Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1331 This Tea is Good

Samuel also saw a black shadow rushing towards him. He subconsciously raised his foot and kicked it in the chest.

With a choked cry, the shadow flew out.

Nicole also came to Samuel and looked at him nervously.

"Are you alright?"

"I'm fine."

Samuel stared at the figure.

The figure's hair was very long, covering her face. He couldn't see clearly what she looked like. Her clothes were tattered. It seemed that she hadn't changed for a long time, and judging from her size, she should be a woman.

A woman?

Samuel frowned slightly.

If a woman appeared in such a place, she'd better not be crazy.

Nicole also noticed this.

"Who are you?"

Nicole aimed her gun at the woman.

The woman wiped the blood from her mouth and aimed the dagger in her hand once again at Nicole and Samuel.

This time, Nicole stood in front of Samuel and aimed the gun at the woman's forehead.

"Do you want to try which one is faster, your dagger or my gun?"

Nicole's voice was very cold.

The woman stopped abruptly.

"Get your hair to the side. Tell me, who are you?"

Nicole continued to ask.

The woman snorted coldly and didn't say a word.

Samuel frowned slightly and subconsciously wanted to get closer to her. However, this woman seemed to have a natural dislike for men. When facing Nicole, she behaved naturally, but the moment Samuel walked forward, the woman became excited and waved the dagger in her hand. She didn't care if it would hurt her at all.

Nicole found that her hair was gray. Either she was very old, or her hair turned grey because of the lack of sunshine.

"Sorry, we didn't mean to barge in. We thought that there was no one living here, so we came to take the shelter."

Nicole remembered that it was them who barged in, so she should not blame her for defending herself. She put away her gun.

Hearing Nicole's words and seeing her put away her gun, the woman took the dagger back.

Without saying anything, she walked past Nicole and went to the kitchen. She took out the boiled water and made a pot of tea. Then, she placed it on the table with three cups.

"Be quick. Hide in the cabinet."

Yanice's words surprised Nicole and Samuel a bit, but they thought Yanice might not have time to explain to them. For safety, Samuel quickly pulled Nicole into the cabinet.

Samuel didn't know why, but he trusted Yanice.

Inside the cabinet, Nicole was held in Samuel's arms. They even could feel each other's warm breath. It was a bit uncomfortable for them to stay in such a narrow space as Samuel was tall and strong, but it was a new experience for Nicole.

The sound of the chains got louder. Nicole and Samuel could hear it clearly even in the cabinet. They exchanged glances and heard Yanice's cold voice from outside.

"Do you want to see me starve to death? It takes much longer to deliver food. Why? Is Leo getting impatient with me now?"

Although Nicole did not know who Yanice was talking to, she knew there was anger in Yanice's tone.

Suddenly, it was silent, and then they heard a deep male voice.

"Miss Yanice, you must be joking. Our king cares about you very much."

"Really?"

Yanice snorted. She looked at what was in the man's hand and sneered, "The snowstorm is coming soon. The king only gave me that to keep warm. Is he going to see me freeze to death? Since this is the depopulated zone, no heating is provided. If you don't prepare some coal for me, how can I survive in such a cold winter?"

The man said respectfully, "Miss Yanice, king has something big to deal with recently. He said that you need to be patient these days and he will give you coal and clothes."

"Be patient these days? I'm afraid he wants me to die. He hasn't gotten anything valuable from me for so many years, so he gave up on me and left me to rot, right?"

Yanice was extremely angry, but the man didn't change his attitude. He still said respectfully, "Miss Yanice, you must be kidding. Your identity is the most valuable to us. Our king won't let you die. But he heard that some strangers came to the depopulated zone, and he hopes that Miss Yanice won't contact any outsiders."

"That is really funny. You call this place the depopulated zone, so how could any man enter this place? Are they ghosts?"

Yanice snorted. Obviously, she didn't intend to respect the man.

The man looked around. As he saw three steaming teacups, he frowned.

"Miss Yanice, you have guests here?"

"Guests? You don't let anyone in. How can I have guests?"

Yanice also noticed the teacups on the table, but her expression did not change, which confused the man.

"Miss Yanice, these three teacups are..."

