Chapter 1381 She's Used to It

"Because you are my brother-in-law!"

Samuel said domineeringly and directly pulled Nicole away.

Davon was a little depressed.

"I'm your brother-in-law. Shouldn't you flatter me?"

"We are already married. Why do you think she would quarrel with me for you? Flatter you? Davon, are you crazy? I'm your commanding officer!"

Samuel rarely spoke in this way, and Nicole was surprised.

Samuel really became much more eloquent these days.

Davon was totally speechless.

He couldn't refute because Samuel was indeed his commanding officer.

"I can refuse. This is not a mission."

"I didn't say that you had to do this, but think about it, you haven't come back to the Don family yet made your sister sad. I'm gonna tell Uncle Elvis how you bullied my wife. I know you're his son, but he will definitely take Nicole's side. Besides, your mother is her aunt."

Samuel rarely said so much. This time, he did it for Nicole. Davon was really helpless.

If he had known he would not confess his identity.

Then he could just go back and rest, instead of taking over a difficult operation.

"Let me make it clear first. The surgery of her throat was not on me, so I know nothing about the inflammation inside. I can't be sure what will happen, so if it doesn't succeed, you can't blame me."

"How dare a person who can't even perform such an operation call himself a doctor of medicine?"

Leo should have been crazy to beg you to work for the Military Research Institute."

Davon's forehead twitched as Samuel said these.

Was he in trouble?

Was it because he showed some intimacy with Nicole that he was retaliated like this?

Was there any justice left?

However, Davon did not dare to say these words to Samuel.

When Booth heard that Davon could do the operation for Karina, he grabbed Karina's hand and thanked Davon.

"Don't thank me yet. Wait until the operation succeeds. This kind of surgery is particularly delicate and difficult. I need a whole night for it, so don't disturb me. Also, she has rejection and inflammation in her throat. I might have to find something to replace the vocalizer on her vocal cords, so go to bed. It's gonna be a long night."

Davon said briefly.

"Mr. Davon!"

Helen's legs almost went limp.

Although Davon looked gentle and refined, Helen was afraid. He seemed to have a domineering temperament so that she thought he was scarier than Phoenix.

"Get out of here!"

Davon's voice carried a trace of coldness. Helen almost turned around and ran away in fear. However, he looked at Phoenix.

"Fuck off!"

Helen's action thoroughly angered Davon. He waved his hand, grabbed Helen's collar, and threw her out. Then, he slammed the door.

Phoenix flew into a temper.

"Davon, you're going too far!"

"Too far? What were you discussing just now? Escape?"

Davon took a step forward. His cold breath with a trace of disinfectant immediately filled Phoenix's nose.

She frowned sensitively and subconsciously took a step back. However, she did not expect that Davon got angrier.

She didn't like him that much?

In front of Samuel, Phoenix was not like this.

When Davon thought that Phoenix was trying to curry favor for Samuel, his anger grew.

After all, Phoenix was a princess. She was furious at Davon's interrogation.

"I want to escape? Do I need to? I'm leaving openly. Who the hell do you think you are? Do you really think you can show off your medical skills in front of me? Davon, let me tell you. Other people treat you as a new noble. In my eyes, you are nothing. Don't use Leo's instructions to scare me. If he could control me, I would have married and wouldn't be able to enjoy myself here. Moreover, I'm not easy to be trifled with. You'd better be sensible and let me go. Otherwise ..."

Before Phoenix could finish her threat, Davon quickly rushed forward and pounced on Phoenix.

Phoenix held her tongue, being too angry to keep her senses.

"Davon, how dare you ..."

She stopped, for Davon kissed her.

Inez was stunned.

This was her first kiss!

How could this hateful person take it from her?

She struggled and pushed, but Davon pressed down on her like a mountain, making her unable to move.

This was the first time Inez felt so aggrieved and so helpless. She bit Davon's tongue angrily and mercilessly.

Now that Davon dared to treat her like this, how could she show mercy for him?

