

Escape Wife 1401

Chapter 1401 He Can't Be Here

"Let go of him!"

Nicole's stern shout immediately attracted everyone's attention.

"Alert! The King's order is to kill them all!"

What an order!

Nicole's eyes instantly turned scarlet.

If it wasn't for protecting her, Samuel wouldn't be seized. Nicole had hated Leo's guts since before. At this moment, she wished she could kill him with her own hands.

"Kill!"

Nicole gave a decisive order. The men from the Night Elf Empire rushed over right away.

Amidst the rain of bullets, Nicole wanted to get Samuel back, but those people seemed to read her mind. One guy picked up his gun and shot towards Samuel's chest.

"No!"

Nicole's heart was about to shatter. She shrieked and ran towards Samuel regardless of the flying bullets.

At this moment, a bullet directly hit Leo's man's temple. He fell directly. The bullet aiming at Samuel's heart deviated from the original track because of the shooter's fall. It flew over Samuel's shoulder. However, Samuel was oblivious. He did not move at all.

Nicole did not know who was helping her, but when she saw that Samuel did not move, her heart instantly shattered into pieces.

"No! Samuel! Please!"

She rushed over like crazy.

Bullets hit her arm and leg, but Nicole seemed to be unable to feel it. Samuel was her priority.

Later, Steven's men came. Seeing Nicole's crazy behavior, they hastened to start fire to cover her.

When Nicole ran to Samuel, Leo's guards were already dead, leaving Samuel lying there alone, covered in blood.

"Samuel, you promised me that you would come back to see me. You can't lie to me!"

Nicole suddenly rushed at Samuel and placed her trembling fingers under Samuel's nose.

His weak breath instantly made Nicole cry her heart out.

"You liar! I will never believe whatever you say. You hear me? You owe me. When you wake up, you have me pay me back!"

Nicole was so heartbroken that she almost suffocated.

She never thought that one day she would see Samuel die in front of her.

Samuel had once said he wanted her happy and healthy for the rest of her life.

"What's wrong?"

Nicole had been staring at them, so Morgan's any slight action might make her concerned.

Morgan glanced at Nicole and whispered, "Mr. Green has lost too much blood. It's very dangerous. We can't fly anymore. We have to land and find a hospital to have a blood transfusion."

Blood transfusion?

It suddenly occurred to Nicole that Samuel's blood type was rare.

"Jacob, land."

Nicole gave demand at once.

RH blood was hard to get. Samuel was injured like this, she should have thought of the need for transfusion. Unfortunately, her blood type was ordinary.

Jacob hurriedly ordered the plane to land.

The plane landed in a small town.

Nicole did not know where they were, but she didn't care anyway. She asked Jacob to go to the local hospitals to check for blood, but she did not expect that there was only one hospital here. It was a village hospital. No RH blood type could be found here.

The nearest town was fifteen minutes' flight. Morgan said that Samuel might not be able to make it.

Nicole was desperate.

Would Samuel and her part in this way?

No!

They were still so young. They had so much time left to spend together. Their three children were waiting for them at home.

If she went back alone, how could she tell them where Daddy had gone?

Nicole's eyes turned scarlet again.

"Does anyone have an idea?"

"The most effective way is to go to the town to summon RH blood donors. However, this town is small. I don't know if there is any RH blood and when it can be collected. So another group of people needs to fly a helicopter to the nearby town to collect RH blood."

This was the only possible way that Jacob could think of.

Nicole turned to Morgan who looked serious right now. Nicole received her message that Samuel might not be able to make it until then.

"We need to do everything we can. I'll go collect RH blood. Jacob, take some men with you to the nearby town to check if there is any RH blood. The rest of you stay here to protect Samuel."

Nicole made a decision immediately.

"What are you laughing at?"

Allen had been full of confidence. After all, Nicole was willing to do anything for Samuel, wasn't she? This upset Allen, but he would put up with it, as long as he could get her.