"I'm too lonely by myself, so I imagine someone coming to visit me. Can't I make tea for them and have a chat?"

Yanice said as if it was true.

The man didn't believe it. He wanted to go into Yanice's bedroom to check, but Yanice stood in front of him and snapped, "How dare you! Who are you to enter my room?"

"I dare not, but if you hide someone else here, I will not be able to explain to the king. Therefore, Miss Yanice, you'd better move aside and let me take a look. It's right for both of us."

Chapter 1333 Sorry for the Trouble

"He can't see us, right?"

Nicole asked in surprise.

Samuel whispered, "These three teacups have exposed us, and if there is a second exit, that man will see the door was broken."

Nicole remembered how they got in.

"Then what should we do now?"

Nicole put her hand on her waist.

She was not afraid to confront the enemy later as long as she could be with Samuel.

Samuel gently grabbed Nicole's hand and said softly, "We have Phoenix. I just hope that she can arrive here one step earlier than Leo's people."

Samuel's phone rang.

Looking at the number on the screen, Samuel's lips curled up.

"She's here. We should be able to leave soon."

Yanice and Nicole both heaved a sigh of relief.

Samuel answered the phone.

"Phoenix, where are you?"

"I entered the depopulated zone, but where are you?"

Phoenix was a little anxious.

Samuel sent over their location and mentioned the man. He also told Phoenix about Yanice.

Phoenix was stunned.

"Yanice? The Hills?"

Phoenix had stayed in Country Z for a few years, so she knew about the Hill Family.

Samuel said yes, but Phoenix could not accept.

"Mr. Green, you're killing me! My people have been sent out. If there is no one in the depopulated zone, I can explain to the king that I am here to hunt. But now you want to take Yanice with you. The King will know that I saved her!"

Phoenix's voice became urgent.

Samuel did not expect to find Yanice in Country F. He felt a little sorry.

"Do you want me to send someone to the border? Maybe Leo will think we saved her."

"It's not just entering the city. Master Phoenix ordered us to bring you into the palace."

Rey's words shocked Nicole and Yanice.

"The palace?"

"Yes, Master Phoenix said that the most dangerous place is the safest. The king would never have thought you were hiding in the palace."

Rey admired Phoenix much. It could be seen that Phoenix's reputation was high.

Phoenix was Zayn's sister. Now Nicole was a little curious about her.

Samuel held Nicole's hand and whispered, "Don't ask too much, understand?"

"Yes."

Nicole nodded.

Samuel was a mind reader. He knew what she was thinking.

Nicole was depressed that she had been seen through. Samuel smiled and said, "After the security check, I'll let you do whatever you want. You can even meet Zayn."

"I want to see Trevin."

Compared to Zayn, Nicole was more worried about Trevin.

Ever since Country F blockaded itself, Trevin was like just disappeared from the world. He followed Major, and Major was sinister and cunning. Nicole didn't know if Trevin had exposed himself.

"Alright. I'll be with you."

Samuel agreed.

Yanice listened and did not say anything. She was not familiar with these names. And the people she knew were not here.

"Is William alright? Did you save him?"

Yanice thought that she would never ask about Williams, but she couldn't bear it.

Nicole looked at Yanice and thought of what Samuel had told her. She whispered, "My uncle William went back before we came. He was taken to the Capital City. He had been imprisoned by Leo for all these years. His condition was not good."

"Uncle William? William is your uncle?"

Yanice's eyes widened in surprise.

Nicole and Samuel realized that they did not mention Nicole's identity to Yanice.

"Yes, I am a child of the Don family. My father is Xander, and my mother is Audrey. I was mistaken when I was a baby. I grew up in the Bush family, so I was called Nicole Bush."

Nicole briefly explained it. As for Mr. and Mrs. Bush, she didn't want to mention it. It would bring up another sad memory.

Yanice immediately understood this short but clear explanation.

"Xander didn't get married when he died. He actually had a child with Mr. Shaw's daughter. I didn't even know about this. I've been missing out on too many things."

Yanice smiled bitterly. No one could understand her pain and sadness.

"Doesn't it look good?"

Samuel was very calm.

"So ugly."

Nicole said disdainfully, which made Samuel chuckle.

