Chapter 1141 So Embarrassing

"Zoe!"

Nicole was heartbreaking.

Lucas was dumbfounded.

Blood!

There was blood everywhere!

Just like that day when he had shot the terrorist to death.

His eyes were opening wide, and his blood slowly spread all over the ground, just like now.

Something seemed to be spurting out of his mind and the pain was intense.

Lucas' eyes suddenly turned scarlet.

"Damn it! How dare you hurt her?"

Lucas was like a different man now. He rushed over and smashed towards the kidnapper's face.

But the guy was not easy to deal with. As Lucas rushed over, he suddenly pushed Zoe aside and started fighting with Lucas.

Lucas' eyes were red. In his eyes, the entire world was red.

He kept attacking like a crazy man...

And the guy was on the defensive.

Seeing that Zoe was pushed aside, Nicole quickly ran over and hugged Zoe with trembling hands.

"Zoe, how are you?"

"Mommy, I'm fine."

Zoe opened her eyes and stuck out her tongue to make a face. Then, she took out a broken blood bag from under her skirt.

"The blood was fake. That gun was a plastic gun and it won't hurt."

Nicole was dumbfounded.

Fake blood?

She subconsciously looked at Lucas, only to find that the man who was fighting with Lucas looked a little familiar.

"That guy is..."

"It's Grandpa Mark."

Zoe stood up and grabbed Nicole's hand, and then led her to Samuel.

"Daddy, do you think this plan will work?"

"I don't know."

Samuel held Nicole's hand with their fingers crossed.

Nicole was still confused.

Joseph walked over, took off his coat and put it on Zoe's shoulder. He whispered, "To be exact, this method should be better. Lucas has been under pressure for a long time, and his personality has been stimulated because of the shooting incident, so maybe he just needs to vent. And the best way to vent is to cry. But did Lucas ever cry?"

The answer is obvious.

It was almost impossible to see Lucas cry.

Nicole seemed to understand.

Chapter 1142 He's Normal

Lucas' face changed slightly.

Who else in the group could hack into his computer like this?

"Edison?"

Lucas quickly sent a message.

And soon he got the reply.

"Lucas, it's me."

Seeing the reply, Lucas missed his team members.

"You don't know how to have a chat with me? Why do you hack into my computer? What's wrong? You want to compete with me in the Trojan horse program?"

Lucas typed quickly.

Edison paused for a moment, and then replied, "Lucas, I have some bad news for you."

"It's almost New Year. Can you tell me some good news?"

Lucas felt that Edison was really funny.

However, Edison directly converted the words into black and white fonts and said heavily, "Lucas, our team member Lexie died."

Lucas was stunned.

"What do you mean?"

As one of their team members, Lexie was also the only girl over eighteen years old. Before Lucas joined the team, Lexie was the team leader. Later, given that Lucas had greater computer skills, Lexie stepped aside, but she still took care of others.

In Lucas' impression, Lexie had a warm heart, mothering and loving them.

How could she die?

"What's going on?"

Lucas noticed that his hands were trembling.

Edison burst into tears and then directly made a video call to Lucas.

Seeing Edison crying, Lucas felt sad.

"Don't cry. What happened?"

As Lucas roared, Edison immediately stopped crying and said with a tremble, "Lexie's father was a special forces soldier. He was shot abroad in a peacekeeping operation not long ago. He was caught while protecting others. The terrorists took him hostage and threatened us to withdraw. Lexie got the news and secretly went over there. She hacked into enemies' computers to confuse them. However, she was discovered soon and shot to death. Lucas, they said that Lexie lost a lot of blood and her body will be airlifted later. Boss asked us to go to the airport together to bring Lexie home. "

Edison cried as he said.

Lucas' eyes were teary.

Blood!

Recently, Lucas always dreamed about something red.

However, he never thought that his teammate would lose her life on the battlefield.

Tears slid down from his eyes.

"I'll be right there. Shut up and stop crying! We are proud of her. She's a hero and martyr! She's going home. We can't welcome her home with tears."

Lucas' voice was hoarse and depressive.

Edison tried his best hold back the tears, but he really couldn't do that.

Lucas hung up the video chat and lay on the computer desk with his shoulders trembling.

He could never see his comrade who once fought together with him again. After she was buried in the Martyrs' Cemetery with the national flag, there would never be a lively girl called Lexie.

