both of their heads and pushed them back towards his groin, causing them to stiffen in silence as a tyrannical aura erupted from him.

"What are you two doing? I haven't said that you can have the opportunity to receive my seeds in your wombs."

Davis's voice was cold, his eyes flashing with lightning and flames. The very sight of it caused Fiora and Mingzhi to freeze as their honey caves started to overflow without their permission. It was as though their primal desire to submit was awakened, causing them to extend their tongues out as they started licking the base of his shaft at the same time, working their way up to the tip as they inhaled his manly scent with their twitching nose.

'This shameless fellow... he really is into humiliation play...'

Mingzhi blushed, not even aware that she was charmed into caressing his dick together with Fiora, their lips and tongues completely on him. What she would've usually found embarrassing enough to die now had her heart pounding, wanting to please him more, look at her more than he looked at Fiora.

Fiora possessed similar thoughts, becoming completely enamored.

Their tongues constantly danced on his big rod, giving Davis steady and unceasing pleasure. His sensitive thing that had just ejaculated rose to heights of ecstasy, slowly yet surely. As he neared his end, he caught Fiora's head and turned around, thrusting his dick into one full swing and burying himself deep into her.

However, he didn't stop thrusting inside her slimy throat that was full of vacuum as he ejaculated. He felt like he was being pulled into the abyss, completely in awe of Fiora's technique that his eyes almost rolled back. Meanwhile, Mingzhi could only watch him fuck Fiora's mouth like he was fixated on it.

Fortunately, Davis didn't lose consciousness. Otherwise, Mingzhi would've become angry that he preferred Fiora more than her.

*Bzzz!~*

Nonetheless, Fiora also experienced a breakthrough as she circulated the Yin-Yang Merit Sutra, entering Peak-Level Law Dominion Stage.

Once Davis let out his desire inside Fiora and had her breakthrough, he turned around and ripped apart Mingzhi's underwear, causing her to become naked as her breasts bounced in front of Fiora's surprised gaze as though she didn't expect Mingzhi to be packing such a heavy hitter.

"Ah~"

He pushed Mingzhi onto the bed and spread Mingzhi's legs into a slanted V-shape, forcing his thing into her wet honey pot, hitting her balls deep as his thighs slapped her fair white ass.

"Aaan~~~"

Mingzhi was overcome with a pleasure that surged to the very back of her mind, making her recall this feeling of being penetrated by him with fond memories that she reached out her hands, wanting to be embraced lovingly. However, Davis didn't take her hands but captured her wrists, pressing her down as he began to pound her with a passionate fury.

*Paaah!~* *Paaah!~* *Paaah!~*

"Aaa!? Wha- Waaaaa!~~ Uhn!~~ Aaaah!~"

Davis's throbbing member penetrated Mingzhi in and out while his lips clamped onto her neck pure white neck as he sucked, causing her to let out wild cries. She was completely suppressed by his bigger build, feeling the heat and the passion behind his thrusts searing into her very soul.

His sensual and hard thrusts lasted for five minutes, causing Fiora to become dumbfounded. She saw Mingzhi wetting the bed again, meaning that she had orgasmed, but Davis was still fucking her to no end. But at this moment, he suddenly stood and lifted Mingzhi's ass up and began to pound her from above, his waist rising up and down.

The heart-racing thing for Fiora was that she could clearly see the place they were connected, and with each thrust, Mingzhi squirted like a fountain while leaking wild cries. Fiora couldn't help but touch herself, unable to hold back before she arrived before Davis, looking at him with an imploring expression on her face.

Davis's face was warped in pleasure as he saw Fiora plead. He didn't stop fucking Mingzhi but used his soul force to carry Fiora and twist her body, causing her to become upside down as Davis wrapped his arm around Mingzhi's legs and Fiora's waist before groping her ample butt cheeks.

*Slurp!~*

"Aaan!~"

Abruptly, Fiora let out a crazed moan as she bent her waist, almost slipping out but capturing something to balance herself.

"...!"

To her shock, that so happened to be Mingzhi, who was below her, getting fucked from above as her body bent at a strange angle. However, what made her shudder was that her face was only inches away from Mingzhi's face at the junction of Davis thrusting down.

In other words, Fiora was getting eaten out while looking at Mingzhi's face, which was warped in pleasure and shock.

"Give me your yin essence while looking at yourselves as you go crazy with pleasure, Mingzhi and Fiora."

His words resounded in their ears like a spell, causing their faces to warp in ecstasy.

Davis locked the two cheeky women in position and thrust his hips up and down, penetrating Mingzhi's tight hole while sucking Fiora's honeyed juices with extreme passion. His erotic actions caused Mingzhi to orgasm again while Fiora was reaching her peak quickly, especially as she saw Mingzhi go wild and take her lips as though to hide her embarrassment.

"Mhmmm!!~::~"

Fiora was dumbstruck in both mind and soul that she orgasmed, hysterically shuddering while she had her honey sucked off by her husband wildly.

*Splurt!~*

Davis spectacularly came inside Mingzhi with one last thrust, causing even a wild sound to echo as he planted his seeds inside her womb, filling her up with his yang essence. They were having unprotected sex, so it was possible to make Mingzhi pregnant if he was lucky, but this upside-down position allowed Mingzhi to thoroughly feel his seeds entering her womb, causing her to orgasm again.

In these fifteen minutes of penetration, she orgasmed for the third time, letting go of Fiora from exhaustion.

"...!"

However, Fiora forcefully captured Mingzhi's cheeks with her hands and joined lips again, kissing her with an unknown passion as though returning the humiliation.

After some time, Davis let the both of them go as they fell on each other, with Fiora at the top and Mingzhi below, seemingly exhausted. However, Davis didn't let them go as he saw this scene. He reached out his hand, tearing Fiora's innerwear, and made them both naked.

At the same time, he got between the two of their legs and positioned his rock-hard dick that still hadn't gone limp after the first time it went up, entering Fiora's cave hole as he felt her fleshly walls tightly hold onto him.

