

The Enigmatic Return (Neera and Jean)

Chapter 51

Joanne was the happiest! She secretly tagged Jean so that she could eavesdrop on him. She was worried that Nancy would threaten her position and that Jean would not need her anymore. But she did not expect the turn of events. This Nancy is so arrogant, she didn't even show herself to Mr. Beauvort! She first regretted and rejected treating Mr. Beauvort, and now this! Nancy should be blacklisted by him, and I'll have a greater chance of staying by his side. After all, beside my team, who can be able to treat Mr. Beauvort? What's more, I know his conditions well; he should trust me more than anyone else! The more she thought about it, the more she was satisfied.

... SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

On the other side, Roxanne felt terrible, and she was complaining to Zachary. But he was not the same as he was in the hospital; he was impatient now. "What can we do? She's unwilling to show herself, and Isabella promised not to expose her identity. Even if you complain for three more days, we'll get the same result too."

Roxanne felt hurt by his reaction. "Zach, why are you not siding with me? I was merely whining; you do know that my health is critical now, right?"

Seeing that she was about to cry again, he frowned and realized that he should not be too firm with her. He sighed and said, "I'm not saying that you're wrong; I'm also worried about your condition. Give me some time to find solutions for you."

Roxanne stopped sobbing after hearing his words, but she still felt uneasy. She could feel that he was acting colder to her these days; when he was happy, he would coax her; when he was impatient, he would not even care about her. And all of these have happened ever since he saw Neera again! She was getting furious thinking of it.

After getting home, Alfonso and Susan grabbed her and asked hurriedly, "How was it? Did you see Ms. Nancy?"

She answered sadly, "I didn't even see her at all; she hid herself from the start!"

Susan frowned upon hearing her words, and she said, "Why is she being so strange? She dislikes the Gracia family, and she is always hiding herself; she must be a fraud!" She then convinced her by saying, "Roze, you don't have to be in a rush! Let's look for another doctor; there will be ways!"

But Roxanne did not want to give up; she said, "What do you know? Ms. Nancy successfully conducted the operation today; it only had a thirty percent success rate, and she did it! I can only be saved by her!" She turned and begged Alfonso, "Dady, can you please find someone to look for Ms. Nancy? I want her to treat me!"

Alfonso had the same thought as her; he nodded and said, "Don't you worry, I'll find her for you and make sure that you're safe."

Susan suddenly thought of something else, and she asked, "Wait, did you know where Neera lives now?" His face changed upon hearing her question. "No, I've checked every hotel, condominium, and even villa, but she's nowhere to be found."

Roxanne sneered, "Ha! She should be living in cheap and remote places! She's so poor!"

"That's right!" Susan had the same thought, and she said, "As long as she's in Kingsview, we can find her. If not, we can just bait her with the stocks, and we should sedate her and send her to the Beauvort family! Then it will be too late for her to escape!"

Roxanne smiled slyly and asked, "Has the Beauvort family chosen a date yet?"

Alfonso nodded and answered, "It's all set; it will be at the end of this month. We should just do what your mother has said if we still can't find her!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 52

Neera was exhausted when she was home; she barely kicked off her shoes and laid on the sofa without changing her clothes. The triplets were used to seeing her like this. They were sensible; none of them came to her to ask for hugs and kisses; they exchanged looks and went to do whatever chores they could. Sammy went to pour a cup of water; Penny went to her and massaged her wrists and shoulders; and Harvey carried a tray with hot meals to her. "Mommy, I've made this for you. You must be tired after such a hectic operation. I've preheated the food, so you can come back to hot food. Please eat some and rest; if not, I'll be sad."

She felt warm, seeing how sensible the triplets were. She took the cup from Sammy and took a sip of water. She then kissed the three of them before eating the food. After a while, she went upstairs to rest. She could barely open her eyes. The triplets looked at her going up, and they played quietly downstairs. After a while, Sammy and Penny were tired, and they slept on the sofa. Harvey smiled looking at them, and he went to get a blanket to cover the two of them. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He then gathered the pets and ordered them, "Let's go out to play; everyone's asleep now. You all can't be noisy and wake them up." The pets seemed to understand his words and followed him to the yard.

It was a sunny and windy day, and the pets seemed to have endless energy to play and run with each other. Harvey let them be, and he carried a laptop and sat in a gazebo. He casually opened the apps to check on the stock market. His account was earning more than one billion dollars! He was satisfied to see it. Luckily, Mommy doesn't understand the stock market; if she happens to see it, she will realize that we're actually rich, and she can simply clear the one million dollar debt.

When he was deep in his thoughts, Cece and Ace were barking anxiously. He was worried that they would wake everyone up, so he trotted to them, and he only saw that the two of them were circling the lakeside. Somehow, Pixie dropped into the lake! He was shocked, and he yelled, "Pixie, where are you in the lake?"

Pixie was struggling and splashing the water in panic. No matter how hard it tried, it could not get near the land. It was barking helplessly. Harvey was worried, and he wanted to rescue Pixie, but he found out that the lake was so deep that he could not enter it. He was so worried that he almost cried, and he wanted to call for Neera to save Pixie.

Only Mommy can save Pixie now! If not, it will be dead.

He was running, and suddenly he heard a car engine sound next door. He stopped, and he exclaimed, "Daddy is back!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 53

He saw hope, and he walked on his way to ask for his father's help!

In the villa next door, Jean had just arrived at home; he was looking cold and intimidating. He was enraged by Nancy's behavior. He was entitled since he was from the Beauvort family; he had never been rejected like this. Nancy treated him as if he was nothing! Ian quietly followed behind him; he was trying his best to minimize his existence by remaining silent.

At moments like this, someone was banging hard on the door. Jean's face was even darker after hearing it. Ian was shivering out of fear, and he was secretly scolding whoever was banging the door. Who is it? This is not the time for it!

He was trembling, yet he had to force himself to open the door. Once he opened the door, a tiny figure dashed in and fell to the ground. Ian was surprised, and he took a few steps behind, only to realize it was one of the triplets next door! He asked, "Why are you here?"

Harvey had a bad fall, but he had no time to lose. He glanced at Ian, and he looked inside and saw Jean. He said pleadingly, "Mr. Handsome, please save Pixie now! It fell into the lake, and it's drowning!" He panicked, so he did not sound like his usual mature self. Jean's anger faded seeing his reddened and watery tiny eyes. He frowned and ordered Ian, "Hurry over!" Ian rushed toward the lake.

Harvey tried to get up after seeing someone go after Pixie, but before he could stand, someone carried him up from the ground. He was taken by surprise, and he looked at Jean. "Thank you, Mr. Handsome." He almost addressed him as Daddy," but luckily he reacted quickly and changed his words.

Jean answered calmly, "No problem." He then asked casually, "Where's your mommy?" Is she not home?" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Harvey answered honestly, "She's home, but she's feeling unwell, so she's sleeping. I wanted to wake her up, but I heard your car engine, so I came over here to ask for your help." Jean nodded, and he did not ask more, and he started to look at Harvey. Harvey was wearing an oversize t-shirt and jeans. His pants were dirty from falling to the ground before.

"Are you injured?" Jean asked subconsciously. He shook his head, but he frowned, moaned, and said, "My... My knee hurts." Jean pulled on his pants and saw that his knee had a tiny wound. He frowned even harder and asked, "Is it painful?"

Harvey shook his head and answered obediently, "No, it didn't hurt that much." Jean was caught by surprise, as he thought that normally a child would scream and cry after falling down.

This kid is strong!

He was amazed by Harvey, and his facial expression softened even more. He then carried him back into his house. "Ian's saving Pixie; I'll disinfect your knee for you first."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 54

Harvey did not expect his dad to carry him at all. He was sitting on his lap and totally enjoying it. He seemed calm on the surface, but he was overjoyed! Daddy's embrace is so warm and secure! Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He blinked his eyes and smiled brightly. "Thank you, Mr. Handsome."

Jean put him on the sofa, and he called the butler, "Richard, bring the first aid kits over."

Jean got it from Richard, and he searched for the cotton bud, alcohol, and also the ointment. He carefully pulled his pants up, worrying that he might touch his wound. He then disinfected the wound and gently applied ointment to it. Harvey felt pain, and he shivered, but he did not even complain one bit. Jean felt it, and he glanced at him and said softly, "You say it out if you feel pain."

Harvey shook his head and said in determination, "No, I'm a strong and tiny man; man has to be strong; we can't feel pain."

Jean found him funny, and he was smiling; he tried to be even gentler, and he even blew on his wound to reduce the painful sensation. Harvey saw his actions, and he was overjoyed and touched. So this is what it feels like to have dad! Daddy didn't even know about my identity, yet he's treating me with care. The three of us will be loved when he knows who we are!

Ian saved Pixie from the lake, and he carried it here. He wanted to report to Jean about saving the dog, and he ran into this scene. He was so shocked that his eyes might fall out. Is... Is he the Mr. Beauvort that I know?"

He could not believe that he could smile like this since, a moment ago, he was furious and looked like he was from hell. And he was surprised that Jean's anger would be gone so easily! Usually, he would be in a bad mood throughout the whole day; everyone would be terrified for him! But his anger was gone just because of the arrival of a kid. And he was applying ointment for the kid now! Ian thought that he was hallucinating, and he was stunned for a while.

Harvey saw him, and he asked cutely, "Mr. Assistant, how's Pixie? Is it okay?"

Ian came back to his senses, and he showed him the shivering dog hiding in his arms. The dog was soaked; its pretty fur was all wet. It was not as pretty as usual. "Don't you worry, it was safe. I'll dry its hair, and everything should be fine."

Harvey could finally relax when he saw Pixie. "Thank you, Mr. Assistant; you're a good man! Pixie will remember you!"

Harvey said his thanks; Ian was smiling, and he went into the bathroom.

Jean was done with Harvey's wound, and he covered it with gauze, and he said, "Don't wet your wound; when your mommy is awake, you can let her see."

Harvey nodded and said, "Thank you, Mr. Handsome; it's all thanks to you!" He was hesitant after he spoke. He bravely leaned closer to Jean, and he pecked his cheeks.

Jean was stunned!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 55

Harvey's body was soft, and he had the smell of milk. He softened Jean's heart. Jean had never been this close to anyone, not including a child. He was stunned for a while after being pecked by Harvey; he could not believe what happened.

Harvey was shy; he tried to look cool and stay calm, but his reddened ears showed otherwise. This was his first time getting close to others other than his mom and siblings. Even though this was his dad, he still felt a little embarrassed. Yet he was overjoyed because Daddy hugged him and applied ointment to him. He felt that he was getting closer to his dad! He could not hold himself back from getting closer to Daddy; he wanted to express his feelings to him. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

To hide the fact that he was nervous, he hurriedly got down from the sofa and went to the bathroom to look at Pixie. Pixie was obediently sitting on the sink; it seemed fine at the moment. Yet it was shivering after being shocked.

After Ian dried its fur, it jumped into Harvey's embrace and moaned. He caressed its head and said, "It's fine; it's all good now. You're safe..." It seemed like Pixie understood his words as they calmed down. Harvey then brought it back to the living room.

Jean's mood was good, especially after being pecked. He did not dislike it! He sat on the sofa and scrolled through documents on his tablet.

Harvey sat on his side and innocently asked, "I saw that you were unhappy when I first came in; did anything happen?" Although he felt down just now, he could still see that Jean was not in a good mood; he looked angry!

Jean did not expect him to ask it; he was silent for a while before he answered. Harvey asked with great concern, "Mr. Handsome, did you face any unhappy things?" You can share with me to feel better!" His words brought warmth to him.

Jean smirked and responded, "It's nothing much; it's related to my work." Then he casually asked, "You mentioned that your mommy isn't feeling well; what's wrong?"

"Ah, she's..." Harvey pondered for a while. I think I'm not allowed to talk about Mommy's true identity yet. Daddy will be furious if he knows Mommy rejected his request!

So he found an excuse to answer him, "She's not sleeping well ever since giving birth to us, so sometimes she's like this." Jean felt that his answer was strange. Is she just lacking sleep? I don't think so. She looked so bad back in the hospital. But it seems like Harvey is telling the truth. He did not ask more.

After a while, Harvey went home, as he missed the other two days and his siblings. He obediently said goodbye and went home.

Jean sent him away, and he suddenly squinted as he pondered. Ian looked at him from the side, and he said, "Mr. Beauvort, do you think that Ms. Neera is actually Ms. Nancy?"

Jean answered, "I just feel that it's too coincidental! She was at the hospital. and Ms. Nancy was there too. But maybe I was wrong." He tapped the sofa, and he said, "Ask for her to come later for my second session; I'll test her out."

"Okay, Mr. Beauvort."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 56

Neera slept for two hours, then woke up. She felt so much better, but alright, she still felt dizzy. She went downstairs to get some water. Harvey had been waiting for her in the living room, and he went straight to her when he saw her. "Mommy, are you feeling better?"

"Yes, baby, thanks for asking." She suddenly realized the bandage on his leg, and she got serious. She put the cup on the table and squatted down to check on him. "What's wrong? How did you get yourself injured?" She lifted his pants to have a proper look.

"I'm fine; I accidentally fell down. Don't worry about me." He quickly told her what happened in the afternoon. Neera blamed herself for not being there for him and Pixie. I'm such a bad mother! How could I be sleeping during a crisis like this?

Harvey knew what she was thinking when he looked at her facial expression. He hugged her and said, "Mommy, it's okay. You're tired, so I didn't wake you up. The two of us are fine, thanks to Mr. handsome!"

She heard his words, and she thought of the man next door. She pursed her lips. I'll remember and return the favor! And I should ask someone to build a fence around the lake for the dogs and the triplets' safety. I don't want any accidents to happen anymore.

She took out her phone, wanting to make an appointment with the professional for the task. But she saw Isabella send her a text message an hour ago. "Neera, luckily you went back earlier. The people from the Beauvort family came searching for you in the hospital! And they wanted to get the surveillance footage. Luckily, I stopped them! I'm keeping my promise to you."

Neera's heart sank seeing it; she did not expect them to be still after her. She knew that she had officially offered this family. She typed quickly and replied, "Thanks Bell! Please keep this secret and don't sell me out!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Isabella replied instantly, "Hey, why are you thanking me? I'm not going to tell anyone. But I think Mr. Beauvort was furious. For sure, he will keep looking for you. His family should be able to find you sooner or later."

"Neera, why don't you just take up the job? Mr. Beauvort might be quite sick, but he's not someone you want to mess with. Whoever offended him ended up badly... Why don't you take his money and save him? It's a good deal!"

Neera was helpless hearing her suggestion; if it were not for Alfonso and his wife and daughter, she would not be rejecting this opportunity. But she refused to suddenly have a fiancé, and then she had to take up the responsibility to treat him! She could not tell the truth, so she said, "I've got a more urgent case, so I can't spare any time to heal him."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 57

"But I'm not worried about being found by the Beauvort family." Neera continued to say, "They might be scary, but they're asking for my help after all. So, they won't be doing anything to me, right?" She reassured herself. "I'll just face whatever comes!"

