Chapter 1251

“Even a three-year-old kid knows what’s important, at least they know to follow instructions.” Even when drunk, Comelia remembered that Marcus never gave his health a second thought

“Look at him! No matter how much I rag, he never learns to take care of himself Always putting work above food and rest Cornelia’s voice was getting angrier, Tve told him over and over again, he’s not made of steel! He’s a flesh and blood human being. He can get sick. He can feel pain”

You’re absolutely right Ben said. No matter how powerful President Hartley is in the business world, no matter how strong his business skills are, he’s just a flesh and blood human being like us when facing illness He can get sick, feel pain he..”

Suddenly, Ben stopped talking Over the phone, his heavy breathing and a low growl like a small animal, as if he was trying hard to hide some emotion, Comelia was drunk too. If she hadn’t been, she would have noticed something different about Ben. Not knowing what was going on with Ben, a drunk Cornelia kept mumbling Ben, you have to know that Marcus was seriously shot once. Because he didn’t get appropriate treatment in time, he was left with some after-effects This illness makes his hand always cold, sometimes even as cold as ice. You have to remind him, especially when the weather is cold, to keep himself warm and not to freeze.” Ben was with Marcus for many years and was present when Marcus was injured Being a part of it, he knew better than Cornelia how serious Marcus’s injury was, and he understood how dangerous the whole thing was.

But so many years had passed, he seldom saw Marcus feeling unwell, so he thought Marcus’s wounds had healed. Only recently, he found out that Marcus’s condition was much more serious than what he saw

Ben suddenly said very seriously, Comelia, you are the best girl I have ever met If President Hartley could hear what you said, I think he would be very happy” Comelia drunkenly said. Then let Marcus pick up the phone. I want to tell him, I can tell him whatever he wants to hear”

Ben wished Marcus could pick up the phone, but at the moment, Marcus was critically ill, and no one knew if he could make it. He took a deep breath, “President Hartley is temporarily unable to answer your call. If he could, he would definitely answer your call as soon as possible”

Cornelia laughed again, “Ha ha, I’m just joking, don’t take it seriously I just remembered, Marcus and I are divorced, we don’t have any relationship anymore. Im just an Insignificant ex-wife to him now, I shouldn’t interfere in his business.

Upon hearing Comelia’s words, Ben immediately began to explain, “Cornelia, there is a reason for everything Marcus does. Don’t blame him, okay?”

“Blame him? What right do I have to blame him? Cornelia was drunk and dizzy lost in her own world, talking non stop, “Where did he go? Where is he? Let him talk to me. Im not going to eat him, why does he have to hide from me?”

Ben knew why, but he didn’t dare to say it, so he remained silent.

At this point, Cornelia suddenly switched topics, I worked my ass off to get the position of CEO’s assistant but he dismissed me with a single word and gave my job to a newcomer who just joined the company. And that newcomer was my sister, Tahlia Everyone, including me at first, thought he did this only because of me. But not long after, things started to spiral out of control. We divorced,’

Ben knew in his heart that things hadn’t spiraled out of control everything was under Marcus’s control, all within his plans

Even, Marcus had anticipated that Cornelia would file for divorce. The only thing Marcus hadn’t anticipated was that Cornelia filed for divorce earlier than he had expected.

Ben said, “Cornelia, go on

“What do you want me to say?” Comelia asked

“Whatever you want Ben said

“But I don’t wanna talk anymore, I’m beat. Ben, you’re a good guy, you helped me a lot when I first started working. I appreciate that. If we don’t get a chance to work together again, then see ya” Comelia said.

After saying this. Cornelia wanted to hang up, but Ben stopped her, ‘Cornelia, don’t hang up, I have a lot to say to you.’

He was getting frantic.

What is it?” Cornelia was puzzled.

Ben, usually a smooth talker, was now stuttering at the crucial moment.

“If you don’t have anything to say, I’m gonna hang up Cornelia was fed up.

“Comelia, I like you! Ben said.

To stop Comelia from hanging up, Ben had to throw caution to the wind. He didn’t care anymore, as long as he could hear Comelia’s voice.