Inez was vengeful. She wished she could kill Davon now.

The smell of rust filled each other's mouths, but Davon didn't seem to feel any pain. He began to tear apart Phoenix's clothes regardless as if everything he was determined to score her.

"Go. Just go."

Phoenix was somewhat irritated.

Helen was stunned for a moment. She looked up and saw the despair and loneliness in Phoenix's eyes. She couldn't help but feel uncomfortable.

After consideration, Helen found Phoenix was nice to her. However, Phoenix was reserved and didn't like to talk. A woman as Phoenix was, she had been spying on the palace all these years. What she did terrify Helen.

But, she was actually nice to Helen.

When Helen was sick, Phoenix never asked Helen serve her. She even called doctors over to treat Helen's illness.

In the palace, if a maid was sick, she could not see a doctor. She could only leave the palace after work. However, these personal maids had to work all the time and could not leave the palace. Therefore, they always prepared all kinds of medicines to prevent unexpected emergencies. However, with Phoenix around, she had never been worried about these things.

Helen and her younger brother were from a poor family. Because Helen was Phoenix's maid, her younger brother had the opportunity to attend a noble school. Moreover, Phoenix had been subsidizing him for all these years, and she was concerned about Helen's younger brother's study. Although sometimes Phoenix was fierce, Helen thought found that Phoenix was quite kind.

But Phoenix was a princess, so she had no choice but to face everything coldly.

After Helen came around, she said hurriedly, "I'm not leaving. I'm your maid. I'll be with you forever. Princess, don't drive me away. I don't know where I can go or what else I can do after leaving you."

However, Phoenix misunderstood Helen, thinking that Helen refused to leave for her younger brother's future. So, she said, "Your younger brother staying in the palace isn't necessarily a good thing. Now that the palace is in chaos. No one knows what will happen, but I can tell you that there will definitely be a major change in the palace, and many people may die. The transfer of the regime means large numbers of deaths. If your younger brother is on the wrong side, I might not be able to protect him. So, you should ask him to come out temporarily. He can return after the new regime stabilizes. I don't care about being a princess. If you follow me, there's no promising future. Why don't you leave now? I'll give you a sum of money. With your ability, it's enough to support yourself."

This was Helen's best way out that Phoenix had come up.

No matter what, Helen had worked for her for so many years. Phoenix hoped that Helen could live a good life.

Hearing what Phoenix said, Helen felt that Phoenix was kind.

Helen quickly knelt and said, "Princess, I'm not leaving. I will serve you forever. As long as my brother is safe, I'm willing to be at your service."

Phoenix was somewhat surprised.

She used not to think Helen was loyal, but now, it seemed that Helen had feelings for her. However, due to many years of court life, she didn't dare to believe Helen easily.

"Alright. Then stay if you don't want to leave. The Sawyer family can provide for you."

The moment she remembered that she was under control, Phoenix was in a rather bad mood.

"Princess, you ..."

"Alright, leave me alone. Which room does Mr. Green and Nicole live in?"

Phoenix was somewhat irritated.

"It's the first room on the left, but they haven't gotten up yet. Booth has been standing at the door of the operating room. After Davon returned to his room, Booth keeps staying with Karina."

Upon hearing what Helen said, Phoenix paused slightly.

She was a little interested in that girl around Booth.

Just as she was about to chase after them to see what they were going to say, she heard Booth speak from behind her.

"Nicole, good morning."

"Morning. How is Karina?"

Nicole turned around and suppressed her depression.

"Mr. Davon said that the operation was very successful. When she wakes up, she will be under observation for a day. She will be fine if there is no infection."

Speaking of which, Booth was grateful.

When Nicole heard this, she finally relaxed.

"Karina is pitiful. Being able to meet her is fate. Be nice to her."

"I know."

Booth nodded and looked at Nicole thoughtfully for a moment before saying, "Nicole, when Karina's observation period is over, I will take her away."

"Take her away? Why?"

Nicole was a little startled.