Isabella felt that she was actually right, so she did not make more comments. "Alright, are you feeling better?"

Neera said with a smile, "Yes, how's the patient doing? Does the patient wake up?"

"No, but the condition is looking good now." She continued to say, "I hope that the patient can wake up in twenty-four hours, and I can finally relax by then."

"Do update me if anything happens." They spoke for a while and only hung up the phone.

Neera did not forget what she wanted to do; she called the workers to install a fence for her.

It was already dark by the time the workers were done installing the fence.

She paid them, and then she went to prepare dinner for the kids. And then she accompanied the triplets to play puzzles. The puzzles were difficult, as there were ten thousand pieces. They were chatting and discussing how to complete the puzzles.

Ian arrived at her house at night, and Harvey recalled what happened in the afternoon as he saw him. "Mommy, Mr. Assistant is the one that saved and dried Pixie's fur.

Neera nodded to Ian and said, "Thanks for helping us out today.

Ian waved and said politely, "It's not a big deal; you don't have to worry about it." He suddenly changed the topic and said, "Ms. Neera, are you free to have the second session with Mr. Beauvort today?"

Neera was taken aback, and she asked, "What's wrong? Is he feeling unwell again?"

Ian replied, "Yes. His mood wasn't good today. He's having a headache now. He might need your help. Can you please go with me now?"

She was actually worn out after the operations today, so it was difficult for her to be treating another patient right now. But that man next door was an exception, and she still owed him favors. So she had to agree to it. "Okay, I'll go and check him up, and then I'll only decide if she needs treatment or not."

"Okay." Ian said, "Thanks for your help!"

Neera casually waved her hand, and she turned around and said to the triplets, "Babies, I'm going to visit next door. Please have fun and play. And I shower and sleep first if I'm not home late. Okay?"

Three of them were excited to hear her words. It's a good thing for Mommy to meet with Daddy! Maybe they'll get together if they see each other more!

They nodded and answered, "Okay, Mommy!"

Neera went next door with Ian, and she saw Jean laying against the bed resting.

SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 58

He still looked unbelievably handsome, even if he was lying on the bed. He was in gray pajamas, and some of his buttons were undone so that she could see his cheekbones and chest. He was sexy and attractive. He's indeed handsome; he looks good in any position.

Neera knocked on the door and only entered after hearing him say, "Come in."

She went to the bedside and asked calmly, "I heard that you're feeling unwell."

He slowly opened his eyes and looked at her without moving his body. "Yes, I'm having a headache." He spoke in a low and nice voice.

She had strange feelings listening to his voice, and she stepped closer to him and said with doubt, "Give your hand to me." He did as she said.

She was diagnosing his conditions, and she thought that he was strange. It seemed like he was normal, but something was off. Yet he only insisted that he had a headache. She pondered for a while and concluded that it was caused by external factors. "Overall, your body seems fine. Maybe your headache is caused by the stress of your job? Severe stress is known to cause headaches. You should be fine after resting for a night." And she suggested, "I don't think you should waste a session on just a headache; I'll just give you a massage."

"Okay." Jean agreed.

Neera was not shy; she casually leaned closer to him and smoothly massaged his head. She did not think that anything was wrong with their distance, as she was focused on massaging him.

Jean was staring at her pretty face throughout the whole process. Suddenly, he pretended to ask casually, "Ms. Neera, you're skilled in Chinese medicine. What about Western medicine?" It seemed like he suddenly thought of this question. He continued to test her by saying, "Usually the experts will not be flamboyant. Ms. Neera, are you someone like this? It seems like you're qualified to be at least a head of department in the hospital."

She glanced at him and answered calmly, "Thanks for thinking highly of me, but I'm not an expert in Western medicine. And I'm not really that talented. What's more, I liked to be free; I didn't like to be working boringly like everyone else. I have my own work to do too."

"Oh," He was a little bit surprised, and he asked, as he was interested, "So, you're not only a doctor?"

She only realized that something was wrong with him. Why is he talking so much tonight? Isn't he having a headache? Why does he have the mood to ask so many questions? SEARCH THE WEBSITE to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She paused, and she looked at him suspiciously. "Aren't you unwell? Why are you prying at me?"

Jean looked at her calmly, and he answered, "I'm just simply chatting."

Although he said so, she still felt weird. She was alerted to his behavior.

SEARCH THE WEBSITE to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 59

But Jean really looked like he was casually chatting with her. She could not see anything wrong with him, so she just let it go. "Oh, nothing much. I'm just helping my aunt manage some properties. She has her own companies, and there are some branches in our country. Yet she's always overseas, so she assigns me to manage some work for her in our country."

He pondered after hearing her words, and he did not think she was suspicious anymore. It seems like I'm overthinking! Neera might be able to treat patients, but she shouldn't be Ms. Nancy.

There were too many coincidences happening recently, and she had excellent medical skills, so he somehow connected her to Nancy. He put aside every suspicion she had before, and he stopped looking into this topic anymore. He changed the topic by saying, "I saw that your face looked pale in the hospital; are you okay?"

She did not expect him to be concerned for her; she blinked as she massaged him. "It's nothing; I'm used to it. Sometimes I will feel unwell like this, and I didn't sleep well yesterday." After all, she chatted all night with Isabella; she was lacking sleep.

He totally believed her now, as Harvey told him that Neera used to bleed non-stop when she gave birth and that her body was severely harmed. Yet, this was not great news for him. He really thought that Neera might be low-profile; it turned out that she was not related to Nancy at all. He had no leads now, and it seemed that he had to work harder to find that woman.

They stopped talking, so there was a silence between them. Neera saw that he stopped asking, so she just focused on massaging his head. He gulped as he looked at how serious she was. I've got to admit that she has a massage technique.

He did not have a headache, but he felt relaxed after being massaged. He could see that she was indeed tired, and he felt guilty as he thought of her not having had enough rest. He pursed his lips and said in a lowered voice, "Thank you so much for today; I feel better now. You should go back to rest."

She did not stop and answered seriously, "It's okay, it's just five more minutes to go. I have to complete a series of massages in order to make your head relax and also improve your sleep tonight." She had a habit of always finishing what she had started.

Jean raised an eyebrow and remained silent. Neera was not talking either. After a while, she glanced at his eyelashes, and she was captivated. He has such long eyelashes that not even women have lashes like him. They're even prettier than women's eyelashes. And his eyes-they're like the bright, nice sky-are breathtakingly beautiful. SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

She suddenly lost her mind and touched his eyelashes. The two of them were stunned! The time seemed to have stopped, and the atmosphere between them was getting steamy. They stared at each other; one of them looked stunned, and the other was smug.

After a while, she regained her senses. And she felt so dumb after realizing what she had done!

SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

Chapter 60

How could I...How was I able to make such a flirtatious move and give way to the seduction of a beautiful man? I'm such a loser!

Neera began to despise herself in her heart for the subsequent few seconds. She regretted it terribly and wished she could sever her own hand.

On the other hand, Jean maintained his composure. He raised one of his dark eyebrows, and there was a playful glint in his eyes. He asked intentionally, as if he were unaware of her embarrassment, "What's the matter? Is there something wrong with my eyes?"

Neera wished she could bury her head into a crack in the ground and vanish when she heard this. Unfortunately, she was unable to use magic, so the best she could muster was an awkward smile.

She said, "No, no, it's just that there is something dirty on your eyelid. It's gone now."

She said this, but her stutter and her red ears made it clear that she was embarrassed.

Jean became aware of her discomfort. He tried to hold back a laugh, but Adam's eye bobbed twice. He held back the laughter and asked gravely, "These days, can people take advantage of others using this excuse?"

His question rendered Neera speechless.

She had no idea this man was capable of being so blunt. Her ears started to get even redder. Her other hand, which she kept secretly rubbing with itself, froze.

After a brief pause, she let go of her hand, stood up straight, and retorted with a stern face, "You're still as narcissistic as ever. Who's taking advantage of you? It doesn't seem like you have any serious problems. Don't worry, you won't die. You'll be fine after taking some medicine."

Neera then spun around and stormed off.

As soon as she walked out the door, she abruptly returned to the room again. She peered through the door with her upper body and instructed him irritably, "Don't forget to take a medicinal bath!"

She actually left this time.

When he heard her footsteps disappear, Jean slowly got out of bed and could not help but chuckle.

Ian walked into the room from outside at this precise moment. He just walked into Neera downstairs and was wondering why she was running so fast, just like a game being hunted by a hunter. He thought someone was chasing her search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

When he realized Jean was actually beaming, he was shocked!

It's a little frightening! He could smile broadly despite having a typically serious expression!

While Ian was still contemplating these things, Jean caught sight of him and quickly hid his smile.

Jean ordered, "Run along and fill the tub with water. I'm going to take a bath."

"Oh, okay," Ian immediately responded.

Ian then respectfully inquired, "Mr. Beauvort, have you found anything about Ms. Garcia?"

Jean shook his head and replied, "It's unlikely to be her."

Ian nodded. He did not ask any further and went to the bathroom.

Neera practically ran back home, and her cheeks were still burning. Along the way, she cursed herself in her heart and slapped her hand angrily until it was red.

Why did I feel the need to touch his lashes? Didn't I have my own eyelashes? I'm such a loser! Why would I be tempted by that guy when I've seen other attractive men before? That was incredibly shameful!

Harvey noticed that his mother's hands and cheeks were all red when she got home. He was surprised for a moment, but his eyes lit up afterward.

His siblings saw this and immediately grasped the situation.

It seemed like Mommy and Daddy had made some progress!

Although Harvey appeared clueless, his heart was filled with joy. He rushed up to his mother and asked concernedly, "Mommy, what's wrong with your face? And why are your hands so red? Do you have a fever?"

When Neera heard his voice, she was jolted back to the present. There was an oddly evasive look in her eyes, and she stuttered, "What? It's...it's nothing. I just felt too hot earlier and my hand got bitten by a mosquito."

The triplet was at a loss for words.

You're a terrible liar, Mommy!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 61

Neera felt a bit uneasy.

She said, "I'm tired. I won't accompany you tonight. Go to bed early, okay?"

She hurriedly went upstairs.

It seemed doubtful to the triplets.

They sat down on the carpet and started whispering.

Harvey said, "Mommy is acting strange. Something must have happened on Daddy's side."

Penny nodded and said, "Mommy must be embarrassed!"

Sammy mumbled, "Should we plan a date for them?"

Harvey and Penny fell into contemplation.

Harvey said, "We should consider it."

Penny raised her hand and said, "I've been researching for these days! There are a few perfect spots to build a closer relationship!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Where are the spots?"

Penny counted on her finger while saying, "First, a concert. Second, a movie theater. Third, a romantic restaurant, Four, a playground!"

She continued to say, "Of course, we have to be in the fourth place. Or else Daddy probably wouldn't go to such a place in his lifetime!"

Harvey and Sammy agreed and finalized the plan.

"Let's start with the first one! We'll try them one by one. Even if there's no opportunity, we can create one!"

"Right!"

Penny excitedly said, "Tomorrow night, a famous Vienna symphony orchestra is holding a concert at the grand theater! Mommy likes them. Let's book the tickets now!"

The following day, Neera received a letter with the concert ticket.

She looked at it and confusedly said, "I don't remember buying concert tickets. Where did this come from?"

The triplets immediately spoke up, "We booked it! You just finished a major surgery; you should relax."

"I checked online. This concert will be grand, but we could only get one ticket."

Neera hesitated momentarily and said, "Since there's only one ticket, maybe I shouldn't go. It wouldn't be right to leave you guys at home."

"No way!"

"Mommy, you don't need to worry about us. You should get a rest."

Neera felt warm-hearted after listening to their words and eventually accepted their invitation.

During the lunch break, the triplets went to find Jean.

"Uncle Jean, You saved Pixie and even bandaged my brother. You're our savior! This concert ticket is a small token of our appreciation; we hope you'll accept it!"

"Uncle Jean, you must go! We'll meet at the theater!"

"I'll see you at the theater."

Jean had no other choice and accepted the ticket.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 62

Neera went out and headed straight to the grand theater after having dinner.

Before leaving, the triplets surrounded her and chattered.

"Mommy, wear this dress. It's so pretty!"

"Mommy, did you put on makeup? You'll outshine everyone with makeup on!"

"Mommy, make sure to be on time!"

Neera felt overwhelmed and didn't even have time to react. They pushed her out of the door.

Neera could not help but smile.

"Alright, I'm leaving. Stay at home and don't run around."

Half an hour later, she arrived at the grand theater and entered on time.

However, only a short time after she entered, Jean also arrived.

Ian followed him out of the car and said, "Mr. Beauvort, please enjoy yourself. I'll wait for you here."

Jean nodded with a calm expression.

The theater was well-lit, with thousands of seats.

Jean followed the seat number and found his spot, unexpectedly seeing Neera.

However, he didn't notice the triplets anywhere!

He didn't ask, and he sat down beside her.

Neera glanced up, and she felt someone sitting next to her.

She immediately froze and was surprised by Jean's appearance.

"What are you doing here? This can't be real. How can we meet here?"

Jean did not bother with her and asked, "Are you alone?"

Neera replied, "Yes."

Jean smirked and asked, "Shouldn't it be you and your three kids together?"

Neera confusedly said, "Why must it be the four of us? They couldn't get other tickets, so I came alone." SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

After a while, she finally realized the hidden meaning in his words and asked, "What do you mean by that?"

Jean showed his ticket and said, "Your son gave me this ticket. He said it was to thank me."

Neera was stunned.

She did not know about this.

Even though their relationship had improved somewhat, she just felt strange!

She immediately sent a message to Harvey.

"What's going on? Why did you give Uncle Jean a ticket without telling me?"

The triplets saw the message at home and quickly sent a pre-prepared response.

"Mommy, sorry, I did it to thank the uncle. I was worried you would disagree, so I had to split the tickets. Please don't be angry!"

Neera was speechless. They were troublesome!

Neera could not help and explained reluctantly to Jean. She even showed him their chat history.

Jean said, "I thought you were straightforward. You said you weren't interested in me, but it seems like you asked me out differently."

Neera fell silent momentarily and said, "You're overthinking. Who wants to ask you out?"

She continued to say, "You can leave now. No one is stopping you!"

Jean pondered and said, "I naturally want to see a rare concert like this. If I leave now, it will waste your son's good intentions."

His words carried a hidden meaning.

Neera did not catch it. They continued to banter until the concert finally began...

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 63

Soon, the symphony orchestra started their performance. The scene looked quite spectacular.

At the front, the conductor first faced the audience with a polite bow and then turned around, gracefully waving his baton.

At the same time, the music slowly began to play. The atmosphere was enchanting and irresistible.

During the performance, Jean casually glanced at Neera.

