Chapter 1181 What Grudges Was He Holding Against Them?

"Your second uncle?"

Jason smiled awkwardly and said, "I don't seem to remember. Please don't laugh at me."

"What?"

Nicole was somewhat shocked.

"Uncle Jason, this isn't funny."

"I'm serious. Your second uncle and your father are 18 years older than me. When your grandmother was pregnant with me, she wanted to get an abortion. She said that people would laugh at her for giving birth to a baby at such an old age. Besides, your father and second uncle were adults at that time. She was afraid that they wouldn't accept a brother who was 18 years younger than them. I heard that it was your father and second uncle who persuaded your grandmother to have me."

Speaking of this, Jason was a little upset. Although Mrs. Don really loved him after he was born, he was not happy to learn the fact that his fate was decided by his elder brothers.

Now Nicole asked about her second uncle, Jason had no choice but to tell her the whole story.

Nicole was also a little surprised.

It seemed that she had always neglected the age gap between her father and Uncle Jason.

Uncle Jason was only in his early thirties now. Because she always called him Uncle Jason, she almost forgot his age.

Thinking of this, Nicole couldn't help but laugh.

"You're laughing at me?"

Nicole's smile resolved the unhappiness between them.

Jason liked the way things went. So he no longer cared about being ashamed. He thought for a moment and said, "In my memory, your father was a calm man and your second uncle was very naughty and rebellious. But they were very close to each other. When I went to kindergarten, they were in college. At that time, your second uncle enjoyed a carefree life and liked travelling. He wasn't even at home during the holidays. But the entire family often received postcards and gifts from him. Actually, your second uncle was a very careful and considerate person. Although he didn't see us very often, he knew about us. His gifts always suited our appetite. That's why I know that he cares about us in his heart. "

At this point, Jason was a little sad.

"Nicole, when Sally told me the truth, I was really angry. Do you understand? I was angry that your second uncle abandoned the whole family just for a woman. And he has abandoned us for so many years! He never showed up, even when your father died. Later, your grandmother passed away. I don't believe he didn't know this. But he still didn't come back. This isn't his style. Even if he had dispute over a woman with your father, I don't believe that he would stay away from home for so many years just because of this. I don't believe that he would refuse to visit his families when they passed away. He didn't even send a single word. I mean, this is so strange."

Jason looked straight at Nicole.

Nicole was suddenly stunned.

She didn't know much about her second uncle. But Jason's words were not groundless.

Moreover, if what Jason said was true, it meant that her second uncle would not betray his family. Maybe something had made him unable to return or he could not return.

Chapter 1182 Is Zoe Targeted?

Seeing Nicole's thoughtful expression, Jason was regretful. If he knew that this matter had something to do with the incidents in the past, he should have asked Mrs. Don about it when she was still alive so that he wouldn't have been so passive now.

"Forget it. Leave these matters to me. Just go have fun with Samuel and the children."

"OK."

Nicole had come up with a thought, but she forgot it. She just nodded in agreement while Jason was speaking.

Samuel had walked out when Jason was speaking.

Nicole looked at Samuel with a gentle smile.

"Is Zoe asleep?"

"Yes, she has not had such a sound sleep for a long time."

Samuel felt sorry for Zoe.

What a terrible place the Cawker's was now!

At the Cawker's, the food-loving Zoe did not even dare to eat in a relaxed way. And surely, she didn't sleep well there. Zoe, however, insisted on staying there to be with Nash. Samuel felt sorry for the hardship that Zoe had experienced there. The hardship could have been avoided, if Zoe had not stayed. It was Zoe's own fault, but Samuel did not want to blame her.

Now, being with her parents, Zoe finally had a chance to have a good rest. She was so sleepy that she might not wake up until tomorrow morning.

Samuel was torn by his conflicting thoughts.

Hearing Samuel's words, Nicole felt a pang of guilt for letting Zoe suffer.

"Samuel, why don't we stay tonight?"

Samuel clearly knew why Nicole said so.

