

EMPEROR 2151

Chapter 2151 False Alarm?

Once Davis spoke his piece, he stood up and calmed his heart, feeling the dread leave his heart and soul. After all, with Ellia acting like all hope was lost, even he was terrified as to what would arrive in his immortal tribulation.

Ellia knew more than he about tribulations as Myria seemed to be hated by the heavens in her life. He knew that Ellia could tell from her shared memories, so he didn't doubt her words but determined himself to face an almost unsurvivable onslaught.

On the other hand, Ellia rubbed her eyes with her sleeves, wiping off the tears as she stood up. Her cheeks blushed from having cried in front of everyone, even humiliating Myria as it was her body. However, she still couldn't digest this matter and pointed at Davis.

"Still, you shouldn't have done that. You could smooth-talk your way out of it all you want, but... reality is different. I'm really worried that..."

Back then, just for hoarding and comprehending heavenly lightning, she warned him that his immortal tribulation would be as powerful as hers, but he went ahead and plundered heavenly flames using some unknown method. Honestly, she felt that this shouldn't be possible as she had never heard of people plundering heavenly lightning and heavenly flames at the same time.

Plundering heavenly lightning and comprehending it? She had heard about it.

Plundering heavenly flames and comprehending it? Again, she had heard about it.

However, this was the first time she witnessed with her own eyes the birth of an Anarchic Divergent who had successfully plundered and mastered both heavenly lightning and heavenly flames, even making a unique physique out of it.

She vaguely realized that it had something to do with that apex treasure, but surely, it couldn't be only that as she figured out his physique and cultivation path so far had contributed to it heavily. Therefore, she was terrified to think that he didn't possess a trump card to cross his immortal tribulation.

"... worried that you would die or even end up crippled. So, you not becoming an immortal until we find something to rely on is also an option..."

Ellia dropped her hand as she softly uttered.

"Until then... I'll protect you..."

"..."

Davis blinked before he couldn't help but smile, looking at his Ellia, who was sweeter than anything at the moment. However, he shook his head, preserving a confident smile.

"Just those words are enough for me to cross my immortal tribulation."

"Compliments won't get you anywhere...!"

Ellia pouted angrily, but it just reminded Davis of his little Ellia, making him feel nostalgic as she would berate him for sneaking out of the Imperial Palace. He couldn't help but reach out his hand, wanting to touch her, but then, Ellia straightened her back and turned around, looking like she was going to leave.

Realizing that Myria had taken over, Davis took his hand back as his smile turned wry, returning to the topic.

"That said, I think I understand the enemy's intentions."

"You understand?"

Myria swiveled her head, questioning in a dull tone.

"That bastard or whoever it is, if they can't descend, I'm sure that they're trying to smoke you out, and that's through causing utter destruction using those vacuous beasts you mentioned."

"Smoke me out?" Myria turned her body, looking intrigued as well as amused, "Why would I care if the entire world died beside the Mystic Ice Sect and you all, for Ellia's sake?"

However, Davis shook his head.

"You will care."

"Why? What makes you say that?"

Myria narrowed her brows, but Davis couldn't help but smile in response.

"You're a Saintess, after all."

But still, Myria only seemed more amused, "It seems like you haven't heard that I turned into a Fiend."

"Haha." Davis couldn't help but laugh, "I know you're not a Fiend. In these few months of interacting with you, I can tell. I don't know what happened, but someone or some people framed you, right?"

"Hmph, as expected. You know nothing."

Myria's expression twitched before she turned around and stepped into the air.

"Don't talk as though you could understand what I went through, brat who has not even lived for a hundred years old!"

Her figure shot away at an incredible speed that made everyone blink, wondering why she looked like she was fleeing.

Meanwhile, Davis lightly smiled, imagining that he was right, but that smile turned wry.

"There's no need to act like this, no?"

He wanted to discuss more as he was unsure about many things, like what kind of terrifying heavenly tribulations exist so that he could think of a counter beforehand.

"It just means that she's not able to forgive herself for doing a few things that are opposed to her values, just like the time when I killed children."

Evelynn suddenly voiced out, causing Davis to stare at her.

"Don't worry about me. I'm just using it as an example as I'm long past it." She giggled, causing him to heave a sigh of relief as he turned around.

"And there you heard it. I won't die, so don't stuff your spatial rings and leave me for another man."

"Who's going to leave you for another man!?"

"Ahahaha."

A chorus of melodious yet angered voices echoed together, causing Davis to be taken aback by their unison before he heartily laughed while peals of insults fell on his ears, not to mention Evelynn pinching his arm from the side with an aggrieved expression on her face.

By saying that, he doubted their loyalty to him, which they found highly offensive.

However, Davis felt that a bland and distasteful joke like this was required.

After all, Ellia crying in front of them all was a big thing as it was like Myria crying in front of them. If they took Ellia's words for real, then he was worried that they would upset themselves into depression.

"Come on. Those so-called vacuous beasts don't seem like they're coming back, so before those old foggies from the Three Great Righteous Sects could come knocking on our doors for some more information, let us celebrate like there is no tomorrow."

He uproariously laughed and brought them all back to festivities that were paused due to the Calamity Light's activity.

As for the ladies, even though his words were distasteful at the last second, they untied some heavy emotions in their hearts, allowing them to return and enjoy the banquet somewhat. But from this moment on, they came to once again understand the feeling of having a mighty pillar support them without having its back break on them.

Even if it broke once back then, it actually still kept the ceiling from falling with its shattering brilliance.

Looking at Davis's laughs and smiles that seemed somewhat forced during the banquet, they couldn't help but feel more affectionate towards him, treating this time as though it was the last subconsciously. After all, they vaguely realized that even if it were not for the immortal tribulations, chances are those vacuous beasts would kill them after they ascend.

At the end of the banquet, Davis kissed his women goodbye and told them that he had to recollect his focus before he returned to his new room that was nearly adorned with everything that he could ask for while living in a room, but the sad thing was that he didn't even know who did it for him.

'Probably Evelynn... I guess...'

His tired ass landed on the sofa as he reclined, his muscles relaxing as his body slumped powerlessly.

'Today was apocalyptic or hectic?'

He asked before lightly chuckling, unable to tell, but one thing was sure, no matter what came his way, it was his destiny to be the victor. If he couldn't be the victor, then...

'Guess I'll just have to twist fate to fit my way consciously...'

A resolute glint shone in his eyes as he thought to become stronger than before with growing intensity. However, before his thoughts could last long, a thud echoed on his door, causing him to blink before he tidied himself up, sitting like an emperor before waving the door open.

"What's up, Isabella?"

He casually smiled, causing the purple-robed woman to close the door and walk towards him with shy steps.

"What else? I've come to be held by you, husband~"

Isabella's melodious voice coyly echoed, causing Davis's lips to become dry in an instant as he saw her robes drop, revealing her wonderful curves draped by her see-through dudou embroidered with golden flowers.

Chapter 2152: Not A Good Time? (R-18)

Davis's eyes were fixed on Isabella's lovely curves, but momentarily, he regained his sanity, wondering if he should indulge himself in dual cultivation.

However, even if he wanted to decline, it would be too rude to stop now, especially not after she dropped her robe. Besides, he had planned to take her tonight and had whispered so in the banquet before the Calamity Light interfered, so no matter what he thought, he really could not find himself out of this situation unless he wanted to hurt her feelings and expectations.

'She thought I made that excuse to rendezvous with her...?'

He didn't know what to say, but Isabella was already in front of him, shyly waiting for him with a healthy blush on her exquisitely beautiful face that made his heart not so calm.

"I see... today is not a good time... I guess..."

But noticing his hesitancy, Isabella wryly smiled and turned around. She knew Davis. He wouldn't wait to grab her assets if she stood in front of her almost naked, but since he didn't, she understood that the Calamity Light and his immortal tribulation were deeply weighing on him even though he didn't show it.

However, before she could even take a step forward, two arms wrapped around her supple waist in a warm embrace as she was slightly pulled back, allowing her to lean on his chest while she couldn't help but turn her face, glimpsing at his handsome face and attractive sapphire eyes.

"Don't go. You came to be held by me after such a long time. If I don't do anything about it, I'm a failure of a husband."

Davis leaned and took her soft crimson lips, kissing her lightly as he savored her exquisite taste. He didn't miss these lips as he regularly kissed her but now, as he held her with passion, the nostalgic feeling of taking her for the first time crept into his mind, not to mention the gracious fragrance of her purple hair filled him with bliss and delight.

Besides, Isabella seemed more mature, making him deeply attracted to her from the moment she gave birth. She was a mother to his child, and that fact made his mind focused and crazed on her luscious lips.