She leaned back in her chair, seemingly wholly immersed in the music.

Neera's face appeared even more charming under the dim light. Jean could not stop looking at her.

His gaze may have been intense. Neera sensed something and opened her eyes.

They locked eyes, staring intensely at each other.

Both of them were momentarily stunned.

Neera asked, "Why are you looking at me?"

Jean remained calm and said, "I didn't expect you to be so immersed. Do you like it?"

Neera nodded and said, "Of course!"

Jean nodded and didn't say anything more, calmly turning his head as if he had not been staring at her earlier.

However, he noticed his heart rate seemed to be increasing!

He had let out a long sigh.

Fortunately, he was able to resolve the embarrassment.

There hadn't been anyone who had made him feel this way before.

This was something unprecedented.

Neera was having doubts too. She felt like Jean had acted a bit strange. But he acted as if nothing had happened. She wondered if it was just an illusion.

They fell silent.

After a while, the concert ended, and the audience began to leave.

Jean and Neera left together, although they didn't communicate.

There was no particular reason for this. Their seats were next to each other.

Neera walked in front of Jean, feeling weird walking with him. Jean remained silent while observing her slender back.

The grand theater was crowded. Neera was pushed by someone when she walked down the stairs. Her steps faltered, and she tilted forward uncontrollably!

She could not react quickly and was about to collide with the person below the stairs. She felt her heartbeat increase uncontrollably.

At this critical moment, Jean quickly reached out and grabbed her.

Neera felt a strong force pulling her backward and fell into Jean's embrace. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 64

Neera was frozen. All she could see was Jean's face.

They were extremely close and could even feel each other's breath.

They silently stared at each other until someone passed through.

Jean looked at Neera's slightly uneasy expression and calmly let go of her.

"There are many people here. Be careful." Jean said.

"Alright..."

Neera nodded and continued walking down. Although it seemed nothing had happened, her heartbeat was out of control!

She clearly felt Jean's warmth and the scent of perfume. It was refreshing and pleasant.

While Neera was lost in thought, Jean felt the same feelings too.

During that embrace, he keenly felt the softness of her body.

He felt a sense of fascination that he could not let go of! The incredible thing was that even though he usually detested women, he did not feel any aversion to Neera!

Both of them were lost in thought and walked out of the theater.

Neera initially planned to leave quickly. However, it started pouring rain outside with no sign of stopping.

Neera felt deeply exasperated. Having returned just a few days ago, she hadn't found the time to buy a car, so she took a taxi to come to the theater.

She hesitated, wondering if she should run over and hail a taxi.

At that moment, Jean asked, "Can't you leave?"

Neera stared at him and said, "Isn't it obvious?"

Jean said, "That's unfortunate."

Why did I feel like Jean was gloating? Neera was about to retort when Ian suddenly appeared out of nowhere with a black umbrella.

He came to pick up Jean! Ian was surprised to see Jean alone with Neera.

Ian asked, "Ms. Garcia, where are the triplets?"

Neera felt more annoyed when she thought about the things they had done. She replied in a low voice, "They didn't come."

Ian was instantly stunned. Did Mr. Beauvort and Ms. Garcia attend the concert together?

The scene looked like a newly dating couple!

Suddenly, Jean took the umbrella from Ian, opened it, and was about to leave. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera grabbed Jean's arm and exclaimed, "Are you just going to leave like this?"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Read Chapter 65

Chapter 65

Jean glanced at Neera without any expression.

After a moment, he slowly said, "Let go." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera hesitated and said, "I won't let go. We're neighbors. Can't you give me a ride? My son even gave you a concert ticket for free! It's not how good neighbors should treat each other."

"The way good neighbors should treat each other?"

Jean chuckled and replied, "Ms. Garcia, I know more about this than you do."

Neera was taken aback and unable to react.

Jean continued to say, "At least I didn't break your windows, your antique vase, or the plants in your yard."

Neera fell silent. Although she did not want to admit it, his words were true.

Jean said, "What's the point of talking so much? I have already compensated you for the broken things. You're so petty!"

After speaking, she glared at Jean and turned around to leave.

She really had no patience at all.

Jean coldly said, "Three seconds. If you don't come in, I'll leave."

Three seconds?

Neera was stunned.

She wanted to leave with dignity, but the situation did not allow for it.

The rain was pouring heavily. She could not just wait here forever.

Neera had no other choice and shared the same umbrella with Jean.

Thus, the two of them walked shoulder to shoulder in the rain.

Although they may have seemed close, Neera intentionally kept some distance from Jean.

Jean noticed Neera's was getting wet and said, "Move closer."

Neera subconsciously moved closer to him. However, there was still a small distance between them. Jean remained silent upon seeing that.

Although he had already helped Neera, her shoulder was still quite wet.

When they reached the car park, Jean asked calmly, "Where did you park your car?"

Neera responded, "I took a taxi here. Are you really that petty to refuse me a ride?"

Jean replied, "What if I say I am?"

"If that's the case, I'll borrow money to pay off your debt. Then we'll be even. But don't come to me if you're in pain or sick; I won't help you!" Neera said it firmly.

Ian could not help but chuckle slightly at Jean, who was being threatened for the first time. He hurriedly said, "Ms. Garcia, please don't take it seriously. Mr. Beauvort is just joking with you! Let's get in the car quickly."

Neera hummed and got into the Rolls-Royce beside her.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 66

Jean did not say anything and bent down to get in as well.

On the way back, three of them remained silent. Neera quietly looked out the window, hoping to get home and end this odd night.

She felt cold and did not hold back a sneeze.

Ian immediately looked at the rearview mirror and asked, "Ms. Garcia, are you feeling cold? Do you need me to raise the temperature of the air conditioning?"

Neera rubbed her nose and replied, "It's fine."

However, Ian still raised the temperature.

Jean looked at Neera because he thought he heard her sobbing.

Neera was rubbing her arms because she felt cold. Upon seeing that, Jean removed his coat and threw it to Neera.

Neera was stunned, subconsciously turning her head, but she only saw Jean's unconcerned face. He was really... Jean clearly had good intentions, so why did he handle it so awkwardly? He didn't even say a word! Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera skimmed her lips and picked up the coat.

"Thanks," Neera said. She could feel Jean's scent and lingering warmth on the coat. Her ears inexplicably warmed up.

Ian was stunned to see this scene. Mr. Beauvort had never allowed anyone to touch his things. And now he was actually giving his coat to Ms. Garcia. Has Mr. Beauvor changed and become gentler?

As Ian whispered, Jean coldly said, "Don't forget to wash it."

Ian was speechless. He knew it! Mr. Beauvor was still the same!

It was an illusion! Mr. Beauvor probably did not know how to be gentle.

Neera replied, "Of course, I will."

Jean did not respond. He calmly picked up a file from the side and read it silently.

The car fell back into silence.

A sudden chill ran through Neera, and she had a sudden bad feeling. After the surgery, her physical condition was not great.

Now, she felt a chill all over her body and was afraid she might catch a cold.

Neera tightened her coat and whispered, "Whenever she encountered Jean, it was never good!"

Twenty minutes later, the car finally stopped at her doorstep.

The rain had significantly lessened. Neera took the umbrella handed to her by Ian and stepped out of the car.

She did not want to be impolite. So she waved casually at Jean and said, "Thank you."

After that, she walked toward her house.

Jean frowned as he watched Neera leave. He noticed Neera was even tinier while wrapped in his coat.

After watching Neera enter her house, he retracted his gaze and returned home.

...

The triplets were waiting obediently in the living room when Neera returned home.

They immediately rushed over with their short legs and started to chatter.

"Mommy, how was it today? Did Uncle Jean send you back?"

"Was the concert enjoyable? Does Uncle Jean like it?"

"Mommy, did you properly thank Uncle Jean?"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 67

The triplets only noticed their Mommy was wearing a coat after they asked the questions.

This was definitely Daddy's coat!

The triplets were pleasantly surprised after realizing it.

Mommy and Daddy had gone out together for the evening, and she was wearing his coat. If they go on more dates, We can openly call him daddy soon!

Harvey noticed Neera's clothes seemed to be a little wet. He asked, "Mommy, are your clothes wet? Did you get caught in the rain?"

Neera nodded and said, "Yes, I do."

After Neera's words, the triplets became worried and led her towards the stairs.

"Mommy, you have to take a hot shower quickly. Wearing wet clothes for too long can make you catch a cold!"

Neera was touched, nodded gently, and went upstairs for a hot shower.

Half an hour later, she came out of the bathroom wearing dry pajamas. She felt much more comfortable. She noticed that Jean's coat was still hanging on the chair. After some hesitation, she carefully hung it on a hanger.

This coat was purely handmade and customized. The fabric, style, and workmanship are top-notch and exquisite. It must be very expensive.

Neera decided not to take any risks by washing it herself. Instead, she planned to take it to a laundry shop to avoid any accidents.

After tidying up, she went downstairs.

Seeing her come down, Penny hurriedly approached her with a cup of hot water and some medicine. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Mommy, this is to prevent you from catching a cold. Please drink it quickly!"

Neera grabbed the cup and felt heartwarming.

"Thank you, Penny."

She thanked Penny softly and took the medicine. Harvey and Sammy were called over.

"Sit down, all three of you." She pointed to the sofa nearby and said:

The triplets obediently sat down in a row. They blinked their eyes at Neera with an adorable look.

"What's wrong, Mommy?"

Sammy smiled sweetly.

Neera pinched Sammy's cheeks and said, "Stop acting cute; it won't work. Tell me what happened tonight. Did you plan in advance to buy two tickets, invite Uncle Jean and me, and deliberately make us watch the concert alone?"

Of course, the triplets would not tell the truth and quickly shook their heads.

"Of course not, Mommy; how could you think that? I really wanted to thank Uncle Jean!"

Harvey was righteous and stern, as if he really had no other intentions.

Sammy said, "Yes, Mommy. Harvey is afraid that you won't agree, so he had to do this. Don't blame him!"

However, Neera did not believe them at all. She stared at the two of them silently.

Harvey felt a bit guilty and said, "Mommy, I'll be honest. I noticed that your relationship with Uncle Jean wasn't very good, so we tried to bring you two closer through this concert. After all, we'll be neighbors for a long time. You also need to treat him, right? But I genuinely had no other intentions, Mommy; please don't overthink!"

"Is that really the only reason?"

Neera felt somewhat relieved, but her suspicions still lingered.

Harvey nodded and said, "It's real! We'll never lie to you!"

Neera stared at him for a while and reluctantly believed him.

It was getting late, and she did not have much else to say, so she urged the triplets to go to bed.

The triplets turned away and smiled at each other.

Thankfully, we managed to deceive her!

Mommy was easy to fool!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 68

The next morning, Neera woke up feeling miserable.

She had caught a cold, and her throat was hoarse.

"Jean really bought me nothing except bad luck," Neera complained as she headed to the bathroom. She felt helpless as she saw her pale face in the mirror.

It was just a light rain, and the body reacted so severely. It was so weak!

Her head was drowsy, and she felt like continuing to sleep. However, she reluctantly woke up when she realized the triplets had not had breakfast yet.

The triplets woke up, dressed and tidied up by themselves, and gathered in the dining room.

"Good morning, Mommy!"

Neera brought over some milk and said, "Good morning."

Her hoarse voice immediately startled the triplets.

"Mommy, why do you look so bad? Your face and lips are pale. Are you sick?"

Harvey approached Neera and gestured for her to bend down. Neera felt helpless and complied. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Harvey placed his hand on Neera's forehead and felt that it was hot. He frowned and said, "Mommy, you have a fever!"

Sammy and Penny came closer, worried.

Neera had noticed it earlier but thought she could handle it, so she did not pay much attention to it.

Neera said, "I'm okay. It's not serious. I'll take a good rest after breakfast. Don't worry, let's eat now."

Harvey was still worried after listening to her voice. He quickly grabbed the medicine and a cup of water.

"Mommy, after breakfast, take the medicine and rest."

Neera was heart-warmed after seeing their babies being so considerate.

After eating breakfast, she obediently took the medicine and went upstairs to rest.

However, her head was dizzy, and she could not get up by noon. The triplets did not disturb her. Instead, they took their pets to the yard to eat instant noodles.

Jean's butler, Jeremy, was watering the flowers not far away when he noticed what had happened. He was surprised and asked, "Are you having instant noodles for lunch? Did Ms. Garcia not cook for you?"

The triplets shook their heads and said, "No, Mommy was sick. She's resting now."

Sammy said, "Harvey actually knows how to cook. But Mommy rarely lets him do it because it's too dangerous, especially when she's not home. We don't want Mommy to worry, so we just eat this."

Jeremy gently said, "You're all good kids. Don't eat these instant noodles anymore; they're not nutritious or delicious. I'll send you some food in a while. Just wait here."

Jeremy knew Neera was treating Jean's illness, so he was very kind to the triplets.

The triplets smiled and thanked him.

Soon, Jeremy went back and instructed the servant to prepare extra food.

At that moment, Jean came downstairs and heard their conversation. He asked, "Where will you deliver the food?"

Jeremy explained to him what had happened.

Neera had only been caught in light rain, yet she actually caught a cold.

He pondered momentarily and said, "Just call them over to eat."

Jeremy was surprised but quickly nodded and went to call the triplets.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 69

The triplets quickly arrived with their faces filled with excitement.

We're so happy to eat together with Daddy!

"Thank you for your food, Uncle Jean!"

As soon as they entered, they stood in a row and thanked Jean with their cute voices.

Jean smiled and gently said, "You're welcome. Lunch is ready. Go wash your hands."

"Shall I take you there?" Jeremy said with a smile.

The triplets nodded and followed him.

A few minutes later, the four of them were seated in the dining room. It was the first time the dining room had so many people.

"Eat whatever you like, don't be shy," Jean said warmly as he picked up his chopsticks.

"Thank you, Uncle Jean!" The triplets said in unison, picking up their chopsticks.

They were well-mannered. There were almost no sounds of utensils clinking.

Jean was surprised and inquired about Neera's condition.

Harvey said, "Mommy already took the medicine and rested. It doesn't seem too serious, She should recover soon!"

Penny nodded and said, "She should be fine!"

Jean did not ask further.

"Uncle Jean, don't just focus on us. Eat while it's hot too. We can take care of ourselves."

The atmosphere in the dining room was harmonious.

After lunch, the triplets bid farewell and returned home. Jean did not insist on keeping them.

Instead, he told Jeremy, "Take a Tupperware and pack some food for them to return. Ms. Garcia slept for such a long time. She will need it to replenish some energy in time."

The triplets thanked him again and left with the packed food.

However, the doorbell of Jean's house rang again in the afternoon.

Ian opened the door and saw Penny and Sammy with an anxious look.

"What happened?" Ian asked curiously.

Penny asked, "Mr. Assistant, is Mr. Handsome at home?"

Ian replied, "Yes, are you looking for him?"