"Aaaa~"

"Hsss."

Fiora moaned while Davis hissed, feeling his senses overload as he could feel every part of her willing to hold onto him for life. He leaned onto them, wrapping his arms around their two supple bodies as he turned Fiora's head while grabbing her hair, revealing Mingzhi's embarrassed expression in his eyes.

"This is what it means to share a bed. All boundaries are easily breakable, and that's why you must come here with determination and willingness to accept yourselves and since you're here, let's share our pleasure together."

"Yes, husband~~~"

Mingzhi and Fiora meekly answered, becoming willing underneath his thick and blazing desire as they kissed simultaneously, their tongues rolling around each other's lips as they exchanged their love.

Davis sandwiched the two of them and pounded them from behind for an entire hour, alternating between their cave holes that accommodated his thrusts with utter ecstasy while their lips were connected the whole time. At first, they were doing it for pleasure, but halfway, it turned into a dual cultivation session.

After that, he had them twisting and turning on top of him. Sometimes their legs and arms would intertwine as they pleasure each other with their heads and lower bodies, turning the bed into an altar of carnal dance. The more they did it, the more two cheeky women became bold, scissoring his member in between with their cave holes as their breasts bounced and using those same breasts to clean his member before sucking him at the same time and watching him explode as they giggled for getting back at him.

For two days and three nights, they stuck their bodies together, indulging themselves in carnal desire and dual cultivation, experiencing repeated breakthroughs.

Chapter 2135: Retaining

Slightly before dawn, Davis, Fiora, and Mingzhi finished their nightly activities and slept for a few hours while cuddling together before waking up in the morning. They washed and wore their attires, walking out hand in hand while being stuck together with him, still unable to forget the pleasure they were imbued with in these few days.

"There's no one here..."

"Excellent..."

Fortunately, there was no one outside to ambush and tease the living soul out of them, so the two of them left to practice after giving Davis a shy kiss on his cheeks while giggling.

Davis rubbed his cheeks with fondness as he recalled being sandwiched by them all day before he left the palace, choosing to deal with the others later. But at the exit, he saw a familiar silhouette of a woman he hadn't seen for a while.

He went ahead and hugged her intimately, giving her lots of kisses on her cheeks while she licked Davis on the face before passionately kissing as they intertwined their tongues. Half a minute later, the pale face of the woman was full of crimson hue, seemingly looking at him with an adorable expression of a puppy, possessing fond eyes.

"Nadia, I missed you."

"Me too, master."

Nadia uttered in a soft voice while hugging him, her voice overflowing with happiness that Davis couldn't help but raise his hand and pat her head, running his fingers through her silky black hair.

"I see you've been waiting for me like a good girl. Yet, you also managed to enter the Peak-Level Emperor Beast Stage. Excellent!"

"Mhm~"

He praised Nadia, causing her to smile satisfactorily. On the other hand, Davis's smiling expression faded, replaced with a bit of awkwardness.

"Nadia, what do you think about marrying in the Magical Beast Sanctuary City? Are you still interested?"

Nadia blinked, nodding ever so lightly.

'Haha... as expected...' Her reaction caused Davis to dryly smile.

"However... can we marry in the immortal world...?"

"Hhm?"

Davis's brows narrowed as he saw Nadia utter with some trepidation in her heart before lowering her head and continuing to speak.

"I think... no, I feel that I can become an immortal beast as soon as I reach the peak of this level but also retain my King-Tier Bloodline after becoming immortalized, so I don't want to lose my primal yin essence yet..."

"Oh?"

Davis became flabbergasted.

Retain her King-Tier Bloodline even after becoming an immortal beast? If he recalled correctly, the breakthrough of a stage resulted in bloodline degradation in most cases. However, it seemed like Nadia was able to retain her uniqueness, but she was afraid that if she lost her primal yin essence, it would result in her being unable to retain her King-Tier Bloodline.

"Did you realize this after hitting the Peak-Level Emperor Beast Stage...?"

"Mhm... it just became relevant to me then, my instincts warning me to not mate during this time."

Nadia hurriedly nodded. However, she looked as though she suddenly realized something and cried out, "H-However, if master likes to marry and mate with me now, then I would unhesitatingly agree!"

Davis couldn't help but smile at her panicked expression.

"Nadia, how could I harm your advancement? But this is also good. I've been lacking time nowadays and only have time to deal with a few matters that couldn't be postponed. You're certainly alright with postponing our union, so we'll delay it to the time when we get to the immortal world. What do you say?"

Nadia gasped, her face blossoming into a wide smile.

"I agree!"

"Good girl!"

Davis caught her neck and once again smeared a hot kiss on her lips. This kind of tryst near the entrance had them both passionately exchanging their love for each other. A minute later, Nadia seemed like she wanted to rest and returned to her favorite home in his soul sea. However, she narrowed her brows, looking at an arc of black-silver lightning flashing past her shelter from the metaphorical windows.

She couldn't help but feel a bit of pressure as that black-silver ray rushed past her freely.

"Master... has Eldia become stronger than me?"

"She did, but don't worry, Nadia. I'll look for a way to boost your bloodline to Emperor-Tier. You have my word."

Davis told her while leaving the palace. Nadia didn't say anything else, causing Davis to inwardly sigh at the difference in powers. Once, Nadia was the strongest of them all, and now, even with her King-Tier Bloodline, she wasn't as strong as them. Evelyn, Eldia, Natalya, and Shirley have all surpassed her in prowess, and even Lea was going to catch up soon as Shirley has shared the remaining drops of Fire Phoenix Blood Essences with her.

Therefore, he could understand Nadia's feelings about this matter. No one liked to be weak, especially after they had touched the peak once. However, what could he do at the moment? He had already looked into her matter, investigating the entire bestiary of the Fifty-Two Territories but could not find a single mention of Nadia's species, causing him to come to the conclusion that she was the very first of her species.

'The only person left to consult is Myria, I guess...'