All Allen and his family had done was for Nicole. Rather than saying that he was obsessed with her, it was better to say that he needed to find an outlet for his resentment and a solace. In other words, Allen became the sinner of his family because of her, so he took for granted that Nicole would marry him.

After all, he paid so much for Nicole, didn't he?

She looked at him again but couldn't see any graces that he used to possess at all. His shameless and ferocious look was truly disgusting.

"Are you mad?"

"What?"

Dumbfounded by her sudden question, he asked.

Nicole still sneered and said, "Otherwise, why did you say all this to me?"

"Nicole!"

Only then did Allen realize that she was making fun of him.

"Don't you want to save Samuel?"

Nicole's expression darkened the moment she heard it.

"Allen, do you think you can threaten me with that? Do you think your kindness to me five years ago can last a lifetime?"

Nicole looked coldly at Allen. In the past, she did not find this man so unbearable, but now she changed her opinion of him and found him hideous.

It wasn't that she and Samuel weren't ungrateful. The fact was that what Allen had done to her and her children crossed Samuel's bottom line. If it were someone else, Samuel would have killed him. However, Samuel spared him, because he had saved Nicole five years ago. Even though that rescue was a scheme, she didn't mind it. Now, how could Allen show his face and make trouble?

"Last time Laurence crippled you, but now you look able-bodied. So you had some surgery? I'm impressed. The Brook family has lost, but you can still bully around in this small town. You even dare to challenge me again. Do you think I will let you off with the kindness you showed me five years ago? Or you think I'll agree to your request for Samuel? I'm not that pushover in your imagination. You should realize that I am Mrs. Green!"

Nicole's voice became colder and colder, and she just said what came into her mind, without intention to sugarcoat it.

Allen's face paled.

Chapter 1404 He Can Only Blame Himself

Hearing that the operation was successful, Nicole was relieved.

"Take good care of him. I'll go rest."

She was exhausted.

There were a lot of things awaiting them before they arrived at Seapolis City. She must hold on.

Then, Nicole went to lie down on a ward bed and fell asleep right away.

More accurately, she fainted.

Morgan was surprised and checked on Nicole.

Nicole's wound had become inflamed, and the blood had soaked the gauze. However, Nicole didn't tell them.

Morgan felt a heartfelt admiration for Nicole and finally considered Nicole to be her master.

Morgan disinfected and bandaged Nicole's wound again when Nicole remained unconscious.

Jacob was attending Samuel. Seeing Morgan walk out, he asked, "How is Mrs. Green?"

"It's nothing serious. She just needs some rest. She had been tense these days."

Jacob sighed.

"She has no choice. After all, we're running for our lives. Leo is the king of Country F. He will catch up with us soon. And Jayden won't let slip the opportunity to kill us."

Even though Leo and Jayden turned against each other because of Major's death, they still had the same goal: kill Nicole and Samuel.

Morgan did not say anything.

"Where are your people? Stop hiding them at this crucial moment!"

Jacob remembered that Morgan was the master of the well-trained people who were tattooed with the Lycoris.

However, Morgan shook her head and said, "They are not my people. They are Leo's people. They are genetic warriors."

Jacob's face darkened.

"You work for Leo?"

"You also know that Sally held some clout back then. We are not in so good a situation in Country F as you think. Ms. Sally controlled a genetics doctor and asked him to train the genetic warriors. In this way, she can protect Mr. Zayn and get out of Leo's control. But none of us expected that it was all Leo's scheme. The doctor is Leo's person. He used Ms. Sally's desire to protect herself to do what he had always wanted to do but failed. The genetic warriors are almost perfect. However, because genetics is mysterious and the data is volatile, Leo is their real master. I was able to mobilize them because Leo thought I was useful. He believed that Ms. Sally would turn against me when seeing me leading those people in front of her. Then Ms. Sally would be alone. In Harper Town, he lent me the people because he wanted to help Jayden. I'm never their master."

Chapter 1405 Take Good Care of Him

Jacob didn't see through Nicole until now.

With Samuel around, Nicole was a kind and gentle little woman who acted coquettishly sometimes. She would also spend her leisure time doing some landscape painting. Once something happened to Samuel, she would become a female warrior to protect her beloved.

