Chapter 1301 Perhaps There Will Be Some Windfall

Recalling Jarrod's last words, Nicole sighed.

"It's a pity that Jarrod lost the baby."

"It's not a big deal. A sick child would only make everyone suffer. Fortunately, Amelia was only pregnant for a short time. If she takes good care of herself, she may have another child in the future. If she gives birth to a dead baby, the blow to them will be even greater."

Men were always sensible when they looked at things.

Nicole knew that Samuel was right, but she was still a little sad.

"After all, it's a life."

"It's just a fetus, so small that there might not be any fetal heart rates. Don't think too much about that. Besides, with the hatred between Jarrod and Amelia unsettled, they wouldn't be happy even if they kept the baby. Don't worry about it. Let them handle their own business."

Nicole nodded.

"Speaking of children, I wonder if Petty has given birth yet. She should be expecting now."

Nicole did not mention Petty on purpose. It just came to her.

She looked at Samuel nervously. Seeing that Samuel looked as usual, she was relieved.

Nicole's cautiousness made Samuel laugh.

"What? Afraid that I'll be sad?"

"Yes."

Nicole nodded.

She felt bad lately. Gabrielle had given birth to a son. But Tim and Jarrod lost their children. It was just depressing.

How could Samuel not know what she was thinking?

He gently held her in his arms and whispered, "Zac is awake."

Nicole was slightly surprised. Knowing Zac's feelings for Petty, Nicole said pitifully, "He must have pleaded for Petty, right?"

"No."

Samuel's words surprised Nicole again.

"What?"

"Actually, Zac even asked for a premature labor. He contacted the doctor to give Petty a cesarean section. She gave birth to a boy that weighed nearly four kilograms."

Samuel said in a low voice. A trace of emotion flashed through his eyes and soon disappeared.

"A son?"

Nicole had mixed feelings about it. She was kind of happy about that. But thinking of the relationship between Petty and Zac, she couldn't stay happy anymore.

And judging from Petty's temperament, she might use this child to threaten Zac.

Samuel seemed to know what Nicole was thinking. He whispered, "Petty is dead."

"What?"

Nicole was rather surprised.

Petty was tough. She had escaped from death for so many times. How could she die of giving birth to a child?

"Who's setting off fireworks? So beautiful!"

The people outside yelled. Sally was slightly stunned and then had a serious face.

Samuel also heard the sound of fireworks. He quickly left the secret room and frowned when he saw the fireworks through the window.

Samuel thought to himself, 'This should be some kind of signal, right?'

Samuel was thinking when Nicole woke up.

"Why would someone set off fireworks tonight?"

Nicole put on a coat and got out of bed. She was not worried about Samuel standing in front of the window.

Samuel shook his head and whispered, "I'm afraid that the fireworks are a signal for someone."

"I'll send someone to see who gets out," she said.

Nicole instantly understood something.

Samuel did not stop her. He always felt that the fireworks looked familiar, but he just could not remember anything.

When Nicole went out to ask someone to carry out investigations, she saw Sally passing by quickly.

She wanted to go back and tell Samuel, but Sally walked so fast. If she went back, she would probably lose Sally.

Nicole thought to herself, 'Perhaps someone used fireworks to get in contact with Sally.'

Nicole really didn't want to be suspicious of Sally, but if Morgan could turn her back on them, it was highly possible that Sally could also betray them.

Nicole felt that no one could be trusted now.

Nicole followed Sally at once, and sent a message to Samuel. She then shared her location with Samuel through the mobile phone.

Then Samuel would know the exact location of Nicole.

This locator system was installed by Lucas. Nicole could use it now.

Sally moved swiftly. Even Nicole, an agile woman, almost lost her.

Nicole was very surprised. She never thought that Sally could be that agile.

Nicole thought to herself, 'Why would she be chased to the Seapolis City by Morgan and come to me and Samuel at the risk of her life?'

Nicole immediately understood something when that question popped up in her mind.

Perhaps Sally had been hiding something from them.

Nicole felt unhappy when she thought about that. She and Sally were related and Sally looked exactly like her mother. Nicole was sad as that thought weighted on her.

Sally was cautious. She slowed down and was afraid that someone followed her. Nicole was alert. Otherwise, Sally would have discovered her by now.

