Chapter 1161 So We Are Soulmates?

Joseph looked at Laurence. He did not understand what Cynthia meant.

Daddy and mommy did something bad to Uncle Laurence?

How was it possible?

Joseph retreated two steps back subconsciously, even though he was confused. He looked at Laurence with caution.

Laurence was heartbreaking.

"Cynthia, please stop. Give me the phone."

Laurence's hand extended towards Cynthia.

"No, I will never give it to you even if I have to break it. Do you want to let this brat call Samuel? That is impossible with my existence."

When Cynthia finished speaking, she took the phone and was about to leave. Laurence stopped her.

"The phone!"

His voice was much colder, and his expression looked scary.

Cynthia did not expect his reaction. But she immediately became angry in a few seconds.

"You are just a stinking monster. How dare you scold me? Who do you think you are?"

Cynthia said as she was about to beat Laurence.

She thought that Laurence would still take her bully this time. However, Laurence directly dodged. She did not stand still and hit the wall beside her. She also hurt her back.

"My back! Neville! Neville! Laurence is hitting me. Are you coming or not?"

Cynthia still slandered Laurence at a moment like this.

Laurence did not look at Cynthia. He directly took the phone back from her hand and immediately called Nicole. Then, he passed the phone to Joseph.

Joseph was stunned and realized what happened when he heard Nicole's voice.

"Laurence, what is going on?"

"Mommy, it is me. I am Joseph."

Joseph said quickly.

Cynthia did not know what to do when Laurence took the phone. Suddenly, she started to cry so hard.

Laurence frowned. He directly lifted Cynthia from the ground and put her in front of Neville.

Neville was extremely furious when he saw Cynthia being so shameless.

"Are you done messing around? The Miller family's reputation has been completely humiliated by you."

"The Miller family? How dare you mention your family in front of me? Do you think I would agree to marry you if you had not mentioned your powerful family? There were so many people lining up to marry me, why would I choose you? What the result is? You are a coward, you cannot protect your daughter, and now you are shouting at your wife. You are not even a man!"

Cynthia was getting angry at Neville again.

They started another round of fighting.

Laurence was having a headache.

He directly held up Joseph and left the house.

"Cara!"

Laurence felt as if his heart was grabbed by someone, and the pain was killing him.

He hugged Cara tightly and his eyes were already wet.

"Why?"

He seemed to mutter to himself or be at a loss for what to do.

Cara looked at the exceptionally elegant man in front of her. She burst into a smile seeing that he had tears in his eyes because of her.

'Enough!'

'This is enough!'

Cara fainted before she could say anything.

Samuel was prepared, but he didn't expect that Major's men would dare to make a move at Edwin's place. Samuel waved his hand angrily and members of the Green family immediately chased after Major's men.

"Quickly send her to the hospital!"

Feeling like crying, Nicole was worried about Cara.

'This silly girl!'

Nicole knew Cara's feelings for Laurence. She hoped that Cara would be fine and that Laurence would cherish Cara this time and see his feelings clearly.

Didn't Laurence love Cara?

No!

He loved her!

Nicole could tell it from his current expression.

Laurence had always hidden his feelings.

Because of his identity that featured medical value since childhood, he had been too reserved. If Adela was Laurence's sunshine, then after Adela died, Cara had been Laurence's air.

Sunshine is brilliant. Whether you want it or not, after getting up, the sun will shine warmly on your body every day. This gave warmth and anticipation to someone like Laurence, who had been forced into the darkness.

But Cara was like air, silently seeping into Laurence's life. Normally, he didn't feel anything, as if it were fine to have such a person or not. However, once the air was taken away, Laurence felt extreme pain and discomfort.

Samuel did not allow Nicole to follow Cara to the hospital.

"Today is Tim's wedding day. You can't leave. Trust me, Cara will be fine."

Nicole knew that if Samuel said so, he would definitely have a way and even handle it perfectly, but she was still worried.

A pair of small hands held Nicole's palm.

"Mommy, Cara will be fine. Although the bullet went through her shoulder, fortunately, it didn't injure the aorta. We know a lot of doctors. As long as Cara is timely treated, she will be fine."

Joseph looked calm. This child was kidnapped not long ago, but now he was comforting his mother. This thought almost broke Nicole's heart.

"Joseph, it's mommy's fault for not protecting her properly."

"Then, mommy, hug me."

Joseph stretched out his arms towards Nicole.