Cornelia responded coldly, “Oh, I don’t like you.”

“Then just chat with me a bit more. I want to hear your voice.” Ben felt goosebumps all over.

Comelia frowned in displeasure, “Ben, you are acting really weird”

Ben was stuttering more and more, “I, I just...

“I’m hanging up. We better not contact each other again if there’s nothing important Cornelia said.

Comelia hung up directly

She was thirsty from all the talking and wanted to drink water, but in her daze, she drank the wine in her glass instead. She coughed violently because she drank too quickly. After finally stopping, Cornelia randomly pressed keys on her phone, Jeremy, I choked, and you wouldn't even get me a glass of water?"

Hannah handed Cornelia a glass of water, "You've already hung up. No one can hear you yelling at your phone. If you still care about President Hartley and have things to say, call him, or meet him for a serious talk."

Cornelia blinked and tried to open her eyes wide to look at Hannah, "Who are you? Oh, I remember, you're Hannah, my good friend."

Hannah nodded, "Yep, I'm your good friend"

"Have you seen Jeremy?" Cornelia looked around, even lifted the tablecloth to check underneath, "Where's Jeremy?"

Cornelia was running around in circles anxiously, 'Hannah, Jeremy was just here, where did he suddenly disappear to? Jeremy, Jeremy, stop hiding, come out "

Cornelia felt danger coming, her heart started to hurt. She was panting for breath, her heart felt like it would explode at any moment.

Chapter 1253

Cornelia was in such excruciating pain that her face turned pale and her body convulsed violently, sending Hannah into a panic.

"Nelly, Nelly what's wrong with you? Hannah asked

Cornelia curled her body, tears dropping like a waterfall that wouldn't stop, quickly drenching her cheeks

"It hurts, it hurts so much Cornelia said

Hannah asked Where does it hurt? I'm calling an ambulance"

Cornelia lifted her hand, placing it over her heart, Here"

Seeing this, Hannah cancelled the emergency call she was just about to make, then picked up Cornelia's phone. You silly goose, don't just bear the pain alone, let him know. I'll call Marcus for you right now"

Cornelia shook her head, "No. I've said it before. We're over, and I've said we should never contact each other again. I don't want to be that woman who can't let go, the one frowned upon Hannah said, "I'm not asking you to beg him to get back together. You need to tell him that you once loved him deeply, and he's the one who lost you."

"No." Intense pain seemed to want to devour Cornelia, but more than the pain, the inexplicable panic rising from the bottom of her heart scared her more. It was as if she was about to lose something very important in her life.

Hannah didn't know about the panic in Cornelia's heart. She picked up Cornelia's phone, slid it, then scanned it over Cornelia's face, and the phone was immediately unlocked. After unlocking, Hannah wanted to find Marcus's number from the contacts, but there were only a few familiar numbers in Cornelia's contacts.

Marcus's wasn't there at all

Hannah took out her own phone, found Marcus's number, and used Cornelia's phone to dial, but the screen showed it couldn't be dialed.

Turned out Cornelia had blocked Marcus's number Such a stubborn girl!

Hannah carefully unblocked Marcus's number and dialed for Cornelia again, but the phone rang for a long time and no one answered

Hannah looked at the phone, helplessly shook her head, "Nelly She didn't know how to comfort Cornelia anymore.

"Hmm?" Cornelia asked.

Hannah thought for a moment, “I booked a room here. You go sleep off the alcohol

Cornelia said, “Okay. But I need to call Jeremy tell him where I am. He’ll worry if he finds out I didn’t come home tonight”

Cornelia found her phone in a daze. Even in this state, she could clearly enter Marcus’s number.

After entering the number, she pressed the dial button. No one answered the call, but she talked into the phone anyway, “Jeremy, Hannahs in Riverton for once. I’m going to hang out with her, won’t be coming home tonight. I know, I’ll take care of myself. You take care of yourself too”

With that, Cornelia hung up.

Hannah was silent for a moment.

