

Emperor 5251

Chapter 5251: Speak With The Fist

“Rumble!” After Heaven’s Equal sealed the airspace above Li Qiye, the generals all appeared with the exception of Devil-vine who was sent to the horizon.

“They are changing their strategy.” A spectator commented.

“Will the gauntlet alone be enough to stop a combined attack from all of them?” Everyone became curious, the same for Suppression Conqueror who wanted to see the limit of the treasure.

Given his talent, he believed that it would only take time for him to understand the treasure. Moreover, through the gauntlet, he might be able to control the metal giants as well. His ultimate goal was to become a being comparable to epoch lords.

“Boom!” The general with the title of Black-tortoise turned into six suits of black armor to shield his allies. Now, they could attack without needing to worry about defense.

“Go!” Heaven’s Equal shouted and made his move first. The colorful spots on his feathers suddenly opened like eyes.

“Buzz.” Countless eyes fixated on Li Qiye and shot out colorful rays to trap Li Qiye. They had a mesmerizing effect that affected weaker audience members. Many fell to the ground, feeling as if their soul was leaving the body.

“Avian Soulstealer!” Many big shots became alarmed since countries have been destroyed by this technique.

Twisted Shot also unleashed a barrage of white strings, looking more like a torrential wave than a barrage of arrows.

Treasure-fruit threw numerous fruits at the foe of various affinities - curses, devouring, poisonous, fire... Once they were flying in the air, they fused together before exploding by Li Qiye, wanting to reduce him down to blood.

Skyhorn’s attack came from underground. Countless blades protruded upward around Li Qiye.

“Boom!” The fabrics of space and time couldn’t contain their destruction.

“Can he survive this?” A spectator wondered, thinking that the gauntlet couldn’t guard against this many attacks at once.

However, the rays from the gauntlet intensified and became blinding.

“Watch it!” Suppression Conqueror shouted in astonishment but it was too late. The rays swept through the palace and drowned the generals.

“Ahhh!” Black-tortoise General’s mighty defense proved useless and was obliterated. The defenseless generals burned like paper the moment the rays illuminated them.

As capable cultivators, they reacted in this split second and performed their strongest merit laws in order to stop the rays. Alas, it only took one moment for them to be reduced to ashes.

The piles of ashes were no longer distinguishable from one another and eventually got swept away by the wind coming from outside the main hall. One of them even had eleven sacred fruits but this didn’t matter.

Suppression became emotional after seeing the core of the gauntlet - the source of the rays. If he could obtain this core, he could craft it into a weapon perfect for his cultivation.

“Sir, you’re rather merciless.” He stood up and uttered coldly.

“Since you don’t seem to understand words, I have to use my fist.” Li Qiye answered with a smile.

The atmosphere became tense while everyone had their eyes on Li Qiye’s gauntlet. An eleven-fruit dragon lord stood no chance against it, what about an eleven-fruit conqueror?

Not long ago, challenging Suppression Conqueror would have been viewed as foolish arrogance. Now, the tides have turned and Suppression seemed to be the underdog.

In their eyes, he was now a prime candidate to test the power of the gauntlet.

“Can you also control the metal giants in the city?” He asked suddenly.

Everyone became interested in the answer with haste.

Chapter 5252: Child’s Play

“If you don’t roll off that throne, I will either kick you out or worse, wring your head. Which outcome do you prefer?” Li Qiye smiled.

The crowd thought that this was finally time for the finale.

“Is that so?” Suppression’s pressure continued to make everyone tremble in fear.

A few big shots stared at him and thought that if he were to give up now, it would be utterly humiliating compared to dying in battle.

“This throne is mine.” Suppression said before shouting: “Erupt!”

On another side of the palace, Jadeclure Conqueror had managed to stabilize the situation after expertly controlling the flames in her cauldron. She stopped the interference and continued to refine the pills within.

“Boom!” However, the imperial rune floating above Darkflame Cauldron Emperor became resplendent, no different from a dao fruit.

