Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1421 Is She Really Sick?

Samuel thought it would be good if he fainted now; he wouldn't have to answer Nicole's question anymore.

As soon as that thought came into his head, Nicole said, "Are you going to faint? Where is Morgan?"

It seemed she was not going to let him off.

Samuel gave up struggling.

"Wife, it's all my fault, okay? Tell me, what do I have to do to make you feel better? I'll do it."

"I want to date a hot young man. I want to experience the feeling of being in love and being chased by someone. It's too bad that I only liked you before I married you."

Samuel was surprised by what Nicole said.

He wheeled himself into the room, took out a fruit knife, and handed it to her.

"What do you mean?"

Nicole was puzzled.

Samuel said seriously, "If you lose your spouse, you will be able to go out with a hot young man openly."

"Murder is illegal."

Nicole said in a grieved tone.

"Samuel, don't you dare try to set me up. I knew that your feelings for me are not genuine. And you wouldn't admit it. Now your true colors are showing. You want me to become a murderer? You want me gone so you can marry someone else, right?"

The more Nicole said, the more ridiculous she became.

Samuel suddenly felt that the current Nicole was really a little psychotic. Was she scared out of her wits?

"You are my only wife in this life, my only woman and lover. Do you understand?"

"Wife, woman, and lover. You have three women? My loss is even heavier."

How she twisted his words really drove Samuel crazy.

"Never mind, the more I talk to you, the madder I get. I'm going back to my room to rest," said Nicole.

She threw away the fruit knife, then turned around and came to the bedroom next door.

Ignored, Samuel was depressed.

When would this misery end? When would Nicole regain her sanity? He really couldn't stand her anger and sarcasm anymore.

After entering the room, Nicole became thoughtful.

Lucas' words lingered in her mind.

He said that she had been acting like this most likely because she was either having an early menopause or pregnant. Her mood swings were such that living had become torture for him.

It sounded like a complaint, but to Nicole, it was a reminder.

Her period was a week late this month. This time, Samuel was self-righteous and cared little about her safety. She was indeed angry and wanted him to learn from this. What surprised her was that when she saw Samuel, her uncontrollable irritability was unprecedented.

She really wanted to have a huge fight with Samuel.

It felt wrong. Even she felt that she was making trouble for no reason, but she just couldn't vent out her anger. Everything was bothering her.

What was wrong with her?

Chapter 1422 She Can't Let Samuel Know

There were a lot of people in the hospital. It had been a long time since the last time when Nicole waited in line for registration. But she felt good. At least no one recognized her.

To keep her identity a secret, Nicole did not use her real name but used her false name, Marina.

By the time her name was called, it was almost noon.

Nicole walked in uneasily.

"What's the problem?"

The doctor was in her forties or fifties. She was said to be an expert in gynecology.

Nicole took a deep breath and replied, "Recently, I've been having mood swings, and I always feel sad. Even a trifle can upset me, and I make a fuss about it."

Hearing Nicole's words, the doctor seemed surprised for a moment, then looked at Nicole and said, "You shouldn't have come to the gynecology department. Turn left and go to the neurology department on the second floor."

Hearing the doctor's words, Nicole was immediately depressed, but she did not stand up. She pondered for a moment and said, "My period is ten days late."

"Are you married?"

Nicole's skin was fair and smooth. The doctor couldn't tell exactly how old she was. But Nicole indeed didn't look well.

"I'm married with two children."

Nicole did not conceal anything.

The doctor was surprised.

"You got married very early. I can't give a diagnosis now. It could be caused by endocrine disorders or pregnancy. You do an ultrasound examination first. More will be known after the report comes out."

Obviously, the doctor was saying it would be known if she was pregnant or not after she did the ultrasound examination.

Nicole nodded and walked out with the sheet doctor wrote.

After paying, she went to the ultrasound examination room. When she saw so many people waiting, she was surprised.

She had always thought that it was simple to do an ultrasound examination. She never thought that there would be so many people lining up. Only then did she remember that she had used the back door in the past.

Right now, Nicole didn't want to urinate. She thought that she could drink some water to hold urine. There was a kind of ultrasound examination where the patient didn't need to hold urine, but she didn't like it.

Nicole took a disposable cup, got some water, and began drinking it.

Almost all the women around her were there for an ultrasound examination, and many of them were accompanied by their families. Seeing this, Nicole felt lonely and sad.

