Chapter 241

Marcus was a bit nervous “Granny that’s not what I’m thinking”

“It doesn’t matter what you’re thinking it’s all about how Comalia sees it Ganny Luisa continued ‘Since you’ve missed the golden chance to disclose your real identity there’s no need to stress about it now just baffle her from now on shell get your point”

Granny Luisa suddenly remembered something before she finished talking “Hold on you two have already shared a bed Cornelis even bought shoes for you, how could she possibly not know you’re her husband? Marcus knew the grannies got it all wrong He had to create the misunderstanding out of desperation that night “We didn’t sleep together. That time, when Comelia and I were on a business trip in the Capital, she left pick all of a sudden asked her granny about her condition, and Granny Rebecca video called Comelia because she was worried I picked up the call so Granny Rebecca wouldn’t worry, that’s how the misunderstanding happened

Granny Luisa was disappointed so the dream of having a great-grandchild was shattered again “The thing about Cornelia buying shoes for you—that’s not made up, right?”

Marcus sighed. “She bought them for Jeremy”

“You’re still jealous” Granny chuckled and poked his forehead saying. “Honesty is the best policy in a marriage. She doesn’t even know your real identity yet, and you two are planning on spending a lifetime together, you have to bear the consequences of your actions”

“What are you guys talking about” Granny Rebecca woke up and was helped by a caretaker to the living room

Marcus quickly helped Granny Rebecca sit down and said. “Granny are you feeling okay?”

"I'm fine why did you come alone again?" Granny Rebecca knew she was getting worse and really hoped they could visit her together

Granny Luisa was quick to react.

"He came to ask for advice on how to handle a manager. He said he wanted to have a good relationship with Cornelia, but he's worried he won't do a good job, so he's stressed out. Let's not put pressure on them, let them handle it."

Granny Rebecca asked, "Did you and Cornelia fight again?"

Before Marcus could answer his phone rang

The mentioned Cornelia suddenly requested a video call Granny Rebecca was thrilled when she saw it "It's Cornelia"

Granny Luisa reminded her, "Granny Rebecca, wait for a second Cornelia doesn't know he came here today, don't spill the beans"

Granny Rebecca answered the video call, "Cornelia" said, "Granny, my boss has to be with his wife, so he gave me a few days off. Can I come to Southern Peak to see you guys tomorrow?"

Granny Luisa glanced at Marcus. Why couldn't he simply ask for a day off instead of always coming up with weird excuses?

"I heard it's a more than two-hour drive from Riverton to here, you better not take the long trip."

Cornelia said. "I'll be there quickly by car"

"Alright then "Granny Rebecca really missed her granddaughter, not only did she care about her life, but she also frequently asked about her work. "Nelly, how's work going?"

Cornelia knew that Granny was interested in her job, so she patiently explained the details of her work. Of course, she always tried to put a positive spin on things and didn't mention the hard times "Granny, let me tell you, my boss is really nice, he's not only good to his wife but also very kind to us employees. He even assigned a company car to me the other day

"A company car? Your boss gave you a company car?" Granny Rebecca didn't quite get the generosity of big companies.

"Does he have some special feelings for you?"

"Not just me, many employees in the company got company cars. My boss is a very upright person; he wouldn't have any inappropriate thoughts about me"

"That's good, then"

Chapter 242

"Granny, I've bought a house. Once I'm done with the renovation, I'll bring you over to love in Riverton, okay?"

"Okay"

"Granny there's something else I've been mulling over for a while, and I've decided to let you in on it"

'Go ahead'

"I've decided to give Jeremy a shot want to try dating him. I kind of give myself a chance too"

"Why the sudden change of heart?" Granny Petrecca glanced at Jeremy, who was usually calm but now looked all jittery

"Because I think he's a trustworthy guy, which means he might also be a stable emotional partner Granny, do you agree with me continuing to see him? Even though it was ultimately Cornelia's choice whether or not to be with Jeremy she still wanted to hear her grandmother's opinion.

Under Marcus watchful gaze, Granny Rebecca slowly said, "And what if your feelings are wrong? You can't forget about his previous talk of divorce"

Granny Luisa threw a punch at Jeremy, making sure it happened right in front of Granny Rebecca.

Comelia said "I'm talking about trying to date him. If we don't click after spending time together, then we'll just have to call it quits"

"Alright" Granny Rebecca was satisfied with this response. She hoped they could reconcile, but more than that, she wished Cornelia wouldn't be tied down by a man or marriage if the marriage wasn't happy, she should leave it in a heartbeat "Nelly whatever decision you make Granny will always have your back"

The moment Zack and Abigail walked in, they could smell the aroma of the soup "Comelia, didn't you go to work today?"