It was all because of her deep love for her daughter. She wanted her daughter to have a good rest. Besides, they had no idea why a car had followed them just now. It was not a good idea to leave with a sleeping child.

"Uncle Jason, can we stay here?"

"Of course. This is your home. I know you are also tired. Have some sleep now."

Jason knew that this couple wanted to have a private conversation, so he went away on his wheelchair.

Nicole and Samuel returned to the bedroom and saw that Zoe was in a sound sleep. Nicole felt ached for her.

"It did surprise me that our carefree and food-loving Zoe was committed to taking care of Nash and Naomi."

Nicole smiled bitterly.

Samuel stroked her shoulder and whispered to her, "Zoe knew that she was well protected by us and her brothers. She was a carefree foodie at home, but she was much more than that. This time, she initiated to take care of the Cawker family. She did so not only because that Nash treated her well, but also because she knew that how important our relationship with the Cawker family was.

"Mommy, can't I?"

Zoe's palms were wet. When she looked at Nicole with clear big eyes, Nicole softened.

"Why do you want to go to such a place?"

Nicole asked gently and even patted Zoe's back.

Zoe looked down and whispered, "Lucas said that the Harper Town was fun. So I want to go and take a look. If Mommy doesn't want to, then forget it."

"Alright."

Nicole's answer stunned Zoe.

Alright?

What did she mean?

Did Nicole disagree?

Or did she want to go there?

Zoe was a little depressed.

But if she continued to ask, would it arouse Nicole's suspicions?

Thrown in an inner conflict, Zoe was anxious. Then she heard Nicole say gently, "Even if you want to go to the bottom of the hell, mommy will keep you company and guarantee your safety, let alone the Harper Town."

On hearing it, Zoe suddenly looked up and her eye became wet under Nicole's tender and doting eyes.

"Mommy."

She hugged Nicole tightly.

"Silly girl, you haven't slept peacefully in the Cawker's in the past few days, have you? Daddy and mommy will sleep with you tonight, okay?"

Nicole's remark shocked Zoe.

'How does mommy know that I didn't sleep soundly in the Cawker's?'

Zoe wanted to ask something, but Nicole lay down with her arms around Zoe.

Like before, Nicole had Zoe's head pillow on her arms. Then, she patted Zoe gently and sang the familiar lullaby in a gentle voice.

Nicole's voice was a bit husky, but it sounded comfortable.

Zoe was thinking, and slowly fell asleep again with the singing.

Nicole looked at her daughter's sleeping face with a trace of affection in her tender eyes.

When Samuel came out of the bathroom, Nicole was a little sleepy, but she looked at Zoe with tender eyes.

"I'm getting a little jealous since you behave like this."

Samuel kissed Nicole and the latter burst into laughter.

"You are jealous of your daughter? Are you ashamed?"

"No."

Chapter 1184 You Don't Have Many Chances

Nicole still didn't come in. Jason was afraid that she would catch a cold outside in such a cold day, so he hurriedly said, "Nicole, come in if you have something to say. It is cold on the balcony."

Was it cold?

Nicole didn't think so.

Only at this moment did she realize how furious she was.

Nicole definitely hated Sally. But when she knew that Sally almost died, she remembered Audrey who died in the fire.

Audrey looked beautiful as she was determined to sacrifice herself.

They were twins from the Shaw family. So why did they have different lives and personalities?

Nicole felt a sharp pain in her heart.

She noticed that Jason was coming to the balcony. Thinking of Jason's disability, Nicole took a deep breath, opened the balcony door and walked out.

"Nicole...."

"Uncle Jason, how did you know that something happened to Sally? Have you been watching me? Are you afraid that I'll take a revenge on her?"

Nicole's eyes were so cold that Jason was a little scared.

"Nicole, I don't mean to watch you. I just want to know your second uncle' whereabouts from her. I didn't tell you about your second uncle earlier. I secretly sent people to keep an eye on Sally only for this purpose."

"But when Sally was killed, why didn't your people save her timely?"