Seeing the interaction between Nicole and Joseph, Samuel did not say anything. He took out his phone and called Steven.

Joseph could not take another bite.

He was still a kid!

Why did they do it in front of him?

"I'm going to the restroom!"

Joseph stood up, but Nicole grabbed his arm.

"Wait!"

Nicole was afraid Joseph would disappear again as before. She wouldn't let him go alone.

She said to Samuel, "You go with Joseph."

Samuel was kissing Nicole, but Nicole pushed him away. He was unhappy about that.

Joseph said, "It's fine. I'll go with ... with him!"

He pointed to a person beside Samuel.

That person couldn't stand Samuel and Nicole either, so he agreed, "Yes! Let me go with Mr. Joseph!"

Nicole refused, "Don't bother. I'll go."

Nicole then was about to get up, but she heard Samuel say, "Ernesto, go with Joseph. And send Joseph upstairs to rest."

"Yes."

Ernesto came out of nowhere.

It had been a long time since Nicole saw Ernesto.

She felt that Ernesto had changed a lot. He was sharper and calmer.

Seeing Ernesto coming, Joseph heaved a sigh of relief and left with him.

Those women looked at Nicole again. They were somewhat envious.

Nicole felt a little uncomfortable under such a gaze.

"I need to go to the restroom, too."

"I'll go with you then."

Samuel stood up.

Nicole's face flushed.

Why did he say that? Couldn't he see what's going on?

Samuel really didn't know what he should do.

Nicole glared at Samuel and left.

Samuel didn't care about others. He just wanted to be with Nicole.

When Nicole just got into the corridor of the restroom, Samuel hugged Nicole and pressed her against the wall.

He carried a smell of alcohol.

"Stop."

Nicole's heart was racing and she was a little flustered.

Samuel's eyes retained their melting quality, making Nicole sink.

"Who is that?"

Samuel frowned slightly, but he still let Nicole wash up first.

A voice that was familiar to Samuel came from outside.

"It's me, Samuel. Didn't you say that you wanted to tease the bride and bridegroom with us? Are you coming or not?"

It was Blair's voice.

Samuel looked at the time and said indifferently, "You guys go to the bridal chamber first. I'll bring Nicole to eat now. Otherwise, we won't have the strength."

"You have been hiding in your room all afternoon and no one knows what you've been doing. How can you have no strength?"

A deep meaning was hidden in Blair's words.

"You can go to sleep in your own room."

Samuel scolded him.

Blair was a little depressed.

He also wanted, but the key point was that Gabrielle was pregnant.

He rubbed his nose and left.

When Samuel returned, he saw that Nicole had washed up and walked out of the bathroom.

"Who is it?"

"Blair, he asks us if we are going to the bridal chamber."

Samuel took the towel and wiped Nicole's hair. Then he found a hairdryer to dry her hair.

Nicole was stunned for a moment, and then smiled. "You'd better not go too far."

"Am I that kind of person who is so crude?"

Samuel was really cunning. Nicole didn't know how to answer him.

After Nicole's hair was dry, Samuel also took a shower, changed the clothes and went downstairs with Nicole.

The servants had prepared food for them.

Nicole and Samuel finished the meal quietly before coming to the door of Tim and Evelyn's bridal chamber.

Blair and the others were surrounding Tim and Evelyn.

An apple was hung by a red rope and Tim and Evelyn needed to take a bite at it at the same time. However, Blair and others were too cunning. Every time Tim and Evelyn were going to bite, the apple would be pulled up, and their lips would touch.

Evelyn quickly flushed and her neck even became red.

Tim was infatuated when seeing this. Regardless of how many people there were, he hugged Evelyn and kissed her.

Samuel smiled faintly and said, "Are you really teasing the bride and bridegroom? Isn't this just a chance for Tim to kiss his wife?"

Seeing that Samuel was here, everyone stopped. They felt that Samuel wasn't someone that would do something like this. However, since he was here, they could not let him just stand there.

"Since Mr. Green is here, may I ask Mr. Green how should we do in the bridal chamber?"

Blair asked with a smile.

Samuel took out two raw eggs and handed them to Evelyn.

Evelyn was slightly stunned.

Tim and Evelyn spent a whole day picking the locks and they finally did it at dawn.

Tim had a really long night when he watched his beloved wife walking around and her scent turned him on, but he was unable to do anything. That feeling was really bad.

Samuel waked up at midnight and picked Nicole up.