Nicole was the most appropriate person for the task. Emory and the military on the high seas and the Masons along the voyage route would only recognize Nicole.

If Mark didn't see Nicole, he would be worried and couldn't focus on the fight. If Tim didn't see Nicole, he would go confirm Nicole's safety in person. Even if they could contact each other by phone, the radio would reveal their whereabouts. Then the arrangement would become meaningless. Besides, without Jacob and the others, Nicole might not be able to protect Samuel and Morgan at the next rendezvous point.

Nicole said that after careful consideration. Jacob didn't know how to refute it.

Therefore, he was discouraged.

Working for Samuel for so long, he acted like Samuel. However, he was unable to mobilize all these people in such a short time. Nicole could do that because she was a member of the Don family, the Shaw family, and the Green family. Besides, Tim was her cousin, so she could also get the Masons' help.

Not everyone could be loved by so many people.

"But we got only one pilot," Jacob said with worry.

"One of Steven's people knows how to fly planes. I just asked."

Nicole did not expect Steven to arrange for someone to come over to protect her. She had planned to land in an unfamiliar place and hire a pilot with high payment. Although it was risky, the people of Night Elf Empire were still able to control a pilot.

With Steven's help, they were much safer.

Nicole had even solved this problem. Jacob felt disappointed with himself. If Samuel woke up and knew that he put Nicole in danger alone, Samuel could be furious with him.

Nicole did not care what Jacob thought and said in a flat tone, "Go prepare. Leo's people will be here soon."

"Yes, ma'am."

Jacob knew that Nicole was right.

He went to Steven's people, while Nicole came to Samuel's room.

Samuel was still unconscious. He was seriously injured this time. It might take a while for him to wake up.

Morgan knew that Nicole might have something to say to Samuel, so she stood up and was about to leave. However, Nicole stopped her.

"Morgan."

Morgan paused as she looked at Nicole with a puzzled face.

Nicole said with indifference, "You saved Samuel, so I won't punish you. You can still be Joseph's master, but you are not allowed to work for anyone else in the meantime."

Nicole could understand Morgan's situation because she was also a woman. However, as Samuel's wife, she had to ask Morgan to follow the rules.

"I won't."

Morgan felt guilty.

"Isn't he operating on Zayn on the plane?"

Nicole remembered the news she had got before she left. However, her heart skipped a beat when she saw Mark's worried face.

"What happened?"

"I just heard that Davon's plane was attacked and crashed. I can't find them."

Mark was deeply worried.

Davon was William's only son, and William had never seen Davon. If something happened to Davon, he couldn't imagine how William would react.

"I'll send someone to look for him."

Nicole froze.

Who had attacked Davon?

Leo wouldn't. And Santino didn't have the time and energy. Then who was it? Jayden?

Jayden wouldn't attack Davon if he wanted to be the king of Country F. Was it the spy in the hot spring?

Who was it?

Nicole turned around and was about to ask the people of Night Elf Empire to search for Davon. However, Mark stopped her.

"I'll take care of it. You should bring Samuel back to Seapolis City now. I asked you not because I wanted you to help me but because I thought you would know something helpful for my investigation."

Nicole listened to Mark.

Davon was important, but he also wanted Nicole to stay safe.

Nicole thought of Samuel's injuries and knew that she could not be willful. Then, she whispered what had happened in the Sawyer's to Mark's ear.

Mark's face grew solemn.

"Don't you know who is the one that tried to kill you?"

"No. They are cunning. And the people they sent are all men of sacrifice. We can't find out anything."

"Why did you act so recklessly with such an unstable factor? Why did Samuel agree to do that?"

Mark was mad.

Tim couldn't stand Mark taking that tone with Nicole, but Mark was Nicole's uncle. Tim could only take a step forward and say, "Mark, I would have done the same thing if I were there. There's no time to rally more people. And they don't have many people in Country F. You and the army have withdrawn. They are lucky to come back alive. As for Davon, I think he should know how to protect himself. He might be unable to contact us at the moment."