Nicole's question stunned Jason slightly.

She still cared about Sally after all.

He could tell from her expression and actions that she hated Sally. Even Nicole herself felt that way. But once something happened to Sally, Nicole would be anxious, and even a little irritable.

Jason suddenly realized Nicole's true feeling. He couldn't help but feel sorry for her.

"Nicole, that's your Night Elf Empire. My people are in the dark, but your people are not. How can I take any action when Sally is in your territory? Besides, I only wanted to find Elvis' whereabouts through her. I didn't want to interfere in your business."

Nicole knew that she vented her anger on Jason after hearing his words.

She hadn't had such kind of emotion for many years.

"Are you saying that my mother went to see you and was taken as you, so she was poisoned?"

Nicole trembled, and her eyes were filled with hatred for Sally.

Sally's tears flowed uncontrollably.

"I'm sorry. I'm really sorry."

"Do you think your apology can solve all the problems? Why do you think I can forgive you with just an apology? She was my mom! When you were young, you plotted against her, causing her and my father to separate for a lifetime. And since I was born, I didn't know who my biological parents were. I went through all the hardships to find my biological mother, only to find that she had cancer and would soon die. Why do you think you can cancel out so many things with just an apology? Sally, how could you? Is it just because you are my mother's sister, and because you are related to me?"

Nicole pushed Sally angrily. Her hands trembled so much as if she wanted to grab her neck and break it.

Sally's wound was torn, and she trembled and went into spasm, but she could not fight back.

"I know you hate me, and I know I'm sorry for my sister, but what can I do? I was destined to have a miserable fate since I was born. I was brought away from my parents just a few hours after I was born. Do you know how I got through all these years? No, you don't know! No one knows!"

Sally suddenly burst into tears.

"I was tossed into the primeval mountain forest from a young age. I had to learn how to survive in the harsh environment by snatching food with the beasts. When I was bitten by a beast and almost died for several times, I yearned for my parents' care and love so much. However, every time I woke up from my dreams, I was filled with despair. I thought there would be a turning point in my life when I finally left the forest and was thrown to an island to train with children of the same age, but I was wrong. It was a massacre. If I didn't kill others, I was going to be killed."

"Do you know how it felt like to kill someone for the first time? I was eight that year. When you were eight-year-old, what were you doing? Cuddling in your parents' arms? While you were fantasizing about whether you would have new clothes to wear tomorrow, I was killing people! At eighteen, the most beautiful age, you fantasized about love and your prince charming, but what about me? I was trained to be a professional assassin, using my beauty to accomplish my mission. There was no reward for completing the mission, and I could only live like a walking corpse. However, if I failed the mission, the punishment would be like hell on earth, a cruelty you can't even imagine!"

"What could I do? I used to resist and try to run away, but I failed. I was like a fish on a chopping board, which could only be slaughtered. When I received the mission to approach William, I knew for the first time that I had parents and a sister, but my sister was the target of my mission. I watched her spend so many years happily with her parents and watched her fall in love with her prince charming. Do you know how much I hated and envied her at that time? Why wasn't she the one who was kidnapped back then, but me? I know that I was crazy. I kept scolding myself every day, but I still had to carry out my mission. No one knew the torment in my heart."

"I wanted to identify myself with her. I wanted to tell her that I was her twin sister, but I was discovered just when I thought of it. Do you know what I went through because of it? I was drowned in the water for more than an hour with my head pressed down! That pungent feeling was like a blunt knife cutting flesh. I couldn't struggle away, and I couldn't die. They tortured my mind again and again, whipped my body, and drove away the remained little bit of compassion and kindness of mine. I'm a killer! I can't have feelings, nor my own freedom. And I can't even have any other thoughts! I want to live, and I must lose something if I want to get the freedom. Nicole, I just want to live. Living is easy and simple for you all, but for me. It is a kind of extravagant hope for me! Do you understand? "

Sally was already sobbing.

Nicole suddenly didn't know what to say.