She suddenly started to worry, worried that if Cornelia suppressed her emotions for too long it would have negative effects. But soon, Hannah realized she was overthinking Because when Cornelia woke up after a good sleep, she seemed unaffected

Seeing the radiant Cornelia, Hannah would even mistake her for not being the same Cornelia who was talking nonsense after getting drunk yesterday afternoon.

“Nelly, are you okay?” Hannah couldn’t help but ask.

Chapter 1254

Cornelia said, “What’s the big deal? Let’s go grab some breakfast. The hotel has a ton of options and they’re pretty good. We can stuff ourselves and then I’ll go house hunting with you”

Hannah eyed Cornelia, wondering if the girl had split personalities. Cornelia said, "Why are you staring at me like that? Is there something on my face?"

Hannah asked "You remember I'm looking for a house? Do you also remember what happened after you got drunk?"

Cornelia said, "People always say you forget what you do when you're drunk, but anyone who's been drunk knows, alcohol makes you sharp"

"So.." Hannah wasn't sure what Cornelia meant

Cornelia said, "Letting out all the emotions you keep bottled up is actually a good thing. Once it's all out I can really let go of the past and start fresh,"

"You re amazing!" Hannah spread her arms wide and hugged Cornelia.

Cornelia smiled, "You have to go through a few hiccups to grow. After all these curveballs, I'll make myself tougher

"Just don't get too tough, remember we're here for you." Hannah said

"Sure" Cornelia said.

Hannah had money to burn. She took a liking to a house in Blueshell Mansion, paid the deposit right away and bought it in a few days.

On moving day, Cornelia was there with Hannah She had just submitted her comic. The new one hadn't started yet so she was free. But once Hannah was settled in Riverton, Cornelia would start on her new comic

That day, the two of them stood in front of Hannahs new floor to ceiling window with a sea view Hannah suddenly said, "Cornelia, you're Nelly Belly night?"

"Huh?" Cornelia asked in surprise

Hannah said. "Are you still hiding your pen name?"

Cornelia said, "I wasn't trying to hide it from you, just didn't want to mix work and personal life. How did you find out?"

Hannah said. "The other day I picked you up, went outside your studio. I saw the name, San Manga Studio"

Cornelia apologized, I'm sorry That was careless of me

Hannah shook her head, "It's no biggie. Foriver Entertainment bought the rights to your comic, and they want me to play the lead. I'm tempted but my agent is not so keen"

Cornelia nodded, "I understand. It's a warm and cozy style, no drama. If it's not done right, it can easily come off as boring."

"Isn't life like that? Most of the time it's pretty mundane, and that's the life I want Hannah said

"Yeah People's daily life is pretty mundane, that's why they want to watch exciting entertainment. If TV shows are just about daily life, people probably wouldn't want to watch Cornelia said.

Hannah said with a smile, "Whether the audience likes it or not, I don't know. But I do know I absolutely love your comics, I'm a huge fan."

Hannah turned around, took a comic book from a box. "Nelly Belly, hurry up and sign this for me, I want your autograph."

"You bought a physical copy?" Cornelia exclaimed in surprise

Hannah laughed, "As a huge fan, of course I have to get the physical copy. How else can I call myself a fan?"

Cornelia could only shake her head in disbelief. She picked up a pen and signed for Hannah, adding, "Wishing Hannah happiness every day"

Chapter 1255

Cornelia's words were like a warm current, soothing Hannah's heart Meeting Cornelia in the crowd, Hannah felt it was the luckiest thing that happened to her in her life.

She smiled and asked, "Nelly, do you know how much I like you?"

Cornelia raised an eyebrow, "How much?"

"Very, very much Hannah said.

"I like you too" Cornelia said.

"How about we live together? Hannah suddenly proposed.

Cornelia replied with a smile, "Sure. Reserve a room for me in your mansion, so I can come and stay anytime."

Hannah said, "I live alone in a flat. All other rooms are empty, so pick whichever you want

"That one will do Cornelia pointed out casually

Hannah generously said. "Okay, I'll leave the biggest secondary bedroom for you!"

Just then, Hannah's phone rang. "Nelly, I need to take this call"

Cornelia nodded

Hannah answered the call and heard the security guard's voice, "Miss Hannah, there's a woman and a kid carrying two big bags claiming to be your mother, Pandora and your brother, Farley I didn't quite believe them, but they gave your number"

Hannah said, "They are indeed my mother and brother let them come up."

