Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1061 My Husband Is So Handsome

"Fair? If he hadn't flirted with my sister, how could she die for him? She was so cowardly and afraid of pain, but she sacrificed her life for Samuel! She died, and our family collapsed. How can he start a new life and live happily? Is that fair?"

Sam was irritable.

Nicole saw fury in his eyes. She knew that it was useless for her to say anything.

Sam was so angry that he wanted to quarrel with her, but Nicole kept silent.

He frowned.

"So? Aren't you going to defend Samuel?"

"Does that help? In your eyes, it's Samuel that killed your sister. No matter how much I say, you won't change your mind."

Nicole just sat beside Joseph.

Laurence had treated Joseph's wound. Joseph was lucky that the bullet scratched his skin and didn't hurt his bones.

Seeing that Nicole's attention was all on Joseph, Sam suddenly felt that the little guy was a trouble.

"Throw him into the room."

Just as he finished speaking, Sam's men took Joseph away. Nicole signaled Laurence to follow, but Sam did not stop him.

When only Nicole and Sam were left in the hall, Sam tossed Nicole a cell phone.

"You know what to do. It's best not to play tricks. I can leave you alone, but if you play tricks, you should know the consequence, even if I like you."

Nicole didn't believe that Sam liked her.

This man was already consumed with hatred. Perhaps he liked Nicole with some kind of purpose. Surely, Samuel was better to her.

Nicole picked up the phone and dialed Samuel's number effortlessly.

The phone call actually got through.

It turned out that the signal here was emitted via a private line.

Nicole was very calm now.

It was not long before the man picked up the call.

"Who is it?"

"Samuel, it's me."

Sam signaled Nicole to turn on the speaker.

Nicole didn't say anything and directly turned it on.

When he heard Nicole's voice, Samuel was slightly stunned.

"Where's your phone?"

Nicole smiled, "This is a surprise."

"Don't tell me you're in South Africa!"

Samuel got nervous.

"Bingo! You are right."

Nicole smirked.

"What are you doing? Just because you can't win me in the argument, you are going to shoot me? You're a coward!"

Nicole looked at Sam with disdain, not afraid at all.

"Even if you shoot me, I will still say my husband is so handsome! He is much more handsome than you!"

Sam was burning up with anger when he heard her last sentence.

Was this woman brainless?

How could she not be afraid when surrounded by so many terrorists?

"You, come out!"

Sam called out for a woman to come out, scaring her so much that she immediately screamed and begged for mercy.

"Don't kill me. Please don't kill me!"

The woman was frightened to tears.

Only then did Sam feel right.

That was what he wanted to see.

That was how a hostage should react when facing terrorists.

He glanced at Nicole again. She gave him a disdainful glare and turned to look at the monitor screen again, and a happy smile painted her face.

"My husband looks charming when he drives," she said.

Sam felt his temples were hurting.

"Turn off the surveillance camera!"

"But chief, if we turn it off, we won't be able to monitor Samuel's activity."

The subordinate sounded panicky, taking care with his words.

Still, Sam slapped him.

"How stupid are you? If the surveillance here is off, can't you go outside and keep a lookout?"

"Yes, chief."

Terrified, the subordinate quickly turned off the monitor and ran out.

Nicole was disappointed that she couldn't see Samuel anymore.

"Can I go out and wait for my husband at the door?"

"Stay here!"

Sam felt a headache.

This woman must be an idiot, right?

This was a life and death moment for her, and all she thought of was her husband's looks?

What frustrated Sam most was that they were married and had children, but they still couldn't get enough of each other.

He didn't even have a girlfriend.

Sam felt depressed.

He felt that he was the worst terrorist. How could he be enraged so much by a silly woman?

Samuel suddenly tightened his hug.

It didn't matter to him whether he was surrounded by bullets, punches or kicks. All of his senses and cells were clamoring, jumping for this woman called Nicole.

Nicole felt that her bones were about to be broken by Samuel's tight hug.

It seemed that this man was really frightened.

How could she come here unprepared?

If it was her first time, she may be ignorant, but it would be foolish to do so again and again. Moreover, it was so chaotic here. Even if she didn't bring her guys from Night Elf Empire, she would still bring Edwin's men and those from the Don family.

However, Nicole was still very happy to find that Samuel cared about her so much.