She had never experienced such a life before. She did not know what she would do if she were Sally.

She wanted to say some harsh words, but she couldn't.

Did she hate Sally?

Yes, she did.

After all, because of Sally, her mother and father were separated for a lifetime.

But did she empathize Sally?

Yes, she did.

Seeing Sally cry so hard, Nicole wanted to go forward, hug Sally in her arms and say, "It's fine. You're home now, and you still have us."

Chapter 1186 Who Hurt You?

Nicole was slightly stunned. She didn't expect this to happen, but she didn't feel any uneasiness as she walked towards that person.

"Looks like you are pretty capable."

Looking at Sally, whose face was pale, Nicole couldn't help but speak.

Sally looked at Nicole and suddenly coughed. She whispered, "If it weren't for these abilities, I wouldn't be alive now."

"When did you find out that I was following you?"

Nicole was a little surprised.

She learned tracking from Samuel. Although she wasn't very good at it, she was not bad. However, she didn't expect that her tracking was like a joke to Sally. Nicole couldn't help but want to know when Sally found her.

Sally looked at the gloomy sky outside and whispered, "Just now. You have followed me for a while. Not bad."

This sentence could be considered a compliment. Nicole had no intention to be humble. She simply took it.

"That's grandmother's tomb? How did you know she was buried here?"

Nicole asked curiously without any displeasure or embarrassment.

Sally looked into Nicole's eyes. Nicole didn't know what she was thinking about. Finally, Sally sighed and said, "Nicole, I will only bring you trouble if I stay with you. Moreover, that person is quite powerful. Please let me leave."

"Trouble? Now you realize you are trouble for me. When you came to me, why didn't realize that? Don't tell me you didn't think about it at that time"

A trace of mockery can be seen in Nicole's curled lips.

For a moment, Sally got a mixed feeling. But it was gone very soon. Finally, she whispered, "If it weren't for the conversation just now, perhaps I would have stayed here. However, you hate me so much, how can I..."

"Because you made my parents separate from each other for a lifetime, you are afraid that I would go against you? Please rest assured. I won't. Nevertheless, you are my grandfather's family. I don't care whether you will use me and my grandfather because of this. I just can't give up on you. In your current state of health, leaving is not easy for you. Moreover, that person injured when you were unguarded. He must be no stranger to you. You know the person who assassinated you, right?"

Nicole asked peacefully, but she was secretly paying attention to Sally.

Sally suddenly trembled. A trace of injury and coldness flashed through her eyes.

Apparently, Nicole was right.

"Go back with me. No trouble in the Seapolis City can ever frighten me. Besides, some trouble is not here because of you. I'm a Don, a Shaw, and Mrs. Green. Trouble comes with such triple identities. Since that's the case, why should I be afraid of the trouble you're talking about?"

Nicole said indifferently. There was no fluctuation in her tone, but these words revealed the softness of her heart.

Sally looked at Nicole for a long time before she suddenly sighed and said, "You are just like your mother. You two are very similar. I still remembered the day she found me. She also said to me with such an expression, 'Go back. No matter what you have done, Mom and Dad will not blame you.' At that time, her indifference was the same as yours. I thought that she treated me so indifferently because she was ordered by her parents and because she didn't like me, but she had to take me home. So I didn't appreciate her kindness at that time. Until she was poisoned because someone thought she was me. When she came back, she still said calmly to me, 'Don't be afraid, you're not alone. I'm fine with this poison. Don't be too sad and blame yourself.' That's when I realized how narrow-minded and stupid I am."

Hearing what Sally said, Nicole felt so complicated in her heart.

Chapter 1187 She Can't Hurt My Family

Sally's eyes suddenly turned cold.

She swung her kick and quickly stretched out her arm.

The opponent seemed to be very clear about her moves. The moment Sally launched an attack, he reacted. But he was not as good as Sally.

After Sally fainted, a dagger slid down her sleeve and abruptly cut her opponent's arm. Taking advantage of the short space that the opponent was slightly stunned, a light blade in the palm of Sally's other hand abruptly cut his opponent's neck.