Cornelia was on a video call in her room and didn't hear them until they were right behind her, with two extra faces suddenly popping up on the video Comelia jumped "Why didn't you guys let me know when you got back? Are you trying to scare me?"

Abigail said, "We've been calling out to you for a while, it's not our fault you didn't hear"

Zack waved at the old lady in the video with a smile and said "Granny I missed you!"

Granny Rebecca said, "Granny missed you too. Zack, you are in your twenties now, have you found a girlfriend yet?"

"Granny, I gotta go, you guys carry on chatting" Zack, who was mortified by the prospect of being nagged about marriage quickly turned and bolted

Granny Rebecca's next target was Abigail, who immediately explained, "Granny, I have a crush on Cornelia's boss, and I'm waiting for Cornelia to introduce me to him?"

Granny Luisa was dumbstruck Cornelia's friend had a crush on Cornelia's boss and wanted Cornelia to help her, but the boss was Cornelia's husband! Was Comelia supposed to introduce her own husband to her friend without knowing?

Marcus got up to leave before he could get an answer "Grannies, I'm going to head out"

“Granny, don’t listen to her nonsense” Cornelia had barely finished speaking when she thought she heard Marcus voice “Granny, who else is there with you?”

“Just your Granny Luisa and me

“Then you guys should enjoy your dinner early, I’m going to go eat too” Cornelia is figured it was probably Abigail’s idle chatter that had made her uneasy and made her hear voices that weren’t there

Chapter 243

After Cornelia hung up, Zack had already whipped up two more dishes.

Cornelia was in charge of the soup. Abigail the rice, and they all had their tasks so everything was done super quickly and the food was on the table in no time

Zack said mysteriously, “Before we eat. I have some juicy news to share”

Cornelia played along asking, “What’s the news?”

Zack said, “Hannah is going to play Ashley you know that, right?”

Cornelia, “Mm ”

Zack, “Cornelia, you said Hannah was your favorite actress, why are you still so chill knowing she’s the one playing the role?”

Cornelia i got all my excitement out last night.”

Zack asked “Did you make that Nelly Belly account?”

Cornelia “Yes”

Zack “Good, I was worried someone else had snatched up the name to impersonate the author Did you know Hannah followed the account? Do you know how many followers that account got overnight because of Hannah“*

Comelia really didn't know, she just made the account to support Hannah, she didn't care about the number of followers “You know, I work and paint in my spare time; I never planned to run this account

Zack, “Whether you plan to run it or not, I just want you to realize your worth now”

Comelia. ” my worth determined by the number of followers?”

Zack said. “You're always busy with work and painting: you really don't know anything else. More followers means more people will see your comics, which means more people will pay to read your novels. Comelia, money you want more of it, don't you?”

Hearing about money, Comelia perked up right away “Money, of course, I want more.”

Abigail summarized, “In short, Comelia, we're about to make a killing”

Comelia. “After buying a house. I planned on saving as much as possible on decorations Now that I have money, can I spruce it up a bit more?”

Zack and Abigail, “Sure”

Comelia, “Could I possibly even become a rich lady?”

Zack and Abigail, “Absolutely”

Suddenly, Comelia felt unreal “Zack Abigail, everything that's happening to me lately feels like a dream. Can you pinch me to make sure I'm not dreaming?”

Abigail really pinched her “Comelia, no need to doubt. You deserve all the good things.”

Zack agreed. “Absolutely”

Cornelia screamed in pain, "Abigail, you pinched so hard"

Abigail said, "if I didn't, you wouldn't remember. You have to remember everything you have now because of your hard work No one can hurt you with the past anymore"

"Ok, I got it." Comelia hadn't thought about her messy past for a long time, and she didn't want to mention it anymore. She quickly changed the subject: "The holiday is coming up in a month, are you two planning to go home this year?"

