Chapter 141: Who does that woman know?

“Sorry!”

The servant was a little flustered and squatted down to clean up.

Nicole also squatted down and said with a smile, “Let me help you.”

“No, lady, you are the guest and I can do it myself.”

The servant was a little flustered.

Both Jason and Mrs. Don felt very embarrassed.

Mrs. Don said, “I'm sorry, Miss Bush, this is our housekeeper, who is a little old and happened to be tidying up the study room.

She didn't see you coming. Just leave it alone and let her clean up by herself.”

“It's okay, I was wrong too, I didn't avoid it.”

Nicole smiled and let go of the Mrs. Don's hand and then squatted down to help the housekeeper pick up the books, but subconsciously took advantage of no one's attention and stuffed the photo that had committed pornography into her sleeve.

Then she stood up casually.

Seeing that Nicole was so approachable, Mrs. Don couldn't help but feel a little more fond of her.

The most annoying thing for the children of soldiers is the kind of arrogant and domineering woman who is being pampered.

At first, Mrs. Don thought that Nicole would be like Riley, but she didn't expect her to be so approachable, she didn't have any arrogant gesture and Mrs. Don's favor suddenly rose.

“Come on and have some tea.”

Mrs. Don happily brought Nicole into the living room again.

When Jason saw that Mrs. Don liked Nicole so much, he couldn't help but feel better. Although he didn't know why he was inexplicably happy.

“I asked the servant to prepare something to eat. I wonder whether Miss Bush has it?”

“Thank you for your trouble, I came to see Zac, because I heard that he is here and I need to verify with him about some things.”

Nicole said her intention in time.

Jason and Mrs. Don were so enthusiastic that she couldn't bear it.

When Mrs. Don heard this, she paused slightly and said, "Are you trying to ask me about framing you?"

"No, forget the past, Mrs. Don, I heard that you are also trying to find the descendants of the Don Family. Although I do not

Chapter 142: Evil will be punished in the end

Nicole followed Jason while thinking about the matter and arrived at the door of the dungeon unknowingly, but she tripped over a step because she didn't look at the way and she fell over in the direction of Jason.

Everything was caught off guard. It was too late when Jacob wanted to support her. Nicole fell on Jason's body and sat down on Jason's lap.

The soft feeling made Jason stunned for an instant, he even subconsciously held onto Nicole's waist.

Her waist is so soft and thin, like a water snake. Jason couldn't help but feel restless.

Nicole felt a pair of powerful hands on her waist, with hot temperature, as if burning her skin, making her subconsciously want to get up, but it was a little sudden so that she raised her head and touched Jason's chin.

She didn't know when Jason had lowered his head, as if to see how she was doing, but only Jason knew in his heart that he had unexpected thoughts about the woman in front of him just now.

If it weren't for Nicole's sudden raising of her head, he didn't know whether he would kiss Nicole.

When he thought of his thoughts and actions just now, Jason's psychology suddenly became a little bit shy. Now, to Nicole's clear and flustered eyes, Jason feels even more like a wretched villain.

"Are you okay?"

Jason spoke quickly, but his voice was a little hoarse and his eyes were a little dull.

Nicole is no longer a little girl. Naturally, she can understand the meaning of Jason's eyes now. She quickly stood up and said embarrassingly, "I'm sorry. I was thinking about something just now, I'm sorry."

"It's OK."

Suddenly losing weight and warmth on his legs, Jason only felt a little lost in his heart, as if something was showing from the bottom of his heart. He wanted to catch, but in the end, reason defeated emotion and silently withdrew his hand.

"It doesn't matter, there are more steps here, so be careful."

Jason said lightly, but his eyes didn't dare to look at Nicole anymore, his current eyes couldn't deceive Nicole.

Jacob looked aside clearly and frowned and quickly came between Nicole and Jason and said softly to Nicole, "Miss Bush, let me help you. It's not easy to go here."

Outside, Jacob still called Nicole as Miss Bush, after all, her identity could not be disclosed now.

Nicole nodded, feeling quite embarrassed.

This accident made Jason and Nicole not know what to say for a while, so they could only walk inside in silence.

The lights in the dungeon are sensory. With the advent of people, it lights up continuously.

Nicole focused her attention on the dungeon, feeling that the Don Family resembled the former military family and the dungeon even came with a faint smell of blood.

Jason seemed to have thought of something and whispered, "It's bloody here, so Miss Bush should wait here, I'll let Zac be brought out."