Isabella turned around to be more comfortable, wrapping her thin arms yet strong arms around his head as she kissed him deeply. Their exchange went on for two more minutes before they looked at each other with passion and love, yet there was a glacier of hesitancy in Isabella's eyes.

"I'm happy to hear that, but instead of responsibility between a husband and wife, I would like to be held from love. If today is not alright, then I'll come la-"

"I only feel responsibility to the people I acknowledge and love, so I am indeed holding you with love. Besides, responsibility to a man in dual cultivation is but a mere facade."

Davis cut her off and smirked, causing Isabella to smile cheerfully.

"You silly~ Ah~"

Davis grasped her dudou and threw it away to the side, looking at her bountiful breasts that shook lightly from his movements. Her beautiful pink nipples were slightly swollen, not to mention that her breasts looked bigger than before, almost a hundred and five centimeters.

It was still a centimeter or two smaller than Evelyn's, but he could feel the essence behind it, causing him to pounce on her breasts as he took her left nipple into his mouth.

"Aaan~"

Isabella lightly moaned as she threw her head, feeling him suck on her tits with eagerness. However, the pleasure she derived from it was overwhelmed by the feeling of having her milk sucked out of her mammary glands with greater intensity than she had ever felt before.

She only had the privilege of breastfeeding Celestia, and the way she sucked on her did not arouse her, but the way Davis held her close and affixed his face on her breasts before heavily sucking on her tits had her legs shaking from intense arousal.

"So good~"

She hugged his head tightly, biting her lips while her gaze was on the ceiling, her eyes narrowed ever so slightly as she took a liking to this newfound pleasure.

On the other hand, Davis kept sucking on Isabella's tits as he alternated between the left and right nipples. His cheeks and chin were drenched in milk, and no matter how he sucked, there was no end to the amount of milk Isabella produced, just like Shirley. He could practically compare them to a cow, but that was just how cultivators were.

????? They didn't stop producing unless they had their body's vitality sucked out, reaching its point of natural exhaustion.

Moreover, the more he drank Isabella's milk, the more he felt his body becoming strangely tempered. It was as though her milk that was full of earth essence was practically made for him, causing him to suck on her breasts with craze while his hands also occasionally squeezed out her milk as he simply opened his mouth and swallowed, causing Isabella to reel in pleasure and a bit of shame to the way he was handling her.

She was not a cow for heaven's sake...!

"Aaaah~ Aa~ Davis... don't suck so loudly~~~"

Her expression was clouded in those two emotions, causing her to shudder to no end. Pa nda

No vel A few minutes passed in this manner, and Isabella could no longer stand, becoming limp while her honey cave became drenched in her semi-yin essence. Feeling that it was about time, Davis untied her panty and his own robe before falling back to the crimson sofa and made Isabella sit on his lap, having her back facing his front.

He turned her head around as he grabbed hold of her chin and gave her a searing kiss, slightly lifting her lower body before he adjusted his throbbing hard dick at her honey cave. Perhaps, since Isabella was at her height of ecstasy, her honey cave was tightly closed that he had to tease it into loosening for him. He bullied her with his tip rubbing on her lower lips, feeling her soft wetness before slowly entering her.

Her inner walks encased his swelling tip, allowing him to slowly drop her on him as she engulfed his rock-hard dick whole, and the moment Isabella covered him, he couldn't help but reel in overwhelming pleasure. Their lips that were still connected began drooling as they both felt connected to their hot genitals, giving them immense warmth and ecstasy.

Pua~

Davis let go of her lips and reclined on the sofa as his hands were on her waist.

"Dance on me, Isabella..."

He couldn't help but command her and the bright-red Isabella bit her lips before raising her fair white buttocks all the way to his swollen tip before dropping all the way to his thighs!

Paah!~~~

"Hngg!~"

Both Davis and Isabella threw their heads above as he could feel his thickness penetrate the entrance of her womb while Isabella felt him settle deep inside her. They both shuddered as overwhelming pleasure surged into their bodies. However, they quickly came back to themselves as Davis moved her up and down, matching her movements as she danced above him rapaciously.

Both their dragon blood resonated, making their bodies heat up like they had a fever.

Paah!~ Paah!~ Paah!~

Isabella continuously moved her ass on him up and down, creating erotic noises of flesh slapping resounding around the room. Her milk was also dripping from her tits, following her curves before wetting the place where they were connected. However, Davis wasn't about to let her precious milk go to waste as he lifted her arm to his head behind, having him grab her before his right cheek came into contact with her big breasts, allowing him to pounce and suck on them with fervor.

He took her beautiful pinkish nipple into his mouth and began to suck on it intensely while Isabella continued to dance on his rock-hard dick from the side, covering half his shaft. Moreover, she began to move her butt left and right, front and back, causing him to shudder from those exotic movements.

"Hhg..."

Davis felt that his climax was near soon, so he moved back to reclining on the sofa and grabbed Isabella's shoulders from underneath her arms, locking her down as he began to pound her.

"Oh~! Ooo~ OOohh!~ AaaaaH~~~"

Isabella was caught off-guard from the sudden change in his movements that her lips couldn't help but turn into 'O' as she was pounded from behind. Tears welled up in her eyes as she felt her entire body shake from his pounding, almost making her soul leave as intense pleasure filled her lower body and even her mind. She could also feel her climax nearing and couldn't help but want to kiss him, turning her head around as she possessed a needy yet pleased expression on her face.

Noticing her potty lips turn towards him, Davis captured those two soft crimson flesh and heavily kissed them, their tongues intertwining as he continued to pound her with an ardent passion. Her bosoms shook up and down, releasing a curvy line of milk in the air every time his dick reached her womb that the surface in front of them turned into a milky puddle.

Paah!~ Paah!~ Paah!~

A second later, Davis and Isabella felt themselves relax and explode into each other as they trembled in the height of ecstasy, relishing the pleasure as they held each other close, their tongues entangling and dripping with love juices.

Chapter 2153: Feverish Intensity (R-18)

Isabella slumped her curvaceous body on Davis, her ass trembling while on his thighs while receiving his seeds into her womb. His warm life essence seared her womb, making her feel the happiness of receiving his love again. It had been more than nine months since she experienced this wonderful feeling, so her focus and passion alternated between her pleased body and her love for him.

On the other hand, Davis's rock-hard dick was deep inside her honey cave, blocking the entrance to her womb as it peeked out and throbbed, releasing its essence periodically as it filled her womb. With her tightness, his dick didn't allow a single drop of yang essence or even the plunging yin essence to escape, their essences becoming mixed as they entered a state of dual cultivation, absorbing and circulating them.

Isabella felt feverish above him. She held his head with her left arm wrapped around his face while they continuously exchanged kisses. He suddenly let go of her and plunged his face to her sensual neck and sucked in an amorous way, still releasing his seeds into her as his lower body shuddered.

"Aaa~"

Isabella moaned with a smile, indulging herself in his love as she gave more space for him to suck on her neck as she subconsciously inclined her head.

Davis released his yang essence inside her womb five minutes straight and took another ten more minutes to dual cultivate, completely emptying out the essence they let in each other. Their cultivations had also slightly increased as a result, but that was not on their mind as they exchanged sweet kisses again, not having enough of each other.

He smooched her lips passionately while fondling her big bosoms with his two hands before standing up with her and dropping her on the sofa on all fours. However, before he got to her, he couldn't help but wave his hand, causing the milky puddle on the surface to hover in the air before he opened his mouth and swallowed it all.

Isabella's expression couldn't help but change.

"Don't! If you want more of my milk, then- ah~"

However, Davis slapped her pristine buttcheeks, causing her to bite her lips. He turned to look at her, having a bright smile on his face. Pa nda

Novel "It's not in our family to waste each other's vital essence. Isn't that right?"

Isabella felt moved as she heard his words, but at the same time, the lingering pleasure and his slap made her expression look sensual. On the other hand, Davis already had the surface in front of them covered with his soul force, so what he did was wrap them around and swallow it. His previous experience with Shirley and her overflowing milk made him aware of what was going to happen if he kept pounding Isabella.

Nonetheless, he grabbed her round buttcheeks, fondling them with his palms as he elicited hushed moans from her before she hummed in ecstasy because he began to lick her lower lips, letting his tongue dance around her sensitive part before sucking on the tiny bud that made her shudder in pleasure and moan without reserve.