Zack replied. "I plan to, but I'm worried my family will nag me about getting married"

Abigail also said. "I have the same worry"

"Cool beans! I don't have to worry about not spending the holiday with my Granny this year I was planning to take her out for a walk, but her health isn't up to snuff Cornelia said

"Don't sweat (L" Zack reassured her "Let your Granny chill for a bit. You can always take her but when she's back in the saddle"

"I'm just worried it might be too late Comelia confessed. She had asked the doctor on the down low, and although her Granny was giving it her all her age made things look pretty grim

Whenever Cornelia thought about her Granny busting her chops all her time, only to fall sick before she could kick back and enjoy life, she felt a lump in her throat

"Why don't we bring your Granny here to live with us" suggested Abigail We can hunk together and let her have my room"

Comella shook her head "My Granny has already decided to go to Southern Peak with Jeremy's Granny She doesn't want to rain on my parade, wants me to be focused on my work. There's no way she's coming back with me”

“It’s a mal heart breaker, is it” said Abigail “Parents slave away all their lives for their kids, but when they really need their kids, they worry about being a burden”

“Abigail I’m hitting the road to Southern Peak tomorrow to keep my Granny company for a couple of days. Let’s hit the mall after dinner, I want to buy her some new threads,” said Cornelia

“Can you afford to take time off work?” asked Abigail

“My boss is off with his wife, gave us a few days off: Cornelia replied.

Im getting green with envy over your job” Abigail admitted*

“Bet you’re not envious of my job, but rather itching to be my boss’s lady” Comelia teased with a grin.

“You’ve hit the nail on the head again, Abigail conceded

The the enjoyed a hearty laugh over their meal. Afterwards, Comelia and Abigail went out to hit the shops, while Zack stayed back to do the dishes and clean up the kitchen.

Cornelia had her sights set on the mall where she’d shopped for shoes before. It had all kinds of stuff

Comelia dragged Abigail straight to the third floor, which was dedicated to clothing for the older crowd. They had barely hit the second store when Cornelia spotted a coat she liked

Not only was it a looker, it was also comfy as hell Cornelia loved it and decided to cop two But when she saw the price, she found out that each one, even after the discount, would set her back a grand if it was for herself, Cornelia would have thought twice, but since it was for her Granny, she didn’t hesitate to swipe her card for two.

After the costs. Cornelia also picked out a few sets of clothes and shoes for her Granny

Since the two Grannies were living together, she couldn't play favorites, so she bought two of everything.

"You haven't bought new clothes for yourself in forever. Why don't you treat yourself to a couple of pines?" Abigail suggested.

Cornelia did want to buy a few new outfits for herself, but her expenses were through the roof lately. After thinking it over, she decided against it. "I mostly wear my work clothes, so even if I buy new ones, I won't have the time to wear them. Better not to blow money."

Abigail knew Cornelia well and understood her frugality. She literally dragged her to the women's section. "You're buying something today, like it or not."

"I really don't want to. Cornelia felt insecure when her bank account was low, and her expenses were off the charts recently. She really couldn't afford to burn money on a whim.

Abigail felt sorry for her. "Babe, you should be kinder to yourself and splurge a bit."

"Let me buy a house and create a home first, then I think about buying other stuff." Cornelia replied. She didn't have parents or a traditional home, which made her feel insecure.

She believed that only by owning a house and having a stable place to live, she would be able to feel secure.

Abigail didn't push Cornelia to buy anything, instead she said, "Alright, I go shopping with you. I want to get a couple of fancy schmancy outfits for the holiday. This year, I'm determined to outdo Cindy."

Cornelia chuckled, "You're still hung up on that huh?"

"It's been less than a year, how could I forget? She just married some loaded guy toting around a pricey bag. At our reunion, she kept showing off about it, like, a bazillion times. She said her husband owned a bunch of shops in our city."

y and they had millions in the bank. I didn't mind her flexing, it didn't affect me, but she even had the nerve to belittle us. She knew damn well why you weren't going back to Rosenberg, but she still asked you if it's because you're broke or boyfriend less, and that's why you're not going back for the holidays it pissed me off every time I thought about it" Abigail was getting heated, and decided. "Let's treat ourselves to some luxury stuff"

"Why bother with her? We just need to live our own lives well Comelia tried to reason with Abigail, but once she made up her mind, there was no changing it

With a sigh Cornelia drove Abigail to the famous luxury brand mall in Riverton

Due to her job. Cornelia was familiar with a lot of high end brands as she often bought clothes and bags for clients on various holidays

These fancy clothes are just for show, some cant even be washed They're not for regular folks, but for the rich and fancy.

Comelia tried to convince Abigail again, "Abigail, you can buy a bag but I don't think you should buy the clothes"

Abigail was adamant today. "I'm buying both want to show off a bit. Otherwise, those who look down on us will think we're not doing well and everyone can just walk all over us"

I was getting late, there were still customers lined up outside the bag shop, waiting for staff to let them in.