As for what she was sad about, she wasn't too sure. She felt that her emotions had been out of control lately.

Nicole drank water one cup after another. She soon felt full and uncomfortable. Just as she was about to go to the bathroom, she heard the doctor call her name.

She quickly walked into the examination room and lay down according to the doctor's instructions. She was nervous.

Seeing that her face was pale, the doctor hurriedly said, "Don't be nervous. I see that you still have a cut in your belly. This isn't your first child, is it?"

"No."

Nicole replied.

"Since this is your second child, why are you so nervous?"

The doctor smiled faintly and put an examination device on her belly. It was cold, but it also relaxed Nicole.

Chapter 1423 Let's Wait

"How could you lose her? What do I hire you for?"

Samuel was so anxious that he wanted to get up several times, but he did not succeed. Instead, he ripped open the wound, and the bright red blood soaked through the gauze. It was a horrible sight.

Morgan said worriedly, "Mr. Green, you can't be so excited. Your injury..."

"My wife is gone, what's there to care about?"

Samuel had been feeling extremely aggrieved these past few days, and now, he could use this opportunity to vent out his depression.

The bodyguards trembled. They did not expect that Nicole would suddenly ditch them and abandon her car.

They had almost searched through the entire city but had not found Nicole. Not to mention Samuel being worried, they were also anxious.

"What are you standing here for? Get out and look for her! If anything happens to my wife, I'll kill all of you."

Samuel was so angry that his entire body trembled. He ignored the wound and stood up directly. The intense pain made him sweat profusely. The veins in his hands bulged out. Morgan was so frightened that she hurriedly stepped forward to stop him.

"Mr. Green, you can't do this! Mrs. Green saved your life with great difficulty. You should cherish it. Have you forgotten? Last time, you almost lost your life regardless of everything. She is still angry with you. Do you intend to continue to make her angry?"

Morgan had no choice but to use Nicole to stop him.

Samuel paused for a moment.

He knew that Nicole was worried about him, but where was she now?

If he couldn't find her whereabouts, he was restless.

At this moment, a subordinate finally sent a message to Samuel.

"Mr. Green, Mrs. Green is having dessert in a dessert house on Commercial Street."

The subordinate also took a few photos of Nicole.

She looked happy in the photos. Her curved eyebrows and eyes were very cute.

It had been a long time since he last saw her so happy and reckless.

Samuel was touched, and some memories suddenly came into his mind.

When she was in college, Nicole liked to go to the snack street near the school to eat with her classmates. At first, Samuel didn't know about this. He seldom set foot on the snack street. One time, someone insisted he go with him. Samuel didn't expect to see her eating ice cream at the ice cream house.

At that time, Nicole was like this.

Her eyebrows curved as if she was enjoying the world's most delicious food. Just watching her eat and looking at her happy expression would make people feel relaxed and happy.

Now that he saw her like this again, Samuel smiled.

A few years had passed. He had thought that they had experienced so many things and had matured and grown up. However, he did not expect that at this moment, he would discover that she was still the cute girl in his memory.

"Morgan, have Ernesto get the car ready. I want to go over."

"Mr. Green, your body needs to recover."

Morgan said boldly.

Chapter 1424 Just a Hint

Samuel didn't pay attention to the movie, but he saw Nicole's shining eyes and heard her very clearly.

"Where does that come from?"

Samuel smiled but he didn't answer directly.

How could he give Nicole two more daughters after his surgery? Maybe she got the idea from the movie.

Nicole didn't continue after she saw Samuel's reaction.

She can tell his decision from his look.

Sigh.

She couldn't understand why it's so difficult for him to accept children?

Even the movie seemed to become boring.

Nicole was in a down mood. Samuel noticed and he knew why. But he didn't say anything due to Nicole's health.

At last, Nicole was tired of the movie.

"I'm bored. Let's go home."

"Alright."

Samuel agreed without a word and left the cinema with Nicole.

It's cold outside.

Nicole shivered a little. Samuel sent someone for her coat and then draped it on her shoulders.

Nicole wore too little when she left home. Samuel specially brought a coat when he came out to look for her.

"He is so considerate," Nicole thought, "Actually, he is brilliant."

Everything was impeccable.

Five years ago, Samuel didn't know how to love someone or express himself. He hurt Nicole and the children. But five years passed and he was trying his best to make it up. He was even ready to devote everything he had.