"Yes, is he free now? Mommy's fever is worsening, and she must go to the hospital. We've tried to help her to cool down, but it didn't work!" Penny spoke worriedly.

Ian nodded and said, "I'll go report it now. You two can go back and wait."

The doublets nodded and returned home.

Soon, Jean arrived. He saw Harvey was changing Neera's towel.

The triplets seemed worried, but they were not panicking.

Sammy and Penny immediately approached him and said, "Uncle Jean, we entrust our Mommy to you!" SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

Jean glanced at Neera on the bed. She was still not awake and seemed to be uncomfortable.

After hesitating for a moment, he responded gently and picked Neera up. Then he told Ian, "Get the car ready."

SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

Chapter 70

Ian was surprised when he saw this scene. He never thought Jean would personally carry her.

He silently complained in his heart. What was wrong with Mr. Beauvort?

However, he remained silent and quickly went to prepare the car.

Twenty minutes later, they arrived at the hospital.

Jean was still carrying Neera while Ian called a doctor over to check her condition.

After a short while, the doctor came back with the diagnosis.

"It's a cold and fever caused by catching a chill. The fever is quite high, and the best option is an intravenous drip."

The doctor prepared the intravenous drip, and ten minutes later, Neera was hooked up to it. The triplets stayed by her side the whole time. They are worried and waiting for Neera to wake up.

Jean stood by the window.

Since he entered the room, his phone kept vibrating with important messages. He could just leave the room.

However, when he saw the triplets waiting obediently, he could not bear to leave them here.

Moreover, Neera had not woken up yet.

Jean hesitated and told Ian, "Postpone all my schedule for today."

Ian was even more astonished by his words.

Mr. Beauvort was truly a workaholic who rarely deviated from his schedule. SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

But, he had exceptionally decided to delay his schedule...

It seemed like the triplets were really important!

However, it could also be that Neera was still helpful to Mr. Beauvort, which was why he was so kind.

Ian concealed his thoughts and quickly settled the matter.

After about three to four hours, Neera finally woke up. She seemed to have gotten better. She was stunned when she opened her eyes and saw the unfamiliar surroundings.

Neera only realized she was in the hospital when she saw the triplets excitedly gathered around her. She was surprised and said, "How did I end up in the hospital? Who brought me here?"

Then she suddenly noticed Jean...

Did he bring me here?

The triplets quickly explained what had happened to her.

"Mommy, we were so worried. Thanks to Uncle Jean, he carried you to the hospital for treatment!"

Neera hadn't expected Jean to be so kind-hearted. She thanked him softly.

Jean casually replied, "No need to thank me. I just don't want anything to happen to you and interfere with my treatment."

Neera was speechless.

She knew that kindness was an illusion.

Soon, the doctor came and reexamined her.

The doctor prescribed some medication and allowed Neera to go home.

However, her body was still weak. She felt dizzy when she got out of bed and almost fell to the ground.

At a crucial moment, Jean quickly held her!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 71

Neera unconsciously fell into Jean's embrace. She felt a strange sense of intimacy and even heard Jean's heartbeat!

After realizing what had happened, she sheepishly pulled away and apologized softly.

Jean frowned and asked, "Can you walk on your own?"

Neera nodded and said, "Yes."

Jean doubted and said, "Are you sure?"

At that moment, the triplets approached and said, "Mommy, you just woke up. You weren't fully recovered yet. Don't push yourself too hard. Let us help you."

Neera was heartbroken. She smiled and agreed.

So Sammy and Harvey held her on either side, and Penny accompanied her as they walked out together.

Jean sent them directly home.

As they exited the car, Jean waved goodbye to the triplets.

The kids were enthusiastic and chatted for a while before entering the house.

Instead of going home, Jean headed straight to the company. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He ended up busy until past midnight.

The next day, Neera had recovered quite a bit. Coincidentally, Adriana called her.

Neera told her what had happened.

"If your neighbor and the triplets weren't there to help, no one would know you fainted at home. You must hire a nanny. At least when you're busy, someone can take care of the kids and their meals. You can't let them cook independently; it's too dangerous."

Neera had no objection. She was also considering this matter.

Neera would be much busier with the work later on. The time needed to take care of the triplets would be significantly less.

Moreover, something was even more important. She had to start looking for kindergartens for the kids!

She smiled and said, "Aunt Adriana, I understand. I will do it as soon as possible."

Neera began to handle this matter and posted a recruitment notice online.

People came for interviews in the next two days, but Neera was unsatisfied with them. After rejecting four or five candidates, she finally selected someone with the right qualifications.

"Auntie Zuniga, prepare to start officially in the next two days. I'll tell you the habits and preferences of the three kids by then."

"Sure, Ms. Garcia."

Zuniga gently smiled in response.

At the same time, Neera also started looking for kindergartens for the triplets.

Though the kids were brilliant, they were not yet old enough to attend school.

However, they could not just stay at home all the time.

After comparing several options, she finally chose a nearby, prestigious international kindergarten.

This kindergarten had international teachers and provided comprehensive education.

The annual tuition fee was several hundred thousand.

Despite the high cost, many people were eager to enroll their children due to the excellent facilities.

Neera had finalized her choice and decided to enroll the following Monday.

c

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 72

Neera and Jean were busy these days.

Jean's office was filled with documents, and several projects required him to attend meetings. He was working tirelessly, and his schedule became erratic.

On a weekend night, it was almost ten o'clock when he finished his work.

As Ian drove him back, he said, "Mr. Beauvort, it seems that Mr. Frederic was serious this time. He's actually preparing for your wedding and has even chosen a hotel!" Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Jean was resting on the back of the car when he suddenly opened his eyes.

The streetlights outside reflected on his face, which made him appear more handsome.

Jean coldly said, "Tell Mr. Frederic that there's no way I'll attend the wedding!"

His voice was decisive.

Ian worriedly said, "What if Mr. Frederic insists and sends her over?"

Jean replied, "Then we'll kick her out! No one is allowed to step into Imperial Gardens."

Ian was speechless.

Mr. Beauvort was really determined to confront Mr. Frederic!

Life is really tough to be the middleman between them!

During their conversation, they arrived home.

Jean felt uncomfortable with his stomach as he drank some alcohol tonight.

Ian noticed and asked, "Mr. Beauvort, are you alright? Do you need some medicine?"

Jean shook his head and went upstairs to take a shower.

Unexpectedly, in the middle of the night, his stomach pain got worse. He was in pain with cold sweat forming on his forehead.

Over the years, he had taken many medications due to long-term illnesses.

Some of these medications had unavoidable side effects that severely damaged his stomach.

Jean normally refrained from drinking alcohol. But tonight's meeting was too important. He had a few cups of alcohol just to show his sincerity.

He never expected the stomach pain to be this serious!

Ian was called over and saw his condition. He was frightened and thought Jean was suffering from neuralgia again.

"Mr. Beauvort, this can't be resolved with just medicine! I'll go find Ms. Garcia. Please bear with it for a moment!"

Jean did not have time to stop him.

At this late hour, Neera was already asleep.

She woke up in a daze when she heard the doorbell. As she opened the door, she saw Ian's anxious face and asked, "What's wrong? It's so late. Why did you come over?"

Ian urgently said, "Ms. Garcia, Mr. Beauvort is in unbearable pain right now. Please come and take a look!"

Neera frowned as she heard Ian's words.

It must be serious at this hour, and Ian is this anxious.

Neera did not say anything and followed Ian back home.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 73

Soon, they arrived at Jean's room. Jean was still curled up in pain and had a pale face. Neera glanced at him and approached to treat him. Jean said, "It's not neuralgia. My stomach is uncomfortable." Neera hesitated and asked, "Stomach ache? What happened?"

She noticed that he had a lot of sweat.

The intensity of the pain must be severe. Ordinary stomach aches should not be this severe...

Ian was stunned and realized he had misunderstood the situation.

"Mr. Beauvort, is it because of the alcohol you had tonight?" Ian asked.

Jean remained silent and nodded.

Neera asked coldly when she heard Ian's words, "You drank alcohol?"

Her tone was not nice. Jean and Ian sensed something was wrong.

Ian quickly said, "Mr. Beauvort did have some alcohol, but just two small cups."

Neera suddenly smiled and stared coldly at Jean.

"You're amazing! Do you still drink alcohol with your body condition? If you don't want to recover, just give up the treatment. Why bother wasting our time? If you're not bothered, I'm still bothered by the waste of time!"

Neera was about to leave. Jean and Ian were stunned. They never expected Neera to become so furious suddenly.

Ian grabbed her and said, "Ms. Garcia, please calm down. Mr. Beauvort rarely drinks alcohol. It was a special circumstance tonight, and he had no other choice. I promise you, I will keep a close eye on Mr. Beauvort. He won't make the same mistake again. Please, don't give up on him!" Neera's anger truly frightened him. Dr. Nancy was not here. Mr. Beauvort could only rely on her to save him! If she gave up on him as well, what would they do?

Jean was stunned as well. He never expected Neera to be mad. This was truly the first time... Only she dared to do this!

Jean said, "Tonight's project is extremely important for the company. It was because of this that I made an exception. I won't touch alcohol again in the future."

Neera still felt angry. After Ian continued to persuade her, she reluctantly held back her anger and calmed down. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Anyway, the body is your own; if you don't care for it, I can't be bothered!" Neera said.

Ian continued to say, "Don't worry. Mr. Beauvort takes care of himself very well. Ms. Garcia, please don't be angry anymore. If things happen again, I'll drink for him. Can you treat his stomach now? He has developed some resistance to regular stomach medicine, so it's not very effective."

Neera stared at Jean, took a pill from her medical kit, and passed it to Ian.

"Give it to him!"

After saying that, she walked away without any expression.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 74

After Neera left, Ian looked at Jean awkwardly. He never expected someone would scold him! Moreover, it was even Neera, whom he had only recently met!

On the other hand, Jean remained calm, as if nothing had happened. Suddenly, his stomach spasmed again, causing him to frown in pain. Ian quickly poured a cup of water and passed it to him with the medicine.

"Mr. Beauvort, quickly take this medicine Ms. Garcia gave; it should work!"

Jean nodded and accepted.

After five minutes, Jean's condition improved a lot compared to before. He seemed to be relieved.

"Ms. Garcia was truly amazing. You have become better in such a short time!"

Jean acknowledged Neera but did not say much. He fell asleep after a while.

The next day, he woke up feeling completely recovered.

However, he decided to work from home instead of going out.

On the other hand, Neera brought the triplets to the kindergarten for registration.

Everything went smoothly, and the triplets adapted quickly. Their good-looking faces even attracted the attention of all the teachers and students.

Neera accompanied them through half of a class and left since there were no issues.

When she returned home, she hesitated as she looked at the neighboring door.

How is Jean now...

After a short contemplation, she pressed the doorbell.

Ian opened the door and said, "Ms. Garcia, please come in."

Neera shook her head and replied, "I just came to ask how Mr. Beauvort is."

Ian immediately smiled and said, "He's fine now. Thanks to the medicine you gave him, he recovered so quickly! You're truly a great doctor!"

Neera found it somewhat amusing to hear him praise her so much. His words were quite slick! SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

Neera nodded and said, "As long as he's fine, I'm leaving."

At that moment, a car parked in front of Jean's house, and Joanna stepped out of it. She brought her medical team to conduct a routine checkup for Jean. The checkup was done once a month.

However, Joanna did not expect to see a somewhat familiar face when she got out of the car. It was the woman she had met at the hotel the other day!

Joanna asked, "Why are you here?"

Neera replied coldly, "Why? Do I have to inform you that I'm here?"

Joanna's face turned gloomy. She thought she had the chance to treat Jean after Nancy was gone. But she did not expect Neera to be here!

Joanna stared at Neera and said, "You even followed Jean all the way to his home. What motives do you have?"

Her tone was unfriendly.

Joanna continued to say, "Mr. Ian, she appeared out of nowhere last time. Now, she could even manage to find this place! She must have some bad intentions; be careful of her!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 75

Neera could not help but laugh at Joanna's attitude. She did not bother to explain anything to Joanna.

She really did not hide anything...

She even dared to complain in front of me. How dare she?

Neera remained silent and looked at Ian.

Ian said, "Joanna, don't talk nonsense if you don't understand! Ms. Garcia moved in next door a few days ago. Moreover, Ms. Garcia had already started giving Mr. Beauvort treatment. So I hope you'll treat her with respect in the future."

Joanna was stunned and could not believe what she heard.

Joanna said, "She has started treating Mr. Beauvort? Did he agree to that? How is that possible?"

Ian frowned and said, "Why is it not possible? He did agree, and you have no right to question or doubt it!"

"No, that's not what I meant..."

Joanna quickly shook her head to explain and began to panic.

No wonder Mr. Beauvort did not call me over these days; it was all because of her! After suffering for so long, how can I just hand over the opportunity?

She was afraid that her position would be replaced.

Joanna said, "Ian, we are still Mr. Beauvort's professional medical team. Ms. Garcia might be unable to heal him due to his complex condition. We must be extremely cautious about the illness!"

She said softly, "So, could you inform Mr. Beauvort? Let us comprehensively examine his condition so that everyone can be reassured."

Joanna was smart. She knew being too aggressive would not work.

Ian did not reject her and passed on the message. However, he felt that the chances were quite low.

"Alright, wait here for a moment," Ian said, walking inside the house. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera remained silent and did not bother to care. If he believed Joanna's words and gave up on my treatment. I would be more than happy to be relieved of this burden! There wouldn't be much loss either way.

Thinking of this, she turned around to leave.

However, Joanna shouted, "Stop right there!"

Neera stared at her and said, "Is there anything else?"

Joanna said, "I had no idea what you had done. But I will never let go of my position! Leave as soon as possible. Otherwise, don't blame me for being ruthless."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 76

Neera could not help but laugh after listening to Joanna's words.

"You're such an Idiot." She replied and went straight back home.

Joanna's face turned gloomy. This b*tch dared to call me an idiot! Who did she think she was? However, I felt more panicked now. I never expected her to live next door to Mr. Beauvort! It is such a disadvantage for me!

Ian returned and said, "Mr. Beauvort doesn't feel uncomfortable now. He's busy with work now; there's no need for an examination at the moment. You can all leave for now. For routine check-ups, wait for a notification from us."

Joanna hurriedly said, "But..." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Ian stopped her and said, "Dr. Bridges, I've already passed the message clearly. Follow the orders and the rules."

After saying that, Ian closed the door.

Joanna felt even more flustered and angry. I didn't even have a chance to see Mr. Beauvort. Instead, I met this b*tch! Even the opportunity to come for routine check-ups is canceled!

However, she had no other choice and left.

On the way back, Joanna's team members sat in the car, their faces filled with worry.

"Ms. Bridges, could it be that Mr. Beauvort doesn't want to cooperate with our institute anymore?"

"Mr. Beauvort hasn't contacted us at all recently. We even got blocked outside during the check-up. I have a bad feeling about this."