"That's right. Then, no one will pay attention to me. After all, an old man with a big belly can seldom attract others' attraction. Rey also prepares new ID cards for us, which can be searched on the Internet."

This surprised Nicole. Rey was so capable since he could forge two ID cards.

"I feel like you're going to give birth when I touch your belly. Mr. Green, are you tired?"

Nicole suddenly wanted to play a game with him.

Samuel allowed her to touch his belly. Such a thick layer of shield was indeed cumbersome. Fortunately, it was not very hot now, so he could still hold on to this.

"Is that enough?"

"No. Your face will scare me at night. I will feel like I'm sleeping with a stranger."

Nicole didn't pay attention to what she said. Samuel pulled her into his embrace when hearing this.

"A stranger? You are quite bold since you come here."

As Samuel spoke, he extended his hand to tickle Nicole.

"Don't mess around! That's itchy!"

Nicole couldn't stand this, so she smiled and begged for mercy.

They played and laughed like this. After coming here, Nicole also let herself go. She was no longer calm and introverted as she was in the Seapolis City. Instead, she was like a girl from college, outgoing and straightforward, which made Samuel happy.

This was because there was no acquaintance here, Nicole did not need to remember her identity as "Mrs. Green" and follow all those rules. Only now did she truly live the way she wanted the most.

Yanice could not help but shake her head as she watched them play like this. She smiled and went to another room.

After a while, Nicole and Samuel were tired. Both of them fell onto the bed, out of breath. They looked like they had just done something "erotic".

Rey and the makeup artist already retreated, giving them absolute privacy.

Nicole stroked Samuel's fingers and whispered, "Do you have any plans here? We are like two warriors trying to break into a tiger's den, right?"

"Exactly."

Samuel touched Nicole's long hair, which was so smooth and soft. He was unwilling to let go of it.

He whispered, "Actually, I don't have any plans. I just want to come here and collect some evidence. It will be great if I can find the persons we want. Then I'll bring them back. As for the rest, if Zayn and Phoenix still want to keep Country F, I'll give them a clean and sinless one. If they don't want it, I'll destroy it."

Samuel did not have any good impression of this place, nor did he have any feelings for it. Actually, he came here because of the mission and some other things.

He and Nicole had been schemed against for such a long time. They had to fight back, right?

He had always thought that Elvis was behind this, but now it seemed that the real mastermind was Leo. The whole thing was about the enmity of the Shaw family, the resentment of the Don family, and the schemes of the Green family. Too many people were involved. They needed to give these people something.

Nicole nodded.

Chapter 1336 But I Don't Love You

Samuel was warning her!

Phoenix remembered that Samuel would rarely speak to her like that. But now Samuel warned her for Nicole. Phoenix couldn't help but feel a little wronged.

"Mr. Green, I've done so much these years for Sky Group and for you. Are you going to get rid of me for Nicole?"

Phoenix tried to hold back her tears when she said so. Hearing that, Samuel suddenly took pity on her.

"Phoenix, she is my wife. I won't allow anyone to hurt her. As a man, if I can't even protect my wife, do you think I'm worthy of being a man?"

"But ..."

"Alright, Nicole is a very good girl. If you meet her, I believe you will like her."

Samuel hung up the phone after saying that.

When Phoenix heard that Samuel hung up, she felt disappointed.

Samuel rarely cared about others like that.

Phoenix looked at the documents in her hands. They were all about Nicole.

Nicole used to be so ordinary that Phoenix would pass by her without giving a glance. How could Samuel like her? If Nicole didn't trick Samuel into sleeping with her, how could she become his wife?

Phoenix was very disdainful of a woman like Nicole. Even though some documents showed that Nicole had suffered so much over the years that she almost died in a fire, so what?

If Nicole didn't want to marry Samuel, none of these would happen. So in the end, she could only blame herself. But Samuel cared about her so much.

Why?

Phoenix crumpled all the documents up, and it seemed like she was determined to win back Samuel.

After Samuel hung up the phone, he looked at the snowstorm outside, feeling complicated.

Phoenix had a different meaning to him.

Back then, Phoenix went to the battlefield for him. They crossed through the barrage of bullets and fought side by side. To be honest, Samuel did not treat her as a woman at all during that period.