Samuel was in a wheelchair. Nicole noticed his pale face and realized that he must have come out without having lunch.

She had turned off the phone, so he couldn't call her. Maybe that's why he came out regardless of his health.

Nicole's heart became warm.

Actually, she didn't want to force him, but she also didn't want to give up the children.

If they didn't take any precautions and she got pregnant, it would be their fault. But she got pregnant even after the surgery. The children must be their gift.

She really wanted to keep the two children.

However, Samuel was so tough. Nicole knew him well. On small matters, she could be as capricious as she wanted. But Samuel would never compromise when it came to her health.

So should she compromise?

Should she give up the children?

Nicole's answer was no.

But she had to come up with an idea about how to tell Samuel and keep the children.

Nicole looked at Samuel with a thoughtful look, as if she had something to say. But she remained silent. "Penny for your thought?" said Samuel.

Although Nicole was longing to tell him about the children, she shook her head, "Did you eat?"

"Not yet."

"You gave him the silent treatment. It's just a show?"

Gabrielle's words made Nicole even more embarrassed.

"But Blair operated on Samuel without my consent. Blair owed it to me."

Nicole acted like a scoundrel.

Gabrielle was speechless.

"Nicole, Blair is just a doctor. Samuel is his second brother. Can he not listen to Samuel?"

"Anyway, I almost can't have a baby with Samuel because of the operation. Blair owed it to me. He must help me! I don't care how he'll tell Samuel about this."

After saying that, Nicole hung up the video call.

Gabrielle was depressed.

"What's wrong? Has someone upset you? Tell me."

When Blair returned, he saw Gabrielle sighing with her phone. He kissed her and asked.

Gabrielle directly told him, "Nicole! She made me angry."

"Alright. I will go to teach her a lesson. Wait a minute. Who are you saying?"

Blair paused after he realized who Nicole was.

Gabrielle curled her lips with dissatisfaction and said, "What? Aren't you going to teach her a lesson?"

"Yes. But how did she mess with you?"

Blair was lost.

Gabrielle glared at him and said depressingly, "Nicole is pregnant."

"It can't be?"

Blair seemed to have heard a joke and didn't believe it at all. However, Gabrielle had been watching him without a word. Blair was a little panicked.

"Is it true? Won't you believe I failed that simple operation, right?"

Blair did not want to admit this at all.

Gabrielle suddenly laughed.

"When you operated on him, did you check if he had two vas deferens?"

After hearing Gabrielle's words, Blair felt it was amazing.

"So what? Samuel thinks that the child isn't his?"

Blair involuntarily asked.

Gabrielle shook her head and said, "He doesn't know about the child. Nicole wants you to tell him."

"Why not tell him by herself? What does this have to do with me?"

Whether Samuel could understand or not, Blair did not care. Anyway, he had given Samuel a hint. Considering how smart Samuel was, perhaps, he would understand.

As Blair thought this, he ran out and drove away.

At the sound of the roar of the car's engine, Samuel frowned slightly.

What was wrong with Blair?

Why did he run away?

Something was wrong!

What the hell was Blair doing here?

Just to tell him a story and peel an apple?

Samuel frowned slightly and took a bite of the apple, feeling that it was quite sweet. Then, he picked up the military newspaper and read it.

However, after a while, he suddenly remembered something.

Blair shouldn't be so idle as to run over and tell him stories. Wait. What was the story about?

Samuel thought for a moment and his expression immediately changed.

It shouldn't be as what he was imagining, right?

Samuel's heart skipped a beat. Then, he remembered how off Nicole was today and the story Blair told him. He called Blair.

Noticing that it was Samuel's call, Blair didn't want to answer it.

He was driving!

Well, he didn't have to answer the phone!

Blair comforted himself like this.

Sure enough, Samuel soon stopped calling. Just as Blair heaved a sigh of relief, he got a message.

Blair glanced at it.

Samuel said, "If you don't answer the phone, I'll go to your house and wait for you. Do you really think you can always avoid me?"

Blair pursed his lips.

Samuel had always been a tough person!

Blair unwillingly pulled over and called Samuel back Samuel.

"Tell me what happened?"

Samuel's voice was cold.

In a dilemma, Blair was suffering mental torment.

"Samuel, that's not my fault."

"Get to the point."

Morgan hurriedly retreated.

Samuel entered Nicole's room again. This time, he did not hesitate.

Since Nicole could withstand pregnancy and childbirth, he would try his best to satisfy her wishes as well as to dispel his regret.