Red blood sprayed onto Sally's face, giving her pale face a new color. Coupled with her cold smile, she looked a little scary.

The opponent slowly fell to the ground, turning into a dead body. However, he rounded his eyes with puzzlement.

Sally coldly looked in a certain direction, where a red dot flashed.

Her smile carried a trace of indifference and determination, as well as bitterness.

The sniper could clearly see Sally's current expression through the observation mirror. Just as she was about to pull the trigger, she suddenly saw Sally make a move. The sniper stopped, and a hint of hesitation flashed across her cold eyes.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Sally quickly escaped from the scene.

When the sniper tried to find Sally again, she had lost his best opportunity.

The sniper sighed and put away her sniper rifle.

A woman beside her asked in confusion, "Morgan, are you going to let her go just like that?"

Knowing that Sally disappeared, the sniper, Morgan, said coldly, "Let her go? Did you see I let her go? You are not her match so that she managed to escape."

"But Morgan, you just..."

Before the woman could finish, Morgan sliced through her neck with the hidden saber in her hand. Her technique was exactly the same as Sally's.

"You kill me so as to silence me. You..."

The woman still wanted to say something, but she could only cover her neck and fall down.

Morgan ignored the bloodstains on the dark saber and withdrew her sniper rifle as if no one else was watching.

A silly little girl wasn't qualified to teach her.

Did Morgan kill this person because she saw everything just now?

Why did Morgan pause just now?

She saw Sally's gesture.

It was a gesture that only they knew the meaning of it. It brought back too many memories. It was a testimony of their mutual trust when they were at stake.

However, she wanted to kill Sally.

At that moment, Morgan knew that Sally had completely done with her.

Chapter 1188 I Shouldn't Have Left Her Here Alone

Lucas held Joseph so tightly that Joseph couldn't breathe anymore.

Joseph looked at Lucas in his arms. The coldness in his eyes faded slowly, and the surrounding seemed to warm up bit by bit.

Yes.

He still had them.

These people were his relatives, brothers by blood.

Only they would be sincere to him, no conspiracy and trade-offs.

Joseph's eyes slipped down a tear again.

He hugged Lucas and put Lucas' face against his neck. He choked, "Lucas, thanks to you, otherwise..."

Otherwise, he wouldn't even know what the meaning of living in this world was.

Joseph did not say these words, but he swore secretly that everyone in this family would be the one who had to protect in his life, even if he had to sacrifice his life.

This was the meaning and value of his life!

After the last wisp of coldness in his eyes dissipated, he let go of Lucas and smiled, "When did we become like this?"

After hearing that he could joke, Lucas put out his fist and punched him.

"You're the sissy. Who was crying just now?"

Joseph abruptly wiped away his tears and stubbornly said, "Did you get something in your eyes? You can't see clearly in daylight."

"Joseph, you are shameless. You cried and even called me blind? Who did you learn it from?"

"Didn't I learn everything from you? You are the boss, Lucas."

A few words from Joseph immediately stunned Lucas.

Lucas was speechless!

When did Joseph become so mean?

Lucas wrinkled his nose. When he saw Joseph come to the computer to check Morgan's whereabouts, he felt a little distressed and said, "Well, leave this matter to me, or tell Daddy and Mommy. I heard that Sally asked Mommy to find Morgan's whereabouts. After all, you are her student. There are some things you can't do."

"There's nothing I can't do. Didn't you also say that? Sally asked Mommy to look for her. There's nothing wrong with me coming forward."

Joseph said indifferently, a trace of coldness flashing through his eyes.

He was the boss of his generation, so he should take care of his family and siblings. He would not let anyone harm his family!

Joseph was as straightforward as ever in making choices.

He would try his best for the relationships that were worth it, but when they were not worth it...

Joseph's heart ached for a moment, but he still insisted.

Unworthy relationships depended on who was more scheming and whose heart was more ruthless.