"Aaah~ Davis.... That... that feels so good...!~"

Isabella occasionally shook her round ass from being unable to endure the pleasure, but Davis held them firmly and kept pleasuring her below. His tongue entered her inner walls as he scraped her insides, allowing him to have her dripping wet again. He swallowed her yin essence for a few minutes, but before she could edge at the height of ecstasy, he moved his head back and stood up, aligning his swollen dick in front of her dripping wet cave and thrust inside, finding himself in her loving embrace once again as she tightly held him.

"Isabella.... Your tight and wet honey pot makes me go crazy..."

He pressed down on her from behind, whispering in her ears, and saw them turn red from embarrassment and delight, and true to his words, Davis began to pound her from behind, making skillful movements as he drilled her.

"Aaah!~ Aaann!~ Aaaaahh~"

Isabella's body danced along with his pounding as she gave wonderful and orgasmic moans. Her exquisite face exuded an amorous countenance that many men would go crazy for, not to mention Davis, who practically drooled over her as he licked and sucked on her nape from behind.

Paah!~ Paah!~ Paah!~

Their dance of flesh continued without end, but he couldn't help but want to dominate Isabella more, knowing that she would equally like it as she was secretly submissive in bed.

"Aaahn?"

Davis pulled his dick out from Isabella, causing her to let out a confused moan. However, her eyes went wide as she was practically turned around in the corner of the sofa, her big bosoms shaking in front of his eyes as they sprayed on his face naughtily.

"What salacious knockers you have...!"

Davis grinned as he grabbed both her breasts with his palms and brought them together, beginning to suck on her nipples as he drank her milk while pounding her underneath him.

"Aaahn~ Nhnn~ Ahn!~"

Isabella felt cornered and dominated underneath him. His rapid thrusts elicited exotic moans from her luscious mouth, causing her to shake her head in unendurable pleasure. However, she could feel that he was pressing down on her more. Each time he thrust, she could sense her body bend ever so slightly, and before she knew it, he was thrusting into her honey pot with renewed vigor after folding her body into two halves above the sofa as her legs were above her head.

"Ohhh~ Oooo~ Aohhhn!~ Mhmnnm!~"

Yin essence surged out of her as she climaxed, but Davis was still pounding her when suddenly he let go of her breasts and kissed her, sucking on her lips crazily as he poured yang essence into her womb. He had his hands wrapped around her folded body as he completely made Isabella his, dominating her as she wanted. He could see that her eyes had rolled back as she lost consciousness from the immense pleasure, but he wasn't far off either, feeling himself drifting between the nine heavens and her searing hot honey pot that accepted his unbending lust with all her body and soul.

When he left her lips, her tongue was still outside, hanging from the reverberating feeling of ecstasy lingering in her body as she took deep and hot gasps. Meanwhile, Davis was an absolute milk lover, going back to her big titties as he drank his third wife's earth essence as though he wouldn't leave anything for Celestia.

He waited for Isabella to recover her sanity, although he still had her recurring with pleasure by sucking on her mammary glands.

"Ooh~ Davis..."

Isabella shivered in pleasure as she felt him beginning to move inside her again. She was awake, causing Davis to look at her face before giving her a wide smile. He simultaneously lifted her up with her body still folded into two halves, her legs in between them while he wrapped his arm around her body.

"Are you ready...?"

Davis couldn't help but rasp, wanting to pound her to the nine heavens again, while Isabella's eyes couldn't help but shake.

"Wait... this isn't good for- aaahn!~"

Paaah!~

Davis grinned as he thrust inside her, catching her off-guard. He moved her body up and swung her down, ready to bring up the hammer inside her deeply but then...

Creak~

The door suddenly opened on them as a crimson-robed woman entered the fray, causing Davis and Isabella to become stiff.

Chapter 2154: Seeing Through (R-18)

"Shirley...!"

Davis flinched before he covered his front with soul force, making it into an opaque wall that didn't let Shirley see what was happening behind them. Isabella also relaxed, seemingly holding onto Davis for help.

However, it could be said that they were too reactive as Shirley already had her head lowered, her face crimson. Her ears were also shaded with a red hue, allowing Davis to notice that she was perhaps not expecting them to go at it like this without locking the door.

"Hmm... Davis... Isabella... I'm sorry for interrupting at this time... I thought that I could offer some ideas... but... something else is going on. Still, can I... join?"

"Su-"

Davis almost instinctively replied as he thought of excusing her, but then suddenly he realized what she said, causing him to become dumbfounded.

He thought she would turn around and leave, but that didn't happen, and instead, she even asked them if she could join. Momentarily, his brain couldn't help but pause as he couldn't understand what was happening.

The utmost reserved Shirley had become bold at this moment?

'It couldn't be, right?'

"Yes, please join us, fifth sister."

But before Davis could even answer, Isabella's voice shyly echoed, causing him to become dumbfounded once again.

"Th-Then I'll take you up... up on that offer."

Shirley almost instantly responded, her voice cracking that Davis couldn't help but wonder if Shirley got bullied into doing this matter as he heard her stutter while still having her head lowered. However, he couldn't help but vaguely feel that this was pre-planned, his eyes wandering between Isabella's blank expression and Shirley's bright red expression as she began to near him.

Moreover, he noticed that leaving the door unlocked was a thing between women sharing the same husband? Did such a maneuver say that it was alright to enter?

'No, in Mingzhi's case, it was purely accidental as Fiora came barging in, but this... these two don't even know how to act...'

Possessing a smirk on his face, he caressed Isabella's purple hair with overflowing love before he moved forwards and placed her in front of the opaque wall made of his soul force. It practically bent to her curves, allowing her to rest on it, but as Davis held her with her legs on top of his shoulders, he started to thrust into her dripping honey pot that always accommodated his size to perfection, her lower lips wrapping around him to the very base of the rock-hard shaft.

"D-Davis... wha- aahn!~ "

Isabella closed her mouth, not wanting to moan, but her hushed moans still reverberated in her throat.

"Stop right there, Shirley..."

However, Davis ignored Isabella and addressed Shirley, causing her to freeze as she raised her head. She saw the wall blocking her view, but she could hear the intermittent moans from Isabella.

Was he fucking Isabella while speaking to her?

"If that thought made you feel offended, I suggest you exit the door right now."

Shirley became startled as he heard his voice again. Was he reading her mind?

"However, if you are determined, then strode past this wall I created, if you can, that is..."

Davis's chuckling voice echoed at the end, but at the same time, the opaque wall suddenly became transparent, causing her to witness what was happening before her.

Isabella was in an awkward yet titillating position as Davis pounded her, causing her to widen her eyes. Isabella's legs were shaking above while her hands were on her mouth, seemingly being crushed by him, but the moans she released said otherwise. However, she saw Davis smirk at her before focusing on Isabella, having her legs drop from his shoulders before turning her around and displaying her curvaceous assets.

Between the chill wall made out of soul force and his passionate thrusts from behind, Isabella found herself in a trance as she almost forgot about everything else. However, the moment her eyes made contact with Shirley through the wall that was supposed to have been opaque, her amorous expression turned into one of panic, twisting into a crying face.

"Aaah!~ No... Davis... this is too-"

"You too... if you can't handle this exposure, then don't call your sisters in the first place, no matter how you two wanted to console me, although I appreciate it a lot..."

"...!"

Davis bit her earlobe and whispered in her ears as he began to pound her behind like a wild dog while Isabella panicked that she was caught, her expression twisting into one of twisted pleasure as she was forced into the supple yet cold wall by him. Biting her lips, she gazed at Shirley before being no longer bothered about her, closing her eyes as she began to move her hips according to his passionate thrusts.

Their wanton dance as they stood and fucked like animals caused Shirley to tremble, making her wonder if she really wanted this. However, her feet and eyes stood rooted to the spots they were focusing on, unable to move.

Paah!~ Paah!~ Paah!~

Davis repeatedly pistoned Isabella with lust and love, forgetting about Shirley in the act of making love. He had his hand wrapped around Isabella's body, his palms fondling her big breasts wantonly as he kissed her nape and bit her earlobe, sucking on them ever so lightly.

The sound of flesh slapping and squelching sounds as their privates rubbed each other constantly echoed, filling the room. Before long, he tightly held her with one arm and moved her face to him, plastering a hot and heavy kiss on her luscious crimson lips as he tremblingly ejaculated inside her all over again.

Isabella's voluptuous and mature body was just too addicting for him, while at the same time, Isabella couldn't get enough of his desire and thick and long member that made her go crazy.

After both of their genitals calmed from their orgasm, Davis stood back from Isabella as he waved his hand, removing the wall, and looked beside him because Shirley was no longer on the other side but with them.

Shirley's cheeks were heavily blushing, her crimson icy-white hair hovering as though she was angered.

"You... you didn't hold me like that...!"