After hanging up, Hannah turned to Cornelia and said, "My family is here It was a family gathering moment, Cornelia didn't want to intrude. "Then I should leave. You guys. have a good time

Hannah looked rather upset, "Have a good time? Not everyone wants to be with their family, and not every family is full of love."

Cornelia didn't know much about Hannah's family situation But judging by Hannah's tone, it seemed like she didn't have a good relationship with her family.

Now Cornelia couldn't just leave Then I'll go to your study. If you need me just call."

"Okay Thank you for staying with me" Hannah smiled, Pandora has always been dominant. She's definitely going to question me about my divorce. She probably thinks I'm a loser who cant even keep a man

Cornelia advised, 'Don't jump to conclusions.'

In the midst of their conversation, Hannah's family had arrived. She waited for Cornelia to go to the study before she went to open the door. When the door opened, a woman and a boy were standing there.

Pandora looked about fifty, dressed in a plain blue t-shirt and black trousers, carrying a big bag on her back. The bag seemed so heavy that she couldn't stand straight. Farley looked around fourteen or fifteen, still very young. But he was much taller than Hannah. He too was carrying a big bag on his back.

Whether his bag was lighter or he was just stronger, he stood quite straight

"Mom "Hannah called out and jutekly stepped back to let them in Pandora brought the bag into the room, put it down in an open space, and looked around. "This is the house you just spent a fortune on?

Hannah nodded obediently like a child who had done something wrong, "Yes" She was afraid that Pandora would scold her for spending money recklessly

Pandora said, "This place doesn't look too bad"

"Really Hannah's eyes lit up, "Really"

Pandora said, "Your place is pretty decent'

Hannah flashed a smile. "I spent a good chunk of change on it you know."

Pandora didn't pick up on Hannah's hint, instead, she opened the big bag she brought and started to unpack. These are some local goodies from back home"

Hannah responded, "I've told you countless times, I can get anything I want here, and you don't need to haul so much stuff each time you come You lugging such a big bag around, its exhausting, not to mention a pain when you're on a plane or train"

"Can what you buy here really compare with the stuff from home?" Pandora retorted, somewhat peeved

Hannah was speechless. She had a point. Some things, were indeed only delicious when they were from home. No matter how expensive the stuff she bought here, it just didn't have that authentic taste

Pandora continued. Remember these com cakes? You used to gobble them up. I don't know if you still like them, but I brought a big bag just in case. And there's also these.....

Hannah just looked on, silently listening. Suddenly, Farley rushed up to Hannah and threw his arms around her, "I ve missed you." Hannah chuckled and asked, "How's your grades? You're graduating next year, think you can make it into a top high school?"

*Can we not talk about school the moment we meet? Farley let go of her, a touch annoyed

"You're a student, what else should we talk about? Hannah said.

Farley frowned, "You don't have to worry about my grades, why don't you focus on your own stuff? "What did you say? Hannah grabbed Farley's ear, Tm your sister, if I dont look out for you, who will? "Hannah, you should sort out your own stuff before you start meddling in mine." Farley said.

Hannah stared in disbelief, "You dare to talk back to me? You've got some nerve

“I’m almost an adult, stop pulling my ear all the time, I have my own dignity Farley didn’t back down Hannah pouted, “Even if you’re eighteen, or eighty. I’m still your sister. If I want to pull your ear, I will

“Is that why Mr. Dixon divorced you, because you were always yanking his ear?” Farley said

Suddenly, the conversation shifted to Steven and the atmosphere became tense. Hannah glanced at Pandora nervously, thinking that the storm she had been expecting was about to hit. She braced herself for the impending storm.

Unexpectedly, Pandora said, “Steven divorcing Hannah is his loss. Our Hannah he’s young and beautiful. It’s not like no one would want her. If nobody does, she can stay single It’s a modern age now, there are more and more women who are single and childless, what’s one more?”