Davis looked down on himself, finding himself highly shameless to be relying on her vast knowledge when he hit a dead end. He was afraid that it was becoming a habit already.

However, that was not the problem.

After all, the more he owed Myria, the more the karmic binding on him to her would increase, causing the promissory note she possessed of him to be capable of doing untold things to him. Perhaps, once it reached a certain level, she could even wrest away Fallen Heaven from him. However, that probably required an extreme amount of debt from him, so he wasn't worried, but she could very well do other things, make things entirely difficult for him, causing him to be pushed into dire straits and forced to make decisions that invite tragedy into his life.

However, that was how much her vast knowledge held value to him.

Without risking it, he could gain nothing. Without her knowledge, he wouldn't have smoothly arrived at this level of prowess either, so when he thought about it, it was exactly as: nothing ventured, nothing gained.

'Still, I should be careful of accumulating more debt to her...'

Davis thought, not willing to waste a few chances to understand. As for asking Fallen Heaven, he could forget about it. Its knowledge in identifying species was nearly not even as good as a three-year-old with basic knowledge. Back then, he could tell that it held disdain towards life, so it was only interested in gaining knowledge about cultivation.

However, he could also tell that the immortals fooled it by giving it little knowledge for a kill or so.

For example, Fallen Heaven's knowledge did not describe the Transitory Beast Taming Pact's functions at all. There wasn't a hint of what it entailed and its side effects, only having the method to use it. Like this, many other techniques suffered from missing details.

Perhaps, that's why Fallen Heaven carried knowledge that was half complete and lacking much information, or so he concluded after Myria reminded him that Natalya was practicing a cultivation manual that she shouldn't have. Otherwise, even Fallen Heaven would've warned him with how it was treating him.

Similarly, he hadn't bothered using his chances to learn about cultivation knowledge from it. The only thing that Fallen Heaven was more knowledgeable about was the soul, but it didn't even know about Supreme Immortal Sigils, allowing him to perceive that its knowledge was limited or limited to the immortal level as it claimed to have dealt with immortals.

However, Fallen Heaven was intelligent in his eyes, so it must've understood that it was being duped, so it was possible that the knowledge extracted from those immortals was incomplete in the first place.

That's why he hadn't bothered using his chances to ask Fallen Heaven anymore.

In any case, he wasn't willing to ask Myria about this matter and bet his chances on finding a clue in the immortal world, appearing in front of the mansion as he saw a dark-green-robed figure rising above it before they opened their mouth.

"You came here to visit me?"

Chapter 2136: First Try

"Well, kind of."

Davis answered the dark-green-robed figure in front of him, "The main reason I came here is to fulfill the words I gave to you, Ivy."

Ivy Aries's sapphire eyes lit up, "You're finally up for it?"

However, she couldn't help but slightly notice Davis's aura hidden, her expression becoming confused, but she didn't ponder too much on it, thinking that no one would dare to impersonate him in the Grand Alstreim City.

"Then I'll rely on you, Davis."

She slightly giggled, looking elated to see him take action in four months instead of the year she thought she had to wait. Besides, his face was also handsome to look at, causing her to be in a good mood after some months of seclusion.

"Let's go."

Davis nodded and took her to Hadian and Mulia's mansion. There, they found the baby they were looking for, Rias. She was ancestor Aries's reincarnation, or so they concluded after realizing that the Viridian Afterlife Path Tree's Branch pointed at her.

She was only four months old, but Davis seemed like he had waited enough. As for Ivy Aries, she was more than happy to do this action sooner. For one, she couldn't wait nine years and decided to do this in a year. The other reason was that accidents could happen, and she couldn't afford to lose her ancestor she adored and respected, especially in this era of the Calamity Light.

However, they didn't enter the mansion but kidnapped Rias as they put Hadian, Mulia, and Klessa in an illusion without them even coming to realize it.

"I apologize, you two..."

Davis sadly uttered but his eyes were determined, "I promise that I won't hurt her."

His Illusion Laws were still at Elementary Intent. However, with the prowess of his soul force, it was unlikely that they could break out of the illusion by themselves.

As for why he didn't speak with them, no parent would accept that their child was a vessel to an incarnation. They would have to go through agony and arrive at helplessness in order to accept such a conclusion, and Davis had seen it first hand when he witnessed Claire and Logan accept him after mulling on it with all their heart.

Ivy Aries watched Davis kidnap Rias from her crib with a complex expression on her face, berating herself for not having the courage to do such an immoral thing. She silently followed Davis, trailing behind him with unjustifiable guilt in her heart because she had never done a single bad thing in her life, and yet, the first thing she was doing to revive her ancestor was to kidnap a baby.

Soon, they arrived back at her mansion. However, Davis simply gave the baby to her, causing her to become stiff as a stone as she held Rias in her arms before she saw him open his mouth.

"Don't bring out the branch, at least, not yet."

Ivy Aries pursed her lips before she lightly nodded her head, "Mhm..."

Davis nodded before turning around and leaving, causing Ivy Aries to blink, wondering where he went. She didn't want to do this alone, becoming worried, but the moment she saw the baby in her arms reach out for her face as though wanting to be embraced by her, her eyes couldn't help but tear up.

'What... what am I doing...?'

Immense guilt flooded her heart as she gazed at the innocent little Rias cling onto her, whimpering adorable noises. At this moment, she even had the thought of abandoning her plan to revive ancestor Aries, but it was a mere ripple in her determination, causing her to forcefully smile as she caressed Rias's cheeks.

"You are ancestor Aries, and ancestor Aries is you. You're only regaining the memories of your previous life, okay?"

Two drops of tears fell from her eyes before she devoured them, sucked into her pores before being refined. She played with the baby for some time before Davis finally arrived before her. However, grabbing his hand was a little boy with an absent-minded expression on his face, seemingly caught in an illusion.

"This is...?"

Ivy Aries couldn't help but ask. However, Davis didn't say anything and took the baby from her embrace. Ivy Aries hesitated, but in the end, she obediently handed Rias over to Davis, allowing him to cradle her before he placed the baby in the little boy's arms.