"Mr. Green, don't move. You have been so lucky to be saved this time. Thanks to Mrs. Green."

Seeing that Samuel was moving fiercely, Jacob stepped forward and stopped him.

"Nicole?"

Samuel was a little confused.

Jacob told him everything that had happened along the way, including the part where Allen provoked.

"Mr. Green, you would have been amazed too if you saw how brave and decisive Mrs. Green was when she hit Allen. The highlight was that Mrs. Green said that our gratitude to him didn't mean he could do everything he wanted."

As Jacob said vividly, the corner of Samuel's lips rose slightly.

Of course, the woman he loved was excellent.

However, when Samuel heard that Nicole had suffered a lot in the search for his blood source, his heart ached.

After all, he knew how rare his blood type was.

"She had done too much for me. When she wakes up, I will thank her."

Samuel remembered how angry Nicole was when she rushed to save him from the guards and questioned why he did it all alone.

This time, Nicole must be enraged. How should he calm her down?

Actually, he knew that Nicole would be mad at his actions. After all, he had not included her in. But truth was if they were in danger, he was not fully confident that he could ensure Nicole's safety.

Even though he knew that she would be angry, he would not change his mind if the clock was turned back. To him, nothing was more important than Nicole's life.

But he also knew that Nicole thought the same way.

It was meaningless to argue who was right. He did upset Nicole anyway, so he had to apologize.

Seeing that Samuel was weak, Jacob found it hard to tell him that Nicole was so angry this time.

He just said, "Mr. Green, have a good rest. Mrs. Green will come to see you when she wakes up."

"Why are you separating us? Bring in a bed and put it beside me. Just let Nicole stay with me."

Samuel finally realized that something was wrong.

He and Nicole were husband and wife. Even if they were injured, there is no reason for them to sleep in separate rooms. Besides, wasn't staying together more convenient for the cure?

No wonder he felt the room was less lively.

Jacob cleared his throat and said, "Mrs. Green specially said before she rested that she didn't want to disturb you, so she went to the secondary bedroom."

Samuel was sullen.

Disturb? It was obvious that she was still angry and didn't want to see him.

Samuel was vexed. Jacob was afraid that there would be fireworks, so he hurriedly said, "I'll go get Morgan here. Olivia had heard that Mrs. Green was injured and flown over. I have to pick her up. Mr. Green, tell Morgan if you need anything."

Olivia felt that Nicole was strange. She knew Nicole. Samuel might make her angry this time.

"Why don't you ask your husband how he's doing?"

That was exactly what Samuel wanted.

He pricked up his ears and listened. And Morgan was not allowed to make any noise or he would miss his wife's reply.

But Nicole said indifferently, "Nothing. He'll be good with professional caring. By the way, what plays did that star act in? I have nothing to do right now. I want to see something interesting."

"Rare thing! You, Nicole, actually have time to watch plays!"

Olivia knew that Nicole didn't want to say anything about Samuel.

Forgot it.

She and Nicole were friends. All Olivia wanted was Nicole to be happy. As for Samuel, since he irritated Nicole, he had to endure Nicole's ignorance.

But to tell the truth, Olivia had not seen Nicole so mad for a long time.

Many people would express their anger, but Nicole wouldn't.

She would give him the silent treatment.

Moreover, Nicole would ignore everything of Samuel. No matter how much Samuel tried to pamper her, it was futile.

Nicole would be super polite and even arrange everything properly, but she just would not talk to him.

Olivia felt a little sympathetic towards Samuel.

This would probably drive Samuel crazy.

Olivia smiled and was gloating.

Nicole saw Olivia's expression, but she didn't care.

She would not vent her anger to others. Olivia was still her friend.

"Are you going to tell me or not?"

"Alright. You became a quick temper when you came back from Country F."

Olivia complained, took out her phone, and searched for the show.

When Samuel heard that his wife changed the topic, he felt depressed.

He suddenly thought of something and let out a wailing cry, "Morgan, be gentle. It hurts! I'm bleeding!"