Comelia and Abigail were last in line. As they entered the shop, the sales clerk who greeted them gave them a once-over, "Do you have an appointment?"

Before they could answer, she continued, "If you don't have an appointment, just browse around Call me if you need anything"

Abigail and Comelia browsed around, and liked a small bag. "Can we take a look at this one?"

The saleswoman glanced at Abigail and said impatiently "We're out of stock"

Abigail replied. "The item is right here, how can you say it's out of stock?"

The saleswoman said, "We only have this display piece. If you're sure you want to buy it, I can show it to you"

Abigail retorted "How can I be sure if I haven't even looked at it?"

The saleswoman replied sharply. "If you can't afford it, you shouldn't be in our store. When you come to our store, you should know our brand. Our bags are expensive, not everyone can afford them" The saleswoman's tone was so sharp and nasty that Comelia had a new understanding of her service attitude

"We don't need your service anymore. Call your manager out now! This condescending and irritable attitude towards customers was too much even for Comelia, who usually had a good temper. Some salespeople in luxury shops acted as if the store was their own home, constantly looking down on consumers.

The salesperson looked Cornelia up and down, not thinking she looked like a high spender at all and, of course, not worthy of the store manager's service "I'm sorry! Our manager is attending to some VIP"

Comelia said coldly "Get your manager here now

Seeing Comelia's assertive attitude the salesperson's arrogance escalated, even saying. "We're happy to serve shoppers, but if you're here just to make trouble, don't blame us for not being nice"

Abigail laughed out in anger 'As all salespeople in these high-end stores this arrogant now?"

"We have two troublemakers here. Could security please ask them to leave?" The salesperson threw a scornful look at Cornelia, then hit their walkie talkie and called security in general even if salespeople looked down on customers, they wouldn't blatantly accuse them of wrongdoing, let alone called security to kick them out

Therefore, upon hearing the call, two security guards quickly arrived.

Before the security guards could speak, the salesperson pointed at Cornelia and said. "These two were trying to steal our bags caught them, and they're trying to cause trouble"

"You two, please come with me" The appearance of the security guards caught the attention of the surrounding customers.

They were just shopping and they were accused of theft for no reason. Normally, this was a matter for the police

But Cornelia had a more direct and effective way to deal with it

She pulled out her phone and contacted the store owner, whom she had just spoken to last week 'Mr. Sharp. I brought my friend to your store to look at bags. The attitude of your salespeople really can't be tolerated. We just said her attitude was bad, but she not only falsely accused us of stealing but also called security to kick us out"

Soon after the message was sent, the highest authority in the store appeared in front of Cornelia respectfully. "Ms. Stewart, we're extremely sorry! You had such a terrible shopping experience Please come with me to the VIP lounge and take your time picking the bag you want"

Cornelia usually wouldn't fuss over little things with service people, but today she was really disgusted by the salesperson's arrogance and irrational behavior This was not only rudeness but bullying

"We don't need a bag anymore I don't want to say much You can check the CCTV footage and see for yourself. After you've seen it, tell me if I deserve an apology" Cornelia didn't want to say more and left with Abigail

Walking out of the high-end store, Abigail instantly felt better "Are these high-end salespeople getting confused about who the customers are?"

Cornelia sighed. "These salespeople can tell who the customers are. They just judge people by their appearance. Those who look like ordinary customers might only buy one or two bags from them in their lifetime. Naturally, they don't take these customers seriously. But for the really rich who buy their products, they show a different attitude"

Abigail said. "Even if it's a big brand, if their customer service stinks, they won't last long"

Cornelia said, "Sure, not all salespeople are like that. We just had bad luck today and ran into someone with a terrible attitude. Let's head to another store and keep shopping. We can't let one person ruin our mood." They then walked into another high-end bag store and learning from their previous experience, Cornelia promptly showed the company's VIP card. So, they were led to the VIP lounge, where they could pick up bags that regular customers couldn't buy

After a while, Abigail only picked a moderately priced bag. The salesperson showed no dissatisfaction and offered excellent service throughout the process

After buying the bags, they went to buy clothes. Abigail bought two pieces at once, she really didn't give a hoot about money.