Rias innocently roamed her tiny hands over the little boy's face, but he seemed to be oblivious, staring at the empty space with an absent-minded expression on his face.

At this moment, Davis activated Fallen Heaven's karmic prowess again, but he was still unable to see a thread connecting them. However, he didn't lose heart, taking a deep breath before he turned to look at Ivy Aries.

"Ivy, hand them the branch and hide."

"Huh?"

Ivy Aries released a sound of bewilderment, and when she wanted to clarify, Davis had already disappeared from her gaze, causing her to tremble as her gaze roamed between the little boy and the baby.

'At least explain...'

She inwardly sighed before taking out the branch that glowed in a soft viridian light, staring at it for a few seconds before she gave it to Rias, who was reaching out for the shiny object as though it attracted her deeply as she smiled ever so lightly.

The moment the viridian branch made contact with Rias, the heaven and earth energy reverberated.

Looking at this phenomenon, Ivy Aries became worried but quickly fled, as Davis said, not wanting to ruin the process. At the same time, Davis released the little boy from the illusion he was trapped in. The two children abruptly became illuminated by that viridian light as it twisted and churned between them, encasing them in its transient aura.

Davis and Ivy Aries watched this scene with wide eyes, their figures trembling for their own reasons.

Amidst the viridian glow of the branch that encased the two children, the little boy turned to look at the baby, his eyes becoming filled with tears as his lips quivered.

"A-Aries..."

Ivy Aries was shocked to see the little boy call out her ancestor's name, but the next moment, she became convinced that he was probably Garvin Woller's reincarnation. Otherwise, she couldn't make sense of this situation unless Davis controlled that little boy.

However, Davis wasn't controlling anyone. He looked at the two children with utter concentration, trying to comprehend the essence of this phenomenon. He noticed Rellow Alstreim recognize ancestor Aries even in the form of another incarnation while possessing little semblance as a baby. He saw Rias recognize Rellow Alstreim as Garvin Woller despite Rias not saying anything, only having her mouth agape as tears silently fell from her eyes.

Obviously, their memories had returned, and he was sure that they were connected by fate as a red thread appeared between them. However, once the viridian light faded, Rellow Alstreim began to wobble on the ground before he stood straight, casting a look at Rias with narrowed eyes.

"Aries...? I called her Aries...? Why is that? I don't even know her..."

"Mother... why am I even holding a baby? Where am I...?"

Rellow Alstreim couldn't help but tremble, turning around to see where he was in fright. However, his footing was misplaced, and he fell with the baby but halfway before he could reach the ground, the slim arm of Ivy Aries caught them.

"Big... sister... who are yo-?"

Before Rellow Alstreim could even finish the sentence, he seemingly lost consciousness.

Ivy Aries laid them down on a sofa before she looked at Rias glare at her.

"Little Ivy... it's you..."

The baby voice of Rias resounded adorably, causing Ivy Aries's expression to blossom into a wide smile as her facial muscles trembled.

"Ancestor... you're back. Thank the heavens~"

Two tears overflowed from Ivy Aries's eyes. She looked away, wanting to thank Davis, but she couldn't find him, making her think that he was still hidden for some reason she couldn't understand. However, she was too excited to think about it, returning her gaze to ancestor Aries as she asked.

"Ancestor, do you still remember everything?"

"I... do..."

Rias cutely answered, causing Ivy Aries to almost hop in joy before she pointed at the little boy.

"Ancestor, I think that's ancestor Garvin."

"Mhm... I think so too... Our souls... resonated at that moment... causing him to... remember me... but... he quickly forgot me..."

Rias's adorable voice became tinged with sorrow, not knowing how to feel about this matter as she had just reunited with Garvin Woller miraculously, and yet, he seemingly forgot her as though it was just a temporary phenomenon.

*Bzzzz~*

At this moment, they could feel the heaven and earth energy reverberate slightly as it did before, causing the both of them to look at an empty space where the silhouette of a purple-robed man became visible.

Chapter 2137: Verified Understanding

Ivy Aries and ancestor Aries seemed shocked at this phenomenon at first, including recognizing the purple-robed man at the center of the heaven and earth energy resonance a second later, but the both of them instantly understood what Davis was doing.

'I see... so this is what he meant by an experiment...'

Using them to gain insights into a Law. If it was just that, they were relieved as it was not like anything evil like they feared. After all, the title he possessed wasn't for merriment.

Ten minutes later, Davis walked out of the space he had hidden. The resonance of the heaven and earth energy had disturbed his concealment. However, he was glad to know that his other comprehensions weren't impeded by the heavens.

After all, he had already exceeded the restriction imposed on all life for comprehending Laws, so he was worried that he was going to be ostracized all his life. What if it caused him to be unable to comprehend Laws until he could gain something of heavenly nature?

That would not only suck but cause him to rely on his soul forever.

Nonetheless, there was a proud smirk on his face, having benefited a lot from this endeavor as he had planned to.

'Well, my Karma Laws increased drastically, allowing me to comprehend Level One Intent of Karma Laws, but as for Reincarnation Laws, I only managed to gain a bit of insight, but clearly, that's not enough... it's a pity...'

Davis couldn't help but smile dryly. Even with his plans to revive ancestor Aries, that kind of transient experience wasn't enough to allow him to comprehend Reincarnation Laws. However, that was expected, considering what he was trying to comprehend was categorized as a Supreme Law and the most difficult to comprehend out of all the Laws under Supreme Laws.

As for learning Level One Karma Intent, he had eight minor resonances at this moment and a major resonance, allowing him to officially have stepped into the ranks of having learned Karma Laws. After all, Karma Laws was a Greater Law. Only after having learned a Level One Intent of Greater Law could cultivators be considered to have officially comprehended a Greater Law.

On the other hand, minor resonances were only nominal comprehension. They were not considered to be full-fledged and hence, the differentiation between Greater Laws and Primary Laws.

Still, Davis hadn't given up, nor did he feel disheartened.