He gently held Nicole's hand. Her hand was always a little cold. Now that she was pregnant, he didn't know if she could build up her body with nourishing food.

Samuel stayed with Nicole for a while. Nicole was sleeping soundly and it didn't seem that she would wake up soon.

She hadn't experienced sickness yet. Samuel didn't know when she would suffer.

Samuel went back to his room and asked Ernesto to buy some books about pregnancy. He appeared to be excited.

Samuel had a different feeling from the time Nicole had Lucas. This time, he would participate in the growth of this new baby. Thinking about it, he felt extremely excited.

Samuel suddenly wanted to tell everyone the good news.

He added Lucas, Joseph, Zoe, Jason, Mark, Edwin, Tim, Davon, and Zayn into a group on Twitter.

These were all Nicole's relatives. besides, Samuel added Jarrod.

Jarrod was his only relative.

Samuel named this group 'Relatives' directly.

"What happened?"

Davon was somewhat puzzled.

When Tim found that Samuel added him to the group, he couldn't help but say, "What is going on? Do you accept me as your cousin? Come on, call me cousin Tim. I will give you some candy."

Normally, if Tim said that, Samuel would definitely retort. But today, he was in a good mood, so he didn't bother with Tim.

Since Samuel did not say anything, Tim was a little surprised.

"What? Samuel, what's wrong with you? Did you abandon Nicole?"

Samuel pursed his lips as he suppressed his anger.

Jason and Mark didn't say anything. They checked the group members, finding all were their relatives. They just texted a smiling snicker without saying anything else.

Edwin had just arrived in Capital City and wanted to meet Sally. But William's psychological counseling wasn't going well, so Sally had to be with him and temporarily couldn't spare time to meet Edwin. Edwin was bored when Samuel joined the family group.

Zayn survived a calamity. He had just woken up when he saw Samuel's group. He didn't make a sound but stare at the screen.

Now that everyone was here, Samuel immediately sent out a red envelope of 10,000.

Everyone was stunned. Then Tim was the first to snatch it.

"Holy shit! Samuel, are you going to show your respect for your relatives?"

Samuel immediately banned him from texting.

Then he said solemnly in the group, "Let me tell you a piece of good news. Nicole is pregnant! I'm going to have another baby!"

Tim was depressed.

Chapter 1428 Leo Was Her Father

"Davon, I'm ready. Let's go."

Phoenix happily came down from the bedroom and saw Davon running out like a gust of wind.

"Davon."

She was a little surprised. She called Davon but he didn't seem to hear her. He directly ran out.

At this time, Helen came back from outside and she looked at Phoenix, "Princess, something happened."

Phoenix's heart skipped a beat. She had a feeling that it had something to do with Davon.

"Go on."

Phoenix couldn't help but clench her hands.

Helen whispered, "Eason Sawyer is dead."

Phoenix couldn't control herself and took two steps back.

It made sense. That was why Davon was so anxious and ignored everything.

Eason was Davon's adoptive father. As Davon grew up, Eason played the role of a father. Now that...

Phoenix felt sad. She could imagine how heartbroken Davon was at this time.

She hurriedly caught up but was stopped by Helen.

"What are you doing?"

Phoenix was slightly stunned.

Helen looked at Phoenix and hesitated for a moment, saying, "Master Eason was killed by the king."

"So?"

Phoenix didn't figure out what Helen meant at first. But soon, she got Helen's meaning even if Helen didn't say anything.

Leo was her father!

Whether she admitted it or not, she was Leo's daughter.

So, she was the daughter of the man who killed Davon's father?

Phoenix froze. She didn't know how to express her feelings at this time and she only wanted to cry.

"Princess, are you alright?"

Helen had never seen Phoenix like this before.

Phoenix waved her hand and returned to her room alone.

What could she do?

She was Davon's wife and the Dons treated her very well, but she didn't know what they would think of her after that.

Perhaps they wouldn't change their attitudes. Anyway, they could tell right from wrong, but a gap still appeared.

Her father killed Davon's adoptive father, but she was Davon's wife. What should she do?

Would Davon find their relationship strange? Would he still accept her?

Would they divorce?

Chapter 1429 Does He Regret Marrying Me

Nicole knew Phoenix was infertile. If she hadn't saved Samuel, she wouldn't have been like this now. The thought that Phoenix would never have her child made Nicole distressed.