The influx of power made the alchemist tremble in pain. His dark flame rushed out of the cauldron and began attacking Jadezure Conqueror's cauldron.

"Crack!" The pavement beneath her started cracking; her feet were pushed into the ground.

This caused her flames to be weaker and the refinement process came to a halt.

"Rumble!" Suppression didn't stop from channeling more power to the cauldron emperor via the rune.

"No more!" The latter shouted, unable to endure the sudden influx.

Suppression ignored him, only focusing on defeating Jadezure Conqueror as fast as possible to maintain his legitimate claim to the city.

"Boom!" Jadezure naturally couldn't handle the dark flames at this point since she was barely stronger than her opponent.

She only had two dao fruits so the gap between her and Suppression was insurmountable. The flames in her cauldron became feeble, on the verge of extinguishing.

Worst of all, the evil flames didn't only attack her cauldron but aimed for her as well.

"!" She became alarmed and it was too late to run. The dark flame coiled around her like a dragon, seemingly wanting to devour her.

“No!” Resplendent and the others bellowed in horror. It was too late for them to empower her.

Moreover, this would have been useless since Suppression alone was far stronger than all of them combined.

Amidst the crucial moment, Li Qiye shook his head disapprovingly and said: “Child’s play, how embarrassing.”

He stomped the ground and an alchemy dao releasing eternal flames manifested into reality. It seemed to contain the powers of numerous alchemy emperors. Their flames have been embedded in this special dao.

It flew into Jadeclure Conqueror’s body, causing her to light up in a blinding manner. A verdant tree suddenly appeared and blotted out the sky.

She became empowered with numerous flames as if she was taken over by capable predecessors.

“Boom!” They easily broke the fiery dragon trapping her and went on the offensive, incinerating the rest of the dark flames.

“Shit!” Darkflame Cauldron Emperor couldn’t believe it and turned to flee. Alas, this dao flame engulfed him in no time at all.

“Ahh!” He let out one scream before being reduced to ashes along with his cauldron and the content inside.

“!” Suppression Conqueror was affected as well and staggered backward.

The dao flames then returned to Jadeclure’s cauldron. She could only stand and watch since these flames were beyond her control.

The refinement process changed constantly in a profound manner. Alchemists became immersed in this scene; even regular cultivators observed carefully. This was the apex of the alchemy dao.

Suppression himself couldn’t help staring at the refinement process and the dao flames, unable to think of another soul in the upper continents capable of this.

“Boom!” A tribulation appeared again in the sky.

“It’s coming.” Someone said.

A medicinal fragrance wafted in the air next. Whoever breathed in immediately became shrouded in a golden light.

Chapter 5253: Finest-grade Time-honed Pills

Those in the palace feel their blood surging in a pleasant manner. The older cultivators thought that they were returning to their prime, that their vitality was roaring like dragons.

“The time-honed pills are nearly finished.” One of them commented.

“More than that, these must be at the finest grade, never seen since Heavenly Sage Yuan’s era.” An ancient ancestor who had eaten these pills before said.

“Boom!” The tribulation finally descended with bolts aiming straight for the conqueror.

“Open!” She became alarmed and had no choice but to face it.

Her cauldron opened and all the pills flew out with the speed of stars. She immediately summoned a special bottle and roared: “Come!”

This pulled all the pills into the bottle and she closed the lid, signaling the end of the refinement process. The tribulation also dispersed since the cauldron was no longer active.

As she held the bottle, she saw the colorful light flowing on the exterior, realizing that she had just refined a finest-grade longevity bottle.

Of course, she knew that this wasn’t because of her own ability, hence her look of astonishment. She regained her wits and started remembering the alchemy dao earlier along with the flames. Given her comprehension, she immediately understood more about the art of pill refinement.

“There is no other bottle like this one.” The crowd stared intensely at the bottle in her grasp. Ancient ancestors, in particular, salivated at the thought of increasing their lifespan.