It was only when the oxygen in her lung was almost drained that Nicole struggled to push Samuel away.

She gasped for breath. Her face was as red as a ripe cherry. There were indescribable amorous feelings, and even her expressions showed a trace of seductiveness.

Samuel really wanted to hide her so that no one could see her beauty.

"Let's go find Lucas!"

As soon as Samuel finished speaking, he picked up Nicole and walked out.

Right at this moment, a sound of gunfire rang out, and a bullet flew past the back of Samuel's head, grazing his scalp.

Accompanied by the sound of blood splashing, warm liquid instantly sprayed out and splashed onto Nicole's face.

It was blood!

It was hot!

Nicole's body stiffened slightly. She looked behind Samuel and saw that a terrorist was only a few centimeters away from Samuel. At this moment, the terrorist slowly fell to the ground.

Blood gushed out from his temples and quickly spread out on the ground.

This was the first time Nicole had faced death at such a close range, and she couldn't help but feel a little frightened.

Samuel hugged her tightly in his arms and glanced at the shooting point and Lucas immediately appeared.

The person who fired the sniper rifle was actually Lucas?!

Samuel's eyes suddenly widened.

However, Lucas stood up without any mental pressure and walked over.

Nicole also noticed this.

She suddenly felt a little uneasy.

Had Lucas killed someone just now?

Although it was to protect Samuel, he was still a child!

He was just a kid!

Nicole struggled to jump out of Samuel's embrace and quickly ran towards Lucas.

"How are you? Lucas, are you alright?"

Nicole's entire body trembled.

She didn't know if it was because she was frightened or because she was worried about Lucas.

Lucas said calmly, "I'm fine, Samuel is more important."

Samuel finally got a response, but looking at the graphics on the screen, Samuel looked bothered.

"What's the matter?"

Nicole asked.

Actually, she didn't want to ask. Because if she asked, there would be something waiting them to solve, which would disturb her time with Samuel.

'Why is it so difficult to spend a few days alone with my husband?'

Nicole thought gloomily.

Samuel did not notice Nicole's expression. He looked at the screen in front of him and whispered, "Fill is still alive, but he doesn't want me to do a favor. I'm afraid that he won't be able to recover from what happened to Whitney and would get fooled by this 'Whitney'."

"Don't worry too much. Fill is no longer a child. Besides, he is also a leader. He knows what he should do. Relationship is hard. Just let him handle this by himself. By the way, have you asked him where the ancient book is?"

Nicole is concerned about that ancient book now.

Samuel immediately sent a message.

There hadn't been any replies for a long time. Just as Samuel was about to turn off the phone, Fill's response finally came.

"I will find someone to bring it to Jacob."

"I see. Take care of yourself. If you need my help, just let me know."

"Okay."

After they hung up the phone, Samuel discovered that Nicole seemed to fall asleep.

"Nicole?"

He called her softly.

Nicole had no reaction.

Samuel took off his coat and donned it for her, and then closed his eyes to rest.

As the car moved, Samuel's even breathing came to her ears.

He seemed to sleep deeply.

Only then did Nicole open her eyes.

The pain in her back made her unable to bear it anymore, but she could not make a noise, nor did she dare to do so.

From her side, Samuel looked really handsome without any flaws, even in his haggard condition.

When Nicole knew that the ancient book would be back, she felt relieved.

She stared at Samuel affectionately with enthusiasm burning in her eyes.

Why did he look so nice?

The driver saw Nicole's expression from the rearview mirror and hurriedly looked away, afraid that he would be found and get embarrassed.

Mrs. Green really did not look like she had been married to Mr. Green for so many years.

Nicole looked at her husband for a while, afraid that she would wake Samuel up, so she hurriedly withdrew her gaze.

When they arrived at the camp, Samuel was still asleep. Perhaps because of Nicole's accompany, he slept so soundly.

Nicole did not wake him up, but took off her coat and donned it for Samuel.

Noticing his grievances, Nicole couldn't help pursing her lips. "What's wrong? Are you going to break your words?"

"No, I just..."

"I know that you don't love me anymore. I'm old now. My skin is not as tender as that of young girls, nor do I have any medical skills like Jillian, who is willing to sacrifice her life for you. Of course, you regret marrying me. It doesn't matter. Just say it, and I promise to leave here to make room for your beloved girl."