She was quite surprised to meet Booth here. She was just about to have a good talk with Booth, and she wondered how Booth's leg was. Was he in a wheelchair because he hadn't recovered yet?

Anyway, she got many questions to ask. But Booth said that he wanted to leave.

Nicole did not understand.

Booth did not hide anything from Nicole and whispered, "Karina has gone through some things in the past few days when she disappeared. She is now so skilled that she can freely enter the palace of Country F without being discovered. I asked her before, but she knew nothing. I'm afraid she'll be taken advantage of and do something irreparable. So I'm going to take her away and settle in a place where no one knows us. This way, her connection with the organization will be cut off. Perhaps she will be cured."

Nicole immediately knew what Booth was thinking.

He wasn't just trying to cure Karina. He was afraid that Karina would be used and hurt Nicole and Samuel.

Booth was nice to Nicole as before. Nicole felt a little sorry for him.

"You're my younger brother. If you just take her away like this, and that organization finds you, how can you defend yourself? Booth, don't leave my sight. I will not allow anything bad to happen to you again. Leave Karina to us. We'll get her out of her situation."

"Nicole, I'm a man. I can handle some things. Don't worry. I can't help you here, but it doesn't mean that I'm just a pushover. You said that I'm your younger brother. How can I bring trouble to you?"

"You've never caused me any trouble. Booth, don't say that again. You're so sweet. I can't bear to part with you."

Nicole hugged Booth as she spoke.

She owed him, the Kents, and Olivia. She didn't know how to return their favor.

Booth patted her back gently and smiled, "Nicole, I can't bear to part with you. But as we grow up, we have a lot to do and to go through. But as a saying goes, separation is for the joy of our next meeting. I believe that when we meet again, I will become even better, and you will be proud of me."

Nicole knew that Booth had made up his mind when she heard what he said.

Nicole also noticed this and hurriedly held Samuel's hand, whispering, "What's going on? Why do I feel that the atmosphere is a little tense?"

"Let's see."

Samuel quickly restrained his emotions and saw Kim coming from the opposite.

When he saw Samuel and Nicole, Kim paused for a moment and whispered, "Something has happened. Major's body has been found. Leo is currently searching the entire city. Just now, Master Sawyer was invited into the palace. The king said that he wanted to chat with Master Sawyer, but he is likely to place Master Sawyer under house arrest. Where is Mr. Davon?"

Nicole's heart skipped a beat. Did they bring trouble to the Sawyers? Did Leo know that they were hiding here, so he threatened Davon with the head of the Sawyer family, Eason Sawyer?

Samuel's expression was gloomy.

That Major's body was found was part of their plan. It was reasonable for Leo to carry out a large-scale search. However, house-to-house searches were a bit unexpected. Moreover, he took Eason away. Somehow, this matter was a bit strange.

"My brother is resting. He has been operating all night."

Nicole felt a little sorry for Davon. He had only slept for a short while, but something unexpected happened. Moreover, it might be something to do with them.

Kim also felt a little sorry for Davon, but now he had no other choice.

"I have to tell Mr. Davon about this. Otherwise, I can't arrange the next move."

"I'll go with you."

After Nicole finished speaking, she followed Kim to find Davon. Naturally, Samuel followed suit.

When the group arrived at the door of Davon's room, they saw that Phoenix was sitting outside the door. She was drinking by a small table. She couldn't help but be surprised when she saw them.

"Did something happen?"

Phoenix was sensitive. If Kim came alone, it would be fine. Now that even Nicole and Samuel came, and they looked so serious, she couldn't help but frown.

"Something happened. Is my brother sleeping? Can you wake him up?"

Nicole said to Phoenix.

Phoenix was a little depressed.

"Just wake him up. There is no need to ask me."

After Phoenix finished speaking, she stepped aside.

Nicole and Samuel did not say anything else. There was no time to talk about anything else in this situation, so they walked in.

Davon did not sleep for a long time. He was sleeping soundly. Noticing that he was exhausted, Nicole didn't have the heart to wake him up.

