

Chapter 13:

Elle's POV:

I was exhausted yet l i ed. I felt like I was floating, like nothing could touch me, like nothing could get to me. Apart from her.

It was getting late and Aurora had fallen asleep in my arms but I didn't know whether I was meant to stay over or not.

I decided that I should leave.

I slid my arm out from beneath Sleeping Beauty and quietly put my clothes on, trying to not wake the sleeping princess. Making my way to the door, I turned round to say goodbye before I le .

"Sweet dreams." I whispered.

I tried to close the door quietly so that I didn't wake her. Luckily for me I managed to wake someone else up.

Jake.

"Why are you leaving without saying goodbye?"

"Oh umm sorry, bye."

He pulled me into a hug, his cheap a er shave intoxicated my nostrils. I pulled away.

"I guess I will see you next week, same time." he said sheepishly.

Jake confuses me because everyone thinks that he is some tu guy who just uses girls but a er today, even though we didn't talk much, I could tell that he was the complete opposite.

Aurora's POV:

I stretched my arm out to the other side of my bed to pull Elle into me, with my eyes still shut. There was no one there. I sat up sharply looking around my room frantically for her but there was no sign. I thought to myself 'maybe she just went downstairs for some breakfast'. I walked downstairs but she was no where to be found.

Then I remembered Elle doesn't eat breakfast.

Had she really le me again? I thought we had moved past everything a er last night.

My flickered back to the night we had. Unconsciously I bit my lower lip just thinking of the time we spent together.

I need to call her.

*ring**ring*

She picked up a er the second ring, "hey is everything alright?" she asked innocently.

"Umm no, you le me again."

"I didn't me."

I cut her o . "You can't just leave when your emotions get to much for you it doesn't work like that. I have feelings for you and you can't." I could feel myself choking back my tears.

"You have feelings for me?"

"Yes for fuck sake, where you even listening to me?"

"Do you want to go on a date?"

"I CAN'T KEEP PLAYING THIS GAM-, wait what?"

"Do you want to go on a date with me Friday night?" she asked calmly.

AHHHHHHHHH. SHE ASKED ME ON A DATE. Pull yourself together Aurora.

"Umm yes, that would be nice." I said trying to keep me cool whilst I was internally screaming.

"I'll pick you up around 7."

"I'll see you then, bye."

"Goodbye, Aurora."

And just like that I forgot why I was mad at her in the first place.

***

It was the night of the date and I'm so excited. I decided to wear baby blue satin dress that barely covered my arse. I matched it with silver jewellery and le my long blonde hair down but slightly curled.

*ding**dong*

She was here.

I opened the door excitedly. Only to become face to face with Sydney.

Does this bitch ever piss o ?

"Hey Sydney, what are you doing here?" I asked awkwardly.

"Well you weren't returning my calls or texts so I thought I would come by to see if everything is alright, by the way you really suit the dress, it complements your eyes."

"Oh umm thanks but I have somewhere to be, maybe we could do this another time?"

"Why do you have a date or something?" she asked trying to make a joke.

"I- umm" I stuttered. "Yes."

"Oh in that case i'll leave, sorry for the inconvenience."

She turned around to face Elle who was holding flowers.

She got me flowers.

"Hi, Sydney" she said glancing over Sydney's shoulders to find my eyes.

"Sorry, I was just leaving. Have a nice time on your date."

With that she le . Leaving me and Elle face to face, she was so beautiful. She was wearing a plain black body-con dress which complemented her figure.

"I got you these." she said nervously, giving me the bouquet of blue flowers.

"Thank you." I quickly placed them inside before I locked the door.

She opened the door of the taxi for me before closing it and getting in round the other side.

I just knew tonight was going to be special.

~~~~~

Elle's POV:

I have never been on a date before but I wanted this to be special. I have only ever seen dates in the movies and they always looked really romantic. I decided on an Italian restaurant (original I know).

The taxi finally reached our destination and I got out first and walked round to open Aurora's door.

"I am perfectly capable of opening a car door myself" she giggled.

"I know but I wanted to." I said linking out arms.

Once seated we ordered our meals, I ordered a carbonara and Aurora ordered spinach ravioli.

"Hey" we both said at the same time.

"Sorry, I have never been in a real date." she said.

"Not even with Ezra?" I asked.

"No."

"Well I will make sure we go on dates all the time but only if you want to."

"I would like that." she said blushing slightly.

"I haven't actually been on any type of date ever, don't tell anyone." I said honestly.

"Don't worry your secret is safe with me." she laughed.

Her laugh was like music to my ears.

The date went really well I thought. It was mostly just a lot of small talk but I learnt a lot about Aurora and why her parents are almost never around. She talked about her brother, even though I didn't care about him I still payed attention but not about what she was saying but just to her.

Once we finished our meals and split the bill we made our way outside to the taxi.

"I would like to do this again." she said.

"I would be honoured to take you out again."

The taxi reached her house first and I walked her to the door.

"I had a nice time." she said giving me a peck on the cheek.

"I'll call you." I shouted as I ducked my head to get back into the taxi.