She was more like his brother whom he could entrust his life. Samuel was captured in a mission one time. In order to save Samuel, Phoenix ignored disciplines and orders and infiltrated the enemy's place by herself. She fought more than 30 terrorists single-handedly and rescued Samuel. However, she was shot and trapped there.

Samuel did not know what she had suffered. He only knew that when Phoenix was rescued, she was covered in blood. Although she didn't suffer from sexual violence, the bullet got through her abdomen and the doctor said that she could never bear children.

Chapter 1337 I Feel More at Ease Since There's No Expectation

After Zayn entered, he saw his sister sitting on the throne in a lazy posture, looking like a kitten.

"Inez, I've heard you catch a cold. Are you feeling better today?"

Zayn smiled and slowly walked in.

He was so tall that his head blocked some sunlight. It made Phoenix's heart tremble.

She hadn't seen her brother for a few years. He had grown taller. Inez still remembered when she was young, he was skinny and looked like he might die at any time. Inez didn't expect that he would actually survive.

Zayn also had information about Phoenix. When she knew that he was a gay, she did not despise him. Instead, she felt that he had paid too much for love. He didn't want to compete with anyone, but he was forced into this state.

He was quite pathetic as well.

"Thank you, Zayn. You are the only one who cares about me. Even father doesn't care about me."

Phoenix looked down and seemed to be sad.

Zayn looked at his sister and thought of his past.

"He's busy with more important things all day. Why would he care about these? This is the cold medicine that I asked someone to prepare for you. There are no side effects. Drink it. As long as you recover, you'll be more energetic. In this place, if you don't know how to love yourself, no one else will care about you."

Phoenix was slightly stunned.

To be honest, in this palace, she was insignificant. Sometimes, the maids would even forget about her, let alone those brothers and sisters. Now that Zayn had come to her, she was confused.

"Thank you, Zayn. Helen, bring me the medicine."

"Yes, Princess."

Helen walked over, took the medicine from Zayn and handed it to Phoenix.

Phoenix drank without hesitation, which surprised Zayn.

"Aren't you afraid that I will poison you?"

"I am almost forgotten by others. Do you need to trouble yourself to poison me?"

Phoenix sounded agonized.

This was what these children of royal family needed to experience.

Once you were useless, no one would remember you, not even your own father. However, Phoenix knew that she was still being treated as a princess, but those people had other purposes.

Zayn didn't expect Inez to ask this question, so he was stunned.

Blame her?

How could he blame her?

Actually, it was unlikely for Trevin to survive. He could persist till now only because he was unwilling to die like this. Zayn was also trying to save his life as much as possible for Nicole's sake. As for whether Trevin could survive or not, Zayn was actually unsure.

"Stop joking. We just try our best. As for the rest, leave it to God."

"Alright. Zayn, come with me."

Inez took Zayn and Trevin to the guest room.

After Trevin was settled, Inez whispered to Zayn, "Zayn, you'd better leave here. You've been here for too long, and you'll make others suspect you."

"Alright."

Seeing that Inez had accepted Trevin, Zayn nodded and left. Before he walked out, he said, "I don't have a suitable doctor. Inez, could you...."

"I'll deal with this. Zayn, don't worry."

Inez was quite responsible.

After Zayn left, Inez asked Helen to call for her own doctor.

"Show him the injuries. Try to save him as much as possible."

"Alright, Princess."

After the doctor came in, Inez retreated. She was not interested in a man who was beaten so hard that she could not see his face.

After coming out, Inez made a gesture to the corner and a figure flashed in the palace.

Not long after, Rey appeared in front of Inez.

"Master, I'm here."

"Find out the name and identity of the guard who offended Major recently."

Rey was slightly stunned, and he then said, "I know that the guard is called Trevin. He seems to have been brought back from abroad by Major. It is said that he originally worked in Mr. Green's company. Later, he was punished and banished by Mr. Green for offending Mrs. Green, Nicole. After that, he met Major. It is said that this person's elder sister died because of Mrs. Green. Therefore, he tried to assassinate Nicole by chance, but failed. Mr. Green crippled him and drove him away. Then, he was brought back by Major and became a trusted subordinate. However, some time ago, it seemed that some important information of Major had been leaked. Trevin was suspected, so he was beaten up."