Abigail was the only child in the family, both of her parents had good jobs. Not only did they not take her money, but they also gave her money to spend. They even helped her with some money when she bought her house. So even though she didn't earn as much as Cornelia, she lived more comfortably

Finally they spotted a few coats. They were very classic not only stylish but also warm. Of course, they were also pricey

Cornelia winced at the price, but Abigail said, "You're tall and fair-skinned, you'd look great in this. Try it on, if it looks good, I buy two and give you one"

Cornelia kept shaking her head, saying, "I don't need this coat. The weather in Riverton never gets that cold, it's a waste".

Abigail said, "You could wear it when you're on a business trip with your boss"

"won't be able to wear it on business trips either. She still had to wear her uniform during business trips."

In short, Cornelia really didn't want to splurge on a coat for herself

On the way home, the regional manager of the bag store personally called Cornelia and said, "Ms Stewart, I sincerely apologize for what happened tonight. We will take care of dealing with that salesperson seriously. When you're free, we'd like to treat you to a meal and have the salesperson apologize to you in person."

This was the power of money. The higher the previous salesperson climbed, the lower her boss had to bow to apologize to Cornelia

Cornelia didn't want to waste her precious time on this matter. "There's no need for a personal apology, I don't want to see that disgusting face again. Ms. Sharp, I have things to do; I'll hang up now"

Abigail said. "You're too kind, you should have them apologize"

Cornelia smiled and said. "There's no need to waste time on this"

Abigail said, "If it were me I would have her bring that woman to apologize and watch her get fired"

Because she didn't have a backer and no one to watch her back, Cornelia needed to be thorough in everything she did, which was why she's more introverted than Abigail. "If such a person gets fired, they might not even realize their mistake and might even think we're targeting her. She might hold a grudge, so it's better to avoid seeing her if possible."

Abigail said. "Cornelia, you really think things through."

Cornelia didn't respond, focusing on driving

When she was a child, when many children her age were still throwing tantrums in their mother's arms, she was already learning to understand her grandmother other's work stress and took the initiative to help with some household chores.

Once she got home, Cornelia took a bath and hit the sack right away She planned on getting up early and visiting grandma at Southern Peak

Before drifting off, Comelia had a habit of scrolling through her phone. She saw unread Whatsapp messages from Hannah Cornelia, guess what? The author of the Ashley novel DMd me! She filled my inbox with encouraging words I'm suddenly brimming with confidence]

Comelia replied with a chuckle Who knows maybe you're the spitting image of Ashley the author has in mind

Hannah replied I think you and the author have a lot in common. She must be as sharp as a tack, just like you. If she wants to be friends, I'm game

Comelia replied Maybe you're already friends, and you just don't know it yet]

Hannah replied You're such a comfort Okay, it's getting late Im gonna read my script a bit more. You should hit the hay too]

"Nighty night" Comelia texted goodnight but kept staring at Jeremy's profile picture

Jeremy hadn't sent her a single message in the past 24 hours. Was he too busy or was it something else?

Waiting around wasn't fun, and Cornelia didn't want to be on the back foot in their relationship. So she texted him first Jeremy] she wrote, just his name, waiting for his response.

Time ticked away after she sent the message Cornelia was dead tired, but Jeremy hadn't replied, so she decided to sleep first.

Waking up bright and early, she grabbed her phone and opened Jeremy's chat, but still no reply.

Comelia was suddenly worried Was something wrong? From what she knew about Jeremy, he was a man of few words but he never ghosted her.

She texted him again (Jeremy, what's up? Why didn't you reply all night“]

Soon after Jeremy texted back (Sorry! I slept early last night, didn't see your message

Was he really brushing her off because he didn't see the message?

Cornelia replied, feeling down. [Got it |

Jeremy texted again [You texted late last night. Was something up?]

Cornelia was so pissed off she didn't even want to answer him.

He claimed to be her husband and wanted to be with her Did a wife need a reason to text her husband?

Cornelia decided to ignore him, packed her bags, and headed to the station. S he hopped on the bus and checked her phone, expecting more messages from him. But all she saw was his previous message

Comelia was even more peeved. She shot back [Do I need a reason to text you? Or do you have so many women you can't keep track of who's texting you?]

Jeremy replied [Firstly, to answer your question, you dont need a reason to text me. As for your second question, let me make it clear, you're the only woman in my life |

Comelia's anger and resentment were instantly washed away by Jeremy's blunt response. She understood that every man would probably respond this way when being questioned by their wife. But she couldn't explain why she believed Jeremy

As long as he said he didn't have another woman, she would trust him

Even though her doubts were gone Comela still wanted to tease him a bit [You're out working all the time, how would I know you're not playing me?]