Chapter 1143 How Could It Be Him?

"Mommy, maybe you should call Daddy."

Joseph grabbed Nicole's sleeve, and a trace of unease flashed through his eyes.

Nicole hesitated.

She knew that Joseph was worried about her. This situation was indeed abnormal. However, today was a special day. The martyr Lexie was being carried in the front of the procession, and all the soldiers were marching forward. If she called Samuel back because of this, it would be inappropriate.

After a while of hesitation, Nicole carried Joseph in her arms and closed the car door.

She took out her phone and called a towing company, while she followed behind the procession with Joseph in her arms.

Noticing his mom had become more cautious and composed than before, Joseph couldn't help but look at her a few more times and found that she was more beautiful than ever.

Although Nicole did not know if the breakdown was an accident, she still heaved a sigh of relief after the phone call.

The procession entered the Martyrs' Cemetery. Because Nicole and Joseph weren't soldiers, they didn't have the qualifications to get in, so they could only stand outside and wait.

To them, standing here waiting for Lucas and Samuel was also a kind of silent company.

There was a memorial service inside. Waves of sad music made people feel depressed, and the snowflakes in the sky added a trace of sadness.

Nicole watched Lexie's mother faint a few times from crying, her heart aching badly.

"Mommy, where is Lexie's daddy?" Joseph asked in confusion.

"Her father is in the hands of terrorists and hasn't returned yet. He hasn't even seen his daughter for the last time," Nicole whispered.

This was the helplessness and greatness of a soldier.

Nicole put herself in the shoes of Lexie's father. She thought about what she would do if Lucas was the one who had been killed.

At the thought of this, Nicole couldn't help but sweat profusely.

Even imagining it was unbearably painful.

She even felt her entire body tremble.

She wasn't that noble and couldn't bear to send her son to the battlefield, but what if Lucas insisted on it?

Nicole knew that she would not force her son, but this profession...

She shook her head abruptly, not thinking about these things for the time being.

Suddenly, there was a loud bang, and the entire ground seemed to shake a little. Joseph couldn't stand firmly and grabbed Nicole.

Nicole supported him, and she staggered. She looked at the place where the explosion had occurred. It was her car!

Both Joseph and Nicole were stunned.

If she had gotten out of the car and checked the reason for the breakdown earlier, she would probably have turned into a pile of ashes by now.

This realization scared Nicole. Joseph grabbed her hand and found that her palm was sweaty.

Samuel and the others heard the explosion and quickly ran out.

"What happened?"

When he saw that the car that exploded was the one Nicole was driving, his face paled.

Chapter 1144 Can You Take a Stand

Nicole looked at the screen and zoomed in. Then Zac's face appeared clearly on the screen.

Zac?

Nicole was a little depressed.

Why would he do that?

Could it be for Petty?

Nicole frowned tightly.

Her fingers unconsciously tapped on the table as her thoughts drifted away...

Something must have been wrong!

It was impossible for Zac to betray Samuel, let alone take her life!

So what was going on?

Zac had grown up with Samuel, so he must know Samuel's computer level. Moreover, with Lucas there, even if he had really done this, he would not have made such a low-level mistake that he had actually deleted the video!

If it was really Zac, he should have in advance turned off the video surveillance or found a corner to do it, but he hadn't!

Then it was only logical that Zac had also been used!

And that guy must be not familiar with the surveillance of the Green's, so he had made such a low-level mistake.

So who was this guy?

It couldn't be the servants of the Green family. After all, it had been a long time since these servants had been changed.

Nicole fell into deep thoughts.

Then it was very likely that it was an outsider. However, the people who had come to the Green's these past few days were all acquaintances, Evelyn, Tim and the Dons. However, these people wouldn't be the guy who wanted to take the lives of her and Samuel.

Nicole was puzzled.

Then she decided to call Zac.

After the call was connected, Nicole suddenly didn't know what to say.

"Hey, Nicole, what's wrong?"

Zac took the initiative to speak.

He sounded calm, not like a guilty man.

Nicole coughed and asked, "Why did you go to the garage yesterday afternoon?"

"There was something wrong with my car, so I went to see if it would be better after cooling the engine down. What's wrong?"

Nicole was surprised.

"Your car broke down?"