Kim sighed, "Mr. Davon hasn't had a good sleep in all these years. I don't know what to do."

Seeing that Davon came out, Kim naturally followed him. Kim was both Davon's assistant growing up with him and his substitute. So he asked boldly, "Davon, if you broke Mr. Green's arm, then Mrs. Green would hate you."

"She would kill me."

Davon couldn't help but shake his head and smile bitterly at the thought of how Nicole loved Samuel.

"One more thing, don't call her Mrs. Green anymore. She is my sister. Just call her Ms. Nicole and call Samuel Mr. Green."

Davon was uncomfortable with it.

Nicole was his sister and lived with him. Why did Kim call her Mrs. Green? It made her an outsider. Although it was improper to do so in the Sawyer family, it was just up to him.

"Mr. Davon, Phoenix might not know you like her. It's not a very secure way to threaten her with Mr. Green. Why didn't you tell her why you don't let her go there? You just want to keep her from being torn and harmed by Leo. What if she hates you even more after you said so many hard things to her?" Kim naturally would do as Davon asked, but he was a little worried.

"I don't care! As long as I like her, she can never be away from me even if she hates me. Do you forget what she did to me previously?"

Davon frowned slightly, with mixed feelings flashing in his eyes.

Kim was slightly stunned and didn't say anything at the thought of what Phoenix did to Davon.

Sooner or later, Phoenix had to pay for what she did. Fortunately, Davon still loved Phoenix. Otherwise, Kim couldn't imagine to what end she would come.

Mr. Davon was said to be gentle and refined. Only Kim knew what he was like. He was just a devil by nature, but he tended to pretend otherwise.

Nicole and Samuel couldn't help but be stunned when seeing Davon come out without Phoenix.

"Davon, why isn't Phoenix with you?"

"She will stay here. She's Leo's daughter after all. Once we have a fight with Leo, he will use her as a shield, and we will be put at a disadvantage. She's our people, so we must protect her. But if we do, we will be more at risk. Besides, I'm not going to face him as Mr. Davon's assistant. Although the Sawyer family is not that powerful, it won't put me at the mercy of Leo."

Davon was really angry.

Samuel saw the murderous intention in his eyes.

"Don't have a head-on collision with Leo. We just need to put him and Jayden in an internal struggle. We had better make Jayden impeach Leo. Only Jayden has a lot of evidence of Leo's crimes. Without the evidence, nothing can lead to Leo's downfall and our mission can't be accomplished either."

Hearing Samuel's words, Davon frowned slightly.

"So now, I should find Jayden and pretend to work for him. Everyone in Country F knows why Leo curries favor with me. If I support Jayden who might have the ambition, then they will inevitably struggle against each other. However, it will take a longer time."

was smart. He knew what to do upon hearing Samuel's words. However, he really disliked a long-term confrontation. He

"Father, let's go home first."

Davon stopped Eason's words and winked at Kim. Then they left the palace with Eason.

"King, they have left."

The maid reported to Leo.

Leo swept everything in front of him onto the ground and said with a cold expression, "Davon is too arrogant."

"King, do you want me to send someone to teach him a lesson?"

A guard walked out from the shadows.

Leo also wanted to do something about Davon, but the current research still needed him. Thinking of this, he said with anger, "Wait for a while. Let him alone first. Has Major's corpse been brought back? Did you find anything?"

"Yes. The coroner examined it and said he was shot by a sniper rifle. Judging from the location of the scene, there should be two snipers. But the location was not very good. We have placed Mr. Major's corpse in the morgue and sent someone to inform Prince Jayden. He will probably be back soon."

Hearing the guard's words, Leo frowned.

"Who called him back? We haven't found Nicole and Samuel. And I don't know if there were any of their people in the palace. Isn't Jayden risking his neck if he comes back now? Tell him not to come back. I will bury Major like my own son. Ask him to seize the time and raise money. Recent research is very costly. Our national strength is about to collapse."

"Yes, my lord."

The guard accepted the order and left.