"No! No! Master, I beg you, don't do this to Zayn. I have given my life to you. Whether you want me to live or die, I will do as you like. But Zayn can't. He is innocent. Master, he is innocent!"

Sally was immediately emotional.

She climbed to the man's feet again and humbly pulled his trousers to plead.

Nicole had never seen Sally look so humble.

At this time, Sally changed, just like a person without dignity. However, she was clearly not such a person in others' impression.

Nicole was upset and felt a tremendous pressure on her chest.

The man raised Sally's chin, forcing her to look at him.

"Innocent? Since he has the blood of the Shaw family in his body, he is not innocent!"

"Then why didn't you kill me back then? If you had killed me, he wouldn't have been born, and he wouldn't have born any relations with the Shaw family!"

Sally was suddenly enraged.

At this moment, she was just a mother.

In other words, the words "Shaw family" had irritated her, and she could no longer tolerate it.

She was like a little lion that had been angered, wishing she could bite this man now, or just tear off a piece of skin from him.

The man was excited by Sally's actions.

"Are you angry? After so many years, do you know why I still can't let you go? Because your expression really excites me."

After saying that, the man directly pushed Sally to the ground and instantly tore her clothes apart. He ignored her cries and resistance and harassed Sally without any foreplay.

"Let go of me! Let go!"

Sally cried so hard that her voice was hoarse. Her helpless appearance and pained expression deeply shocked Nicole.

This was her aunt!

Regardless of what Sally did, at this moment, Nicole only knew that she was one of the Shaws, the only living daughter of Edwin.

Nicole wanted to rush over without caring anything else, but she was held back by someone tightly.

She suddenly turned around and saw Samuel standing behind her, hugging her tightly.

A trace of unhappiness flashed through his eyes, but he shook his head at Nicole.

Nicole knew that Samuel was right.

Right now, there was only one man on the other side, but who knew if there was anyone else ambushing her?

Chapter 1304 They Are Father and Son

Nicole and Samuel fled back to the Harper Town in a sorry state.

Why was it called flee?

Because Nicole was agitated, and Samuel was almost discovered by Sally.

Almost.

If Samuel made a move a minute later, they might have been discovered.

To Sally, what happened today was a great humiliation. No one else should know about it, especially juniors like Nicole. However, they unintentionally knew so much about it.

Before Nicole could understand what happened just now, she shivered and felt uncomfortable. When she thought of Sally's helpless and wretched expression, she felt a surge of anger.

When had the Shaws ever been bullied like this?

That was her aunt!

Samuel naturally knew how uncomfortable Nicole felt right now. He did not try to persuade her, but instead, poured a cup of warm water for Nicole and handed it over.

"Drink some water and calm down. We need to think about this matter carefully."

Nicole looked at the familiar figure in front of her with sadness.

"I didn't expect my aunt to have such a hard time. I thought she was just kidnapped. Later on, she became the seventh wife of the Country F King on her own and even gave birth to Zayn. I thought that she was lofty and could completely control her own life, but she actually lived such a humble life. No wonder she couldn't go home and recognize Edwin. No wonder she had always ignored Zayn, and even expelled Zayn from Country F. So it was all because she couldn't help it. In that case, was everything she did to William against her will back then?"

Nicole's tears flowed down her cheeks.

She was her aunt.

She was an elegant woman, yet she lived so humbly in a place that only she knew.

Perhaps only women would understand a woman's sorrow at this moment.

Nicole felt the same way.

Samuel sighed and wrapped Nicole in his arms. He whispered, "Everyone has their own difficulties, and I think everyone has their own bottom line. Although I don't know what Sally's bottom line is, she definitely won't do anything that crosses that bottom line."

"Bottom line? Does she have a bottom line? She even had to struggle for living with dignity."

Nicole looked up at Samuel with her watery eyes. Her pained and sad appearance made Samuel's heart ache slightly.

"Yes. William and Zayn are her bottom line."

Nicole recalled what Sally had done recently.

For William, Sally had been a puppet for so many years. For Zayn, she knelt down and begged that man. It could be seen that they were so important to Sally.

Seeing that Nicole seemed to have figured it out, Samuel continued to whisper, "Although I don't know who that man is, from what happened today, William is definitely still alive. Otherwise, how would he control Sally? Even with Zayn in hand, he shouldn't have much chance of winning. Otherwise, Sally wouldn't be so heartless."

