

Chapter 10:

Elle's POV:

This Monday literally couldn't get any worse. It's raining (yes I hate rain when I have to go out in it) and I have got a detention for biology, all because I can't find my stupid book meaning that I didn't have my homework with me. Ugh.

I went to the toilets to clear my head a bit. I never normally have to do this it's only because my head is swarming with thoughts about Aurora. We kissed once, it's not as if she owes any loyalty to me. For all I care is that she can fuck whoever she likes.

Once I opened the door to the toilets, I froze.

There she was. Aurora.

Except she was face to face with Sydney the snake.

They were stood so close to each other that not even a tiny piece of thread could fit between them. I could feel the anger fuming off of me.

Aurora's POV:

Her breath was hot against my face, she took a step forward so I took one back, until she cornered me into the cubicle. Oh God.

"Fancy seeing you here."

Well it is the school toilet, dipshit.

"Haha," I laughed awkwardly, "yeah."

Her eyes flickered down to my lips. Oh shit. She's gonna try stick it on me, not here, not now, not ever.

"Urm maybe another time yeah?" I lied.

"Of course, I'll go round yours later."

"Sorry I'm actually busy later."

Can she not take the hint already?

She stepped aside, letting me pass. I thought that we were alone but I heard the door close. There she stood, Elle. She must have seen this whole interaction and hopefully she heard me turning down Sydney but by the look on her face she didn't. Her eyes began to fill with tears as she span on here heels to leave.

"Elle wait." I reached out grabbing her hand.

"No, Aurora I'm not apart of your silly little game." her voice breaking part way through her sentence as she tried to hold her tears back.

And with that she le . Again.

"What the hell was that all about?" Sydney asked from behind me.

I turned to face her. "No, what the hell was that all about?" I asked motioning towards her.

"What do you mean?"

"What do I mean? Do you really think that I'm into you? The answer is no. I have never liked you in that way and I never will."

"Oh" she stated looking down at the ground.

Okay maybe I had been a little harsh but can you blame me?

"I've got to go." she said as she scurried out, like the little rat she is.

I turned to face the mirror yet I couldn't bare to look at myself. All I felt was disappointment in myself even though I didn't mean for any of this to happen.

Elle's POV:

My eyes were streaming with tears. I'm never normally like this, well recently I am but I never used to, it's all because of her.

If I'm honest I tend to believe pretty much all rumours yet I have never seen any evidence proving that they are real. I was really hoping that it was a lie or that she was drunk or high or something, even though I knew that she would never do that. Yet seeing them together just confirmed my worst nightmare.

I know that she's owes nothing to me but in a way I thought that we connected slightly. I thought she wanted me and only me.

But I guess I was wrong.

It was the next day and I went to Talia's house a er school even though she doesn't particularly like doing things on a school night she was bored.

"Well I guess you were right." I said.

"Right about what exactly?" she asked.

"About Aurora and Sydney."

"Well when am I ever wrong."

I rolled my eyes. "I just don't know what to do about her, I like her but we just mess each other around all the time and I'm tired of it." I admitted.

"Maybe you should play the game then."

"Huh?"

"You know get her back? I know what you should do."

"What?" I asked.

"Didn't you say her brother was kinda into you? Well you should get with him."

Eww. What the fuck? Honestly I had totally forgotten about that little freak.

"Aren't you forgetting that I like girls?"

"Just do it. PLEASE IT WOULD BE SO FUNNY. AHHH JUST IMAGINING HER FACE WHEN SHE FINDS OUT."

I spent the rest of the week waiting to see if he would accept my friend request on snapchat, he finally did on Friday. To my surprise he actually texted me first but I expect that he always tries to be a 'gentleman' by texting first.

Jake: Hey Elle it's about time you came round.

Why is he so forward?

Me: yhyh i know it's just that u have been on my mind constantly

I literally threw up in my mouth a little whilst typing those words.

Jake: So do you want to come over to mine this weekend?

Me: yhyh sure

Damn, he does move quick. I thought that I would have to work a little harder for him to like me.

I'm not entirely sure how this is going to play out but I know it's going to end badly, even though I really want to see how it turns out.

Aurora's POV:

I just hope that Elle can forgive me, even though it wasn't my fault.

"Hey Aurora," Jess said trying to get my attention, "did you here that your brother is trying to make a move on Elle."

I'm never one for gossip but this did annoy me more than it should. I mean I know what he's like, how when he sees something knew and shinny he wants it. I also him and that ones he's done with his new toy he will just go looking for a new, even better one to play with, leaving his old fling behind in the bin.

"No but it doesn't really bother me. I mean I do hate her and he will use her so she will get what's coming for her." I lied, it does bother me.

A/N:

Hey guys hope you enjoyed the chapter because a lot happened so I hoped that you payed attention.

I'll update soon, I promise xxx
