

Escape Wife 1121

Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1121 What If I Say No?

Martha can't refuse Tim at once, but whispered, "You keep her here for a while, I'll think of a way and call you later."

"Alright, Mom, are you trying to fool me? I know you have your own business to attend to, and you can even abandon me for your big business. But this is the first time I beg you for help, and this is also the last time. Can you help your son for once?"

Tim sounded a bit sad.

Martha suddenly felt sad.

No matter what, she was his mother. Moreover, Tim had been with her all these years.

Martha suddenly felt guilty towards Tim, but she couldn't do anything about it. Now that her son had said so, as long as it didn't affect her plan, she still wanted to help him.

"Alright, I'll call you later."

Martha hung up the phone, feeling a little guilty.

Tim was really nice to her. So nice that she wanted to give up on her plan for him once, but unfortunately, she didn't.

Martha sighed. She could never imagine on the other side, Tim's face was terribly gloomy.

Seeing Tim like this, Evelyn hurriedly reached out and held his hand.

His hands were so cold that there was almost no warmth. But he was also trembling, not knowing whether it was because he was sad or angry.

"Tim, it's okay. You still have me."

Evelyn hugged him tightly.

Evelyn's warm body pressed to Tim's, and his cold heart slowly became warm.

He hugged Evelyn tightly and whispered, "Evelyn, I only have you now. This time, I must take care of Martha myself."

Evelyn knew that deep down, Tim felt very uncomfortable. Before this, he treated Martha as the most he cared for the most after all. But he didn't expect Martha to lose his trust and hurt his closest ones.

"Everything will be alright. If you feel uncomfortable, I'll take care of her."

"No need. She is my mother. Even if she dies, I have to end her myself."

A trace of pain and struggle flashed through Tim's eyes, and he finally calmed down with determination.

Martha's people quickly got the news that there was surveillance showing Tim did knock Evelyn unconscious, and he took her to a five-star hotel. They had not come out yet.

Hearing this reply, Martha narrowed her eyes.

She had to get the Mason's voyage route. Otherwise, her father would be very angry.

Although he was her father, Martha could also sense that her father did not have to choose her. Moreover, there were other siblings in the family who were not fuel-efficient.

If it weren't for Evelyn being Tim's wife, Martha wouldn't have been the one to do the job this time.

This was the chance that her father had given her, and it was very likely that it would be her last chance.

Martha took a deep breath and whispered, "Wait for me here. I'll just take Matt with me."

Matt was good enough to fight Tim.

After considerations, Martha decided to see Tim.

Chapter 1122 Everyone Walks Their Own Path

Just as Evelyn finished speaking, Martha's expression changed.

"You want to kill me? You are such an ungrateful son! I gave birth to you after ten months of pregnancy, yet you actually want to kill me? You asshole!"

Martha angrily raised her arm again and slapped towards Tim's face, but this time she did not succeed and was directly grabbed by Evelyn's arm and ruthlessly fell to the side.

"Our Tim is kind to you enough. Do you think that Samuel will let you off after you have done something like that? If you were to fall into Samuel's hands, you would only be a hundred times more miserable than you are now." You chose the path yourself. You chose the path of death from the beginning. Tim only wanted you to die with dignity. This is already the greatest kindness. What else do you want? "

Evelyn's words made Martha laugh angrily.

"Kindness? I think it was you who seduced him to kill me. You don't look like a decent woman. You are so eager to marry my son. Who knows if others are all bored at you and you want to find someone else to marry...."

Before Martha could finish her words, Tim stepped forward and covered her mouth.

"You..."

Martha wanted to struggle, but Tim directly grabbed her arms.

Some kind of sadness showed in his eyes.

"Mom, you're going further and further down the detour. If you had only used me and my father, I wouldn't have been able to do anything but be sad. But now that you've broken the law, you are sure to be punished."

"Bullshit!"

Although Martha can't say anything, Tim still understood her meaning through her eyes.