Inez was slightly stunned.

Samuel's people?

He even had a grudge against Nicole?

To Inez, such a person was the best tool and weapon for her.

However, according to this, he should be Samuel's subordinate. Perhaps his limbs were cut in order to make a show for others.

Inez thought about the whole thing.

"Is the leaked news related to Mr. Green?"

"Exactly."

So that Phoenix might not slip up, Samuel interrupted her, "Phoenix, any good news? Nicole is here. We cannot go outside anyway. So tell us."

Phoenix stunned.

Was he afraid of something?

Phoenix snorted in her heart. She wished that Nicole knew everything! But she knew Samuel. That was a warning. He was warning her because of Nicole!

This made Phoenix sad.

She said calmly, "Well, it can be considered good news. My brother Zayn came just now. It seems that he has been released. I don't know what the king means, but it was not a good sign. I know that Zayn and Nicole are cousins, so I gave you a call in advance. In addition, he also sent me a bodyguard named Trevin. Mr. Green, do you know him?"

When Nicole heard Trevin, she was especially anxious. Just as she was about to say something, Samuel covered her mouth.

"He is my people. Take good care of him. He saved me once."

Nicole glared at Samuel but couldn't make a sound. Samuel sighed.

He knew he was exposed.

However, Phoenix did not know about this. She was happy to hear that.

"I knew it was your plan to break his leg. Since he is so loyal to you, I will certainly save him. Don't worry."

"Thank you."

Samuel hung up the phone and let go of Nicole.

Nicole was not stupid and Samuel knew that. She showed her innocence towards Samuel because she trusted him. But if something happened, Nicole was able to sense it.

Samuel looked helpless, and the doubts in Nicole's mind slowly cleared away.

"So, what happened?"

Nicole sat down and found some snacks. She was ready to listen to the story.

But she didn't look like a woman who would suspect her husband of cheating.

Samuel shook his head and cut some fruit for Nicole.

Nicole watched this and whispered, "It is said that cheating men treat their wives well, and it seems to be true."

Samuel's hands paused.

Chapter 1340 Let's Make a Bet

Helen was scared.

She had never seen Phoenix like this before. She knew that Phoenix could kill her easily if she wanted, so she dared not to say anything else. She broke out in cold sweats and trembled.

Phoenix looked at her and suddenly laughed.

"Helen, I remember that your younger brother is studying in a noble school, right?"

As soon as Phoenix said those words, Helen's face instantly turned pale.

"Princess, he is young and doesn't know anything. I promise that I won't say anything. I swear."

"Why are you so nervous? Don't get me wrong. Education resources in the noble school are not bad, but it is behind that of the palace. I heard that your ancestors are heroes of our country. What about sending your younger brother to the palace for schooling? It's a great opportunity."

Hearing Phoenix's words, Helen lost her footing and collapsed on the ground.

Tears streamed down her face. She was in despair. She knew that if she refused, she would never be able to see her brother again.

Phoenix ignored Helen's despair.

She used to be softhearted and have a sense of morality, but what she had experienced changed her. She learned that in some situations she had to act unscrupulously to survive, which would bring others into painfulness and despair. She chose to do so because she thought her survival was the most important thing. Moreover, since Samuel was here, she would make everything go smoothly to ensure Samuel's safety.

"Tell Rey to set off."

After saying that, she went to her room.

Helen's tears rolled in her eyes. She knew that she had no choice but to follow Phoenix's instructions. She comforted herself that studying in the palace was not that bad for her younger brother. After all, except the relatives of the royal family, few outsiders could come to the palace for royal education.

Thinking of this, Helen felt better. She got up and left.

Samuel and Nicole had stayed in the room for three days because of the snowstorm, but it eventually cleared up.

Looking at the warm sunshine, Nicole felt happy.

"Good weather is finally here!"

Seeing the smile on Nicole's face, Samuel also smiled.

"The good weather means we should leave and go to the palace."

Hearing his words, Nicole frowned slightly.

His words reminded her that Phoenix was also in the palace.

Nicole sighed.

She knew that Phoenix, who had an infatuation for Samuel, would send someone to pick them up very soon.

"I'm going to take a shower and change my clothes," said Nicole.