Davis blinked, remembering that he only held her in a noble manner and not like he utterly dominated Isabella. Was she mad about that?

"Well, we were intimate to dual cultivate at that time." He couldn't help but wryly smile, his expression becoming tinged with a bullying grin, "However, this is different, filled with carnal pleasures that will make you go crazy. Are you sure you want to- "

Shirley leaped in the air and pounced on him, plastering her crimson lips onto his lips.

"I won't let you leave today... until you... make love... with me like that..."

She kissed as she spoke, seemingly gasping for breath as though she was in heat that dumbfounded Davis. Did the intimate dance he had with Isabella turn her on instead of disgusting her?

He always held Shirley in a noble and the most respectful way because she was the one who took a greater risk to revive him, not even knowing if he was alive or dead, and, because of that, became his baby mother first. It wasn't like he disrespected the others or overly respected Shirley but acted according to their wishes, thinking that Shirley loved some royal action with respect but here she was, jumping on him with an amorous expression on her face, begging for him to dominate her as he did for Isabella.

Where did her shyness disappear to?

However, such thoughts were overwhelmed when a sneak attack was performed on him as Isabella took his rock-hard dick into her mouth as she bobbed her head up and down, thoroughly swallowing the remnants of their dual cultivation. It was almost like she was getting it ready to offer it to Shirley, which made his brain tremble in anticipation!

After sucking it clean, Isabella kissed his head, causing it to shiver ever so lightly, which made her giggle, her eyes looking above at him as she saw him exchange deep kisses with Shirley.

It was as he said. They really did plan on sleeping with him together tonight, and it was something she brought up to Shirley, so she really didn't think that she would appear.

At that time, Shirley heavily shook her head, indicating that it was too much for her, but it seemed like the descent of those vacuous beasts changed her mind, just like it caused her to come here despite the excuse he made when he left.

Taking a deep breath that magnified her lust and affection for Davis, she stood up and took claim of his other side, kissing his cheek before she bit his ear.

"Take us to your bed, our Emperor~"

Davis shuddered in as he suppressed his flooding lust, wrapping his arms around them as he flew into his bedroom, and this time, he didn't forget to lock both rooms, not wanting any interruptions!

Chapter 2155: Cajoling The Phoenix (R-18)

Bang!~

With the loud sound of the door closing, Davis threw Isabella and Shirley on the bed, causing them to bounce on top of it. Isabella's peak heavily swayed without shame, and he witnessed that sinful scene with immense delight, no shame on his face.

Isabella even saw his rock-hard dick twitch in response. However, she couldn't help but glimpse at Shirley and hide her assets with her hands, appearing shy, because Shirley also gawked at her before clenching her teeth.

Although she too fell on the bouncy bed and jounced, her robes contained her bosoms from swaying heavily like that, consequently failing to get his attention.

She removed her crimson robe, quickly becoming half-naked in their presence. She was about to remove her luxurious bright red dudou but then, only after she removed her robe did she feel the shame dousing her heart magnified, causing her to bite her crimson lips in embarrassment.

"Well, don't be hasty..."

Davis flew up to Shirley and knelt by her side, touching her lovely cheeks that held a bright red hue of embarrassment.

"I'll aid you in this wild and pleasurable journey, so don't you worry about anything. Just leave your body and soul to me, and sometimes, your third sister..."

Shirley's crimson eyes couldn't help but tremble ever so lightly. Pa nda

Novel She couldn't believe that she was finally here. In her teenage life, she had seen her imperial father even take on twelve women at once as her imperial father left for his chambers, and compared to that, she felt that this was meek and was bolder than she thought she could be.

There was only her and Isabella, after all.

Consoling herself, she nodded her head, determined to see this through and not fail or make things awkward between them since she was already here.

Once Davis caught the cue, he leaned and kissed her succulent lips that sought his attention. With soft kisses that practically melted Shirley's lips, he made her body begin to heat up, loosened the stiffness in her body, and made her relax with each passing second. A few minutes later, Shirley pushed herself onto him lightly, wanting more of his kisses as she instinctively sought out his warmth.

Davis's hands didn't stay idle either as he made her feel aroused. With one hand, he held her nape and, with the other, caressed her prominent breasts with milky essence moderately as he let his hand roam freely inside her dudou. He didn't undress her yet, feeling that the time wasn't ripe as he sexually cajoled her more, moving on to placing soft kisses on her neck as he elicited delicate yet delighted moans.

Even now, Davis couldn't understand why she would want to be dominated when she liked being softly treated like this, and perhaps, she wanted to try something new or was both intimidated and expectant to experience what Isabella went through to make a pleasurable face like that, but in any case, it was his duty as her husband to fulfill her intimate wishes.

Shirley relined on the bed with her hands on her back. She inclined her head to the side, letting his lips roam around her neck while she was feeling him pleasure her. One of his hands supported her back while his other hand, which was naughtily fondling her breasts, trailed down softly like a feather before drawing an outline of her honey cave, making her legs shiver ever so lightly.

"Mhnm~"

She couldn't help but moan as she bit her lips, feeling herself enter a delirious realm as though she was floating in the nine heavens. But suddenly, she could feel his fingers enter her cave hole, causing her to shudder at his actions inside.

At this moment, Davis bit her dudou and threw it away with a swing of his head, revealing her perky assets.

Shirley's peachy breasts were slightly pointed upwards, causing him to admire her naked image. However, he didn't overreact and softly placed his mouth on her pink nipple, beginning to suck on her left breast as though he was a baby but with enormous suction power. With each slurp, he drank a lot of her milk, filling his tummy as they got refined in an instant.

"Aaaahn~"

Shirley lifted one of her hands and bit her thin finger, feeling shameful to release a huge moan as she knew that Isabella was just a meter away from them. However, the way he sucked on her was too pleasurable, causing her to feel the milk leaving her body as though he was literally sucking the life out of her.

And although Davis drank Shirley's milk that was full of fire essence, they were not enough for him, perhaps because his new physique was extremely demanding. Nonetheless, he didn't drink her milky essence for such a reason but for purely making her descend into pleasure, his mouth and hands hard at work.

He could tell that she was entirely wet down there as his fingers were already drenched. Feeling that the time was apt, he moved to her right breast and sucked on her juicy tits as he didn't forget to take care of the other side before skillfully moving underneath her, appearing in front of her lower body before she could notice, grinning ever so lightly like a fiend.

Slurp!~

Shirley had her body bent while having her back facing the bed when suddenly she felt an immense suction in her honey cave, causing her to throw her head above.

"Aaaah!~"

Davis sucked on her tiny pink bud for a bit before lashing out his tongue at her entrance, making it a sloppy mess than it was ever was as though it was mouth-watering. Her semi-yin essence flooded out rapidly, reacting to how he licked her while his tongue was deep inside her as much as it could be.

Slurp!~ Smooch!~ Slurp!~

He alternated between sucking, kissing, licking, and sucking again, causing Shirley to shudder to no end as she began to shake her head.

"Aaah!~ No~ no~ Davis!~ I'm.... I'm going to let it out...!"

Drunk moans surged out from Shirley's drooling mouth.

Slurp!~ Slurp!~ Slurp!~

And when she rose to her height of ecstasy with his constant sucking at the end, she came wildly, heavily shuddering like a swaying grass that was going to be uprooted by a huge storm.

But at the same time, Davis suddenly let go of Shirley's delicious honey cave as he knelt up and thrust his throbbing dick inside her flooding hole, becoming drenched in her lukewarm honeyed juices.

"Ohh~?!?"

Shirley widened her eyes as she felt her insides filled with his rock-hard dick but not only that as she was simultaneously lifted up by him, causing her to flail as she lost her balance and reach out for something to restore it, only to capture his reliable shoulders as her face came into her view.

However, what she noticed was an evil expression on her face that made her heart skip a beat.

"Hehe!"

Davis captured her thick thighs and began to ram her silly, his huge dick penetrating her inside and out.

"Aaahn~! Aaaa!!~ Aaaaan!!!~"

Shirley's face turned slick with desire and pleasure, even a certain amount of fear as she received his pounding. With each momentous strike, yin essence sprayed outside like a leaky fountain and began to form a puddle above the bed as it stained the bedsheets.

Paaah!~ Paaah!~ Paaah!~

Davis made Shirley flail on his lap as he pounded her, sending her flying ever so lightly behind before pulling on her thighs again before she could separate from his throbbing dick. She was tightly clenching on his dick as her fleshly walls pleased him, but he kept pounding her into shuddering heavily while she still orgasmed.

The pleasure he bestowed her at this moment was too much for her that she had her eyes wide open, her pupils unfocused.