Only then did Nicole nod.

She drank the warm water in her hand and the warmth flowed down her throat into her heart. Only then did she feel warm.

"Who is that man?"

Nicole's eyes burst with anger and hatred.

Nicole was excited.

"Is it Phoenix?"

While Nicole was excited, Samuel was somewhat worried.

"No, it shouldn't be Phoenix. It takes at least ten minutes or more to investigate. It's impossible for her to reply us so soon."

Hearing Samuel's words, Nicole became worried.

"Will Phoenix be in danger?"

Samuel did not say anything and quickly read the message. There were only four letters, "TTYL".

Phoenix might be in great danger now.

Perhaps there was an emergency. She had to lose touch with them immediately.

Samuel was worried about the safety of Phoenix. But now they couldn't use the phone or the computer. Although he was anxious, there was nothing he could do.

He believed that Phoenix would successfully deal with the crisis. As four masters of the Sky Group, she wouldn't be easily defeated.

"What's going on?"

Nicole asked when she saw that Samuel was anxious.

Samuel replied softly, "She has to lose touch with us now. There may be an emergency. We don't know what's going on in Country F. We can only wait for their message till the lockdown ends."

Nicole was also worried.

Trevin was still in Country F. She had no idea about his condition. Also, she wondered what was happening between Zayn and Major.

Nicole thought that the king of Country F was quite smart. He announced a national lockdown to deal with the internal affairs. Samuel and Nicole were floored by the lockdown and couldn't interfere.

Nicole was quite worried about Trevin who had been missing for a long time.

She wondered if he was exposed.

She also worried about his safety.

In the past, Trevin had been safe under Zayn's protection. But after she learnt Sally's situation, she became concerned about Zayn.

Zayn was alone without any support. Nicole wondered if he could keep fighting alone.

The other princes had supporters from their mothers' families. But Zayn didn't have any support. Nicole never expected this.

She thought that she could be Zayn's support. But she didn't expect that she would be isolated before she could arrive Country F.

A man said that he would let Zayn be the king of Country F if Zayn succeeded.

Who could give such a promise?

Could it be the king?

Something occurred to Nicole.

Chapter 1306 Is He Crazy?

Nicole had always thought that Phoenix would give her timely information, but she did not expect that the first person to give her information was actually Sally.

At the thought of her speculation before, Nicole suppressed the surprise and asked, "What did you get?"

"I haven't sorted it out yet, but I can tell you about it."

Sally's voice was deep. She looked at Nicole and spoke.

"Aaron's real name was Jayden Freeman, and he was the younger brother of Country F's king."

When she spoke of the king, Nicole noticed that Sally raised her voice.

It seemed that she had guessed correctly. The man in black was most likely the king.

But didn't Country F seal its borders?

Why did the king come here?

How could he do this to Sally?

Did he do this to save Aaron?

His younger brother?

Aaron was the prince. With such a high status, it was hard for Aaron to impersonate an ordinary person for more than thirty years.

Then he must do this with ulterior motives.

Nicole quickly thought about these questions.

However, Sally did not know what Nicole was thinking. She whispered, "I only found out a short while ago. Jayden left Country F more than 30 years ago. At that time, the king blacked out the news. Afterwards, he said that Jayden had gone abroad to study. Since then, there has been no news of him. Few people cared about his whereabouts. As time passed, everyone forgot about him. In addition, the king wanted to erase his traces, and even his wife disappeared, so Jayden gradually disappeared. More than thirty years had passed. Not many people knew that there was a prince called Jayden. Other than the trusted aides of the king, anyone else who knew Jayden was dead. That's why Jayden has been so free for so many years. "

At this point, Sally's throat tickled. She might have caught a cold.

She tried her best to suppress it, not wanting Nicole to know it.

In such a cold night, she would catch a cold inevitably since she was tormented by that man.

That man was a lunatic, so he didn't care if she could withstand it or not.

Thinking of this, a trace of killing intent flashed through Sally's eyes, but it disappeared in a flash.

When Nicole heard what Sally said, she was completely shocked.

Jayden's identity shocked her, but a question quickly ran through her mind.

"Jayden was once married?"