Half asleep, Nicole didn't want to open her eyes but just wrapped her arms around Samuel's neck and asked confusedly, "Where are we going?"

"Just go back to sleep. I won't harm you, you know."

Samuel said with a doting smile.

Nicole agreed so she asked no more and soon fell asleep again in Samuel's arms.

Samuel carried Nicole out of the bedroom, wrapped a coat around her, and then quietly walked out of the house.

Ernesto was waiting outside. When he saw them, he hurriedly pulled open the car door.

"Mr. Green, all's ready."

"Let's go,"

Samuel nodded.

Ernesto started the car.

Tim heard the engine and paused.

"Who goes out so late?"

"Who cares? Our task today is to pick the locks! The locks!" Evelyn said dejectedly.

She was going crazy.

It was her wedding night, okay? Why was she doing a locksmith's job here?

Tim helped her with the locks while cursing Samuel in his heart.

Samuel's ears were burning. He knew that Tim and Evelyn must be cursing him, but he didn't care. It served them right because they had picked on his wife when he was not around.

The car drove all the way to the airport where a private plane was waiting.

Ernesto parked the car, opened the door and whispered to Samuel, "Mr. Green, are you sure you don't need us?"

"Yes. Take good care of our family and keep Major's men off as much as possible,"

Samuel said a little seriously.

"Yes, Sir. When are you coming back?"

"12:00 p.m."

With that, Samuel carried Nicole out of the car and got on the plane.

After a few hours, the plane arrived at Samcole Island.

It was almost dawn.

Samuel carefully carried Nicole to the room.

When Nicole woke up, she seemed to hear the waves.

She was a little puzzled. When she opened her eyes, she saw a somewhat familiar room. For a moment, she couldn't figure out where she was.

Nicole lifted the blanket and got up. The incessant waves attracted her to the window. Involuntarily, she opened the window.

The vast sea brought along a sea breeze, refreshing Nicole a lot.

Sally?

Nicole was stunned.

Wasn't it wrong time for her to come back?

Why was she still back?

Had someone sent message to Edwin or not?

Samuel paused for a moment as Nicole was stunned. He followed her gaze and saw Sally too.

Sally walked out of the airport hurriedly alone and no one followed her. She wore sunglasses and a hat. People that didn't know her well would not recognize her.

"Ernesto, send someone to follow her."

"Yes, Mr. Green."

Ernesto did as Samuel ordered right away.

"Samuel, what brings Sally back? Did something happen at the Seapolis City? Will Zayn come? Will Major be here?"

Nicole was a little worried.

Samuel put his arm round her tightly and said, "Forget about it. Let's go."

"Alright."

They back to the Shaw's villa while they were still thinking about this.

However, Samuel and Nicole were attacked by Tim as soon as they walked in.

"Samuel, you're such a wicked man. Haven't you said that you are going to get married today? Where were you then?"

"The wedding is over."

Samuel said indifferently and threw them a USB flash disk.

Out of curiosity, Tim plugged the USB flash disk into a TV. The wedding video was played on at once.

Nicole was stunned. She had no idea when Samuel made this video. As soon as she saw how happy Samuel and she were in the video, Nicole smiled.

Tim was depressed.

"You are so wicked. Is this your wedding?"

"Yes, it is. I've never asked you to attend our wedding ceremony."

Samuel said calmly. Tim was a little angry after he heard Samuel's reply.

"But you said yesterday that I could play tricks on you two as you did on me."

"Sorry, it's almost twelve o'clock and today is over. You had the chance, yet you didn't cherish it. Don't blame me."

Hearing Samuel's outrageous words, Tim really wished to kill him.

Evelyn shook her head.

Tim could never take advantage of Samuel, but he refused to admit it.

"Nicole, you must be very tired after taking a long flight. Why don't you go to bed early?"

Evelyn said.

Nicole smiled and said, "I'm fine. I'll stay up late to greet the New Year with you. Where's Grandpa?"

"Edwin is in his room. He said that he would come downstairs when you are back."

Nicole wanted to see Edwin.

Samuel knew what was in Nicole mind and nodded.

Chapter 1167 Let Nature Take Its Course

"Who needs sleeping pills? Do you? What's wrong? You can't fall asleep?"

Joseph asked a series of questions.

Lucas touched his head irritably and said, "I can't sleep although I'm very tired. Once I close my eyes, I will think of Lexie's body. I just can't fall asleep."