Perhaps as Jayden had been doing things without any complaint all these years, Leo took it for granted. Now, even if Major, his only son, died, Leo still wanted to raise money. He only cared about Jayden's mission.

He always thought that treating Major as his son was Jayden's grace. But he forgot that if Jayden didn't make such a sacrifice, he could have become a carefree prince and led a wealthy life. And Major would have his own privileges.

When Jayden heard the news, his face was gloomy and he didn't say a word. But his eyes were filled with anger.

His only son was dead, but Leo didn't allow him to go back.

His wife and son already died for the country. As a husband and father, he couldn't even recognize them.

This was the first time in many years that Jayden felt wronged.

When Lillian died, he didn't have much feeling. After all, she was just a woman and he married her just to dispel Leo's hostility towards him. Now that he was outside for so many years, he had countless women. He didn't remember what Lillian looked like. But that woman gave him a son, so he gave her the title of Princess. Even if she died for the country, she was buried in the Imperial Mausoleum.

But Major was different.

That was his son! His only son! He hadn't talked with him or met him in person. He even didn't know if he had been well all these years.

Chapter 1388 How Ridiculous

Noticing Eason was very excited, Davon felt a little sorry.

"Father, what I have is supposed to be Kim's. I'm sorry."

Davon bowed to Eason.

In the past few years, Eason had treated him as his biological son. However, Kim was his biological son. In the future, he might have to return home. He was worried about Eason.

"It's not like that. If it wasn't for Ms. Sally saving him back then, perhaps he would have died. Besides, I know best what kind of life you have in the Sawyer's. My wife has been targeting you. She hates you so much that she even wants you to die. Fortunately, you can protect yourself. Otherwise, you would have suffered a lot. I know right from wrong. Ms. Sally has her own reason. Perhaps she did so to protect the only heir of the Sawyer family."

Eason said, tears streaming down his cheeks.

"Dear, get up. You must have suffered a lot these years."

Eason hurriedly helped Kim up.

Kim's eyes were a little red and swollen, but he shook his head and said, "Davon treats me very well. I have attended many formal events. They can't tell who I am since I always wear a mask, but I'm the one who manages the business of the Sawyer family."

Davon had never treated Kim as a servant and he knew his real identity, so he had been letting Kim handle the business from a few years ago.

Kim was the only heir. He will take it over one day.

Kim and Davon had grown up together, trained together, and had lots of adventures together. So, they knew Eason's wife hated Kim and his mother. If it weren't for Davon, Kim would have died.

Moreover, Sally saved him and his mother. Essentially, the Sawyer family belonged to Sally. He should respect Davon. Moreover, Davon had helped him expand their business many times over the years. They had long treated each other as their brother. Therefore, his father was naturally Davon's father.

Hearing that, Eason couldn't help but feel sad.

"I'm sorry to make you suffer."

"Not at all, father."

Kim's eyes were also wet.

Davon slowly retired from the room to leave them alone.

He had always known that he was not a Sawyer. His mother had given him a companion since he was young and told him to protect this companion. At that time, he did not know why, but when he grew up, his mother told him about Kim's identity.

Back then, Sally had guessed that Eason's wife would not let Kim go, so she found a dead baby to replace Kim.

Yolanda knew about this. She knew that it was wrong to destroy a family but to protect her son, she would rather die so miserably. Only if she died could her son be safe.

There was nothing as great as a mother's love. They would give anything for their children.

These past few years, Kim and Davon had worked together to develop the Sawyer family. It was the promise that his mother had made to Eason. And it was also a reward to the Sawyer family.

Now that Eason knew Kim was his son, Davon was very happy.

After he left the room, he had someone release Samuel and Nicole, told them the news, and then went back to his room.

Chapter 1389 Then What Should He Do?

Davon kept conscious even when he was asleep. Phoenix was by his side so he could relax a bit. But the loud sound of her body falling to the ground woke him up completely. He opened his eyes at once.