"Yes, he was married in country F, but his wife was a mediocre woman. Jayden was a playboy. Back then, he had taken a wife to show that he had no interest in the throne. That was why he had hurriedly married a poor woman who was an orphan. It's also because of this that the king is very attentive to his younger brother, and even feels that he owes him a lot. "

Sally told Nicole everything she found.

What was it?

Some ideas seemed to flash through Nicole's mind. But they were too fast to be caught.

Nicole frowned, which made Samuel distressed.

"Alright, don't think about them again. Things will eventually sort themselves out. One day, we will know everything."

"But Jayden escaped. Although Amelia has her own way of revenge, I think we can make a breakthrough by asking Jayden. So if it is possible, I hope to find Jayden. But I don't know if Amelia will cooperate with us or not."

Nicole sighed.

Samuel said in a low voice, "I'll talk with Jarrod about it tomorrow morning."

"Okay."

Nicole nodded. She suddenly found that Samuel had acknowledged Jarrod as his elder brother.

It was late at night when Samuel carried Nicole to bed. They fell asleep quickly because they were really shocked by what they had heard at night.

When morning sunshine flooded in through windows, Samuel woke up.

Under the sunlight, Samuel found Nicole's long eyelashes were so beautiful.

Samuel gave her a gentle kiss.

Nicole felt itchy and waved her hand. Then she turned over and fell asleep again.

Such a childish action amused Samuel.

At present, the happiest thing of him was to see Nicole's peaceful sleeping face when he woke up every morning. As long as he could have this peaceful feeling every day, he'd like to carry everything with him.

Lifting the blanket, Samuel got out of the bed and tucked Nicole in. Then he left the bedroom.

It was still a secret that he was back. So when people were still sleeping, he quickly went to the kitchen and cooked some food before returning to the bedroom.

"Good morning, Daddy."

However, Joseph stopped him the moment he returned to the bedroom.

Joseph was yawning because he just woke up. He looked at Samuel sleepily and greeted him.

Samuel touched his head and whispered, "Come in for breakfast."

"Oh."

Joseph was stunned for a moment. After seeing the food in Samuel's hand, Joseph felt a little hungry.

They entered the bedroom. Samuel put the food on the table and said to Joseph, "Did you brush your teeth and wash your face?"

"No yet."

At this time, Joseph was awake. When he heard Samuel's question, he quickly answered, "I'll go back to brush my teeth and wash my face. I'll be back soon."

"Go."

Samuel said with a gentle tone.

Joseph hurriedly ran out.

Samuel shook his head and softly woke Nicole up.

"What can I do? The people here are all your bodyguards now. Everyone knows you. Samuel, stop your fuss."

Nicole knew that Samuel wanted to go out, and he said that only to embarrass her.

Samuel smiled with tenderness.

"Alright. I called Jarrod just now. He asked us to go over."

Nicole nodded.

She went in to make some preparations, and when she came out, Samuel had disappeared, leaving Joseph alone in the room.

"Where's your daddy?"

"He went out. Daddy asked you to drive."

Joseph was very happy today.

Samuel asked him for the ancient book and read for a while. Then they discussed about bugs. Joseph felt that he learned a lot, so he needed to go back to his room to digest it.

"Mommy, I want to go back to my room now."

"Alright."

Nicole did not know why Joseph was so excited, but she thought that it must have something to do with Samuel, so she did not take it to heart.

She tidied up the room and went out.

The car was parked in the garage.

Nicole had a look at the distance from the room to the garage. If Samuel went out of the window and found a shelter, he would be able to get to the garage without been noticed.

Nicole couldn't help but sigh when she thought that Samuel was so cautious in his territory.

Now she didn't know who to believe and who not to.

Morgan was from the Harper Town, why would she betray it and Samuel?

Why did she put the Golden Nematode inside Samuel when she was trying to get bugs out?

None of the doubts could be explained because Morgan had escaped.

Why did she escape?

Who was she working for?

The king of Country F?

Now that Morgan was alone, but she was willing to betray his neighbors for the sake of the king, did the king get some goods on her?

Nicole couldn't figure them out.

All these mysteries could only be figured out when Morgan was found.

"But it needs Jayden's hair or blood. And now we have no idea where Jayden is. So..."

This was what Samuel had come for.

He knew that Amelia was not very well. But he must bring this up as it was urgent.

