

Chapter 2:

by ellie_letin

Elle's POV:

It was finally Friday period 5, I can not wait for the weekend. I hate school so much. Like these days what even is the point, I could learn all this at home, well if I had an attention span longer than 20 seconds.

It was a shame that I had photography last especially on a Friday. I took photography as an easy class but oh I was so wrong. There is so much course work for this class. I thought it was just going to be take some photos and you are done but no, it takes me like 3 hours just to take 50 photos. Then I have to edit them and put them on a powerpoint. A er I have put the photographs on the powerpoint I have to write about them and stu . Like I have no idea what a fucking f stop is. Like bruh.

Aurora walking through the doors pulled me out of my thoughts. I totally forgot that she also took photography even though she was in my class last year. As she walked past me I got a strong whi of her perfume causing me to gag. She then proceeded to sit down with her posey, my eyes still throwing daggers into her 'perfect' side profile.

"Alright class, the work produced over the holidays was not up to my expectations." said Mr Gerald.

I really hated the bald man. The audacity that he has to tell us all o for not finishing the excessive amount of work that he sets is not fair and to top it o he look likes a literal egg.

"You will be completing your gcse's this year and this course work goes towards your final grade," I rolled my eyes, "this applies to everyone except Aurora as she has completed all of her work to a high standard."

Well look at that Miss goody too shoes has done all her work like the good little girl she is. How she managed to do it all, I have no clue.

"Elle." exclaimed Sir.

My head snapped up.

"You will be working with Aurora. Maybe you could learn something from her."

For fuck sake. Does he really expect us to work together? This is so not happening. Staring at her face for hours editing it, no thank you.

I slowly dragged my feet across the floor to the empty seat next to her. The chair scraped against the floor as I went to sit down.

"Hello."

"Hey," she said a little be to excitedly for my liking.

Aurora's POV:

Anyone but her. Why did I have to work with her? Someone definitely has it out for me not just the devil herself.

"So what do we do first."

Has she not been listening again. He literally just said what we were meant to be doing.

"Coming..." she laughed "as I was saying we have to come up with a theme for our portfolio. Then for homework we have to produce this powerpoint and then present it to the class in three weeks."

As I was saying this I realised the only way to complete the powerpoint together was if we went to each other's house. I really don't want her in my house she will probably spread all her diseases everywhere.

"And your going to do all this for me?" she batted her eyelids.

"No." I said sternly.

Did she really think that I could do this by myself when we literally have to take photos of each other.

"Well if you aren't going to do it for me could you at least think of a theme?"

"I guess we could just do monochrome photography as it's pretty simple."

"What's that?"

God how could she be so dumb and pretty at the same time. Wait. Fuck. Stupid brain. I meant ugly.

"In simple terms for you basically just black and white photos."

"Oh okay. Also Im not actually dumb just tired like I totally knew what it meant."

How the hell did she know what I was thinking?

Elle's POV:

I'm so stupid sometimes like academically I'm classed as smart but in all other areas I'm about as smart as sloth. Which so happens to be my favourite animal. For example, sometimes they die because they think their arms are tree branches.

"Hey loser" Talia shouted across the room as she made her way over to where I was sat.

Talia had been my best mate since I was 11. I would say she has been with me through all my hard times but in reality she just hits me with 'OMG SAME'. But she is the only person that I can stand in this God forsaken hell hole.

"You come to save me from the wrath of Satan?" I said motioning my head towards Aurora.

She snapped her eyes at me.

"Got stuck with her then? Lucky you, well I got stuck with Mickey."

"Who's Mickey?" I asked scanning the room.

"He's the big scary one."

My eyes finally found him. He was scary in the Imma beat you up you little shit kinda way. Honestly I would rather work with Aurora than someone like him because otherwise I would have to do all the work.

"Good luck T."

"Thanks I'm gonna need it loser."

Aurora's POV:

Elle didn't even let me finish talking before she had to go and talk to Talia. I swear the two of them together will never end well, their vibes are just di erent like Talia is just pure evil.

Once Talia had walked away Elle turned to face me with her hazel eyes.

"As I was going to say, to be able to do this project we need to work together..."

"Duh."

"and to be able to do that we are going to need to meet up a er school. I may hate you but I will not jeopardise my grades for my hatred for you."

"Okay sleeping beauty I'll go to yours tonight if that's alright with you?"

"Yes that's perfectly splendid."

Noooo, I did not just say 'perfectly splendid' that's so embarrassing.

OH MY GOD. It just hit me Elle is going to be coming over to mine tonight. I haven't even cleaned my room. Wait why am I even bothered about that she's a slob that never sleeps. She hides her tired eyes behind her thick eyeliner which actually suits her really well.

The bell rang signalling the end of the day.

This is going to be a long night.

A/N:

I will try and update this story as frequently as possible.

Also people have actually read like the first chapter which is like crazy coz I wasn't expecting anyone to read it at all.