On the other hand, Isabella was dumbfounded to see this scene. Their bodies shook on each other as they danced crazily, connected to their genitals but what was so amorous and outlandish was that Shirley looked like she had lost her consciousness but still took his pounding while orgasming.

'She... she came twice...!?'

Isabella gawked as she felt that they had been going at it for more than five minutes. If Shirley hadn't regained consciousness, it meant that she had orgasmed twice in a row.

Nonetheless, Davis was also nearing his end as he slid in and out inside her tight cave hole that deeply pleased him. However, he wanted more of Shirley that he couldn't help but let one of her thighs go as he wrapped his arm around her waist and brought her closer while pounding her.

Her head was subconsciously moving in a pleasurable rhythm, her crimson lips agape with honeyed drool.

He caught those sweet and mouth-watering crimson lips of hers and began to kiss her heavily, sucking on her small mouth with assertiveness and passion.

"Mhmm!~"

Shirley subconsciously released a big moan, feeling constrained yet enormously pleased.

Half a minute later, Davis no longer held back and began to rush his hips for the last spurt. He directly collapsed on her body, putting forth his weight on her as he pounded her silly.

"Mhnnn!~ Nna~ Mnph~ Mhnnnnn!~::~"

Before long, he naturally exploded in her while Shirley felt his thick seeds enter her in droves as though trying to impregnate her. The warm feeling of his yang essence and the entire weight and warmth of his body flooding her brought her tremendous pleasure, making her understand that this was what Isabella experienced.

However... what was that...?

Just what were those movements...? How did he do it? It completely flipped her mind, making her wonder if all his women except her were experiencing this kind of pleasure.

"Fe-eels shoo good~::~"

Her eyes trembled, her facial expression twitching with a pleased smile as though she had lost it.

On the other hand, Davis couldn't help but pleurably smirk while looking at his imperial princess wife fall to the dark side, no longer going to be satisfied with just loving and passionate movements.

Chapter 2156: Two Imperial Princesses (R-18)

After some time, Davis and Shirley breathed out hot gasps at each other. The noble swan had fallen, but it was thoroughly impressed, even wanting more as a desirous glint shone in her eyes while the handsome toad lusting after swan meat wanted more than the swan.

"Mhmm...!"

However, a muffled cry of grievance echoed from the side, causing them to look at Isabella, who shyly bit her lips, her cheeks covered in a healthy crimson shade.

Shirley's heart also clenched as she remembered that Isabella was also here, not knowing how she had forgotten such an important particular. Was that the power of being made to go delirious in pleasure?

She couldn't help but think but still hurriedly pushed away Davis and sat up, moving away from him as though giving space to Isabella.

"Please..." She shyly uttered, causing Isabella to blink.

Isabella realized that Shirley wasn't as bold as she seemed to be just a while ago. A sly smile appeared on her lips as she thought.

'Good thing I already slept with big sister to pleasure husband...'

It was obvious to her that she had the advantage. However, her feelings of wanting to take care of her little sisters abolished her sly thought, replacing it with wanting to help her.

"It's fine. Let's pleasure him together."

Isabella approached Davis before she arrived in front of him and placed a light kiss on his cheek, causing Davis to feel adored. It strangely felt vanilla as he was supposed to be making them moan silly, but still, he turned to look at Shirley as though wanting the same thing from her.

"..."

Shirley pouted as she smiled but still approached him and placed a light kiss on his other cheek, causing him to deeply smile, but before he could move on, Isabella placed a kiss again, which made Shirley blink before she seared a hot kiss on his cheek again.

Smooch!~

This time, they both loudly kissed his cheeks, causing Davis to become dumbfounded, and it didn't take much before they kept repeatedly kissing his cheeks as they held his shoulders.

Smooch!~ Smooch!~

'What the... they're actually competing in this...?'

Davis absentmindedly thought, but his heart was feeling the heavy dose of love they had for him. His dick was slightly reacting to their soft kisses, making him turn around and catch one sweet lip.

'Aaah... I won...'

Isabella cooed in delight as Davis took her luscious lips first.

"Not fair..."

Shirley clenched her teeth, pulling him from Isabella as she kissed him, letting him plunder her delicious taste as her tongue danced in his embrace. Pa nda

Novel While kissing Shirley, Davis couldn't help but gently pull Isabella down as he caught her nape.

Isabella blinked at his actions before smiling lightly, understanding what he wanted from her before reaching out her salacious pink tongue and licking his rock-hard dick that was still drenched with the aftermath of his and Shirley's carnal dance.

Nonetheless, as she already had some experience with Evelyn, she knew that she would have to sooner or later come into contact with Shirley's essence.

Soon, she took his thick and hot member into her mouth, feeling the tip tremble over her tongue before she pushed it aside with her tongue and made it brush against her fleshly cheek.

"Ooh..."

Davis moaned into Shirley's mouth as he felt Isabella doing wonders below as he felt his tip slide against her sloppy and wet cheeks inside as she alternated moving it left and right. He wondered where she had learned this technique or if she was just trying it out from some sudden insight but nevertheless thoroughly enjoyed Isabella taking care of his erect thickness while he kissed and sucked on Shirley's small crimson mouth.

He couldn't get enough of their wet softness, slightly thrusting his hips at Isabella's face while reaching out both his hands to their honey caves as he began to tease them, his finger becoming inwardly clad in ordinary lightning as it vibrated with intensity.

"Mhmm!~"

Shirley moaned into his mouth while Isabella moaned with his throbbing dick in her mouth, causing Davis to flinch from the sudden increase in pleasure in both physical and mental sensations. His tongue lashed out into Shirley's mouth and plundered her honeyed juices before he sucked on her tongue, feeling himself reach the edge in a few seconds.

However, before he could ejaculate, he moved back and wrapped his arm around both their waist as he flew to the inclined bed rest and reclined himself on it comfortably while having Shirley and Isabella in both his arms. He instantly grabbed Isabella's nape and brought her exquisite face to his lips, giving her a hot, searing kiss while he gently pushed Shirley to his member.

"...!"

Shirley froze upon looking at the long glistening member of Davis that was covered with Isabella's saliva. She hadn't even sucked his dick, and yet, she was already given a painted one?

She hesitated for a few seconds, and seeing that Davis didn't force her, she couldn't help but use her hands to feel it. The girth was enormous, making her wonder how under the heavens it went inside her but still, the sheer thickness of it caused her to reel a sensual.

"Oooh~~~"

Shirley shook her ass as she shuddered, noticing that Davis's hand that was holding her nape had moved to her honey cave and began stirring her with vigor. The sensual glint in her eyes became more visible before she couldn't help but move her hand up and down, giving Davis an amateur handjob.

But still, Davis felt strange pleasure as he thought Shirley's hand to be noble. His eyes were closed as he kissed Isabella, but in his senses, he could easily see around what was going on, giving him a visual representation of two mature women pleasuring him with her their hands and mouth.

Soon, Shirley was drooling from his fingering, but she let that drool drip on Davis's trembling dick, and as soon as it was covered in her saliva, she plunged and took his tip into her small mouth as her crimson lips covered till the upper part of his shaft, beginning to suck on it furiously as he playful tongue lashed out at his tip as though whipping it.

Slurp!~ Slurp!~ Slurp!~

She moved her hand up and down on his shaft while sucking heavily, which caused Davis to hiss in pleasure that he couldn't help but turn to look at Shirley. Although she was amateurish with her technique, the pleasure she bestowed on him was plenty that his hips kept shaking as he ejaculated into her mouth.

"Mhhmm!?"

Shirley suddenly felt his dick undulate and release an awful lot of seeds into her mouth, causing her to become shocked. She didn't get the warning, and neither did she know the signs of it, causing her to be choked on his yang essence before she moved back her head and coughed.

However, before his undulating member could release outside, another hand captured it before a person shoved it inside their mouth, causing Davis to reel in extreme pleasure as he threw his head up.

"Ah... fuck..."

He used his two hands to capture Isabella's head, letting his globes of yang essence into her throat as his body churned with lust while Shirley stopped coughing and looked at Isabella take his member all the way to his base as she swallowed his seeds, the very sight of it causing her lower body to tingle in pleasure as her lips quivered.

Suddenly, she was pulled into his embrace before he began drinking her milk as he sucked on her tits. It caused her eyes to narrow in pleasure before she couldn't help but moan as his hand returned to relentlessly finger her again.

"Aaaahn~~~"

Shirley kept moaning above his head while he moved his other hand that was on Isabella's head to finger Isabella in her dripping wetness. Abruptly, his finger changed element and began flowing with life energy, causing them to freeze before they began immensely shuddering on him.