"This piece of clothes looks great. Did you make it?"

"Yeah, I made it in my spare time," Phoenix said with a smile.

Knowing what was on Nicole's mind, she said, "I've never regretted saving Mr. Green. If I had a second chance, I would still do the same. It's my own choice and has nothing to do with anyone else. So don't look at me like that. Having no children may be a regret, but I can still live a wonderful life."

She patted Nicole's hand. Nicole found what she said surprising and admirable.

"Impressive!"

"Thank you."

Phoenix smiled faintly. She glanced at Samuel and said after pondering for a while, "If you want to compensate, can you lend me your private plane?"

Samuel and Nicole didn't expect that.

"What do you need a private plane for? Don't the Dons have one?"

"Of course, but Davon is using it. He drove it away."

Phoenix didn't want to tell Nicole that Davon's father had an accident. Nicole was already in poor health and now she was pregnant. Telling her would only make her anxious. She couldn't do anything. Plus, they had only just returned from Country F. Phoenix didn't want to disturb them with matters in Country F.

Samuel squinted.

Things were far more complicated than driving away the plane.

Davon was a military officer who could use a fighter jet if he needed it. But he chose his private plane, indicating it was a private matter. If he didn't bring Phoenix, he clearly didn't want her to be involved in it. Now that Phoenix came to borrow the plane, Samuel had a hunch that something must have happened.

"I'm going to see if the plane is well-maintained. I'll leave you alone."

"Alright."

Phoenix nodded.

Samuel went out in his wheelchair.

Nicole didn't think too much.

Her only priority has been her baby since she got pregnant. Plus, Davon and Zayn were in charge of the F country. If everything went as planned, Leo would soon be brought to justice. Therefore, she didn't bother to think about those things.

She felt those experiences were so distant from her and just wanted her baby to be safe.

Holding Phoenix's hand tighter, she went on, "How's it going between Davon and you? Since you've got your marriage license, when are you going to hold the wedding?"

Phoenix's heart ached.

Wedding?

Initially, Davon had been preparing for their wedding. He went abroad to visit a famous designer to design her wedding dress. If Eason hadn't died, they would have had their wedding in three months. But Eason, Davon's adoptive father, died.

Chapter 1430 He's Really Cheeky

"Samuel, what are you doing?"

Tim just overheard the relationship between Samuel and Phoenix. Now Nicole was pregnant, and Phoenix was with Davon. He just came over to see Nicole, but he didn't expect to see Samuel and Phoenix holding together.

This was simply too much!

Did Samuel cheat on Nicole when she was just pregnant?

The fox preyed farthest from home. But Samuel screwed with Phoenix. Didn't he know that Phoenix was Davon's wife?

Tim rushed towards Samuel in anger, which frightened Phoenix.

Phoenix had just cried. Seeing Tim coming to Samuel aggressively, she subconsciously turned around and stood in front of Samuel.

"What are you doing?"

Tim was about to punch Phoenix's face, but he stopped.

"Piss off!"

His voice was cold.

Samuel soon realized that Tim had misunderstood and whispered, "It's not what you think. Phoenix is my sister."

"Bullshit! I saw you holding each other. How can you do this to Nicole?"

Tim was furious. But Phoenix was in front of Samuel, so he could not teach Samuel a lesson.

Only then did Phoenix realize what she had just done.

"Sorry, I was in a bad mood just now. I was emotional. It has nothing to do with Mr. Green."

Phoenix looked at Samuel embarrassedly.

Samuel said, "I said you are my sister."

"Bullshit..."

"Tim!"

Samuel interrupted Tim.

Samuel looked sullen, and his voice was cold.

Tim had seen Samuel like this when he tried to protect Nicole. Now Samuel treated him like this just for Phoenix. Tim was irritated.

Just as Tim was about to say something, Samuel said to Phoenix, "Get on the plane and leave. If anything happens to you, try to discuss it with Davon. You can count on him in Country F. And I believe that Davon is not such a superficial person. If he were, he would not have married you. Don't think too much."

Just follow your heart. Phoenix, you can create your happiness. No one else can give it to you, nor can they help you. You should make a decision. If you want Davon to be with you, you have to face something."

Samuel's words struck Phoenix and she was enlightened.

Samuel was right.

She was now Davon's wife, not Princess Inez of Country F. Leo was her father, but so what? As long as Davon believed her and loved her, she would love him with all her heart.