'It seems like I have to move to the second step and awaken a certain someone from slumber...'

As he confidently thought, he appeared in front of the dumbfounded Ivy Aries and ancestor Aries, their expressions looking frightened to death. The Jade Pearl Ravenous Lotus on top of Ivy Aries's head glowed with a dark viridian light, radiating a hostile intent.

Davis blinked before he realized.

"Oh, excuse me. Recently, I had a breakthrough, and that caused my aura to drastically change, becoming more tyrannical. I do apologize for the inconvenience caused, especially for scaring ancestor Aries who has become a baby..."

He couldn't help but chuckle, making the both of them awkwardly smile along with him.

"It's fine."

Ivy Aries lightly smiled and bowed while clasping her hands, "Thank you, Emperor of Death. Your words are as pure as jade and heavy as the mountains, accomplishing what you said without a change in heart or desire."

"As I said, we both stand to gain in this endeavor."

The both of them nodded before Ivy Aries bowed once again, thanking him before pointing at the fainted figure on the sofa.

"Is this little boy truly ancestor Garvin?"

"Indeed. His name is Rellow Alstreim, and I had a hunch that he was the next incarnation of my teacher, Garvin, the moment I saw him, but now, I've practically confirmed it with my capability."

Ivy Aries's eyes shone with a romantic light as she turned to look at her ancestor.

"Ancestor Aries, did you hear that? This little guy is indeed ancestor Garvin!~"

"Isn't that... what I said...? However, it's more reassuring... to have the person who... made this possible agree... with... my opinion..."

Davis's lips couldn't help but quiver, almost having him rolling around laughing as he saw the baby talk happily. It was slightly creepy but still cute. Nonetheless, his expression couldn't help but churn with seriousness.

"I know ancestor Aries has regained her memories, but it isn't likely the case for ancestor Garvin as far as I've seen. I have a valid hypothesis as to why Rellow Alstreim recognized ancestor Aries. It's because the phenomenon that allowed you to regain back your memories induced the previous lives memories of Rellow Alstreim. However, there is also the power of karma at play here."

"The Viridian Afterlife Path Fruit has a limitation of recovering one's memories before the one who consumed the fruit and reincarnated turned ten. In the same way, there are stories of some children occasionally remembering the events of their previous life as though it is hidden deep in their memories, no, in the soul."

"I assume that these previous life memories are just remnants that would disappear with the passage of time. Moreover, even though our souls may have these remnant memories, most don't even remember a glimpse of their past, but some do. Even if they don't remember, it is still present deep in their souls for a few years, perhaps till nine to eighteen years of age. That's why upon encountering the resonation of ancestor Aries's returning memories, the strong karmic connection between you and Old Man Garvin allowed Rellow Alstreim to temporarily recall his past that was still hidden in his soul."

"This is my hypothesis, but I'm fairly sure that it is true. Otherwise, the heaven and earth energy wouldn't have resonated with me again and again if my understanding was totally false."

Davis held his chin the whole time before he finished his monologue, focusing his gaze on them as he saw their expressions.

"..."

Ivy Aries was thoroughly dumbfounded, while the little Rias had a similar yet amusing reaction. They were considered erudite about many things but couldn't help but feel impressed in their hearts because of the immense knowledge the young man possessed.

Chapter 2138: As Though Nothing Had Happened

Davis could feel their awe, causing him to wryly smile as he felt that this wasn't enough. After all, he had to have more understanding and comprehension if he wanted to survive in the future. He turned to look at Rellow Alstreim, wondering what to do with him.

Obviously, he had kidnapped Rellow Alstreim without anyone coming to know about it, again using his soul force to perform Illusion Laws on everyone around him.

Back then, when he shared comprehension clouds of the Three-Eyed White Serpent with Evelyn, he also got some vague insights that helped him reach Elementary Intent in Illusion Laws for the soul, not to mention that he had also gained comprehension in Poison Laws as well, reaching Elementary Intent.

After all, he gained knowledge of poison so that he could help Evelyn develop learn Poison Laws and develop antidotes for her poison back then so that she didn't harm herself when it comes to using poison, but after she became a fey and her blood could easily resist most poisons, there was no need for that. Still, combined with those comprehension clouds, he did gain Elementary Intent of Poison Laws and Illusion Laws for his soul.

Nonetheless, Rellow Alstreim didn't seem like he had gained his memories back, so he returned his gaze to them and spoke.

"Ivy, I'm going to return Rellow Alstreim back to his father and mother as though nothing had happened. What about you? I suggest that you return ancestor Alstreim back to her new parents. She's still a baby, after all."

Ivy Aries couldn't help but blink as she smiled wryly, "You decided already, so you won't take no for an answer..."

"I guess so..." Davis perfunctorily nodded, "We would've been lucky if ancestor Aries's parents were some vile people, but it was even worse. I know them personally, so it's rather guilt-inducing for me if I took their child away. Besides, Rias and Rellow Alstreim are practically neighbors, so there's no need to worry about them becoming together in the future."

"I agree... with the lad... I'll stay with father and mother... and when I grow up... I will... without a doubt... make Rellow... my Garvin... my husband..."

Ancestor Aries slowly echoed with heartfelt words, causing Davis to nod heavily.

"Good."

"Well, since both you and ancestor decided, it looks like I don't have a say in this matter."

Ivy Aries shook her head, seemingly drooping her shoulders with some melancholy. She had finally managed to revive her ancestor with the help of Davis, but it seemed like her ancestor trusted Davis more than her. It was a complex feeling that swiveled inside her heart, making her unable to understand what she truly felt as she looked at him.

"You're free to stay here and look after them, but the consequences are anything but good if you use your full prowess here, no matter the reason. Then, see you later."

Davis walked to ancestor Aries and Rellow Alstreim, about to take them back. He reached out his hands when a hand suddenly grabbed his wrist, causing him to look at the perpetrator.

"What's wrong?"

"Uhm, ancestor is rather conservative, and she's practically naked with only a piece of cloth covering her, so let me hold her."