He sat beside Joseph and said in a sad voice, "You don't know that Lexie's father is still in the hospital, and her mother cries hard. Previously I never knew what the responsibility was? I used to think that I wanted to be as famous as Daddy in the military compound. But now I know that being a soldier is a sacred profession. Whether you are a famous or an ordinary soldier, everyone is the same in face of protecting the country. We can't reduce casualties. In the meanwhile, we still can't face death. Lexie seemed to be chatting and laughing with us just a few days ago. But now she's actually gone. Everyone is bidding farewell to the old and welcoming the New Year with joy in the sound of firecrackers. But what about our soldiers? We are defending our country. Some are standing guard in the frontier, some are performing peacekeeping missions abroad, and some are fighting on the frontline. I don't know why I come back. I'm very tired. I just want to sleep. I really want to have a good sleep."

Hearing it, Joseph suddenly felt distressed.

He had no idea of the life in military and didn't understand their friendship. But he knew Lucas' sadness.

Joseph gently held Lucas' hand and whispered, "After New Year, we are all one year older."

"Yeah, one year older."

Lucas smiled.

Joseph gave Lucas a small bottle.

"This is a perfume good for sleeping. I just made it. I'll put it on your bed with a few flowers. The entire room will be filled with the fragrance. Then you will have a good sleep. You are too young. And the ingredients of sleeping pills are not good for your health."

Lucas took the bottle and nodded.

"Joseph, don't tell it to Daddy and Mommy. I don't want to worry them."

"Alright, but you have to promise me to take care of yourself. If you cannot keep it, I'll tell them. I don't know what they'll do then."

With Joseph's threat, Lucas had no choice but to follow what he said.

"Let's go. It's almost twelve o'clock."

Lucas put the perfume into his pocket and went downstairs.

Joseph also tidied himself up and came down.

Since it was New Year's Eve, everyone gathered at the living room table and said auspicious words happily to Mr. Shaw.

Sitting by the side, Nicole and Samuel watched the children come down and said with a smile, "Tim and Evelyn, at this time next year, we hope you can have your own baby."

Evelyn's face was a little red.

"Let nature take its course."

Tim held Evelyn's hand tightly.

At twelve o'clock, the bell rang outside.

Everyone said Happy New Year to Edwin.

Edwin smiled.

"Happy New Year to everyone! Come here. I'll give you some lucky money."

Mr. Shaw took out the red envelopes with money in it and handed them out to both adults and children. He had prepared these in advance

"What's the matter?"

Seeing that Samuel was upset, Nicole was concerned.

Samuel whispered, "Ernesto lost her."

"How come?"

Nicole was very surprised.

Ernesto was quite skilled and never failed to reach his goal. How come he failed this time?

Was he caught by Sally?

Nicole was confused.

Lucas was glued to his phone.

Joseph could tell from Lucas' complexion that he slept quite well last night.

All in all, Lucas was under too much pressure.

One of them was on his phone, and the other reading a medical book. Neither of them talked.

Nicole stopped asking. It was not a good time to ask when the children were there.

When they arrived at Emory's, Nicole found that there were more people than before.

Samuel was slightly stunned for a moment, and then he got out of the car with the children.

"Sorry, Commander, we can't let you in. This is an order from the higher-ups."

The guards stopped them.

Samuel was getting angry.

"Do you know who I am? How dare you stop me?"

"Commander, I'm sorry. I know who you are, but this is a controlled area. No one is allowed to enter."

The guards were in a difficult situation.

Nicole frowned and said, "Our daughter is still inside. Can we take her home?"

"This should be possible."

The guard went in to report to Zoe.

Not long after, Zoe came out. When she saw Samuel and Nicole, she rubbed her eyes and said, "Daddy, Mommy, I can't go home with you. Nash has a fever, and I have to be with him."

Samuel was touched.

"Zoe, be aware that you won't be able to see Daddy and Mommy for a long time if you don't leave now. People can't go into Uncle Emory's house recently."

Samuel knew that once it became like this, it was very likely that the Cawker family was banned from contacting others.

Chapter 1169 Let's Wait and See What Will Happen

Sally was stunned for a moment as Samuel was quite straightforward.

"What is it?"

Sally smiled faintly and took a sip of tea from the teacup in front of her.

Samuel knew that he was blunt, but he had no intention to avoid. He asked, "Ms. Sally, you're such a powerful and well-connected lady in Country F over the years. I suppose that you should have some precautions if you were exposed. May I ask how you come to such wretched situation?"