"Be careful!"

Jason's heart tightened suddenly, but unfortunately, he was disabled.

He had never really realized what would happen if his legs were not good enough, but at this moment he felt a deep sense of frustration.

The girl he likes is right in front of him, seeing the danger, but he can't do anything, he doesn't even have the strength to stand up and pull her away.

Jason hammered his legs fiercely, watching Jacob kick Zac away and then quickly blocked Nicole.

Nicole is afraid.

At that moment, she saw the killing intent in Zac's eyes, but she couldn't retreat.

Behind her are sons, daughters, Samuel and many people she wants to protect.

Some people say that when you are alone, you can be cowardly and cowardly, but after you become a wife, mother and daughter, you lose this right, because once you turn around, once you fall, you will only be hurt the closest person.

Nicole didn't know much about this sentence before, but at this moment she deeply felt that these relatives would give her boundless courage, enough for her to face any difficulties and pains.

Nicole gently pushed Jacob away, looked at Zac who was kicked to the ground, said coldly, "You think you kill me, everything that happened before can be written off? Zac, who are you doing for? Think about it carefully. If you keep a secret for her and stick to the last bit of morality, what will happen to your beloved one?"

Zac's eyes were a little bloodshot and he said viciously, "If you dare to hurt Petty, I won't let you go!"

"What? did you think that you would have today five years ago?"

Nicole has to hate!

In five years, she has experienced too much, her child has experienced too much, Samuel has also experienced too much and all of this is due to the person in front of him and Riley.

Now she knows that they are all in front of my eyes and she even knows that they did what they did, but there is no evidence.

Without evidence, everything is empty talk and it is impossible to bring them to justice. What about those who are hurt?

Is there no justice at all?

Nicole is rarely attached to anything, but she has to explain it.

Zac stares for her fiercely, as if entangled with something, thinking about something, but closed his mouth tightly and didn't speak anymore.

Nicole could also afford it and just sat there lightly, not in a hurry.

Jason looked at the Nicole in front of him, admiring her courage somewhat, as if he could see that Nicole still had a lot to ask. Jason said in a low voice, "Miss Bush, I am a little uncomfortable. I will go back first. After you ask, let My people take him back."

Zac's words are indeed at the point and it makes Nicole's face very difficult to look.

"Do you think I care? I don't even need my identity. Do you think you can threaten to talk about me?
Zac, as I said, I am now returning from the evil spirit, just for revenge.

You want to use this way to threaten me, I'm sorry, I don't intend to deal with you in an open and upright way. As long as it can make you feel bad and let you experience my original pain, I'm willing to do anything, even if I sell my soul!"

Nicole stood up after speaking and planned to turn around and leave.

Zac panicked, stunned. He was not calm.

"You can't treat Petty like that! You absolutely can't!"

"You should know that I can definitely!"

Nicole looked at Zac coldly, as if looking at another dead person.

At this moment, Zac realized that the woman in front of him had lost her kindness and conscience and became the same as them.

He feels terrible and terrifying, so why did he get to this point?

If he knew that the fire would still allow Nicole to survive, he would never leave there early.

But now it's too late to say anything.

He looked at Nicole and asked word by word, "You came back this time for revenge. Is your kindness to Samuel part of your revenge? You don't love him anymore, do you? Just use his, right?"

Nicole was silent.

She didn't know how to answer and she felt unnecessary to discuss this issue with Zac.

What were her feelings for Samuel, it's not up to him to question. But she did come back with such a decision at the beginning.

Samuel on the other end of the phone suddenly held his breath.

He knew that he shouldn't listen to this, or even doubt Nicole's feelings for him, but at this moment, his mind seemed to be living with a devil, constantly clamoring, let him listen to Nicole's answer.

It's a pity that every minute of the time passed and Nicole didn't reply.

Samuel suddenly felt a pain in his heart, that kind of inexplicable sadness suddenly came from all directions, surrounded him, tightened little by little.

Zac laughed loudly.

"Sure enough! All I guessed were correct, right? Samuel is known as the emperor of Seapolis City. He could have any kind of woman he wanted, but he was deceived by you.

I don't know how he felt after he knew it. You are right, you are indeed not the people five years ago, now you have no heart at all. You are a demon, you came back from hell to kill us. I said back then that it was Mr. Green who made me burn you and the child in your belly to death. How could you not believe it? Otherwise, why are you here five years later? But does Mr. Green know that the woman sleeping next to him wanted him every minute?"