“The finest grade.” Suppression’s heart started beating faster since he was getting up there in age. Despite his exceptional cultivation, aging was still inevitable.

“Welcome back, my emperor, and thank you for enlightening me with your alchemy dao.” Jadechore stopped thinking about the dao and kneeled before Li Qiye.

Li Qiye nodded and accepted the gesture while everyone else couldn’t believe their eyes.

“So there is an emperor for Imperial Attendant?” A big shot murmured.

“Well, the name makes sense now.” Someone else responded.

Putting aside Resplendent Monarch’s claim and support, Li Qiye had done something no one else could with the exception of City Lord Zi Yan.

This alone proved that he was part of the orthodox branch, qualified to sit on the throne.

Eyes turned toward Suppression Conqueror who had a rather frightening expression. He eventually said: “Fine, so be it. Congratulations, everyone, you have won this duel. Imperial Attendant is yours once more.”

He had nothing to say after losing the alchemy duel. According to the rules, it was time to return sovereignty back to the orthodox branch.

The guests appreciated this man who was true to his words. A conqueror could accept losing in a graceful manner. Few could make it to his level while having a narrow-minded perspective.

“Thank you, Conqueror.” Jadeclure and the others said respectfully. Although they were enemies who were willing to kill each other, they still played by the ancestral rules.

Suppression gazed at Li Qiye and said: “My Lord, can you truly control everything in Imperial Attendant?”

“Your ambition has no limit but you should know when to give up before it is too late. Run while I’m still in a good mood.” Li Qiye said with a smile.

The crowd took a deep breath. This was not Li Qiye’s first time showing contempt for the conqueror. Would he be able to endure the unceasing humiliation?

“Hahaha, I have never been afraid of anyone my whole life. There is no question about your unfathomable abilities but I must still see them for myself.” Suppression laughed and said.

Imperial flames oozed out of his eyes and caused loud detonations. The grand dao harmonized with him and dao laws shot up into the air like reversed waterfalls. His empowered state made him look like the ruler of the cosmo.

The city appeared tiny in comparison, the same for the stars above. They were mere specks of dust existing in his world.

Living beings dropped to the ground, unable to handle his activated grand dao. This applied to dragon lords with four or five sacred fruits as well.

It seemed that just by channeling his strength a tiny bit, he could crush the entire world. Everyone would be destroyed before they could scream.

Chapter 5254: Unqualified To Be Called Emperor Suppression

Suppression lived up to his fame, far superior to the average conqueror. Each of his steps caused a loud detonation as the grand dao appeared beneath his feet.

Runes emerged and twisted together, creating wondrous phenomena. Space and time worked together to form a domain large enough to reach the sky. The runes became as large as mountains, capable of suppressing all living beings.

Everyone within his domain became frozen including Xiao Qingtian's group who had twelve sacred fruits.

"Emperor Suppression Art!" A crowd member shouted while feeling an immense weight pushing down on them.

"Are you ready?" Suppression was the lord of his domain. He looked down at Li Qiye with absolute confidence.

Li Qiye smiled and entered the domain without any hesitation.

"Boom!" The pressure immediately came down on him with the force of an entire galaxy.

"Buzz." The gauntlet released its flames again to create a barrier, flawlessly preventing Li Qiye from feeling any negative effect.

“Words are used so carelessly nowadays, this is Emperor Suppression?” Li Qiye smiled after a full scan, disparaging the domain feared by so many cultivators.

Suppression didn't become angry and only focused on the gauntlet.

“Want to understand it?” Li Qiye smiled and raised his hand, letting the guy take a better look.

Meanwhile, spectators wondered if the treasure is enough to contend against Suppression Conqueror.

“Strong it may be, it will not let you leave this place unscathed.” Suppression's voice became dignified and intimidating.

“Go ahead and try. Just know that this is a suicidal endeavor.” Li Qiye said with a smile.

“My fate is up to me alone, I am not afraid. Get ready.” Suppression laughed in the face of death.