Morgan, who was standing ten steps away, looked at Samuel at a loss. Then, she understood something and hurriedly said, "Mr. Green, you are seriously injured. Don't move."

"How is my wife? She got hurt too! I have to go see her. Help me up."

Samuel spoke loudly on purpose.

Olivia tried not to laugh.

The delivery girl was happy to be here, but now fear overwhelmed her. It was said that Mr. Green was cold and not easy to get along with. She now believed it.

She threw the flowers and ran away.

Samuel looked at those bright red roses and felt that they were laughing at him. Unfortunately, he could not throw them away. It just made him more upset.

Samuel had undergone a big operation and suffered from injuries. Not long after, he was a little tired and fell asleep in depression.

The master bedroom was silent. And Nicole got out of bed.

Compared to Samuel, her health condition was alright.

Morgan heard something from next door and walked over.

"Mrs. Green, what do you want? I can help you."

"No need. The children don't know about our injuries, do they?"

Nicole was worried.

Morgan shook her head and said, "I don't know. Mr. Tim told us to block the news."

"Is there any news from Country F? Did they find Davon?"

"I'm not sure."

Nicole felt low.

It was not the answer she wanted. They left in such a hurry and they might implicate people who cared about them, such as Davon and Phoenix. It made her feel a little better to hear that Booth and Karina were saved. She didn't know how Zayn was now.

"Arrange a car. I'll go to the Don's."

Morgan hesitated.

"Mrs. Green, you're injured. You should rest."

"I'm fine. Just find me a wheelchair. I don't know anything about them. I have to do something."

Nicole was about to get up, and Morgan hurriedly helped her.

Morgan pondered for a moment, "Why don't you ask Mr. Green? He had paid attention to this."

Samuel paused and looked at Morgan. She didn't respond.

Everyone could tell that they were not on speaking terms. And Morgan tried to help them fix it.

Actually, Samuel didn't do anything wrong. It was that he did not cherish his life. It was important to Nicole. Samuel would be just as angry if Nicole were lying in that bed.

They were husband and wife and could support each other. They had experienced everything. But until now, Samuel would put himself in danger, even sacrificing his life in exchange for Nicole's safety. Nicole could not imagine if she had arrived a step later, Samuel would have been a dead body.

If Nicole forgave him this time, Samuel would still be like this the next.

Nicole did not plan to tell her

"Who is it?"

Nicole was a little surprised and her expression changed. Jason was a little embarrassed.

"That..."

A girl walked out of the room. She was fair, clean, and made a good first impression.

Nicole laughed.

"May I ask who you are?"

When the girl heard this, she smiled and said, "Hello, my name is Sophie Williamson. I'm Mr. Jason's personal care."

"Personal care? Uncle Jason, what's that?"

Nicole was curious.

Jason had never been so embarrassed. He coughed and said, "None of your business. You can go back now. Samuel needs you."

"Uncle Jason is trying to drive me away? Alright. I understand it. I'm leaving now."

This was probably the best news that Nicole had heard.

Nicole liked Sophie at first glance. She had an intuition that Sophie was a good girl.

"My name is Nicole. I am Mr. Jason's niece. Please take care of my uncle. Thanks for the trouble."

"What?"

Sophie didn't understand it.

Jason hurriedly said, "Hurry up and leave."

His ears were red.

This was the first time Nicole had seen Jason being shy. It seemed that he had fallen in love.

"Alright, alright. I'm leaving."

Nicole laughed happily and left with her bodyguard holding the nutrients.

There weren't many people left in the Don family. And Uncle Jason was disabled. Nicole was happy to see someone willing to take care of Jason. Moreover, Jason was in his prime and was a great man. He deserved it.

After getting in the car, Nicole was still smiling. She was happy. Those miserable memories in Country F seemed to have dissipated a lot.

The bodyguard saw that Nicole was in a good mood, and he asked, "Mrs. Green, shall we go back?"

"Yes."

Nicole was a little tired.

Her health was not good, and she felt tired more easily after the injury.

Nicole found a comfortable position.