Since Shirley was the nearest, he flipped her around with his soul force, grabbing her ass and shoving it towards him as he began sucking on her honey cave with loud slurping sounds while, on the other hand, utilized his soul force to collect Isabella's yin essence in a bubble which connected to his mouth like a straw.

Slurp!~~~

Looking at the way he was eating them out, both Isabella and Shirley felt their reasoning disappear, their minds becoming filled with everlasting sexual bliss.

Chapter 2157: Grinding With Passion (R-18)

After they calmed, Davis turned Isabella around while she still had his rock-hard dick in her mouth and sat up on her, beginning to thrust into her mouth ever so lightly before taking it deep.

"Aaah... Isabella..."

Davis rasped as he fucked her mouth while shaking his hips like a monkey, and he lightly held onto her wrists while doing so, causing Isabella to look like she was unable to move, and he was forcing his big thing into her mouth as he fucked her throat.

However, looking at the deep smile Isabella possessed, Shirley went wide-eyed. That didn't seem like it felt good at all, but she suddenly felt that the feeling of being wickedly lusted after by their loved one wasn't bad as she was awakening to it.

Nonetheless, she wasn't able to suffice to look at become deeply pleased by Isabella as she walked on all four to him before placing her hands on his chest, lifting him up before kissing his lips. At the same time, Davis lifted Shirley up and made her wrap her thighs around his waist while he fucked Isabella's mouth.

"Mhnmp... Mhmn..."

The pleasure he derived from the both of them was immense. However, he still didn't forget about Isabella as he moved one of his hands back as he bent his body backward, reaching to her honey cave as he began to finger her pinkish bud.

"Mhmmh!!!~"

Isabella moaned heavily, feeling his life energy surging into her again. It overwhelmed not only her senses but also her soul in pleasure as that area was connected with her soul in an intrinsic way but could only be active for special occasions such as losing primal yin or dual cultivating with the soul.

With Shirley above and Isabella below, Davis felt that he was in nine heavens. He groped Shirley's buttcheek with his hand, fondling them to his heart's content while quickly ejaculating inside Isabella's mouth again.

Her throat tightly hooked on him while he could feel her suck on him heavily.

However, Shirley thought it was a cue for her to move and moved away from him, her face plunging down as she took his throbbing thing outside Isabella's mouth and shoved it into her mouth, this time determined to drink it down to the last bit as she had failed before which she couldn't accept.

"...!?"

Davis couldn't help but tremble again as a new sensation of a different sloppy mouth encased his undulating dick. However, he saw from the corner of his eyes that Isabella was going to climax as her facial expression twitched in pleasure. He instantly used both his hands to pick her up like a baby and flip her upside down, letting her thighs wrapped around his head as he intensely sucked on her lower lips and tiny bud with intensity.

"Aahnnn!~ Davis!~~~"

Isabella moaned in edging pleasure as she shook her ass against his face. Her mouth couldn't help but want to reach out for his lips in her confusion, but what she came across was the base of his dick, and even though she realized it, she crazily flicked her tongue at his dick while Shirley sucked on him, swallowing his essence as she sucked on him.

Although Shirley was shocked to see Isabella appear upside down, she couldn't help but still suck as his yang essence came flooding into her mouth without a stop. Perhaps, it even felt like it got renewed as though he ejaculated again.

Nonetheless, matching gazes with Isabella while the both of them serviced his imperial dick, they couldn't help but become ashamed all the way to their ears. However, their husband was thoroughly enjoying their sensual locations as much as they did, causing them to continue without reserve.

Soon, they found themselves sandwiched underneath him as he pounded them from behind, allowing them to both reach orgasm at the same time from his dick. They were also sandwiched between him, sometimes above and sometimes below, even sideways, trying erotic positions that they had never done before as they descended into a carnal dance of pleasure, almost like a ritual as the atmosphere and the echoing moans clouded their minds pink.

After their wild session that thoroughly drenched the bed, lasting for two days, they still did not stop.

Davis still had the both of them in his embrace, his left arm cuddling Isabella and his right arm cuddling Shirley. He brought them closer and sucked on both of their tits, swallowing their milky fire and earth essence while they kissed all over his face and ears, using their hands to pleasure his rock-hard dick.

They slowly ebbed the pleasure away that ached in their bodies.

However, as a final homage, they both sucked on his glistening dick, their lips sliding on his shaft as they licked him clean. When he burst out like a fountain, they shared his dick as they swallowed his essence in intervals, having no shame or awkwardness as all was shed in these two days.

There were some breakthroughs in these two days, but that didn't discourage them from continuing their nightly affairs.

Finishing their service, they couldn't help but return to his embrace, looking like they were his little dolls as they giggled. However, looking at him greedily extending out his tongue with desire, they smirked at each other before extending out their own oink tongues as they intertwined with his, the three of them kissing as their lips made contact.

"Aaa-ah~ Look at that. You woke up again..."

Shirley noticed that his member that had slumped rose up again. However, Davis chuckled and told them to ignore it. However, even though he told them to ignore it, they both went and began to suck on his rock-hard dick, causing Davis to sigh in pleasure. However, he didn't like to leave them dripping with wetness either, using his finger to pleasure them again.

Isabella trembled as she bobbed her head up and down on his dick, while Shirley also trembled as she pleased his vital balls. Soon, he began ejaculating in their mouths, allowing them to swallow his yang essence as they shared again while they simultaneously came on his face, sitting on top of him as he sucked on their lower lips with passion.

Not soon after, they returned, and this time, they didn't do anything, simply lying on him and sighing in after-pleasure.

Davis kissed their foreheads and couldn't help but smile.

"You two... would you now honestly tell me why the both of you came here?"

Isabella and Shirley wryly smiled on hearing his sentence, but they knew that they had been caught long back, so they opened their mouths.

"Because this could be the last..."

They echoed in unison, causing Davis to wryly smile in response.

"It's not like we don't believe you... but with Myria... no, Ellia crying and all, it's hard to imagine how we could all survive the upcoming tribulations. Even if you could, we would not be alive because of that karmic burden stemming from you, no?"

Isabella awkwardly spoke, causing Davis to nod before he shook his head.

"I won't let anyone one of you die before I kick the bucket, so don't you ever worry about that. You too, Shirley. I love you two."

"Hmph! Not only the two of us, but you better treat all of us right!"

Shirley poked his cheek, smiling with happiness blooming in her heart.

"That goes without saying!"

Davis grinned, feeling rejuvenated as the emotions of cloudiness over his mountainous path dissolved. Even he wouldn't believe it if he said that having fucked two women he loved would dissolve the worry in his heart, but it was just that, making him feel extremely motivated, but the next words Shirley said made his slumped dick erect again.

"If you successfully cross your tribulation, I'll let you take Sect Master and me together."

"Damn you!"

"Aaahn!~"

Shirley coyly moaned as Davis pounced on her and entered her insides, making uncontrollable thrusts into her again.

"If you cross the tribulation, I'll convince big sister and the others to let you take one or two more beauties as you please."

Isabella slyly whispered in his ears, causing Davis's pupils to dilate again.

"You two temptresses! I'll make you two regret seducing me again and again!"

"Mmmpgh!~"

He captured Isabella's nape and pushed her lips against his, heavily kissing her.

What was about to end started again, and it wasn't until another day their bodies finished grinding against each other.

Davis also felt that having two topmost princesses of the Grand Sea Continent on the same bed was a rare sight to behold, so he thoroughly enjoyed their loving and passionate embrace for as long as he could. As for Isabella and Shirley, as long as they could motivate him using rewards like these, they felt that it was worth it than having him die by some random lightning bolt from the heavens.

Chapter 2158: Significant Improvements

During the three days Davis, Isabella, and Shirley intertwined with each other like snakes, the three of them experienced a rapid increase or breakthroughs in their cultivations.

Only recently, Davis had experienced a breakthrough in his Body Tempering Cultivation, entering Mid-Level Martial Overlord Stage, but now, he was already at the peak of it, just one or two steps away from the High-Level Martial Overlord Stage.

If he climbed to the High-Level Martial Overlord Stage, then his base prowess would become equal to his Essence Gathering Cultivation. After all, he was still in the Mid-Level Law Rune Stage.

Although he could try to break through as he was at the edge of the next level, he didn't want to as he would probably be forced to ascend by the strange laws governing this world, no, this massive protective formation.

Isabella also experienced a breakthrough.

The energy passively surging from her Earth Dragon Blood all went to increase her child, Celestia's potential, but she had been actively comprehending Earth Laws in these nine months and hence, managed to fulfill the Law requirements for creating a Supreme Immortal Crest.