Samuel felt that the more Nicole said, the more he was unforgivable. He had no choice but to kiss her to stop her from complaining. He sighed in his heart. Recently, Nicole had asked for comfort more than usual. When would he be able to regain his momentum?

He planned to ask Blair later.

If this continued, he really couldn't stand it anymore.

Nicole was almost lost in his kiss and even forgot about the question she had asked just now.

Looking at her blurry eyes, Samuel couldn't help revealing a naughty smile.

He lifted her in his arms and then went to the encampment directly.

After closing the door, he wanted to do something special with his wife. Naturally, it couldn't be seen by those young soldiers. Otherwise, they might long for love.

Samuel thought his behavior was very reasonable.

After being thrown onto the bed, Nicole got her sense back.

"I know you don't love me. Otherwise, you shouldn't throw me onto the bed when you have known I'm hurt." she said grievously.

Samuel felt wronged.

He was skilled in such action. Besides, this bed was covered with three layers of blankets. How did he hurt her?

"Are you injured? Come on, let me see."

Samuel rolled up his sleeves, causing Nicole to jump up in fright.

"What are you doing?"

"Don't you get hurt? I will help you take a look and blow it tenderly. If you are not satisfied with it, I can still lift you up high, completely satisfying your psychological needs, Your Highness."

Samuel said as he walked towards Nicole.

Nicole was completely dumbfounded.

Was he joking?

She would feel embarrassed, if he lifted her up high.

She could pretend to be cute and weak, but she couldn't stand Samuel's behavior.

"No, Morgan changed the medicine for me."

"Oh."

Only then did Samuel stop and look at Nicole with a naughty smile.

"We have been married for years. What are you afraid of?"

"None of your business."

Nicole jumped out of bed from the other side.

"Lie down and rest for a while. You haven't had good rest since you came to South Africa. Hurry up. Everything is settled now. You should have a good rest. You can even sleep for three days and three nights."

Nicole's words made Samuel smile.

"Not yet. I want to go to Sam. Anyway, Jillian died for me. Although Sam has broken the law, there are still some things he should know."

He is so paranoid that he won't listen to you no matter what you say. Besides, it's better for me to go to him. You go to sleep. I'll go to meet Sam. If he struggles again, I will just give him another shot. Finally, he won't wake up until he returns

"Damn!!"

Paranoia was so angry that she immediately screamed.

"My computer!"

Who would have thought that Paranoia was a cute little girl?

However, her face turned pale because of anger.

She had just saved up enough pocket money to buy a computer, but she hadn't used it for a day. She was just trying out this computer to see how awesome the computer defense system that had just been developed was. Why was her computer being hacked by someone?

Who?

Who was the one hacked her?

His hacking skills were so much better than her.

When she was about to went mad, she heard a gentle voice from outside.

"Michele, what's wrong? Was there something exploded?"

Michele Hawk hurriedly jumped off the chair and ran out on her short legs.

"Mommy, it's nothing. I have a headache. Maybe I have a cold. Mommy, buy me some medicine."

"A headache? Let me see."

The woman bent down to pick up Michele and quickly walked out.

Michele heaved a sigh of relief.

Lucas frowned slightly.

Was that over?

Paranoia was so lame.

There was no follow-up.

He stood up with disappointment and frowned, "Don't bother me with such lame hackers in the future."

Edison Kidd, a team member, couldn't help but twitch the corner of his mouth.

"Baby..."

Just as he began to speak, he noticed that Lucas was looking at him, and the gaze was sharp and cold like a blade. Edison quickly changed his words.

"Lucas, just now you said that this hacker was impressive."

"Did I say that? Who heard it? Do you have a recording as evidence?"

Lucas coldly looked around, and the surrounding people immediately turned around and walked away.

Who would dare to offend Lucas?

Edison was stunned by Lucas' shamelessness again.

"Next time, I will remember to turn on the recording function of my phone."

He gritted his teeth and said.

Chapter 1067 This Is the Black Market

Nicole did not go back to ask Sam, because she knew that it was a waste of time. Sam would not say it. If he wanted to say, he would have told her the name.

But that was not bad.

When she came out, the sun was shining.