"Shut up!"

Zac went on and even hung up the phone without Samuel's

Jacob shivered coldly, put on his coat quickly. He couldn't help but said, "Is it winter in here?"

"This is the winter that is imitated by biological principles."

Nicole said faintly, already raising his foot and walking inside.

Jacob didn't quite understand the meaning of Nicole, but he didn't ask much, just followed in.

There are many varieties of plum gardens here, even green plums. It can be seen that Samuel has taken care of it.

The fragrance of plum blossoms is refreshing.

Nicole walked in the plum blossom forest, but her heart melted a little bit.

In the end, is a painting house.

Nicole strolled forward, gently pushing open the door of the studio, a burst of fragrance came to his nose.

There are also potted plum blossoms here, which are more delicate than the natural plum blossoms outside.

Nicole looked at the paintings hanging in the painting house and felt familiar.

Suddenly her eyes turned red.

It was a work that she had just learned to paint when she was four years old. It's not formal work, it's just a graffiti, but how could Samuel have it?

Nicole came in front of it and looked at the traces that she had left on it, making sure that this was the one she had back then.

Looking north along with this pair, there are her works when she was five years old when she was seven years old when she was eight years old and the paintings she won at the age of twelve. Until she graduated from University, there were almost all her works in her life.

All works were framed by people and there was no trace of ashes on it.

Nicole's tears could hardly stop.

This silly man, why never let her know this?

"Has Samuel come often in the past five years?"

Nicole's voice was a little low.

Jacob nodded and said, "Yes, during the first period, Mr. Green often stayed here alone, no one was allowed to accompany him. Later, he came once a week. But every time he came, he always stayed here. I'm not allowed to follow. He said this is his private space and no one is allowed to set foot. Today I don't know if Mr. Green will be unhappy when I look back."

"Will not."

Nicole smiled faintly, with affection.

She browsed the entire painting house as if she had seen her whole life.

Although Samuel didn't set a grave for her, he missed her in this way. If such a deep feeling is not love, what else is love?

Nicole watched slowly and carefully.

Passing through the painting house, there is a bedroom behind.

A wedding dress and Chinese dress is hanging here.

Nicole could see that it was what she wore when she got married. The wedding dress was shipped by Samuel by air from abroad. Although the wedding was very hasty, Nicole knew that if she went out now, there would be no hope between her and Samuel.

If it was before, she didn't expect Samuel to like her, she just came back for the sake of falling, but now, after seeing the private garden, knowing that Samuel has a deep affection for her, she doesn't want to let go of his hand again.

Regardless of the pain on the back of her hand, Nicole grabbed Samuel's hand and said, “Will you believe me once? Just this time! My feelings for you have not changed from beginning to end. Samuel, I don't deny it. I once hated you and wished you to die, but when it comes to that moment, I am reluctant, really reluctant. You have me in your heart, so can you not be affected by what others say? Can we live our lives well?”

Samuel looked at Nicole with tears in front of him.

Her eyes are so clear and transparent, so containing friendship, so he can't help but want to believe, want to say yes, but he can't forget what Zac said, let alone Nicole who said she was from hell.

Will the evil spirit come back with feelings?

He can bear anything, but he can't bear the woman he loves no longer loves him.

It made him more uncomfortable than killing him.

Samuel looked at Nicole and asked word by word, “You tell me frankly that you are only coming back for me this time, not because of anyone, not because of anything and you won't even use me and trick me. Nicole, as long as you say, I will believe it, I want to listen to you.”

Nicole's heart hurt suddenly.

What did she say?

She can't say it!

At this moment, she was unable to face Samuel frankly.

She feels like she is a despicable villain.

She didn't come back purely for Samuel.

She did not come back for his love.

She had a picture of him, the thing she pictured is probably Samuel's most precious.

Nicole bit her lower lip and a line of tears slipped down the corner of her eyes.

"Sorry."

Samuel suddenly raised her head, her scarlet eyes spreading.

"Get out!"

Samuel's voice is not loud, which seems that he has exhausted his whole body, but it makes people feel heartache inexplicably.

"Samuel, can you listen to my explanation, I..."

"Get out!"

Samuel pushed Nicole away.

Those good-looking eyes of a phoenix were clear with tears, but he quickly wiped them clean.