He looked around the room and saw that Phoenix fainted on the ground. The blood slowly flowed from her nose and covered her face, and even stained her collar.

Davon quickly got up and found the medical kit. He took out a silver needle and inserted it into an acupoint of Phoenix. Her nosebleed finally stopped.

He held Phoenix to the bed. Then he ordered his men to bring the instruments over and give her a body check and a head scan.

Phoenix said that she lost two years' memories. If that was true, she may have suffered a head injury that affected her nerves.

Soon, Davon saw the traces of Phoenix's brain surgery and also saw a pressed cranial nerve.

His face instantly clouded over.

So, what she said was true?

Did she really forget about him?

Davon's heart ached like it was hurt by a needle.

How could she forget those precious memories? Why did such a skillful operation oppress this nerve?

Now Phoenix probably wanted to think of something, so her old wound was torn apart, causing her nose to bleed. If it was not stopped, the effect of her previous surgeries might be gone.

Thinking about the consequences of cerebral hemorrhage, Davon looked gloomier.

"Take the instruments out. No one is allowed in without my permission."

"Yes."

The servants took all the instruments out.

Davon looked at the unconscious Phoenix and did not feel sleepy for a moment.

If it weren't for Phoenix, he would have given up on these years. Those days were all precious memories of his life. But to Phoenix, were they something that could be thrown away as she liked?

He knew that he couldn't blame Phoenix.

Back then, the surgeon had chosen the least harmful option. He even did a good job. If there was no past between him and Phoenix in that memory, perhaps he would have made the same decision. But Davon just felt very upset.

He couldn't help but think about that summer.

This was the first time he took his family's order to handle matters. He didn't expect that he would encounter terrorists halfway. To protect Kim, he asked Kim to take the goods with him and left first. He stayed to stop those people. In the end, he was outnumbered and captured by them.

the next day, Phoenix had left. But Davon saw

Phoenix was wearing his necklace!

Davon thought that he had thrown it away, but to his surprise, Phoenix was having it with her.

Davon felt complicated.

Hadn't Phoenix long forgotten about him?

Wasn't she suffering from memory disorder?

If so, why did she have the necklace?

Davon had not seen the necklace for years. He looked at it carefully and confirmed that it was really once his. Suddenly, he felt like crying.

He calmed himself down and helped Phoenix get changed as fast as he could. Then, he walked out.

Helen learned that Phoenix had fainted. She wanted to go in and see her but was stopped by the guards at the entrance. When she saw Davon, who she was usually afraid of, she stepped forward and asked, "Mr. Davon, what happened to the princess?"

"She just fainted, but is fine now."

Davon looked at Helen and burst in, "Where did she get the necklace?"

"What?"

Helen was a little startled. She was surprised that Davon would ask her such a question. Nevertheless, she instantly trembled when meeting Davon's cold eyes. She hurriedly answered, "Princess has always had that necklace with her. I don't know where she got it. As far as I can remember, she hasn't changed this necklace since I became her servant."

"Really? Did she say anything special about this necklace?"

Davon was a little nervous.

Helen shook her head and said, "No, but she values it very much. Once, it was broken and lost. Princess lost her temper. She looked for it all night before finding it. Then, she asked a craftsman to repair it. After that, she ordered that no one should touch the necklace."

Davon was in a much better mood now.

It didn't matter whether Phoenix remembered him or not. As long as she was wearing his necklace, Davon was happy.

"Take care of her. She'll probably sleep for a long time. Tell the kitchen staff to get her something to eat when she wakes up."

"Yes, Mr. Davon."

Helen breathed a sigh of relief when she noticed that Davon was quite gentle when talking about Phoenix.

Davon walked over to the guest room.

He couldn't fall asleep with Phoenix beside now, so he could only go to the guest room to take a nap.

After Eason acknowledged that Kim was his own son, he talked to him about what had happened during the past few years. Eason was very grateful to Davon.

"Kim, I know that you deserve more than just an assistant, but Davon is too special. His mother has saved your life, and our family couldn't have survived without him, so..."