Nicole leaned against the car door and looked at the soldiers who were training. For a moment, she felt it was a pleased scene, but she began to think.

Sam asked her to be careful with someone around her. Who would it be?

Trevin?

He was Nicole's first suspect, but if it was Trevin, why did he give the ancient book to Fill when he got it? Wouldn't it be better if he directly threatened her with the ancient book?

After all, Trevin knew how important that ancient book was to her.

But if it wasn't Trevin, who else could it be?

It was impossible to be Fill.

Samuel trusted him so much. With Fill's character, he couldn't do that to Samuel and Nicole.

Then who else?

Jacob?

Jacob had followed Samuel for so many years, and he was Olivia's fiancé. It was possible to be Jacob.

Nicole felt as if she would be stuck with this question forever.

She even had an impulse to go back and ask Sam who the person around her was, but she resisted it.

When Morgan came out, she saw Nicole leaning against the car door and didn't know what she was thinking, so she directly walked over.

"What's the matter?"

"Nothing, just think about what gift I should give my husband tomorrow."

Nicole smiled.

Morgan paused slightly.

"Gift to your husband? Why?"

"Life requires ceremony. He saved me. Shouldn't I buy him a present?"

Nicole did not tell her that it was Samuel's birthday. Regardless of who Morgan was, and whether she was an enemy or a friend, such a private topic like Samuel's birthday was not suitable to reveal.

Morgan was stunned by Nicole's question.

Life required ceremony.

Was that so?

No wonder they were so close.

Morgan smiled and said, "Shall we go shopping?"

"Is there anything good here?"

Nicole was also interested.

"South Africa produces diamonds." Zhang said.

"I don't think my husband will like that."

Nicole curled her lips.

Morgan smiled and said, "There are other things. Let's walk around to find out. You can buy him a watch. It is said that giving him a watch means you want to be with him every second. I notice you want to spend more time with Mr. Green. It is a good choice."

When Nicole heard this, she immediately felt much more at ease.

Looking towards the direction which the bearded man was pointing at, Nicole and Laurence arrived at the southernmost room of the black market.

The room was very old and mysterious, but Nicole saw the pattern of the Lycoris in the room.

She frowned slightly.

Laurence clearly saw it as well.

He whispered, "Are you still going in? Maybe this is the stronghold of RT organization. Morgan has lured you here for some unknown purpose. Now, if you are in any danger, I can't help you in time."

"How do I know what Morgan is planning if I don't go in?"

Nicole's eyes flashed with a trace of sharpness.

"Wait for me outside. No one can enter without my order."

Nicole's words immediately made Laurence retort.

"No, I have to follow you."

Nicole saw the persistence in Laurence's eyes and knew that he was stubborn. She sighed and said, "Follow me in. Everyone else, stand by."

"Okay."

Laurence arranged for the people outside.

Nicole pushed open the door of the room.

There was no one inside, only Morgan.

Seeing Nicole, Morgan was not surprised at all and said indifferently, "You made it here."

"You took all the trouble to bring me here. If you have anything to say, just say it. We are old acquaintances, so there is no need to equivocate."

Nicole found a place to sit down and looked at Morgan. She asked indifferently, "Sam kidnapped Joseph. Does it have anything to do with you?"

"No, I treat Joseph as my child. Even if you and I turn against each other one day, I will not harm Joseph."

Nicole was content with Morgan's words.

"I trust you. If you don't hurt Joseph, I can forgive what you've done to me, but only if you don't want to kill me."

"No, I don't dare."

After Morgan finished speaking, she glanced inside and whispered, "The person who wants to see you today is Ms. Sally, not me."

Nicole paused slightly.

Sally?

For some reason, Nicole was a little nervous.

"Why do you choose to meet here? Didn't you say that you would go to Country F?"

"Country F is not safe. Ms. Sally is easy to be traced. This place is different. This is a black market. Anyone can come here to buy things. Although there are different kinds of people here, it will be easier for us to hide."

Morgan's explanation made Nicole silent.

Nicole thought for a moment and said, "Is the information guy one of yours?"

"Yes."

"Let's go in."

Nicole stood up and said to Laurence, "You stay."

Samuel's lips twitched.

Nicole didn't force him anymore. She had already given the order and the rest was left to him.