"While I'm still not angry, get out immediately! From now on, I don't want to see you, I can't hear your voice, I don't want to see your appearance! Nicole, what do you want, you tell me, I immediately offered it with both hands. I just beg you, don't continue to hurt me here."

Every sentence and word of Samuel was like a sharp dagger pierced into Nicole's chest.

Chapter 147: Joseph is sick

Samuel arranged for the transfer procedures after Nicole left. He did it so secretly that no one knew where he went.

Nicole learned that Samuel was transferred to the hospital at night. She cooked the pigeon soup for Samuel by herself, but when Jacob sent it to him, Jacob said that Samuel was no longer in the hospital. He doesn't explain where Samuel went.

She knew that she had completely injured Samuel.

Jacob looked at Nicole and asked in a low voice, "Madam, Mr. Green asked me to ask you, what is your purpose for coming back this time? As long as you want, you can speak. Everything from the Green Family and Every resource let you use."

"I want to see him!"

Nicole didn't want to say anything now, just want to see Samuel.

Jacob said embarrassedly, "Madam, don't embarrass me. You know, no one can interfere with the decision made by Mr. Green. He always said that you can ask for anything and take everything, even his life. But now he doesn't want to see you."

Nicole's heartfelt uncomfortable again.

Did he make up his mind not to see her again?

Or decided to forget her?

Nicole didn't know but felt that her heart was barren again.

"Did Zac confess?" .

Nicole had to shift her emotions, otherwise she didn't know how to do it. If she let her low air pressure affect Lucas, she would be unbearable.

Jacob shook his head and said, "No, Zac is still stiff, maybe waiting for something."

"Can't I leave the Green Family's house? If I don't go to see Samuel, can't I go out to do errands?"

Nicole's words made Jacob not know how to answer. .

"I need to ask Mr. Green."

"OK."

Nicole is not noisy or noisy, especially obedient, but Jacob can see that her eyes have lost their brilliance. Now Nicole seems to be a walking dead, without any emotion at all, like Samuel in five years.

He shook his head again.

The relationship between Samuel and Nicole and the current plot, Jacob didn't know how to speak and persuade but hoped that the two of them could break through a few mental obstacles and get together.

It's not easy for two people to fall in love and it's even harder to get to the present, isn't it?

Jacob sighed and called Samuel.

Samuel was silent for a while and said, "Follow her wherever she is going. Be sure to protect her safety."

"Mr. Green, since you are so worried about your wife, why bother..."

Jacob wanted to persuade him, but Samuel had hung up the phone before he said.

Chapter 148: Come on, Jason

The pain in her heart spread, but it was not enough to show it to outsiders. Even though her heart was dripping with blood, Nicole was still calm.

She thought, she was really different from the previous Nicole.

With a wry smile, Nicole looked at the dean again.

Hearing Jacob's words, the dean naturally didn't entangle anymore. He looked at these people and said in a low voice, "At the beginning of the period, we also thought that

Master Joseph had a gastrointestinal cold. We treated it according to the gastrointestinal cold, but obviously, it had no effect.

We extracted Joseph's blood for analysis and found that Joseph's body contained something that was enough to make Joseph weak and develop a high fever similar to a cold."

"What is it?"

Nicole's hands were tightly held together.

She was just a little skeptical, but she didn't expect it to be true.

This feeling is simply terrifying.

Nicole shuddered at the thought that such a thing could happen under the protection of Macon.

Everyone's faces are not very good-looking.

The dean looked at them and said painfully, "It's lead."

"What is it?"

Nicole immediately grasped Lucas.

The dean whispered, "It's lead. It's a harmful substance and it's impossible to suddenly enter the body and cause harm to the child. So it is bound to be produced in the body over time. As long as there is a little traction, it will It has caused many complications. I looked at the blood composition of Joseph. This lead deposit has been at least two years."

Nicole's heart hurt suddenly.

A child who was just over four years old had been poisoned for two years. Everyone felt nothing. This is terrible!

"Is there a cure? Doctor, he is only a four-year-old child!"

Nicole is also a mother, but it is hard to imagine that a mother would do this unacceptable thing to her own son.

Lucas didn't understand anything, but she was worried and grabbed Nicole's hand and asked, "Mommy, is Joseph serious?"

Jacob suddenly thought of Lucas and pushed him to the doctor's front and said, "Dean, let our Young Master Lucas have a blood test too."

Nicole's face suddenly changed.

"Lucas should be okay. He just came back not long!"

"Just in case."