After sending the message. Comella waited for a while before finally getting a response from Jeremy [Cornelia, what do I need to do for you to believe me?]

Comelia only wanted to joke around with him, she didn't expect him to take it so seriously. It made her feel like a big bad wolf and she felt rather uneasy [I believe you]

Jeremy replied (Thank you

And that was the end of their chat for the day

Comelia wanted to continue chatting with him, so she tried to come up with some topics: [I'm on my way to Southern Peak, will be there soon. Do you have any messages for grandma?]

Jeremy replied [No]

Cornelia was speechless.

Couldn't the guy just help keep the conversation flowing? No wonder he couldn't score a girlfriend at his age and needed his grandma's help to get hitched

Such a dull and antisocial guy not only failed to entertain girls, but few girls could stand his style of communication

However Comelia was fine with his lack of chat skills, at least she didn't have to worry about him having other women on the side

Cornelia held her phone and asked again Do you have anything you want to say to me?]

Jeremy replied I be back in Riverton in a few days]

Comelia was thrilled when she saw the message (When are you coming back? Can we set a time to meet? The holiday season is coming up soon, will you be busy then? If you're not, can we spend the holidays with grandma together?)

He was coming back to Riverton, she could see him then

Cornelia asked a lot of questions, but Jeremy's answer was still very brief [Coming back on the 11th

He didn't answer any of her other questions

Comelia was speechless. She wasn't going to take the initiative to text him any more

Cornelia put away her phone with a sigh of resignation, the train announcement was already reminding her to get ready to get off

Chapter 250

Cornelia, with clothes she bought for her two grannies, joined the passengers who were alighting the train, waiting to get off one by one after the train reached the station. After leaving the station, she hailed a cab and went straight to Southern Summer Garden

Once she reached her destination and saw the villa towering in front of her, Comelia slowly realized that Jeremy's family might be a lot wealthier than she had thought

Although the house prices in Southern Peak couldn't compete with Riverton, owning a villa in Southern Peak still required a pretty penny Coupled with the fact that Jeremy had a house in Riverton, his family's financial situation shouldn't be too shabby

Comelia did a quick tally of her own assets. She didn't have much cash in her bank account, but she had a decent income from her job at the Hartley Group each month Add that to the earnings from her studio's comics and the value of her house she wasn't exactly broke

After doing the math, Comelia concluded that from a wealth perspective, she felt she was pretty much on par with Jeremy

Her two grannies were anxiously waiting by the door, and when they saw Comelia, they were overjoyed. "You must be fired come inside first"

“Hi, grannies” Comelia put down her shopping bags and excitedly embraced her granny, “Granny, did you miss me?”

“Of course we did” Granny Rebecca ruffled her hair revealing a brilliant smile that Comelia hadn’t seen in a while, “Come, I cooked your favorite dishes today”

When Comelia was in school, she would come home every week, and no matter how busy or what the weather was like, granny would always personally cook her favorite dishes. After all these years, granny’s first thought upon seeing her was still to cook for her.

“Granny you always cook for me let me cook for you today” said Comelia

Granny Luisa, standing on the side, voiced her jealousy. “Nelly, am I not your granny too? Why do you only hug her and not me?” Comelia quickly turned and gave Granny Luisa a hug and only then was she satisfied. “Good, that’s more like it”

Cornelia went inside with them and proudly showed off the new clothes she bought, “Dear grannies, I got you these new clothes and shoes. They’re all the same style, just different colors. You like?”

“As long as you bought them, I’ll love them,” said Granny Rebecca, looking at the new clothes Comelia bought, happy but also worried, “We don’t go out much and we can’t wear all these new clothes. You need to save more and not waste money on this”

Granny Rebecca knew Comelia had just bought a new house, and she felt guilty that not only could she not provide more savings to help her, but she was also spending her money.

Comelia laughed and replied “Granny, I only buy you clothes once a year, so don’t worry about me”

Granny Luisa, who was born into a wealthy family and married a rich man, was a strong woman in business when she was young. She never worried about the little things in life and was okay with her children spending money on her, “If Nelly bought it for me, then I won’t refuse”

She was cheerful and selected a more brightly colored coat to try on, "Young people really do have good taste. Wearing this coat, I feel like I've gotten several years younger"

Influenced by Granny Luisa, Granny Rebecca also started trying on clothes

All of the clothes were carefully selected by Comelia. Both old ladies felt comfortable wearing them and couldn't stop complimenting Cornelia