'Didn't I just hold her while taking her out? Besides, she's just a baby!'

Davis almost rolled his eyes, but he kept his face nonchalant as he nodded his head, "Alright."

"Hehe~"

Ivy Aries awkwardly giggled before she cradled ancestor Aries in her arms, slightly feeling the sensation of touching him in her palm, making her blush ever so lightly. As a woman of the Jade Lotus Valley, she hadn't touched a single man in her life, much less held their hand or arm.

That's why she had also volunteered to hold her ancestor, but the very feeling of his hand caused her to feel strange.

Nonetheless, they both took Rellow Alstreim and Rias back to their homes and stopped using illusion on them. Rias instantly slept as though she was tired, while Rellow Alstreim woke up and scratched his head as though wondering if he had dreamed all that happened before his eyes. However, no one else realized anything out of place, making Davis understand why people were able to abduct Natalya back then without allowing her family to realize it.

Illusion Laws were truly a terrifying thing to encounter.

Who knows how many countless people were fooled because of it, especially because of the Yantras who were said to be masters in it?

Nevertheless, he thought of visiting Hadian and Lucas to talk about some old matters. However, he lacked the time and decided not to visit but instead decided to send them some resources for them to improve their cultivations. Besides, he was already helping Uncle Daniuis's family anyway, so helping Lucas additionally was just icing on the cake.

After he settled this matter, Davis bid farewell to Ivy Aries, coming and going as he pleased. The very sight of it caused Ivy Aries to wryly smile, making her wonder if her physique was truly detested by the men of this world. Nonetheless, she left the Grand Alstreim City and returned to the Jade Lotus Valley as she had many things left to do.

Davis returned to the Mortal Hex Emperor Purple Palace and enjoyed the company of his women in the main hall, eating exotic delicacies and swallowing exquisite drinks known in the Fifty-Two Territories. He lavishly spent his spirit stones, allowing his family to enjoy the best of their lives.

The next few days were spent with Evelyynn, Natalya, Iesha, Zestria, Bylai, and Lea individually on the bed, thoroughly satisfying his and their natural yet erotic desires, and just as he went searching for Tanya, he sensed a black-robed figure leaving the palace.

He set his sights on that figure, following them to the Blood Pledge Villa Territory before appearing at the headquarters of the Blood Pledge Villa.

The city was covered in a bloody hue because of red lanterns hanging all over the place, not to mention that the skies were blood-red, the remnant energy of the Blood Dust Emperor of yonder revolving above as though it was the source.

But at this moment, that black-robed figure stood in mid-air above the city, its lips moving.

"Villa Master, come out and face your death!~"

Chapter 2139: Return Of The Blood Demoness

"...!"

The wicked path experts of the Blood Pledge Villa suddenly felt an overwhelming chill in their hearts as they looked at the skies. Even the powerhouses trembled from that feminine bellow as they could sense overwhelming killing intent imbued in it.

"Who dares to be so impudent in my Blood Pledge Villa!?"

Abruptly, a red-robed cultivator unnervingly shot into the skies, his expression becoming befuddled with rage as he took out two scimitars in each hand and brandished them at the black-robed figure standing unarmed. His undulations could be instantly recognized, hovering at the Low-Level Law Rune Stage.

The black-robed figure merely raised their brows, recognizing that the red-robed man hurling at them was from the same school of weapon arts as they dual-wielded.

However, it seemed like the black-robed figure didn't do anything as the red-robed man's scimitars ran through them before rushing past their body. But, what the people saw had them chilled to the core.

They saw the red-robed man being split apart into many pieces in mid-air, silently dying without making a sound. The pieces of flesh hit the surface, and the ones who could see it saw that it was finely cut as though a fish was perfectly sliced into many portions, causing them to reel in disbelief. After all, the red-robed man was one of their newly recruited Elder who was promising, possessing a prowess that was a level higher as he possessed a Magnificent Rune!

"Yo-Young Blood Demoness...!"

Another red-robed man on one of the many palaces uttered with fright. He was none other than Alakyen, a Low-Level Law Rune Stage Powerhouse who chased Davis when he kidnapped the Young Blood Demoness, only to be hurled and fooled like a little kid chasing around empty clues.

Nonetheless, his words instantly made some people who couldn't recognize the black-robed woman recall her.

The black-robed figure was none other than Schleya, their Young Blood Demoness who had escaped after having been supposedly defiled by an unknown powerhouse. However, during the events of the earth-shattering Nine Western Territories Competition, they knew that their exiled Young Blood Demoness had joined the Emperor of Death's power and ranked in the top ten, even amongst the many terrifying geniuses that appeared.

She was the only wicked path expert to participate in a righteous path competition, making them all laugh. Her actions brought pride to their Blood Pledge Villa, but how could they even claim her as one of their own since they exiled her and even hunted her down?

Quickly, it became awkward for them to even talk about her. However, she returned with a bloody and overbearing killing intent seeping from her slim yet deadly figure, causing Alakyen and all of them to tremble in trepidation.

At this moment, two black-white-robed figures ascended to the skies. However, they didn't rise to Schleya's level, keeping themselves of lower stature.

"Young Blood Demoness, please calm down and heed our words."

"Yes, please quell your anger. We're aware of our wrongs, so please punish us. As long as the Young Blood Demoness could return, our Blood Pledge Villa will have produced a grand character, striking fear into the hearts of the righteous path people."

They went on their knees and begged, repeatedly kowtowing as though there was no end. The cultivators below became shocked to see two of their strongest Elders ask for forgiveness as they kowtowed. They were none other than the Veinblood Rune Protector and the Windblade Rune Protector, both incredibly strong.

They were once Mid-Level Law Rune Stage Powerhouses, but now, they had entered High-Level Law Rune Stage, becoming influential and more respected. Alakya had also entered Mid-Level Law Rune Stage, making it so that it could be seen that they have improved in this calamitous era more or less. But still, for an elder who has lived for so many years to kowtow, they were astonished by the influence the Young Blood Demoness still held.