Farley chimed in, “Hannah, if no one wants you, I’ll take care of you

“Who needs you to... Hannah was expecting a lecture from Pandora, but she never expected to hear such words, and her eyes welled up. “Mom...”

“Do you really want to make me watch you cry? Pandora looked disgusted

The tears that were about to fall from Hannah’s eyes suddenly stopped, No, I don’t like crying”

Pandora chuckled. ‘If you want to cry, just let it out. There’s no one else here, no one’s going to laugh at you.”

Hannah asked. “You’re really not upset about me getting divorced?*

Pandora looked at Hannah, her eyes filled with sympathy, “Why would I blame you? Its just a divorce, it’s not like you did anything illegal”

“You didn’t want to marry Steven in the first place, you only did it because you needed money for family medical bills. You’ve spent so long without freedom, now that you finally have it, I should be happy for you” Pandora took a deep breath, a relaxed expression on her face.

Hannah whispered. "You used to chirp in my ear every day, telling me to live a good life with him, and kept reminding me that no woman in our family had ever been divorced. Why is that?"

Pandora lightly tapped her forehead, "I was wishing you guys a happy life, would I want you to divorce? As for the fact that no woman in our family has ever been divorced, am I not allowed to say that?"

Hannah pouted "You hit me again"

Pandora retorted, "Without a few knocks, you wouldn't think, wouldn't consider for yourself. You've always been like this, putting family first and yourself last."

As she spoke, Pandora's eyes were suddenly rimmed with red, but she didn't want to cry in front of Hannah, "Farley, what are you standing around for? Hurry up and get out what I brought, put what needs to be in the fridge in the fridge"

Farley tried to dodge, "I just got here, haven't even had a drink."

"There are cups and a water dispenser over there, go pour some water yourself. I'll sort out these specialties" Hannah said

"Hannah.." Farley suddenly became very serious.

"What's wrong?" Hannah was a bit nervous

"I love you so much" Farley whispered.

Hannah suddenly relaxed, her nose tingling, "Me too."

Hannah also deeply loved her family. Back then, she had no job, no income, and her father Jeo was seriously ill and needed money. So when Steven found her, she agreed to his terms without hesitation.

Although she and Steven registered their marriage and became legally married under the protection of the law, she did not tell her parents about the marriage because of her inner unease.

It wasn't until Hannah transferred a large sum of money home for Jea's treatment that Pandora sensed something was wrong and called to inquire, and Hannah confessed to the marriage. At that time, Pandora asked her, "Dixon is the president of the Dixon Group. Such a wealthy man, he must not lack women around him, why would he marry you?"

Pandora was very sensitive, and it was hard to deceive her. So, Hannah told Pandora about the deal between her and Steven.

After listening, Pandora was silent for a long time, then said 'Since you're married, whatever the reason, you should live a good life with him from now on.'

At that time, Hannah actually hoped that Pandora would reprimand her, criticize her for not loving herself, or say something else, but Pandora did not.

At that time, Hannah was very disappointed. She thought Pandora loved money more than she loved her.

For these reasons, after the divorce this time, she did not tell her family and did not go home immediately, but came to Riverton to find Cornelia. A few days ago, Pandora called to inquire about her situation, and Hannah told Pandora that she was divorced.

Pandora listened, and did not react too much, just calmly said, "It's your life. You make the decisions

Yes, Hannah's life should be her own to decide. But occasionally, she also hoped that Pandora would interfere in her life and make her feel cared for Today, Pandora brought homemade specialty foods and the increasingly sensible Farley to visit. After Farley finished drinking water, he came over to help sort out the luggage. Pandora was quick and soon took out all the food from the bag, "I made these cornbread and hot sauce. Gonna make some for you at lunch today"

Pandora replied, "Last time when Steven came over with you, I noticed he seemed to enjoy my cooking, so I sent him a pack of cornbread and some hot sauce before I left" "Steven doesnt really like those foods, so please don't send him anything in the future. It would be a waste if he just throws them away. Plus, his girlfriend could get the wrong idea and think we're up to something." Hannah said

Pandora explained, "Steven helped us when we were down and out. We should be grateful. I couldn't offer him much, so I just sent him some local goodies. I didn't mean anything by it

'Let it slide this time, but please don't do it again" Hannah said.