"Not that bad. It's just that the engine's sound was strange. I think it's probably because of the high temperature, so I didn't send it to the repair store immediately. I tried cooling it down so that if I could fix it myself, I wouldn't need to send it to the repair store. After all, the maintenance fee was not cheap. Besides, the New Year is coming, so I would have to queue up for maintenance. It's not convenient."

Chapter 1145 Grandpa's Idea Is Good

Seeing Nicole, who was worried, Edwin couldn't help but say, "I've got an idea. No matter what Nicole wants to do, let Zac go take a video and send it back. We are living in the information era and there's no need to go see it personally."

"I think it's a good idea."

Tim agreed with Edwin.

There was no doubt that Evelyn took the side of Tim.

Both Tim and Evelyn agreed with Edwin. Nicole had no choice but to compromise.

"Then can I tell Zac about it?"

Nicole had to settle for second best.

"Alright, let him in."

Tim said with a smile.

Nicole glared at him and then called the guard to let Zac in.

When Zac came in, Edwin and Tim were in the living room with Nicole.

"Hello, Mr. Shaw, Mr. Tim. Hello, Nicole."

Zac greeted them with the utmost courtesy.

Edwin nodded and said with a smile, "Sit down."

"Thank you."

Zac sat opposite Edwin.

Tim knew Zac, so he didn't say anything else. He knew Edwin would deal with this matter.

Tim was adamant against her going out, but now he kept silent. Thinking about it, Nicole couldn't help but roll her eyes at Tim.

"Tim is doing it for your own good."

Evelyn whispered.

"I see. Tim is the most thoughtful, handsome and awesome man."

Nicole curled her lips.

Evelyn smiled and said, "Yes, he is talented and handsome."

Nicole was speechless.

Nicole made a vomiting action, but Evelyn was not angry at all. Instead, she made Nicole very angry.

'Can you guys stop your PDA?'

Nicole missed Samuel very much.

She was depressed.

Edwin knew what Tim meant. They were in the Shaw's, and as the master of the Shaws, Edwin should deal with this matter.

Edwin cleared his throat and told Zac their plan.

Hearing this, Zac understood.

"You're right. It's dangerous for Nicole to go out at this critical time. I didn't consider it thoroughly. Your plan is perfect. I will video chat with Nicole. If she has any questions, she can ask me."

Zac was quite cooperative.

Nicole felt a little embarrassed.

No matter what, she was Samuel's wife, Zac's sister-in-law. Now, she was treated like a child and couldn't go out. It was embarrassing.

"Alright. Hurry up and go!"

Chapter 1146 Who Is Major's Biological Father?

Zayn paused for a moment.

To see the snow in the Seapolis City?

This was a good idea, but it was a pity that he couldn't get there.

"Tell me about the New Year in the Seapolis City."

Zayn lit a cigarette.

Hearing the crisp voice of the lighter, Nicole suddenly felt his loneliness.

She was a little depressed.

"How do you usually spend the New Year?"

Nicole asked.

Zayn narrowed his eyes and thought for a moment. Then, he answered, his voice somewhat hoarse.

"When I was a child, my wet nurse would take me to pay a New Year visit to my father, and then I would return to my own palace. For citizens, they will set off firecrackers. Although firecrackers would also be set off in the palace, I still feel lonely."

As she heard, she became sadder.

"You'll know how the Seapolis City celebrates the New Year when you come back next year."

"Alright."

Zayn suddenly began to expect that.

Anyway, it would be better than spending the New Year alone.

Pedro was by his side before, but now, he got no one with him.

Zayn felt even more miserable.

"Skip that. I'll send you the data."

Then he hung up the phone.

Hearing the busy tone, Nicole couldn't tell what she felt.

Not long after, Zayn sent the data over.

It was shown that the parent-child relationship was 99.9%.

Although she had this speculation for a long time, Nicole was still stunned when she saw the data.

Major was actually Lillian's son!

No wonder Lillian didn't hesitate to do such harmful things for Major, she even hurt Zac. To put it decently, she didn't like Zac being Petty's husband, but on the other hand, she actually ignored Petty's marital happiness in order to help Major.

Nicole sighed.

Petty longed for a family for her entire life, but in the end, she was used by her mother.

Chapter 1147 Keep a Low Profile Recently

Nicole had always been very concerned about the inside person. Now that she heard Zayn say this, she couldn't help but be worried.