"This isn't about the Blood Pledge Villa and its rules. You all chased to kill me, and whoever stepped in front of me with their blades raised was killed by me. This is my vengeance against the Villa Master, so scram."

Schleya's nonchalant voice echoed as her crimson-black hair swayed in the air ever so lightly. However, it caused the expressions of the Veinblood Rune Protector and the Windblade Rune Protector to churn. They stood up and gestured together.

"Then, we'll take the Young Blood Demoness to Villa Master. Please..."

Schleya didn't say anything and arrived before them. The two of them turned around and led her towards the Villa Master's humongous mansion. But suddenly, their bodies moved like a ghost as they backtracked their steps without making a sound, their afterimages still walking in front of the unaware Schleya. Simultaneously, they struck out by swinging their hands, blood blades bearing the properties of wind and the vicissitude of life striking Schleya's back.

*Bang!~*

However, Schleya's Crescentblood blades appeared at this moment in her palms as she easily sliced through those attacks, and before her hands could even perform a full swing, she swung her blades at the two Protectors.

"...!"

The Veinblood Rune Protector and the Windblade Rune Protector's scalps turned numb with fright. However, when they realized, Schleya's twin blades were already stuck in their stomachs, causing their old eyes to tremble heavily.

"No..."

"This... this can't be happening..."

Both of them radiated immense fear and disbelief in their eyes as they saw their cultivations seeping away from them little by little. The immensity of their High-Level Law Rune Stage undulations caused the space to shudder.

Blood also poured out in copious amounts as it drenched their black-white robes, the both of them spitting a mouthful of blood.

*Puchi!~*

The next moment, the Crescentblood blades split the both of them into two halves and returned to Schleya, making it so that she killed two High-Level Law Rune Stage, a man, and a woman, without offering the slightest hint of mercy, displaying utter ruthlessness.

"A fitting end for the Villa Master's dogs."

She coldly spoke and glanced at Alakyen, causing him to take a step back, almost tripping from moving unsteadily. However, she didn't look at him but saw a young man with pale features looking at her with incredulity and a tinge of disgust. Taking a step forward, she disappeared and appeared in front of him, taking a good look at his familiar face with killing intent seeping from her eyes.

"Wa-Wait...! Schleya...! I'm your fiancée...!"

A dashing crimson-robed man stepped back, his expression appearing frightened as he raised his hands. He wryly smiled after having reminded Schleya of his position as the Young Villa Master of the Blood Pledge Villa.

"You can come back to us, back to me. I will accept you wholeheartedly as I always have."

He patted his chest as though he would accept all responsibilities. However, he vaguely saw Schleya's expression visibly contort behind her veil before returning to normalcy, causing him to be unable to understand what she was thinking. However, he wasn't worried as he found her enigmatic and embodied the beauty of the blood he desired, still wanting her for her exquisite and shapely body.

But at this moment, Schleya opened her mouth as she spoke.

"Time and time again, I have said to you that I'm not interested, and any man who wants me needs to taste my blade first. However, I take those words back."

"Why?"

The Young Villa Master couldn't help but ask with a difficult smile on his face when he suddenly saw her arm swing down on him. She was slow, and it felt like an eternity to him, allowing him to see it coming easily, and yet, he couldn't dodge for some reason, feeling his blood weigh on his body like a mountain.

"Because... you don't need to know..."

*Puchi!~*

Blood gushed out of his right that was cleaved into two, causing him to throw his head and release a painful scream.

"Ahhhhh!~~~*

His voice resounded throughout the Blood Pledge Villa's city, but it didn't die as Schleya slowly yet surely butchered him, making carvings within his flesh. It was as though it was done to teach him an unforgettable lesson, but her true intent was to summon out the Young Villa Master's grandfather, the Villa Master of the Blood Pledge Villa.

"Daughter of Vitalichor. You have finally come."

By the time she made mincemeat out of Young Villa Master's ribs, a high and mighty voice resounded with calm, causing Schleya to turn her head and look at the skies above the huge mansion, spotting a crimson-robed figure.

Chapter 2140: Not Yet

Schleya witnessed the Villa Master appear with a handsome smile on his pale face. Like the Young Villa Master, the Villa Master also had pale features, seemingly sick yet not. In fact, the undulations radiating from the Villa Master caused Schleya to raise her brows a bit in astonishment, not having expected the Villa Master to have entered the Peak-Level Law Rune Stage.

"Schleya Vitalichor, it's been a long time since we met. Don't you think?"

"Yes." Schleya somberly replied, "Long enough to have my hands itching to swing my blade towards your... grandson."

*Puchi!~*

Schleya cleanly swiped her curved blade at the Young Villa Master's head after a protective talisman shattered, causing the expression of many people to change as they saw ahead fly a meter away and hit the ground, splashing some blood while the neck burst with blood like a crimson fountain.

"It's over... Young Villa Mistress is not going to come back..."

Someone in the crowd uttered as they witnessed the Young Villa Master's corpse fall.

Their Young Villa Master, who was close to entering the Law Rune Stage but possessed a prowess equaling Low-Level Law Rune Stage Powerhouses, had dropped dead.

However, they didn't notice that the Villa Master seemingly smiled without any hint of hostility whatsoever. In fact, Schleya's actions seemed to be amusing for him, taken as though it was something she merely did to display her rebellious behavior.

"Schleya, my blood doll. You got tainted yet managed to escape from my Blood Pledge Villa's executioners. We wondered where exactly you went, sometimes even assuming that you were dead until we saw you at the Nine Western Territories Young Expert Competition, and then we learned that you sided with the mystifying Emperor of Death and somehow gained his favor even though you are defiled."

The Villa Master spoke with an amused smirk on his face before his long crimson brows curved.

"Let me guess, that unknown powerhouse who defiled you is actually the Emperor of Death, no?"

"...!?"