He gave a wry smile and said, "You know what?" Because of my kindness, you had the opportunity to use Fernanda and Viola to almost kill Nicole, so I knew I was wrong. Though I don't have much ability, I don't want you to fall into Samuel's hands and be tortured to death, so I'll let you rest in peace. Don't worry, this medicine is very effective. The pain won't last long. I will take care of your body after your death. Since you gave birth to me, and I will pay you back by being here with you at the end of your life. So, there will be no pity in our relationship. It's better for us not to meet again in the next life."

After Tim finished his words, his eyes got wet and tears rolled down his face in an instant.

Martha still wanted to say something, but suddenly she felt heart-wrenching pain. She struggled, pleading for help, for the first time in her eyes appearing panic and despair, but Tim still held her hands tightly.

She twitched and fell to the ground.

She grabbed her collar and tried to pull something out of her throat, but it was all in vain.

Tim looked at Martha's painful face, and he finally turned away with tears in silence.

Evelyn felt too sorry for him. She hugged him tightly and whispered, "Cry if you're sad. No one will laugh at you. After crying this time, there won't be any pain in the future. I assure you that I will take care of you well and never give up on you for the rest of my life."

Tim did not say anything this time. He just hugged Evelyn tightly....

After Samuel's fellows arrived at Martha's, they controlled everyone, but they did not see Martha.

Ernesto told Samuel about this.

Samuel looked at the sleeping Nicole and asked Ashley and Wendy to take care of her. He drove to Martha's landing place.

Chapter 1123 It Was Because of Samuel

Samuel had to manage to control his desire. After all, Nicole was not very well.

Nicole was stunned for a moment because Samuel did nothing to her, but she could feel his body was tense and shivering.

"Samuel?"

Samuel sighed and hugged her tightly in his arms. He whispered, "Not now. You need a few days to recover."

Nicole's face turned red.

She almost forgot how weak she was.

Then they kissed and touched each other for a while. Nicole looked much better than yesterday.

She wanted to go out for a walk. Ashley agreed because she thought it was good for Nicole to have some fresh air. Moreover, she missed her child. So she gave Nicole a full body check-up and left.

Nicole went to the back garden with Samuel.

They could only see white snow in the garden because it was snowing these days.

Samuel tightened her coat.

Nicole let her little face out and smiled, "In ancient times, it was said that emperors planted wintersweet for their beloved concubines. Do you want to plant some for me?"

"Alright."

Samuel agreed at once.

"I mean you do it in person."

"No problem."

Samuel was doting.

It made Nicole thought that if she said she wanted the stars in the sky Samuel would agree to get them.

She beamed with satisfaction.

Nicole leaned against Samuel's arms and whispered, "They won't grow because it's winter now. You can do it in the following spring, then we can enjoy the blossoms together next winter."

"Okay."

Samuel agreed all his wife's requests.

Nicole was so happy that she felt it was like an illusion.

Seeing Nicole was tired, Samuel asked with a soft voice, "How about I get you back on your bed?"

"No, I like here. It makes me feel like I'm still alive."

These words were heartbreaking for Samuel.

"Viola is dead."

Samuel knew Nicole still deeply cared about that even though she had never asked him.

Indeed, Nicole paused for a moment, but she didn't say a word.

Nicole had tried to get along with Viola but failed as Viola became wicked and obstinate.

Nicole moved in Samuel's arms and said with emotion, "I've been left alone. My father, my mother and my sister all passed away. I must be a jinx if I were in ancient times."

"Totally nonsense."

Edwin's voice came from behind, stunning Samuel and Nicole.

Nicole wanted to get up, but Edwin stopped her.

"Stay here. You're so weak. Weaker than an old man like me."

Nicole was depressed.

"What's the matter?"

Samuel noticed something wrong from Nicole's expression and quickly stood up and walked over.

Nicole was dumbfounded.