However, Zayn said indifferently, "I'm just asking. If you want him to be alive, I'll be easy on him for your sake. Otherwise, I'll finish him off when necessary in case he causes you any trouble."

"No! Please don't! I hope he's safe. He's my friend."

Concern was evident in Nicole's tone when she spoke hurriedly.

Zayn didn't care much and agreed readily. The two of them chatted for a while, and Zayn hung up the phone.

Nicole frowned and found a number from her phone.

This was the only way she could contact the undercover man.

Nicole found the chat log with Trevin and read it.

"I want to deal with Major, but there are few people who can get close to him. Do you have any good ideas?"

This was what Nicole said to Trevin a long time ago.

"Let me do it. When my sister died, I didn't know the inside story. She liked Tim, and Tim liked you. In this sense, it's fair to say my sister's death had something to do with you. And in my current position, I can be very useful to Major. With a little encouragement, my story will be plausible and everyone will believe I betrayed you to revenge my sister on you. See, I am the best candidate for him to coopt."

Trevin had volunteered almost without hesitation.

"No, I can't let you do it. Major is ruthless. The most important thing is that he is meticulous. A small flaw may get you killed. I can't let anything happen to you. There aren't many people from the Harper Town anymore, so I can't agree to this even if merely for the sake of doing good deeds."

Nicole refused firmly.

Trevin said, "Mrs. Green, don't be so pedantic. You know that I'm the best candidate, right? As long as there is a disagreement between us, and I show the intention to betray you, Major will naturally not let go of the slightest chance of getting me to flip to his side. Then, it will be easy for me to get into Major's circle. If you break my hand and my leg, it will be more convincing. Mrs. Green, don't hesitate. Major hurt my sister and is making trouble for you all the time. Whether as the captain of the Night Elf Empire or Maia's younger brother, this is my unshirkable responsibility."

"But if I really break your limbs, how are you going to spend the rest of your life?"

Nicole was scared just thinking about it.

Trevin said calmly, "I'm sure you will take care of me, right? Besides, I won't be that unlucky. If I'm treated properly, my limbs should be able to recover."

"No, it won't do."

The chat between the two ended here, but Nicole's thoughts drifted to that day.

Actually, she didn't know that Trevin was there when Samuel brought her over.

Ever since the two of them set this task, Trevin had been trying his best to show his enthusiasm in finding out the truth of Maia's death, using the power in his hands to find any clue he could.

Sure enough, Major didn't let go of this opportunity to sow discord and had someone contact Trevin.

Every time Major's man approached him, Nicole knew about it. Trevin did not keep it from her at all. It was precisely because of this that Nicole felt even more conflicted and sad.

When Trevin went to the Harper Town to look for ancient books, Nicole knew that the time had come. However, she did not expect that she would meet Trevin on the border of Country F. He was discovered by the people of Sky Group. This kind of plot was more convincing than what they had originally set up.

"How is Xander now?"

Nicole asked subconsciously.

Mark sighed and touched Nicole's head. He whispered, "I'm afraid there would be a big change this time. I'll leave now. You stay here. If you need anything, go ask Uncle Jason. Don't leave us the last to know everything. Besides, I hope that you won't get into any trouble from now on, understand?"

He frowned with worries.

Nicole hurriedly nodded.

"Uncle Mark, take care. You can use our strength at an appropriate time. I feel that Xander's matter this time is not simple. Although you are unwilling to say it, I can feel that it might have something to do with us, right?"

"Stop asking around. No matter what, I'll be fine. Emory should be fine, too."

Mark didn't sound confident. Nicole could hear it.

Soon Samuel returned.

Nicole hurriedly walked up to him.

"How's it going? Where's Lucas?"

"Lucas is Lexie's team leader, so he stays in the military to deal with the follow-up matters. He probably won't be able to come back tonight."

Samuel shook the snowflakes on his shoulders off as he spoke.

"It's snowing heavily outside. Roads and airports are probably going to be shut down."

Nicole took Samuel's coat.

She felt so heavy.

"Hurry up and take a shower. The heating is on. Are you hungry? I'll get you something to eat. We all have eaten."

Nicole looked at Samuel's exhausted face with distress, but she didn't know how to console him.

Emory was his eldest brother. Now that Emory was being investigated, he was probably the one who felt the most uneasy.