"We can't let things happen like this! Our research funding still relies on Mr. Beauvort! Where else can we get the money from?"

Joanna was sitting in the passenger seat with a gloomy face. She also felt panic, but for now, she could only try to reassure them.

"Don't worry. I'll resolve this matter. If necessary, I'll go talk to Mr. Beauvort's mother. She likes me, so maybe I can persuade her. I'll talk to her in the next couple of days."

Everyone nodded after listening to her words.

...

After returning home, Neera's mood remained unaffected by Joanna's words.

At noon, she called Isabella and talked about the patients' conditions from the previous surgery.

"They are recovering very well."

Isabella proudly said, "Now everyone in the Lopez family knows that you work in the hospital. And there are rumors that you are starting to covet it. However, it was already written clearly in the document. "If this surgery is successful, the hospital will be mine!"

Neera said, "Congratulations, Director Lopez."

Isabella laughed and said, "How you address me is so strange! Well, it's all thanks to you that my plan succeeded. I owe you a meal now!"

"Sure, I'll be looking forward to it."

Isabella suddenly said, "By the way, Roxanne is visiting the hospital daily. It seems like her condition is not good, right?"

Neera replied, "Whatever happens to her has nothing to do with me."

However, Neera remembered something.

Previously the Garcia family had promised the Beauvort family having me to replace Roxanne in the marriage. There has been no update about this recently. Did they give up so quickly? That's impossible... They must be planning something bad!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 77

Neera could not help but frown as she thought of it. They were indeed troublesome! I would not want to contact them at all. It is all only for the share of stocks left by Mommy!

After hanging up the phone call, Adriana suddenly called in.

"Hello, Aunt Adriana, what's up?"

Adriana said, "Neera, the skin care products developed by the overseas team have already been launched, and we're planning to expand it nationwide. We may need you to negotiate and communicate with the stores. I trust you to handle it."

"Sure, I'll make sure to handle it well."

Neera had no objections. Their skin care products had already become famous long ago. This time, Aunt Adriana has even been fully involved in producing the new product; it'll surely be a success!

After chatting for a while, Adriana asked, "Where are the triplets? Are they at home?"

Neera replied, "They're not at home. I just took them to a nearby kindergarten today."

"That's good. It'll be convenient for you to pick them up. By the way, Have you bought a car yet, or are you still taking taxis?" Adriana said.

Neera replied, "That's right, I'm still taking taxis."

Adriana sighed and said, "You lived in a villa and were still taking taxis? Would the security guards stop you from entering?"

Neera replied, "There's nothing I can do. I couldn't afford to buy a car right now..."

Adriana felt silent for a while and said, "How about this? I'll pay the research fee in advance for you. Just hurry up and buy a car!"

Neera smiled and said, "Aunt Adriana, you're the best! I love you so much!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

In a short while, Neera's account received an additional ten million.

Neera exclaimed, "Aunt Adriana always helped me when I encountered difficulties; she's truly amazing!"

Besides the triplets, Aunt Adriana is the one who loves me the most! My budget is around two million. Car's performance and safety issues must be considered.

After visiting multiple dealerships, Neera ultimately settled on the Porsche dealership as her choice. When she entered the Porsche dealership, the salesperson approached her and said, "Miss, do you need some introduction..."

Neera nodded and said, "I'll look around first."

The salesperson replied, "Alright, let me get you a glass of water first. You can take your time to look, and I'll be right back."

Neera thanked him and walked around the showroom. Luxury car dealerships genuinely provide excellent service.

The cars in the front area were relatively affordable. Neera was not interested in these models and walked inside. In the center of the showroom, she spotted a sports car priced over six million.

Neera felt that the car's design was appealing and took a closer look.

At this moment, a familiar voice came from behind.

"Zach, I've liked this car for a long time, but my father refused to buy it...!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 78

Neera was stunned as she heard this voice. The voice was unmistakably Roxanne! Her pretentious tone gave me goosebumps. Without looking, it must be Zachary beside her. I can't believe I met those bastards here! What kind of luck am I having?

Zachary said, "Consider this car your birthday gift, as long as you like it. Driving this car will also make us feel proud too!"

Roxanne felt excited and pondered. Recently, I felt miserable since Dr. Nancy did not give me treatment for my illness. Isabella was simply uncooperative too. No matter what I said, Isabella would not tell me anything about Dr. Nancy. I complained several times to Zachary too.

Zachary promised to solve the matter for her. However, he could not even meet Dr. Nancy.

He felt somehow embarrassed.

So, Zachary decided to buy the car that Roxanne liked.

However, they did not expect to see someone familiar. Isn't that Neera?

Zachary felt somehow excited. Roxanne's face immediately turned gloomy when she saw Neera. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Roxanne said, "What a coincidence to meet you here!"

Neera felt disgusted too. This idiot, how come she always says the same thing when they meet? I was too lazy to talk with them and continued to walk around.

Roxanne was agitated as she saw Neera's reaction. How dare Neera treat me like this? She is just someone who the Garcia family abandoned.

Roxanne said, "Are you here for this car? Unfortunately, Zach already bought this car for me! You probably can't afford it."

Zach seemed to be proud. Since Neera had returned, she never treated me properly. Now, will she regret it?

Zach looked at her expression and hoped to see disappointment or sadness on her face.

However, Neera just felt annoyed and remained silent.

Roxanne became even angrier as she observed Neera's reaction. How can she still be so calm? Who does she think she is? I had to teach her a lesson today!

Roxanne said coldly to the manager, "What's wrong with your dealership? How can you allow anyone in without proper screening? It's crucial to assess customers based on their purchasing power; otherwise, your dealership's standard will be downgraded!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 79

The manager felt awkward after listening to Roxanne's words. The showroom was open to the public.

They could not reject people to enter. Moreover, they had affordable car models that many people could afford.

However, it was Zachary beside her. He was a valued customer in this dealership.

The manager told Neera, "I'm sorry, miss, Mr. Zachary has indeed reserved this car. Would you like to look at other models?"

Zachary said, "Yes, Neera, why don't you take a look at other models? I am giving this sports car as a gift to Roxanne. If you like other models, just mention my name for a discount!"

Roxanne felt agitated as she heard Zachary's words. She said, "Zach, you're making the situation hard for her? How can she afford any of the cars here? She's pretending to be rich!"

The manager could not help and observed Neera. Actually, she did not seem to be lacking of money. Her elegance and aura could not be concealed...

Neera stared at them and said, "Have you seen the balance in my bank account to say I can't afford it? Is this car something extraordinary?"

Roxanne replied, "There's nothing extraordinary about it, but we can afford it. Can you?"

Neera said, "Roxanne, I won't argue with you on this matter. But let me tell you, this car means nothing to me!"

Roxanne laughed and said, "I haven't heard such a ridiculous joke in a long time. After all, what you've said proves you can't afford it. What are you doing here?"

The manager had felt somewhat annoyed by Neera's words. He had also thought that she could not afford it!

Zachary was also annoyed and said, "Neera, it's no big deal if you can't afford a luxury car. You can just buy a cheap car. But the words you said were a bit inappropriate. Are you criticizing the cars here?"

Roxanne also said, "Manager, did you hear that? She looks down at your cars! There is no point in entertaining her anymore. Just ask her to leave." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Before the manager could speak, a well-dressed man suddenly appeared at the entrance.

He approached Neera and said, "Excuse me, are you Ms. Garcia?"

His attitude was extremely respectful, accompanied by a courteous smile.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 80

Neera asked, "Who are you?"

Neera did not recognize him, but the manager beside her recognized him immediately. Isn't he the manager next door? He asked, "Mr. Leo, why are you here?"

Leo ignored him and said, "Ms. Garcia, I am the manager of the Rolls-Royce dealership next door. One of our customers mentioned that you are a resident of the Imperial Gardens. We have always been favored by all. Are you interested in buying a car from our dealership? If so, I will personally assist you throughout the process and offer the best price for you."

Neera thought to herself. Only Isabella and Jean knew where I lived... Isabella is probably working now, so Jean should be the one who gets Mr. Leo for help.

Neera had no intention of buying a car here anymore. Thus, she said, "Sure, let's go," and left with Leo.

Three of them were left in shock and could not believe what happened.....

Roxanne whispered, "It's impossible! How could it be..." Was Neera living in the Imperial Gardens? Even the Fain family was not qualified to live there... How could that b*tch do so?

Zachary could not accept that Neera actually lived in the Imperial Gardens too... Mr. Leo had never treated me this way before!

The manager of the Porsche dealership felt remorseful and regretted it. If I had known that Neera had such a background, I would have introduced her to an even more expensive sports car! It would have been such a great achievement! How dumb am I to be fooled by these two people? No wonder a six million sports car could not catch her interest!

Neera followed Leo to the Rolls-Royce dealership. Neera was brought into a private room. Jean and Ian were resting casually in the room.

Jean looked at her and said, "Have a seat." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera looked around and noticed there was one of the windows that provided a clear view of the Porsche dealership's showroom. It seemed that Jean observed what happened and sent someone to help Neera...

Neera softly said, "Thank you for what happened earlier."

Jean replied, "There's no need to thank me. But what are your plans next? They are probably still waiting to see you embarrassed, aren't they?"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 81

Neera scowled and turned to look next door. Zachary and Roxanne continued roaming around, glancing at this side. They wanted to witness her humiliation! She ignored it, but Jean's voice could be heard in her ear. "Do you want my assistance? After that, you can pay me back using your medical expertise. Any Rolls-Royce Phantom or Rolls-Royce Cullinan is acceptable as long as you like it. I can help with payment right away."

Neera was unable to speak as she knew that this man wasn't so generous as to assist her without any ulterior motives "You don't think that I'm poor, do you?" she asked, unable to contain her laughter as she turned to face him. "I was short on money before, so I had to use my medical expertise to temporarily pay off my debts, but now I can afford this car!" She spoke of this as she turned to face Leo and said, "Give me whatever you have right now."

Leo was shocked when he heard it. "Are you sure about this, Ms. Garcia? Why don't you pick what you prefer?"

"It's okay; you may help me select. I have faith in your company." Neera gave him a card right away after she finished speaking.

Leo paused, not daring to reach out to pick it up but instead gazing at Jean. Jean wasn't expecting her to suddenly become wealthy. He did not need to stop her because she could afford to buy it in full. After all, he would still rely on her in the future to heal him. There was no need to cause any unpleasantness in this matter! Jean said, "It's great to know that you could afford yourself. But I am still here to help you solve the problem. You owe me once; remember to repay me."

Neera had not expected Jean to be this way, and she was stunned for a moment. This guy will never let others take advantage of him for nothing! She snorted softly and ignored him. SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

Neera was unaware of the price until Leo made the payment. "The eight million dollars I just received are gone!" It will take a few days to pick up the car because it hasn't been licensed yet after the reservation. Neera took care of the follow-up before departing.

Jean was prepared to leave too. Jean noticed Neera waiting for the car on the side of the road as soon as he exited the store. "It appears Ms. Garcia still has to take a taxi back for the time being. How about I offer you a ride?", he said as he approached her.

Neera was amused. He truly didn't give up any chance to make her owe him a favor at all times. "Alright then," she replied. Lan soon drove over; she followed Jean into the car, and they left together.

At the same time, Roxanne and Zachary rushed to the Rolls-Royce next door as soon as they saw Neera leave. "Mr. Leo!" Zachary stepped forward and greeted him, saying, "Sorry to disturb you, but did that lady book a car just now?" They didn't think Neera could afford a Rolls-Royce while living in Imperial Gardens! She might have stopped by shortly and then gone without making a purchase. "Mr. Leo, you should be mistaken. That lady is my sister. I'm the one who knows her best. How is she going to afford to live in Imperial Gardens and buy a car?" Roxanne disparaged Neera.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 82

Mr. Leo grinned and stated, "This matter was spoken by a very important client of mine," as he looked at the two of them after hearing this. "He lives in Imperial Gardens and has seen it with his own eyes. Naturally, there will be no falsehoods. As for Ms. Garcia, whether she has or has not reserved a car, this is the answer!" Leo said, showing the document that Neera had just signed. "Ms. Garcia didn't even take a look at the car; she just bought it without hesitation. Why bother slandering Ms. Garcia when it is obvious that she is wealthy?"

When Roxanne and Zachary saw Neera's signature on the order, they were both envious, and when they saw that she had paid for it in full, they were even more startled. Roxanne felt envious. Even if the Garcia family had grown significantly over the years, purchasing eight million-dollar cars at once was impossible. Even Alfonso's car only cost five million dollars. But Neera bought an eight-million-dollar car! How could this be possible? She was so envious that she was on the verge of screaming. Zachary, too, found it hard to believe. He came up with the most reasonable excuse as he was leaving the store and snorted.

"It appears your sister has gotten herself a rich sugar daddy." Roxanne listened and quickly understood what he was saying. Neera was raised by her aunt. Even if she moved abroad, how could she become so wealthy? They couldn't make sense of her sudden wealth.

Roxanne nodded in agreement after figuring it out. "That has to be the reason. She became a different person when she returned and is incredibly generous. It turns out that she has done something so heinous. It's disgusting! She even pretends to turn down my father's request for her to get married into the Beauvort family."

Zachary looked down on Neera and sneered. He had evil thoughts at the same moment. Could I also be her sugar daddy, seeing as how she was already a mistress?

It was dawn when Neera and Jean arrived. While driving, Neera asked Jean, "Can you stop by Kingsley Kindergarten? I'd like to pick up my babies from school. Of course, you don't have to force it if it's troublesome."

"When did they start going to school?" Jean questioned him as he listened.

"Only today," answered Neera.

Without saying anything, Jean told Lan to drive there. They arrived just in time for the end of the school day.

At the school's entrance, there were many cars gathered waiting to pick up children back home. The majority of the cars were costly. It was obvious that the individuals who were able to attend this school were extremely wealthy. Neera glanced over and noticed the triplets waiting at the door. The triplets appeared to be carrying a heavy schoolbag. She couldn't help but wonder, "What's in the schoolbag?" and "Did the school give anything out?" A group of kids waved at them with smiles just as the triplets were about to reply.

"Harvey, see you tomorrow; I'll continue to bring you chocolate bars!"

"Sammy, I like you, and you have to miss me!" "Penny, let's play together tomorrow!"

A young boy also yelled, "Penny, I will send you beautiful flowers tomorrow!" The triplets were very well liked.

When Neera observed this scene, she couldn't help but feel a little funny. The triplets were quite popular. After they heard these comments, they waved back, dragged Neera, and said, "Mommy, let's go!" Neera nodded and led them into the car. After stepping inside, the triplets discovered that the car was somewhat luxurious and had a passenger seated in the back seat. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 83

"Uncle Jean, what brings you here as well? Did you accompany Mommy to pick us up from school?" When the triplets saw Jean in the car, they greeted him with surprised expressions. When Jean met the triplets, his heart softened. He nodded at the time. Penny was the most excited. "Mommy, why did you come with Uncle Jean?" she asked while taking Neera's hand. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera responded calmly, "I happened to meet him, and we came together." After speaking, Neera asked about the schoolbag again. Speaking of that, the triplets opened their schoolbags one by one while smiling glumly. Neera then noticed that it was loaded with snacks! "It's all from the classmates. We rejected it at first, but they kept plugging it in."