Samuel came over and saw that the bag was filled with bloody game.

Pheasants, rabbits, and the like, but they were all bloody. Some of them were still twitching, and blood was oozing out from their mouths.

This scene was especially scary. If one was a bit timid, he would probably be frightened to tears. Although Nicole did not cry, she tried her best to resist her nausea and she felt so bad.

"Is this the New Year gift from the Don family?"

Edwin's expression turned ugly. He wanted Steve to call Mark but was stopped by Nicole.

"Grandfather, let me make this call."

Nicole's expression carried a hint of pleading, and Edwin did not bear to refuse. He sighed and turned his head, but he didn't look better.

He would first listen to Don family's explanation. If it wasn't satisfactory, he wouldn't spare those two brats.

Nicole was still trembling. Samuel said worriedly, "Why don't I make this call? Don't worry, I will pay attention to my words."

"No need. The New Year gift is a sign of their kindness to me. As a junior, I should make a phone call to report my safety."

Nicole tried her best to calm down, then, she picked up the phone and called Jason.

She didn't know if Mark was still busy in the military area, but Jason had an open schedule.

When Jason received Nicole's phone call, he was stunned. He remembered what happened last time at the blind date and felt a little guilty. His voice softened a little.

"Nicole, it's so late, do you want help?"

Nicole smiled and said, "Jason, I just received the New Year present from the Don family. They are quite abundant. Those pheasants and rabbits aren't dead yet, and they are bleeding. I heard that steaming them alive would make them taste more delicious. Thank you, Jason, for sending me the game."

Jason was astounded and asked, "What pheasant and rabbit? I didn't give you these things! I just bought you some tonics and had someone send them to you."

"You didn't? Can it be from Mark?"

As soon as Nicole finished speaking, Jason immediately said, "Impossible. Mark went out on a mission and hasn't returned yet."

Nicole's heart skipped a beat when she heard this, but she still smiled and said, "Then, that was probably given by someone else and I made a mistake. No problem, I'll ask again."

"Alright, if anything happens, remember to call me."

Jason was a little worried.

"I will. Jason, I gotta go."

After saying that, Nicole hung up.

Nicole felt anxious when she saw it was Evelyn that called.

"If you don't want to talk to her, I can answer the phone."

Samuel knew what Nicole was thinking. Tim must be sad now, so she felt it was improper to ask Evelyn out.

However, Nicole shook her head and said, "I think Tim should go out with us."

"What?"

Samuel was a little confused.

Nicole smiled and said, "Because you are here. You will cheer him up, won't you?"

What else could Samuel say?

Although he thought Tim didn't need his comfort, he would talk to Tim later. Nicole had given him a task. He had to complete it.

"Alright."

Samuel said indifferently.

Now that Samuel agreed, Nicole answered the phone.

"Evelyn, what did he say?"

Nicole tried her best to make her voice sound normal.

Evelyn smiled and said, "Tim agreed to go out with me. Let's go. I can't wait to spend your money."

"Oh, please show me some mercy."

Nicole pretended to beg.

Evelyn was amused and they laughed together.

Samuel was relieved to see Nicole being so light-hearted. He felt glad that he didn't tell her that it was Tim who killed Martha.

After Nicole hung up the phone, she adjusted her clothes and wore some makeup. Samuel took a down jacket and went out with her.

They would meet Tim and Evelyn in Golden Street.

Samuel and Nicole arrived there first. Seeing everywhere decorated, Nicole couldn't help but sigh.

New Year was coming.

It had been almost one year since she returned home.

Too many things had happened this year. Fortunately, everything had settled down. And she still had this man by her side.

Nicole felt happy and held Samuel's arm.

"What's the matter?"

Samuel looked at her. He thought Nicole was cold, so he asked, "Do you want me to turn up the temperature? You may catch a cold."

Looking at his worried face, Nicole smiled, "It's not cold. How could I feel cold with you by my side? I am just thinking that I came back in spring. And it has been almost one year."