“Make your move.” Li Qiye agreed.

“Boom!” Suppression's imperial flames shook the two continents. His dao began refining everything in his domain as he raised his hands.

It was as if he had a thousand hands behind him, capable of controlling all affinities and powers.

“Rumble!” Time flowed at his fingertips along with spatial fabrics. He had no problem controlling these different forces at the same time.

“Emperor Suppression!” He swung both hands downward and the pressure multiplied by a hundred thousand times over.

All of the grand dao shot out like pulses against Li Qiye, destroying everything along the way. The battlefield reverted back to the start of time - nothing was left but an empty expanse.

If he hadn't contained this inside his domain, ten million miles of land would be flattened in the blink of an eye.

He had used this to great effect against top cultivators previously, hence the name of the technique. They could only lament while being stuck on the ground, unable to resist the pressure.

“Boom!” However, he didn't find the same success here since the gauntlet easily stopped the technique.

“This insignificant technique is undeserving of its name, know your limit.” Li Qiye said while raising his hand up in the air.

Flames rushed out of the gauntlet and formed a larger palm, seemingly capable of flipping three thousand worlds over.

Suppression's technique was nullified while he got sent flying as well.

“Boom!” The palm changed into a fist and punched the flying conqueror.

“Ugh...” The latter smashed into the boundary of his own domain and vomited blood.

When he stood up, cracking noises could be heard as if several bones have been broken. The front of his robe was stained with blood.

Nonetheless, he channeled chaos true energy and successfully healed his wounds in no time at all.

Chapter 5255: Take This

Spectators witnessed the famous suppression technique failing after the first move. Li Qiye still managed to deliver a dangerous blow despite being contained within the conqueror’s domain.

“I can’t believe how frightening this treasure is.” A dragon lord shuddered.

If Suppression Conqueror couldn’t block this move, it meant that someone like Jadeure Conqueror would have been obliterated.

Killing Heaven’s Equal and the others was impressive but this took it to the next level.

“Still not giving up yet? Okay, let’s have you taste despair.” Li Qiye said with a smile since Suppression was still gazing at the fiery gauntlet.

Having said that, Li Qiye raised his hand and the metal giants outside the palace suddenly disassembled into exquisite pieces. Some were smaller than sand grains.

All of them surged toward the gauntlet with the force of a tsunami. They attached themselves perfectly to the gauntlet and started covering his whole arm without hindering movement.

It wasn't strange in the cultivation world to see massive treasures changing size dramatically. However, the crowd was impressed by this due to the assembling method. The pieces were meticulously arranged, not just randomly attached.

"He can really activate the metal giants." A dragon lord became emotional.

An ancient ancestor from the city said: "Activate? No, this is having complete control over them. He can do whatever he pleases."

Resplendent Monarch and the other ancestors became overwhelmed with emotions and got on their knees again. It was an honor to witness the return of their emperor; he was definitely the one from the legends.

Keep in mind that even City Lord Zi Yan could only control the giants, not disassemble them on a whim.

"This is possible too?" Suppression took a deep breath. In his long years of research, he did figure out a thing or two regarding these metal giants.

However, to freely assemble them was beyond his imagination. He thought that he would just use them as a powerful legion just like City Lord Zi Yan. Now, it seemed that controlling them in that manner was only an elementary step.

“I heard Celestial Court coveted these giants back then too but couldn’t get to them.” Xiao Qingtian quietly said.

During Emperor War, a group of gods and emperors surrounded Imperial Attendant City in order to obtain these giants. Unfortunately for them, Armor Conqueror defended heroically until the arrival of his allies - Cleansing Incense Dynasty, Dao Alliance, and Imperial Alliance.

“Very well, I do want to learn the taste of despair.” Suppression still didn’t give up and summoned his weapon - a bronze staff that has been used extensively.

Of course, his weapon wouldn’t be just an ordinary staff.