Alright Pandora raised her hand and caressed Hannah's face. "Don't worry, sweetheart"

Pandora was a strong willed woman, a real fierce woman at home. Hannah hardly saw her gentle side growing up. But today, the way Pandora was looking at her, calling her name so tenderly, Hannah's heart was melting.

"Mom, just spit it out." Hannah said

Remember, first you're you, then you're a daughter or a sister. No matter what comes your way in the future, don't forget, you've got family. We ve got your back." Pandora reminded

It turned out. Hannah was not alone She had family and friends. That was her rock. Why did she foolishly think at one point, that if she lost Steven, everyone would turn their backs on her?

'Do you understand? Pandora asked

Hannah sniffed and nodded, "Yeah, I got it

Pandora said, "There's one more thing I need to tell you"

"What is 17" Hannah asked

'Over the years, you've sent quite a bit of money home, and Steven has been pretty generous with us. So Jeo and I saved up some money. We bought two houses with it, one for you and one for Farley" Pandora said Hannah said "I have a place to live, you don't have to.

Pandora cut her off, "You can choose not to live at home, but you must have a house of your own. This way, no matter what you do, you can have peace of mind. Even in the worst case scenano, you've got a safety net"

Hannah looked at Farley who was busy tidying up and said, Farley is about to start high school, and then he'll go to college. Money will be needed for lots of things." "You dont need to worry about his tuition. He's not only self-sufficient, he can even bring in money for the family" Pandora said

"Oh? Farley, how do you manage that? Hannah asked curiously

"It's just the usual stuff, nothing special. Farley replied.

"You little rascall' Hannah chuckled.

Pandora said, "Although Farley may seem like a fun loving food-loving kid in everyday life, he's a real brainiac. His grades are top-notch. He ranked first in the city this year so top high schools are fighting to recruit him. Not only did they waive his tuition, they also awarded him a scholarship of several thousand dollars."

Hannah was surprised. 'Farley is that brilliant?

Farley gave her a 'you're just realizing how awesome I am" look.

Hannah said proudly 'Farley have top high schools fighting over him and also get a scholarship, His future is definitely going to be bright.

Farley smirked, saying, "Well, duh."

Hannah retorted, "Don't get too cocky Right, Mom?"

Pandora chuckled, "Farley will have plenty of options in the future. But I think it's up to him. He can go wherever he wants"

Hannah sighed, "Mom, Farley and I are both your kids with Jea. Why is he so good at studying while I was always a slow leamer? I barely scraped by with a bachelor's degree"

"Everyone has their strengths Your academic performance may not be stellar, but you have strong leadership and empathy. That's why you won an award for your acting. even though you didn't graduate from a acting school' Pandora explained.

Pandora was never good at giving compliments, so Hannah rarely got praised by her. Thus, Hannah always thought Pandora didn't think she was good enough.

But today she realized she was indeed the best daughter in Pandora's eyes

Cornelia was right. Kids should communicate more with their parents. They shouldn't think their parents don't love them and feel afraid to come home.

Thinking of this, Hannah remembered Cornelia was still in the study, 'Mom, Farley, I have a friend here at home. Let's go meet her"

"What friend?" Pandora asked.

Hannah ran to the study, opened the door, and found Cornelia engrossed in her drawing, not eavesdropping on their conversation Hannah called her, "Nelly"

Cornelia looked up and saw Hannah looking happy guessing that she must have sorted things out with her family Hannah pulled her along and introduced. This is Pandora and Farley, my mom, and my brother"

Pandora glanced at Cornelia standing at the door and guessed, "You must be Comelia, right?"

"Hello How did you know I'm Cornelia?" Cornelia asked.

"Hannah mentioned you. She rarely talks about her friends to us, but you're one of them Pandora said.

"When did I mention Nelly?" Hannah asked.

Pandora replied, "You may not remember but I do."

"Really?" Hannah was surprised

Over the years, Hannah and Pandora's relationship wasn't close. Whenever they talked on the phone, it was just polite chitchat. She even forgot she had mentioned Cornelia She forgot, but Pandora remembered.