"Right. Time passes so quickly, so we should treasure the days we spend together."

Nicole was moved.

"Oh. That's sweet. Where did you learn this?"

"I learnt that from you."

Samuel flattered her.

Hearing Tim's words, Nicole and Evelyn became even more curious.

"Darling, how did you trick my cousin?"

Nicole looked up at Samuel.

Samuel smiled and said, "Some people are just stupid. You are blessed, because you married a wise man like me."

"Hey, Samuel, watch yourself!"

Tim felt that he couldn't continue shopping.

Evelyn saw that her husband had been teased and said to Nicole, "Nicole, your husband bullied mine. What should I do?"

Nicole was at a loss.

But in the next moment, she hooked Samuel's arm and smiled, "Sorry, I stand on my husband's side and the bully will continue. At most, I'll treat you to a meal to make up for it."

"How can you say that?"

Evelyn turned her head around.

Tim gritted his teeth and said, "In fact, Samuel played dirty."

"What do you mean?"

The two women immediately pricked up their ears.

Tim took a deep breath and said, "At that time, I had a crush on the daughter of a real estate tycoon. That woman told me that her father had received inside information that there was a problem about construction quality with these shops. They probably couldn't be sold out. At that time, Golden Street hadn't been built."

At this point, Tim did not notice Evelyn's gritted teeth, while Nicole and Samuel smiled complacently.

This idiot Tim was talking about his ex-girlfriend in front of Evelyn. The most irritating thing was that Tim had too many of them.

However, Tim did not find out that he had upset his wife. He continued, "At that time, I bought half of the shops in this area. I heard that there was a problem from internal news, so I made a move. When I put advertisements to sell them, someone couldn't wait and bought them all. At that time, I thought that this person was a bit stupid, but I didn't expect that after a few days, that woman disappeared. Upon inquiry, I found out that the woman had gone abroad under someone's arrangement. I immediately realized that something was wrong and asked for information. Only then did I know that Samuel and that woman tricked me for my shops. Do you know how sinister he is now? "

The more Tim spoke, the angrier he became. He did not notice that Evelyn was clenching her fists and her knuckles gave out a cracking sound.

Nicole kept blinking at Tim, but Tim didn't understand.

"Nicole, what's wrong with your eyes?"

Just as he finished speaking, Evelyn pinched Tim's waist.

"Ouch!"

Tim howled in pain.

"Darling, what are you doing?"

"What's the matter?"

Nicole sensed that Samuel's body was getting stiff with dense killing intent.

"Nothing."

Samuel looked at Nicole with a much softer gaze.

He held Nicole in his arms and made a gesture in the air. Then, he saw Tim and Evelyn coming over.

The rosy cheeks of the loving couple told that the problem had been solved.

Nicole smiled at Evelyn and said, "Problem solved?"

"Stop it! Can't you for once be shy like a girl? Let's go!"

Although Evelyn was a little embarrassed, she, pulling Nicole's hand, still walked firmly forward.

Samuel took a few steps back and said to Tim, "Someone took pictures of us just now. I think it's better to go home. Both New Year's Day and your wedding are coming. We should keep a low profile. Anyway, we'll move in together tomorrow. We can discuss and settle everything. Why don't we stop here today?"

Tim frowned slightly.

"Reporter?"

"I'm not sure. I've already sent someone to deal with it."

Samuel said indifferently.

Nicole and Evelyn were walking in front of them, laughing and chatting happily. Tim could tell that the girls knew nothing about that.

He whispered, "Let's go home first. Call me if you need anything. I know I am not as powerful as you, but I'll do what I can."

"Of course. I'll definitely contact you if you're needed. Before we arrive, the Don family sent some New Year's presents over - animals killed alive, drenched in blood. Since uncle Jason denied having sent them, there must be some scheming out there. The delivery guy was in a car accident on his way back. His unconsciousness keeps us away from the clues. Please do some investigation if you're free."