She jumped off Samuel's back and waved her hand, "Prepare yourself. I will go to the children and give them something I bought for them."

Nicole happily walked in.

Samuel felt that his whole world was dark.

He didn't want to dress like women.

Was he really going to do this?

Nicole ignored Samuel's worries and went to Lucas and Joseph's room with her things.

Lucas was still asleep.

It was rare to see him taking a rest in the day. When she remembered the pressure he was under, Nicole tried to tread slightly.

Seeing Nicole enter, Joseph put down the book of medical skills in his hand.

"Mommy."

"Come out for a moment."

Nicole smiled at Joseph.

Joseph threw back the blanket and got out of bed, and was directly carried by Nicole in her arms. His face instantly flushed red.

"Mommy, I'm fine. I can go on my own."

"I want to help you. It's not convenient for you to walk as your leg is injured."

After her words, Nicole saw Joseph's little face flush red. She immediately smiled and said, "Oh, Joseph now knows the feeling of being shy. But it's nothing. I'm your mommy. There is no need for you to be shy."

Joseph pursed his lips and didn't say anything. In fact, he was a little embarrassed.

Ever since he had learnt the human body structure, Joseph always felt embarrassed when he had body touch with women.

He was too embarrassed to say this to Nicole, so he could only remain silent.

Nicole felt that his experience through the year helped to calm his originally lively and cheerful temperament a lot. Now, he became more and more like an elegant young gentleman.

Maybe it was because he went to study medicine.

Nicole carried Joseph into the living room and sat down. She took out a rectangular box from her pocket and handed it to Joseph.

"Open the box to see if you like the gift."

Joseph looked at Nicole in surprise.

"For me?"

"Yes, it's for you."

Her tender loving care made Joseph's nose sour.

"I don't need it. Give it to Lucas."

"Lucas has his own gifts. This is especially for you. Just open it and take a look."

Nicole urged, and Joseph had no choice but to open the box.

Inside the box was a set of silver needles for acupuncture and a scalpel.

"Why are you so obsessed with that?"

Samuel felt that this woman had become naughty now.

She actually reminded him to do a cosplay later when they were kissing. Was he become less attractive to her?

Or was Nicole become more intelligent?

Seeing Samuel's gloomy expression, Nicole couldn't help but smile and say, "I can allow you to do the cosplay when we're alone. How is it? Does it sound good to you?"

What else could Samuel say?

He could only laugh awkwardly and then let go of Nicole.

It was hard to continue.

Seeing him get up, Nicole heaved a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, he let go of her. Otherwise, she really didn't know if she could take it. Besides, his body hadn't recovered yet. It's not good for them to get physical now.

After getting up, Nicole poured a cup of boiled water for Samuel.

"Here, it can help you to cool down."

Samuel couldn't help but laugh.

"How is that going to help me cool down?"

"It's better than doing nothing. Drink it."

Nicole sat down a little far away from him.

Seeing Nicole like this, Samuel was amused.

Nicole was afraid that he couldn't control himself and his body hadn't fully recovered. But she always did something to turn him on. And she just couldn't let the cosplay thing go. He didn't know what to say.

Samuel drank it all in one breath.

As his Adam's apple moved, Nicole couldn't help but swallow.

Oh my god!

Even his drinking water could be so attractive!

Or was it that she became horny?

Nicole hurriedly shook her head and turned her head. Suddenly, she heard Samuel's deep voice.

"I heard that you spent 10 million to buy a set of medical tools for Joseph in the black market?"

Nicole was slightly stunned.

"Who told you this? Laurence?"

"Is it important?"

Samuel smiled faintly, and his eyes were filled with warmth.

"You are so nice to Joseph."

"Of course. He's my son. Who else deserves my love? He's the apple of my eye."

Samuel felt extremely grateful when he saw that Nicole was so nice to Joseph.

He knew that Nicole really treated Joseph as her own kid.

"Where's Morgan?"

Samuel suddenly changed the topic. Nicole was stunned but she said indifferently, "She needs to take care of her own things. It's not convenient for me to follow them, so I came back with Laurence."

"Don't go out alone during this dangerous period. I'll be worried about you."

Hearing that Samuel was so concerned about her, Nicole smiled and said, "Got it. From today onwards, I will never leave your side, okay?"

"Alright."

Samuel agreed quickly.