With Davis providing energy to her with his yang essence and combining with the pill he presented her for her breakthrough, she had managed to enter High-Level Martial Overlord Stage while recreating a Supreme Immortal Crest from having an Imposing Crest that was on the weaker side due to her losing her virginity at that time.

She was overjoyed by the present Davis prepared for her during their nightly affair, which was the pill she used to increase her chances. Besides, she also had her own resources in her Earth Dragon Immortal Treasury to increase her chances of creating a Supreme Immortal Crest but not by much. The deciding factor was the pill he made specifically for her after collecting so many ingredients from this world.

Moreover, she also experienced breakthroughs in Essence Gathering Cultivation, entering the Law Dominion Stage and making her way to the Peak Level. Needless to say, she created a Perfect Domain that was at perfection.

These were why she was completely head over heels for Davis and offered to help him have a few more women if he passed his immortal tribulation.

After all, which kind of man would be offering their cultivation partners resources like these, which were not only practically non-existent but also would sway any powerful women into giving their hearts to him?

One kind would be utterly naive, and the other would be as rich as the heavens, but her man was someone who picked a fight with the heavens by plundering heavenly flames and heavenly lightning. To even have time for them, she was moved beyond tears and even possessed the thought of doing anything for him.

As for Shirley, she had entered the Martial Overlord Stage and created a Supreme Immortal Crest in Fire Laws.

She already possessed immense energy overflowing in her body with the blood of the Fire and Ice Phoenix Immortals assimilating in her and providing her with immense energy day by day. Moreover, considering that she had her fill with Davis's yang essence, it allowed her to perform consecutive breakthroughs, and the Mortal Hex Emperor Purple Palace was durable to withstand her overwhelming force.

She only had her Fire Law Supreme Immortal Rune and yet to conjure an Ice Law Supreme Immortal Rune because her Law Comprehension of Ice Laws has yet to catch up to the Ninth Stage. She was at Level One Intent of Ice Laws and recently found the time to comprehend till Level Three Intent. However, to conjure a Supreme Immortal Rune, she must have at least comprehended the peak of Level Six Ice Intent.

After all, she was already at the Law Rune Stage, causing her requirements to conjure a Supreme Immortal Rune to increase.

As for her Soul Forging Cultivation, she was still at Mid-Level Emperor Soul Stage but had comprehended till Level Four Abstruse Intent of Fire Laws and Level One Intent of Ice Laws. The only lacking thing was her comprehension of Ice Laws for her Body Tempering Cultivation as it was still in Elementary Intent but with eight minor resonances.

In any case, she wasn't worried as she was continuously comprehending insights from her Ice and Fire Phoenix Blood that kept passively assimilating, contrary to her initial worries of being unable to comprehend Ice Laws as she believed that she wasn't good at it.

When the three of them came out of Davis's chambers, they were caught red-handed by Evelyn and the others. After all, two baby mothers went missing for three days after the banquet, and anyone in this palace would be worried.

Although Claire took care of Eterna and Celestia, she could not provide the right and essential nutrients. Therefore, Isabella and Shirley hurriedly ran away to provide their children with what Davis plundered these few days in a panicky manner, their faces full of embarrassment.

"Pervert. You're becoming more and more tyrannical with handling us."

Mingzhi uttered with a wide smile on her face, obviously teasing him.

"What? You want to give me that experience again?"

Davis raised his brows as he glanced at Fiora, causing both of their faces to redden.

"Hmph~ Only a scoundrel like you knows how to bully me."

Mingzhi still grinned, "Also, Schleya returned from the Blood Pledge Villa and told me to give this to you."

She brought out a sanguine ax that exuded a bloody aura, causing the expressions of others to change. However, it was sealed as many talismans were stuck on it, appearing to be safe.

"Tell her I said thanks."

Davis smiled and took the sanguine ax and stored it in his spatial ring while Mingzhi nodded and unceremoniously left. However, in her mind, she felt that she didn't even need to console him as she could feel that he was back, his eyes unclouded, unlike the time at the banquet.

A green-robed figure caught up to Mingzhi and naturally joined her as though it was second nature, causing a dark-blue-robed woman to sigh.

"My little sister left my side. Who else can I rely on?"

Natalya cried, or at least she acted like crying, and glanced at Davis from the corner of her eyes, causing him to laugh and pull on her cheeks.

"Haha. Don't you have Iesha? Bring her out to play once in a while."

Chapter 2159: Stark Change

Davis uttered, but Natalya shrugged, "She's too immersed in cultivation. After all, I'm way more powerful than her."

Bonk~

Davis lightly hit her head, "That's not a reason for you to slack off. Go cultivate."

Natalya adorably held her head, pouting at him before she pounced on him and kissed him, sexily reaching out her tongue as she sucked on his much-desired taste that made her heart go crazy with passion.

A little bit later, she moved back a bit, looking red-faced as she moved her lips.

"I'll let you off with this..."

"Many thanks."

Davis couldn't help but caress her cheeks, wondering how she fared while knowing that cultivating the Forsaken Yin Lotus Manual could lead to her becoming miserable for her character.

"So, did you decide?"

He asked Natalya, which caused her to become solemn but hesitant as she looked around. In the end, she still let it off.

"I want to keep practicing the Forsaken Yin Lotus Manual."

"Are you sure?" Davis raised his brows, "Shirley has promised to give you Ice Phoenix Frozen Wisp Records like she had shared the immortal section of it with Clara. Do you not want it?"

"Husband... this cultivation manual... it's like... it's practically made for me, except the part about being abandoned to gain more comprehension of it."

Natalya tried to word her intent out but couldn't help but wryly smile. She found this manual perfect, allowing her to cultivate both Ice and Yin Laws even though it concentrated on Yin Laws more, even going far to the extreme side of yin, without yang, and that was the source of the problem from what she researched these few months.

However, what should she explain? That she was stubborn and wouldn't let it go even though she didn't have a good roadmap to bypass this drawback?

"So you've grown fond of it?"

Davis asked, causing Natalya to become solemn again.

"Yes... it's the cultivation manual you presented me on our wedding night, after all."

"..."

Davis couldn't help but feel moved, not knowing how to reply to her deep emotions. However, he patted her shoulders, nodding to her resolve.

"No matter what, I won't abandon you. On the other hand, if you leave me because of cultivation deviation from practicing the Forsaken Yin Lotus Manual, then I'll beat you into returning back to your senses."

"Just what I wanted to hear!~"

Natalya grinned with joy before she gave him a light kiss and returned, seeming to have found her own motivation.

Davis watched her leave before tending to the others, noticing their cultivations and their improvements before sending them off.

The last to leave was naturally Evelynn.

He grabbed her soft hands, and a teasing smile that couldn't be hidden appeared on his face.

After all, when he locked the door after Shirley entered his room, he sensed Evelynn right behind it. Perhaps, even Evelynn would've entered, but he just didn't feel right about it. Having a threesome was on the level of taboo for his women, who were faithful and tolerant, so what would happen if he had a foursome with them?

He wasn't prepared to take care of all three of their mentality at the same time, especially not at this time.

Evelynn blushed while receiving his stare but then harrumphed softly.

"That's right. If Shirley didn't come, I would've entered."

"That's all?" He smilingly raised her brows, causing her to grit her teeth in embarrassment.

"I won't deny having thoughts of entering even after Shirley entered as I felt worried about you, but the moment you locked the door, I was able to make up my mind to stop." ?????-?????

She paused and, a moment later, lightly pouted, "Thank you."

Davis pulled her into his embrace and hugged her softly, "Don't force yourself."

"Mhm~"

Evelynn sweetly smiled as she closed her eyes, feeling satisfied in her heart. She slightly turned her head and kissed his cheek, "Don't push yourself, okay?"

"You can't be wanting me to subordinate myself to Myria, right?"

Davis chuckled as otherwise, that would be her meaning if he didn't push himself.

"I want you to rely on Ellia as you rely on us sometimes. That girl is in love with you deeply, so I'm sure she would come up with some plan, ascend and then look for a way to-"

"No, that would still mean we're relying on Myria."

Davis interrupted her, and Evelynn couldn't help but want to convince him, but he continued.

"However, I'm not too arrogant enough to think that I can do everything by myself. When I absolutely need their assistance, I will take it, so don't you worry, silly woman."

"Hehe~" Evelyn's smile blossomed brightly, becoming assured.

Ever since she was saved by Myria when she used her Reincarnation Laws to destroy the wicked consciousness that was imbued in her, she found herself slightly looking up to her.

Nonetheless, feeling satisfied, she was about to kiss Davis when a melodious yet longing voice echoed.