"And the one who shouted to send flowers to Penny just now, as soon as he saw Penny in the morning, he asked her to marry him when she grew up!" Sammy said.

When Neera heard that, she couldn't help but laugh. "Not bad; it seems that Penny is very popular."

"Harvey and Sammy were also quite well-liked. Two girls almost fought when they rushed to give them chocolate in the morning. I don't want to marry that boy since he isn't attractive." Penny added.

"Do you like handsome ones?" asked Lan, who was sitting in the front row.

"Are you still considering getting married to Sire? You did say that when we first met, right?" Neera glanced surprisingly at Jean because she wasn't expecting this to happen before.

"You can't marry me", Jean said to Penny without expressing much more emotion. "We are too far off in age. But also, don't get married to that kid. You'll hit him if he shouts like this the next time," said Jean. He happened to overhear what the kid said to Penny. He unintentionally adopted a fatherly figure. He would certainly teach that child a lesson and keep him away from Penny if she were his daughter!

Neera was speechless. She warned Jean, "Stop setting a bad example for Penny!" She gently corrected her after speaking,

"Baby, don't listen to him. Be friendly to your classmates at school, and you can't hit people casually! You have to be polite and express gratitude. Stay away if you don't like them. But you cannot harm others; do you understand that?" Penny shook her head and said, "Don't worry, Mommy, I won't." Neera was satisfied. Neera brought the triplets inside after arriving home.

On Jean's side, his mother called and requested that he return to the mansion for dinner. He answered the phone, then ordered Lan to drive to the mansion.

The Beauvort family's mansion was located south of Kingsview. The architecture was magnificent, similar to a palace. Frederic and a woman were already waiting for Jean when he arrived. Jean's father, Frederic, had a strong aura because he had been in a high position for a long time. The woman was his mother, Wrenn Leyva.

Wrenn was sixteen years younger than Frederic, and she was his second wife. She was born beautiful, sweet, and gorgeous. Even though she was middle-aged, she was still stunning. Her reputation and influence inside the Beauvort Group were once greater than Mr. Frederic's. When she saw Jean arriving, Wrenn said, "Jean, come here!" Jean came over and greeted everyone before taking a seat.

"Did you lose weight again?" asked Frederic after taking a look at him. Jean was familiar with this phrase. Wrenn always said this when he came back. "Mom, I have taken proper care of myself," he said calmly.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 84

"Stop lying to me. I specifically asked the cook to make soup for you so that you could eat more," said Wrenn

Mr. Frederic snorted coldly, "Why do you feel pity for him? This youngster doesn't take his health seriously, he doesn't even listen to my arrangements!"

Jean heard this, and glared at Mr. Frederic before questioning him, "Your arrangement? So, you arranged my marriage without my consent?"

"Why can't I do it?" said Mr. Frederic. "Mr. Cooper said that the girl from the Garcia family is destined to be with you," Mr. Frederic replied coldly. "I only want you to get married. Is it that hard? Moreover, you will also get married sooner or later!"

Mr. Frederic was stubborn, so Jean replied coldly, "That depends on who I want to get married with! To marry a woman I have never met before makes me uncomfortable! I am aware that you planned my wedding without my permission. No matter what you do, I will not agree with it!"

Mr. Frederic became furious, saying, "You! How dare you!" When Wrenn noticed that the two were about to argue, she quickly yelled, "Stop it! Jean returned home to have dinner with us, not to quarrel!" She then said a few words to Jean.

"Don't always argue with your father; isn't he doing this for you? Take a look at how much his hair has grayed in the last few years. He worries about you all the time. Can't you two get along?" said Wrenn. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Looking at Mr. Frederic's white hair, Jean was stunned.

Mr. Frederic stopped talking as Wrenn sighed at his silence. They had always cared for each other, but they refused to speak nicely to each other. The butler arrived just in time to inform them that dinner was ready. Wrenn nodded and instructed the two to wash their hands before eating. Wrenn kept pushing them to eat more as they ate dinner together. Wrenn stared at Jean, and was shocked to discover that his appetite was quite good, certainly much better than previously. He used to eat only half a bowl of rice at most, but today he ate two bowls!

"Joanna reported to me that you got better; I don't believe it. I thought she was comforting me, but I didn't expect it to be true!" Wrenn exclaimed. She was shocked and overjoyed. "It appears that the treatment is beginning to work!" said Mr. Frederic, who was also startled.

Jean explained, "Recently, I found a new doctor who is very good at treating my condition." Wrenn nodded, with a satisfied smile on her face, and said, "Joanna mentioned it before, claiming that you met this new doctor by happenstance. Even though her medical skills are excellent, Joanna has been treating you for two years. You have to keep her by your side. She is the expert, and she knows your condition. I am more relieved knowing she's by your side."

When Jean heard this, he scowled and said coldly, "Did Joanne talk to you?" He was dissatisfied with Joanna's actions. "No, she didn't tell me anything," Wrenn said hurriedly. "It's all my idea. Joanna genuinely cares for you; there's no danger in allowing her to stay by your side; just listen to me, okay?"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 85

Jean would never turn down his mother's request. However, this time he spoke a little differently, saying, "The research team is still in the cooperation period. I made an investment in the research center where she works. I'll visit there to inspect if necessary." It implied that after the cooperation was over, he wouldn't return to the research center.

Wrenn grinned with satisfaction as she heard what he said. She then continued, saying, "That's good to know; you always know what you're doing, and I trust you with it." SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Jean was going to leave after the meal, but Mr. Frederic stopped him and said, "Why are you in such a hurry? Can't you stay a little longer?" Jean put down his suit jacket, walked to the chess table, and took a seat. Mr. Frederic snorted and took a seat across from him. They played chess without speaking. After two sets, Jean stood up and said his goodbyes, and Mr. Frederic finally let him go.

Jean was sitting inside the car. He then glanced out the window and exclaimed, "In the future, Joanna's crew members may assist regarding my condition, but Joanna herself doesn't need to intervene anymore!" Ian nodded and was well aware that Joanna had infuriated Sire. Joanna did not need to appear in front of Sire in the future after he became dissatisfied!

...

Roxanne had returned to the Garcias' villa. She appeared agitated. Susan hurriedly grabbed her and asked, "Roze, what's the matter with you? Why is your expression odd? Didn't Zach take you out to buy a sports car? Could it be that he broke his promise?" Roxanne frowned and handed her the car keys, but she had no intention of showing off.

"He didn't break his promise! He bought the car!" Susan looked at it, grinned, and pushed her to a seat, assuming they were in another fight.

"He bought you such an expensive sports car. Why are you still dissatisfied? Zach treats you so well, so please be understanding if you two argue," said Susan.

Alfonso agreed, saying, "Your mother is right; you must marry into the Fain family, and you need to control your temper." Roxanne had been furious; she yelled, "Neera is the only one to blame for the way I'm acting right now!" Alfonso and Susan were confused when they heard this.

"How did you become involved with Neera, and did you meet her again?"

"Yes, I've met her!" What happened at the store during the day was described furiously by Roxanne. They were all shocked to learn that Neera genuinely lived in Imperial Gardens and purchased a car for eight million dollars in total.

"Are you telling the truth, Roze?" Susan questioned.

"Of course it's true; I witnessed it with my own eyes", Roxanne said as she gave them both a glance.

Susan was stunned, and it took some time for her to recover. She was insanely jealous. She hoped Neera lived a miserable life! But as a result, she traveled overseas for a few years and rose to great power! She lived in a mansion they couldn't afford, and she drove a luxury car they couldn't afford and it was not fair to her.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 86

The more Roxanne thought about it, the more jealous she became. "It makes sense why she was so arrogant when she returned this time. She doesn't care about the five percent of the shares. It turns out that she has plenty of money."

"Where did she gain so much money?" Alfonso continued to appear doubtful. "How can this be possible? You might not be able to live in the Imperial Gardens, even if you are affluent!"

Roxanne grinned. "Dad, aren't you getting it yet? She must have found a wealthy sugar daddy on her own. Even though Aunt Adriana runs a company overseas, she wouldn't be giving her so much money," Roxanne added with a disdainful expression on her face. "It makes sense why Dad wasn't able to locate her no matter how hard we tried. Her sugar daddy certainly seems to have influence! She committed such a heinous act! If others find out, they will mock us."

Alfonso was furious and said, "She embarrassed me!"

Susan was worried. "Dear, what should we do about the Beauvort family's wedding if Neera has an influential sugar daddy? Now that the marriage has been moved forward, how can we fool her now if she doesn't care about the shares?"

Alfonso's expression changed as a result of this. This marriage arrangement had too many advantages. In addition to a billion-dollar investment, the Beauvort family promised hundreds of millions of dollars in dowry! The Garcia family must seize this opportunity if they want to succeed! As a result, this marriage must be carried out! "If that is the case, then we will have to pay the price", Alfonso said while gritting his teeth. "Take out the jewelry set from your safe", he said as he turned to face Susan. "It's an inheritance from her mother. Use this to trick her into coming out to meet you."

Susan wasn't pleased. That red diamond jewelry set was valued at hundreds of millions of dollars. She wore it to banquets and always drew the envy and adoration of many people. She finally obtained the jewelry, and Alfonso was about to return it to Neera!

As soon as Alfonso noticed Susan's objection, he scowled furiously. "Do you want the benefits the Beauvort family has promised, or do you want this jewelry? With assistance from the Beauvort family, we can secure a billion-dollar project, and you will be able to purchase any jewelry you like in the future. At that point, the Garcia family will be well-known and wealthy. I'll take you to the auction to purchase a better jewelry set. Don't you understand that the most important thing now is to allow the wedding to take place?"

When Roxanne heard this, she convinced Susan. "That's right! That jewelry set is ordinary and has been worn by other women. When the Garcia family's business grows, you can choose another finer piece of jewelry!" Simply imagining Neera marrying that ill man and spending the rest of her days as a widow made Roxanne happy. Even though Susan was unwilling, she had no choice but to agree.

Neera was unaware of the Garcias' plans. The day before the wedding, she unexpectedly got a call from Alfonso. "Is there a problem?" Neera asked. After a brief moment of uncertainty, she answered the phone. Even though she didn't want to, she was thinking about the shares her mother left her.

On the other end of the line, Alfonso felt offended when he heard Neera talking disrespectfully to him; given his purpose for the conversation, he could only put up with it for now while maintaining his composure and saying, "Aunt Adriana talked to me previously and we talked about shares. Come and sign the paperwork for the share transfer if you have time in the afternoon. Then you get five percent of the shares of the company."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 87

Neera didn't believe Alfonso. Would he be so generous? Neera questioned, "Why did you suddenly change your mind now? Am I no longer needed to carry out the marriage arrangement?"

Alfonso snorted coldly and said, "If Aunt Adriana hadn't helped you fight for it, I wouldn't care about you! Regarding the marriage arrangement, we no longer rely on you! If you don't come today, I will keep the relics of your biological mother!"

Neera scowled when she heard this. "My mother's relic? What exactly is it?"

Alfonso replied, "She brought a set of jewelry from home when she got married." Neera asked, "Since this thing exists, why didn't you mention it earlier?" Alfonso had not expected her to ask questions; he was at a loss for words for a moment. Neera quickly figured it out. She recalled Adriana once mentioning that her biological mother was the daughter of a wealthy family. Later, despite her family's disapproval, she chose to run away with Alfonso to be with him. However, it did not end well! Since she brought that set of jewelry, it must be really valuable! Alfonso probably hadn't mentioned anything before because he had taken away the jewelry a long time ago.

Alfonso mentioned it to lure Neera back to the Garcia family's house. She didn't want to give up, even though she was aware of its danger. Even though she had never met her biological mother, she had learned a lot about her from Aunt Adriana over the years and had a general idea of her. Her mother was sweet, gentle, talented, and stunningly attractive. Even though Neera had never lived with her mother and had never experienced what it was like to be taken care of by her, Neera knew that her mother loved her very much through Aunt Adriana's narration. Therefore, she had to get this relic back! After making the decision, she gave a precise address, "You will send someone to deliver the documents and jewelry to this cafe in thirty minutes. I won't go back to Garcia's home; I'll just wait there."

Alfonso had not expected her to be so watchful. But, thankfully, she agreed to meet. He eventually agreed to it. Neera's first move after hanging up the phone was to call Aunt Adriana to confirm the news about the jewelry and shares.

Adriana quickly admitted, "I did contact him several times; after all, I don't want you to become the victim of the Garcia family, but he refused to listen to my advice. Now he seems to have changed his mind and accepts that you don't need to get married, and he also took the initiative of returning your mother's relics to you. Something isn't right! I'm the one who knows him best. He can't be kind."

"I won't stop you from going. But you must be wary of him and take precautions," said Adriana. "Don't worry, Aunt Adriana, I'll take care of it," Neera murmured. After the call, Neera checked the time and prepared to leave. Her new car had been delivered two days ago, and she drove straight to the cafe. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

However, as soon as she walked out the door, she ran into Jean's car. "Ms. Garcia, what a coincidence! Are you going out?" Lan said as he slid down the window. "Well, where are you two going?"

Neera said as she lowered the car window. "Are you going to work?"

"We're not going to the company," Lan said with a smile. Sire needs to go to Claret City for a business trip, and he won't be back until the day after tomorrow."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 88

"I see." Neera understood, glancing in the direction of the back of the car. Neera explained to Jean as their eyes met, "Even if you are going on a business trip, the dipping bath must continue, and the medicated diets must be eaten on time."

Jean nodded, saying, "Thank you for reminding me to follow the instructions given by the doctor, Ms. Garcia."

Neera nodded, and they said their goodbyes before driving off. Lan stated while driving, "Sire, Ms. Garcia is really a considerate person, and she also instructed you to take care of your body." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Jean agreed in the back row, gazing out the window without saying anything. In truth, he did not need to travel to Claret City for business, and he only did so to get away from the wedding ceremony. Mr. Frederic was free to do anything he wanted since he was looking forward to the wedding taking place. But Jean won't be attending; he had nothing to do with this wedding!

...

Neera arrived at the cafe half an hour later. Alfonso arrived in person rather than designating someone else to come. He was already there and waiting in the private room. When Neera entered the private room, she wasn't happy. "Why bother getting a private room when you merely come to return an item?"

She was alert. Alfonso rebuked her angrily and said, "Do you want me to take out your mother's jewels in front of the public? Your mother's jewelry is worth a lot of money!"