Jacob only gave Nicole three words, but Nicole's heart was not calm.

If the other party has always hated her and still wants to put Lucas to death, will he also be slapped?

Thinking of this possibility, Nicole was cold and sweaty in her palms.

Nicole was so smiled by Jason, she felt ashamed.

How can there be such a son in the world!

“Mr. Don, please don't mind, Lucas is spoiled by me.”

“It's okay, I like him quite a lot. If I have time, I will often play with him. Wouldn't Miss Bush mind?”

Jason asked with a smile.

What should Nicole say to mind?

Does it mean that she mind that Jason will not continue to dissolve Lucas? Besides, Jason helped her so much.

Nicole naturally couldn't refuse and nodded in embarrassment.

“Okay, just leave it to me here. At the moment, your task is to go back and find out who poisoned Joseph in the old house of the Green Family. If you need my help from the police station, just tell me, don't be polite to me.”

Nicole could only smile slightly when Jason said.

She really didn't want to be polite, but can she be impolite now that Lucas is so troubled?

Nicole smiled awkwardly and had to walk out quickly with Jacob.

Jacob said angrily, “Madam, don't listen to Mr. Don. Compared with Mr. Green, Mr. Don is not qualified at all.”

Nicole paused, thinking of Samuel, her heart hurt again.

“Really? At least Mr. Don is chasing me, but your Mr. Green is avoiding me.”

This sentence directly blocked Jacob there.

He scratched his head depressed and quickly took out the phone and called Samuel.

“Mr. Green, if you don't come out again, your wife will be snatched away by Mr. Don. Lucas has also said that she is optimistic about Mr. Don chasing Miss Bush and Lucas still calls Mr. Don Jason.”

Samuel's eyes suddenly became low.

“What's the matter with the Don Family?”

“Mr. Don used the Don Family's secret ward to treat Joseph. The doctor said Joseph needed to exchange blood, but now the blood bank has insufficient blood and Joseph's body does not allow it. It can only take care of him first.”

Listening to Jacob's words, Samuel's face was particularly ugly.

“How is Lucas?”

“Lucas is fine, maybe before he can do it, Lucas stayed with Joseph.”

Samuel's brows frowned, he should have come forward when something like this happened, but he was really not mentally prepared to face Nicole here.

“Using all the strength of the Green Family to protect them, be sure to find out who hurt them.”

“What to shout? Shut up!”

The guard knocked on the door panel across the door and the sound of the stick made Riley wince involuntarily and then quickly got into Swift’s arms.

“Mummy, save me! Save me quickly!”

Seeing Riley like this, Swift felt distressed.

She whispered, “Listen to me. There is a bottle of medicine here that can make you mentally upset temporarily. A doctor will come to check you up at around 8 o'clock tomorrow. Remember, drink it half an hour before then. The medicine can only last for two hours, you must hold on. Riley, as long as you can get out of here, Mommy will have a way to make you see the light again. Only when you get out from here, you have everything possible, you know?”

Riley felt a little nervous when she saw Swift handing her a small bottle.

“Mummy, what kind of medicine is this? Will it be bad for me?”

“Don't worry, you were born to me. Will I still harm you? Think about Nicole, think about your son. Your son, who was born after a hard October pregnancy, really wants to be the son for Nicole?”

“No! I don't want it! Joseph is mine! Samuel is mine too! the Green Family is mine!”

Riley hid the medicine like crazy.

She is desperate now.

Swift is right!

Only by getting out of here first can she have hope.

Seeing her like this, Swift patted her hand comfortingly and said, “Don't be afraid, I am looking for the doctor who will come here tomorrow. No matter what she does to you, don't resist, just cooperate with it as much as possible.”

“It is good.”

Riley simply had enough of this place.

It was cold and humid at night, although the guards outside wouldn't do anything to her, the attitude really made her unbearable.

Swift was still thinking about talking to Riley but was knocked on the door by the bureau chief outside and said in a low voice, "Mrs. George, go quickly. If the people of the Green Family know that you are here, I can't explain."

"Understood."

Swift looked at Riley reluctantly, her eyes somewhat moist.

"Mummy will pick you up tomorrow."

"I'll wait for you, Mommy, I'll leave it!"

Riley has never been so helpless.

Swift left with reluctance.

Riley curled up in the corner alone, like a child abandoned by mother.

She never thought that one day she would stay here and live a life that is not as good as a pig and a dog. All of this was given to her by Nicole.