Everyone became shocked at the Villa Master's words. Of course, this was a widely conversed topic, but they couldn't converse it long as there were also secret Emperor of Death fanatics in their Blood Pledge Villa. They couldn't carelessly talk about him, so in the end, they couldn't arrive at an answer.

In any case, it didn't seem like the Emperor of Death and Schleya didn't have a relationship as they didn't publicly share their intimacy like the others. However, for the Villa Master to bring it up now, does he have unequivocal evidence?

"So you won't deny it. Hahaha!"

The Villa Master couldn't help but start laughing out loud as Schleya didn't reply for three whole seconds, having her eyes narrow instead. The next moment, her crimson brows frowned as her voice echoed out.

"What's there to say when I was never defiled in the first place?"

"...!?"

Schleya's words were like thunder, causing the people to be shocked before they almost laughed out loud. Their question wasn't a matter of whether Schleya was defiled or not. It was by whom she was defiled? That was what they wanted to know so badly.

"Uhm?" Even the Villa Master seemed to be momentarily taken aback, his brows frowning, "Ridiculous... even if you tried to hide it, this Primal Yin Blood Purity Stone would reveal if you're still innocent or not. Do you dare to take it?"

As he spoke sternly, he took out a pure white stone. Many people recognized this one-of-a-kind yin stone that was a treasure used for dual cultivation, slightly increasing the quality of the primal yin essence during extended intimacy. However, it also had another purpose, and that was to figure out if a woman was pure or not. If the woman was not chaste, the pure white stone would react to the primal yin essence within the woman and find out that it was not present, turning black in a few seconds.

Schleya also recognized this stone. However, she couldn't help but almost laugh out loud.

"It's funny that you idiots didn't use it on me back then, arbitrarily claiming that I was defiled and needed to die for staining the reputation of the Blood Pledge Villa despite what I said, but now, you're demanding that I prove it?"

"How can my people use my villa's treasures without my acknowledgment? After all, I was in seclusion, unaware of the things happening outside. You tell me, Schleya. Who and all do you want to be punished? How can I let my adorable blood doll suffer?"

The Villa Master seemed strangely righteous, his sharp crimson eyes sweeping through the crowd as though he was a reaping god, causing millions of wicked path experts to shudder.

"Then, kill yourself."

However, Schleya uttered in a nonchalant tone, causing the Villa Master to chuckle before he threw the Primal Yin Blood Purity Stone.

"First, you prove if you're even worthy of the Blood Pledge Villa's attention to make such statements."

Schleya subconsciously captured the Primal Yin Blood Purity Stone, wanting to crush it. However, her palm didn't crush it for some reason, holding it in her hands as she felt complex, even imbuing energy as though wanting someone to see this phenomenon.

'I am... not defiled by anybody...'

As she imbued her energy, the pure white stone began to glow with a brighter hue, causing numerous pairs of eyes to widen in utter disbelief.

'Heavens...!' The Villa Master became shocked, 'She is still pure... that means the Emperor of Death hasn't made her his woman... at least, not yet...'

He couldn't believe that Schleya hadn't lost her innocence in the time she disappeared, a feat that was impossible for most women who left their protective umbrellas, making him wonder if the Emperor of Death planned to take Schleya later.

'No, it's said that he loves virgins but had recently declined all advances made by the other powers. In that case, he loves righteous and virtuous women, but Schleya is none of these two... no wonder...'

The Villa Master's eyes couldn't help but flash in a strange light.

'This means that I still have a chance to make her mine as I've promised her all those years ago or use her as a bargaining chip for resources...'

His gaze roamed all over the skies, but he couldn't sense the presence of the Emperor of Death or any of his subordinates. There were only wicked path powerhouses here, causing him to feel that such a figure wouldn't show up here and remain hidden. After all, there was no need to hide when they were practically the ruler of the human race, right?

Feeling confident, he stared at Schleya keep the Primal Yin Blood Purity Stone in her spatial ring, plundering it from him.

'I know that you met with that woman called Mo Mingzhi and traveled with her before trying to curry favor with the Emperor of Death. Being the eccentric young man he is, which I am now confident about, I'm sure he declined your advances and instead gave you resources just so he could make that Mo Mingzhi happy... Hehehe~'

Inwardly, he couldn't help but laugh at his own genius detective and scheming skills.

Since Schleya was not the Emperor of Death's woman, it was obvious that he wouldn't interfere much or interfere at all.

At most, Schleya was close with that woman known as Mo Mingzhi. For someone like Schleya, who sucked at exchanging words and communicating emotions, and to make it worse, her ice-cold expression, he was fairly sure no one welcomed her there, and the Emperor of Death or even Mo Mingzhi couldn't help but send her away once she reached the Low-Level Law Rune Stage.

Even if they did not mind Schleya's presence, her value as a bargaining chip just shot through the roof as they would not go too far nor too low to retrieve her.

Schleya's value was determined and fixed in his head, causing him to smirk as he decided what to do next while folding his hands behind.

"Now then, come kill me as you wish."

However, Schleya didn't move forwards but looked around as though measuring the strength of the Blood Pledge Villa she would have to face.

"What? Are you afraid?" The Villa Master sneered and looked as though he suddenly realized something, "Ah, since you were called the Young Blood Demoness, I actually forgot that you had a lovely and sensitive side. However, didn't I bury that weakness when I had you perform the rites and kill your twin sister?"

"...!"

Schleya's body shuddered heavily as her head swiveled, her crimson eyes locking on to the Villa Master as she moved her lips, "Courting death!"

"Heh." The Villa Master sneered again, "It seems you haven't forgotten Kiela yet, but I still remember every little detail, every inch of her body; the little corpse I refined and ate was indeed... a delicacy."

"Aahhhhh! Bastard...!"

An ear-piercing, heart-wrenching scream split apart the air, bringing cracks in the space as Schleya shot forwards with her crimson crescent blades. In an instant, she arrived before the Villa Master and slashed with her bloody might, but at the same time, the blood rust energy flowing above the Blood Pledge Villa abruptly trembled, descending in droves as they covered Schleya and the Villa Master in an instant!