Neera stared at him as if trying to understand his thoughts. "Why not? Do you believe that someone would be so stupid as to grab it in public?"

"Where is the Share Transfer Agreement? I want to sign it now because I'm busy," she questioned as she took a seat across from him.

Alfonso was furious with her attitude, but he pushed the file across. Neera carefully examined the document to ensure that it was accurate before signing it. The file contained two sets of documents! After returning one of them, she inquired, "Where are the relics?" Alfonso gave her the velvet box. Neera took a closer look and discovered that this set of red diamond jewelry was an expensive and unique treasure. It made sense why he had been hiding it and refusing to hand it over. After making sure everything was good, she didn't intend to stay any longer. Neera got up and was about to leave.

"Neera, you should know that there is nothing free in this world, right?" Alfonso said quickly. "Since you have taken the items, you must help me! After all, I am your father."

Neera gave him a chilly stare before abruptly asking, "Father? I don't have a father. I am aware that you wouldn't let me leave easily. What do you want?"

"You still need to marry into the Beauvort family", Alfonso said with an evil smile on his face.

Neera chuckled and was about to say it was impossible, then she spotted him holding the phone and continued to add, "I know, your three children attend Kingsley Kindergarten. Do you want to look at the current scenario over there?" He showed her the screen of his phone, as he had stated.

Neera noticed numerous bodyguards guarding the kindergarten. Neera's body tensed, and she wanted to stab Alfonso to death. She yelled, "Alfonso, don't you dare touch them!" Alfonso felt confident and calm when he heard her warning.

He said, "Naturally, I won't touch them, but the premise is that tomorrow you will marry into the Beauvort family. If not, all I can do is get someone to bring the kid over. When you reach a compromise, I'll release them! It is entirely up to you!"

That was a blatant threat!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 89

Neera's eyes were cold, as if she were staring at a corpse! Alfonso's actions violated her!

She initially thought that she would be able to escape even if he came with additional individuals to restrain her and forcibly take her away. But she had no idea he was after her children and that they were going to lock them up if she did not cooperate. It was her fault for being careless; she wasn't expecting Alfonso to be such a jerk. However, she did not panic and quickly calmed down. After the situation got to this point, she had no choice but to find a solution to end it.

She can make a short-term compromise, and once she gets to the hotel or the Beauvorts' home, she will figure out a way to leave.

"It seems that the Beauvort family has promised you a lot of benefits until you do whatever it takes to marry me into their family," she remarked, sneering at Alfonso. "You're even willing to set up a trap and return this set of jewels that you've had for a long time. Why don't you let me make a wild guess on how much dowry they promised you once the wedding ceremony is over? 100 million dollars or one billion dollars? I suppose the Garcias will be wealthy with this money, right?" Alfonso frowned, unable to believe she was so smart. However, the current situation was under his control.

"You just need to follow my instructions; you don't need to know how much the dowry is. Additionally, the Beauvort family is extremely wealthy, and being married will bring you unending fame and fortune.

That's wonderful." After finishing, he stood up and said, "Let's leave; let's head to the hotel right away. I don't need to ask someone to take you, right?"

If she refused, Alfonso would get someone to tie her up, he warned her. Neera glanced at Alfonso. She could see every expression he made. He was concerned that she would flee. It appeared that the dowry was still unpaid. In that case, she would make sure they didn't get a penny! She sneered, turned, and headed away. After some time, Alfonso drove her to the hotel. The wedding would take place the following day. Alfonso had already prepared a room and immediately shut Neera inside. He had bodyguards waiting outside the door, and they were tightly guarded. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Hand over your phone; don't think about finding someone to save you!" Alfonso stated this before leaving. Neera didn't waste time debating him. She threw the phone over after turning it off. Alfonso put it away and warned her, "You'd better be good, or I won't guarantee your children's safety!" He then directed his bodyguards to set up signal interference equipment in the room to prevent Neera from seeking assistance in other ways.

...

Neera remained calm after being locked in a room. Alfonso purposely selected a room on the 20th level to keep her from escaping. In addition to the bodyguards outside the door, there were security personnel guarding the lower floor. However, he still made a mistake. Not only could cell phones make contact with the outside world, but Neera's watch could also make contact with outsiders! This watch appeared to be identical to others on the market, but it had been altered on the inside. A signal tracker had been installed inside, and it would not be affected by any signal interference. She could send a distress signal as long as she pressed the button. The triplets were smart; they would know immediately that something wasn't right and devise a plan to save Neera! She then scowled, hit the button, and then sat quietly in the room.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 90

The triplets were far away in kindergarten, leading class activities. Harvey noticed his watch was suddenly blinking red as he was watching his younger brothers and sisters play. The other two also noticed it, understood that something wasn't right, and hastily moved forward. When the three of them got together, everyone had a grave expression on their faces. "This red light, Sammy, should be from Mommy, right? Did something happen?"

"Sammy, you placed this tracker for Mommy. It's for contact in an emergency. It has never been used by Mom. Does Mummy face any threats?" Sammy frowned before taking his phone out of his school bag. He quickly discovered Neera's current position. "Mommy is at the Royal Hotel right now!" Harvey and Penny were a little taken aback when they heard this. "Why did Mommy go to the Royal Hotel? Was she or her way to something?"

"Then Mommy should be going to her aunt's company. Why did she go to that location and then send a distress signal?"

While the triplets were having conversations, Harvey sensed someone peering at them in the dark. He instantly turned around and glanced out the window. Outside the school, he noticed a man staring at them! He became alert in an instant, moved his body, guarded his smaller brothers and sisters behind him, and then continued to observe. He saw that there were suspicious-looking people wandering in different directions outside the kindergarten. He interrupted the discussion between the two and told them in a low voice, "Someone is staring at us." Sammy and Penny heard this, looked around, and got cautious. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The triplets returned to the classroom calmly, as if they hadn't noticed anything. They gathered after taking their seats. "Something must have happened to Mommy! What should we do next?"

"There are two things we have to do right now; the first thing needs to be done by Penny," their eldest brother Harvey said.

"I will do as you say," Penny said.

"You will pretend to have a stomach ache," Harvey stated as he nodded.

"We'll accompany you to the teacher. The teacher will take us to the infirmary. As for the second thing..."

The triplets soon started acting. Harvey was right. When the teacher saw Penny gripping her stomach and yelling in pain, she quickly took Penny to the infirmary. Harvey and Sammy, Penny's two elder brothers, would undoubtedly follow. While others were unaware of Sammy's presence in the infirmary, he accessed the computer in the school medical room and hacked the kindergarten's monitoring. Finally, he confirmed that suspicious individuals were positioned at the front and back doors but not at the side door. Harvey then contacted Zuniga, who was at home, saying, "Auntie Zuniga, Penny isn't feeling well; Mommy's phone can't get through; can you come and pick us up?"

When Zuniga heard it, she agreed right away. In around twenty minutes, Zuniga showed up. She took the triplets home after asking for their leave. However, just as they were about to leave, the triplets grabbed Zuniga and exited the building via a side door. She was confused but didn't ask anything. She then intended to take a taxi home.

After getting into the car, Harvey said to the driver, "We are going to the Royal Hotel; please drive faster, please!"

"Didn't you mention Penny is feeling ill?" Zuniga inquired suspiciously as she turned to face the triplets in the back row. "Why are we not returning home? What are your plans for that hotel?"

"Auntie Zuniga, my stomach doesn't hurt at all," Penny stated. "I did this to find Mommy! Mommy seems to have been taken to that hotel and sent us a signal. We have no idea what is going on. But we need to go over there and find her!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 91

Zuniga was confused, but she went along with the triplets. They soon arrived at the Loyal Hotel. They followed the signal from the tracker and arrived at the twenty-eighth floor. There were two men in black guarding the door at the end of the corridor.

Oh no! That's the room where Mommy is! Who locked Mommy up? What did they want from her? The triplets fell silent, anxious.

As they were hesitating about what to do, the door next to Mommy's room opened. It was Roxanne and Susan! The triplets and Zuniga hid behind the corner quickly.

Susan sneered, "It was too easy to catch that b*tch! I should stop Alfonso from giving her that jewelry! It's worth fifty million dollars!"

Roxanne comforted her cheerfully, "Mom, we will get millions of dollars after that b*tch gets married to the short-lived man of the Beauvort family! Dad could buy you a better one after that. All we have to do is make sure she won't run away; we must get through the day!"

Susan nodded. "You are right, but I am still not satisfied. The Beauvort family is the wealthiest family in Kingsview. The bride could enjoy an unimaginable amount of wealth after marriage! If it weren't for Jean's health condition, I would never send that b*tch over! You should be the one getting married!"

Roxanne sighed. I wanted to marry into the wealthiest family too! However, I didn't want to be a widow at such a young age! They left while talking.

The triplets and Zuniga stopped hiding after a few minutes. They were lost in their thoughts, Jean. Are they referring to Daddy? Those evil women are plotting to force Mommy to marry Daddy? The triplets looked at each other in disbelief. This is too good to be true, right? Do we still rescue Mommy if that's the truth? It was their wish for Mommy and Daddy to get married. Let's not rescue Mommy anymore!

Zuniga was panicking. "What should we do now? They were talking about Ms. Garcia, weren't they? We should report to the police if they were locking up Ms. Garcia!" SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Harvey shook his head calmly and said, "Not for the time being. We would recruit someone to investigate this matter. Even though Mommy was locked up, they had to take care of her before getting married. She is still safe now."

SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 92

Zuniga was successfully persuaded by them. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The triplets went straight to the front desk and said, "Hello! Pretty lady!"

The receptionist couldn't resist their charms; she smiled softly and asked, "Hello there. Is there anything I can do to help?"

Sammy asked cutely, "Can you tell us which floor the wedding banquet of the Beauvort family and the Garcia family is on?"

Penny was a sweet talker, "We are the relatives of the bride's family; we are here to see the venue in advance. Please tell us; you are the best!"

The receptionist was fooled by their cuteness; she answered, "Mr. Beauvort and Ms. Roxanne's wedding banquet will be arranged in the banquet hall on the third floor. You can reach there by taking the elevator."

The triplets were surprised that the wedding was true but puzzled at the same time. Did she say the bride's name was Roxanne? What does it have to do with Roxanne?

Harvey asked again, "Are you sure it's Roxanne?"

The receptionist smiled and said, "Yes, I am. That's what is written on the invitation card." The triplets thanked her again and left in confusion.

Sammy and Penny questioned, "Harvey, isn't the wedding between Mommy and Daddy?"

Harvey said, "Based on my analysis, it's probably Roxanne who refused to marry Daddy. Which is why they kidnapped Mommy to marry him instead."

Sammy and Penny said, "If that's the case, should we rescue Mommy?"

The Garcia family accidentally did something good. They matched Mommy and Daddy up! The triplets had given up their plan to get Mommy out.

Zuniga overheard everything, and she was puzzled. Why are they hesitating to save their mother now? Who is the dad they were talking about? She said, "We should save Ms. Garcia! She is illegally imprisoned, and the Garcia family is committing a crime now! Let's call the police immediately!" She wanted to call 110, but the triplets stopped her.

"Auntie Zuniga, hold on a second. We knew that the Garcia family's intention was evil. However, Mommy is marrying Daddy!" Penny said, looking perplexed.

Zuniga was startled by the word 'daddy' and said, "Who is the daddy you guys are talking about? What's going on here?" She knew that Neera was a single mother; she had never heard of her husband!

Harvey quickly explained, "Mommy was pregnant by accident; she didn't know about Daddy's existence. We had discovered that Mr. Beauvort is our daddy! We want them to be together! We want our family to be complete! Mommy didn't know about this, though, and we had no intention of telling her. Auntie Zuniga, you must keep this a secret."

Zuniga was astounded by the information. Seeing their pleading eyes, she couldn't stop them at all.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 93

Neera is still patiently anticipating the arrival of the triplets. She waited until nightfall, but no one came at all. She was aware that the kids were being watched and might not have the chance to do anything. She couldn't help but worry if Alfonso had mistreated them.

The bodyguards stopped her from leaving; they said, "Mr. Alfonso has an order that you are not allowed to step out of the door; you better stay inside."

Neera glared icily at the two and said, "I want to talk to Alfonso."

The bodyguard firmly answered, "Mr. Alfonso is not in the hotel right now."

"Then give him a call!" Neera remained unwavering and said, "Otherwise, I have several ways to seek help. You and Alfonso will both be held accountable for your actions!"

The bodyguard hesitated because of Neera's threat and dialed Alfonso.

Neera snatched the phone and yelled angrily, "Where are my children?" as soon as the call was connected.

Alfonso replied displeasingly, "There is nothing to worry about! Keep in mind what you must accomplish, and nothing will happen to them! search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I don't trust you. Let me talk to them! If not, you better be prepared!"

Seeing that Neera didn't back down, Alfonso yelled angrily, "Neera, you better know your place! I am the one ordering you now! Get married tomorrow if you truly want all three of them to be safe and sound! If not, I will send them away, and you won't ever see them again!" He hung up the phone.

Neera's expression turned gloomy and murderous.

Alfonso was actually flustered and not at all as composed as he had been on the phone. He was walking back and forth in the study room; he could throw the ashtray at the bodyguard's face anytime.

He yelled, "Seven adults! How could you lose track of the kids? A bunch of useless trash!"

Neera's identity would be exposed sooner or later if she married into the Beauvort family. He had prepared to quibble that they used Neera's horoscope in the first place. However, they couldn't explain where those illegitimate children came from. The Beauvort family might refuse to give the money after learning about their existence. Who would have guessed that the three kids would actually vanish?

Alfonso gritted his teeth and roared angrily, "What are you still doing here? Daydreaming? Get out and keep looking for them! Check the Imperial Gardens to see if they have returned! You are all fired if we can't find them tonight!"

...

The triplets and Zuniga stayed at the Loyal Hotel while the bodyguards of Alfonso went to Imperial Gardens to locate them. They had already decided not to rescue Mommy for the time being and would instead keep an eye on how tomorrow's wedding was going.

Jean, who was located in the Clarest city, calmly listened to Frederic roaring angrily on the phone, "Jean, you tried everything to avoid this marriage! How dare you go on a business trip now?"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 94

Jean replied calmly, "Dad, I didn't travel to the Clarest City to avoid getting married, but rather because I had vital business here." His tone was lighthearted.

Frederic wished to hasten to Clarest City to tie him back. "Your bride is waiting in the hotel for the wedding! People will look down on her if you don't show up tomorrow!"

"I didn't intend to marry her in the first place," Jean said. "I didn't care."

"I won't be able to go back tomorrow anyway; why don't you find another man to marry that woman?"

Frederic yelled, "This is such a bad idea! Who owns the engagement if I find another man to replace you?" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Of course it's considered to be theirs. Dad, you can be the cupid of their marriage, isn't it great?"

"You bastard!" Wrenn's voice could occasionally be heard on the other end of the phone, attempting to calm Frederic down as he was in a rage. The call ended in a mess.

