

Escape Wife 10

Chapter 10 Are You Sure You Want To Kick Me Out?

"She's the one who bullied me first."

Lucas said somewhat innocently, his pair of good-looking slanted eyes looked straight at Nicole, looking so pitiful.

Although Nicole knew that Lucas was pretending, she still couldn't be immune to that look on his face. She shook her head and said, "What Auntie Kent did is a manifestation of liking you, but what you did is not what a gentleman should do, isn't it?"

"Okay, I'll apologize to her."

Lucas put away his innocent expression and walked out with a sigh.

Olivia still liked Lucas very much; after all, this boy looked pleasing to the eye and really made her unable to get angry. Soon after, she started to touch Lucas again.

Lucas had been holding back for Nicole's sake, but distancing himself from Olivia as much as possible.

Three of them spent the whole night together in such a harmonious atmosphere.

Early in the morning, when Nicole got up, Lucas had already gone out to buy breakfast and set it on the dining table.

"Good morning, Mommy."

He flashed a big smile at Nicole. Even though his face resembled Samuels, Samuel had never smiled at her. While Lucas was Nicole's angel, an angel that belonged only to her.