“Chaos Staff.” Someone recognized it instantly due to its notoriety in the upper continents. It had killed numerous dragon lords and even a few conquerors previously. Thus, it also had an unofficial moniker - Emperor-beating Stick.

“Boom!” As the conqueror channeled his power into the weapon, it became resplendent and exuded golden imperial rays.

The staff became longer as if the entire world has been refined within. Just one smash contained an incalculable force from its weight.

“Made from chaos metal and refined by imperial flames. Its weight is immeasurable.” One spectator said.

“How does it compare to Sword Queen’s heavy sword?” Someone else became curious.

“It can’t. Sword Queen is at the apex, that heavy sword is something else. Of course, when strictly talking about weight, this staff can be ranked second.” A big shot said.

“I’m not so sure about that. When talking about weight, Titanic Conqueror should be the heaviest due to her special physique. Next should be Sword Queen’s heavy sword but she doesn’t quite need it anymore. Now, this staff should be third in the upper continents.” A different cultivator interjected.

“Take this!” Meanwhile, Suppression Conqueror finally made his move, leaping into the air for a vertical swing. This had no technique or dao profundity - only pure force.

This was enough to create black holes along its path. Spectators couldn’t help but bellow in horror.

Chapter 5256: Do Whatever You Want

The smash could instantly pulverize a five-fruit conqueror or ten-fruit dragon lord. Spectators still trembled despite being outside of Suppression Conqueror’s domain.

It had enough force to put an end to Imperial Attendant City without its defensive barriers activated.

“Boom!” The shockwaves flattened everything outside of the main impact point.

Alas, Li Qiye raised his hand and the gauntlet's rays automatically stopped the staff. It didn't leave a single mark on the gauntlet.

"Die!" Suppression's expression darkened but he didn't stop there. He raised the staff again and unleashed a flurry of swings. The staff became the source of a tornado.

However, within the violence were impressive techniques and variations. Each thrust and swing were deliberate with signs of reaching the apogee. The focus of energy varied unpredictably from a single point to a larger radius.

"Chaos Flurry!" Those outside of Imperial Attendant City felt the gales hitting all regions.

Weaker cultivators and mortals felt as if this was the end of the world. If the conqueror were to miss his mark and accidentally hit the domain barrier, it could result in immense destruction to the outside world.

He was rightfully proud of this technique because even twelve-fruit dragon lords were lost in amazement. Few could actually block all the strikes from beginning to end.

Resplendent Monarch and the others understood that they would have been powerless. The best of them could only last a few strikes before being reduced to a mist of blood.

Unfortunately, his opponent still didn't move an inch. Just raising the gauntlet was enough to stop the tempestuous attack.

Eventually, Suppression finished all three thousand variations while going all out. He was a bit out of breath after expending a considerable amount of energy.

On the other hand, Li Qiye only raised his hand and didn't put in any effort. Not a single bead of sweat could be found on him.

Suppression leaped backward and realized that his famous technique had done more harm to him than his opponent.

In the past, few adversaries were worthy of seeing the full variations. Twelve-fruit conquerors or dao lords would need to use their supreme merit laws and energy in order to block the entire sequence. This wasn't the case here.

This made him wonder if a baby could have done the same as Li Qiye while wearing this magnificent gauntlet.

"This doesn't make any sense." Spectators murmured.

How could a weapon alone block the ultimate technique of a top conqueror? Alas, they witnessed it just now.

"I've never seen anything like it before." Another added.

The top cultivators felt the same way with gleams of astonishment in their eyes.

“This is despair, right?” An expert asked.

A dragon lord revealed a bitter smile as he said: “I felt it twice just now, once when Suppression uses his Chaos Flurry, I knew that I would have been pulverized by it. Then after seeing Li Qiye just standing there, despair struck even harder the second time.”

They wondered if they had wasted their whole life trying to learn the strongest offense and the best defense.

“No wonder why everyone wants those giants.” A big shot commented after seeing the might of the combined gauntlet and metal giants.