Did this mean Pandora cared more about her than it seemed? Maybe.

Pandora naturally liked Hannah's friend, "Nelly, I brought some homemade cornbread and Mexican hot sauce. I don't know if you like them. I know you're from Rosenberg. You guys have corbread there too, but the way you make it might be different from ours."

Hannah exclaimed in surprise, "Mom, how did you know Nelly is from Rosenberg?"

"I know a lot of things." Pandora smirked.

"That's great, I love it. Can help you make them? Cornelia's eyes sparkled.

"No need. You guys go have fun. I can handle it Pandora said. With that, she turned and headed to the kitchen.

Farley looked at Cornelia and said, "You're very pretty"

"You're handsome too. Cornelia complimented.

Farley blushed, "So, do you have a boyfriend?"

"Why do you ask?" Cornelia asked

Farley's face turned even redder, "If you don't, can I be your boyfriend when I grow up?"

Before he could finish speaking. Hannah grabbed his ear, "You little devil, how old are you? Instead of focusing on your studies, you're after my friend"

Farley argued. "I said when I grow up"

'Go read in the study. You're not leaving without my permission." Hannah said.

"Aw, I don't want to" Farley sulked.

Hannah raised an eyebrow, 'Even if you don't want to, you have to."

Farley looked like he was about to cry and quickly tattled, "Mom, Hannah's bullying me again!"

"If you run to mom every time someone bullies you, how are you gonna get a girlfriend? Hannah said.

Farley didn't respond.

Awkwardness filled the air. Cornelia was amused by Hannah and Farley's banter. Clearly, they got along really well. That was something she didn't have Cornelia finally found Tahlia, but before they could really settle into life together, Tahlia left. Every time she thought of Tahlia Marcus would creep into her mind.

When she really thought about it, it had been half a month since she and Marcus split. They hadn't crossed paths since their last court meeting

This was what she wanted, but in the depths of the night, feelings she shouldn't have would creep up on her

Suddenly, her phone started buzzing non stop. Cornelia took out her phone, and a bunch of messages from a strange number flooded her screen.

The first one read (I told you, Marcus and Jeremy are not the same person, but you didn't believe me

The second one read [Watch the video I sent you, you'll see the real Marcus

Then, a video was sent

Without hesitation, Cornelia deleted all the messages and blocked the number Shortly after another strange number called Cornelia guessed it was probably Brennen. She didn't want to listen to his nonsense, so she hung up. But he kept calling, even when he had to switch numbers.

Cornelia couldn't take it anymore, so she picked up. "Who is this?"

On the other end, sure enough, Brennen's voice came through. "You know damn well who this is why ask?"

"Marcus and I are done Whatever problems you guys have, sort it out yourselves, dont involve me." Cornelia said

This news stunned Brennen, You guys split? You could bear leaving him? He could bear leaving you?"

"So why exactly are you calling me? Cornelia asked.

Brennen replied. "You have to watch the video I sent you. After you do, give me a call"

Cornelia responded. "I won't watch it

*Cornelia, what are you so afraid of? Afraid of the truth? if you really trust Marcus, what's there to be scared of?" Brennen said.

Cornelia chuckled lightly, "Your provocations won't work on me!

"Heh, in that case, let Marcus await his fate. Brennen said.

"Brennen, Marcus is your own flesh and blood. Even a brutal tiger wouldn't eat its own cubs. Look at what you've done to him. Now you're even cursing him to die. Having you as a father is his biggest misfortune in life Cornelia frowned.

Brennen replied, "You guys split and you're still defending him. I guess your breakup was pretty amicable."

"That's none of your business." Cornelia said.

"Well, let me tell you something that is my business. Brennen said mysteriously

"I have no interest in your affairs Cornelia replied

Brennen said, "I just want to let you know, the Hartley Group, the one that should've always been mine, will soon be back in my hands."

Cornelia couldn't believe it. Marcus was so formidable, how could Brennen possibly take the Hartley Group away from him? But oddly enough, she felt a sense of unease creeping up on her