"Brother~"

Davis and Evelyn turned to look at the beauty who caused their breaths to become bated for a moment.

Blonde hair flowed till her waist, and she possessed purple eyes that shone like the starry skies. Her slim body had also become more mature, her white robe with golden patterns easily outlining her curves but more than that, there was something different about her aura.

Her aura no longer exuded iciness, causing Davis and Evelyn to react with shock again.

Perhaps after having lost her icy aura as she had abandoned Ice Phoenix Frozen Wisp Records and cultivated the Heaven Mandate Temple's Main Cultivation Manual, which was highly compatible with her physique, she radiated an imperial aura that was starkly different from her previous nature.

"Ohh... Clara, you broke through to the Law Sea Stage. Impressive!"

Davis finally spoke as he arrived in front of her, praising her.

Clara smiled lightly, even clasping her hands, "It's all thanks to my brother providing me with relevant, high-quality pills. However, I hurried a lot, and my cultivation was a bit unstable. I would leave soon, but I wanted to see brother before I went back to seclusion."

"Oh? Where do you want to go?"

Davis raised his brows. This girl didn't even react to the strangeness of the Calamity Light three days ago as though she felt no danger. However, he figured that she probably believed in his strength and didn't overreact.

"After my short seclusion of stabilizing my Essence Gathering Cultivation, I'm journeying to the Distorted Skies of Yonder and Alternating Time Flow Valley to comprehend Space Laws and try my chance at comprehending Time Laws."

"..."

Clara obediently explained, looking like she wanted Davis's permission, but Davis and Evelyn looked at each other, becoming interested themselves.

Chapter 2160: Unhinged

Clara had decided to head to the Distorted Skies of Yonder and Alternating Time Flow Valley. The Heaven Mandate Temple and the Heaven Gazing Sect jointly occupied those grounds, and not many people would be allowed inside these two zones as it was treated as a treasured training grounds for Space Laws and Time Laws.

Even if they were allowed, they wouldn't be allowed for more than a few days or months unless they were disciples of these powers, the exception being people who committed themselves to become Mystic Diviners as they were required to comprehend Space, Time, and Karma Laws.

That's why Tina's martial uncle, who lusted after her, was able to enjoy a lot of time in these zones. However, since Clara was a top disciple, she would be able to have free entry for as much time as she wanted.

That would only leave him and Evelyn, perhaps a few others who are interested in comprehending Space Laws and Time Laws. However, since he had a good relationship with the Heaven Mandate Temple and the Heaven Gazing Sect, he believed that they would let them in for as much as they wanted, although he believed his people would only require a year or half to determine if they were good at comprehending Space Laws and Time Laws.

'However, to go comprehending Space and Time Laws at this time... it might prove to be useful or a complete waste of time...'

Davis witnessed the usage of Space Laws in the Nine Western Territories Young Expert Competition and was thoroughly mesmerized, especially when Myria used it, displaying an immense comprehension over it that left the likes of the Vast Sky Emperor in the dust.

He wondered what it would like to match Myria's prowess in Space Laws, but surely, it couldn't be done in a year or two. Nevertheless, he felt that future prospects shouldn't be squashed just because he couldn't make time for it due to an ongoing calamity.

He had to fit in many skills as he could in a short amount of time. Besides, he was sure that the bastard who opened a tear in space and launched a Vacuous Beast Invasion would do it again, perhaps differently, but as for how, he wasn't able to guess.

"Alright, Clara. You can go, but we're joining you as well."

"Truly?"

Davis nodded his head, causing Clara's eyes to slightly widen, "I thought brother was going to train your Essence Gathering Cultivation as I had heard what happened to your body. Is it fine for you cast your focus elsewhere?"

"My little sister is quite strict, I see..." Davis smirked, "Don't worry. I'll concentrate on my essence as soon as I know how fast I'm comprehending Space Laws. Besides, I'm mainly heading there to see if I could comprehend Time Laws or not."

"I want to have a try as well."

Evelyn threw in her opinion, causing Clara to nod lightly.

"I see."

"But still, even though it must be mortifying and discouraging for brother to have an immortal tribulation that's worse than Ellia's, I believe in you. I'll take my leave then."

Clara smiled lightly, turned around, and left.

"Alright."

Davis watched Clara leave, his eyes blinking thrice, making him wonder if she had become distant to not display many emotions about his plight, although her words made him feel at ease and understand that she still cared about him.

This just meant that she was being influenced by her imperial physique and her new cultivation manual, which caused her to be more like a hegemonic ruler. As far as he could tell, she still cared about him, which meant that she didn't display signs of being controlled by the heavens.

Did Myria lie, or was Clara more unique?

However, Myria did say that Clara would start to be influenced by the heavens after she became an immortal, so he didn't mind Clara increasing her cultivation until then. As long as she was herself, then there was no problem.

"Evelynn, help me keep an eye on her."

"Sure~"

Evelynn unceremoniously replied as though it was a given, having already known some secrets which Davis shared because she could withstand the karmic burden with her prowess.

Two days later, a group of beauties and a conspicuous yet handsome toad left for the Heaven Gazing Sect Territory. However, they were seated on a magical beast that was more than a hundred and fifty meters tall. Its brownish-golden wings were twice the size of its height. If someone was below it, they would feel as though this huge monstrosity blotted out the skies.

That's how big it was, and it was none other than Mira, Isabella's magical beast pet.

She carried them all to the Heaven Gazing Sect, causing countless jaws to drop on their way in fear, shock, and awe.

To see a true Earth Dragon in this day and age, it could only mean that it was the Earth Dragon Queen's mount, which could mean that the Emperor of Death was also on it, but little did they know that there was a group of people traveling like they were going for an excursion.

Heck, when they broke through the Territory Fog of the Heaven Gazing Sect Territory, the entire power was alarmed, and the Karmic Guardian Emperor hurriedly jumped out of seclusion to confront the sudden visit of the Emperor of Death, his heart beating erratically from a bit of trepidation, making him wonder if he had done something wrong in these few months.

"Ah, if it isn't the Emperor of Death. I wonder if it is necessary to cause all this commotion when you can just send us a messenger to allow us to invite you with fanfare and glory that you deserve."

As the Karmic Guardian Emperor spoke, he momentarily gazed at the veiled beauties behind him as well as Tia, the little girl he put his heart and soul to teaching for a short time as her teacher only to be taken away from him, making him momentarily wonder if she had made any improvements but more than that, he wondered why the Emperor of Death would appear here with his women.

'It couldn't be to humiliate us to make himself look good in front of them... right?'

?????-????? The Karmic Guardian Emperor couldn't help but flinch ever so lightly at that thought. After all, the person in front of him was still a carefree youth with a libido that couldn't be suppressed. Not that many men, young or old, could stop themselves from looking cool in front of their women, including him. It was precisely because he understood this thought process that he was worried.

However, he gazed at Davis, who was perfunctorily smiling at him.

"Today, I came here to borrow the Distorted Skies of Yonder and Alternating Time Flow Valley for training. I wonder if the Heaven Gazing Sect is willing to let us in?"

He raised his brows, causing the Karmic Guardian Emperor to smile brightly.

"Oh, so that was the case."

"Did the Karmic Guardian Emperor think of something else?"

"No. Definitely not!"

The Karmic Guardian Emperor waved his hand before he turned to look at his aides.

"Grand Elders, quick! Bring them the necessary resources that would allow them to increase their chances of comprehending Space Laws."

"There's no need for those resources, right?"

Davis felt that it wasn't good to be indebted to them nor accept favors at this point as he had no need to.

"Oh no. These are rewards meant for the Ninth Stage Segment, which never occurred because of what happened back then. I thought providing a few as a sign of goodwill and repayment to the aid you've given us to our cultivations, but if the Emperor of Death states otherwise, I'll keep them back inside."

"I didn't mean that."

Hearing Davis taking back his words, the Karmic Guardian couldn't help but secretly smile. Sure enough. The other party was just putting up a magnanimous front.

"Wasn't I first in the Eighth Stage Segment of the Nine Western Territories Young Expert Competition? You people promised to give the top three the ability to buy resources for half the price, so I'll be taking advantage of that privilege."

"Oh... right."

The Karmic Guardian Emperor remembered they said something like that. These resources cost a fortune to buy as they were at High-Level Emperor Grade and above, not to mention their rarity as they could only be found in the Distorted Skies of Yonder and Alternating Time Flow Valley, but to the Emperor of Death, who destroyed many powers including the Vast Sky Emperor Palace, it is but a mere fraction of his overall wealth.

Possessing a difficult expression on his face, he agreed and led them to the special training grounds.