“I don’t understand. What is this sorcery?” Suppression said with confusion.

Chapter 5257: No Regrets

Everyone took a deep breath after hearing this. Blocking Chaos Flurry without resorting to merit laws and techniques? Even a three-year-old knew how to block.

Suppression Conqueror was at a loss for words since he knew the might of his technique. Now, he began to see a hint behind Li Qiye’s statement regarding despair.

He felt helpless. Sure, Chaos Flurry was not his strongest ace card but it represented eighty to ninety percent of his power. This situation was unprecedented even during his battles with apex conquerors.

“How can this be?” A spectator questioned his own eyes.

“These metal giants are this strong?” Another asked while looking at the remaining statues outside the palace.

“Well, if they were, Imperial Attendant City could have taken down the alliances without any problem, they could even attack Celestial Court.” A big shot commented.

“It’s different. As far as I know, City Lord Zi Yan could only activate the giants, and not all of them either.” An ancestor with a good grasp of history said: “This Li Qiye is doing more than just activating them.”

“You’ve done three thousand strikes, it’s my turn now.” Back to the battle, Li Qiye smiled and said before swinging his armored hand.

His movement resembled that of a brute in a human village. There was nothing to it outside of a simple movement.

However, Suppression Conqueror’s expression changed. He raised his staff with both hands, ready to block a falling sky.

“Bam!” Fiery sparks splattered with the force of a million erupting volcanoes.

Though he managed to stop the blow, his staff clearly bent downward between his hands and almost broke. The impact sent him flying straight into his domain, causing cracks to appear on the barrier.

He vomited blood and turned pale since the strike left actual serious injuries. His internal energies and vitality were still churning.

As for the crowd, they saw Li Qiye's actions from start to finish. He didn't seem to have put that much force behind the swing, acting as if he was just playing with a child.

Alas, this was Suppression Conqueror who went all out. This whole thing didn't make sense - a mighty conqueror being utterly defeated after one move.

"Just imagine all the metal giants in action." A dragon lord commented.

Everyone coveted the giants now but knew that this was an impossible feat. Otherwise, they would have been taken eras ago.

"Such power, enough to survive a calamity." Suppression stood up and healed his wounds before responding.

"Still not giving up, I see." Li Qiye said.

"Yes, I am alive so there is still hope." Suppression remained resolute.

His embarrassed state had nothing to do with weakness. The problem was the gauntlet being illogically strong.

“Not for long if you insist on being stubborn.” Li Qiye’s eyes narrowed.

“Everyone dies eventually. I would prefer dying on the battlefield while seeking the dao.” Suppression laughed heartily and said.

His grand comment made cultivators’ blood boil.

“He’s right.” A few murmured while reflecting on their cultivation goals.

Resplendent Monarch and the others sighed, unable to say anything negative about Suppression’s unrelenting ambition and direct methods.

“Fine, display your worth so that you can die without regrets.” Li Qiye said.

“Very well, I had created a dao that can borrow force from outer space. You will be a witness today.” Suppression announced.

“Clank!” He folded his staff after saying this and surprised the crowd.

He folded it into eight different sections and turned it into a symmetrical octagonal symbol.

“Bang!” He embedded it into the air and made people wonder about his technique.

Chapter 5258: Redflood

The embedded staff resembled a floating portal. No one knew what Suppression Conqueror wanted to do.

This was an entirely new variation of the staff. The conquerors who had fought him didn't experience this either.

“Rumble!” Space and time started shaking violently while the staff exuded bright pulses and tiny dao laws.

The laws came together to form unique dao runes, also embedding themselves into space.

Space melted as a result and turned into a spatial liquid. The dimension within the octagonal shape started rotating even faster and turned into a maelstrom. Once the speed of the maelstrom reached the breaking point, it took the form of a black hole.

“Boom!” Endless power and light surged outward along with a wormhole. A portal manifested in the center.