Samuel gave the work to Tim.

Tim did not refuse and nodded without the least hesitation.

They separated after they finished talking.

There was already tiredness in Nicole's eyes. She involuntarily yawned.

Evelyn noticed it immediately.

"Are you tired? Maybe we can call it a day. I don't have anything else to buy. Everything for the wedding is ready. My father only has one daughter, and he has prepared a lot of things for me. As for the rest, Tim is helping out."

Nicole replied embarrassedly, "I'm sorry. But I'm not very well these days."

"Don't say that. You had just suffered terribly. Your body needs to recover slowly. From tomorrow on we'll live together. I'll make you delicious food every day. I guarantee that your body will be fully recovered soon."

Evelyn's words made Nicole's heart burst with joy.

"Really? It's settled then. You owe me three meals a day."

"No problem."

Their gaze met in the air, and they smiled as if they had known each other for many years.

When Samuel came to Nicole's side, Nicole happened to turn around and saw him smiling. She said, "Darling, I'm tired."

When Nicole woke up, she found herself lying on her bed and couldn't help but feel like crying.

Why was she asleep again?

Why did she fall asleep on Samuel's shoulder when she had agreed to go shopping?

It was because Samuel gave her a sense of security.

Nicole put the blame on Samuel.

When she thought of Samuel, Nicole realized that Samuel was not in the room.

She yawned, lifted the blanket and got out of bed, and then found a coat to put on before leaving the room.

Wendy walked over with a cup of coffee in her hand.

"Wendy, is this for Samuel?"

"Yes, Mrs. Green."

Wendy said.

"Where is he?"

"Study room."

"I'll do it."

Nicole took the coffee from Wendy's hand and walked towards the study.

She knocked on the door, and Samuel's deep voice sounded from inside.

"Come in."

Nicole pushed open the door and saw what Samuel was looking at the computer. She walked over.

"If anything has happened in the company, then go. You don't need to stay at home with me."

Nicole handed the coffee to Samuel.

When Samuel saw that it was Nicole, he took it and pulled Nicole to a chair and sat her down. Then he whispered, "It's not about business. We are going shopping today. Didn't you ask me if something had happened?"

"Yeah, you told me that everything was fine."

Nicole looked at Samuel depressingly.

Chapter 1129 Major Is Really Annoying

Samuel suddenly felt that Nicole was adorable when he saw her dazed expression.

He smiled and said, "Didn't you notice that Zayn hasn't contacted us since he returned to Country F?"

"Maybe he's busy."

Being reminded by Samuel, Nicole remembered something. In addition to her own initiative to contact Zayn, Zayn hadn't contacted her. He had been reminding her of their relationship, his preparations for seizing power. But now that Zayn had avenged Pedro, he seemed to have disappeared.

Nicole frowned slightly.

"Do you have any news about Zayn?"

"No, but I guess your aunt Sally helped him. That's why Zayn is so calm and hasn't rushed to ask us for help. We're no use to him now, and he is also in trouble. I'm really not sure if he will help us with this."

Samuel said indifferently. He didn't tell the underlying reason. After all, he didn't want Nicole to interfere in too many political affairs of F Country.

Although Nicole wanted to refute Samuel's words, she no longer had faith in human nature after what happened between her and Mr. and Mrs. Bush. Especially since Zayn was in such a political whirlpool, Nicole wouldn't believe it that he hadn't taken other factors into consideration.

Samuel saw that Nicole was shilly-shallying, and he said, "Alright, it's not difficult to know this news. At worst, I'll go to see Zayn and we can exchange benefits."

"No."

Nicole shook her head.

"Whether Major is Lillian's biological son has nothing to do with us. Major is our enemy. If we can get the sample, it will only help us understand more clearly. Without the report, the fact that we are deadly enemies cannot be changed. After all, even if we know that he is Lillian's biological son, our feud will not be resolved. I don't think it's worth it to trade with Zayn for the sake of such an irrelevant person. It's not worth losing our own interests."