On the other hand, Neera was having trouble falling asleep at the Loyal Hotel. No one could remain calm after experiencing what she experienced. She was concerned about the triplets' plight too.

She stared at the ceiling blankly, and unexpectedly, the door opened. It was Zachary!

Neera scowled and asked, "What are you doing here?" with an icy expression.

He grinned and said, "You are getting married tomorrow; I just wanted to say hi."

Neera sneered, "Get out; there is nothing to talk about between me and you."

Zachary ignored her cold attitude and stared at her recklessly. "You have changed significantly since we last spoke. What a cold attitude. Why did you change from how you used to follow me around all the time? Did your sugar daddy change you?"

Neera was stunned. "Sugar daddy? What are you saying?"

Zachary said firmly, "Why are you putting up an act in front of me? I have seen women like you; didn't you buy that luxury car with the money of your sugar daddy? Hmph, he treats you well."

Neera looked at Zachary with disgust in her eyes. I purchased that car with the money I earned. However, in the eyes' of these bastards, I became a sugar baby. "Your mindset is awful, that's why you have filthy thoughts towards other people. Get out right away! You disgust me!"

Zachary cast an even more nasty gaze Neera's way. "Why are you still acting so haughty? You are merely a bitch who has been sleeping with men! Don't you just do it for money? I will pay you; let me have fun with you too." He wanted to touch Neera. Fortunately, Neera reacted quickly and dodged his hand.

Neera's hatred towards this man was overflowing; she wished she could put him to death immediately. "Zachary, do you wish for your death?" She gritted her teeth.

Zachary grinned menacingly once more. "How fierce... I like it!" He started to undo his tie like a pervert.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 95

Neera said in a disdainful tone, "Do you enjoy sleeping with women? Say goodbye to that hobby from today on!" She abruptly threw a handful of white powder at Zachary.

Zachary was caught off guard; he choked and questioned, "What is this?" He soon felt strangely uncomfortable.

Neera sneered, "This is impotence medicine!"

Zachary was enraged with Neera's answer, "Why do you have that medicine with you?"

"I trust no one; perhaps I will come across a scumbag like you anytime! I have to protect myself in advance!" To be safe, Neera always had a small bag containing different types of self-defense powder in it. She hasn't used it since it was developed. Unexpectedly, it came in handy here. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"You must feel weak now, right? Do you think a scumbag like you deserves to touch me?" She murmured sarcastically as she cast chilly eyes over Zachary. She kicked Zachary hard.

Zachary longed to run away, but he was completely immobile. He was unable to even muster the energy to stand up before collapsing to the ground. He squirmed on the ground like a maggot. He erupted in fear and yelled, "Neera, how could you? Quickly give me the antidote! You b*tch..."

Neera sneered, "The antidote? There is no cure for this!" I didn't even try to develop it!

"Mr. Zachary is drunk; why don't you hurry and get him out?" Neera said to the bodyguard at the door, "How can this scum break into my room when I'm the Beauvort family's soon-to-be daughter-in-law? Can Alfonso bear their wrath?"

The bodyguard hurried in and took Zachary out.

Neera was left alone in the room. She thought Zachary was contaminating the air, and it smelled disgusting. She was satisfied after spraying the room with disinfectant.

When Roxanne learned that Zachary had broken into Neera's room in the middle of the night, she started to shake with rage. She was ignoring the fact that Zachary wanted to sleep with Neera the whole time. I couldn't care less as that b*tch was set to wed into the Beauvort family, since I am getting engaged to Zachary. She yelled, "What a b*tch! Why did she return from overseas? How dare she seduce my man? I am going to rip her off!"

Roxanne wanted to rush to Neera's room, but Susan stopped her.

"Roze, calm down!" Susan said.

"How can I stay calm?" Roxanne wished she could devour Neera raw.

Susan comforted her, saying, "Nothing happened in the end, right? Your wedding with Zach is coming soon as well; it's better to not make a fuss now! There will be plenty of opportunities to deal with her in the future. That b*tch has to marry into the Beauvort family tomorrow; you have to bear with it."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 96

Roxanne struggled to hold back her anger.

Alfonso arrived at this very moment and announced, "The Beauvort family told me that Jean went to Clare on a business trip. The wedding may not be held as scheduled."

Susan and Roxanne hurriedly asked, "So what should we do? Will the wedding be rescheduled?"

"No," answered Alfonso, "The Beauvort family will send someone over to take Neera away."

Roxanne gloated; she couldn't wait to see Neera make a fool of herself. How embarrassing it is when the groom doesn't show up and the bride gets married alone!

Neera's door was opened again around three in the morning. It was the makeup crew.

The lead makeup artist said politely, "Ms. Garcia, congratulations on your marriage. Be at ease; we will certainly dress you up nicely." Two hours later, Neera had put on stunning bridal makeup and a bridal gown. She was breathtakingly gorgeous.

The makeup artist exclaimed as she gazed at her creation, "Ms. Garcia, you are a natural beauty. Your makeup and dress enhance your beauty! You are the most gorgeous bride I have ever seen!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera looked at herself in the mirror, feeling dissatisfied. I am not interested in being the most gorgeous bride! Obviously, the more hideous, the better! After the makeup team left, she purposefully painted numerous freckles on her face and a large black mole on the corner of her mouth. Anyhow, she had a veil to hide her face; if she reveals it at the wedding banquet, it will undoubtedly be a hit!

My 'husband' better be turned off after looking at my face! I hoped he would run off on the spot. The Garcia family will not be getting any money!

The night passed as Neera took a nap.

The next morning, according to the schedule that Neera had seen before, the wedding should have started at ten. However, no one showed up. She discovered that there was another team of bodyguards standing at the door. Compared to the bodyguard team from yesterday, they appeared to be far more powerful.

"Hasn't the wedding started yet?" she asked.

The bodyguard stood upright and said stiffly, "The wedding has already started. Please wait in the room."

Neera was shocked. A wedding started without a bride. What on earth is this?

...

The triplets were waiting in the banquet hall's corner. Unexpectedly, after the wedding began, the bride and groom did not show up. They were puzzled and disappointed. Mommy and Daddy are indeed getting married today. Mommy has been caught too; where is she?

They learned about the truth after repeating their techniques and coaxing a waitress. It turned out that the wedding could not go smoothly because the groom was absent. They were just hosting the guests as usual. The wedding had been simplified and skipped to the last step.

The triplets were all in awe. Are they being serious? This is outrageous! What a wedding!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Read Chapter 97

Chapter 97

The triplets initially debated whether to save Mommy when they learned that the groom did not show up. They were shaken when they heard the wedding ceremony had been skipped. The groom and bride could spend the night in the bridal chamber instead.

Daddy and Mommy will be together sooner or later. This is convenient and saves us time. They pondered for a while and decided not to rescue Neera.

"Daddy didn't show up as he refuses this marriage. I bet he didn't know his bride is now Mommy!"

"Yes, Daddy seems to be opposed to this wedding, but we couldn't leave Mommy alone on her wedding night, isn't it?"

"We should find a way to lure Daddy back home!"

Harvey soon came up with an idea, "Daddy is a workaholic; ordinary methods will definitely not work! I know what we should do now!" He leaned close to Sammy and whispered his plan.

Sammy nodded in confidence, saying, "Sure, leave it to me!" They hurried home with Zuniga.

The Beauvort Group was attacked by an unknown hacker. Ian reported to Jean without delay, "Mr. Beauvort, our company information is suspected to have been leaked. The technicians are trying to rescue it, but they failed to kick the hacker out. Everyone is in chaos now."

Jean was leisurely taking a break. "Don't bother about it. This is probably another trick played by Frederic to get me going back."

Ian explained, "I suppose this matter has nothing to do with Mr. Frederic. He is going mad too! Not to mention that Mr. Frederic values the company; he would never bait you with it." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Jean fell silent. Like Frederic, they both value the Beauvort Group. This is not a joke. Could it be real?

Ian persuaded Jean, "Mr. Beauvort, why don't we go back to Kingsview? The wedding has passed; even if you show up, it should be too late. We will be back in Kingsview in the afternoon."

Jean was worried after all; he picked up his coat and said, "Let's go back to Kingsview!"

...

What the hell is going on? Neera mumbled to herself in her wedding dress. It was so weird to have both the bride and groom skip the wedding! I would not get the desired result if I was carried straight back into the bridal chamber. Well, it should be fine. My so-called husband has to remove my veil after all. He would never agree to make such an ugly girl his wife! There is no doubt that the Beauvort family will disagree too. She waited patiently to be picked up.

It was four o'clock in the afternoon when six bodyguards in black broke in and said, "We apologize, Ms. Garcia." They then tied her up.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 98

Neera was enraged. "What are you doing? Where are you taking me?" She nearly tore her veil off.

The bodyguards replied politely, "Ms. Garcia, don't worry, we are from the Beauvort family. We won't harm you! We are here to take you to the bridal chamber. We tied you up on the order of Mr. Alfonso, who was afraid that you would run away."

Neera recognized the situation right away. But... How on earth can anyone bind a bride to the bridal chamber? How rough and violent they are! The Beauvort family is the richest family in Kingsview; aren't they ashamed of doing this?

Neera wished she could kick these folks, but it was useless struggling. She could only reluctantly follow the bodyguards out of the room. Neera was sent to Villa No. 1 in the Imperial Gardens, and she had no idea about it.

...

Jean rushed back from Clareston at three in the afternoon. He went directly to the company to solve the hacking incident.

Frederic scolded him as soon as he saw him, "How did you dare to come back?"

Jean nodded calmly. "Assuming nothing happened to the company today, you shall only meet me tomorrow."

Frederic wished he could beat him up and yelled, "Brat! Stop pissing me off!" There were priorities; the company is what matters right now. He held back his anger for the time being and urged, "Hurry up and find out what's going on. Try to minimize the company's losses!"

Jean went to the technical department, and the technicians tried to salvage the lost data.

They reported, "Mr. Beauvort, it seems that we were just being tricked. This hacker doesn't seem to be malicious; he set up an interception program, and as long as we decipher it, our data is back automatically!"

Jean had never expected this to happen. The firewall of Beauvort's Network was the best in the world. The hacker broke in and did nothing. I don't believe it. After careful inspection, he found out that the hacker stole nothing. The hacker went through the Beauvort Network, and that's all he did. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Jean was, in fact, amazed by the interception program set up by the hacker. The talents of the Beauvort Group took hours to decipher his program, and they failed to track the hacker down.

Jean laughed, "He is talented! Ian, find a way to contact this hacker. I am interested in recruiting him." It would be a waste to let a talent slip by.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 99

At the same time, Sammy was staring at the code on the screen while eating oranges. He was surprised, "The programmers at Daddy's company are really amazing! They figured it out quicker than I expected!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Penny said, "If that's the case, will our plan still work?"

Sammy patted her hair while grinning. "Don't worry, it's enough to keep them busy; Daddy should be back by now!"

It was nine o'clock in the night, and the hacking accident was finally resolved.

"All of the hacker's interception systems have been deciphered, and our data has been recovered. It has been confirmed that there is no trace of leakage." Ian then apologized, saying, "But it's a shame that our people couldn't track down the hacker. The opposing party is skilled, and there is no trace of them. We can't seem to locate them."

Jean couldn't help but suspect Frederic after hearing what he said. "Are you certain that Frederic is not behind it?"

"Mr. Frederic should have nothing to do with this. If it's him, his acting abilities are far too realistic!" Ian shook his head.

Jean stated coolly, "Let's hope so." He was exhausted after taking the plane in the afternoon. Twenty minutes later, they arrived at Imperial Gardens.

Neera waited impatiently as she was tied. She was exhausted from having to sit stiffly by the bed. No one attended the wedding, and they made her wait all day long. She heard the sound of the car's engine out of the blue. She couldn't help but tense up. Was it Mr. Beauvort they had been talking about? Anyway, he's finally returned!

She hadn't eaten in a day and was on the verge of starvation. The Beauvort family sent someone over to deliver the lunch, but she refused to reveal her scary makeup. She could only refuse to eat, saying, "Take it away; I'm not hungry; I don't need it." The maid tried to convince her, but she left with the food since Neera insisted. Neera lost her strength.

The triplets could hear the sound of the car's engine from the villa next door. They dashed to the second level and peered out the window. "That is Daddy! Daddy has returned!" Penny screamed with excitement when she saw Jean come out of the car.

Sammy and Harvey are equally thrilled. "Daddy and Mommy will get married finally!"

"It was worth the effort and time we put into it."

"Should we address him as "Daddy" now?"

"Great! We have a father now!" The triplets were thrilled to see Jean enter the villa.

...

Jean noticed something was off as soon as he entered the house. There were a few bodyguards in the living room. He sneered after realizing they were from Frederic's side and questioned, "What's the matter?"

"Mr. Jean, the lady from Garcia's family had arrived. She is upstairs right now." Richard stated.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 100

Jean was furious. He thought Frederic had given up, but he hadn't expected him to send her to his house after canceling the wedding! His rage increased when he realized the woman was still in his room.

He yelled at the bodyguard, "Take her away now!"

None of them dared to offend Frederic and Jean. The bodyguard said, "Mr. Frederic has given an order to us; regardless of what Mr. Jean says, we are not allowed to send her away. Mr. Jean, please cooperate."

Jean cast an icy gaze at them. He said to Ian "Find someone to throw that woman out!"

Ian didn't dare defy his command, and he nodded.

Richard stepped forward quickly to dissuade him. "Mr. Jean, calm down! She was sent by Mr. Frederick, after all. It might be best to wait until tomorrow to send her back."

Richard has known Jean since he was a child, and Jean has always respected him. But it was intolerable this time. He wouldn't let strangers stay in his room. "She must leave today! I can't wait until tomorrow!" He replied icily and headed upstairs.

Neera heard the sound of the door opening, and she tensed up. She heard rapid footsteps approaching and saw a pair of leather shoes. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Jean was furious as he stared at the redesigned room. The woman in front of him was dressed in a gorgeous bridal gown. He couldn't care less, all he wanted was to get this matter resolved as soon as possible! He didn't bother to greet her before removing the veil. In the next split second, his frigid gaze was drawn to Neera's ugly visage! Even though she looked terrible, Jean quickly recognized her. He was stunned and speechless.

Neera also looked up at him, hoping to disgust him, but was startled by what she saw.

The room appeared to be frozen. After a brief pause, Neera asked, "Why are you here?"

Jean was shocked as well. Isn't it Roxanne who should be here? Why did Neera appear in his room? He looked at her, stunned, and grimaced. "What's wrong with you? What brought you here? Your face..." It was too ugly to stand! The final phrase was left unsaid.

Based on his facial expression, Neera could guess what he was thinking. She didn't respond since she was full of doubts, "It doesn't matter! The main question is, Why are you here? Isn't this the Beauvort family's house? Do you know Mr. Beauvort?"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.