Everyone could see the dangerous world on the other side - high temperature and perilous auras. The powers residing there caused instability in the upper continents.

Some dragon lords and conquerors were no strangers to this aura, hence their soured expression.

Lava engulfed this world; even the tallest peaks were still drowned in lava. Upon closer inspection, it might just be a different molten liquid with a similar viscosity.

Ancient weapons and could be seen - gigantic swords, cauldrons, and many others. Whether they be flowing with the current or standing still, there was one constant - that they were either damaged or still in an infantile form.

It seemed as if they were abandoned before completion or had clear defects and damages. Nonetheless, they still emitted a frightening aura of various offensive affinities.

This world resembled the cauldron of a supreme existence before it was abandoned, leaving these weapons behind.

Occasionally, the molten liquid would erupt into massive tsunamis or storms. This could cause devastating damage to the outside world.

“Redflood World!” One of them revealed its name.

“One of the four grand broken realms.” A dragon lord added.

Though some of them have traveled to this world before, this was a portal connecting the two realms directly.

“Incredible method.” A conqueror couldn’t help but praise Suppression.

Through his own grand dao and power, he managed to create a portal to the perilous Redflood inside his domain.

Conquerors and dragon lords had fallen there after making a single mistake. Evil Reborn, Perish, and Dao’s End were the other three broken realms.

“This is a genius conqueror for you.” Everyone unanimously acknowledged Suppression’s ability.

“A bit interesting.” Li Qiye smirked after seeing this.

“You have your metal giants and I have Redflood. Today, I shall borrow its power to fight you.” Suppression said. [1]

Others exchanged glances after hearing this.

“He can actually harness Redflood’s power? That would be mind-blowing.” An ancient ancestor gasped.

“That’s Suppression for you.” Another responded.

“Why not?” Li Qiye smiled and agreed.

“Although I couldn’t control the metal giants, I was able to learn a dao through them to connect with Redflood. We will see if you can stop it.” Suppression said.

“I get it now.” Some listeners finally understood why Suppression was obsessed with keeping control of Imperial Attendant City.

After all, an eleven-fruit conqueror shouldn’t care about authority and influence. For example, although Sword Queen and All-things Dao Lord were leaders of the alliances, they rarely exercised this power or performed their duty.

Chapter 5259: Imitation

Suppression had the potential of becoming an apex conqueror. Thus, caring about a city and position seemed beneath someone of his stature - no different from mortals struggling for political supremacy in the court.

Now, they understood why his goal - to understand the metal giants and other secrets. Despite being unable to control them, he still figured out other mysteries due to his impeccable talent and audacity.

He came up with a method to connect a portal to Redflood World and harness its power.

“Let’s see how much you have learned then.” Li Qiye said with a smile.

“Good.” Suppression didn’t have a chance to test it now until now so this was his first test.

“Rumble!” His dao fruits exuded boundless chaos true energy, culminating in an armor around him.

The entire domain became agitated by him channeling his power. The fruits then released dao laws through the portal.

“He’s doing it now.” The crowd watched eagerly for his next move.

The dao laws resembled thick pipes, ready to take in all the molten liquid from Redflood.

“Clank! Clank! Clank!” The liquid started solidifying into exquisite parts. They assembled around the conqueror and turned him into a metal giant. His laws and dao fruits remained in the other realm and continued creating the pathway for the liquid.

This version seemed rather similar to the ones found in Imperial Attendant City as if they were cast from the same mould.

Nonetheless, Suppression’s version didn’t have the same level of immaculate details - a clear imitation after closer inspection.

As he activated the armor suit, red rays poured out from the gaps with enough power to push away three thousand worlds. They appeared more powerful compared to the rays coming from Li Qiye’s gauntlet and had a different color. In reality, Li Qiye’s rays were colorless and freed from impurities while Suppression’s rays were a crimson red, perhaps a lower grade.

“He’s using Redflood to imitate the metal giants.” Everyone understood right away.

He hoped to make up for the gap between himself and the gauntlet by using the power of Redflood.