Samuel nodded, and then went to the room.

When Edwin heard that Samuel had returned, he asked someone to prepare food for him, so Nicole didn't have to do it.

"Where's Samuel?"

"He's taking a shower."

Nicole replied to Edwin while thinking.

"Why?"

Looking at Nicole's worried eyes, Samuel felt warm.

"You are being investigated now. If you go to the international prison, it will be hard for you to explain. If it is Major's conspiracy, you will throw yourself into his trap. He earnestly wishes you to leave yourself open to others. Although I don't care if you retire or not, I don't want to see you retire dishonorably due to Major's schemes. Besides, if you leave, I'll be worried about your safety. Why did Petty commit suicide at this time? It can be seen that she is still connected to Major. "

Nicole said so much in one breath that she couldn't help but feel a little thirsty.

Samuel hurriedly handed over a cup of warm water.

Nicole took a sip and continued, "Major is really a big shot. He actually has acquaintances in the international prison."

"He's not that powerful. The international prison only recognizes money. As long as he can afford the money, he can do anything, including making Petty die. Furthermore, he doesn't need to worry about taking any legal consequences."

Samuel said indifferently, looking not surprised by this result.

Nicole suddenly remembered something and told Samuel about the investigation of Bruce.

Samuel was slightly stunned.

"Is Major the son of the king of Country F?"

"Yes, I just knew about it. My spy risked his life to send the message."

Nicole said worriedly, "Samuel, I plan to bring Trevin back after the New Year."

"Alright. But when we go to the international prison..."

"Let Zac do it. The people who don't belong to you will never stay by your side. It is also a trial. If Zac betrays you for Petty, why don't we let them go? Petty is no longer a threat to us, but are you willing to let her go? "

Nicole's words made Samuel feel a little sad.

He hugged Nicole and whispered, "As long as you are by my side, the others are not that important to me."

"I won't leave."

Nicole patted Samuel.

They both had mixed feelings.

Samuel ate something under Nicole's persuasion and suddenly decided to go to find Emory.

Nicole was right. Since Major wanted to deal with them, hiding was not the way.

"Oh right, I always feel that there should be something else in the Green family that Major covets. Otherwise, why is he targeting us again and again? Also, it seems like he is determined to obtain it."

Samuel paid little attention to Nicole's words.

He whispered, "It doesn't matter anymore. Let's be cautious in our actions. I originally planned to have a good New Year, but these people really won't stop."

"That's right. Bring Zoe along. Nash is good to Zoe. Since Emory encountered such a thing, I wonder Nash's condition. Maybe it will be better if Zoe stays by his side."

"That's good."

"This is..."

Nicole was shocked.

Claire laughed, as if it was not a big deal.

"What? Are you afraid?"

"No, I am not. It is just beyond my expectation."

Nicole pulled herself together, but it really astonished her.

She had never thought that Claire was planning on investigating Emory's superior through Night Elf Empire!

So Claire suspected Emory's superior.

Thinking of it, Nicole was scared.

If Claire was right, then it was really formidable because many people were involved in it.

Claire did not push Nicole to do so. She just said indifferently, "Do it if you want to help. If not, just forget it. I'll get the news from the black market."

"You will reveal yourself if you make a deal in the black market. Just leave it to me."

Nicole already calmed down.

Having been on the same side, Emory and Samuel shared common interests. What's more, Nicole couldn't let Claire risk it.

Anyway, Major kept watching Samuel and Nicole, so it didn't matter whatever they did. It would be better for them to take Claire out of it.

Hearing this, Claire became serious.

"Nicole, it is very dangerous."

Holding Nicole's hand, Claire said helplessly, "But you know, only the Night Elf Empire can make it now. Emory is in the prison, and I can't do it by myself. I know you and Samuel are in troubles, but you can do it for your own good. It really matters, so you must keep it only between us. Once you get the evidence, Emory will be saved and some of your problems will be solved, too. "

"What? Do you know what our problem is?"

Claire gave a mysterious smile and didn't say anything else.

Samuel returned soon. He saw Nicole talking with Claire and said, "Are you done? If so, we'll go home."

"Yes."

Nicole stood up, looked at Claire and whispered, "Take care."

"Don't worry. I will take care of myself and the children until Uncle Emory comes back."

Nicole was impressed by her determination.