Jarrod also knew it.

After pondering for a while, he said in a low voice, "Amelia can't do anything given that she is severely injured. Jayden is trapped in the formation and can't get out. Amelia won't kill him directly. Instead, she will definitely torture him before he is dead because she hates him so much.

Nicole was shocked.

Jarrod told her everything, including things Nicole and Samuel had known. He was trying to find an outlet.

Samuel and Nicole listened without saying anything.

After finished speaking, Jarrod wore a wry smile.

"He must have no humanity. Why did mother fall for such a bastard?"

But Jarrod didn't think so. He never received maternal love from Alice, so for him, she was high-hearted.

Samuel said nothing bad about Alice. He was not born in an admired family, but he hoped to leave a good impression on Jarrod, even if it was his imagination.

"She would have married him had she not valued the Harper Town more than her feelings."

Hearing this, Jarrod didn't say anything.

He was right.

As the young master of the Harper Town, Alice knew what was right when it came to important things even if she loved Jayden so much. This was desirable.

Nicole did not say anything from beginning to end. Looking at Samuel, she felt perhaps they should have a personal talk. So she stood up and said in a low voice, "I'll go and see Amelia."

"Alright."

Jarrod didn't stop her this time.

Nicole went to Amelia's bedroom.

Jarrod took good care of Amelia. Although Amelia was still weak, she looked much better than before.

The temperature in the room was high. Maybe Jarrod was afraid that Amelia would catch a cold, so he turned it up.

Nicole came to Amelia's bed. She thought that Amelia was asleep, but suddenly Amelia opened her eyes. Seeing it was Nicole, she became relaxed.

Chapter 1310 She Smiles Heartily

"Isn't Amelia well enough to do that now?"

Nicole was a little surprised.

Jarrold smiled and said, "It's to repay you for your kindness to get her out of the mental dilemma. I will carry her in my arms later and ensure she's free from the wind. After all, she's the one who desires to know about the result of the paternity test more than anyone else."

It was true.

Amelia loved Jarrod for so many years and suffered years of torments of love and hatred. Besides, she even miscarried several times in succession for the deep-rooted hatred. So she really wanted to know the result.

Seeing that Jarrod had made up his mind, Samuel nodded and said, "Alright, then you can prepare for that. I'm going out for a walk with Nicole."

"Don't go too far in case of any danger. I still haven't had some remaining forces submitted to me."

Jarrold wasn't absolutely powerful. Although he was Jayden's son, Jayden only gave him little power. After Jayden disappeared, he did control some forces temporarily by force. But in such a short time, he couldn't submit those forces that had been loyal to Jayden for years.

Samuel naturally knew it.

The two men exchanged a tacit nod and then Samuel took Nicole out of the room.

The mess was almost cleaned up outside, and there was no longer any smell of blood. However, something suppressed beneath the calm would still surge through them from time to time.

Although Nicole did not like this place very much, she could not go out now. She found a small reservoir behind the house after observation. Then she tugged at Samuel's sleeve and said, "Let's sit over there."

"Alright."

Samuel knew Nicole's thoughts, so he held her hand and walked over.

It was quiet here. Water in the reservoir was very clear and the fish inside were swimming in a lively way.

Nicole couldn't help but laugh and say, "Jayden is quite good at enjoying life, even keeping fish here."

But Samuel frowned slightly.

"The fish are not for food. They are electric fish."

"Electric fish?"

Nicole was a little surprised.

Samuel was somewhat serious, and whispered, "These fish are all electrical. Only one won't pose harm. But with so many of them in the reservoir, it will form great electrical current and electrocute one to death once someone falls into it."

Nicole was stunned for a moment.

Water conducted electricity well, coupled with the electrical current of these fish. If one fell into it...

Nicole shivered at the thought of it.

"Let's leave here."

Regardless of why Nicole wanted to come here just now, Samuel only felt danger at this moment.

Nicole did not stay anymore. She followed Samuel and left. Out of curiosity, she turned and glanced at the fish in the reservoir again. Then she frowned slightly.

Suddenly, a figure in black flashed so fast that Nicole couldn't see the face clearly.

"Someone is here."

Nicole paused. Then Samuel immediately pulled her into his arms and whispered, "No matter who it is, we should leave here right now."