“Extraordinary, the ingenuity in pioneering a new path.” Li Qiye couldn’t help but praise after seeing Suppression converting the power of Redflood into a metal suit for his own personal use.

Ancestors nearby were naturally impressed. Conquerors and dao lords from the other regions also paid attention to this and had nothing but praise for him.

Although some of them had borrowed the power of the four broken realms, this was strictly limited to the internal areas. They used their grand dao to harmonize with the affinities found there.

As for Suppression, he was able to continually borrow Redflood’s power while being in the outside world. Other innovative conquerors had never come up with this method before.

“This power is not mine but let us see how strong it is.” Suppression’s voice echoed across the two continents.

“So be it, show us the power of your creation.” Li Qiye said with a smile.

“Boom!” Suppression raised both hands and sent the dreadful rays toward the enemy.

They formed a domain around Li Qiye and instilled pressure from all directions.

“A fight it is.” Li Qiye smiled and the gauntlet disassembled for a second before turning into an armor suit as well.

This allowed him to survive the rays without needing to do anything else.

Chapter 5260: Technology And Cultivation

Explosions detonated all around Li Qiye but didn't deliver any damage. Li Qiye then sent out rays in retaliation.

The rays from both sides collided and dispersed into nothingness while leaving permanent scars on the fabrics of reality.

"Rumble!" The domain once again saved the upper continents from devastating fallout.

This appeared to be an even contest and lasted for a long while.

"Boom!" Eventually, Suppression decided to open all the scales and gaps among the assembled plates. At the same time, he sent more dao laws into Redflood to increase the absorption rate.

The armor suit turned into a fiery god; its rays received a considerable boost.

"Die!" The empowered conqueror's rays obtained a physical form and surrounded Li Qiye.

Alas, this was still not enough to break the gauntlet's defense. Meanwhile, in Redflood, the liquid there surged violently as if a devil was about to emerge.

Now, Suppression gained the actual liquid as well. His armor suit shot out torrents of this scorching liquid on top of the rays.

The liquid was the remnants of incredible treasures after a refinement process. They could congeal upon contact and burn anything beneath.

This bypassed Li Qiye's defensive rays and fully surrounded his suit of armor. It only took a second before Li Qiye was replaced by a huge lump of metal.

"He actually did it?" One spectator said, thinking that Li Qiye was now ashes within.

Suppression didn't know either. He had gone all out just now and understood how frightening this liquid was - enough to reduce a conqueror to nothingness.

"That move can't be beaten." Another observer said.

"Crack!" Their conversation was interrupted by cracks appearing all over the lump of metal.

"!" Suppression realized that the job was not finished. He channeled all the rays and liquid to hit the lump again.

"Boom!" Alas, it was too late and the lump exploded into pieces.

Everyone saw Li Qiye again. However, the armor suit was gone and he only had the gauntlet now.

It seemed to be fully activated with resplendent rays stopping all the onslaught.

“Unfortunately, it falls just a bit short, not what I'm waiting for. Let's end this.” Li Qiye shook his head before raising his hand.

This time, all the metal giants outside the palace were disassembled into smaller pieces and summoned by Li Qiye.

The process was too swift for Suppression Conqueror to interrupt. It didn't take long before a new suit of armor surrounded Li Qiye.

Its main frame had the shape of an enormous metal can - perfectly round and heavy as if three thousand worlds were condensed into its shell. Crushing stars and blocking all offenses shouldn't be a problem with it.

The simple suit exuded immortal rays, causing others to think that this was the ruler of all six continents.

Spectators no longer dared to breathe loudly before this wondrous creation. Just one immortal ray could wipe out numerous kingdoms.

“Looks like a metal giant that has been blessed with the force of cultivation.” Apex conquerors and dao lords found themselves inferior.

“So this is the fully activated version?” Someone else said.

By this point, it became obvious to everyone why Suppression Conqueror coveted the throne of the city.