Sally's hand trembled and a slight pain flashed in her eyes.

"Indeed, I had a back-up plan. I will not be in such situation even if I am exposed. But I didn't expect that a traitor is among my men. It's my fault. I would not be in such wretched situation if that traitor didn't betray Morgan and me."

Samuel did not say anything.

Indeed, the traitor was a good excuse. It was also a reason to explain why she was in such bad situation. However, it was a special period now. Samuel would only believe one third of what he heard and he would only be convinced by facts of the rest.

"You still don't believe me, do you?"

Sally knew that she showed up in the Seapolis City suddenly. Nicole and Samuel wouldn't believe her as they were vigilant.

She smiled bitterly and said, "Forget it. Pretend that I didn't look for you. I'll deal with it by my own."

"Sally, we have never said that we won't help you. We've found you a house. Samuel and I just want to go to Country F. Major wanted to kill me. I got the news that he would attack me on the New Year's Eve. But nothing happened. It's not his style. Now you came back at this sensitive moment. We just ask you questions routinely."

Nicole said calmly with a light smile on her face.

Sally frowned tightly.

"I'm afraid that Major has no time to kill you."

"What do you mean?"

Both Samuel and Nicole were stunned.

Sally sneered and said, "Santino and Zayn fight with each other deadly and Major wants to take over. Santino spread the news not long ago that Zayn is a gay. He tried to destroy the marriage between Zayn and the daughter of Prime Minister. Indeed, Zayn is my son. Zayn was well prepared before Santino spread the news. As soon as the news came out, Zayn fought back right away. The battle between them started and it went intense. By this moment, someone revealed news about Major's background. It was said that he was Zayn's half-brother and Lillian was his biological mother. The king has begun to investigate now. Major is under house arrest. "

Hearing the news, both Nicole and Samuel paused for a moment.

Even they had known Major's identity and he would be used by Zayn for fighting against Santino. Zayn would have a chance to survive as long as he made a mess.

However, Nicole and Samuel didn't expect the news to spread so quickly.

Samuel was the first one to figure it out.

"Zayn has been in the entertainment industry for years and he is quite good at manipulating the media and public opinion."

Nicole nodded.

Nicole couldn't understand it.

Now I realized that the king might have known it. He didn't get me exposed only because of Zayn. Zayn is my son. The king planned to let Zayn seize power and balance Santino's force. "The Don's?"

Samuel frowned since it was beyond his expectation.

He tilted his head and looked at Nicole. Seeing Nicole was also surprised, he subconsciously whispered, "Continue to follow."

"Yes."

After hanging up the phone, the two of them were at a loss for words.

Nicole shuddered slightly.

Did it have anything to do with the Don family?

The last thing she wanted was to see it related to the Don family.

After all, that was her parents' family that she cared about the most!

Samuel suddenly said, "Why don't we go to the Don's as well?"

"What?"

Nicole was a little surprised.

Seeing his wife like this, Samuel felt a little distressed.

"Nicole, today is the first day of the New Year. We can visit your parents."

"But Uncle Jason had been to grandpa's house."

Nicole was bewildered.

Samuel smiled and held her into his arms. He said considerately, "That's Uncle Jason's New Year greeting to grandfather, not to juniors like us, right? That's your parents' family. You can say you're homesick and want to go back to keep Uncle Jason company. I don't think Uncle Jason will decline, on the contrary, he will be very happy, right? Or maybe we can sleep there tonight."

Nicole was instantly enlightened by Samuel's words.

"Right, it's quite reasonable for me to go back to the Don's."

"My silly wife."

Samuel knew that Nicole cared about the Don family deep in her mind. From the bottom of her heart, she did not want the Don family to be related to Sally, but sometimes it was more likely to occur if she was afraid of it.

He could only hug Nicole tightly.

"Nicole."

"What?"

"I want to kiss you."

When Samuel said this, Nicole was at a loss as if she didn't understand. Ever since she found out that Sally had gone to the Don's, she kind of had brain farts.

This was so-called too much concern could only mess people's sanity.

Samuel did not say anything and just kissed Nicole.

Nicole zoned out for a second, and then all of her sanity was taken away by this kiss.

Samuel gasped slightly. When he let go of Nicole, he saw his wife gasping for breath. Her scarlet face indulged Samuel into fantasy.

He suddenly felt a little horny.

However, in this situation, Samuel knew that he could only enjoy this far.