Nicole's words took Samuel by surprise.

"You don't seem to like Zayn very much?"

"I can't say if I like him or not. After all, I don't have too much in-depth contact with him. Besides, we are doing OK. We can chat with the children and drink tea with grandfather. We are living a comfortable and happy life. Why should I let myself or you fall into the struggle for power and wealth in F Country? If we really can't avoid it or if Zayn begs us for help, it won't be too late for us to think about it. Now I want to spend the New Year with you, the children and grandpa. I'd like to celebrate the New Year with the family. As for the rest, as long as it's not too serious, I don't want to get involved."

After saying that, Nicole directly hugged Samuel.

Hearing his wife's New Year's resolution, how could Samuel not agree?

"Alright. Let's forget about this mess and celebrate the New Year."

"That's right."

Nicole was very satisfied with Samuel's words.

"Then, honey, we're going to live with grandpa tomorrow. Do we need to buy something?"

Since Nicole did not want to talk about that topic, Samuel changed the topic.

Nicole shook her head and said, "I think grandpa has prepared everything. There's no need for us to prepare anything. We just need to show up."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes. After all, I'm his biological granddaughter."

When Nicole said this, her heart did a somersault.

Apart from herself, Zayn was also Edwin's grandchild.

Thinking of Zayn, Nicole couldn't help but pause for a moment. However, she soon smiled and said, "Honey, I want to eat delicious food."

"You are hungry?"

"Yeah."

Samuel heard that Nicole was hungry, he hurriedly got up

Chapter 1130 That Person Was an Expert

When Laurence received the call from Nicole, he was washing Adela's mother's feet. He was slightly stunned at seeing Nicole's number. Then, he thought of the look of Nicole losing her mind and said, "Auntie, I've got a phone call."

Laurence stood up, but before he could leave, Cynthia kicked over the basin under her feet.

"What are you busy with all day? Are you too busy to wash my feet? If Adela were still alive, she would cook for me, let alone wash my feet. You said you would be good to me like Adela did. But what about now? Your promise is just tongue-in-cheek. Laurence, I'm telling you, you have to listen to me here. Although you bought this house, don't forget who Adela died for!"

Cynthia's voice was very harsh.

Laurence felt like his heart was torn open again before the cut could be healed.

Adela's death was a taboo to Laurence. If others mentioned it, he would definitely shut them up. However, Cynthia was Adela's mother, so Laurence could only stand her.

"Auntie, I have something to do. I'll bring you another basin of water later."

Laurence said neither humbly nor arrogantly.

Cynthia was infuriated when she saw Laurence like this.

Why is this man still alive?

He was just for experiment. Why should Adela die for him?

Cynthia thought of Adela when she saw Laurence. If Laurence's death could bring Adela back to life, she would be looking forward to Laurence's death.

"Piss off! Don't show up in front of me. I'm angry to see you."

Cynthia roared in anger and threw the items at hand to Laurence.

The pain in Laurence's heart was much hurt than that in his body.

Endured the pain silently, Laurence turned around and left the room.

Cynthia's constant curse came from behind.

Laurence was afraid that Nicole would overthink if she heard this, so he walked far enough to call back.

"Mrs. Green, what can I do for you?"

Laurence's voice was as cold as ever.

Nicole frowned slightly and whispered, "Why did it take so long to answer the phone?"

"I'm a bit busy just now."

Laurence skipped the details.

"Is it urgent? I can call you back later."

Nicole suddenly felt sorry.

Although Laurence was her assistant, there were still many things to do in the new Night Elf Empire. Laurence won't be on call all the time. She was being in lack of consideration.

But Laurence said indifferently, "It's OK. All is done. Mrs. Green, if you need anything, just tell me."

Nicole sighed.