After all, he was just a child. After making such a decision, Joseph gave Lucas a look.

"Where exactly is this?"

"The First Cemetery, but it's probably useless even if we rush over. She won't stay there and wait for us to go."

Lucas' words caused Joseph to pause slightly.

"She's in the Seapolis City?"

"So far, it looks like this."

Chapter 1189 Haven't You Found a Cure Yet?

After Joseph came down, Zoe stuffed him something nice to eat, which warmed Joseph.

"Thank you, Zoe."

Joseph's smile was light, but sincere.

Lucas took one glance and said nothing. He knew now why Zoe did that.

Zoe paid more attention to Joseph because she wanted him to feel welcome, while Lucas was her biological brother, she didn't need to do that.

But why did he feel somewhat jealous?

Lucas then went back to his room.

Joseph and Zoe really hit it off, so Nicole just left them alone and went to the living room.

Edwin was saying something to Samuel. He seemed in a good mood.

Nicole was heavy of heart not knowing Sally's whereabouts, but she forced a smile and walked over.

"Samuel and I are taking the children out for these days. If you need anything, call Jason."

"Well, I'm not alone. Don't worry, I'll be fine. It's you guys who should be careful. Keeping your head down will protect you from any harm, okay?"

Edwin had a worried look on his face.

Nicole nodded. She hesitated for a second and decided to say nothing about it.

Just wait until she found Sally.

Something moved in Nicole's eyes.

Samuel knew what she was thinking with just one glance. Therefore, he ended the conversation with Edwin soon.

"Let's go upstairs, too."

"OK."

They then went upstairs.

Nicole was thinking nothing but Sally. Although she wasn't a nice person, what she had experienced saddened her. And Nicole had no idea whether she was alive or not.

As soon as they went in the room, Samuel said in a low voice, "I need the bathroom."

"Oh, OK."

Nicole didn't find it strange, so she just did her things.

After Samuel walked in the bathroom, he fell to the floor.

Chapter 1190 His Days Are Numbered

After Joseph returned to the bedroom, he knelt on the floor heavily. The sweat dripped down his forehead.

How could this be?

He abruptly ran to the bookshelf and took out the ancient books from the Harper Town. He searched in it bit by bit, being afraid that he would miss something. Unfortunately, he had read through it from cover to cover, but there was no relevant method to cure Samuel.

Samuel was clearly poisoned!

He was not poisoned recently. Instead, someone had been poisoning him for a long time.

But how?

Daddy had been healthy. Moreover, if he was poisoned, even by a chronic poison, it was impossible that nobody noticed it.

For so many years, Samuel had Blair by his side. It was impossible that Blair had been unaware the poison, so why didn't Blair notice?

Moreover, he had only taken Samuel's pulse just now, but he was terrified.

This poison had probably penetrated his internal organs.

How should he tell mommy that?

How dare he tell her?

Now he didn't even know what poison it was. What should he do?

Joseph was completely at a loss.

In the past, when he encountered a trouble like this, he would call Morgan immediately. But now, could he?

Morgan couldn't tell if she was an enemy or a friend now. What if she used this opportunity to hurt the Green family, his daddy, and mommy?

Joseph was in a mess.

Nicole was somewhat aware of what was happening.

Samuel's ashen face was deathly pale. It could not simply be caused by neuralgia.

Moreover, his body was extremely cold. Even though the air conditioning in the room was turned on to 30 degrees, which made her sweat profusely, there was still a trace of white frost in Samuel's breath.

Yes.

White frost.

It was like the steam of people's breath in the outdoor winter.

Even if she didn't study medicine, she knew that this was not normal.

Moreover, Samuel seemed to be tormented by some nightmare, and he frowned tightly. It was as if he was suffering from a huge pain, but he couldn't break free from it.

"Samuel, Samuel! Can you hear me? I'm Nicole, wake up."

Nicole cried out anxiously, but the person lying on the bed seemed to be trapped in another world, unable to break free from those restraints no matter how.

He tried to open his eyes and break through these nightmares,
