

Chapter 6:

Elle's POV:

I haven't seen Aurora all week, not like I miss her or anything. I haven't seen her since she told me to get out of here house, she hasn't even come to school. It wasn't like her to skip school, she always had 100% attendance. Her little minions look lost without, well when they don't have their tongues down some random guys throat. Also considering Ezra is single now, all the girls are trying to get with him. It's pathetic.

Ping

I received an email from the devil herself with our powerpoint attached reading, 'I have edited our photos and complete the powerpoint.' Well I guess that's my assignment complete, just in time too, I have photography now.

"Elle where is your assignment?" asked Sir.

"Right here." I said with a smirk.

I proceeded to present my powerpoint in-front of the class. Take that you bald egg.

I ended up getting a grade 9 which is the highest grade you can get, it's basically higher than an A+. Talia on the other hand got a grade 7 which is an A but loser, imagine getting a lower grade than me.

"Hey loser," said Talia as she walked over to me, "everything alright?"

"Yeah I'm fine." I replied.

No I'm not fine my literal enemy hates me even more than she did before and I actually feel bad about what I did.

"No your not." damnit, she always sees straight through me. "Tell me what's happened."

"Umm could we talk about this some place else?" I asked.

"Yeah, yeah. That's fine." she said with a hint of concern.

A er school we went back to my house to talk. I was not looking forward to this.

"So what is it? What's bothering you?"

Here we go.

"So like I told Aurora that she was being cheated on,"

"And that's why they broke up?" she asked.

"Well yeah but let me finish bitch. Basically when I told her she proper screamed at me. Girl it scared the shit out of me, like why was she mad at me I didn't do anything to hurt her. I really fucked up." I confessed.

"Hold the fuck up. Why are you bothered by making her upset? You hate her fucking guts. You guys are sworn enemies."

"I guess, umm"

I dunno what to say. I don't understand why this is bothering me so much. I don't. I can't. Holy shit.

I like her.

No. No. No. I can't like her, I hate her. She is the devil.

"You guess what? OMG. YOU LIKE HER."

"No I don't." I snapped back, knowing that I was lying.

"YES YOU DO."

Does she really have to shout every time.

"AHHHHHHH. I CALLED IT, ENEMIES TO LOVERS. BITCH I'M LITERALLY PSYCHIC."

"No this is not one of your little enemies of lovers book, that is not what this is. I don't even like her."

"Call her." she stated.

"What no."

"If you don't I will."

She quickly reached across and grabbed my phone. Why the hell did I tell her my password. I mentally face planted.

RingRing

Please don't pick up. Please don't pick up.

"Hello?"

Aurora.

"Hey, yes, hello, so Elle here actually has something to tell you." she said as she handed my phone over to me.

My palms were sweaty.

"Umm I-, we got a nine on our photography." I said.

Talia scowled at me. I stuck my tongue out.

"Well that's great, we should umm celebrate sometime."

Talia nodded excitedly. I rolled my eyes.

"Umm yeah sure that would be great."

"Okay good. Come round mine on Saturday, bye."

"Okay, bye."

I then hung up. Holy shit. Is this like a date? Nah it can't be. Of course it's not a date dipshit, she is just asking you to hang out and be chill.

"Looks like you scored yourself a date."

"Shut the fuck up Talia."

~~~~~

Aurora's POV:

"Okay, bye" Elle said down the phone before she hung up.

I pulled my phone down to my chest. My heart was beating so fast, so, so fast. I hadn't been in school all week because of the Ezra thing. Not because I was heart broken but because I was embarrassed of what people would think of me. I got cheated on and didn't even know and the person that told me so happened to be my arch enemy. This was the first time in a while that I had felt this excited.

Ugh it's only Friday, that means I have to wait until tomorrow for Elle to come over. I haven't really seen anyone this week so my room is an absolute mess.

It took my 2 hours for me to clean my room and I'm absolutely exhausted. So I lay on my bed just for a quick second to you know just rest my eyes.

"Hey" said Elle.

"Hey" I said back.

God she looked so sexy right now, I could kiss her. I won't thought because she doesn't like me she hates me.

Then all of a sudden she pulled me in. Her lips captured my bottom lip, tugging at it causing me to release a small moan into her mouth. This caused her to smirk against my lips. She licked the bottom of my lip begging for entrance which I allowed, our tongues fighting for dominance, she obviously won. Her hands found their way to the bottom of my shirt and slowly made their way up to my chest. As she kneaded my breast under my shirt we made our way up into my bedroom. She shoved me backwards onto my bed and straddled my lap.

Elle tugged my hair slightly, giving her an entrance to my neck which she then proceeded to bite, leaving a slight sting but then soothing it with her flat tongue. Her nimble fingers then found there way to the hem of my skirt, her fingers brushing against the inner of my thigh causing me to release a breathy moan. Elle's finger tips teased their way to my thong (no I'm not wearing granny panties) teasing me through the thin fabric. Her eyes flickered up to mine asking for consent which I instantly granted. Her fingers slowly making their way under my thong. Then...

All of a sudden I woke up in a sweat to the sound of my alarm. Shit. Was that a dream? I looked to my alarm clock, Elle was going to be here in an hour. I quickly rushed into the shower, trying to get my mind of o the dream that I had just had. I then proceeded to do my makeup. Perfect.

*Ding dong*

She's here.

I ran downstairs ignoring my brother asking who's at the door. But he made it to the door before me. Curse his long legs.

"Well hello there, Elle right?" he asked whilst smirking.

"Oh umm yes hello, is Aurora here?" she asked, finding my gaze as I stood at the bottom of our spiral staircase. "Hey." she said, breaking me out of my trance.

"Hey," I replied.
